Foreword

by

W. J. WALLACE

This booklet on the history of the Ranfurly Shield brings back memories to me, particularly as I played for Wellington in the first challenge played and that was at Auckland on August 6th, 1904.

I had the honour to captain Wellington in this first challenge, and Wellington defeated Auckland by 6 to 3. I well remember that the Auckland Rugby Union were unable to present the Ranfurly Shield to us as it was locked in a bank vault in the city, and the Wellington team had to leave Auckland by ship for New Plymouth on the Sunday.

From the time of that first challenge in 1904 the Ranfurly Shield has developed a great tradition and importance in our game – it is the ambition of every player to be able to say that he has played in a challenge match.

With the Ranfurly Shield back in Hawkes Bay, I am sure that the great tradition and splendid rivalry characteristic of these challenges will be fully maintained.

* Between 1925 and 1932 (inc.) the present Manawatu and Horowhenua Unions were amalgamated as Manawhenua.

‡ The first Ranfurly Shield match played by this Union was under the name of South Auckland Union, the area subsequently becoming the Bay of Plenty, King Country, Thames Valley and Waikato Unions of this time.

† Prior to 1952 Mid-Canterbury Union was known as Ashburton County Union.

Note: One Hawkes Bay win was subsequently voided (on an appeal) owing to a residential qualification breach. The match concerned was against Wairarapa at Masterton in 1927. Pending the appeal decision, both Wairarapa and Hawkes Bay had played provisional challenges, and on the Shield being ordered to be returned to Wairarapa the trophy was handed to Manawhenua instead, that Union having won its provisional game against Wairarapa whilst the N.Z.R.F.U.'s decision was awaited. For the purpose of this record, Hawkes Bay is credited with the win, and the provisional match between Wairarapa and Manawhenua added as a Shield fixture.
