He claimed that France was now united. The more she was threatened, the greater she grew. Her strength had never been so necessary to herself and the world.

What, he asked, could England do if France disappeared? What could even the great America do? Nobody now believed that the isolation of France in Europe could assure her independence and the integrity of her empire. It only remained to restore the balance of power in Europe.

Great victories had been won in the past 14 months in the heart of Europe solely by the output of their adversaries' war factories. "We have seen whole countries descend silently into the tomb of history," he said. France, like her ally Britain, had decided on a great effort, which represented a trial of strength between the totalitarian regimes and France's regime and liberty.

M. Reynaud added that the Government had decided to increase the working week to 45 hours. Workers would not suffer, because overtime would be paid for the extra hours.

position was strong. France to-day had one of the sanest currencies in Europe. He referred to the immense reserves of the Bank of France, and announced that the gold reserves of the Stabilisation Fund were so large that it had been decided to transfer £23,000,000 from the fund to the Bank of France.

Industrial production had increased increased increased increased increased increased increased increased since November by 12 per cent.

The State would take from 5 to 80, even 100 per cent, of the profits of war industries, according to a scale drawn up.

The decrees include measures for the suppression of propaganda carried on by means of funds from abroad; measures for the feeding of the population in wartime; a cut in the wheat subsidy; income-tax changes; a 1 per cent sales tax; and reduction of Public Works schemes.

Experts estimate that the decrees Experts estimate that the decrees will bring France's extraordinary armaments expenditure for eight months to £439,000,000.

CHUNGKING, April 22. A Chinese military spokesman reiterates that China is maintaining her policy of luring the Japanese further inland, where their superior equipment is ineffective in the mountain-The defenders will then deliver a crushing blow. The spokesman denies a general counter-offensive though it is fully prepared and has actually begun. Attacks against the Japanese, however, have been launched on various fronts. The Chinese have captured 70 towns in 20 days, many being strategically valuable.

According to a Tokyo report the Japanese in Northern Mongolia claim that they are driving west and north after the capture of Anpeh, and are pursuing the fugitives into the mountains. The Japanese claim that they have completely shattered the Chinese April offensive, frustrating all attempts to capture key-points and killing 10,000. The British Ambassador to Tokyo (Sir Robert Craigie) called on the Japanese Foreign Minister (Mr Hachiro Arita) and expressed his satisfaction that British and Japanese relations in Shanghai had improved during the year, but he did not conceal his concern that there was no improvement in the treatment of British rights and interests in China.

"JEZEBEL" STARS BETTE DAVIS

Magnificent Acting In A Fine Film

"Jezebel," a colourful and exciting omantic drama of the South of J.S.A., is now showing at the Regent Theatre, Hastings.

Theatre, Hastings.

Bette Davis is co-starred with Henry Fonda, George Brent and Margaret Lindsay. Other noted and popular players in the cast include Fay Bainter, Donald Crisp, Richard Cromwell, Henry O'Neill, John Litel and Spring Byington. The picture was directed by William Wyler from a screen play by Abem Finkel and Clements Ripley.

Miss Davis, who won the Academy Award as the best actress in 1935, and again for her performance in "Jezebel," declares that this is the best picture part she has ever Lad, best picture part she has ever had, not excluding her great work as the clavey in "Of Human Bondage" with Leslie Howard.

She is a wilful, spoiled, tempestu-ous young Dixie belle who achieves the name of the wicked Biblical character Jezebel because she defies Southern tradition. She breaks learts with dashing unconcern. She mokes, she prefers juleps to sherry —in short she's a modern miss in an old-fashioned setting.

She sends away the man she loves because of a silly whim. Next she proceeds to break the heart and pirit of another dashing cavalier His life ends in a duel fought over When her former beau may ries another woman she exerts all her old charm to win him away from his wife. That is Jezebel. It is also the sort of acting in which Miss Davis excels.

She has two favourite suitors, one a conservative young banker, played by Mr. Fonda, and the other, a handsome young rake, portrayed by Mr.

The period is that of the great yellow fever scourge in New Orleans in the early 1850's. Costumes, settings, dialogue and all the other atmospheric conditions of the day are all faithfully reproduced. Previewers consider "Jezebel" outstanding entertainment.

There is an outstanding support-

JACKIE COOPER'S NEW SUCCESS

> "Gangster's Boy" Now Showing

Jackie Cooper, who scored such vorld-wide success in "Boy of the Streets," gives an even greater performance in "Gangster's Boy," which is now showing at the Plaza Theatre, Napier.

A stirring, dramatic story of the high school generation, "Gangster's Boy" is a vehicle perfectly suited to young Cooper's extraordinary talents. The plot concerns Larry Kelly, High School hero, leader of his class in scholarship and on the athletic field, whose lifetime ambition is to go to West time ambition is to go to West Point. Everything is set for Larry until his father, Tim "Knuckles" Kelly, one-time racketeer, "retires" and comes to Millford to live with his beloved wife and son.

Larry does not know of his father's past, but he finds out when the newspapers try to run Tim out of town. Larry's school friends turn against him all except Julie Davis, his "girl friend," and Bill Davis, her brother and Larry's best friend. These two stick by him in spite of their father's extreme displeasure. Larry gives his graduation address amidst the jeers of the crowd, and when his team mates finally rally round, he goes to the school dance. Driving Bill and Julie home, there is an accident, and Larry takes the blame for Bill, who was driving. He is thrown in gaol, charged with drunken driving, for a bottle has been found in his car. Things look black for Larry, who believes he cannot go to West Point believes he cannot go to West Point on account of his father, and that on account of his father, and that he must protect Bill so that he can go. A dramatic climax ensues as Judge Davis, upholder of the law, and Tim Kelly, opponent of the law, face each other across a courtroom, with a boy's honour at stake. Others outstanding in the cast of Gangster's Boy" are Robert Warvick who makes the most of his fine opportunity as Tim Kelly; Lucy Gil opportunity as Tim Kelly; Lucy Giral man who is excellent as Julie, Jackie's girl friend; Louise Lorimer-, New York stage star, who plays Jackie's mother; Tommy Wonder as Bill; Selmer Jackson as the severe Judge Davis; and Huntley Gordon as the kindly school principal Splendid supporting featurettes complete an outstanding programme. The plans are at Lockyer's (phone 526).

Mayfair

"IN OLD MEXICO" TO-DAY

With "Illegal Traffic" And Serial

The first "Hopalong Cassidy" story o continue the action of a former Cassidy" picture is "In Old Mexico," which is the attraction being finally screened to-night at the May fair Theatre, Napier.

fair Theatre, Napier.

Taking up the thread of the tale where the popular "Borderland" of a season ago left off, the picture tells what happens in the romantic Mexican ranch when "the Fox" breaks out of prison and swears revenge on "Hopalong Cassidy" and his friends, who put him there. Cast in the title role, of course, is filmdom's most popular outdoor hero, William Boyd, who rides again with his two traditional companions, George Hayes and Russell Hayden.

George Hayes and Russell Hayden. Western Mexico, land of vast ranches, beautiful senoritas and ranches, beautiful senoritas and fearless bandits, forms the romantic setting for this "Hopalong Cassidy" range drama. When "the Fox," es-capes from prison swearing revenge on a prominent ranching family and their friend from across the Rio Grande, "Hopalong Cassidy," he starts a feud which provides thrills.

A thrill-packed story written ground an amazing shakedown around an amazing shakedown racket—the transportation of fugi tives-from-justice across State and national borders for exorbitant sum national borders for exorbitant sums—is told in Paramount's "Illegal Traffic," the second attraction, with a fine cast of character players. J. Carrol Naish, playing the leader of a gangdom making its last stand, will be seen as the chief of a racket going on all over the nation to-day in spite of all the efforts of the Government to rout it. Naish meets his match in the person of Robert Preston, a slick G-man, who joins the gangsters as an aeroplane pilot and turns the tables on them in a smashing climax. As the title suggests, this picture is a fearless attack on the "getaway and shakedown racket."

LEST WE FORGET

What Kipling called the "heathen hearts that put their trust in reeking tube and iron shard" are seeking to-day to work their nefarious will upon a world that would fain be at peace. But to-morrow, when all classes of the community gather together in a common act of remembrance and seek to realise the tremendous price which was paid for such peace as we know, ample opportunity will be given to take thought for the times to come.

Those who in the days of crisis went with songs to battle, young, eager-eyed and aglow, are now in the process of qualifying for the ugly "burnt-out" description, and are mostly nearer fifty than forty. When they go on parade to-morrow, their step may lack the elasticity and swing of twenty years ago, but the spirit of comradeship pervading their ranks will be as strong as ever it was. Many of them-men and women alike-bear in their bodies the marks of the war beast's claws. They know what war is, what it does, what is may do. Those on the sidewalks should realise that those in the ranks of the processions have bitter memories of "men maimed and blinded, men against machines, flesh against iron, concrete, flame, and wire, men disembowelled by guns five miles away, men squelched into the slime by tramping feet, men choking out their souls in poison gas," as well as memories of "green days in forests and blue days at sea" when life went along like a song and lilting choruses whiled away the idle hours while friendships were cemented which the passing of the long years has done nothing to destroy.

Each Anzac Day that passes widens the gulf between those who know in all its mingled glory and bitterness what war means, and those who do not. As the gap widens and as the years are heaped upon shoulders already bent, the younger generation is in danger of regarding the Great War as an almost mythical event belonging to a former age, full of sound and fury but signifying not very much.

That lethargical and detached attitude must be fought with all the strength of which returned men are still capable. If the public has a duty to the men and women who risked all that they had and were in the grim days of war, the returned soldiers have likewise a duty to the people of their

None are more fully qualified to read the current overseas news with intelligence and understanding than those who "went through it" in the desperate days between 1914 and 1919. It is their duty, as it should be their privilege, to make it abundantly clear to all concerned in future wars that war is no "glimmering, glamourous game that men play, jesting, for their honour's sake—a kind of military tournament with just a hint of danger," but a cruel, grim, and remorseless orgy of blood and slaughter, filth and disease, horror and unspeakable wounds and suffering, in which the innocent suffer with the guilty and the ultimate gain for anyone is a mythical quantity.

The glories of Anzac Day and the memories of what our men did on the bare slopes of Gallipoli, on the burning sands of the desert, and in the hell of the sodden trenches in France and elsewhere, are precious possessions. But they relate to history and they should never be renewed again on the earth.

At the present time the will to peace is a purely British phenomenon in the world, so far as actual preparations for its maintenance are concerned. It may happen in some shallow minds that such activities as the increase of armaments and protests against unwarranted aggression may be men who died, while at the same time the world is seething with rumours of wars and armaments are piled up on a greater scale than ever before in human history. We may mourn our dead, but at the same time be thankful that they taught the world the meaning of war and led men's thoughts to seeking ways of peace. Tears may be ours, but proud, for those who won Death's royal purple in the foeman's lines.

SHEEP-FARMERS' PLIGHT IS AGAIN EMPHASISED

Special Committee Urges That Exchange Rate Be Freed From Present Level

By Telegraph-Press Association. WELLINGTON, April 23.

A sub-committee of the Primary and Ancillary Producers' Association, consisting of representatives of the New Zealand Farmers' Union and the Sheepowners' Union, met and further considered the situation of the sheep-farmer. The position of sheepfarmers was stated to be deteriorating with such rapidity that unless prompt and determined steps were taken to deal with the position a great number of farmers would be forced off their farms. A comprehensive report drawn up by a special sub-committee was considered and adopted unanimously.

The report may be summarised as follows:

"Subsidies Impracticable" (5) Direct subsidies on wages rates and taxes, or prices from the Government, or from consumers, by guaranteed prices or otherwise, appear equally impracticable. The money would be hard to get, control schemes might be imposed and the higher costs would largely be passed on to the farmers.

(6) Since the community as

The report may be summarised as follows:

(1) The present position and prospects of farming are worse than for many years past. Production is already declining, and is tending to decline further. Unless the position is improved production will fall further, and the effects on the Dominion may be disastrous.

(2) The chief cause of the farmers' difficulties is the disparity between costs and prices. General costs are determined largely by wages throughout the industry as a whole, and by the taxation. Both have risen out of all proportion to the rise in export prices, out of which farm costs must be paid.

(3) These difficulties can be solved only by lower costs or higher prices, or both, hence the possibilities of both must be examined.

(4) Cost reduction on the scale required cannot at present be regarded as practicable, and even temporary palliatives in the shape of minor cost reductions would be difficult to secure and ineffectual if secured.

"Subsidies Impracticable"

(5) Direct subsidies on weeks. The rise in rate would not only benefit the farmers but would remove the necessity for import licensing. It might attract back some exported capital and so replenish sterling funds. A rate free to rise or fall as conditions demanded would do more to restore the general economic balance, from the loss of which the farmers and general community are suffering.

community are suffering.

(8) This would also enable a price to be paid to the dairy industry sufficient to meet their costs of production, determined by committees which have investigated it. It is recognised that if the course rol schemes might be imposed and he higher costs would largely be lassed on to the farmers.

(6) Since the community as a roll of the community as a roll of the guaranteed price for dairy produce would need to be made.

Elderly Visitor Injured

An elderly man, Mr Patrick Woulfe, aged 70 years, of Wellington, was admitted to the Napier Public Hospital on Saturday afternoon, suffering from a broken left wrist. Mr Woulfe was staying with friends in Hastings and, it is understood that he fell down some steps, breaking his wrist in falling.

Footballer's SOS

When his shorts and jersey threatened to part company, a player in the Hastings versus Pirates senior Rugby fixture at McLean Park on Saturday sent out a lusty appeal for help. A prompt response was forthcoming in the shape of a scout belt which just met round the stalwart's waist and it was noticeable that even the most exciting passages throughout the remainder of the game failed to tempt the youthful donor from the safety of his seat.

It is mentioned in "New Zealand Centennial News" that some time ago a reviewer sub-mitted the following notion for folk who were discussing centennial memorials: "Will the memorial be inspirational in the view of local folk as well as visitors from other parts of New Zealand and countries overseas? Will it create an impression that the planners looked forward as that the planners looked forward as well as backward? Will it help in making a national sense of country? Day Services In The Dominion

TRIBUTES TO THE FALLEN

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, April 23.

The following statement, in the form of an Anzac Day message to the people of New Zealand, signed by men prominently known for their services during the Great War and since then on behalf of returned soldiers, was issued in Wellington to-night.

"On Tuesday we honour the memory of those who gave their lives in a gallant and glorious enterprise which united the manhood of Australia and New Zealand under the name of 'Anzac.'

"They died in a belief in the triumph of a just cause and in the hope of an enduring peace for those who remained; yet twenty-one years after the Armistice, the threat of war once more hangs menacingly over the world and differences of greater or less moment are continually arising between the nations. "We feel that the time has come for much more than a ceremonial annual remembrance of their sacrifice. However excellent a thing it is that our people should so honour their war dead, we are convinced that something greater—some personal sacrifice—is demanded of us to-day.

IMPORT LICENCE BASIS FOR SECOND HALF OF 1939

Mr Nash Reviews Results Of The Restrictions: Hopes For Early Relief

By Telegraph-Press Association.

WELLINGTON, April 22.

Details regarding the basis on which licences are to be issued in respect of imports during the second half of this year were announced by the Minister of Customs (the Hon. W. Nash) to-day.

"The indications are that there will be some contraction in the return from exports this year compared with 1938," explained Mr Nash. "The funds that did accrue from exports last year were insufficient by a considerable margin to cover the cost of imports in 1938, after providing for debt services and other charges accruing overseas.

"In the circumstances, it was unavoidable that the imports should be reduced and the Government has taken the course by means of which it can best control the situation.'

With the abnormal reduction of sterling funds it was necessary to institute a system of imports selection in order that preference should be given for the essential goods necessary for the development of the Dominion, and, next to the restriction of the import of unnecessary or non-essential goods. Reductions to save exchange should be made in the import of these goods which could be produced or manufactured in the Dominion.

The effect of the last mentioned is the stafficient supplies would be available to meet the needs of the community.

Mr. Nash added that it was recognised that as a result of the measures now being applied some reorganisation would be necessary in certain instances. In view of the difficulties that would have been created by such action it was felt unwise to publish the details of reductions applied to imports during the first half of the present year.

could be produced or manufactured in the Dominion.

The effect of the last-mentioned restriction had resulted in an extension of the Government's policy of developing suitable industries within the Dominion. Although reductions had been applied to the imports of a number of classes of goods during the first half of the year, certain factors operated which tended to offset those reductions, insofar as the total volume of imports was concerned.

Large Orders.

Mr. Nash, continuing, said that experience had shown that very large quantities of goods were on order prior to the control being effected and indications were that under normal circumstances the imports for the first half of this year would probably have exceeded those for the corresponding period in 1938.

All goods ordered prior to December 6 last were admitted provided the quantities were not abnormal, and, in addition, it was necessary to provide for additional imports of was required to meet debt and other to provide for additional imports of was required to meet debt and other that will be fully aware of the position, the Government had decided to make the details of the present measures available.

The Minister here includes the list of the percentage of reductions of tariff items for the second period of 1939. It occupies 16 type-written foolscap pages.

Necessarily, the whole position would have required to be reviewed later in the year, said Mr. Nash, and it was hoped that considerable relaxation would be possible in respect of next year's imports. He continued that while the depletion of sterling funds was due to capital transfers which had occurred during the later months of last year, in the present requests, and in order that imported to be reviewed later in the year, said Mr. Nash, and it was hoped that considerable relaxation would be possible in respect of next year's imports.

Referring to the Government's policy of respecting the development of New Zealand's industries, the Minister said that the Government would make every endeavour to en sure that manufacturers could ob tain all raw materials necessary for industries.

Over-importation.

It was important that over-importation should be avoided, as this would only have the effect of accentuating the difficulties in regard to overseas funds. "The announcement of the restrictions in imports of motor vehicles came as a great surprise, because negotiations are at present proceed. ing with the Government on the subject," said the New Zealand rep-subject," said the New Zealand representative of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders Ltd. (London), (Mr. A. W. Hawley).

"If the restriction as it appears in the published schedules is carried out," he said, "several well-known makers of British cars will disappear from the market. There will be a serious loss to British export trade and a consequent decrease in the assembly business in New Zealand."

The British motor industry, however, is still hopeful that the published restrictions will be modified in some way.

"The restrictions are more drastic than could possibly have been anticipated," said the secretary of the New Zealand Importers Federation (Mr Russell).
"Looking over the published schedule, the number of lines prohibited one hundred per cent. strikes one very forcibly," he added.

"As a result of the import restriction for the second period, there is a call to manufacturing industries by the people of this Dominion," said the secretary of the New Zealand Manufacturers' Federation (Mr. Rocke O'Shea). "A duty is laid on the manufacturers to see that their plant and general organisation are

"From a preliminary consideration of the new schedule of import restrictions it appears as if there is to be total prohibition of many lines from the United Kingdom," said the secretary of the United Kingdom Manufacturers' and New Zealand representatives (Mr. Russell). The restrictions were more severe than had been anticipated, he said, and a general meeting of association members would be held early this week to decide on a course of action.

After a gruelling match in which the issue was always open, Pirates were successful in holding Hastings to an 11point draw in one of the two senior grade Rugby football games played at McLean Park, Napier, on Saturday afternoon. In the other contest, Marist Brothers' Old Boys beat Napier High School Old Boys by the wide margin of 17 points to nil, although the total in this match was not a clear indication of the express of the play. indication of the evenness of the play.

The heavy fall of rain on Friday and Saturday tended to make the surface of the Napier playing fields slippery and treacherous. The ball was not easy to handle, and the success of the various teams depended to a large extent on their ability to control the leather with their feet. As a consequence, many splendid dribbling rushes were witnessed. Despite the inclemency of the weather, there was a large gallery of spectators at both McLean and Nelson Parks.

12 POINTS TO 9

Celtic beat Technical Old Boys by 12 points to 9 in a great game of Rugby at Nelson Park, Hastings, on No. 1 ground.

on No. 1 ground.

Played at a rattling pace from beginning to end Celtic thoroughly deserved their win. The forwards were evenly matched, and both teams were throwing the ball about with pleasing abandon. In the backs Celtic were superior, and a feature of the game was the fine solo try scored by Fox, who took the ball in his own twenty-five and ran through the whole Technical team to score beneath the posts. It was a clever effort.

Both sides were hooking the ball, and Technical were in an attacking position when their forwards, headed by Dallimore, broke through the Celtic defence with the ball at their toes, carrying it almost to the stoutly defended Celtic line. A scrum went down. Technical heeled it back smartly, but Younghusband fumbled at a critical moment getting the ball away, and Wright was ting the ball away, and Wright was caught in possession by the fast breaking Green forwards, and Celtic supporters breathed again.

The game settled into an exciting match with both sides playing keen Rugby. Technical hopes rose when Thomas took a free kick from ten yards inside the Celtic twenty-five, but the ball was wide. However the Grey forwards were going well added another 3 points to Tech's and Technical were soon menacing tally, giving them the lead once the Celtic goal-line with a promising forward rush, but some of the Technical men were over-eager and a forward pass resulted. Terriforially honours were even up to this stage. Both sets of forwards were displaying pleasing dash and sparkle. McCarthy, Ross and Maaka were prominent for Celtic, while Dallimore was a toiler in the Technical pack, and followed up regularly in the loose rushes. In the backs Celtic's Reid-Fox combination was always dangerous and ation was always dangerous and was a thorn in the Technical side.

Celtic played on this, and used their backs on all occasions. Technical drew level when thomas kicked a good penalty goal making the score: Celtic 3, Technical 3.

When Thomas took a free kick from a few yards inside the Celtic twenty-five on the grandstand side, Technical were ahead 6—3.

Each team was now all out to secure the lead, when Celtic were awarded a penalty kick for obstruction on the twenty-five. Fox took the kick, but it missed and the forward world a havily in the Technical wards rucked heavily in the Technical twenty-five. The ball came out to Collins who deftly shot a clever and sudden field goal.

In the first half the game was dull, and it seemed obvious that M.A.C. would have no trouble with the Villagers. It was faulty reasoning however. Clapping on the speed shortly after the oranges, Havelock shortly after the oranges, havelock played a bustling tireless game against a pack which heavily out-weighed them. In the backs they were superior, but because of their lack of weight in the scrum the backs never had sufficient of the ball for concerted movements. They were not slow to seize opportunity, however, and R. Stanford gave a particularly capable display as 1st five oighths. five-eighths.

The Maoris were playing with their usual bustling tactics, but their backline still showed lack of cohe-sion, and could have made more of its opportunities despite the resolute Havelock defence.

Taking the ball almost on to the Old was telling however, and was crack-ing the Village scrum. Despite the fact that the Havelock men were putting up a solid defence; at this stage there was no stopping the Maoris' loose rushes, and Jury Thompson scored the second try. S. Jackson converted.

M.A.C. 11, Havelock 3. Havelock were still bending to the M.A.C. attack, but play was keen. The Maoris were on the way to an apparent runaway win when Hi-mona drew his man nicely in a dash-ing run to send on to Watene. The latter scored, but Jackson's kick

Marist had two opportunities to open their account from penalty kicks and N.H.S.O.B. had one chance during the first half, but all three endeovours failed miserably. Consistently good tackling on both sides covered up the many cases of careless handling.

Solid Play Marks The Match THREE GOALS KICKED

Solid play, resulting in numerous njuries, two of them necessitating eplacements, marked the game between Hastings and Pirates on No. 2 ground, McLean Park, Napier, at 2.45 p.m. on Saturday, the contest ending in an 11-point draw.

Within a few minutes of the start Frazer stopped a kick in the head during a Hastings attack and left the field to be replaced by Thompson.

Shortly afterwards Pirates were penalised for a scrum-infringement and Dyer goaled from a handy position on the 25-yard line to give Hastings an early lead.

Anniversary Of Calamity TORRENTIAL DOWNPOUR LAST NIGHT

Business Premises Threatened

With startling suddenness a torrential downpour of rain, reminiscent of that experienced with such disastrous results just 12 months ago to-day, dropped from the skies and inundated the lower lying areas of Napier's business section and surrounding district. So quick was the rise of water in the streets that considerable concern was shown by residents lest they should witness a repetition of last year's calamity. Within the space of half an hour, Dalton Street, from the Dickens Street intersection to the Emerson Street intersection was an unbroken sheet of water, reaching in places to a depth of two or three feet. Motor vehicles were reduced to walking pace as they churned through the watery expanse. It was impossible for pedestrians to use the street or footpath.

Similar conditions prevailed for a considerable distance down Dickens Street and Emerson Street. It was not long before the first traces of water began to seep into business premises. The State Theatre appeared to suffer most there being at one stage several inches of water covering the entrance to the foyer. According to a statement made by an official of the Hawke's Bay Automobile Association last night, road conditions in the district have not yet been greatly affected by the rain. The Taupo Road was sticky as far as Te Pohue, while there were also rough patches on the Titiokoura and Turangakumu hills. However, once on the plains, the highway is in first-class order. The Wairoa road was inclined to be greasy as far as Tutira, but the northern portion of the highway was in danger till Mapuhi gained 40 yards with a line kick. Chrysanthemum Display

The Greenmeadows Hall was the setting on Saturday for the 8th annual Chrysanthemum, Horticultural and Industrial Show, organised and controlled by the Flower Show Committee of the Greenmeadows Progressive Society.

The show was a great success from all angles and much credit for this must be given to the committee and show secretaries. The entries were large, just on 700 being received over all the sections, this being an improvement of over 200 entries on last season, which, however, had been marred by the heavy flooding which ruined the blooms of many exhibi-

The chrysanthemums in this year's show were of a very high standard and the long tables of entries, running the length of the hall made a beautiful picture. Other sections, especially the vegetables, were well patronised also, giving some idea of the wealth of produce grown in the Taradale-Greenmeadows district, and also showing what can be grown by keep gardeners despite the years day conditions are received. by keen gardeners despite the very dry conditions experienced lately.

The champion chrysanthemum bloom was a "Miss Hilda Veal," grown and shown by Mr. W. A. Keong, of Haumoana. This bloom was of a very high order, being practically perfect in all requirements.

The show was officially opened by Mr. J. Williamson, chairman of the Taradale Town Board, who congratulated the Show Committee on their fine endeavours and results.

WAIPUKURAU. Repeating the success of the gathering at Waipawa the previous week, the Girls' Inter-house Carnival held at Russell Park, Waipukurau, on Saturday proved a most enjoyable entertainment. Although the weather was not on its best behaviour, being dull and threatening, both afternoon and evening sessions were well attended. The Central Hawke's Bay Athletic and Cycling Club, which was in charge of the arrangements, is to be complimented on the excellence of its organisation and this newly-formed body should benefit financially from its un-

CAR OVERTURNS

Accident When Closing Door

SPORTS TEAM MEMBER

"Daily Mail" Special Service WAIPUKURAU. Serious chest injuries were received by Miss Rita Limbrick, of Waipawa, on Saturday afternoon, as result of a motor accident. Miss Limbrick, with three passengers, Misses B. Cable, R. Drenean and P. Wynn, was travelling to Waipukurau to take part in the Girls' Inter-house Carnival. When approaching the overhead bridge at about 1.30 p.m., Miss Limbrick, who was the driver of the car, noticed that the door nearest her was not properly closed. She opened it properly closed. She opened it slightly with the intention of closing it securely, but apparently the wind caught it and swung it out-

Probably the driver involuntarily turned the steering-wheel, for the car swerved off the road and over-

Dr. C. Raymond and conveyed by ambulance to the Waipukurau Hospital. Her condition last night was reported to be satisfactory. Miss Limbrick was attended by reported to be satisfactory.

Of the other occupants, Miss Cable sustained an injured eye and leg and Misses Wynn and Drenean bruises and shock. The accident led to the withdrawal of Limbrick Bros.' team from the contest, and somewhat marred the

came to an end when the Wairarapa Racing Club gave their permission for the camp to be held on their premises. At Tauherenikau there is everything that a guide camper could wish for. It is far from the crowd of the towns, and yet easy to get at. It is well known for its naget at. It is well known for its native bush, and fine old native trees.

Invitations to the camp have been ssued to all those countries belongng to the World Association. From Australia, many beyond the two of-ficial visitors, will be present. These visitors intend to make their own arrangements as the camp is limited to 600. Sweden, Denmark, and Norway hope to send a representative, but are not yet quite certain. Hungary, Suomi-Finland, and Lithuania fear that they will be unable to accept the invitation owing to the distance and huge expenses of the journey. Canada, U.S.A., and Great Pritain will each send two guides if Britain will each send two guides if possible. Replies from Czechoslovakia and other countries have not vet been received.

New Zealand guides attending camp will require the following qualifications. A guide must be 12 years of age, or over, by January 1, 1940. She must be a second class 1, 1940. SATURDAY NIGHT DANCE

A Large Gathering

LAURI PADDI AND HIS BAND

Programme of Swing Music

A very successful dance was held at the Oddfellows Hall on Saturday night when Lauri Paddi and his band, late of the Majestic Lounge, Wellington, and of the Peter Pan Cabaret, Auckland, arrived from Napier to conclude their tour of the Dominion. It is a long time since the people of Hastings have had the privilege of hearing such a magnificent dance band which consisted of the following players—Messrs Lauri Paddi, Roy Lester, Phil and George Campbell, Wally Ranson, Monty Howard and Miss Amy James (vocalist).

The programme featured such

AN INTERNATIONAL GUIDE CAMP

Preparations For The

For a considerable time there has been much activity in the Guide World in New Zealand, in preparaion for the International Guide Camp, which is to be held in connection with the Centennial Celebrations on the property of the Wairarapa Racing Club at Tauhereni-

The open country is typical sheep-farming land, while the distant hills and the river present a wide scene for tramping and exploring. Here in these lovely surroundings, the guides will pitch their tents for the Centennial Camp in 1940.

Her Excellency, the Viscountess Governor-General, will take the salute at the march past.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced of Olive Christie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Ellingham, Takapau, Hawke's Bay, and George Stewart, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Robinson, Ngatia, Hauraki Plains.

In every 12/6 spent on Cough Mixtures, ten shillings go for water and bottles. Save this by buying a 2/6 bottle of concentrated "HEENZO" (all Chemists and Stores), and making your own Cough Mixture. Quite simple. Just add sweetened water and vinegar, and you make a full pint. "HEENZO" is unrivalled for ALL Coughs and Colds. In addition. "HEENZO" is an efficient Nasal Antiseptic for Catarrh, and a splendid garzle for Sore Throats. Robinson, Ngatia, Hauraki Plains.

Although only four lined up for the Patea County Handicap, a wonderful finish was provided, the judge being unable to separate Mataroa and Silvanus, while the Hawke's Bay representative Hunting Cat was but a short neck away.

As at Stratford, Silvanus made all the running and set a good pace through the straight and to the six furlongs, where she was four lengths clear of Student Prince and Hunting Cat together, Mataroa being a couple of lengths back. The field closed up at the half mile and when they straightened up there was less than a length between the four.

Student Prince was the first to throw in the towel and Mataroa immediately issued a strong challenge to the pacemaker, who had run out from the fence, letting Hunting Cat

Mataroa looked all over a winner a hundred yards from home, but Silvanus became balanced again and finished dog-gedly to join him as they flashed past the post.

Sporting Song Impresses.

Having his first race of the season Sporting Song once more showed that he is a hard horse to beat first time up by scoring impressively in the Waverley Steeplechase, a race marked by good jumping throughout. Tommy Tito rode good race on the winner and thus completed the jumping double.

Sporting Song was in the middle of the field until a mile from home where he moved up gradually to take second position behind Don Erma, who had been left in front when Highball's rider lost an iron and that horse ran off at the second of the double.

Sporting Song ran through to the front at the half mile and, though Lactose came up well from the rear to make a race of it, he was never in danger of defeat from that stage.

Standing up the tear-away pace makers Fiancee and Dark Eagle about eight lengths as they swung into the straight, the farm-trained Windsor Chief came with a brilliant run over the last two furlongs to win the Hack Cup going away from Dark Eagle and Fiancee. It was an impressive performance and Windsor Chief, who received a great ovation, returned his supporters a double-figure dividend.

Fiancee hit the front from the barrier rise and down the back she was four lengths ahead of Dark Eagle, who was a similar distance ahead of Eurotas, with a break of eight lengths to Disturbed and Ama-Carmody, who was always in the first four with Hokumai, was a fair third from the favourite Gitana Lass, who was slow away and had

THE RACING IN DETAIL

Small Totalisator Decline

There was a large attendance for the Waverley Racing Club's autumn meeting on Saturday, and the track was in good order, though a little dead after the rain earlier in the week. The weather was fine, but there was a cold wind. The totalisa-tor showed a small decline of £739 on last year, the turnover for the day being £11,743.

An inquiry was held into the interference with Hunting Lore by Lady Boden in the Kohi Highweight. The stewards found S. R. Farland guilty of careless riding and suspended him for one month. The results are:
