LEA & PERRINS' CELEBRATED
WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE
DECLARED BY CONNOISSEURS TO BE THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE

CAUTION AGAINST FRAUD.—

The success of this most delicious and unrivalled Condiment having caused certain dealers to apply the name of "WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE" to their own inferior compounds, the public is hereby informed that the only way to secure the genuine is to Ask for LEA & PERRINS' Sauce and to see that their names are upon the wrapper, label, stopper, and bottle.

Some of the foreign markets having been supplied with a spurious Worcestershire Sauce, upon the wrapper and labels of which the names of Lea and Perrins have been forged, L. & P. give notice that they have furnished their correspondents with power of attorney to take instant proceedings against Manufacturers and Vendors of such, or any other imitations by which their right may be infringed.

Ask for LEA & PERRINS' Sauce, and see name on Wrapper, Label, Bottle, and Stopper.

JUDKINS' Domestic Sewing Machine £3:3:0.

(Net Cash, delivered in London.)

THE peculiar merit of this Machine consists in its Surpassing Simplicity, Durability, and Certainty, which constitutes it the most suitable and practical Family Sewing Machine to perform the ordinary every-day sewing of the family, and at a price that comes within the reach of all.

Will HEM, FELL, SEAM, TUCK, BIND, QUILT, and EMBROIDER, in fact, do all kinds of family sewing; is well adapted for Dress-making, and all light trade purposes.

This Machine uses a straight needle, and cotton, silk, or linen thread from the original reel; makes an elastic stitch; finishes the work by fastening it off at the end of the seam, making more perfect and secure sewing than hitherto accomplished. It works without noise, the beauty and accuracy of its movements attesting its superior workmanship. A child of ten years can work it with ease. Machines having been sent out by other parties imitating the above, the public are cautioned that none are genuine but those having "JUDKINS' PATENT" upon them.

The "Judkins" Lock-stitch Sewing Machine, £4:4:0.

(Net Cash, delivered in London.)

THIS admirable machine is the most perfect Hand-Shuttle Machine yet invented. It is so simple that the most inexperienced can operate it without any previous instruction, while it is incapable of derangement by ordinary use. The range of application is unlimited; anything that can be worn or require stitching in a house can be executed on this machine. The tension rarely requires regulating. From muslin to dressed calico, woollen cloth, or even leather may be sewn without change of needle or cotton, or alteration of tension. The work is easily guided by one hand, particularly with the aid of the self-sewer, while the other is employed in turning it. When fixed on a stand it can be operated by hand or foot at pleasure, and it is then as efficient as the most costly treadle machine. Besides all kinds of domestic use, it can be applied to many varieties of manufacturing use such as dress making, mantle-making, stay making, tailoring, or even boot-closing.

The application of a hand machine to the stitching of leather opens a new field in the fancy work of ladies. Special needles are provided, and with these work of the most elaborate and beautiful description can readily be executed.

The appearance of the machine is handsome and noble, and the finish to all the working parts cannot be excelled. Ample printed instructions accompany each machine.

This machine obtained the PRIZE MEDAL at the Workmen's International Exhibition recently held in London.

The Princess of Wales
Is a larger and stronger machine than the above, adapted for the heavier kinds of work. It embodies all the latest improvements in mechanism and manufacture, and leaves nothing to be desired in a Family Sewing Machine.

THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1872.

The export of live stock from Port Ahuriri for the month ending 31st March, comprised 120 head cattle and 1,741 sheep. The total number exported during the last quarter were 180 cattle and 7,981 sheep.

The revenue collected at H.M.'s Customs during the month ending 31st March amounted to £1,880 16s 8d, including pilotage receipts, £57 9s 8d. The amount collected during the quarter was £6,336 6s 3d, including pilotage receipts, £227 13s 8d.

The English Mail via Suez arrived in Napier yesterday—the letter portion overland, and the newspaper portion by the p.s. Luna.

The Colonial Government paddle steamer Luna, Capt. Fairchild, left Wellington at 4 p.m. on Monday, 2nd April, passed Castle Point at 6.30 a.m. yesterday, and arrived in the roadstead at 9 o'clock last evening, having experienced strong northerly wind with heavy head sea, in consequence of which had to slow the engines during part of the passage. Passengers: His Excellency Sir G. F. Bowen, the hon. the Native and Defence Minister, Colonel St. John, the hon. Mr. Stuart, the Rev. Father Cummings, Dr. Gibbes, Mrs. Tollemache, Mr. and Mrs. Hood, Mr. W. K. McLean, and several others.—We are informed that the Luna will leave for Auckland via the coast to-morrow.

News of the total wreck of the cutter Mohia at Wairoa arrived in town last night. The vessel ran aground on Saturday night, near where the Midlothian was wrecked, and would probably have floated off by the morning's tide, had not a storm arisen, which broke her up. She had on board an unusually large cargo from Napier.

Our Paris letter, to hand this morning, is unavoidably deferred.

We have received per Luna No. 2 of a new Wellington daily paper, called "The Evening Telegraph," a gratis publication. It is printed with the old New Zealand Advertiser plant, which hitherto seems to have "brought bad luck" to every person into whose hands it has passed; and as the new paper has all the faults of its predecessors, we think it has but little chance of success. The first clause of the leading article in the number to hand will give an idea of its style:—"The Post pulled out its moral pocket handkerchief on Saturday evening, and did a snivel over the depravity of its big brother of the morning," &c.

In the Resident Magistrate's Court this morning, a case of drunkenness was disposed of. The offender was dismissed.

His Excellency the Governor having arrived by the p.s. Luna last night, landed this morning. The Napier Volunteer Artillery were present, and fired the customary salute, whilst the Napier Rifles formed a guard of honor. The Bands of both companies were in attendance. The weather was very unfavorable.

An accident, which might have been attended with serious consequences, occurred this morning during the reception of His Excellency the Governor. In firing the salute of welcome, the vent plug not having been properly screwed in when the gun was loaded, it blew out with great force, and flew into the air. Fortunately, it fell clear of the spectators, and no one was hurt.

The steamer Lord Ashley, we observe, is in the hands of the engineers at the Waterview Bay Dock, Sydney, for the purpose of undergoing a thorough overhaul. The boilers are being well looked to, and all defects made good, and her machinery is being carefully overhauled.

Mr E. Constable, of Waiuku, Auckland, sent away in the Nebraska on her last trip the last of a shipment of 600 bales of flax prepared at his mill. Seventy tons more are nearly ready and this will be forwarded by the next steamer.

RECHABITE SOIREE AT WAIPAWA.

THE first anniversary of the Rose of Sharon Tent, I.O.R., was celebrated at Waipawa on Easter Monday, 1st April, by a very successful soiree. The Napier Rifle Volunteer band had kindly volunteered their services, and went to Waipawa on Saturday in anticipation. Monday was exceedingly fine, and during the day visitors arrived from all quarters, so that the township presented an unusually gay and animated appearance. At 3 p.m. the members of the local Tent, followed by members of other Tents, the Rosebud Juvenile Tent, and the Band of Hope children, formed a procession, headed by the Napier Rifle Volunteer band, and marched through the township. There were about 200 in the procession, which included representatives from every Tent in the Province. Some very handsome banners, the gifts of various friends were displayed in the procession. On one of these an emblematic figure—the "Rose of Sharon," appeared in full-blown magnificence; a smaller banner, borne by the juveniles, displayed the "Rosebud;" and a very handsome banner, carried by the Band of Hope, showed on one side the name of the society, and on the other the motto "Come and join us."

Tea was provided in the new Methodist chapel, and over three hundred sat down. At a later period of the evening, the number present must have been about 400. The building, which is not yet finished, had been furnished with a temporary floor and roof, and was decorated with great taste. A prominent object was a beautiful chandelier, with colored candles, presented by one of the friends of the Order. The walls were gracefully adorned with ferns, &c.; members certificates were hung at intervals along the walls, and the initials "I.O.R." occupied a prominent position.

The tables having been removed, the chair was taken by Brother R. HARDING, P.C.R. of the Rose of Sharon Tent, who opened the proceedings with a few remarks. He made allusion to the progress of the Tent, since the time of the opening festival last year; and described the objects of the Order—a benefit society, founded on the principle of total abstinence from intoxicating liquors, which had been found one of the most successful means yet adopted to stay the course of intemperance.

Band: "All's Well."

Brother HOBSON, Tent Secretary, read the first annual report, as follows:—

We, the members of the Rose of Sharon Tent, No. 7, New Zealand District, I.O.R., have great pleasure in presenting to you our first annual report. We are happy to say that the tent has succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations of its most sanguine friends. The Rose of Sharon Tent was opened on March 30, 1871, by Past District Chief Ruler Brother Troy, with 10 members. Since the tent was opened, 95 persons have been proposed as candidates for membership, 22 of whom are not yet initiated. Four have received their clearance from other tents, making a total of 77 members, three of whom have removed, and seven, out of compliance from various causes, have withdrawn, leaving now 67 members on the books. The amount of money received is £160 13s 2d, out of which the sum of £30 0s 6d has been sent to the district, to be placed to the credit of the Funeral Fund. The sum of £76 is now invested to the Sick and Contingent Fund, leaving the sum of £46 12s 8d as the amount paid for the stock, working expenses, &c.

A Juvenile Tent has been opened in connection with the Adult Tent. This tent, which has received the name of Rosebud, was opened with 10 members on the 7th of November, 1871. There are 18 members now on the books.

During the year the members of the Tent have held two public meetings, for the purpose of advocating the principles of the order, both of which we are happy to say were successful. We trust the success of the past year will arouse us to greater exertions in the future, and that our next report will be as cheering as the one we have the honor of presenting to you on this occasion.

Ballad: "Just before the battle."—Mr J. Newman.

The Rev. G. M. D'ARCY IRVINE, P.C.R., Excelsior Tent, said that it gave him great pleasure to see so interesting a gathering; it augured well for the great cause in which they were engaged, and to which he was proud to lend his aid. He regarded drunkenness as the Goliath sin of the day, stalking through the land, and defying the armies of the living God. The strength, vigor, and endurance of the foe were such as might daunt the spirit and try the faith even of a David; yet every man with the spirit of David should prepare to meet the monster and fell him if he could. Those before him to-night were engaged in the siege of a citadel of mighty strength—the stronghold of the prince of the power of the air. His reason for joining the movement in which he was now engaged was this—that he felt the necessity of active co-operation on the part of all professing Christianity to overcome their common foe. Nephalism—which, with Professor Miller, he regarded as a more dignified appellation than either teetotalism or Rechabism—was no device to make men mere whited sepulchres, while within they were full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness; it was essentially a Christian movement, not only ameliorating the outward condition of man, but acting upon his eternal state. No one wished to put it in place of the Gospel, as had sometimes been alleged; for his part, he was not aware that in the drunkard there was any Gospel to displace. (Applause). When our Saviour, speaking of such necessary things as hands and eyes, told us if they became causes of offence, to cut them off and cast them from us, what would be His verdict against the unnecessary and injurious use of intoxicating liquors? Teetotalism was not the light of Heaven; but it had been the means of unsealing the eyes of thousands to that light, and unstopping their ears to the voice of their Saviour. It was not Christianity, but was oftentimes its forerunner. Even as John the Baptist declared "I am not the Christ," so was teetotalism, in the midst of its proudest achievements, ready to say: "There cometh after me One mightier than I, the latchet of Whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose." Many a time had it been the means of reclaiming the ground once a desolate waste, and fitting it to be sown with the seeds of eternal life. In the Word of Life those in possession of the Gospel were repeatedly admonished of the necessity of making continual additions to their Christian stock and store. What said the apostle Peter? "And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue, knowledge; and to knowledge, temperance." Temperance might be defined as the mastery and dominion of the spirit over its sinful propensities; and of all those propensities there were none requiring such constant watchfulness, such bold and resolute resistance,—appealing, as it did, to long habit, to custom, and old companionship,—as the one against which the Rechabite Order was arrayed. Intoxicating drink was the prime cause of crime, disease, pauperism, and madness. [Under these four divisions the rev. gentleman quoted some important testimonies, and striking statistics, which we are obliged to exclude.] It had been the fashion of many, while approving the object of teetotalers, to abundantly denounce them as enthusiasts; but in spite of opposition, contempt, and ridicule, they had marvellously progressed, and could point with thankfulness to the great results which had already rewarded their labors. (Great applause.)

Song by a lady: "Liquid Gems."

Band: "Molly Asthore."

The Rev. R. TAYLOR, P.C.R. of the Rose of Sharon Tent, confessed that until to-night he was not over sanguine as to the success of this meeting; he had certainly never dreamt of seeing over 300 people present. He was delighted with the speech he had heard from Brother Irvine, and he respected the motive which they heard had induced that brother to join them—the sake of example. Many people fancied they had no influence; but it was a mistake to suppose so. Every man possessed more or less influence, sometimes more than he was aware of, and it was every man's duty to put his influence to its best possible use. Mr Irvine had answered the objection that temperance was not Christianity; another objection he had heard was that it was human in its origin. In a certain sense this was true; but he could not see that it was any ground of objection. Hospitals, reformatories, mechanics' institutes, were all equally human in one sense; but they might fairly be said to be of Divine origin. They had all sprung from Christianity. Teetotalism in hundreds and thousands of instances had proved the handmaid of Christianity. He hoped they would hear no more of the old arguments, that teetotalism was not Christianity, or that it was of human origin. The signs of the times were such as to give glorious cause of encouragement. Christian assemblies of all denominations were passing resolutions in favor of the total abstinence principle, and progress was visible in every direction. The report just read, which showed that the Waipawa Tent was 67 strong, and the fact that two other Tents had been opened within four miles of them, should encourage them to go on, with more earnestness than ever, and not rest until every drunkard in their neighborhood had been brought to sign the total abstinence pledge. (Applause). A movement was now on foot to form a joint stock company to erect a commodious temperance hotel in Waipawa, and he hoped that before another year had passed, that the idea would be carried out. (Applause)

Song: "Ruth."—Rev. Mr Irvine.

Pianoforte Solo: "Homage à la Reine."—Mrs Irvine.

Brother J. WOOD, C.R. of the Hope of Meanee Tent, said he had not prepared any speech, and if he had, would scarcely have ventured to deliver it after the speeches he had heard that evening. The Tent to which he belonged was still in its infancy; it numbered but few; and he could say that one-third of its members were at this meeting. It said much in favor of the country people that Rechabism had made such tremendous strides among them. Much of the success of the present goodly gathering was evidently due to the ladies, whose fair faces he saw before him; and he could see that before the Tent to which he belonged was to prosper in like manner the assistance of the ladies must be enlisted. The cause in which they were engaged was one which he had touch at heart; and he was glad that so much progress had been made in the attempt to avert the evil of drunkenness. [Applause.]

Duett by two ladies: "The Wind and the Harp."

Band: "Partant pour la Syrie."

Reading by Brother Anderson: "Mr Ward's Interview with the Prince of Wales."

Song: "Pulling hard against the Stream."—Mr A. Newman. (Encored.)

Brother TENNENT, after a few introductory remarks, read "Jesse's Bible."

Duett: "What are the Wild Waves saying?"—Miss Harding and Mr. A. Newman.

Song: "Let me like a Soldier fall."
—Brother Young. (Encored.)

Brother J. HARDING said he supposed he was the oldest teetotaler in the company—perhaps in the Colony. It was now thirty seven years since he joined—a youngster of sixteen—and he had never seen cause to regret the step. He had since that time read, observed, and thought much on the subject, and had come to the conclusion that intoxicating drink was the source of nearly all the trouble we meet with. Some people thought that if alcohol was useful in no other way, it was good as a medicine. He should like such people to read a book written by his friend Dr Lees, entitled "Doctors, Drugs, and Drink," and they would see cause to alter their opinion. If your house was on fire, you would not roll in a barrel of oil or of gunpowder to extinguish it; yet such was the course pursued by those who prescribed alcohol in cases of fever. Looking around him, he was astonished at the progress made by the Order during the past year—it was a forcible illustration of the old saying, "Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth." He remembered years ago reading in the Herald—then conducted by Brother Wood—of twelve or fourteen sudden deaths caused in three months by drink. The paragraph went on to ask—Would no one come forward to form a temperance society? He (Mr H.) brought some temperance publications to Napier, and in time his exertions resulted in the formation of a temperance society. The cause, however, did not make much progress until the formation of the Hope of Napier Rechabite Tent some eighteen months ago, since which time its success had exceeded all anticipations. He hoped soon to see a Tent at Porangahau, and in every other district in the Province. Rechabites were supposed by some to be the enemies of the publicans; on the contrary, they were the best friends they had. Money gained by the liquor business—by the destruction of the good creatures of God—never benefited either the publican or the country which derived a revenue from it. In the Herald not long ago he read that a numerous signed memorial was in preparation requesting the Justices to curtail the number of public-houses; but that no notice would be taken of this—that they would be guided solely by the report of the Police Inspector. The only remedy for such a state of affairs as this was the Permissive Bill; under which the power would be removed from the Magistrates, who could no longer thus openly defy public opinion. This Bill would be introduced into Parliament next session, and he hoped that the public would send to the Assembly a strong memorial in its favor. The ladies were equally interested with the gentlemen in this question, and under the proposed law they would be able to vote on this subject. Public opinion had repealed the corn laws and had passed the reform bill, and the same power would yet carry the Permissive Bill. (Applause)

Pianoforte Solo by a lady: "Spanish Dance."

Band: March—"Just before the Battle."

Temperance Song: "Britons never shall be slaves"—Brother Levy. This was encored and "The Auction" substituted.

Reading from Ingoldsby Legends: "The Witches' Frolic"—Mr Bridge.

Song by a lady and gentleman: "Treasures of the Deep."

Song and Chorus: "Ring the Bell, Watchman."

Song: "Logie o' Buchan"—Brother Jones of the Evergreen Tent. (Encored.)

Band: "Good-bye, Sweetheart."

Song by two ladies; "Canadian Boat Song."

Song by a lady: "Dear Mother, I've come home to die."

A vote of thanks (moved by the Rev. R. Taylor) to all who had given their assistance having been passed, the Band played the National Anthem, which terminated an exceedingly pleasant evening, at about 11 p.m.

Notice to Mariners.

Customs Department (Marine Branch),
Wellington, June 22, 1871.

The following Notice to Mariners, announcing the exhibition of a Harbour Light at Napier, prepared from information received from the Provincial Engineer, is published for general information. HENRY SEWELL.

PORT AHURIRI HARBOUR LIGHT.

This Light shows Red on the Pania Rock. On and after the 1st day of July, 1871, a fixed Red and White Light will be exhibited from a mast on the western extremity of the Eastern Spit, Port Ahuriri, and will be seen on the following bearings from seaward:—

Red ... From S.E. by S. to S. by E. 1/2 E.
White ... From S. by E. 1/2 E. to S.W. by S. 1/2 S.
Red ... From S.W. by S. 1/2 S. to S.W. 1/2 S.

The light will be about 27 feet above high water, and should be visible, in clear weather, about 9 nautical miles, allowing 10 feet for the height of the observer's eye.

The Pania Rock is in the centre of the south-western red light, which will be seen one quarter of a mile (nautical) on each side of the rock. Vessels approaching from the northward should keep in the white light.

Masters of vessels coming from the southward will find this light to guide them, and must use all precautions as heretofore to avoid the rocky patch called the Auckland Rock, which has only 14 feet on some portions of it at low water springs. This patch extends at least one cable to the southward of the black buoy which is moored off the northern edge of the patch, and which lies in 5 1/2 fathoms at low water springs.

All bearings are magnetic.

THE MOST RELIABLE FRIEND!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

ITS Searching and Healing Properties are known and Recognized throughout the World! The number of years this invaluable ointment has stood the test of public opinion (and the longer known the better appreciated) is a testimony of itself more convincing than anything that could be written in praise of its truly wonderful healing properties. In the cure of bad legs, bad breasts, sores, wounds, and ulcers its effect is marvellous. For ringworm, scald-head, scrofula, and diseases of the skin generally, there is no remedy to be compared to it. When assiduously rubbed upon the skin (previously well bathed with warm water) this ointment is quickly absorbed into the system, and cleanses in its passage every part to which it is applied.

Glandular Swellings, Brachitis, Mumps, Quinsed, Sore Throat, and Diphtheria.—In any of the above diseases, immediate and permanent relief is obtained by effectually rubbing this detergent ointment, twice a day, upon the neck, chest, and back. It acts upon the very mainsprings of life; for through the glands pass all new matter required for the body's repair, and all old particles detrimental to its preservation. The ointment, used conjointly with Holloway's pills, will act so powerfully and certainly as to effect cures in the most hopeless cases.

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Contracted and Stiff Joints.—Many thousands of martyrs from the above complaints have found life almost insupportable; yet if Holloway's ointment be briskly and perseveringly rubbed upon the parts affected, ease may be safely guaranteed, especially if the pores of the skin be previously opened by fomentations with warm water. The gross humors require expulsion from the system; it is therefore necessary to have recourse to Holloway's admirable pills, which, by purifying and strengthening the system, greatly assist the operation of the ointment and facilitate the cure.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, and Ulcerations of all Kind.—There is no medicinal preparation in the world which may be so thoroughly relied upon, in the treatment of the above ailments, as Holloway's ointment. Nothing can be so simple or safe as the manner in which it is applied, or its action on the body, both locally and constitutionally. The ointment, rubbed around the part affected, enters the pores just as salt enters meat. It quickly penetrates to the source of the evil, and drives it from the system.

Erysipelas & Scrofulous Sores.—In all irritations of the skin, sores, ulcers, burns, or scrofulous disorders of any kind, Holloway's ointment presents a ready and easy means of cure. It manifests a peculiar power in restraining inflammation, removing stagnation, cooling the heated blood, and checking all crumulous and unhealthy discharges.

Diseases attendant on Childhood.—In the management of the mother, as the medical man. Holloway's ointment should therefore be regarded by her as a "household treasure," as it never fails in bringing out the rash in measles and scarlatina; and for the removal of all skin diseases its effect is marvellous. In cases of hooping-cough and croup, this invaluable ointment should be rubbed twice a day upon the throat and chest, and the youngest invalid will derive therefrom the most soothing relief. Two or three of Holloway's pills, reduced to a powder, will augment the curative powers of his ointment.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—Bad legs, bad breasts, burns, bunions, bite of mosquitoes and sandflies, coco-bay, chigger-foot, chilblains, chapped hands, corns (soft), cancers, contracted and stiff joints, elephantiasis, fistulas, gout, glandular swellings, lumbago, piles, rheumatism, scald heads, sore nipples, sore throats, skin diseases, scurvy, sore heads, tumors, ulcers, wounds, yaws.

Sold at the establishment of PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY, 244 Strand (near Temple Bar), London; also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the civilized world, at the following prices:—1/4, 2/6, 4/6, 11/-, 22/-, and 33/- each 10/- There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. N.B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot.

A PARADOX.—TO SUFFERERS.

Nervousness: its Nature and Cure.

WHAT IS NERVOUSNESS?

Various answers might be given to this question, according to the constitution and knowledge of the individual. Strong healthy persons, whether medically educated or not, generally regard nervousness as more or less an "imaginary complaint;" it is sometimes only believed to be real when the patient is found to be dying or dead. The best answer to the question, probably, is this—Nervousness is an unnatural condition of the nervous system. Sometimes this unnatural state is accompanied with considerable bodily weakness, loss of flesh and loss of strength; but in most cases there is in the earlier stages of the disorder no outward sign of weakness. The sufferers are found in both sexes; they often have the bloom of health upon the cheek; they are surrounded by kind friends, yet existence to them has no charms, for they feel that they cannot enjoy it. Without intending it, they annoy other people about the merest trifles; if they encounter some person unexpectedly they feel confused, afraid, and alarmed; the heart beats violently, the hand shakes when writing, and the whole frame at times experiences a complete tremulousness. The intellect also is sometimes clouded, the memory fails, the judgment becomes indistinct, the will capricious and undecided, the taste vitiated, the imagination broods upon unpleasant topics, the spirits are either very low or very excited, the ordinary duties of life become burdensome, society is shunned, and business neglected.

A STRANGE SPECTACLE.

It is certainly strange, but not the less true, that perfectly sane persons in the prime of life, with firm step and healthy countenance, may occasionally be met with, who, in spite of possessing all the advantages of education, religion, ample means, and kind friends, nevertheless are victims of the nervousness above described; unhappy themselves, they render other people unhappy. Why is this? What cause has operated to change the cheerful, active, obliging, unsuspecting, and uncomplaining youth into the unhappy, drowsy, listless, suspicious, and gloomy misanthrope? Many causes, or one cause only, may operate to produce this sad state. The cause may be either mental or physical, or both combined.

ATTEMPTS TO CURE NERVOUSNESS

By means of ordinary tonics have so frequently proved fruitless, that the leading physicians now for the most part recommend hygienic means, such as exercise in the open air, regular habits, sea bathing, the cold bath friction; change of air and scene, as in travelling. If all these fail, as they often do, what is to be done?
