

Chapter 10

John James Price b. 1857

son of James Price

John James Price

John James Price was born at Hergest Court on 1 June 1857.

Birth Certificate: John James Price

He was the first of three children of James Price (1829-1878) to immigrate to New Zealand. He came to New Zealand in February 1880, upon arrival, went to work for the Hunter family on their 33,000-acre sheep station in Porangahau, Central Hawkes Bay.

Now it happened that his cousin, Edward Arthur Price, also immigrated to New Zealand later in the year of 1880, and also worked a little while for the Hunter family at Porangahau. The question arises – was there some common factor that drew these two people, who had travelled to New Zealand quite independently of each other, to Porangahau? There was a Frederick Henry Price who was a prominent farmer in Hawkes Bay – was he the common connection.

Incidentally, this Frederick Henry Price had a son – Frederick Ashton Price – who came up and established a farm in Papatoetoe: It was at the end of Prices Road which was named after him.

Anyway, after 2 years, John James Price returned to England in 1882 to marry a former sweetheart, Huldah Frances Elizabeth Mitchell. She was known to John by her pet name, Fanny, as disclosed by a memorial card in 1892. She was born at Weobley, Herefordshire, in 1859. They got married in Kington in the 3Q of 1882, and then both came out to New Zealand later that same year.

When the couple returned to New Zealand, they travelled on the s.s. Potosi departing London on 9 Oct 1882 arriving Sydney 21 Nov 1882. In doing so, they brought his sister, Alice Martha Price, with them; she was the second of the three James Price children to come to New Zealand.

Upon return to New Zealand, he resumed work at Hunter's family sheep station in Porgangahau, but because of health conditions, he needed to quit and they settled in Hastings. At the time there was the Athenaeum Club which provided a library service to local residents, and both John and Huldah worked for that organisation.

John and Huldah had three children: -

1. Charles James Price b. 27 Aug 1887, d. 24 Oct 1887
2. John Owen Price (Owen) b. 20 Apr 1889
3. Francis James Price (Frank) b. 8 May 1892

Death of John James Price

On 5 June 1892, John James Price died. At that time his son Owen was aged 3, and son Frank aged just 28 days.

Daily Telegraph: June 7, 1892

HASTINGS

Mr J. J. Price, of the Athenaeum, died on Sunday at two o'clock, after a lingering illness, leaving a sorrowing widow and two little children, one only a few weeks old. The funeral takes place to-day (Tuesday) at two o'clock. During the period that Mr and Mrs Price have been in charge the number of subscribers have more than doubled. No more capable secretary or courteous and obliging custodian could be found, and his loss will be felt by very many besides his family.

Gravestone for John James Price in Hastings

This is the gravestone for John James Price at the Hastings Cemetery. It has fallen over and is just being neglected. On the day that I took the photograph, there was a guy from a headstone company in Hastings who said that rather than restore the headstone, he recommended installing a modern black headstone with the engraving at a cost of about $700. John James Price is a very key person in the establishment of the Price branch of the family in Hastings, and I think it would be appropriate to upgrade his headstone. I think that if I had a whip round and gathered $100 from 7 different divisions of the family, it would solve the problem.

Huldah had a fine singing voice. She participated in local musical productions and church choir. She gave singing lessons, did sewing and embroidery, and continued doing library work with the Athenaeum Club. In 1901, the mayor asked Huldah if she would become the librarian for the Hastings District Council, and in doing so, the Council took over the library function of the Athenaeum Club.

Huldah also gave birth to another child – May Frances Price – on 3 April 1899, but died three weeks later. The name of the father was not given.

Huldah died at Napier Hospital on 24 August 1910.

MRS FRANCES PRICE PASSES AWAY.

The news of the death of Mrs Huldah Frances Elizabeth Price, public librarian at Hastings, who passed away at the Napier Hospital at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, aged 51, came as a shock on the Hastings community, by whom the deceased lady was held in the highest esteem. Indeed, besides being generally respected, Mrs Price was held in sincere affection by everyone who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, and her public position as librarian made that circle a very wide one through the district. She always took a keen interest in music, but more especially in singing, and no local choir was considered fully equipped without her sustaining contralto. She constantly appeared on the local concert platforms in aid of any deserving cause and, in the old amateur operatic days, she contributed materially to the success of the various works staged by the society. She took an active interest in church matters and was an enthusiastic member of the Anglican choir, where her loss will be materially felt. Deceased was a native of Kingston, Hertfordshire, and she arrived here 28 years ago as a bride, the late Mr Price having gone home to marry her. She held the position of librarian for 21 years, with the exception of a short interval, and when the municipality took over the institution she held office as public librarian, discharging her duties capably and with much tact.

The deceased lady has been complaining off and on for about a month and took to her room a fortnight ago, but last Monday it was deemed advisable to take her to the Hospital, where pneumonia supervened with fatal results. She leaves two grown-up sons and the deepest sympathy is expressed with them and with her sister, Mrs Locke, of Baunvirke, in their bereavement.

The coffin will be taken to-morrow to the Anglican Church, where a full choral service will be held, and a similar service will take place at the graveside.

The Family of Huldah Frances Elizabeth Mitchell

In her obituary it was mentioned that Huldah was survived by her two grown-up sons, and her sister, Mrs Locke, of Dannevirke.

The parents of Huldah were Charles Mitchell (b. 1822) and Huldah Ann Preston (b. 1837). So this is where the name 'Huldah' came from. The sister, Mrs Locke of Dannevirke, was Ellen Mary Mitchell (b. 1863 in Radnorshire). She married William Henry Burston Locke in Kington, Herefordshire, in 1882. She came out to New Zealand in 1906 on the ship the Kumara, accompanied by her son, Walter Preston Locke (b. 1888). Ellen's husband did not come to New Zealand, so may have died by that date.

Huldah Frances Elizabeth Mitchell also had a brother – Charles Owen Preston Mitchell (b. 1861). He married Sarah Elizabeth Kirkland in Kington in 1911. They had one daughter - Huldah Anne Mitchell (b. 1894) – but she died in 1902 aged 8. The three of them are all buried in the same plot at Kington Public Cemetery.

Chapter 11

John Owen Price (Owen) b. 1889

son of John James Price

John Owen Price (Owen) was born in Hastings on 20 Apr 1889. He was deaf and dumb, and he was known as Dummy to family and friends. His nephew Peter Gregory Price said that he was a champion box-maker, so he was very practical with his hands. He was called up for the army, but presumably declined because of his disabilities.

Owen married firstly, Alice Mary Barry, on 13 May 1918. She was born on 2 May 1895. They had two children; -

1. John Joseph Price b. 17 Dec 1918
2. Dorothy Elizabeth Price b 17 Sep 1922

John Joseph Price, Dorothy Elizabeth Price, J Owen Price

Alice died on 13 April 1926 – that was just 6 years after they got married, and the two children were aged 7 and 3.

Owen married secondly, Susan Jane McKeown on 7 October 1927. She was b. 1881 and d. 15 November 1958.

John Joseph Price was born in Hastings on 17 December 1918. His mother Alice died when he was aged only 7.

On 6 January 1941, he married Fay Francis Clarkson at the Registrar's Office, Hastings. She was born on 20 Jan 1924, so was aged two weeks short of her 17th birthday when they got married.

John Joseph Price and Fay, Jan 1941

When they got married, his name was recorded as John James Price. This was incorrect; it should have been John Joseph Price.

On the 1st February 1941, John went off to war in Egypt. This meant that they had lived together as man wife for just 25 days before he went off to the war. John was away at the war for exactly 3 years 8 months.

I would like to place on record that John compiled two photo albums during the war which I have had the privilege of viewing, and been able to scan or photograph the contents.

After John embarked for the war, his wife Fay moved up to Auckland with her parents. At the time, she was pregnant with John's child, and she duly gave birth to a daughter :

- i. Diann Price b. 5 Sep 1941 at Auckland

Birth Certificate: Diann Price

Again, the name of the father was wrongly recorded in the birth certificate as John James Price.

John's wife Fay subsequently married Gerald Alan Frank Wilby in 1952, and she died under the name Fay Francis Wilby on 4 July 2012.

NZ Herald: Jul 5, 2012

WILBY, Fay Francis. Died suddenly on 4 July 2012 aged 88 years. Loved wife of the late Gerald, loved mum of Diann and the late Robyn. Grandmother of Karen, Greg, Erin and Jennifer and great-grandmother of her 8 great-grandchildren.

A service to celebrate Fay's life will be held at Davis Funeral Home Chapel, 2A Uds Road Pakuranga on Friday 6 July at 12:30 pm.

Diann Price

Diann Price was born in Auckland on 5 September 1941. She was born when her father was away at the war, in Egypt. He was away for 3 years 8 months, and her parents didn't continue the marriage after he returned.

In view of the young age of her mother who found it difficult to cope, Diann spent some time in a home in Herne Bay.

For a while, Diann lived at a home in Herne Bay

Diann said that she met her father, John Joseph Price, only once. That was when he called in and picked her up when she was about 11 and took her out for the day. That could have been 1952, not long before he died.

On 22 August 1959, Diann married Norman Henry Pratt at St John's Church, Mt Roskill. He was born in Wales on 15 June 1928. They had three children: -

- Karen Rosina Pratt b. 23 Jan 1961

In 1951, John Joseph Price married secondly, Joyce Daphne Sleeman at the Presbyterian Church, Hastings.

Wedding photo: John Joseph Price and Joyce Daphne Sleeman. John's sister Dorothy is seated.

Joyce told me that when she met John, they were both working at Watties; he was a foreman, and she was involved in putting in a new production line. She began working late at night on this project, and John expressed concern at her going home late in the dark, and offered to take her home. She thought she would be taken home in a car; she was doubled home on a bicycle. Anyhow, that is how they got to know each other and ended up getting married.

John and Joyce had one child: -

- ii. David John Price b. 17 Jan 1952

Death of John Joseph Price

John died in Hastings on 15 December 1952, that is, just a year after they got married. He had been suffering a medical condition at work (Watties), and went home and died. He was buried in the RSA section of the Hastings Cemetery.

In 1956, Joyce got remarried to Norman Wyrllie Astridge, and her son changed his name to John David Astridge by deed poll.

David John Astridge, born Price

Norman Astridge died in Hastings on 14 April 2014, and I noticed in his death notice that his wife Joyce was still living. I made some enquiries, was introduced to Joyce over the phone, and then visited Joyce in Hastings on 7 September 2015. I also met her son, David John Astridge. It was a most enjoyable visit, and very productive with the information obtained, plus getting copies of key photos.

Then there was something very intriguing that Joyce revealed to me. When she was married to John Joseph Price, she was completely unaware that he had previously been married. Then one day, a lady called upon his son David at his work, and said that she was his mother-in-law. From his place of work, the lady rang and spoke to Joyce, and among other things said, "Doesn't he have Johnny's eyes?" meaning John Joseph Price's eyes. Joyce thought the lady must be nutters; how could she be a mother-in-law? Johnny had never been married before? Joyce then found that there might have been a previous marriage, and that there was a daughter from that marriage, but everything had been hushed up.

On one occasion, Diann had gone down to Hastings when someone had died; I'm guessing it was when John Joseph Price died in 1952, and Diann was aged 11. Dorothy Elizabeth Growcott nee Price was very abrupt with the little girl. It was like she didn't want someone from the past turning up and laying claim to a share of the estate. Dorothy's husband (Growcott) took her aside and apologised for the abrupt treatment. He said, "It is all about money". When I related this instance to Joyce, she said that that was typical Dorothy.

David John Astridge (born Price) and Diann Price are half-brother / half-sister, but have never met. David is keen to meet his half-sister. David has a son living in Auckland whom he visits from time to time, and this may provide the opportunity for them to get together. I hope I am instrumental in bringing about this union.

2. Dorothy Elizabeth Price (daughter of Owen John Price)

Dorothy was born in Hastings on 17 September 1922. In 1941 she married William Henry Growcott, and they had four children: -

- i. Judith Suzanne Growcott b. 1942, d. 1942
- ii. William Ross Growcott b. 1943
- iii. Barry John Growcott b. 1944
- iv. Pamela Claire Growcott b. 1946

Dorothy died 21 September 2003 in Hastings, and William Henry Growcott died 21 November 2009 in Hastings Hospital.

Chapter 12

Francis James Price (Frank) b. 1892

son of John James Price

Francis James Price (Frank)

Francis James Price was born in Hastings on 8 May 1892. His father died when he was just 28 days old.

Frank was in the army during World War I. He went to war as a Private departing on the s.s. Arawa on 16 October 1914. His next of kin was listed as Owen John Price, Eastbourne Street, Hastings. His aunt Alice Martha Otter nec Price lived at Eastbourne Street, on the corner of Warren Street, so possibly that could have been the contact address.

Frank embarked on HMNZT No. 10, s.s. Arawa, on 16 Oct 1914

He was just ten days in Gallipoli when he suffered an injury. The following is a graphic description: -

"He was ten days in the firing line before he felt a shock as if he had been smitten to the ground by a sledge hammer, and when he got up, although he felt no pain he found himself hors de combat, and he crawled 300 yards to the rear, where he received first aid before being conveyed to the battleship. He was wounded about 10 p.m. in the darkness. He, like the rest, speak in glowing terms of the devotion of the stretcher-bearers."

"Not one," says Private Price, "but many dozens, did I see who deserved Victoria Crosses. Yet they will never be mentioned. There are so many heroes in the stretcher-bearer corps that it would be impossible to particularise."

"He said the Turks are fine fighters, and far as his experience went, were on the whole fair, but there were some---probably snipers who were not under control and were merely out for a "bag"---who deliberately fired at and killed stretcher-bearers who make good marks with their broad white arm bands.

He spoke highly of the organisation---medical and general---saying that the soldiers were well fed in the firing line, with two hot meals and a third of "bully" beef and biscuits each day, while they had hot tea three times a day.

Private Price was hit in the left shoulder by an expanding bullet, which travelled half way down his back before it came out, leaving a hole one could one's fist into. The lungs and vital parts were untouched, and he expects to be fit to return to the front in a few months."

He returned to New Zealand on the Willochra which was the first ship to return with wounded soldiers. He arrived in Wellington on 15 July 1915 and spent the first few days getting some treatment at a hospital in Wellington. Then he returned to Hastings by train on 27 July 1915. As he was one of the first soldiers to be returned, he was accorded a hero's welcome. Mrs Ellingham travelled down to Waipawa and accompanied him for the remainder of the journey.

Hastings Standard: Jul 26, 1915

Private Frank Price, who was wounded in the Dardanelle, and who arrived in Wellington on the Willochra, will arrive in Hastings tomorrow evening by the express. The band will turn out and a good welcome awaits him.

Hastings Standard: Jul 27, 1915

Private Frank Price, who arrives in Hastings by the mail train this evening, is to be given a fitting public reception. The mayor and other prominent citizens will meet the train on arrival and a procession, headed by the Town Band will form and march to the Pacific Hotel, where speeches of welcome will be made. Mrs. A. Ellingham, who has generously consented to care for the wounded soldier until he recovers from his wounds, will meet Private Price at Waipawa, and accompany him to Hastings. We trust the public will rally around and greet the returned soldier in a befitting manner.

Hasting Standard: Jul 28, 1915

WOUNDED SOLDIER'S RETURN

HASTINGS' WELCOME TO FRANK PRICE

Private Frank Price, who returned to Hastings last night, and who was severely wounded at the Dardanelles, must have felt very proud when he found that such a hearty home-coming awaited him on his arrival. The whole of the population of Hastings must have turned out, judging by the tremendous crowd present at the railway station to welcome him. The returned soldier, on stepping from the carriage, was greeted with an outburst of cheering, which was kept up until he reached the car that was in waiting for him. His Worship the Mayor then extended a welcome to Private Price, who, he said, with many other brave New Zealanders, had helped to uphold the dignity of the British Empire. He trusted the soldier they were welcoming that evening would soon be restored to convalescence, and who, in company with many other young men in this district, would shoulder arms and again return to the front.

Colonel Goring also addressed those present and in a few remarks, congratulated Private Price on his safe return to the land of his birth.

A procession was then formed, and, headed by the Town Band, marched through the principal thoroughfares to the Pacific Hotel, followed by a large concourse of people, who cheered all the way to the hotel. After receiving a hearty welcome by the Boy Scouts, the Mayoress pinned on the coat of the returned soldier the Hastings badge of welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellingham, with their usual thoughtfulness, had prepared an excellent dinner over which the Mayor presided. Complimentary speeches were made by the Mayor, Messrs. E.H. Williams, Captain Oldham, Major Colquhoun, L.F. Pegler. Private H. Maxwell, was also present.

Private Price, in thanking them for the magnificent reception they had given him, referred especially to the great kindness of given to him by Mr. and Mrs. Ellingham. He thought, as many others did, that when they left New Zealand they were going on a pleasure trip, but he could assure them, after the experiences that they had gone through, that it was far from being fun. Even after so severe a ****, all those who had been wounded and who had been where the shells and bullets were falling were only too anxious to return to the scene of battle. It was a glorious experience, and worth more than half a man's lifetime.

Another round of cheers was given for Private Price and the gathering then dispersed.

Hastings Standard: Aug 18, 1915

"A Turkish dagger, a war trophy from the Dardanelles, brought back by Private Price, is on view in Mr. A. Rosenberg's window."

In the news dispatch about his return it was mentioned that he was well-known in hockey and cricket circles.

On 14 December 1918, he went to the War a second time, departing on the hospital ship Maheno. The war had in fact ended by that date, on 11th November 1918, but he went as a Staff Sergeant for records duty in Egypt.

On 7 February 1917 he married Ida Jean Rapley in Wellington. Her pet name was Neeni. She was born in Wellington on 11 June 1893.

PRICE, Evan James (RNZ Navv. Second World War). On September 17, 1984 (suddenly), at Auckland, dearly loved husband of Jean (Stallan Rd, Omokoroa, RD2, Tauranga), and loved father and father-in-law of Fern and Douglas, Clarke, Gregory and Diana Kivto and Gary Lemon. Cherished papa of Tracie, Stuart, Evan, Kimberley, Michelle and Andrew; aged 61 years. Will never be forgotten. A service will be held at the Holy Trinity Anglican Church, 3rd Avenue, Tauranga, tomorrow (Thursday), at 11 am, funeral then leaving for Pyes Pa Soldiers' Cemetery.

In April 2012, I visited the daughter Fern and her husband Barry in Omokoroa; her sister Klyta and husband Gary came over from Mt Maunganui for the occasion. It was a very enjoyable meeting, and I obtained copies of valuable photos for my family research. Unfortunately, Fern died of cancer just a few months later – on 5 August 2012 – so I really appreciate having met her when I did.

Terry Longley & Son, Funeral Services

Of the children - Francis lives in Australia, Janet lives in Napier, Gay lives in Havelock North, and John lives in New Plymouth. It was with Janet's husband Phil that I walked along Marine Parade in Napier and took a photo of that plaque about the wreck of the s.s. Northumberland. Phil has an interesting involvement in managing a barbershop quartet which performs on such occasions as the Art Deco Festival in Napier. He didn't attend Peter Gregory Price's 60th wedding anniversary in November 2013 because his barbershop quartet were away competing in Hawaii.
