Lack of Enterprise on Part of Selector: Many "Veterans"

Three Hawke's Bay forwards, D. Dalton (Technical Old Boys), A. W. Bowman (Technical Old Boys) and Everard Jackson (M.A.C.), are included in the All Black team to tour Australia in the next two months. They have thoroughly earned their selection, which will gratify the Rugby enthusiasts of Hawke's Bay. The team, taken as a whole, however, is a disappointing selection. It has shown a tendency on the part of the selector to "play safe" and to try and redeem the Rugby reputation of New Zealand, so put to shame by the Springboks, by the retention of players who were not good enough to hold this reputation.

Weak Three-quarters

New Zealand must be weak in its three-quarters play to have to fall back on men who the South Africans so completely outclassed last season. For this reason the selection of all the three-quarters, with the possible exception of Mitchell, will be a great disappointment to most enthusiasts. The five-eighths may be described as a motley lot for All Blacks. Berghan (Otago), if he plays up to the standard revealed in the North v. South Island match, will be invaluable, and his brains and opportunism will be welcomed. Sullivan had a great reputation last season and he will also make a good attacking man.

Motley Five-eighths

In the choice of the other two five-eighths, however, is revealed either a lack of enterprise on the part of the selector, or another severe weakness in Dominion Rugby. J. L. Griffiths (Wellington) is, of course, a dependable and solid man, but there must be some younger player in New Zealand who is at least worth a try. Hooper (Canterbury) is another surprise, and his selection further bears out the contention that the selector, sooner than experiment, was inclined to fall back on reputations of last season.

Nobody will quibble with the selection of K. Saxton as half-back, as he has earned his place thoroughly, and the selection of Tindill (Wellington) as second string behind the scrum is justified.

Old Forwards

In the forwards, the selector's tendency to restriction rather than enterprise is shown in many cases. The selection of Lambourn (Wellington) as one of the front row men will meet with almost universal disapproval in football circles. His hooking against the Springboks was not at all impressive. C. E. Quaid (Otago), who has formerly represented both Wellington and Canterbury, is another man who has seen the best part of his football days, while Wynyard is not worth a place in an All Black team. The selection of A. A. Parkhill is also another restraint to the progress of younger players.

No Enterprise

Sympathy must be expressed with the selector, as there is no doubt, that as far as players are concerned, the Dominion is at present at the bottom of a cycle. It must be stated, however, that he has not shown daring in his selection and has stuck to the policy of trying to retain or maintain New Zealand's Rugby reputation, instead of experimenting with younger players and endeavouring to regain a high standard in the sport in this country.

It would not matter if a younger team were sent to Australia and suffered many defeats. This would be an experiment at least worth while. As it is, the Australians can look forward, with little or no trepidation, to the visit of the selected All Black team.

"IT MAY BE JUST YOUR FULL MONEY'S WORTH OR IT MAY BE A DISCOUNT ORDER OF 250—MORE OR LESS—BUT IT IS A SOUND SHOPPING INVESTMENT AND GOOD FUN."—This is the substantiated story of this street-seller of "shilling gift envelopes"—all part of the Hastings "Shopping Week Drive" taking place this week. The programme for the week, which is to celebrate the change from the Thursday to the Saturday half-holiday, is extensive, and the special functions yesterday brought hundreds to throng the streets of the town.

British War Minister Says Personnel Of Forces Has Been Doubled In Year

British Official Wireless.
(Received June 15, 8 p.m.)
RUGBY, June 14.

In House of Commons answers on anti-aircraft defence, the Secretary of War (Mr L. Hore-Belisha) intimated that the Government had decided to give full and effective priority to the production of anti-aircraft guns of a modern type.

Mr Hore-Belisha forecast an early announcement of the details of the reorganisation now in progress to ensure that full and undivided attention was given to every aspect and detail of anti-aircraft defence in view of its special importance in relation to general military requirements.

Reorganisation was also necessitated by the great expansion in personnel. With reference to the latter, Mr Hore-Belisha observed that recruiting for the anti-aircraft divisions was proceeding with such remarkable speed that the first division, which a year ago numbered 10,000, was now 20,000, and the second division, which was 9943 a year ago, was now nearly 19,000.

RASH SPEECH BY DE VALERA'S LIEUTENANT

"Whipped John Bull" Attitude Causes Great Harm To Government Cause

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received June 15, 11 p.m.)
LONDON, June 15.

It is at present impossible to forecast the result of the Eire general election on Friday, says the Dublin correspondent of "The Times."

The whole situation has been altered in the past week by a speech by Mr S. T. O'Kelly, vice-president, and Mr de Valera's principal lieutenant. Mr O'Kelly boasted that the Eire Government had "whipped John Bull" in the recent negotiations and with God's help it would whip him again.

Mr de Valera and most of his colleagues have given full credit to his Majesty's Government for the sympathy and consideration shown to the Irish delegates at the London conferences, and Mr O'Kelly's speech, which Mr de Valera has not yet repudiated despite appeals from representative Conservative opinion, has enormously harmed the Government cause.

Mr de Valera hopes to win five or six seats at the expense of Mr W. T. Cosgrave's party. A week ago the task seemed easy, but the general opinion is now that the Government will just scrape through.

Twenty-six of the finest units of the French Navy, led by the battleship Dunkerque will meet the Admiralty yacht Enchantress half-way across the Channel when the King and Queen go to France on June 28, says the Paris correspondent of the London "Daily Telegraph."

ANONYMOUS LETTERS FROM U.S.A.

United Press Association—Copyright.
LONDON, June 15.

Anonymous letters from America declaring that Bruno Hauptmann, who was executed for the murder of the Lindbergh baby, was innocent and threatening Colonel Lindbergh, who, the writers hold, was responsible for the execution of Hauptmann, sent French detectives racing to St. Gildas, says the Paris correspondent of the "Daily Herald". The detectives are patrolling the coast on foot and in motor-boats. Nobody is permitted to land without permission.

DISAPPEARED MYSTERIOUSLY

CANDELABRUM'S HISTORY GIFT TO CHURCH

Link With Canterbury Province

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received June 15, 11 p.m.)
LONDON, June 15.

Lord Kilbracken, a descendant of John Robert Godley, founder of the New Zealand province of Canterbury, in a letter to "The Times" on the announcement of Lord Bledisloe's gift to St. Lawrence Jewry, says:

"It might suggest that a member of my family, flagrantly disregarding the sentimental considerations, sold the candelabrum which Lord Bledisloe subsequently purchased. "Godley, my grandfather, died in 1861. My grandmother carefully preserved the candelabrum until she died in 1907. It then came into the possession of my father, who was never even approximately in the position of having to sell his effects. Certainly he would not have sold the candelabrum. "Nevertheless, when he died in 1932 the candelabrum was mysteriously missing. While I do not suggest that Lord Bledisloe did not come into possession of the candelabrum legitimately, I hope that when he returns from Rhodesia he will help to clear up the mystery."

"Hawaii Calls" Has Many Attractions

Hawaiian music and scenery and the attractive voice of Bobby Breen are the principal features of "Hawaii Calls," which is having its Hastings season at the State Theatre.

Bobby has never before been so happily cast. He appears as a former San Francisco bootblack who joins his little Hawaiian newsboy friend in a trip to Honolulu, as a stowaway. The young star is completely natural and boy-like, and gives by far the finest performance of his career. An especially enjoyable feature of the picture is Bobby's singing of a number of songs and the youngster fully justifies his reputation as the possessor of the screen's sweetest juvenile voice.

Comedian Ned Sparks, in the most important supporting role, is delightful as the ship's musician who befriends the boys, and Irvin S. Cobb makes a little gem of his role as a gruff, kindly sea captain. Warren Hull and Gloria Holden are outstanding as a married couple, and six-year-old Juanita Quigley proves herself a clever little actress as their daughter. Mamo Clark makes an attractive native girl, while other Hawaiian players who do good work are Pua Lani and Birdie De Bolt.

"Paradise For Two" Now Showing

The highly amusing story of "Paradise For Two," which is now showing at the State Theatre, Napier, features Jack Hulbert in the part of a millionaire banker who is mistaken for a newspaper reporter and backs the show in which Patricia Ellis is given the leading role.

The riotously funny story deals with a sanctimonious young millionaire who becomes innocently linked in romance with a chorus girl. Intrigued with the idea, he decides to play a game of his own and pretends to be a newspaper reporter covering the rumoured romance. He discovers that the girl is playing a hoax on the theatrical manager and proceeds without revealing his identity, to aid her in the deception.

The result is greatly bewildering to the girl and her associates, but highly amusing to the audience.

Four catchy new songs are featured by the principals and a number of colourful dancing sequences make it entertainment of outstanding merit.

The first of the four songs specially composed for the film is the theme tune, "Paradise for Two," and is sung by Miss Ellis and Jack Hulbert. Then there is "Kiss Me Goodnight," sung by Patricia Ellis and Jack Hulbert, who appear in one of the big stage scenes. "When You Hear Music" is danced and sung by Patricia Ellis and Jack Hulbert together, while "March in Springtime" is the number to which the entire stage company dance.

Thornton Freeland, who directed "Whoopie" and "Flying Down to Rio" among other outstanding screen musical hits, handled "Paradise for Two," which is being released through United Artists.

Three established stage players win new honours on the screen in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's mystery picture, "London By Night," which will be screened again to-night at the Cosy Theatre, Hastings.

George Murphy, former Broadway dancer, more recently in pictures, has his first dramatic role and proves his ability without question. Rita Johnson, likewise a product of the theatre, who starred in George M. Cohan's "Fulton of Oak Falls" and other plays, makes her screen debut in the feminine lead and assures her career in Hollywood.

Leo G. Carroll, also a former stage actor, appears in a role of mystery and promises to become a make-up wizard of the Lon Chaney school. Others in the cast are uniformly good in their respective parts. They include Virginia Hill, George Zucco, Montagu Love and Eddie Quillan.

"London By Night" was adapted from the stage success, "The Umbrella Man," by Will Scott and served as the first directorial vehicle for William Thiele, noted Continental director who discovered Lilian Harvey, Lili Dagover and others. He is under contract to M-G-M and his first effort indicates that he will join the ranks of the foremost directors there.

The story is played in London in an atmosphere of fog and crime mystery. Murphy appears as a young and determined reporter who solves a series of mysteries that baffle even Scotland Yard. Miss Johnson, as the daughter of a wealthy man who is involved in the plot, reveals the scope of artistry that made her a success on the stage.

"Paradise For Two" Now Showing

The riotously funny story deals with a sanctimonious young millionaire who becomes innocently linked in romance with a chorus girl. Intrigued with the idea, he decides to play a game of his own and pretends to be a newspaper reporter covering the rumoured romance. He discovers that the girl is playing a hoax on the theatrical manager and proceeds without revealing his identity, to aid her in the deception.

The result is greatly bewildering to the girl and her associates, but highly amusing to the audience.

Four catchy new songs are featured by the principals and a number of colourful dancing sequences make it entertainment of outstanding merit.

The first of the four songs specially composed for the film is the theme tune, "Paradise for Two," and is sung by Miss Ellis and Jack Hulbert. Then there is "Kiss Me Goodnight," sung by Patricia Ellis and Jack Hulbert, who appear in one of the big stage scenes. "When You Hear Music" is danced and sung by Patricia Ellis and Jack Hulbert together, while "March in Springtime" is the number to which the entire stage company dance.

Thornton Freeland, who directed "Whoopie" and "Flying Down to Rio" among other outstanding screen musical hits, handled "Paradise for Two," which is being released through United Artists.

Switzerland's Neutrality

LEAGUE COVENANT

Memorandum from Swiss Government

POSITION DISCUSSED

The Secretary General of the League of Nations has received from the Swiss Government the memorandum referred to in M. Motia's letter of April 20 in which he asked that the neutrality of Switzerland within the framework of the League should be placed on the provisional agenda of the session of the League Council which began last month.

The memorandum says that the Swiss Federal Council—that is, the Government—supported by the overwhelming majority of the two Houses of the Federal Parliament and of the people of Switzerland, asks the Council for a declaration that the traditional neutrality of the Swiss Confederation is consistent with the provisions of the Covenant.

The most important reasons given in the memorandum for this request are as follows:—

1. Circumstances have greatly changed since Switzerland joined the League. Some of the most important clauses of the Covenant have not been enforced. The system of sanctions has not operated in every case. Competition in armaments has been resumed on a larger scale than ever. Instead of becoming universal the League has lost the participation of some important countries. The United States did not see their way to join, and four great countries, two of them Switzerland's neighbours, have withdrawn.

2. Such a state of affairs could not but affect the position of a perpetually neutral country. Owing to her unique situation Switzerland cannot accept a system of optional sanctions. Her neutrality cannot be allowed to depend upon circumstances. It has been established once for all. Its strength is in its clear definition and its permanent character. At the present day the distinction between military and economic sanctions would prove illusory so far as Switzerland was concerned. If she resorted to economic pressure she would be in grave danger of being treated exactly as if she had taken military action.

LONDON AND ITS MYSTERIES
George Murphy and Rita Johnson

Three established stage players win new honours on the screen in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's mystery picture, "London By Night," which will be screened again to-night at the Cosy Theatre, Hastings.

George Murphy, former Broadway dancer, more recently in pictures, has his first dramatic role and proves his ability without question. Rita Johnson, likewise a product of the theatre, who starred in George M. Cohan's "Fulton of Oak Falls" and other plays, makes her screen debut in the feminine lead and assures her career in Hollywood.

Leo G. Carroll, also a former stage actor, appears in a role of mystery and promises to become a make-up wizard of the Lon Chaney school. Others in the cast are uniformly good in their respective parts. They include Virginia Hill, George Zucco, Montagu Love and Eddie Quillan.

"London By Night" was adapted from the stage success, "The Umbrella Man," by Will Scott and served as the first directorial vehicle for William Thiele, noted Continental director who discovered Lilian Harvey, Lili Dagover and others. He is under contract to M-G-M and his first effort indicates that he will join the ranks of the foremost directors there.

The story is played in London in an atmosphere of fog and crime mystery. Murphy appears as a young and determined reporter who solves a series of mysteries that baffle even Scotland Yard. Miss Johnson, as the daughter of a wealthy man who is involved in the plot, reveals the scope of artistry that made her a success on the stage.

And What to Do With Those Walls?

Cupboards Are the Housewife's Boon for Several Reasons

What do we have walls for? The outside walls of a house are no longer for fortifications against the weather. They are there to insulate heat, light and sound. Heat we try to keep in in the winter and out in the summer. Light we like to let in without letting other people see in. Sound we try to keep out.

So much for outside walls. The builder looks after these. But what of the space inside these walls—the "indoors" that the builder has made? In a house, unlike a church or a cinema, or the Albert Hall, we want to insulate one piece of indoors from another: we want to make rooms. And this division is the only useful thing our inside walls do.

A floor, of course, is only a wall that happens to be horizontal. But floors weigh a lot, and therefore some of the walls—the outside wall always and some of the inside walls—have to carry the weight of the floors, and of the furniture we put on them. The roof, too, must be carried on the walls.

So an inside wall has two functions—to insulate one room from another and to carry a weight. But the weight-carrying part of a wall is of no use to us, or at least, it is only a negative kind of use in preventing the house from falling down.

In a modern house there is no longer any need for inside carrying walls. If we make our floors of reinforced concrete we can hold them up just by the edges. The outside walls—unless they are very big, when we may need a few pillars.

And so in a modern house all we need ask of our inside walls is that they shall prevent us from seeing and hearing what is going on in the next room.

We can, in fact, make our walls hollow—make cupboards of them. Many kitchens in modern houses are separated from their dining rooms by no more than a wall of cupboards. But such cupboards have up till now been "built-in"—designed and made to fit the particular house.

This year a firm is producing a series of cupboards so designed that they can be built up into walls in any house. The standard size of cupboard is 3ft. x 2ft. x 1ft. 6in. deep, and the cupboards may be used upright or on their sides. There are also hanging cupboards made twice as big—6ft. high—and bookshelves half as deep—9in.—which may be placed back to back in the "wall."

With this assortment—and although the cupboards, like bricks, are the same size, they are fitted up inside in many ways—cupboard walls can be built up in almost any house. If they are to be built right up to the ceiling it is generally necessary to have a row of cupboards specially made to go along the top and fill up any gap there may be. But since the walls do not carry the weight of the ceiling they need not go right up to it.

Between a bedroom and a dressing-room, for instance, we might build a cupboard wall up to the level of the top of the door. The uninterrupted ceiling will make the rooms seem larger. We can do the same thing in a small house and the living-room. We have a sensation of greater spaciousness, and, since we are unlikely to use these rooms at the same time, it does not much matter if we hear in one room sounds made in the other.

WHERE LESSONS ARE GAMES

American Model School Has the Elements of Play in All Its Work

There is in New York, writes Ruth Howe in an overseas paper, a remarkable little school for boys and girls from three to thirteen years where the system of teaching through play has attained such success that it is having considerable influence on new educational methods.

In the City and Country School children are divided into age groups. Classes are small with sufficient individual supervision so that children can develop at their own pace.

However, the aim is not to set them apart in their education, but prepare them to enter any type of ordinary school afterwards.

A three-year-old child attends school in the mornings only. He has less curiosity and fearlessness, with no interest in his fellow creatures as yet. In his playroom, confusing gadgets and adult equipment are reduced to a minimum. His toys are an assortment of blocks, varying in type, so that he can get an idea of weight, form and dimension in his first building attempts.

The play yard for the three-year-olds contains packing cases, four-foot parallel ladder in a sand pit. These give a young man or woman wanting to develop muscles excellent opportunity for bending, reaching and lifting.

The programme is expanded for the four-year-old class. They are taken on tours of inspection of the other classrooms, buy from the school shop and make trips to nearby streets to observe street-paving, excavating and construction work. They use clay, paints, hammer nails in wood and are encouraged to count articles, tell their own stories and have simple stories read to them.

Your Wife Doesn't Like You . . .

DAY'S WORK FOR "THE FIVES"

The five-year-olds begin their day in the play yard, which is equipped with heavy building materials. They are more interested in playing together. The play material enables them to build houses and trains and become engine-drivers, passengers and so on. In addition to painting and modelling, this group does woodworking and makes trips to stores, docks and railroads.

Rhythm and music begin with "the fives."

Through play, the six-year-old learns to work. His reading, building, excursions to wharves, markets and railway stations are for the purpose of becoming informed on means of transportation, food and shelter for a city. Thus he begins to learn geography.

The six-year-old goes to the kitchen to learn cooking, to shops to purchase food. He also enters the science room for the first time and at the work bench learns how to make toy boats, furniture, derricks, cash registers, etc.

The year of "the sevens" is spent in constructing a permanent "play city," containing all that a city has, from office building down to milk vans. In this way the children realise the necessity for, and begin to learn, reading, writing and arithmetic. For instance, they cannot compute the cost of electricity wiring for their city unless they can add. They cannot have street signs unless they can write.

Eight-year-old children enter upon the business of life. They run the school post office. They build all the equipment themselves, make and sell stamps and keep books, taking turns at being postmen, postmaster and clerks.

Through this they learn about early post routes, the lives of the early American settlers and Indians. They learn history, write down stories, draw maps and act little scenes.

THEY RUN THE SHOP

"The nines" run the school shop, supplying paper, ink, notebooks, etc., to the other classes. To conduct a shop as a business proposition entails a fair knowledge of bookkeeping.

Again, to study the origin of the articles they are handling, paper, for example, they must resort to libraries, so that the ability to read easily becomes important.

This group also experiments with musical instruments, and those who wish to join the class orchestra.

Printing by hand is the job of the 10-year-old class, since they provide the reading material for the lower-age classes. They also make and sell linoleum cuts for Christmas cards.

Members of this group are encouraged to improve their writing by making illuminated copies on parchment of the best poems written in the school. They learn about manuscripts, cuneiform tablets, hieroglyphics and rock records. Curiosity as to other types of civilisations and races naturally follows.

The 11-year-old group have a printing press and do the school printing. This makes obvious the necessity for accuracy in spelling, punctuation and English. They also print and sell an annual magazine, containing the best stories, poems and illustrations of their class. Special attention is given here to creative writing.

With the two last age groups, 12 and 13, efforts are made to direct their studies along academic lines to prepare them for high school. The idea of responsibility is developed, they wait upon the younger children in the dining-room, take charge of the library, cook and budget their meals.

Space does not allow the giving of details as to the excellent work in developing music appreciation, creative art, dramatics, rhythm and love of outdoor games, all of which are a part of their curriculum.

Wedding At Hastings

YESTERDAY'S BRIDE

Gown of Magnolia Satin

DAVIES—DUFF

The wedding took place at St. Matthew's Church, Hastings, yesterday afternoon of Muriel Pearl, youngest daughter of the late Mr and Mrs W. Duff, of Hastings, and Terry Rhys (Mick), youngest son of Mr and Mrs D. I. Davies, Pukehamao, Fernhill. The Rev. J. J. Anderson, of Puketapu, officiated at the ceremony.

A gown of magnolia satin was worn by the bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr W. D. I. Cut on fitting lines the skirt was flared to form a long train, and the corsage was shirred in front and finished with tiny buttons. The sleeves were full at the shoulders and were tight from the elbow to the wrist, being pointed over the hands. She wore an embroidered tulle veil with a coronet of orange blossom and carried a bouquet of cream carnations, roses and maidenhair fern.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Joyce Davies, was the bridesmaid, and she wore a redingote of apple green stiffened net over satin, having green velvet trimmings. The high neckline was finished with a Peter Pan collar and the sleeves were puffed. She wore a Juliet cap of autumn tinted flowers and carried a bouquet of flowers in these shades with bright berries and maidenhair fern.

The best man was Mr Bill MacFarlane.

The wedding reception was held at Pukehamao, where relatives and close friends were received by the bride's mother and sister-in-law, Mr and Mrs W. Duff, who were assisted by the bridegroom's parents, Mr and Mrs D. I. Davies.

Mrs Duff wore a royal blue hat and she carried an autumn shaded bouquet. Mrs Davies wore a floral silk frock with a plain black coat and black and white hat. Her bouquet was of violets and maidenhair fern.

After a very happy reception the bride and bridegroom left for their honeymoon tour in the north. The bride travelled in a tailored costume of navy blue with a pin stripe. She wore a cream satin waistcoat and a navy hat with a bright quill. Her accessories were all navy.

Supercreaming is the blending of a little precious skin cream into every tablet of Lux Toilet Soap. Softening . . . because it supplies a touch of face cream every time you wash. So we find Claudette . . . like nearly all of filmland's brightest stars . . . choosing Lux Toilet Soap for her special skin care. ## If Women Must Talk

Charms of the Well-Bred Voice

Just listen to Nora, how she gabbles, in that rasping, high-pitched voice, racing on and on, and yet really saying nothing at all, groping for words, leaving sentences unfinished, gesticulating nervously, screwing up her face and making violent efforts to hold your attention.

Now listen to Eve. With charm and poise she brings out her meaning pat, using neat short sentences, and her voice is so clear and well-pitched that the most trivial remark makes an effect of importance.

Eve's speaking voice is the root of her success whilst Nora's is her greatest drawback.

Nora tells me she always feels so nervous talking to her employer or anyone "important" that she finds herself saying all sorts of meaningless words she has no intention of saying, and that she, herself, hears her own voice growing more high-pitched and "tinny" and getting completely out of control.

She tells me, also, that she comes away from an interview feeling that she has talked too much out of sheer "nerves" and if a young man, of whom she is shy, takes her to a film, she chatters and whispers till the people behind say "Sh-sh!"

How lucky is the girl who achieves poise and can prevent herself from talking too much; who when she knows exactly what she wants to say, doesn't blurt out a few incoherent disjointed sentences, but chooses good rounded words, spoken in a well-pitched, pleasing voice, with plenty of expression, yet not too much gesticulation or over-emphasis; she is sure of her power to hold the attention of her audience.

A QUESTION OF NERVES

Very often, I think, the quality of the voice is a question of nerves or general health, and anyone overtired or nervy rarely has a rich, vibrant speaking voice. Very few women bother about keeping their voices well pitched. They take no end of trouble with clothes, make-up, slimming, and read articles galore on personality and psychology. But how many realise the effect their voice accent, and choice of words will have on those to whom they speak.

A "well-spoken" girl gives the important part in everyday life, any business man will favour an employee who makes a good impression over the wires.

Modern children don't go in for elocution, and little girls aren't encouraged to stand up and recite "The Green Eye of the Little Yellow God" to bored visitors.

But stage-training or courses in diction are not really necessary in order to acquire a pleasant speaking voice. The main thing is health of both mind and body.

And if you conquer that "inferiority" you will learn to keep calm and not try to assert yourself. You will listen to others patiently, and when you have something to say you will express yourself as interestingly as possible. People haven't time for masses of detail, and "he said to me" "so then I said to him" dialogue.

As a general rule it is wise to forget yourself and the effect you may be making, but just at first you will have to listen to your own voice to be sure that you are keeping it modulated, low pitched and thrown well forward, then you can forget yourself for you will know that you have achieved one of the rarest feminine charms - like Annie Laurie, whose "voice was sweet and low."

A FAREWELL LUNCHEON

Mrs P. C. Anderson, Pukeora, who will be leaving for England at an early date, entertained a few musical friends at a bright luncheon party at the Tavistock Hotel, Wai-pukurua, on Tuesday. Those present were Messrs P. C. Riddle, B. W. Boys, F. R. McWilliam, H. S. Cottrell, F. Dunbar, W. J. Gray, Gerald Wilson; Misses A. C. Ingles, H. Riddle and H. Johnston.

When laundering your woollen jumpers, first measure the width and length. When they are washed, press in a clean bath towel, pull to the right measurements, and allow to dry on a flat surface. This will ensure that your jumpers are the right size.

Before moving a heavy piece of furniture, place an old cushion under each end or a suitable pad under each corner. The article of furniture may then be pushed or pulled without damaging the flooring.

This Social Life

A most delightful evening in the form of a surprise party recently took place at the new home of Mr and Mrs Cecil Elliot, Pakowhai, when a number of young people gathered to welcome Mr and Mrs Elliot to their charming new home.

The cold night out-of-doors was forgotten in the cosy atmosphere of the large sitting room, with its big log fire and the artistically arranged bowls of autumn tinted leaves and berries. The evening was spent in amusing games and competitions. After a delicious buffet supper had been served, Miss Mary White on behalf of those present, welcomed Mr and Mrs Elliot to their new home and thanked them for their hospitality. She then presented Mrs Elliot with a handsome wall mirror and a marquetry pot stand.

Those present were: Mr and Mrs Cecil Elliot, Mr and Mrs Cleland Graham, Misses Mary and Margaret White, Dulcie and Joyce Long, Marion Holmes, Betty Fournereau, Ruth and Elsie Lisette, Jean Parker, Messrs Stanford, Brown, Lisette and Simmons.

COMING-OF-AGE PARTY

On a recent evening Mr and Mrs W. A. Black, Omaha Road, Hastings, were "at home" to many guests on the occasion of the coming-of-age of their daughter Nola, who is a member of the nursing staff of the Hastings Memorial Hospital.

A really delightful evening was spent in dancing and games, and during the proceedings Miss Black placed on display the many wonderful gifts which she had received in honour of her birthday. The guests were welcomed to the hall by Mrs Black, who was tastefully attired in a navy crepe frock. The guest of honour wore a striking frock of sheer crepe, patterned in vivid colours, and worn with this was a smart flame coloured ring velvet bolero.

The music for the dancing was supplied by Mr T. Maloney and Mr A. Saunders.

Among the guests were:—Mr and Mrs J. McNab, Mr and Mrs J. A. McNab (Twyford), Mr and Mrs T. Walker, Mr and Mrs Ashworth, Mr and Mrs Sykes, Mr and Mrs Wharton, Mr and Mrs Greyland, Mr and Mrs North, Mr and Mrs Carrington, Mr and Mrs H. Lomas, Mr and Mrs J. Robinson, Mr and Mrs D. ## Make-Up For Beauty

THE NEW WAY

Colour Harmony is the Subtle Secret

To-day it is easy to observe how make-up has developed from a mask to a face. You can observe how Alice Faye, once a synthetic platinum blonde, has become a natural and simple person, with her own brown hair and her own unplucked eyebrows. This trend in make-up means that no woman, however high-principled, high-brown or old-fashioned, need any more consider make-up as something absurd and unbecoming. And, on the other hand, no girl who goes about looking "made up" has understood the principles of modern make-up.

Foundation

To begin with, for a completely successful make-up your skin must be in good condition, for it is no longer smart to use (in the daytime at least) one of those thick coloured foundations that completely hide the skin and prevent the pores from functioning. Most people can use a colourless powder base perfectly well.

On the other hand, a coloured foundation does help to give evenness to texture to a skin that is patchy or has high colour or tiny broken veins. There are on the market foundation lotions that look like coloured complexion milks, rather creamy, but containing no coarse sediment to clog the pores, which are helpful for such skins.

It is important to use some sort of powder base, however, not only to hold the powder but also to prevent the powder entering the pores.

Powdering

In general a light fine-textured powder is most suitable for the dry, fine skin, while women with oily coarse-grained skins sometimes prefer a heavier make, not so finely ground.

The secret of choosing a powder is to match your skin tone; most people invest in colours too light for their skin, so that when this shows through the powder it gives a patchy effect.

If you want to alter your make-up, you can use a second powder, either to lighten or darken your complexion; thus a second dusting of a pale pearly shade gives lightness for evening; a warm pinkish bronze over the cheeks gives an illusion of healthy sun tan.

For repowdering during the day use the lighter shade of powder, and again cotton wool or those sets of powder puffs that you throw away after use.

A dirty powder puff is one of the most prolific breeding grounds for skin troubles.

Rouge

Gone are the days when it was smart to have very bright cheeks. The modern aim is to have a smooth all-over glow in your face; enough colour to give brilliance to your eyes, but not enough to emphasise your cheekbones unduly.

Avoid, therefore, red rouges, and stick to the new pinkish ones which blend with the natural blood colour and emphasise it. If you use a cream rouge (as most people with dry skins should) put it on before your powder, blending it with the foundation till you yourself can't tell where natural colour ends and unnatural begins.

If you have a greasy skin use a pinkish powder rouge as a dusting over your skin-toned powder. And when in doubt, don't. That is, too little rouge is far better than too much. And you have to remember that, far from becoming less noticeable as the day goes on, many rouges that blend with the skin become slightly more vivid.

Eye Make-up

At one time the eyes had it. You could get away with the minimum of powder technique provided your eyes were large and luminous. Now it's rather the other way: you can get away with simple eye make-up provided your powdering technique is flawless. Just the same we like the idea of emphasising in a subtle way the size of your eyes by putting on the minimum of brown eye-shadow.

Eye make-up is better omitted by the few people who have a special sensitiveness which may cause conjunctivitis. But most of us are able to use pure eye make-up with impunity: we have only a reminder that the "beaded" effect is quite out, and in the daytime you can if you like just keep your brows and lashes well brushed, and out-lying hairs plucked out.

An excellent trick with an eyebrow pencil is to draw a fine line beneath your lower lashes and blend this with your finger-tips until it is nothing more than a shadow. This trick always enlarges the eye.

Lipstick

We've seen the difference between lipstick slapped on in the usual way and lipstick a film star. Believe me, it makes a sensational difference and is worth learning to do well.

Here's how to do this: First wipe your mouth dry of any grease or face cream. Then take a stiff camel-hair paint brush and wiggle it round on your lipstick till it is charged with colour. Now paint an outline of your lips. If they are perfect follow the natural line. If the lower lip is rather thick, a line just inside the natural line. The same goes for the upper lip: a perfect mouth has about equally thick upper and lower lips.

Having achieved this, fill in the outline with lipstick. Powder over your mouth, and rub in the lipstick with your middle finger. If you're not pleased, continue to slap haphazard colour on your mouth and hope for the best.

Mrs A. Comop, of the Albert Hotel, Hastings, had the misfortune to be injured in a recent motor car accident. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is making a good recovery.

Mr W. Hyslop and his family have leased their home in Charlotte Crescent, Hastings, and are now living in the north of Auckland, where Mr Hyslop is farming. The Misses Ruth and Margaret Hyslop will be much missed by the younger set, with whom they were very popular.

MAYFAIR THEATRE
An Outstanding New Entertainment
SPLENDID PROGRAMME

"The Big Show" is one of the first pictures to introduce to New Zealand audiences, Gene Autry (pronounced Jeen Otree), the Singing Cowboy sensation and the most popular star on the screen to-day. This will open at the Mayfair Theatre, Napier, to-morrow afternoon for a three-day season, with two sessions daily.

Filmed against the background of the Texas Centennial Exhibition which was built at a cost of 25,000,000 dollars, the picture gives Autry an outstandingly good opportunity to present several new song hits in his inimitable style which has made him the favourite of audiences all over the world.

Numbers he sings in the picture are two new hits "Mad About You" and "Lady Known as Lulu," whilst he also sings the popular number "Old Faithful" and two comedy numbers "The Martins and the Coys" and "The Wild and Woolly West."

The story gives him a dual characterization and he plays the roles of Gene Autry who is the stand-in and the double for Tom Ford, a famous cowboy star, and Tom Ford himself. It is a tribute to Autry's acting ability that he makes both roles completely different and equally interesting.

Packed with excitement, the picture may be claimed to be the most ambitious Western ever produced and it is sound, popular entertainment for every type of audience.

Supporting Gene in the picture are Kay Hughes, Smiley Burnette and four big orchestras.

One of the most talented casts ever presented in a Republic mystery thriller will be seen in "The House of a Thousand Candles," a gripping succession of surprises revolving around the operations of international spies, which is the second big feature.

Phillips Holmes, handsome young leading man plays the hazardous role of a British Secret Agent.

Lovely Mae Clarke, who shares adventures and romance with Holmes, was a Philadelphia beauty who first made a hit as a featured dancer in one of George White's famous Broadway shows.

Also in the cast is Mischa Auer and Irving Pichel.

Three native infantynmen were killed and 20 injured when one of their number stumbled on a shell near the military camp of El Hajej, near Rabag, French Morocco, and caused it to explode.

HISTORIC CEREMONY NOW COMPLETED

Carroll Memorial Dedicated

IMPRESSIVE WELCOME TO THE WAIKATO KING

Solemn Maori Ceremonial

WAIROA.

The opening of the Sir James Carroll Memorial House in the traditional Maori manner was an impressive sight at the marae yesterday.

A great gathering of natives had congregated and they stood many rows deep in the form of a quadrangle in front of the house.

"Haere mai, Haere mai, Haere mai," cried the women of the Kahungunu tribe as the King of the Waikato, Korokoi Tawhio, followed by his people garbed in various Maori mats and coloured head bands, approached the entrance.

Wi Te Hira and Ta Kapa O Rangitiki, the King's party returned the greetings and the cry, "Haere mai" was taken up in unison by the spectator natives.

The King's party filed into the house and members of the Kahungunu tribe followed.

The Rev. C. E. Haddfield, of Gisborne, then conducted a short dedication ceremony of the house to the memory of Timi Kar.

The Rev. Hemi Huata addressed the people gathered in the house, tracing the history of the people back to the Takitimu canoe and revealed how King Korokoi was related to the Kahungunu tribe through the marriage of the Rongomai wahine with Kahungunu.

The congregation then sang in Maori, the psalm: "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord all ye lands."

Concluding, the Rev. Huata welcomed King Korokoi, stating that the Kahungunu people did obedience to him under the rule of King George of England.

GISBORNE RATES UP

GISBORNE, June 15.

Last evening the Borough Council decided to raise the rates in Gisborne by nearly 1d in the pound. Gisborne (town), Kaiti and Whataupoko show the largest increases, which amount to 60/64d in the pound. The general rate has been increased by 42/64d and now is 6 26/64d in the pound as the result of an additional expenditure of £3145. The hospital levy is £731 higher.

These rates were adopted after only a brief discussion, the Mayor, Mr D. W. Coleman, expressing the opinion that the increase would be for the year only.

MURTON'S RECORD YEAR REVIEWED

A Growing Hawke's Bay Industry

One of Hawke's Bay's growing industries is that of Murton's—manufacturers of sheep dip, footrot cure, worm drench, weed killer, and other lines.

The manager, Mr Horswell, who has been with the company since 1921, told a member of the "Daily Mail" staff that the company was formed in 1886. From small beginnings, the company has grown from a small shed opposite the old Port Railway station into its present building in Robjohn's Street, Port Ahuriri.

A walk through the factory discloses mechanical industry above all else. An electric blower, operating at 2500 revs per minute, drives the fan of the oil burning furnaces whilst huge drums revolve with the different mixtures. And this business, with its huge output, is controlled by Mr Horswell with two assistants in the factory and a girl in the office. No mean achievement.

A glance at the packing shed showed cases—stencilled and ready for shipping—directed to all parts of New Zealand, from Gisborne to Timaru, Hamilton to Christchurch, in fact to every farming district of the Dominion.

Mr Horswell informed the "Daily Mail" that the present was a record year for the company, and with the output of new and additional lines, it is evident that this company is developing into one of the province's main secondary industries.

All persons involved in road accidents in Germany must now undergo a blood test for intoxication. This applies to pedestrians as well as cyclists and drivers of vehicles.

NEW HOSPITAL SITE

WAIROA PROBLEM IS DISCUSSED

OFFICIAL VIEWS

Letter From Director Received

WAIROA.

The question of Wairoa's proposed new hospital plans was again the subject of discussion when a letter was received from the Director-General of Health, Mr M. H. Watt, at the Wairoa Hospital Board's meeting.

The letter was as follows:—"In connection with the board's application for consent to sell the property known as the new site property comprising 78 acres situated on Frasertown Road, I have to advise that following the receipt of a report by Dr. R. A. Shore, Director of the Division of Hospitals, this matter has been placed before the Minister.

"Dr. Shore in his report points out that before a lapse of many years the board will have to consider rebuilding the hospital. There is at present doubt as to whether the present site would be sufficient in area to enable an enlarged hospital to be erected thereon.

"Dr. Shore recommends that the board be advised to plan out a new hospital to allow a single storey up to 75 beds so that the capacity may be doubled later by adding another storey, and that when a sketch plan has been prepared of such a building, the adequacy of the present site should be tested by the preparation of a site plan. Until this is done it has been recommended that approval to the sale of the new site should be withheld."

After some discussion Mr de Lautour moved that the department be asked to provide such plans for the proposed new hospital as may be necessary for the deciding of a new site.

The motion was adopted.

DOMINION HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP

Allocated To Gisborne This Year

"Daily Mail" Special Service. GISBORNE, June 15.

Advice has been received by Mr A. Bryan, Hon. Secretary of the Poverty Bay Hockey Association that the New Zealand Women's Hockey Association has allocated the New Zealand championships to Gisborne this year.

It is expected that the tournament will commence on August 25 or 26 and continue until September 3. This will be the second occasion within three years on which the championship tournament has been held in Gisborne, the last two having been held in the South Island.

Those held in Gisborne have always been a financial success, and this factor no doubt contributed largely to the decision.

FORTY YEARS OF SERVICE

Lockyer's Enters A New Field

For 40 years Lockyer's have operated in the Hawke's Bay district, serving the public in instruments of musical education and entertainment. Very few Hawke's Bay families have not at some time during this period purchased something from this firm of such long standing.

During this period Lockyer's have seen the rise and decline of the gramophone industry and in more recent years the advent of radio which still continues to be the popular entertainer for the whole family.

Now, in these modern times, when everyone is striving to find labour-saving devices another branch of the business comes into being—electrical refrigeration and laundry equipment.

It is with a feeling of pride that Lockyer's introduce Westinghouse products in this new field of action.

As Lockyer's have pioneered in this district, so Westinghouse has, a thousandfold, in the world of electricity. To-day Westinghouse stands as a hall mark of electrical efficiency and any product bearing its name will prove itself worthy of the colossal organisation that is behind it.

referred by Mr C. Kemp. To fill the vacancy thus left, Mr H. Swallow, a new referee, will be brought in to take Mr Kemp's game.

The matches affected, with their new referees are: M.B.O.B. v. Celtic (seniors), (Mr W. Scott); Hastings v. Havelock North (third grade) (Mr C. Kemp); Hastings v. School B (fourth grade), (Mr H. Swallow).

WHO IS A CHRISTIAN?
One who is a possessor of the new birth. One who has passed from darkness to light. One whose sins have been blotted out by the precious blood of Christ. Have you everlasting life? Let there be no more professing, no sham now. If you are saved you have the witness within. If you are merely a professor you are trying to witness without when all is dead within. The five foolish virgins were professors, but they found heaven's gate shut in their faces. The lamp of profession is no use without the oil. If any man have not the Spirit of Christ he is none of His. Tell God exactly what you are. If unsaved tell Him so with lips of penitence and look in faith to the Crucified One. Believe in Him and God says you shall not perish, but have everlasting life. Then you will want to confess Him as your Lord and Saviour, for God says, "Whoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed."

Looking to the Future And The Declining Birth Rate

Sir,—Now that I have been written, mostly abuse, I am afraid of the "modern wife and mother" and her part in the above may be as one of them with a small family, air my views in support of her mode of living.

In summing up the majority of your correspondents' ideas, the average woman has married to live on her husband's income and become one of a smoking, drinking, gad-about crowd, who are so selfish that they shirk their "sacred duty to God and society" by not bearing larger families.

I, myself, being the wife of an average wage-earner of 45 a week, I think that I am voicing the opinion of the majority of married women in this country when I say that we are all doing our bit towards God and country as our mothers did before us. We marry for love the same as they 'til, and many of us give up far easier lives as regards good times, fine clothes, etc.

We bring our children into the world with as much love and determination to bring them up as honourable, God-fearing citizens as ever they did. Not in such large numbers, I grant you, but from their experiences have originated the smaller families. They did not produce children with any feeling of duty towards the State, but because of their love for their man.

Man, as well as woman, realised that too many children on a limited income, and children being born with only a short space between them, turned a happy, healthy woman from being a help-mate and companion to man (as she was always intended to be by God's divine law) into, so often, a body too broken-down to carry on, and a slave in her home.

Politicians are crying out in this country of ours to-day: "We want as many children as we can get," and are not in favour of birth-control clinics. If they believe in this, are they not under an obligation to the State? Some of the strongest advocates against birth-control must follow it, or where, on where, are all the large families of nine or 10 children, of our lecturers and advisers concealed? It savours of Hitler and Mussolini propaganda to me!

The State has already under its care some thousands of children, with two to three thousand babies to be adopted. It seems that they cannot cope with the surplus that is here already.

"A sacred duty," or rather, I should say, "a sacred privilege."

WHO IS A CHRISTIAN?
One who is a possessor of the new birth. One who has passed from darkness to light. One whose sins have been blotted out by the precious blood of Christ. Have you everlasting life? Let there be no more professing, no sham now. If you are saved you have the witness within. If you are merely a professor you are trying to witness without when all is dead within. The five foolish virgins were professors, but they found heaven's gate shut in their faces. The lamp of profession is no use without the oil. If any man have not the Spirit of Christ he is none of His. Tell God exactly what you are. If unsaved tell Him so with lips of penitence and look in faith to the Crucified One. Believe in Him and God says you shall not perish, but have everlasting life. Then you will want to confess Him as your Lord and Saviour, for God says, "Whoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed."

Medical Service on Half-Holiday

Sir,—I read in the advertising section of your columns to-day, an announcement indicating the doctors of Hastings are falling into line, and adopting the Saturday half holiday. We all appreciate the good work done by the medical men, and we all recognise the importance of a half holiday to them.
If however they group together, and take their half day universally on the Saturday, a grave position will arise. There is going to be double the amount of sport, joy riding, and pleasure seeking on the Saturday, with its accompanying accident risk.
It is quite hard enough under existing conditions to obtain medical assistance on the half days, but if all the doctors take their holiday on the Saturday, serious consequences are bound to arise very soon.
This is a question the Mayor of Hastings should interest himself in, and arrange for at least one doctor to be available every Saturday and a public announcement made so that in the event of an accident, interested persons will know just what to do. — I am, etc.,
"A STITCH IN TIME."

Impartiality of Opinions

Sir,—"Fairminded Labourite's" letter in to-day's issue of your paper ventilates a subject that has been exercising my mind for some weeks.
I, among probably a large number of your subscribers, became such because your journal would observe impartial neutrality on matters political.
I and the members of my family have been well satisfied with our change over from a metropolitan daily to the "Daily Mail", which latter paper, in our estimation, is an excellent, refreshing and informative journal, and which is undoubtedly supplying a long felt want in the Hawke's Bay and adjacent districts. I have heard many complimentary references to it also amongst my associates.
However, like "Fairminded Labourite", I too, would like to know why the "Daily Mail" was so precipitate in claiming a cap which obviously could not have been designed for it. The inference is that political bias overcame better judgment, and thus the outburst.
No reasonable person will deny you or any individual the right to support whatever political party is desired, no more than you could deny me my rights in the political sphere. No reasonable person would deny that the daily press as a whole, and with few exceptions, is unreasonably prejudiced against

WARM TRIBUTES TO MR. AND MRS. C. O. MORSE

Presentations Made To Napier's Former Mayor And Mayoress

The splendid services rendered to Napier and the surrounding district by Mr C. O. Morse during his term as chairman of the Earthquake Control Committee in 1931 and later as Mayor of Napier, were referred to at the public presentation made to him at the Masonic Hotel, Napier, yesterday afternoon on behalf of the citizens. Mrs Morse also came in for generous praise and was the recipient of a handsome gift.

The Hon. W. E. Barnard, M.P., chairman of the committee responsible for organising the presentation, presided, and there was a large attendance, including the Mayor of Napier (Mr T. W. Hercock) and Mrs Hercock, Borough Councillors and their wives, the principal officers of the Borough Council, and representatives of other local bodies and organisations in Napier.

Mr Barnard said it had been felt by a number of citizens that some public recognition should be made of the fine services Mr Morse had rendered to Napier and the district. When the disastrous earthquake occurred in February 1931, it was particularly difficult to obtain leadership on the spur of the moment. Mr Morse stepped forward and filled the breach and for six weeks as chairman of the Earthquake Control Committee was in supreme command of Napier. The speaker said he had thought that there should have previously been some public recognition of Mr Morse's great service on that committee. "But I don't think the people of Napier have forgotten that service rendered under circumstances that must have tried any man."

Rebuilding of Napier.
As Mayor for two terms from 1933 to the present year Mr Morse had been closely associated with the rebuilding of Napier and its development into the fine centre of today. Mr Barnard also mentioned the Municipal Theatre, which had come into being largely through the activities of Mr Morse.

Mr Morse had also been a member of the Hawke's Bay Hospital Board for 15 years. Mr Barnard said every reason to be proud of him as their representative. He had always tried to serve the interests of Napier but at the same time had shown a just appreciation of the efforts of other parts of the hospital district. He hoped that Mr Morse's services to the community would not be entirely lost.

"I have now pleasure in handing you this envelope which contains a substantial cheque," said Mr Barnard, "as a token of the appreciation of the public of Napier for services rendered by you on the Hospital Board, as chairman of the Earthquake Control Committee, and as Mayor of this city. With it goes our esteem and the hope that you and Mrs Morse will long remain with us to continue to play a part in the development of Napier."

Silver Toilet Set.
The presentation to Mrs Morse of a beautiful silver toilet set with bedroom clock to match was made by Mrs Barnard. During the years that Mr Morse had been Mayor of Napier Mrs Morse had ably filled the position of Mayoress, she said. It had been a difficult task, particularly during the depression years

Death of Mrs E. C. Riddiford

FATAL INJURIES
Accident At Lower Hutt
By Telegraph—Press Association.
WELLINGTON, June 15.
Fatal head injuries were received by Mrs Eleanor Caroline Riddiford, widow of Edward Joshua Riddiford, when she was knocked down by a van on the morning of June 14 at her home at Lower Hutt at about 5.40 this evening.
Mrs Riddiford was unconscious when picked up and died at her home two hours later without regaining consciousness.
Mrs Riddiford, who was the daughter of an early Wellington pioneer, was the wife of Henry Riddiford, former deputy-Superintendent of the Wellington province, was born in 1861. She married in 1879 and with the exception of a few years in England lived all her life at Lower Hutt.
Mrs Riddiford was well known for her acts of charity. During the war she did great service at Walton-on-Thames and in London.
Mrs Riddiford is survived by her brother, Mr E. P. Bunny, of Lower Hutt, and an adult family of five—Mrs Lindsay (Scotland), Mr Daniel Riddiford (Featherston), Mr Eric Riddiford (Orongorongo), Mrs Vivian Riddiford (Napier), and Mr Kettle (Napier). Two sons, Mr Vivian Riddiford and Mr Lionel Riddiford, predeceased her.

DOMINION TARIFF?
Committee's Work Reviewed
By Telegraph—Press Association.
PALMERSTON N., June 15.
Since it was appointed five months ago to control the pharmacy trade in New Zealand under the Industrial Efficiency Act, the Pharmacy Industry Committee has heard a number of applications for licences and transfers of existing licences. Of importance to the trade and the public is the fact that the committee has made an extensive analysis of drug prices with a view to establishing a Dominion drug tariff.
In a statement to members of the retail pharmacy trade, Mr E. R. Myers, Director of Pharmacy, says the fixing of prices of drugs is regarded as a matter of urgency, and an endeavour is being made to submit a scheme to the Government for adoption before June 21. The wholesale merchants have been approached, and costs and profits of 500 items have been analysed to arrive at a basis for recommendation to the Government.
"Fast on the heels of the drug tariff will come a survey," said Mr Myers. "It is intended shortly to issue a questionnaire which will be very comprehensive, and will put the committee in a strong position to speak on the condition of pharmacy affairs anywhere in the Dominion."

NEW ZEALAND'S DEFENCES

In yesterday's editorial it was pointed out that New Zealand must prepare her defence plans according to a logical hypothesis of circumstance and possibility.

Wife the Boss

When a witness was asked in the Second Court of Arbitration at Wellington if he knew of many managers in chemists' shops, he replied that he knew of one managed by a husband and wife, and that the latter was the boss.

N.Z. Seed Exports

The statistical return of the small seeds exported and imported for the year ending 1937 provides several interesting features. The exports were valued at £205,698, of which the two main items were Cheung's fescue (£78,518) and red clover (£139,528).

Pencil Dumping

Allegations that overseas manufacturers had been dumping pencils in Australia, in order to discourage local production, were made before the Tariff Board recently. A witness said that Australia now consumed more than 21,000,000 pencils a year, but that local manufacturers could meet the full demand.

Production of Steel

"It is difficult to see how New Zealand is going to absorb the output of steel from an economically-sized plant," said Mr. Wilfred S. Tyack, of Sheffield, England, in an interview at Invercargill. It was not merely a question of the production of steel, but a wide variety of qualities and sections was required.

Dumping of Oranges

Ten tons of rotting oranges, portion of a large quantity of inferior Rarotongan fruit which was allocated to Auckland following the arrival of the Matua from the Islands on June 3, were loaded aboard a refuse launch yesterday and dumped in the sea beyond the harbour limits.

In view of the great attention centred on the Sino-Japanese conflict, this specially-written article should be of interest to readers of the "Daily Mail."

WARS AND TREATIES

Thus, it came about that two wars, first by England, then by England with France, were necessary to gain security for trade, but when the American Commodore Perry visited Japan in 1853 and 1854 with a request for two ports to be opened to American shipping, the object was attained without bloodshed.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Match for Railway Shield

The annual Rugby match between the railway officers at Napier and Hastings for the New Zealand Railway Shield will probably be held on Sunday week.

Maori Footballers

Approximately 19 Maori footballers and selectors arrived in Napier last night, en route from Otaki and Levin to Wairoa. They will visit Wairoa for the Prince of Wales Cup match to-day.

Railway Restrictions

Although two of the speed restrictions operating on the railway line between Napier and Woodville have been lifted, there are still six in force, varying from six to 15 miles.

Origin of Quake

The Dominion observatory records indicate that the origin of the disturbance on Tuesday was about 200 miles from Wellington, which places the centre somewhere in the Mohaka region, but whether inland or off the coast cannot be determined until other records are studied.

Small Fry Plentiful

Workers on Auckland wharves are surprised at the large number of small fish which are congregating about the wharves in port. Generally this time of the winter very few are seen, but this year, possibly because of the long spell of fine weather, they are particularly plentiful.

"I have noticed that some of the hotel bars in New Zealand are called private," said Mr. M. L. Sweeney, of Vancouver, when pointing out some differences of cities in Canada and New Zealand at the weekly luncheon of the Christchurch Rotary Club.

Mr. E. L. Cullen, M.P., will leave to-day for Wairoa where he will attend the opening of the Wairoa Co-operative Dairy Co.'s factory on Friday morning.

But not all Chinese economic thought has been bent by the Confucian conservatism. Two striking illustrations will suffice. In 1905 the area comprising Manchuria, now Manchukuo, was a barren and hardly habitable land. Miles and miles of plain could be traversed without sight or sign of human habitation.

FOREIGN JURISDICTION

The principle of extra-territorial jurisdiction was approved in another agreement, signed in 1843. This is the root cause of most of the hostility of the Chinese to the foreign powers.

France and England, after the 1856-60 hostilities, secured for their nationals the right to travel in the interior, diplomatic representation at Peking, the toleration of Christian missionaries and an immunity, the last secured by the maritime customs, which were placed under foreign officials.

So, at about the same time, Japan and China emerged into the world of international business. Japan learned rapidly, China slowly.

THE RULE OF CHIANG KAI-SHEK

It has often been stated that the fear of such settled conditions extending throughout China under the rule of Chiang Kai-shek and the consequent danger of the early industrial domination of China in the East was the prime cause of the present Japanese assault and there is strong evidence in support of such contention.

All the elements that brought about the Great War were in existence then. France and Germany were at dagger drawn over the rape of the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine. Russia was vis-a-vis Austria in the Balkans. Therefore, France and Russia were naturally aligned against Germany and Austria.

GOVERNMENT INQUIRY ASKED

Child Malnutrition In New Zealand

Doctors Alarmed

System of Infant Feeding At Fault?

By Telegraph—Press Association.

WELLINGTON, June 15.

"The Dominion Council of the British Medical Association at a recent meeting resolved to approach the Minister of Health (the Hon. P. Fraser) and ask for an investigation to be made into child nutrition in New Zealand," said Dr. J. P. S. Jamieson, president of the New Zealand branch of the association, in a telephone interview.

The honorary general secretary of the association (Dr. P. P. Lynch) declined to give further details of the reasons which had prompted the association's action.

It is understood, however, that it was prompted by information laid before the association by certain specialists in child welfare who drew attention to the high incidence of malnutrition, approximately 7 per cent., among primary school children in New Zealand, and the excessive commonness of dental troubles throughout the community, probably more prevalent here than anywhere else in the world.

These troubles were ascribed largely to diet deficiencies in infancy. It is understood, too, that the percentage of infant feeding, widely advocated in New Zealand, has been questioned by specialists as having been superseded elsewhere in the world, on the grounds that it involved certain dietetic deficiencies and malnutrition in some cases. It was stated that while New Zealand had a very low rate of infant mortality she had also a shockingly low average of physique among school children in a country where they led an outdoor life and where actual starvation through poverty virtually did not exist.

It was a surprising aspect of the matter that in New Zealand malnutrition was very frequently encountered in the well-to-do and better-class families, where poverty or inability to care for children could not possibly apply.

In nearly every case of the sort the source of the trouble was stated to be under-feeding in infancy, through either ignorance or misguidance.

For some time past there has been a feeling in a growing section of the community that present ideas on child welfare merit reconsideration and comparison with the latest developments of the kind overseas.

MAORI PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

PRIME MINISTER AT RATANA

LAND QUESTIONS

"They Will Be Put Right"

By Telegraph—Press Association. WANGANUI, June 15.

Addressing the Prime Minister (the Rt. Hon. M. J. Savage) at the Ratana settlement to-day, Mr. T. W. Ratana said that matters of importance which he wished to place before Mr. Savage were the Maori land grievances and the necessity for enforcing the Treaty of Waitangi.

The speaker said that a sort of pact had been made with the late Mr. H. Holland when he was Leader of the Opposition, that in the event of Labour ever getting to the Treasury benches, it would do its best for the Maori people.

A commission had been set up and had gone into the land grievance question and the decision of the commission was awaited with interest.

Mr. Ratana commended the legislation of the Government.

"With regard to your land grievances, they will be put right as rapidly as is humanly possible," said Mr. Savage in reply. "You must realise that even governments are limited in what they can do in a certain time. We cannot do everything at once, or as fast as we would like. We have inherited sins of generations of governments that have passed away."

"I want you to regard me as a friend of the native race and to remember that I will always be glad to do what is humanly possible for you. I want Mr. Ratana, soon, to know that I have not forgotten his mission to my room in Wellington, and I would have him know that I am a man of my word and that I will live up to every promise I made."

It is the intention of the Government to proceed as soon as possible with the construction of a broadcasting centre on a site behind the Parliament Buildings.

This was announced by the acting Minister in Charge of Broadcasting (the Hon. F. Jones) this evening.

Provision will be made in the new building for a gradual development of a Conservatorium of Music and for the future installation of a short-wave and television station.

Announcing in the House of Commons the appointment of Sir John Reith, director of the B.B.C., as chairman of the board of Imperial Airways, the Air Minister, Sir Kingsley Wood, said that the Imperial Airways board had also nominated Sir James Price to be a director of the company.

The present managing-director, Mr Woods Humphrey, had placed his resignation in the hands of the board and it had been accepted.

Sir Kingsley mentioned that the board was asking the new chairman to investigate the charges against the management of the company made in the House of Commons debate on May 31, and when the investigations were completed, the board proposed to make a public statement.

Coin-in-Slot Machines

SALE OF PETROL

Service To Motorists After Hours

Further information about coin-in-slot petrol pumps for the use of motorists when garages are closed is to be sought by the Hawke's Bay Automobile Association from overseas manufacturers of the equipment according to a decision made at the monthly meeting at Napier last night.

There were present:—Messrs J. E. Cleadow, A. E. Renouf, E. C. Hall, H. L. Benjamin, E. Peach, L. Clark, E. A. Williams, D. P. Rongberg, C. C. Sorrell, R. P. Kay, Captain Ford and the secretary (Mr R. M. Chadwick).

A letter was received from one of the petrol companies stating that the importation of coin-in-slot machines had been prohibited by order-in-council, and that in any case it was doubtful whether the inspector of weights and measures or the Explosives Department would permit their use.

The secretary was requested to obtain further information from English manufacturers of the machines.

A letter was received from Mr E. Palliser, Wellington, offering on behalf of the community singing authorities in Wellington to arrange one or two sessions in the Town Hall, Wellington, towards the Hawke's Bay Flood Relief Fund.

The secretary's action in requesting Mr Palliser to act on his suggestion was endorsed.

Hastings Team To Compete

ASSOCIATION CODE

Affiliation Granted By Committee

An application from the Hastings Football Club for affiliation with the Hastings Football Association was accepted at a meeting of the management committee of the association last night. Mr J. Fairclough presided.

"There has been a change in the half-day at Hastings, which has rejuvenated the sport there to a certain extent," said the chairman.

"We have here an application from the club, which will be known as the Hastings Football Club, for affiliation and for the transfer of four Napier players to Hastings. It was decided to accept the application for affiliation and grant the transfer of the players."

"It is proposed that the Thistle Club go into recess," said Mr A. C. Mackie. "The Thistle players could go to any other club. It is no use turning up with seven players."

A motion was carried expressing appreciation of the action of the Thistle Club in fielding a team earlier in the season and then being prepared to go into recess to enable other clubs to field full teams.

Lower Grade Is Sought

FINEST CHEESE

By Telegraph—Press Association. PALMERSTON N., June 15.

A conference of delegates of cheese factories in the Wairarapa, Hawke's Bay, Manawatu and Taranaki districts passed a resolution that the Government lower the grade for the guaranteed price to 91.92 as one way of securing the 2d. per pound premium over butter.

It was pointed out that conditions this year had been against cheese companies. While finest butter had increased by 10 per cent., finest cheese was down by 1 per cent., while there was also twice as much second grade.

It was also decided to ask exemption from heavy traffic fees where cart and from the farm. Farmers' lorries are used only to limit storage of cheese to 28 days, or alternatively, that the additional costs be refunded to the companies. It was contended that if the Government desired to have cheese stores in order to spread shipments, the companies should not bear all that expense.

These requests will be placed by a deputation before the Hon. W. Nash, Minister of Marketing.

Near British Ship

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 15, 8 p.m.)

LONDON, June 15.

After a four days' lull the war on neutral shipping has been resumed, says the Valencia correspondent of the London "News Chronicle."

Insurgent planes three times raided Dania and again set fire to the French steamer Brisbane, on which two Britishers were killed on June 9. Other bombs fell near the British steamer Thurston. Three were killed and 20 wounded.

The repeated raids on towns and villages caused numbers of casualties among civilians, refugees from Castellon. Eight hundred bombs were dropped in the last 36 hours.

A Sagunto message says that planes raided Nules, creating devastation in the town and killing 29.

The insurgent warships Canarias and Almirante Cervera shelled Castellon, a portion of which the Republicans are still desperately defending.

BRADMAN UNBEATEN AT 144 AFTER SIX HOURS' INNINGS

First Test Ends In Draw: Crowd Barracks Australians For Their Caution

United Press Association—Copyright. LONDON, June 14.

The first cricket Test ended in a draw. Bradman stonewalled throughout the day, batting 360 minutes for 144 not out. Even when a draw was inevitable, he refused to abandon his caution. Possibly he had the secondary motive of discouraging the English bowlers for future Tests.

Scores were:—England, 658 for eight wickets, declared; Australia, first innings 411, second 427 for six wickets.

The Bradman-Brown partnership was worth 100 in 125 minutes. Brown, with a four through the slips, reached his second Test century in 270 minutes.

Two rock-like hours before lunch had reduced Australia's deficit to 48 and had reduced the danger of defeat to a minimum. Two hundred came up after lunch after 285 minutes. Repeated bowling changes were made, but the batsmen continued unperturbed.

At 2.55 Australia drew level with England. Bradman, feeling that restraint could be safely lifted, began to hit out. He scored two consecutive fours from Verity. Then, in attempting another pull in the same over, he was easily caught at line leg. He batted for 320 minutes and hit 13 fours in a conscientious and skilful innings.

As 34 hours remained to play, Bradman continued his stern defence. The wicket deteriorated him from venturing his normal run-getting pace. McCabe, after opening quietly, hooked Wright twice to the square-leg boundary. Barnett, England's seventh bowler, was given a trial, but his one over yielded 10. McCabe was beaten by Verity's leg-break and was caught in the slips.

Bradman, after one of the slowest and most praised innings of his career, reached his century in 255 minutes, thus beating Hobbs' record of 12 centuries in Tests.

Hasset was brilliantly caught, Compton diving from silly mid-on. Bradman was most uncomfortable. He was beaten by an off-break nipping from the pitch.

Australia, with five wickets in hand, were 122 ahead, and, with only 80 minutes remaining, were then out of the match. A draw was inevitable the crowd expected more liveliness and mildly barracked Bradman, who declined to continue until it ceased.

Bradman strained a leg, but his batting was not affected. He again withdrew from the wicket when barracking broke out as Verity was about to begin an over.

By slaming Wright to the square-leg fence, Barnett raised 400 after 470 minutes. His 31 runs were made in 50 minutes.

Even after batting for six hours, Bradman declined to take any risk. Perina it was intended as a demonstration to discourage the bowlers in future Tests. For the past hour there had been nothing at stake.

Stumps were drawn at 6.15 p.m. Apparently the captain had agreed to cease play a quarter of an hour early.

The Australians' innings lasted 505 minutes. Bradman batted for 360 minutes and hit only five fours. It was a chanceless innings of prodigious defence and restraint. He won his war of attrition against the bowlers.

GREAT TRADING FIRM FOOTS BILL FOR WAR IN CHINA

Most Powerful Financier In The World: Cathay's Market His Aim

"Daily Mail" Special Correspondent—By Air Mail. Japan's war bill is mounting. That empire, easily the poorest of the five great Powers, has spent 10 billion yen (approximately £600,000,000) to date in the effort to wipe China off the map.

Where does all this money come from? Not from taxation, for all attempt to balance Japan's budgets has been abandoned, and to-day nearly 10/- in every pound spent is borrowed money, not from foreign loans, for at the moment Wall Street, the City of London, and other money markets are keeping their purses tight shut to the Japanese.

To solve the mystery of how it is done, one must look at the other end of the financial scale. For this nation is not only a land of small incomes; it is also a land of monopolies and big business.

GREAT RANGE OF INTERESTS

Merely to list the range of business interests controlled by that one amazing family, composed of 11 different branches, headed by 50-year-old Baron Takakimi Mitsui, is to unfold a fairy tale in real life.

Seventeen main companies and nearly 90 subsidiary companies form the vast complex chain of enterprises which constitute the Mitsui "kingdom." Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, the main company controlling the Mitsui fortune, is capitalised for a modest £20,000,000.

Here are a few interesting facts—They control 5.5 per cent of all the banking within the Japanese Empire; 17 per cent of its insurance business and 4 per cent of its

HAWKE'S BAY ART GALLERY

ANNUAL MEETING OF SOCIETY MORE VISITORS Two Thousand Articles Catalogued

"Attendances throughout the year have steadily increased, especially amongst the schools, and there is no doubt that the Art Gallery and Museum is taking its rightful place as an educational institution."

During the year a very large number of exhibits had been received, and about 2000 articles had been catalogued, the report stated.

Thanks to Auckland. The committee had to again thank the Auckland Museum for help in various ways, notably the visit of Mr. V. F. Fisher (ethnologist), also L. D. Dominion Museum for help with the setting up of birds, for a fine collection of native birds, and for the gift of three more large display cases.

The membership was reported to be 175. The centre portion of the building was opened on March 23, 1937, and the space provided by that portion had greatly facilitated the handling and display of both pictures and museum exhibits.

Increasing numbers were making use of the Carnegie Art Library, which was a valuable asset to the district.

Statement of Finances. The statement of the finances showed that receipts for the year included the building grant of £850 and the equipment grant of £302 10/6 from the Carnegie Corporation, the Napier Borough Council's grant of £250, and members' subscriptions of £121/10/6.

The six retiring members of the council (Messdames F. N. Harvey and W. P. Mitchell and Messrs A. B. Hurst, L. Theakstone, J. Tattersall, and J. L. Moore) were re-elected.

The other members of the council are Messdames C. V. Brown, B. Thomson, Misses K. Leithead and R. Clark, and Messrs L. F. Bestall and S. H. Hole.

Mr N. Kettle, vice-presidents, the Hon. W. E. Barnard, M.P., and Messrs W. A. G. Penlington, M. S. Spence, T. M. Geddis, T. Parker and T. W. Hercock; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mrs C. V. Brown; hon. auditor, Mr C. D. Wilson.

The first two-unit State houses at Hastings are now completed. A number of further State houses in the town are nearing completion and it is expected that these will be ready for tenants within the next week.

LESSON FROM FLOODS Dangers Brought Before Public Eye

Lessons taught by the recent floods in Hawke's Bay, the need for remedial measures and the general seriousness of the problem throughout the rest of New Zealand, were matters dealt with by Mr E. S. West, a master of the Napier Boys' High School, in a most interesting lecture to members of the Napier Towns Women's Guild at their monthly luncheon in Blythe's Tearooms, yesterday.

There were present a large number of members, hostesses of the luncheon being Mrs H. Wilson. The many small tables were artistically arranged with crystal vases of spring bulbs and maidenhair fern.

Mr West said that flood damage was of wide occurrence in New Zealand and the reason was to be found partly in the climatic conditions prevailing in this country and man's folly in allowing the country to be completely denuded of vegetation.

Under natural conditions sheet erosion was continually taking place on the plains, but that was compensated by weathering and decay. That natural balance had been upset by the effect of cultivation.

Referring to erosion in gullies, Mr West said that that was accelerated by deforestation and cultivation. This kind of erosion resulted in the loss of good soil and slips destroying land, houses, roads, fences and bridges.

The control of river erosion, which was an engineering problem, was not in any way a cure for the trouble and the extent to which engineers' plans were confounded by changed conditions was indicated by the number of new bridges required from time to time all over the country.

Steps should be taken to prevent the further deforestation and cultivation in regions where the river systems rise. For instance, the burning of areas that have been milled should not be permitted and farms should not be effectively farmed should not be planted with trees.

What was necessary was the restoration of the natural balance between erosion and weathering. Man was no longer ignorant of these facts but he continued in the old way in defiance of knowledge and nature.

Mrs Bruce Barnett proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr West for his splendid lecture.

HASTINGS FIRE BOARD CONCERN VOICED

Remit to Brigade Conference

"Our costs have increased considerably and therefore they should be faced by the Government," said the chairman (Mr G. A. Maddison) at the quarterly meeting of the Hastings Fire Board yesterday.

When the change was made to Thursday half-holiday, there had been some doubt about its success.

Just in the way that this had been accepted, the people had made up their minds to accept the Saturday half-holiday. The town now offered the opportunities for even further advancement.

Statistics showed that Hawke's Bay had the lowest death rate in the Dominion, the longest annual sunshine, the highest fruit yields, the heaviest fleeces of wool, the highest stock-carrying capacity and the largest stock market in New Zealand—Stortford Lodge.

MAYOR'S SPEECH

New Half-Holiday Carnival

The great productivity, and the business potentialities of Hawke's Bay and Hastings were referred to by the Mayor of Hastings (Mr G. A. Maddison) when opening the retailers' carnival to celebrate the change over to the new half-holiday yesterday afternoon.

Telephone Lines Brought Down By Storm

Services Interrupted Between Napier and the North

Effect of Snow

Communication With Wairoa and Taupo Is Lost

The telephone service between Napier and Wairoa and between Napier and Taupo was interrupted for several hours on Tuesday.

Communication with Wairoa was lost at 9 a.m. when two poles came down about a mile on the Napier side of the Devil's Elbow, where slips have done considerable damage to the country.

There was also minor trouble at Lake Tutira. The connection was restored again at 1 p.m.

A heavy fall of snow on the high country traversed by the lines to Taupo brought down the wires for some considerable damage to the communication was lost at 7.30 a.m. on Tuesday and was restored about 4 p.m.

The lines to Taupo are of considerable importance because they carry the main telephone and telegraphic traffic north from Napier. While the interruption continued traffic to Auckland was diverted through the main trunk system.

There was a slight application of the brakes, as though the driver were easing up, he said. He did not consider that this application was due to the snapping of the Westinghouse brake hose.

To Mr C. G. Watson (appearing for the Engineers' Association), witness said that within reason he knew every curve and every mile of that section of the line, and he was aware that when the train was a few chains from the curve near Ratana to him the speed appeared normal.

Mr Watson—If the train had been rushing at an excessive speed to ward this curve you would have noticed it?

INQUIRY INTO RATANA TRAIN SMASH RESUMED

"Nothing Abnormal About Speed," Says A Passenger

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 15.

Passengers who were on the train which was derailed near Ratana on March 26 gave evidence when the inquiry into the smash was resumed to-day.

They were closely questioned as to the speed at which the train was travelling.

Patrick Gleeson, of Island Bay, gave it as 25 to 30 miles an hour, and Robert Gadd estimated it as 40, adding that it might have reached 45.

James Arthur Lattimer, in evidence, said that just prior to the smash the train appeared to be gradually slowing, but there had been nothing abnormal about the speed prior to that.

Witness got into the cab and lifted the driver by the right thigh, as his left thigh was injured. He put him on top of the tender, from which place he was lifted down by others.

The fireman's first question when he met witness was, "What happened?" People near the cab were talking about the speed, and the fireman must have heard it, but said nothing about the speed.

Hector Dawbin Bushby said he estimated the speed of the train at the time of the crash to be 25 miles an hour.

Jean Ivy Sinclair, tailor, Wellington, stated that she found the fireman lying on the bank badly injured. After receiving a stimulant he revived. She placed her suitcase under his head, and put a borrowed overcoat over him.

A passenger drew her aside and told her the fireman was not supposed to be on the engine as he was on holiday, and she was afraid he would get into trouble.

The fireman asked her if he was in "civvies," and if the suitcase and overcoat were his. To ease his mind, in view of the fact that she thought he would not live long, she told him "yes," though he was in dungarees and the suitcase and overcoat were not his.

He asked was he travelling, and she thought he meant "was he travelling?" She told him that there was a stone on the line, as he was not in a condition to be told about the accident.

Repeated questioning by members of the board and counsel as to whether the fireman was not wandering in his mind or was a little delirious, witness replied in the negative.

There was nothing exceptional about the running of the train from Tairāhira to the point of derailment, said Harry William Bish, a leading futurist for the Railways Department on the Wellington section, who boarded the excursion train at Marton. He said that the speed along Ratana Flat was normal.

There was a slight application of the brakes, as though the driver were easing up, he said. He did not consider that this application was due to the snapping of the Westinghouse brake hose.

Change in Friday and Saturday Screening Times

A very popular screening at the above two Theatres has been the Saturday 4.45 p.m. "Shoppers" Session. Due to the change in the half-holiday and late shopping night, it is realised that no purpose would be now served in continuing with this session on a Saturday, and it has therefore been decided by the respective Managements of the Regent and State Theatres to present the Shoppers' 4.45 p.m. Session for this week on the FRIDAY, with only the one Afternoon Session on the Saturday. Remember the times — Friday Afternoon, 2.15 and 4.45; Saturday Afternoon, 2.15 only.*

OVERWEAR and Underwear

... in the modes of to-day and to-morrow

The Ladies of Hastings and District are indeed well favoured by the excellence of their shopping facilities, and their appreciation is fully recognised by these progressive retailers.

Here are examples of distinctive and fashionable apparel which typify the enterprising policy of these attractive stores. Their unflinching service is at your command.

CARNIVAL IN HASTINGS HAS OPENED!

Hastings yesterday wore the cloak of gala time for the first day of the shopping carnival being held to welcome the change-over to a new half-holiday.

There was a spirit of festivity abroad such as one usually sees only on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve. Huge crowds thronged the streets, and the opening attractions of the carnival were an unprecedented success. The crowd in the street was the largest seen in the town in the daytime for many a long day.

Now that the half-holiday has been changed to Saturday for the first time in history, the town and country have combined to make it a worthy undertaking—reflecting both on the reputation of Hawke's Bay as one of the most thriving business areas of New Zealand, and on the willingness and co-operation forthcoming in the people to accept a new state of affairs, and carry this through to the most successful possible conclusion.

The attractions yesterday included a fine mannequin display at the Cosy Theatre, a parade through the streets of cars, and the launching of competitions which promise great success.

Also noticeable was the painstaking care of the retailers of the town to make their window displays as attractive as possible. The shops were an undoubted credit to the town.

FINE PROGRAMME TO-DAY BIG GALA DANCE TO BE HELD CAR PROCESSION

To-day's programme for the carnival promises to be even more attractive than yesterday's. The programme will, as yesterday, begin at 2 p.m. when an even more elaborate mannequin parade will be presented by Hastings retailers in the Cosy Theatre.

To-day's Events

- 2 p.m.—Mannequin Parade at Cosy Theatre.
- 3 p.m.—Parade of Latest Motor Cars.
- 8 p.m.—Grand Gala Dance at Assembly Hall. Provincial Waltzing and Foxtrot Championships.

Very Successful Competitions FINE RESPONSE More Mystery Envelopes To-day "UGLY MAN" CONTEST

The mystery envelope competition being run by the Hastings Carnival Committee was most popular with the large crowds yesterday. From the time the envelopes were first released for sale there was a fine demand for them, and they sold at promises to be larger and the parading of the new models of all makes through the streets, which proved of great public interest to the crowds yesterday, will undoubtedly attract just as much public attention. It is reported that the parade to-day will be even greater than yesterday. This is timed to begin at 3 p.m.

The main attraction of the day, however, will be the grand gala dance to be held in the Assembly Hall beginning at 8 p.m. The most important feature will be the holding of the Hawke's Bay provincial

Retailers Are Thanked

Appreciation of the response of the retailers to the carnival and their efforts to make it a worthy success, was expressed by Mr G. E. G. Rogers on behalf of the Hastings Carnival Committee last evening. He also thanked the Press for the publicity given to the carnival.

championships for waltz and foxtrot. Four attractive trophies for the winners of these competitions are at present being displayed in the window of H. B. Poppelwell and Co. in Russell Street. Consolation prizes will also be offered. Both the "Ugly Man Competition" and the sale of mystery envelopes will be continued to-day. These are proving tremendously popular attractions. The Fire Brigade Display on Friday evening will begin at 7 o'clock.

FLOODS IN CHINESE RIVER ARMY IN PERIL Japanese Invasion May Be Halted

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 16, 1.30 a.m.)

SHANGHAI, June 15. There is no definite information as to how many Japanese soldiers perished in the Yellow River floods.

The Japanese consider that the repair of the dykes is impossible owing to the rapidity of the current and the continuous rain.

Railway experts point out that the maximum normal flooding comes at the end of July, and freely predict a major catastrophe.

Over six miles of clay roads had been metalled during the year. Severe flood damage had occurred on the Elsthorpe and Pourerere Coast roads, and the Cook's Tooth road was badly scoured.

On the motion of Cr. Longley, seconded by Cr. J. D. Ormond, Mr. A. C. Pattison was re-elected chairman for the ensuing year.

The need for nurses to live away from the hospital owing to the shortage of accommodation at the Nurse's Home at Waipukurau gave rise to some discussion at yesterday's meeting of the Waipawa Hospital Board.

The provision of additional staff was stated by the Medical Superintendent, Dr. W. B. Fisher, to be imperative, and the Finance Committee recommended that in order to provide accommodation for additional pupil-nurses members of the senior staff should be required to live out, and be granted an allowance of £100 per annum for this purpose.

Mr. N. G. Hawthorn expressed the opinion that the arrangement would not prove satisfactory. They would be paying a large boarding allowance, and when they wished to revert to the present system there would be difficulty in doing so.

Other members assured Mr. Hawthorn that the nurses themselves were not desirous of living out, and that the amount proposed to be paid was not excessive.

After some discussion it was decided to go into committee. When the board resumed in one meeting it was decided on the motion of Mr. D. W. Neild to amend the Finance Committee's recommendation as follows: "That the medical superintendent be authorised to engage, and be granted an allowance of £100 per annum, less 9d for meals supplied, or by leasing satisfactory premises adjacent to the hospital."

INCREASE IN RATING CANNOT BE AVOIDED

Patangata County Council's Annual Review Of Progress

WAIPUKURAU. The position of the Patangata County was rather better than last year, although the liabilities were heavier, stated the chairman (Mr C. Pattison) in his report, presented at the annual meeting of the council on Tuesday.

There were also present: Councillors H. Parsons, W. T. Kittow, J. D. Ormond, jun., A. McGaffin, B. E. O. Nilsson, A. W. S. Longley, C. R. Edgecombe, G. F. McHardy, and Mr J. C. McLachlan (engineer) and Mr J. W. Elliott (clerk).

Ratepayers had assisted by paying 97.65 per cent. of rates due by the end of March, in spite of the fact that values were at a much lower level than the previous year, the report continued. The general rate this year had been increased by 3-16d, of which the harbour rate accounted for 1-16d. Both the harbour and hospital rates had been increased, and in view of the fact that the bulk of the sealing work proposed next year had not been done, and would be a charge on this year's funds, the increase was unavoidable.

Over six miles of clay roads had been metalled during the year. Severe flood damage had occurred on the Elsthorpe and Pourerere Coast roads, and the Cook's Tooth road was badly scoured. Progress was being made with the work, but an inspection during the past week showed that there was still much damage to be repaired.

On the motion of Cr. Longley, seconded by Cr. J. D. Ormond, Mr. A. C. Pattison was re-elected chairman for the ensuing year. Cr. R. H. White was appointed deputy-chairman. Cr. Hardy was elected to the chairmanship of the Pourerere Domain Board.

The Sheppeworth's Union forwarded a circular to local bodies referring to the nuisance of sheep-worrying by dogs, which was stated to be increasing. Some counties did not compile registers of dogs, said Cr. Edgecombe, and there were many strays that were a menace. Compulsory registration would also be of assistance in combating the hydatid disease.

A resolution supporting the union's recommendations for control was passed. The Main Highways Board advised that they were not prepared to pay the cost of lighting on the Waipukurau traffic bridge. It was a matter for the local authorities to decide among themselves.

DANNEVIRKE HAS BIG SPORTING PROGRAMME

Comment On The Representative Senior Team To Play Manawatu

DANNEVIRKE. Dannevirke faces a big sporting week-end. Representative games are to be played on Saturday, as well as "Possible" and "Probable" games in both Rugby and hockey. Manawatu is to play a senior Rugby representative team at Rugby Park, and the selectors of the New Zealand ladies' hockey team will be busy at the Domain, selecting the team to represent the Dominion against the touring English team. Junior grade selections will also take place in both sports.

With J. Bassett as full back, Dannevirke football supporters can rest assured that they have the best man available, for he is thoroughly conversant with his position, having previously represented Hawke's Bay.

A Borlase, A. O'Brien and R. Miller are the best three-quarters in the local clubs and they should do their share for the district. All are moderately fast players, and their attacking and defensive powers are good.

The two five-eighths, P. Himona and W. Edwards will prove a penetrating force equal to any in the competition. As they have played together all this season they will know what to expect from one another—good fast movements.

Y. Walker is an ideal half back. The three front row forwards, A. Benge, W. Bassett and D. Gollan, are very fast, at the same time having enough weight to keep the opposing forwards in check.

The local club will run from Mr C. R. Redward's home at Tiratu on Saturday, when a good muster of members is expected.

OIL-BORING EXPERTS ARE WELL SATISFIED

The Company Has "The Last Word In Drilling Rigs"

"Daily Mail" Special Service. GISBORNE, June 15.

Another practical indication of activities in oil research in Poverty Bay was the arrival yesterday of five American experts, Messrs Hobart Le Mar, drilling superintendent; G. J. Baker, R. L. Kuss, S. H. Dykes, oil drillers; and C. P. Donald, drill rigger.

Mr Le Mar said that the company had the last word in drilling rigs and that no time would be wasted in getting to work. With such gear there could be no doubt that the field round Gisborne would be thoroughly explored.

The power for drilling and lifting could be provided by three 200 h.p. Diesel engines.

Oil boring activities were referred to to-day at a meeting of the Cook County Council, when a letter was received from Messrs Nolan and Skeet on behalf of the New Zealand Petroleum Co., Ltd., stating that the largest single lift for the Totangi site would be 29,460 lbs.

The chairman (Mr W. G. Sherratt) said that the company's operations would have to be carefully watched and not allowed to endanger the roads. Loads would range up to 13 tons, plus the weight of the vehicle.

In reply to a comment by Cr. J. E. Benson that the chairman was going to "hang the company up and perhaps stop them," Mr Sherratt said that the interests of the ratepayers must be considered. The council was not going to be hard on the company.

The engineer was instructed to watch the position carefully.

ACCLIMATISATION SOCIETY SURPLUS OF £522 Year's Working Reviewed

"From the income and expenditure account it will be seen that the actual surplus on the year's working amounts to £522 18s. 5d., which must be considered satisfactory," states the annual report of the council of the Hawke's Bay Acclimatisation Society, which will be presented to the annual meeting on June 28.

"As will be seen from the statement of receipts and payments, the receipts from all sources amounted to £1692 6/7, while the cash payments totalled £1346 3/2, leaving an improvement in the cash position of £346 3/5," continues the report. "This compares with an excess of £222 9/3 in the previous year or an improvement of £123 14/2 on last year's cash surplus. The sum of £100 was paid off the mortgage during the year."

"The membership stands at 131, an improvement on last year's numbers. An additional plant has been added to the game farm, and the whole of the first-class order. A total of 200,000 rainbow-cod were purchased from the Government Hatchery, and 250,000 broyed on from the North Canterbury Acclimatisation Society. Good results were obtained by the rainbow oval, but the brown oval was not satisfactory."

"During the year 302 birds were liberated, a large increase. Some difficulty was experienced with the electric incubator at the hatching period, with the result that a large percentage of birds were lost just at the pipping stage. This matter is being thoroughly investigated with the hope that the difficulty will be overcome next year."

"Members will be conversant, from the news of the regulations governing the open season for imported and native game. A short open season of one week for paradise duck (with a limit of two ducks per day) was again agreed to by the Minister of Internal Affairs, and from reports received it would appear that these birds are still on the increase, due to the protection afforded them over a period of many years. Grey duck are again very plentiful, but reports regarding quail are again not so encouraging."

"The society is grateful to those members who assisted in the liberation of pheasants in the outlying areas, and also to those who, by their consideration, protected the birds during the first season and thus enabled them to breed."

"Your council desires to express its appreciation of the untiring efforts at the hatchery and game farm of the society's curator, Mr F. D. Robson. Also to Mrs Robson and Miss Robson, for their co-operation and assistance," the report concludes.

CRITICISM OF THE GOVERNMENT NATIONAL PARTY'S VIEWS PRICE PROBLEMS Norsewood Address by Organiser DANNEVIRKE. "Prosperity comes from the people, not the Government," said Mr. C. L. Barker, organiser for the National Party, when speaking in the Norsewood Town Hall. Injections were numerous. He outlined the system of organisation at present being employed in the party's activities.

"They talk of prosperity in New Zealand," said Mr Barker, "but if the overseas prices had not risen Mr Savage would have had a very hard time. Mr Fraser admits that his Government had nothing to do with the last slump of the present boom. But is there a boom here? Prices have risen beyond all proportion, and secondary industries will shortly have to cease operations, putting thousands of men out of work."

"Now about £12,000,000 has left the country in the past two years, Mr. Nash is raising the exchange—no lowering it as originally intended," Mr Barker contended. "A wise government could ease the burden of depression by employing men of Public Works instead of wasting in good times."

STORE WETHERS DOWN 1/- TO 2/- AT STORTFORD

All-Round Easing Yesterday

FAT CATTLE FALL FURTHER 10% IN DULL SALE

Fat Ewes Drop 2/-, But Wethers Firm

Values for all classes of stock showed an easing tendency at the weekly Stortford Lodge sale yesterday, in spite of only average-sized yardings. Fat cattle failed to hold even the level set in the last two weeks, and average quality lines declined a further 10% in value in another slow sale. A small yarding of store cattle met with a slow sale in sympathy, and values remained at the lower rates ruling in recent weeks.

An easier tone was also in evidence in the store and fat sheep sales, and in the store section wethers dropped from 1/- to 2/- a head. Fat ewes predominated in the fat section and a further drop of from 1/6 to 2/- was registered. Fat wethers and hoggets sold at last week's rates.

In spite of the cold weather and occasional showers, there was a fair attendance of farmers.

STORE SHEEP

Wethers dropped fully 1/- to 2/- a head on recent rates in a sheep sale which, with the exception of hoggets, showed a definite easing tone. The sale was conducted under cold, wintry conditions and after the larger lots had been sold the attendance thinned and only a few remained to follow the later stages.

Of the pens containing 50 or more, the top price for wethers was 22/9 and even if allowance is made for the lower quality entry this falls far short of the prices of last week.

The top priced pen of 180 sold on account of Moana Farm were well woolled and the sheep were in fair forward condition. Hawksworth Station sold two lines of wethers: one of 111, for 21/9 and the other of 186, which were a little smaller, for 20/6. A nice line of good conditioned Southdown cross wethers ran up 22/3 but were passed at this figure while a fine pen of beautiful woolled half bred cross wethers made 22/4. One hundred and five on account of J. D. Ormond, jun., also made 22/4.

There were again no lines of ewe hoggets forward but wether hoggets met with a good sale. A line of 92 were passed in at 19/8 but 216 on account of Noel Jamieson (Onga Onga) found a buyer at 19/-. These were very nice healthy, well woolled hoggets. Forty-six forward from Te Aute Station made 17/2 while one of the best pens of hoggets yarded yesterday—a pen of 26 on account of John Williams (Waimarama) sold late in the afternoon—made 17/8. Others of the same property made 17/6.

Several lines of ewes were forward from the Hon. H. A. Russell, Apley Station. One hundred and seventy-three five year old ewes made 22/6, 62 six year ewes made 21/- and 52 small, light conditioned 2-tooths, made 26/-. Te Aute Station sold 151 5 and 6-year ewes, mated with rams on February 10, for 4/9. This line were showing well in lamb and some of the ewes were springing.

Many of the remaining lots were unattractive but most of them found buyers.

FAT SHEEP

The general easing in fat ewes, which has been noticeable over the past month, was continued yesterday when prices fell a further 1/6 to 2/-. The bulk of the 1000 sheep entered in the fat section were ewes and many of the lines were passed while some which were obviously in lamb, were bought for lambing down.

A line from Kereru Station gives some indication of the market. Lines have been coming forward regularly from Kereru during the past few

Beef Values Down

WESTFIELD SALE

Rates For Sheep Are Maintained

By Telegraph—Press Association.

AUCKLAND, June 15.

A heavy supply of cattle resulted in an all-round reduction in beef values at Westfield to-day. Steers receded on an average of 25/- a head and cows up to 30/-. Quotations were lower by 1/- to 3/8 per 100 lb. Similar values have not ruled since January.

Extra choice ox beef sold at 38/- per 100 lb., choice and prime at 33/- to 37/-, secondary and unfinished 26/- to 30/-, prime cow and heifer beef 30/-, plain and unfinished 22/9 to 30/-; extra heavy prime steers 13 to 15/15/-, heavy 11/10/- to 12/15/-, medium 10 to 11/17/6, light 8/10/- to 10/12/6, unfinished 5/5/- to 8/-; extra heavy prime cows and heifers 9/10/- to 10/7/6, heavy 8 to 9/5/-, medium 7 to 8/-, light 5 to 6/17/6, unfinished 4 to 4/17/6.

Sheep were again offered in large numbers at values on a par with the previous sale. Choice fat stock was limited and realised the firmest rates. The demand for plainer and store sheep was comparatively slack. Extra heavy prime wethers 35/6 to 36/-, 33/- to 35/-, medium 30/- to 32/6, light 27/- to 29/3, unfinished 23/- to 26/9; extra heavy prime ewes 25/- to 27/-, heavy 25/- to 24/9, medium 20/- to 23/6, light 14/- to 19/-, unfinished 3/- to 13/6.

An increased supply of lambs also realised late rates, the quality being patchy. Choicest grades made 17/- to 27/-, smaller and unfinished 10/- to 18/-.

Dull competition once more marked the sale of a smaller entry of calves, although values showed no further decline and tended to improve slightly in some cases. Runners £2 to 4/19/-, heavy vealers £3 10/- to 4/17/-, medium £3 to 4/1/-, light £2/8/- to 3/4/-, smaller £1/3/- to 2/2/6, unfinished and bucket-fed 18/- to 1/12/-, bobby and rough 4/- to 16/-.

Pig values were fully firm, porkers being in the strongest demand. The market was not fully supplied and the quality was generally good. Choppers £1/10/- to £3/16/-, heavy baconers 4/5/- to 4/13/-, medium 3/18/- to 4/3/-, light 3/5/- to 4/15/-, heavy porkers 2/15/- to 3/4/-, medium 3/6/- to 2/13/-, light 2 to 2/5/-, smaller and unfinished 1 5/- to 1/18/-, large stores 18/- to 1/6/-, slips 10 to 16/-, weaners 8/- to 14/-, Baconers averaged 62d lb. and porkers 62d to 61d.

Monthly Record Exceeded

PHOSPHATE TOTALS

Shipments to N.Z. and Australia

Dominion's Imports

Increase Compared With Year Ago

With the shipping of 153,000 tons of phosphate last month from Nauru and Ocean Islands, the previous monthly record was easily exceeded," said Sir Albert Ellis, New Zealand Commissioner on the British Phosphate Commission, interviewed in Auckland recently. Sir Albert estimated that for the year ending on June 30 exports would reach the record total of 1,200,000 tons.

More than 80 per cent. of the phosphate was imported into Australia and New Zealand, said Sir Albert, and there was every prospect that the amounts would continue to increase. Over 1,000,000 tons were exported from the islands for the year ending June 30, 1937, an output which surpassed the previous annual record by 140,000 tons. "The Dominion imports for the current year have exceeded 300,000 tons," he continued, "and Australia has taken nearly three times as much."

New machinery was installed at Nauru last year to facilitate the production and export of the phosphate. Demand had continued to increase to such an extent, said Sir Albert, that it had been decided to make a further material increase to the plant at Nauru.

BIG SUB. CLOVER IMPORTATION

Official Figures

SUFFICIENT TO SOW 250,000 ACRES

Large Increase Shown

The arresting feature in the statistical returns of small seeds exported and imported is the value of the subterranean clover seed imported during the year ended 1937. This amounted to 7,513 cwt. valued at £52,565. In previous years the value was so small that the item was included in the general heading of "other clovers."

At an average seeding of from 3lb. to 4lb. to the acre the quantity brought into the country would sow approximately 250,000 acres, and as it was understood some time ago that seed was difficult to obtain it may be a fair assumption that well on to this area has been sown.

Apart from the imports of rape, kale, turnip, and swede seed, the value of which was £52,599, the total seed imports were valued at £87,904, so that subterranean clover represents a dominating proportion of the total. Turnip and swede seed figures were £37,164, much the largest item next to subterranean.

The working of completing the colonnade fronting the south shell on the Marine Parade, Napier, is to be started immediately. The contractors for the work, as announced, will be Messrs W. M. Angus Ltd., the tender accepted being £780. The efforts of the Napier Thirty Thousand Club have made possible the completion of the colonnade.

The colonnade will extend to a point near the Kirk sundial, when completed, and will include two new arches, one of a similar type to the Harold Latham Memorial Arch and another of a larger type, which is to be placed immediately in front of the Veronica Bay.

It is probably that the larger arch will be named the New Napier Arch, although this is not yet set. The smaller arch will be the Robert C. Wright Arch.

The scheme will be completed before next summer.

For every 10 vacancies for resident domestic servants registered at London labour exchanges, only one girl could be found to accept such work.

EARLY REVIEW OF SATURDAY'S PROSPECTS

Good Fields Engaged For Second Day At Hastings

(By CHILDERS)

Keen racing is assured for the second day of the Hawke's Bay Jockey Club's meeting on Saturday, for uniformly good fields are engaged throughout.

Should both Morning Flight and Proclamation, who will be bracketed, be produced in the Hastings Trial, they are likely to be sought after.

The field for the Hawke's Bay Hurdles is a very fine one. Small Boy and Soho made impressive winning debuts as hurdlers at Napier Park on last Saturday.

A big field is down to contest the Havelock Handicap, but if Gold Ballad is started he will be a prime fancy for he seems above the average.

John Charles should be all the better for his race at Napier Park and must go very well in the June Steeplechase.

Gold Ballad is again engaged in the Rotopai Handicap and will be in demand if reserved for this event.

W. G. PARK STEEPLCHASE, of £450; about two and a half miles.—All Irish 11.5, Windsor Lad 11.4, and Atkins back in the saddle will make a difference to the first-mentioned. Seyfried, Red Cockade and Mahutai are handy sorts.

Napier Park form points to Umpire in the Corinthian Plate, although his preparation has been interrupted during the past week.

A winner at his last two starts in hack company, Jazz Boy must be given an excellent chance of making a successful debut in the open ranks for the Final Handicap field is not a good-class one.

Rising two-year-olds in Riccarton stables already number more than 20, so that that centre is expected to present again a formidable force for early racing.

The four under the charge of F. D. Jones are Night Shift, a sister to Viking, a colt by Excitement from Calicite and a colt by Myosotis from Moorbird.

The Auckland jockey H. N. Wiggins left by the Niagara on Tuesday on an extended tour, which will include Honolulu, Canada and the United States.

The pedigree of the Derby winner Bois Roussel are three strains of St. Simon. On his sire's side the St. Simon strain comes to him through Chaucer and Sanctuary.

Valpeen, who is farm-trained by his owner, Mr G. Campbell, at Okoroire, near Matamata, is by Valkyrian from a mare whose breeding is shrouded in mystery.

As a two-year-old the future jumping star was broken to saddle, and later worked in chains and in a wagon team.

Valpeen has never been in the hands of a professional trainer, and when it is desired to give him a run on a proper track he walks 12 miles each way to Matamata.
