The agenda of the coming visit to London of the Polish Foreign Minister (Colonel Beck) is expected to include negotiations for a mutual defence agreement, a British loan of £20,000,000, the emigration of Polish Jews to Empire countries and the future of Danzie and the future of Danzie.

Colonel Beck will seek to establish the limits of a transition period in which the British pledge will be understood to apply, while a reciprocal defence pact is being negotiated between Britain, France, Poland, Roumania, Yugoslavia,

Measures for British help in the event of an emergency will also be discussed. It is believed that Poland has no inten-

Hitler's Reply To Chamberlain: "Will Assert Rights"

"NO SERVILE SLAVE TO BRITAIN AND FRANCE," DECLARES HERR HITLER

WILL ASSERT GERMANY'S VITAL NATIONAL RIGHTS

FUHRER'S REPLY TO MR CHAMBERLAIN

United Press Association-Copyright. (Received April 3, 12.30 a.m.) WILHELMSHAVEN, April 2.

"Germany will not be a subservient slave to Britain and France, but will assert her vital national rights, which she is strong enough to protect," stated Herr Hitler at Wilhelmshaven on the occasion of his visit to launch the new battleship Admiral von Tirpitz.

Herr Hitler did not mention Poland, and made no sensational announcement. He ridiculed rather than scolded Britain. Only through increased production due to labour, not through fiscal tricks, could the people's welfare be enhanced, said the Fuhrer.

"If British statesmen said that all problems should be discussed by means of a conference, I reply: 'You had 15 years for that and did not do it.' We would achieve nothing if we waited for 15 more years to solve problems through talking-shop methods. Our methods are better and safer.

"If the world to-day says that England and France are virtuous, and Italy and Germany bad, then judgment must be left to a superhuman being.

"If they think that they own a quarter of the world because they are virtuous, we know the virtues whereby they amassed these possessions.

"Britain has been without virtue for three centuries.
"The Allies mistake the Germany of to-day for the Germany of 16 years ago.

"If they believe that we will permit a new encirclement, or if they try to tell the small Powers that they will pull the chestnuts from the fire for them, they may burn their fingers. The small Powers have sense enough to see which side of the bread is buttered.

"We are proud of Spain's liberation from a democratic Bolshevist oppression because many young Germans helped to break the Red terror there.

"We would have had nothing against the independent Czech State if she had not oppressed Germans and had not been used as an instrument of Communism against Germany.

"We united to suppress the Czechs, who will have more privileges than the suppressed peoples of these virtuous Empires.

The speech lasted for 62 minutes. The crowd hooted at the mention of Britain.

"I served peace by destroying an anti-German instrument. It is a propagandist lie to conclude from this that we intend to attack the world. Such an idea was merely promulgated in order to conceal disappointment at the destruction of a plan to prepare attacks against Germany.

The rally at Nuremburg in September would be entitled a "party rally of peace" but any persons desiring to rearm could not tire out Germany, who was prepared to exert her utmost powers in a test of strength in which her friends would march with her.

An Independent Cable Service message states that Herr Hitler spoke from a balcony shielded by bullet-proof glass.

Most Germans were unaware that Herr Hitler was speaking, because the Press had not disclosed the fact.

Herr Hitler's speech was not broadcast as a whole, only excerpts from records at 7 and 8 p.m.

Herr Hitler inspected the naval port and received the freedom of the city. He addressed his audience of 80,000 people in Rathaus Square at 4.45 p.m., Greenwich Mean Time. The translation of his speech, being transmitted by short-wave to America from Zeesen, was suddenly cut off, allegedly owing to a land line defect. No such mishap has occurred since 1933.

The authorities denied that the land line was defective and blamed operators for the mistake.

Herr Hitler has left for Heligoland, says a later report.

Press comment in London on Mr Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons regarding Polish independence is unanimously approving.

"The Times" points out that Nazi violence of method has created the intense conviction, particularly among democratic countries, that international dealings will degenerate into the habits of the jungle if differences between larger and smaller nations continue to be settled by reliance on the threat or use of brute force, and emphasises that the historic importmits it to stand for fair and free negotiations. "Mr Chamberlain's statement involves no blind acceptance of the status quo, but the stand which Britain and France are making is simply for a return to decent, normal methods of diplomacy.

"Any statesman at present who takes up an attitude differing ever so slightly from what is expected of him in Berlin runs the risk of being noted as an enemy of the Reich and being marked down for harsh treatment if German influence should ever become dominant in his country.

"This crude terrorism argument will, it may be hoped, now lose most of its efficacy and the minor States of Europe, associating themselves with the movement started by Britain, France and Poland, may henceforth feel that they have a solid safeguard for fair negotiation.

"This country has never been an advocate of the encirclement of Germany, but other States have the right to live their own lives. They have the same claim as the Reich to be free."

"I warmly resent the intolerable suggestion that in anything I have sought to imply the existence of differences between those responsible for our conduct of foreign affairs."

Mr. Eden closed his speech by appealing for a still greater measure of national unity.

Lord Samuel, speaking in Yorkshire, expressed the Liberals' approval for Mr. Chamberlain's statement and said that there was no desire to hem Germany in economically. He was sure that the statement would be warmly welcomed and approved by the whole people, irrespective of party.

A Labour Member of Parliament, Mr. R. C. Morrison, speaking at Taunton, said: "The statement of the Prime Minister is all in the right direction. I hope that the smaller Powers will be willing to play their part in this new development."

The London "Daily Telegraph" says: "Here is a plain proclamation, that the frontier of this country is no longer the Rhine, but the region of Vistula, and that we shall regard attack upon that frontier as a set. of Vistula, and that we shall regard to the excited world, could hardly fail to prove an anti-climax.

The military commitment which we refused, even to France, our next-door neighbour and political ally before 1914, after 1918, and indeed right down to January of this year, we now grant outright to a country at the other end of Europe.

ROOSEVELT'S SUPPORT OF "STOP HITLER MOVEMENT"

Anxiety In America: Fear Of Nazi Dreams Of World Domination

> United Press Association-Copyright. (Received April 2, 8.30 p.m.) NEW YORK, April 1.

The widespread fear of foreign Governments that Europe is on the threshold of another Napoleonic era, growing out of the Nazi dreams of world domination, kept President Roosevelt in periodic telephone communication throughout the day with the State Department at Washington and the American Embassies in London and Paris, says the "New York Times" correspondent at Warm Springs (Georgia), where the President is staying.

Mr Roosevelt warned journalists that he might be forced to cut his holiday short and return to Washington at a moment's notice.

His concern is reported to be due to a belief that there is at present no limit to Hitler's ambitions, ending the hope that he would be content with the German populations of contiguous States.

President Roosevelt's attitude is indicated clearly by his support of the "Stop Hitler Movement," and his conviction that it will be Hitler's fault if war breaks out in Europe.

DECLARATION BY MR CHAMBERLAIN

TURNING POINT

'Hitler's Choice Of War Or Peace"

United Press Association—Copyright, (Received April 2, 8.50 p.m.)
LONDON, April 1.

The British Foreign Office has issued a statement declaring that official quarters are surprised at the mise Mr Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons. It is regarded as being of outstanding importance, its meaning being perfective clear and categorical.

Official quarters feel that no doubt the Polish Government will wish to keep the British Government fully informed, although Britain does not seek in any way to influence Polish conduct or her relations with Germany. The Polish Ambassador (Count E. Raezynski) conferred for an hour with the British Foreign Secretary (Viscount Halifax).

Secretary (Viscount Halifax).

It was earlier semi-officially stated in Whitehall that Mr Chamberlain's statement made it clear that Britain and France would defended herself, and also that, if Poland fought over Danzig, England and France would fight also. However, it did not rule out the possibility of German-Polish negotiations over Danzig.

Turning Point. Turning Point.

The City regards the speech as a turning point. The majority are of the opinion that Herr Hitler must now choose between war and peace and that the period of the dictators' facing the world with a series of faits accomplis is ending.

It is learned in official circles in Whitehall that the Premier's statement was made because, in view of the German incursion into Bohemia and Moravia, it is no longer possible to take the slightest risk. The suggestion that the statement was made as the result of some information that Germany was contemplating sensational steps is without foundation.

Political circles note that the assurance to Poland is not balanced by any obligation on her side except those which she may already under because of her alliance with France. It is thought extremely probable that Rumania will shortly line up with the peace bloc.

DEVIL-WIND BATTLES WITH MAN

> Tyrone Power In "Suez"

The conflict of a man with the lements around him is the theme elements around him is the theme of "Suez," which is now showing at the State Theatre, Napier. "Suez" is the story of Ferdinand de Lesseps, who, in the political turmoil of the mid-nineteenth century, conceived the idea of tearing two continents apart, that the Mediterranean and Red Seas might be joined, and a short route cut to the East.

The film presents the struggle of de Lesseps to cut the Suez Canal. The ferocious wind was Nature's greatest weapon of defence in the battle waged upon her by de Lesseps. It was known as the "devilwind" in its ragings across tracks seps. It was known as the "devil-wind" in its ragings across tracks of sand, leaving mountains where once were valleys, obliterating the caravan routes, the all too few oases and almost blinding the sight. These elements de Lesseps fought, as he fought political and financial discouragement, and attacks from the hostile Arabs.

Tyrone Power plays the role of this remarkable man, who overcame landslides, tropical heat, and a desperate shortage of water in service to a cherished idea. Loretta Young to a cherished idea. Loretta Young and Annabella share honours with him in portraying the two loves that drove the French genius on to the completion of his project.

Darryl F. Zanuck was in charge of the production. He was faced with the difficult problem of fitting intimate love scenes into thousands of feet of lavish, natural spectacle.

The difficulty has been mastered and close ups have been woven into the general background of terror without slacking of speed or of tension. The atmosphere is livid yet the warmth of personal contacts has never been lost. The film is magnificent

To add to the evening's attractive ness there is a splendid issue of the March of Time series, showing the Czechoslovakian crisis, and an ex-tra film with the ambiguous title, "What Every Girl Should Know."

Moving parts that wear with use over a period of years can involve maintenance and replacement costs that may not only be considerable, but also mean inconvenience. The prolonged life of ELECTROLUX, due to the absence of moving parts that wear in the sense to which we have become accustomed, makes it a long-term investment that gives you freedom from worry and pays real dividends by saving money.

HOW WILL IT END?

HOW WILL IT END?

The Sun is shining brightly as we set out for a day in the Country, but How will the day end? The game is going right, for we are winning, but How will it end? The Story received as a Prize, begun well, has charmed us so far, but How will it end?

So with the lives of young folks. So many begin well, go on well, but the vital question is How do they end? Now, if you want to begin well, go on well, and, above all, end well, here is the secret. Begin well by Coming to Christ, just as you are, where you are, at what age you are, and COME NOW! Rest assured you need a Saviour, you can find a Saviour, He will save you now, His promise is "Him that cometh to ME I will in no wise cast out" (John 6:37). Go on well by "looking unto Jesus" (Heb. 12:2). "Keeping yourself in the Love of God" (Jude 21). Keep busy, keep in fellowship with God and His Children, keep "looking for that Blessed Hope" (Titus 2:13), the Coming of the Lord. End well by hearing His Voice saying at the end of a busy, happy life: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant . . enter thou into the joy of thy Lord" (Matt. 25:21). It is possible for you, by His Grace and Love. TRUST HIM NOW. But begin badly by neglecting or rejecting Christ; live a careless life; die a Christless death; and you will be lost Eternally.

MUSSON & MADDOX

IMPROVED WITH HIS RACE.—Small Boy was a greatly improved horse for the Karamu Hurdles at Hastings on Saturday and easily accounted for the favourite, Lustral.

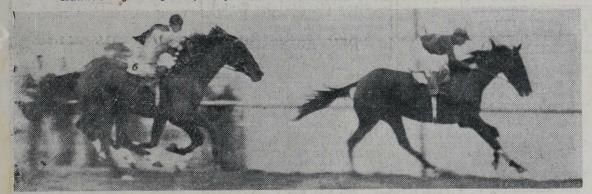

ANOTHER DOUBLE WINNER.—The Ring was again too good for the novices in the Tomoana Electric Handicap, and won very easily from Arabic and Defray. Small Boy and Royal Spades also won doubles.

FINISHED TOO WELL.—Siegmund, favourite for the Hastings Handicap, finished just too well for the little fancied Hunting Cat on Saturday, while Coronation was a close third.

WIN FOR THE PRESIDENT.—Red Witch, who carries the colours of Mr G. D. Beatson, president of the Hawke's Bay Jockey Club, easily beat Opoho and Raana in the Akitio Handicap on Saturday.

A GOOD CLASS SPRINTER.—Black Thread carried his 9.0 to a very easy victory in the Okawa Handicap on Saturday. Buster Brown (nearest the camera) and Golden Blonde filled the minor placings.

THE TURNING POINT IN EUROPE

Although Mr Chamberlain may deprecate the suggestion that his warning to Germany against further acts of unprovoked aggression was based on the anticipation of a Danzig coup by Herr Hitler, it is safe to deduce that the statement did not come "out of the blue." The British Prime Minister, indeed, admitted that the opinions of France and Russia had been sought, and that the Dominions had been consulted, which would certainly suggest that Britain believed that something was brewing near the Polish Corridor. From this it may be seen why the usual "well-informed circles" (including those in the United States of America) predicted that a first-class crisis was at hand. If Herr Hitler was contemplating a repetition of his "smash and grab" tactics, then Mr Chamberlain's declaration amounted to little less than an ultimatum. He said, quite plainly: "Hands off Poland. Further aggression will be met by the combined military resistance of Britain, France, and Russia.' This dramatic statement has evidently produced a more profound result than is apparent on the surface. The whole world has been on tenterhooks awaiting Herr Hitler's reply, for if he chose to be defiant, swift and terrible war would have broken out almost without warning. Almost breathlessly Europe has been watching the hours pass—awaiting the next move in the grim battle of wills. It is a period which will be marked in history as the most critical since August, 1914. And there can be no easing of the tension until Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini become resigned to the situation. "Thus far and no further" is the dictum of the democracies. The issue for peace or war is now in the hands of the

The effect of Mr Chamberlain's declaration is not merely confined to the aggression issue. The minor Powers of Europe must be profoundly impressed by this apparent change of front. No longer need they fear that there is none to stand between them and the ambitions of a stronger nation. They must now realise that a stand has been taken for right and justice against international lawlessness, and it is highly probable that Mr Chamberlain's new standard will be the rallying point for the many States which have been cowed almost to the stage of bartering their independence for a Nazi "protection."

In these few hours we have seen Great Britain once again assume the leadership of the cause of right against might—a cause which many believed to have been lost at Herr Hitler's first reaction to this new move has been unexpectedly mild. After sifting out the bombast (which is, in any case, primarily intended for home consumption), the Fuhrer's speech at Wilhelmshaven yesterday (in which it was anticipated he would reply to Mr Chamberlain) was curiously evasive. This can mean one of two things. Either he realises that he has reached a limit beyond which he dares not go, or else he is gathering his forces (and his allies) for a sudden blow, of which he does not desire to give undue warning. This may mean a period of intense diplomatic activity in Europe, South America, and the Far East. It may mean that Herr Hitler may attempt to create diversions, possibly by stiffening Signor Mussolini in his campaign against France, and at the same time setting his agents provocateurs to work fomenting trouble in Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia, and other key points.

It must not be forgotten that Herr Hitler cannot entirely retire from the field. Such an action might destroy his grip over the German people for all time. The Nazi god cannot afford to have feet of clay. And the probability is that his efforts will be confined to saving his face. That, or a mad plunge into war.

It is difficult exactly to foresee events in the immediate future. Herr Hitler is unpredictable, but if he is not altogether dominated by the lust for power he must see that the time has arrived for him to be discreet. It should be realised that this is the sole hope for peace. One other aspect of the present European drama should not be overlooked. Mr Chamberlain's statement brings the democracies and the dictatorships face to face. It is not an ideological conflict, as Herr Hitler attempts to make it when he sneeringly referred to the alignment of Russia with Britain and France. It is not a struggle between "democratic Bolshevism" and Fascism or National Socialism, as he calls it. It is a struggle between the rule of might and the rule of justicewhether the law of the jungle shall prevail, or the law of civilised man. Someone must give way. Who? Peace or war?

Mr. Farmer must beware lest "mental torpitude and physical decline" (Mr. Stratford) set in.

Your carrespondent says "Naturalists ascribe the rise and fall of the moa to (1) the excess of food caused by its abundance; (2) the lack of natural enemies; (3) the smallness of its native environment." May one ask what naturalist(s)? ist(s)? And, if the moa is native to New Zealand, how does it happen to New Zealand, how does it happen that the surroundings which gave it life were its destruction? The naturalists and biologists hold that life has a wonderful gift of adapting itself to changing environment, and their conclusions are based on observations made and noted by Charles Darwin on Galapagos.

This "too much kills the moa" infers that we shall all die from over-eating under the present Government. Well, we built up malnutrition in the Coates-Forbes-Hamilton days, so of two evils let me have the lesser.

Little Theatre Performances

Sir,—I wrote you a letter on "The Right to Criticise." Your issue of Wednesday last has a reply there to which has earned the caption "Status of the Farmer." Mr. H. Strafford is lucky, it might have been dubbed "Receipt for a Hot Pot."

Well, let us take a look at the status of the farmer. Is it weak or strong? Judging from reports of recent meetings of Wairoa and Hastings branches of their union, weakness is proclaimed—indeed, we have heard rumours of "compulsory unionism"—that despised weapon of industrialism. the listeners.

However, things are not too bad, since Mr. Stratford's "fetch, feed and fawn" Government is supplying our friends of the land with quite a trol her features when the dialogue trol's would do wen'to try to con-trol' her features when the dialogue amuses the audience. Has Mr. Stratford ever heard the saying that "plenty starves the world?" It is no wild statement by an excitable foreigner, or a "blawsted homie"—just the considered opinion of that alert New Zealander Dr. Sutherland, following on a close study of affairs under the aforementioned regime of Messrs. Bombs Explode Throughout The DEVELOPMENT OF THE City: Police Search For I.R.A. Adherents

LONDON, April 2.

An Irish Republican Army gang touring London in a powerful car carrying loaded bombs subjected the city to a night of terror as a reprisal for the convictions of terrorists at the Old Bailey a few hours earlier.

Five outrages between midnight and dawn caused extensive damage, chiefly to shop fronts, but there were no casual-

The bomb apparently was deposited on the pavement beneath the windows. The driver of a passing car saw a man running from the spot. Glass was hurled across the street

CHILLED BEEF TRADE

INDUSTRY

BEEF FOR EXPORT

Farmers Addressed At Tomoana Works

The future development of the chilled beef trade in New Zealand was discussed by the chairman of the New Zealand Meat Producers' Board (Mr T. A. Duncan) when he addressed a large gathering of farmers at the Tomoana Works on Saturday morning

Saturday morning.

Increased shipping space to provide for the growth of the trade, and the regulation of supplies, Mr. Duncan stressed as being two of the main objectives of the board. He contended that beef export was an industry which was worthy of close attention from farmers, in view of the recently imposed lamb and nutton quota.

A second explosion occurred at 1.30 a.m. at a lock-up dress shop in Park Lane, where glass was scattered and frocks strewn on the pavement.

At 3 a.m. hundreds were brought from their beds by an explosion in Tottenham Court Road, where five large windows of Heals, Limited, furnishers, were blown out and the masonry shop front shattered. Luxury furniture was scattered over a wide area.

A pedestrian told the police that two men rushed from the spot before the explosion and jumped into a car.

A second explosion occurred at 1.30 a.m. at a lock-up dress shop in Park Lane, where glass was scattered and frocks strewn on the pavement.

A constable in Edgeware Road at 4 a.m. picked up a live bomb thrown from a passing car. He removed the fuse.

A few minutes later another bomb exploded, wrecking the front of a shop and rocking blocks of flats, from which hundreds rushed in night attire.

Coutts' Bank, in the Strand, was deavoured to dispose of their beasts as quickly as possible.

Mr Duncan, speaking of the failure on the shipping companies' part to meet their allocations, said that the difficulties which everse in this the difficulties which arose in this direction were not entirely due to the shippers, but to the spasmodic supplies. The limited amount of accommodation for chilled beef available on ships made it difficult to cope with the output in seasons of heavy supply.

Accordingly, an effort would have to be made to regulate supplies, said Mr Duncan, otherwise there would be an over-supply of "chillers" and producers would be forced to accept the frozen price.

Illustrating the matter of space allocations, Mr Duncan said that in the past four months shipping com-

Trade's Importance.
Shipping companies were beginhing to realise the importance of the chilled beef trade, after lengthy shipments would be made that ensured a steadiness of supply to the English market.

Under normal conditions the shipping provided would have been sufficient to cope with the killings for export, but the abnormal rush had upset the calculations of the works and operators. While the board in some quarters had been criticised for not securing ships from outside to meet the rush, Mr Duncan thought that it would have been inadvisable to dump the accumulated supplies on the English market. MINISTER'S VISIT £25,000 LOSS IN FIRE AT WANGANUI SAWMILL

Ohakune Brigade Helpless As No Water Was Available

"Daily Mail" Special Service WANGANUI, April 2.

A spectacular fire completely destroyed the Egmont Box Co.'s sawmill at National Park yesterday and caused damage estimated at £25,000. The plant destroyed included much valuable and up-to-date electrical equipment.

The fire broke out at 6.35 a.m. and was still smouldering at 4.30 in the afternoon.

The Ohakune Fire Brigade was summoned, but could do little more than prevent the blaze spreading to nearby stacks of timber. The only water available was that from a small creek, but this was of little use, as the brigade had no pump. An eye-witness said that the fire appeared to have originated in the boiler room. "It was one of the most spectacular fires we have ever had in the Raetihi district," he added. "The blaze could be seen for miles and dense clouds of smoke overshadowed large tracts of country.

"When I was two or three miles away," continued this informant, "the blaze was so fierce that it caused distinct shadows of trees and buildings to be cast.'

The mill was one of the largest of its kind in the North

COUNTRY PLAYERS HAWKE'S BAY UNION'S DECISION

Officers Elected For New Season

MAIN EVENTS FOR 1939

Rugby football in the Hawke's Bay province will commence officially on Saturday, April 15, according to the decision of the annual meeting of the Hawke's Bay Rugby Football Union, which was held in Napier on Saturday night.

Many practice matches will be played before that date, however, and a number of Hawke's Bay teams will be participating in various tournaments at Easter.

The sole selector (Mr N. A. McKenzie), who recommended the commencing date, stated that towards the end of October of this year there would be two important matches, when no games would be played locally. In view of this, it would be advisable to start a fortnight earlier than usual.

Players Handicapped
The country players lacked the experience and opportunities of the Colts' team was their only chance to prove themselves, Mr McCormack added. The tour was abandoned last year owing to measles, when country players could quite easily have filled the gaps.

The sole selector (Mr N. A. McKenzie), explained the four key men of the combination.

There were delegates present from the Wairoa, Hastings, Danne-virke, Central Hawke's Bay, Taupo and Te Maori Sub-unions, and from the Technical College Old Boys', Pirates, Marist Brothers' Old Boys', Pirates, Marist Brothers' Old Boys', School and Clive football clubs.

One of the Hastings delegates (Mr. A. E. Grenside) opposed this motion and moved as an amendment that the starting date should of the combination.

Owing to the prolonged dry spell, the playing fields were at present as hard as concrete, whereas, if there was a later start, there was a greater possibility of rain softening the grounds, with less chance of injuries to players.

The Napier High School delegate Kenzie), explained the four key men of the combination were indisposed, and he could not find suitable players to replace them. Rather than make the tour a failure for the remaining men, he had asked the union to cancel the arrangements.

There was no question of prejudice, and, if he remembered rightly, measles were prevalent in country districts also at the time. The Napier High School delegate strongly supported the amendment. Two teams of schoolboys had recently held a practice game, and the ground was found to be so hard that it was considered unsafe.

The question of bringing University teams from England, Scotland and Ireland to New Zealand during Centennial Year had been actively pursued by Dr. J. E. Lovelock and Dr. T. School Matches.

Two adults, a boy and a live goat, all on a motor-cycle, provided an unusual sight on the Hutt Road on a recent occasion. The rider of the cycle was charged with overloading his machine and he explained to the Magistrate that he had decided, while out deer-stalking to "bring one back alive." The inspector said that there was an adult as pillion passenger, while a boy of 12 sat on the handle-bars, and, in front of him, the live goat. "There were, in effect, two kids," jocularly remarked the Magistrate (Mr A, M. Golding).

Saturday morning games for primary schools were continued, and they were rapidly becoming more propular. The games were now conducted on a better basis, due to the assistance offered by represent-day players and referees.

A suggestion that the selector should visit Wairoa during the approaching season, was made by the Rev. C. Hyde, when the management committee met at the conclusion of the union meeting. The fact that the roads were bad last year might have been an adequate excuse for there being no visit during the 1938 season, but this had been going on for four years.

Recommendations.

The result of the southern tour, when there was only one loss out of five matches, had never been previously equalled by a Hawke's Bay touring team.

Unfortunately, both from the point of view of Hawke's Bay supporters and from the financial aspect, only three representative games were played at home.

Country Football.

The Wairoa delegate (Mr W. G. Brownlee) suggested that a combined Wairoa, Dannevirke and Central Hawke's Bay team should play a combined Napier and Hastings team, prior to the selection of any Hawke's Bay representative combination. It was also recommended that such a match should become an annual fixture.

The net profit accuring from the representative fixtures was £408, as compared with £1182 the previous season, or £692 excluding the South African game. The New Zealand colt Defaulter opened his Australian racing campaign when he completely justified the high opinions entertained for him with an exciting victory in the Chipping Norton Plate, at Warwick Farm on Saturday. In addition, he survived a protest arising out of the complaint of interference to Spear Chief in the straight.

Defaulter's success was the more meritorious as he had to make his

HUNTING CAT RUNS SECOND A BIG CROWD AT

(By MOTUROA)

Siegmund was last three furlongs from home in the Hastings Handicap, but, as soon as his rider moved on him, he gathered in the field as they swung into the straight. Halfway down the running he joined Coronation and Hunting Cat, who were having a great tussle, and he asserted his superiority 100 yards from home. From that juncture there were no doubts about the issue, and at the judge Siegmund was going away to win comfortably.

Siegmund fully earned the ovation he received on returning to scale, for his performance was that of a good class horse. As well, he was an unlucky runner the first day, being one of the three horses hopelessly left in the Cup.

Old Hunting Cat ran his best race this season, showing gameness to worry Coronation out of second money. The latter, however, was "toey" at the start and the last to move, but made a very fast run from the six furlongs to take over the lead at the half-mile. He was two lengths clear into the straight and looked a winner below the distance, but he began to shirk his job when Hunting Cat challenged him.

Big Dook ran up to a handy position on the home turn, but he did not finish on, while Taitoru, the second favourite, stopped badly after being about fourth into the straight.

CORONATION held up the start for some time and was eventurally slow to find his feet, the field going off in really good line, Minnow making the first move to lead past the judge from Pennycomequick, Taitoru, Fossicker, Granvale, Siegmund and Big Dook.

There was little change across the top except that Big Dook and Siegmund drifted and, at the six furlongs, Minnow was bowling along two lengths clear of Pennycomequick and Taitoru, Fossicker and Hunting Cat, and Gay Mimic, while Coronation was commencing a fast run from the rear.

Minnow and Taitoru dropped their bundles at this stage and Hunting Cat went through to make the first dab at Coronation, while Siegmund could be seen coming fast around the bunch. From the distance it was a three-horse race and Siegmund finished too well for the others, beating Hunting Cat by a good half length. Coronation was a neck away and then, four or five lengths back, Big Dook, Gay Mamic, Pennycomequick and Taitoru finished in a bunch.

Lucullus Boy was running about a lot at the distance and he forced Mimicry and Royal Spades out wide, leaving Quilp looking all over a winner less than a 100 yards from home.

THE Okawa Handicap looked a good thing for Kathbella and Rakahanga to finish in the money, but the punters, who entrusted half the investments on these two fillies, were smitten hip and thigh. They were the last two home.

Black Thread, who had weakened in the run home the first day, was always prominent and, after Solaria and Rakahanga had led into the straight from Golden Blonde, the topweight came through with a rattle at the distance and won going away. There is no doubt about his away. There is no doubt about his class when he is right and more should be heard from him at Easter.

There was a good race for second money between the two outsiders, Golden Blonde and Buster Brown. The former, showing remarkable improvement on her first day's running, hung on just a little better to take second money by a short head. Rakahanga was placed fourth, but that decision seemed hard to understand for Rakahanga and Kathbella

At a False Price.

THE punters tumbled over themselves to be on Lustral, who had been especially sent up from Trentham to contest the Karamu Hurdles. However, they reckoned without the possibility of Small Boy improving with his improving with his experience the first day and had to be content with little more than half of their investments returned.

Lord elected to go to the front from the start and slowed down the field for the first five furlongs, being attended by Parry (moving up), Lustral and Red Rufus. Parry nearly fell at the mile fence, Rohloff making a good recovery, but, from that juncture Small Bay and Lustral stepped on the accelerator and, over the last six furlongs they had the race to themselves.

Lustral temporarily threatened danger when he ran up to Small Boy at the penultimate fence, but Carroll had to draw the mop on him shortly after. Small Boy touched the last fence, but recovered well and, over the last furlong, he was going away from Lustral to win easily and at a false price.

INTERFERENCE IN THE NURSERY HANDICAP

Insufficient Evidence To Take Action

The Judicial Committee held an inquiry into intereference during the running of the Nursery Handicap on Thursday. After hearing the statements of several jockeys the following decision was arrived at—
"The Committee finds there was Hawke's Bay Autumn
Meeting Ends

Fine weather again obtained for the Hawke's Bay Jockey Club's autumn meeting, which concluded at Hastings on Saturday and there was a very large attendance. This was reflected in the totalisator turnover, the first day's deficit being wiped out and a good increase being shown for the meeting.

Favourites raced well during the day, scoring four wins and two seconds, a feature of the racing being the fact that the first three winners repeated their first day's successes. The only serious reverse the backers had was in the last race, when Kathbella and Rakahanga ran a long way below their right form.

Siegmund and Red Witch, whowere both unlucky in their respective races on Thursday, enjoyed better runs and duly landed for their admirers in the two middle distance races on the programme.

The starting showed a big im-Defaulter's success was the more meritorious as he had to make his own running. Over the last five furlongs he was worried by The Trump falling back, and Spear Chief seeking a position on the rails. The last half mile was run at a clipping pace of 48½.

Defaulter is now certain to have an overwhelming following in the Sydney Cup.

Defaulter is now certain to have an overwhelming following in the Sydney Cup.

When Defaulter was being unsaddled, blood smears appeared on the side of his mouth. At first they caused Trainer F. A. Roberts uneasiness. Roy Stewart, veterinary surgeon, examined Defaulter and found a scratch inside his mouth, but no evidence whatever of internal bleeding, thus easing the minds of the bettors who intend to follow Defaulter in future races.

The "Sunday Sun" describes Defaulter's debut in Australia as that of a great three-year-old, rivalling Phar Lap.

The Bulandshar colt High Caste let his friends down in the Colts and Geldings Handicap, of six furlongs, finishing fourth to The Kaiser (El Cacique-Doorn). High Caste, who had the outside barrier position, carried 9.8, and the lightweights on the inside were able to worry him all the way.

The totalisator staff had a busy day, handling £18,015 compared with £14,995 10s on the second day last year, an increase of £3019 10s. The turnover for the meeting was £29,513, compared with £26,716 last year, an increase of £2797.
