Mr Dunsford, according to the British United Press correspondent, was attacked with a shotgun and native knives. An extensive jungle hunt is proceeding.

Mr Dunsford was aged 58. He was unmarried. He left New Zealand in 1908. He owned the Tersang gold mine. A solitary Chinese last Thursday attacked Mr F. N. Betheras, of Melbourne, manager of an Australian mine in Pahang State, and almost sliced off his ear. The assailant was shot dead by Mr Betheras, who, according to the British United Press correspondent, shot the Chinese in self-defence.

FIVE WAFDISTS IN CABINET

STRONG FORCE

Hold Important Posts

United Press Association-Copyright. (Received June 26, 9 p.m.) CAIRO, June 25.

Five dissident Wafdists, including their leader Ahmed Maher, have joined the reconstructed Egyptian Cabinet to give it a national character in view of the unsettled international situation. All have been allotted influential portfolios.

The Cairo correspondent of "The Times" conjectures that the dissidents will ultimately constitute the preponderating force in the Cabinet.

The Wafdists, whose leader is Nahas Pasha, are in opposition.

During an argument in the Magistrate's Court at Lumsden, about the killing of a dog, a witness (the plaintiff) became somewhat heated under cross-examination. "I'm a son of the soil," he told counsel. "Do we box with the gloves on or off?" The Magistrate (Mr R. C. Abernethy) intervened and said to the witness, "You answer the questions. I'll do the boxing."

A surprise move is the announcement by subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation of a pricecut on a wide range of products, varying from 10/- to £2 2/- a ton, or 6 to 17 per cent.

The Australian Associated Press says that with the saving of a follow-on practically assured Australia has gone a long way towards achieving a draw.

Had Brown and Barnett not shown such determination in the last half-hour, after the dismissal of the bowlers, an outright defeat might have threatened.

One of the features of the match was the good rate of scoring maintained by each side when the positive says that with the saving of a follow-on practically assured Australia has gone a long way towards achieving a draw.

The move is an effort to unlock prices on industrial products, including automobiles, and pave the way for a broad business revival throughout the country.

PARTY SPIIT IN

The English bowling as a whole did not appear any better than Australia's, though long hops and full tosses by the English bowlers were less flagrant.

The English fielding was below the Nottingham standard. It did not equal that of Australia, which was remarkably consistent.

The attendance would doubtless have been twice as great had there been room. The M.C.C. takes the view common with English admin-

At lunch the brill ance of Hammond and the patience of Paynter had helped to offset Australia's advantage. Play resumed 10 minutes late after lunch, the teams having been introduced to the King, who was accompanied by Earl Baldwin, by Hammond and Bradman in front of the stand, after which Hammond called for cheers.

The batsmen continued to score at good rate. Hammond at 87, square-cut McCormick hard to point, where O'Reilly missed a difficult low left-hand catch. The rising anti-Semitic feeling throughout Mexico reached its climax with a demand by the Mexican Workers' Federation, the strongest Labour group, for the deportation of Jewish owners of small silk and rayon establishments, who are accused of responsibility for the crisis prevailing in the strike-bound silk and rayon industry.

The federation claimed that the majority of the Jewish population of 15,000 entered the country under false pretences, promising to become farmers. Instead, they became merchants, manufacturers and bankers.

BENEFIT OF MAORIS

Good Progress With Work On The Dwellings At Bridge Pa

The Maori dwellings at Bridge Pa, according to the Minister of Lands (the Hon. F. Langstone) and other authorities, will undoubtedly provide a fine example of the Maori Group Building Scheme being undertaken in various parts of the Dominion.

The scheme at Bridge Pa is for the benefit of landless Maoris and Maoris in receipt of pensions. Of a number of houses under construction, two dwellings are already nearing

Race For Young Trophy

TIME TRIAL EVENT

Brilliant Performance

By S. Hunt GREENDALE CLUB

An excellent field of 20 riders faced the starter for the Greendale Road Cycling Club's 24 mile timetrial and sealed handicap race for the Young Trophy held at Taradale on Saturday afternoon.

The performance of S. Hunt was outstanding. Riding a determined race he gathered in the field in great A total of £100,000 has been set aside from the Consolidated Fund to provide for the scheme in the Dominion. This money has been distributed to districts on a population basis and the various Maori Land Boards have been called on to carry the policy into effect.

In spite of their little trainable proficiency as carpenters under the guidance of a Hastings builder.

The Maoris are so intensely keen on the scheme that they have formatch for Hunt in this type of racing the field in great style and finished strongly to take first place as well as fastest time. This performance was a surprise as M. Lee and A. Lines were the favourites, but they were certainly no match for Hunt in this type of racing. Flunt's win is all the more match for Hunt in this type of racing. Hunt's win is all the more meritorious as this is his first season

The results were as follows:—S. Hunt (6min 45sec), 1hr 0min 31sec, 1; J. Anderson (7min 30sec), 1h 3m 39s, 2; J. E. Fleming (9min), 1h 3m 51 2-5s, 3; I. Newrick (7min 45sec), 1h 4m 6s, 4; R. Harbottle (9min), 1h 4m 38 2-5s, 5; E. Wells (4min 30sec), 1h 5m 17 3-5s, 6.

The following were the fastest times:—S. Hunt, lh 7m, 16s, 1; M. Lee (2min), lh 7m 57 2.5s, 2; A. Lines (2min 15sec), lh 9m 13 3.5s, 3; E. Wells (4min 30sec), lh 9m 47 3.5s, 4; J. R. Fleming (3min), lh 10m 9s, 5; G. Spivey (5min), lh 11m 31 1.5s, Rundle Rose Bowl.

CONVINCING ROLE BY SHIRLEY TEMPLE

'Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm"

Shirley Temple returned to Hastings again in the leading role of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," her best musical which opened on Saturday at the State Theatre, Hastings. The first star of the screen is supported by an able cast, and gay songs and dancing are a feature.

When radio appears down by the old mill stream it raises a crop of song and fun, with Randolph Scott and Gloria Stuart united in glorious romance, Jack Haley and Slim Summerville making merry, and "tapmerville making merry, and "tap-king" Bill Robinson and Shirley at tap-speed. Phyllis Brooks, Helen Westley, The Raymond Scott Quin-

Into all Monte Carlo's gaiety of this latest and best of Twentieth Century-Fox's Chan thrillers comes Charlie Chan and his Number One Son Keye Luke. They are greeted effusively at the Casino de Monte Carlo by the prefect of police.

The first rumblings of Death's roulette are under way at a table where Paul Savarin and Victor Karat Monte Carlo where Paul Savarin and Victor Kar noff are playing fortunes on the flip of a card. These two men, rival at chemin de fer as well as on the at chemin de ler as well as off the Bourse, later are to provide Charlie Chan with another annoying inter-ruption in his quest for a peaceful vacation. Karnoff's wife, his brother in-law, a mysterious English girl and one of the bartenders at the Casino sool become involved in a weird series of events. Missing bonds are found, just in time to be sent to Paris for a financial coup A million dollars in securities dis appears; the messenger is found slain, the bartender dies with the millions nearby, a key-witness chauffeur is murdered. And Charlie (Charled and Charles) Chan, along with No. 1 Son, lands in jail.

In the cast supporting Warner Oland are Keye Luke, Harold Huber, Virginia Field, Sidney Blackmer, Kay Linaker and Robert Kent.

The excellent supporting programme includes a comedy and travelogues, and is featured by scenes from the Esk Valley, and a "March of Time."

A Wedding At TWEEDS & WIDE-BRIMMED Blue Popular HATS AT DANNEVIRKE

Fur Coats Discarded As Grey Skies Give Place To Sunshine

Fortunately for the large attendance at the Dannevirke Hunt Club's winter meeting on Saturday, the early promise of dull weather was not fulfilled, and by the time the first race started grey clouds had given way to blue skies and brilliant sunshine

The womenfolk attended in large numbers and with the arrival of the sunshine, fur coats were discarded to show a variety of attractive two-piece suits in angora, tweed and flecked tweeds in many shades. Cinnamon, clover, brown, navy and electric blue were favourite colours.

Beautiful fur coats in the new swagger style were to be seen everywhere one looked. Wide-brimmed felt hats were the usual accompaniment of tweed suits, though toques were also in evidence. The lawn was wet under foot and low-heeled shoes were therefore the order of the day.

Seen enjoying the sunshine on the stand together were Mrs A. B. Stead (Hastings), Miss Connie Symes (Hastings) and Miss Rita Monckton. Mrs Stead was in a smart brown tweed costume. Over this she wore a brown musquash fur coat and her brown hat was of peach bloom felt.

A Wanganui visitor was Mrs Eric Brewer. Her black angora suit and tiny French black toque were very smart. She removed her smart musquash fur coat when the sun shone. Mrs V. Bicknell appeared in a brown tweed costume worn with an oyster satin blouse. Her fur stole and small fur felt hat were of brown to match.

The well-known film star Con- Charming Napier stance Bennett has won her case against an artist whom she accused of having painted an unflattering portrait of her. The artist, Willy Pogany, had claimed £875 for the portrait. Miss Bennett contended that the artist had given her the thighs of an Amazon, reddish hair, and too thick a waist. The arms also did not "match," she said. She declared that the artist had used his wife as a model. It was conceded that Madame Pogany was not so slim as Miss Bennett.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

"How Can One Keep a Family on £2 Odd a Week?"

Sir,—I was very sorry to read such a disagreeable letter as that by "A Satisfied Relief Worker." As I am another wife trying to manage on £2 odd I would be very glad if "A Satisfied Relief Worker" would tell me how he and his wife with two children manage to pay for rent, food, clothing, coal, etc. We also have two children and although we let rooms to help pay our rent I find it quite impossible to live on £2 2s. No doubt things are better for those getting the award wages, but those getting the award wages, but were it not for the kind help of friends and relatives we would in-deed be in a sorry plight.—I am, etc. "SYMPATHISER."

The Question of Employment and Dismissal

Sir,—I was sacked 18 months ago for being away without leave. No excuse was accepted. My reason for being away without leave is that it was raining on Wednesday when I came to town and did not clear till following Monday, when I returned. The overseer told me I had better finish up.

I came to town and tried to regis-what is done along similar lines in the public hospital there. "Every possible precaution known to human science is taken," said Dr. Foley. "The nurses are submitted to a strict medical examination before they are admitted for training and periodical examinations are made rom time to time while they are jected to an X-ray examination each year and their weight is checked regularly. In addition to watching attendances at meals it is also astatistical whether the property are ertained whether the nurses eating a sufficient quantity of food."

They want to find Something whose service is perfect freedom; Something which binds all lives together; which all can love without hypocrisy and reverence without reserve; Something which will call out their chivalry and high devotion, enabling them to find themselves as brothers because they have lost themselves as isolated.

themselves as brothers because they have lost themselves as isolated, self-centred units. Very well; what is this Something? Is it the State? Is Nationalism the chief end of Man? Or, shall we erect Race into a creed, building our community-life on a ruthless contempt for any blood other than our own? Love of country and loyalty to one's own race are precious and God-given, of course; they are part of the order of God's creation as we know it, and they create tragic tensions for the Christian living in the world and rendering to Caesar the things that are Caesar's. Nevertheless, since man can only worship God—any other worship being idolatory—he knows that he must render to God the things that are God's. The Church of Christ's Rody is the sace in the sa the things that are God's. The Church of Christ's Body is the sacrament of true community; it is the gift of God to needy men, the exten-

We have an instinctive feeling that nothing can ever be so rousing, so satisfying and so commanding as a Christian Church at whose door Christ does not stand knocking, since He has entered and sups with His people and they with Him. And His people are also "the other sheep" whom He will bring if we give them a chance to see the Shepherd

THE FLIGHT OF A SONG.

Sometimes my mail brings me sad news. The other morning I received from an unknown friend a newspaper cutting, with a note enclosed, telling me of the death of a young woman whom I had met only once, between I had not forgotten. The woman whom I had met only once, but whom I had not forgotten. The newspaper cutting told me her married name, and that she had died in a nursing home in England. I knew her as Miss Margaret Howden, of Port Chalmers. The one and only time I met her was in the little church of lovely Karitane. It was at

(Rev. D. GARDNER MILLER.) Hawke's Bay DOING GOOD.

There is one perfectly lovely verse that describes our Lord's life in the Acts of the Apostles. "He went about doing good." It is not simply doing good, but doing good in a joyful and intensely moving kind of way. It was not simply a good deed, but a good deed joyfully done. That is the meaning of the word—doing charming things. The Hawke's Bay hounds met on Friday at Mrs Tait's property, Glenleg.

A PLAIN STATEMENT WANTED

Hard on the heels of a strong rumour that four senior officers of the New Zealand Territorial Force are to be removed from the active list as a disciplinary measure consequent upon their recent release of a manifesto criticising the Government's defence plans, has come an announcement that two of these officers, who were appointed as honorary aides-de-camp to the Governor-General, are to relinquish

Both the Prime Minister (the Rt. Hon. M. J. Savage) and the Minister of Defence (the Hon. F. Jones), when questioned on this development, replied that they had no statement to make. From the point of view of the public, this position is most unsatisfactory. Whether disciplinary action is, or is not, to be taken, should be a plain statement of fact which would leave no doubt as to the Government's intentions and point of view. It will be remembered that when the original manifesto was issued last month, the signatories (Col. C. R. Spragg and Col. N. L. Macky, of Auckland, Col. A. S. Wilder, of Waipukurau, and Col. R. F. Gambrill, of Gisborne) stated that their reasons for making a public statement were that they believed that the Government's plans for defence and land forces were inadequate, and despite the fact that this view had been conveyed to the Minister, no remedial steps appeared to have been considered.

"We claim an intimate knowledge of the problem of our defence and the state of unpreparedness now existing. We realise that as the senior officers on the active list of the Territorial Forces, we have a duty to place on record what we believe to be the facts," stated these officers. It was added in explanation that in a previous meeting with the Minister the urgency of the matter was emphasised to him, whereupon he promised to make a public announcement concerning

"We further agreed," continues the manifesto, "that if the state ment was not issued within this period (a fortnight), or, if issued, was inadequate to achieve the results desired by us, we would publish our own considered opinion. The Minister's statement has now been issued and we consider it inadequate."

From this, the attitude of the signatories is clearly seen. They conceived it to be their public duty to make the defence discrepancies known, if the Minister, after consulting with them, was not prepared to make adequate provisions for the future.

The Minister's reply to this manifesto did not question their presentation of the facts, except in minor points, and it amounted more or less to a general complaint that the officers in question had taken public action.

Following this, one prominent member of the Government rushed in to defend his party, declaring that the four officers should be disciplined, and disputing their right to make any form of public criticism. Curiously enough, this was the keynote of all Government comment on the matter. The correctness of the questions raised has scarcely been discussed at any stage, and so far it has not been proved that the views of the officers are wrong, or, on the other hand, that remedial measures are to be taken. Indeed, the very fact that they have dared to criticise seems to be the sore point, and it may be presumed that if disciplinary action is taken it will be on this account, and not because the opinions of the officers are wrong. criticism. Curiously enough, this was the keynote of all Government comment on the matter. The correctness of the questions raised has

The privilege to criticise was always one keenly claimed by the Labour Party when in Opposition. One of their first acts on reaching the Treasury benches was the passing of the Political Disabilities Removal Act, which gave members of the Public Service the right to take part publicly in politics, and to comment on any matter of policy. It is hard to distinguish where the views of the officers concerned begin to contravene the principle that the Government enunciated in this Act. It may be suggested that it is not the comment that is disliked, but the criticism. that is disliked, but the criticism.

Here a grave matter of public interest is affected. If these four officers are "disciplined" in any way, the Government lays itself open to the charge of taking this course by way of reprisal against criticism—a form of persecution which will not be greeted kindly by the Government's keenest supporters, for it contravenes a principle in which they strongly believe which they strongly believe.

The fact that two of these officers, Col. A. S. Wilder and Col. N. L. Macky, have relinquished their posts as honorary aides-de-camp, may be without significance, but the public is entitled to know the facts. If, at a later stage, the four officers are retired from the active list of the Territorial Force, the position should again be carified, in the public interest. The sensitivity of the Government's feelings can hardly enter into such a national issue as defence, which lies beyond the scope of party politics. The good faith and sincerity of the signatories to the manifesto cannot be questioned. Their records of service, not only in war and military affairs, but in all spheres of public life and activity, stand high in the community, and are universally respected and appreciated.

Their motive is frankly declared: "We would like the people of New Zealand to realise that the gravity of the situation is such that we feel all personal considerations must be put aside if we are to carry out our duty to our country as citizen soldiers."

This high and commendable purpose is worthy of the gratitude of the public. Such a conception of duty and its fulfilment calls for serious and unprejudiced attention. It is clearly the duty of the Minister to put the matter beyond all doubt by outlining the Government's intentions.

Although The Wild Life Is Disappearing It Is Still Dangerous

Although most people now seem to realise that South Africa is not a terrifying country inhabited by wild animals and equally wild people, there still clings a belief of its excitement and strangeness. Americans, especially, have a very distorted idea of the country and recently an American woman refused to disembark at Cape Town because she feared the snakes crawling about in the streets!

"The very word 'pakeha' is an indication of the Maori attitude. The derivatives of the word are, literally: Pa, touch; ke, stench; and ha, breath. Thus we have the man with the bad breath." Was it likely, he asked, that the Maori would like to eat such an offensive food?

The Human Touch

The human touch of the Royal Family impressed the Hon. W. #### CHANGING FORTUNES

Open football of the best class seen in Hastings this season, was provided in the Pirates-Hastings High School Old Boys encounter on Nelson Park No. 2, Hastings, on Saturday. The better team on the day, Hastings High School Old Boys, wore down their opponents to win, 14-9.

M.A.C. suffered their first defeat this season on Saturday when Hastings downed the competition leaders by 10 to 5 after a torrid encounter.

The game was a great struggle between two packs of forwards flat out for victory.

M.A.C. suffered their first defeat this season prominent in the loose. Harvey was usually not far behind these and paved the way for Parker's try with a good run down the touchline.

Baynes, Ennor and Anderson were three conscientious Old Boys' forwards and with Proctor and Anner, were seen in some brisk rushes

Pirates had it all their own way in the first part of the match, and by half-time they had a lead of nine points to nil. It was combined back play that gave Hastings the win ultimately, and they wore their op-ponents down by slashing passing rushes and reckless loose forward

It was a thrill-packed game, par-ticularly in the second half, and Has-tings Old Boys showed that they have easily the most brilliant back line in the competition. They possess the understanding and speed, backing-up and brains that are essential for a first-class team.

The team is handicapped by lack of weight in the forwards, but this is largely made up by the determination and dash of fit younger players. These were led in all their movements by Ashman, McCarthy and Beach, but the whole pack were at the top of their form against the solidity of the Pirates forwards. solidity of the Pirates forwards.
Outstanding among the backs was the colt, Palmer, who, although not heavily built, can be recognised on his game on Saturday as one of the most promising backs in Hawke's Bay. He flashes off the mark, and has a valuable pair of hands; he also has a split-second football brain, and brings his opponent down hard. NAPIER MATCH

High School Old Boys

Down 3-nil at half time after a sluggish start, Technical Old Boys rallied in the second spell to beat Napier High School Old Boys by 10 points to 7 in an even game at McLean Park. Except for occasional bright patches of play by both teams the match produced only mediocre football. mediocre football.

After a long period of indecisive play Peterson opened Technical's score with a dropped goal early in the second spell. This was followed by a period of Technical superiority with quick tries by Parker and Younghusband, neither of them converted. For Napier Old Boys Butler scored a try early in the match and right at the call of time Smith potted a bright field goal. The match was controlled by Mr W. Forrest.

Given penalties in easy positions Technical threw away many points with poor goal kicking. The side has tried several goal kickers this season but has not yet found any-one who can be constantly relied on.

A dash by Bowman, the All Black Technical forward, right from the kick off promised well for the Red and Grey team and for some early bright play. Unfortunately in the early stages neither was the case, play being evenly divided territor-ially in unfinished attacks.

The Napier backs again made the mistake—common, however, to most teams in the competition—of standing too flat on attack. Even when they were attacking in their opponent's 25 their back line spread almost straight across field. The fault was chiefly due to M. Smith, at second five-eighth, who played almost level with Bradley in a defensive position throughout. Smith's speed off the mark could not offset this positional disadvantage.

Poor Handling. Technical's backs did not possess this fault but their poor handling was big enough handicap and cost them tries. Several attacks which carried play right to the goal line broke down through mulled passes.

The packing of both sides was good with the All Black hooker Dalton, winning more of the bail than Crawford-Smith. Napier Old Boys as a pack hunted better in the loose, Technical's loose forward attacks being mostly individual efforts.

"Anglers will not continue to buy licences unless there are some fish to be caught," said Mr R. J. D. He suggested that shag drives should be held during August and

"Now that the shooting season for ducks and quail is almost over, the destruction of shags might soon be commenced," he said. He quoted figures on damage done by these birds, which were tabled by a deputation of sportsmen who interviewed the Hon. W. E. Parry recently, to explain the seriousness of the position. "There are still defenders of the destructive cormorant who claim that the bird destroys more eels than trout, but their contention has never been supported by figures," he said.

The destruction of any native bird was not a matter to be lightly undertaken, but there was less to be said for the shag than for the kea, Mr R. J. D. Sharpe said. The shag was so ugly that its appearance was enough to condemn it.

The superior weight and fitness of the Old Boys forwards was the deciding factor in the match. The White pack did not let up from start to finish in a hard-fought game, but their opponents were obviously tiring in the second half. The Otane back line, however, played a splendid game and were at least the equal of the home side in this department.

The teams were:-Old Boys (white): J. Jamieson, Monteith, Bradley, Renner, Rae, Stapleton, Galov, Cook, Tansley, Brain, A. Wilson, C. Wilson, Hall, Coles, Reidy.

DANNEVIRKE.

Despite the counter-attractions on Saturday, a large crowd witnessed the three senior Rugby games played at Rugby Park, when Wainui defeated Aotea, 10-9, Old Boys defeated Weber, 11-6, and Ruahine beat Excelsior, 8-4. Lower grade results were:—Thirds: Excelsior 38, High School B 3; Rangers 40, High School A 3.

In a hard game Wainui were fortunate to defeat their opponents a minute before time. Aotea's splendid tackling frustrated many excellent back movements.

Pene opened the scoring by securing a try for Aotea shortly after commencement, from a good passing rush. The kick failed. The next try was Aotea's, when Woppi worked the blind side to allow Cushing to race over. The kick was unsuccessful. It was then Wainui's turn to score, P. Gollan obtaining from a melee on the line. #### Australian Stocks Rally: Last Week On Auckland Exchange

"Daily Mail" Special Service.

Once again last week the Stock Exchange has emphasised the world-wide dominance of United States economic conditions. Following the nervousness which gripped Australian markets at the opening of the week, a sharp recovery set in on Tuesday. The improvement was attributed to the strength of the re-opening on Wall Street after the week-end. According to private reports received in Auckland, the

New York market advanced strongly, industrial indices showing a rapid improvement and turnover emerging from the hundreds of thousands of shares to the millions.

Both London and Australia reported beneficial effects from the influence of the New York market. London has felt some misgiving over the rapidity of the movement in the United States, and this has had a sobering effect. Locally the result was to check the sharp decline in the front-rank Australian stocks, which was threatened early in the week and to rally metal shares from the depressed levels

After a long period of dullness, breweries came into better request. Dominions registered the first business for six weeks 1/3 lower at 36/, while New Zealands, on an ex dividend basis, moved up from 40/9 to 41/44.

All the leading Australian issues were at low levels at the opening of the week and, although the rises which followed as a result of the better news from overseas were not fully held, prices at the close were generally on a firmer plane. Metal shares obtained most benefit from the recovery, moving up Metal shares obtained most benefit from the recovery, moving up sharply on better quotations for all base metals. Interest was fairly strong in most of the principal New Zealand industrials, which fluctuated within narrower limits.

Trading was again substantial in oil shares, available supplies being readily absorbed. Movements in Taranakis were wide, the shares early in the week falling to 11/10. After advancing to 14/7 again, they fell back to 13/8, finally moving up to 14/8 at the close of the marup to 14/8 at the close of the market.

A NEW ZEALAND CRAYFISH INDUSTRY

Kaikoura Factory is Supplying U.S.A. and Australia: Assured Future

A Kaikoura factory has within the last few days started to produce and export a new crayfish delicacy for which there appears to be a promising future and for which there are assured markets. According to a Christchurch newspaper, the factory has been started by a public company to catch the crayfish, preserve them by a secret process, and export them in thousands overseas.

Following is a list of transactions on the New Zealand Stock Exchanges on Saturday morning: of their condition after long voyages and storage under refrigeration were so satisfactory that a group of Christchurch businessmen formed a company to exploit the process. The Kaikoura crayfish beds were se-lected as most suitable and now the enterprise appears to be well on the way to putting New Zealand's name on the map as the possessor of a new delicacy Survey of Beds

The firm made the closest possible survey of the Kaikoura beds, which extend for 115 miles from Cape Campbell to the Amuri Bluff. Evidence was taken from Kaikoura fishermen, and this, with observa-tions made by Mr Ayson and other experts, led to the conclusion that the company could take 280 sacks of crayfish a day from the Kaikoura 2 6 9 beds, without serious depletion of W. Successful Trials Kaikoura, a trial shipment of 141 crates was sent to Sydney. Expert opinion and people in the trade in Sydney, so the company's records show, were thoroughly satisfied and the shipment led to the placing of large orders. Negotiations were large orders. Negotiations were later opened up with the United States and, as cablegrams shown to a reporter indicated, a large and profitable market was available there when the company reached full productive capacity. The cable-grams show that the American market is prepared to contract immediately for large consignments and ome contracts have been entered Into.

It is likely that the new industry will greatly benefit the Kaikoura fishermen. So far, apparently because of the restrictions of the market, the fishermen there have looked on crayfish as an occasional sideline. Now a systematic and concentrated effort will be made to secure the fish, and it is claimed that in full production the industry will give added employment to the fishermen and greatly increased returns. The Air Defence Forces.

Preserved by this new process and wrapped in cellophane, these crayfish—the market name is rock lobsters—are already being sold in Australia and the United States, and the firm which has successfully floated this new industry—Marine Products (N.Z.), Ltd.,—has on hand more requests for supplies from local and overseas markets than it can supply at present. The business forms the nucleus of a new and possibly thriving industry which could mean much to the development of Kaikoura and Canterbury.

Many years of investigation and research led Mr G. D. Ayson (son of Mr L. F. Ayson, former New Zealand Government Chief Inspector of Eichewick) at the discovery of the land and the market outlet will appears that the market outlet will appears that the market outlet will are red into a contract with several fishermen to supply crayfish at a fixed rate for three years.

PARKVALE INCIDENT

Golfers are often metaphorically "up the tree" in the beginner stages. But one Hastings aspirant to the skill of the game had the embarrassing experience of being literally "up the tree"—or at least his club was—while playing on the Parkvale Club's links.

After playing 17 holes he was driving off the eighteenth tee. Intent on hitting the ball hard across the creek and well down the fairway, he started on a terrific downswing. The ball flew away down the fairway as it was intended, but it was not noticed by the two golfers, who, open-mouthed watched the driver describe a perfect parabola into the air.

SLIPPERY WINS AGAIN AT DANNEVIRKE

Successful Hunt Club Meeting

STEEPLECHASE A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS

(By CHILDERS).

Favoured by a very large attendance and a most successful day's racing, the annual Dannevirke Hunt Club meeting held on Saturday provided a very pleasant outing for patrons. The weather was fine, while the totalisator handled £5560 compared with £4226 last year, an increase of £1374.

Slippery scored a popular win in the Kaitoke Handicap, receiving a great ovation on returning to the birdcage. After a series of accidents in which each of the five starters either ran off or baulked, Interlocutor brought off a surprise in the Dannevirke Hunt Cup Steeplechase.

Aiguille scored his first success for a considerable time when he won the Oringi Hack Hurdles. He outclassed the opposition, winning very comfortably from the favourite Master Hector. Greek Arma went to the front early from Laggard and Master Hector but Aiguille was always handy and he ran to the front half a mile from home. Master Hector went after the leader, but Aiguille was not troubled to win easing up. Laggard was a moderate third with Acron fourth and both Greek Arma and Coil following at intervals. Red Rufus after being slow away lost his rider at the first fence.

Aiguille jumped well throughout and was never seriously in danger of defeat. It was not a good lot he beat, but he did his task well. Master Hector was a trifle sore, and one or two indifferent jumps early further affected his chances. Lag-

Flight while the pair on the outside Lindy and Sir Rabbi, were left several lengths. Brilliant Acre was always well clear from Morning Flight and Selkirk, and he was never seriously challenged to win from Morning Flight with Sir Rabbi third, The Treble fourth and Lindy next.

Brilliant Acre has frequently shown pace but failed to run on. This time, however, he had matters all his own way. It was a well overdue success. Morning Flight ran a useful race without having a chance with the winner. Sir Rabbi was very unlucky. Had he jumped out smartly he must have been hard to beat. He is the most likely improver of the field. Whole Field in Trouble.

Interlocutor, who was having his first race for four years, started fourth favourite of the five runners in the Dannevirke Hunt Cup but he won easily in one of the most unusual contests ever witnessed in a race of this description. race of this description.

Royal Toast pulled up after jumping two fences and Mandant also baulked leaving only Interlocutor, Croydon and Hanover with less than half a mile covered. Then Interlocutor and Croydon who were together in front both ran off at the second fence of the stand double, and Hanover followed the pair. All three jockeys rushed their horses back for a second attempt and Interlocutor and Croydon took the fence practically to get his mount round but after he had baulked or run off on several occasions, he was finally pulled after covering about 2.

A Comfortable Win.

Ridden by the Australian jockey, J. Lewis, who was having his first mount in New Zealand, Shining Hours was sent out favourite for the Rakaiatai Hack, and duly fulfilled expectation by winning accounts. filled expectation by winning com-Cuisinier was left, Colleen Gain Cuisinier was left, Colleen Gain and Shining Hours soon running to the front. As usual Colleen Gain was beaten at the home turn, and Shining Hours ran on a fairly easy winner from Joe Louis who finished solidly to cut Gladium out of second place. Screen Star was fourth with Cuisinier and Colleen Gain next. Cuisinier and Colleen Gain next.

The winner is a smart galloper but is unfortunately unsound. She is a full sister to Karl and a half sister to Sergia. Joe Louis ran a fine race under his big weight. This pair represented much better class than the remainder of the field. Gay Molly broke down.

Slippery Finishes Fast.

Finishing fast on the outside of the field, the veteran Slippery got up to win the Kaitoke Handicap in his best style. Although he carried least money of the five starters, Slippery was accorded a fine reception on returning to the birdcage. Slippery was well back throughout, Dorado and Buster Brown leading until three furlongs from home when Umpire's rider tried to slip the field, shooting out with a three lengths lead, but he was beaten at the straight entrance where Dorado and Buster Brown again made a forward move. The rair were fight forward move. The pair were fighting it out when Slippery came with a fine run in the last half furlong and headed the pair off to win going away, Dorado beating Buster Brown by half a neck. Passion Fruit and Umpire were both close up.

firmed expectations by winning most decisively. He was in the middle of the field early when Kohika set a fast pace from Mesurina. The latter took charge down the back but was soon headed by Tres Sec, who led into the straight and won as he liked from Mesurina. Princess Isobel was third with Ko-bika fourth and Tigreterre and Hint following.

Tres Sec is a very handy sort in this class, and better handled than at Hastings he always looked a win-ner. Mesurina made another use-ful showing Drings hands ful showing. Princess Isobel should
