BRILLIANT COMEDY TEAM

Clever Film Version Of Famous Play

Claudette Colbert and Gary coper form a brilliant new comedy eam in "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife, the picture of life among Europe's smart set, which will screen to-day at the Plaza Theatre, Napier.

The story, adapted from the famous play of Alfred Savior, tells about a much-married American multi-millionaire who is subdued and put into a strait-jacket by his eighth wife, whom he marries for a new thrill. Miss Colbert is the same flip, ingenious girl who made screen history in last year's "I Met Him in Paris." Cooper, as the philandering American, plays opposite her in a part which fits him

After becoming the bride of the much-married financier, Miss Colbert, a penniless French aristocrat, starts out on a campaign to bring him to his knees and humble his nim to his knees and numble his pride for the first time. A score of Europe's gay spots, including the Riviera, the Tyrol, Venice, Vienna and Paris, form the battleground, while the bride's weapons are coolness, indifference and stubbornness. In this Paramount comedy Cooper divorces seven wives, upon each of whom he settles an income of whom he settles an income of £10,000 a year. When his eighth wife begins to get in his hair he prepares to divorce her and give her a yearly stipend of £20,000.

derer has a hard time balancing his budget and decides to remain married to Miss Colbert in spite of the hectic life she leads him!

There is here a lightness of touch and spontaniety of humour which puts the picture out in front of other screen comedies of the season.

Ernst Lubitsch, master of this light touch in screen comedy, directed touch in screen comedy, directed touch in screen comedy, directed "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," while the supporting cast includes David Niven, Edward Everett Horton and Elizabeth Patterson.

Wairoa Wedding Of Interest

MORNING CEREMONY

Bride In Redingote Gown

SMITH-McBURNIE

A wedding of wide interest was celebrated on Saturday morning at St. Andrew's Church, Wairoa, when Elleen Juanita, daughter of Mr and Mrs J. McBurnie, Clydebank, was married to Clifford Roy, son of Mrs Smith and the late Mr Smith, of Hastings. The officiating minister was the Rev. Mr Finch, with Mrs J. MacDonald at the organ.

The bride, who entered the church with her father, wore a redingote of white, self-patterned organdie, fashioned with full puff sleeves and roll collar, under which her gaily-patterned silk slip showed in a floral design of powder blue and white. A wide-brimmed hat of the same powder blue, flower

Her only attendant, Miss Mar-Her only attendant, Miss Marjorie Taylor, also chose the redingote style for her frock, which was of deep cream georgette with collar and puff sleeves, over a floral under-dress patterned in rose-pink and blue. Her wide hat was of marine blue straw, trimmed with rose-pink velvet ribbon, and she wore blue kid shoes in the same shade. Her flowers also were violets and maidenhair fern.

During the signing of the register, Mrs J. MacDonald sang the hymn, "O Perfect Love."
Mr Alex McKenzie, of Clydebank, was best man.
Afterwards a large number of guests assembled in Osler's Hall for the wedding breakfast, where they were received by the parents of the bride, Mrs McBurnie wearing a frock of brown silk marocain, with brown velour hat and a brown fur. Her bouquet was of yellow berries and autumn-tinted leaves.
When the bride and groom left on their honeymoon the latter was wearing a navy blue costume with gold satin blouse under a fawn

NEW FASHIONS FROM OVERSEAS SEEN AT HASTINGS RACES

Winter Hats With Larger Brims Created Considerable Interest

The Hawke's Bay Hunt Club were indeed fortunate to have a day fine, though cool, for their annual meeting on Saturday. From the point of view of most women the weather is their main concern. Will they be able to attend the races in their newest and smartest clothes, looking and feeling their best, or should the weather be wet would they not be wiser to stay at home rather than spoil their new clothes? Unquestionably, whether a woman is a real racing enthusiast or otherwise, her day is all the more enjoyable if she feels well-dressed.

And then again, women get pleasure from seeing the new fashions worn by other women, and Saturday's meeting was one at which several new fashions were displayed. Though late in the season, several travellers who have returned home recently had brought back new ideas, these being especially noticeable in their hats, fine felts with brims almost as large as summer hats, in very attractive shapes, and one finished with a very fine veil caught under the chin, a fas ion we had so far heard of from overseas fashion writers, but not yet seen. The effect was most becoming.

Lovely furs and beautiful fur coats were again displayed and smartly tailored suits or long coats with fur collars and lapels predominated. Colours were very varied, London tan, clover and red earth being worn by several, though black, navy, and dark browns were still favoured by the older folk.

In winter stock will stay fresh for a week, but as a precaution it should be brought to the boil every day. This is a necessity in summer. Don't leave the stock in a saucepan all night, but turn it out into a basin.

Sir,—It seems to me that the more one improves one's property in appearance the more one suffers. The residents in Oliphant Road, Hastings, try to keep their places tidy, and as we have no footpath, except a grass one, we naturally keep it mown to make it look as if someone owned it.

Well, sir, what is the result? The rain comes and the racecourse is muddy. Result: the trainers and jockeys utilise our road as a training track, galloping their horses from one end to the other and vice versa, so you can imagine the state of our footpath.

Parents Pleased with the Work

An excellent attendance of par ents attended the Mahora school last Friday afternoon to see the variday the report of a suggestion made by Bishop Cherrington at the sit-ting of the Waikato Synod, favour-ing the flooding of New Zealand say, the trifle of five millions.

This ridiculous suggestion, according to the report, was made under a sense of fear that if we white people did not knuckle down to the yellow man, he will come in his millions and take New Zealand with the object of stressing the special interests of the pupils. Children are allowed as free a choice as club (Mr G. Anderson); first aid club (Mr Carnes). "If only five millions were admitted New Zealand would not know itself for the wealth that would ensue."

five millions come to this fair land. What could a million and a-half or two millions do against five millions for, of course, the yellow man must get the franchise, too. Then, again, what would become of the Christian religion and the churches and even of Bishop Cherrington himself—for the Japs. are pagans and would not bow down to any synodical decrees.

Lastly, what a mixed blood we

Lastly, what a mixed blood we should have in at least a decade? If the Bishop had advocated the giving away of the waste lands in Australia and New Zealand to men of European extraction in order to people New Zealand, I would be the good will in the world that this paper is keeping alive a discussion of such vital concern.

In the correspondence columns to-day there are published new contributions to the discussion, and they-and any others like them-will go a good way towards making

The whole topic, however, was dealt with editorially by the "Daily Mail" from the national point of view, and that being so, it will be seen that one correspondent in particular lation of particular facts relating to certain rivers.

parisons leave the chief question untouched. Flooding, as such, is the menace, and flooding as a national issue is what acknowledges the fact that fern and scrub were removed from the higher reaches of the Ngaruroro and the Tutaekuri rivers and admits that no such work was done in the case of the back stretches of the Tuki Tuki. There would thus seem to be a strong case for the contention previously made by the "Daily Mail" that there is a distinct relationship between such denudation and the flooding of the flat lands. Even the removal of fern and scrub may have been responsible for the appalling losses suffered from time to time by the farmers and others on the low country.

planting, it needs to be pointed out that no suggestion was made here—nor will it ever be made—that trees should be planted only along the banks of the rivers. The contention, on the contrary, is that any kind of tinkering work along the banks leaves the main difficulty unsolved. The root of the trouble is in the higher reaches, and it is there that its cure must be found. Neither banking nor tree-planting will avail along the course of any river if erosion in the high country is still permitted to go on unchecked.

It may be pointed out to the correspondent that there would be no "young trees washed down to cause more trouble" if a reasonable policy of afforestation or of reafforesof flooding before the waters have attained any considerable

The solution offered by the correspondent is that river mouths should be kept clear in order to allow the flood waters to get away to sea without hindrance. But anyone in Hawke's Bay who has considered the matter—and this is merely a particular instance which can be duplicated in many other parts of the Dominion-knows that in point of fact such a engineer. In the case of the Ngaruroro and the Tutaekuri, a suggestion has been made by a qualified engineer who has travelled the world in the course of his studies of this problem, that these two rivers should be joined at the Waiohiki golf links below Roy's Hill and thence carried straight out to sea. This suggestion is possibly the best that can be made if the problem is looked at from the angle of the rivers' mouths, rather than from the sources. The fall thus provided would be greater because the distance to the sea would be shorter. But there can be no guarantee of complete immunity in any such scheme.

When the South Island farmers visited the Esk Valley on Friday and saw that pitiful area of desolation, it is reported that there was general agreement among them that "the higher lands and the sources of the rivers should be afforested." Leaving aside for the moment, therefore, the question of what the early pioneers did or did not do, there would seem to be a growing body of opinion that the duty of the present generation is clear—to tackle the work at the source of trouble and concentrate on prevention at the source of any river, rather than on cure at its junction with the sea.

FARMERS' VISIT

The Urgent Need For Quick Action

When the South Island farmers visited the Esk Valley last Friday, they were of one mind that the flooding question should be grappled with immediately and in such a manner as to ensure that farmers on the low country should have some real assurance of protection and security.

"Those of us who have had to break in new land have had to face break in new land have had to face up to adversities, but we have seen nothing to equal the losses and heartbreaks that must have been experienced by farmers in the Esk Valley," remarked a member of the party. "To see the results of years of labour and good farming wiped out in a night must have been a terrible blow, especially to elderly men. Such a disaster will come again unless some steps are taken to prevent similar occurrences. It might not be for a long time, or it might be again soon, but so long as these hillagain soon, but so long as these hill-sides are bare and the country is subjected to exceptionally heavy rainfall there can be no real subjected to exceptionally heavy rainfall there can be no real security."

General Agreement

It was the general agreement among those who viewed the area that the higher lands and the sources of the rivers should be afforested.

One Southlander suggested that some small plant like heather should be planted on the nearer hills, which were obviously slipping. He also suggested a small Australian plant known as the Salt Bush. This was as a low, scrubby plant with good binding roots, and the foliage was eaten by stock in very dry seasons. It had proved effective in preventing the slipping of steep faces.

Mr Nash pointed out that considerable advocacy had been made to the Government to allow the importation of maize into the country, but that the disposal of the New Zealand crop must have a considerable able bearing upon the quantities of imports which would be permitted, also upon the date at which such importations would take place.

The reason for this undertaking being given to the growers is that,

The match was hard and clean and there were many brilliant movements. The ground was on the soft side after overnight rain, and a patch in the centre of the field was slightly slippery.

SUPERIOR

The New Zealand forwards were superior in the rucks and faster in the loose and only stout defence kept them out.

From a ruck in the New South Wales 25 Sullivan sent out a long pass to Mitchell who, swerving and fending, cut through the centres and crossed for a try. Sullivan scored the next try from an opening by Berghan. Taylor converted.

The New Zealand forwards packed splendidly and were much superior to their predecessors. The scrum was evenly balanced.

New South Wales rallied brilliantly in the second spell. Malone's try was nearly as spectacular as Parkhill's, the backs and forwards handling after Richards burst through.

Morrison once saved a certain try by racing across from the left wing to ground Hodgson, who had swerved past Taylor. Morrison's tackle was only a yard from the line.

Invariably Sullivan or Mitchell straightened up the attack with penetrative bursts. The home centres, Smith and Miller, were too slow and inexperienced. Saxton gave magnificent diving passes and Berghan was almost flawless.

Sullivan and Mitchell were brilliant, both much faster than the opposing centres. Mitchell was the inspiring agent of all moves, and Taylor was safe.

It was hard to single out the New Zealand forwards. All were conscientious ruckers, and Dalton, Quaid and George, more than held their own in the front row.

King and McKenzie were excellentin the open and Hodgson was ubiquitous.

A speedy, polished back line, well supplied with the ball and working with the precision and smoothness of well-oiled machinery, carried the visiting Hawke's Bay Rugby representatives to a 23-6 win over Wairarapa this afternoon.

The visitors' defence was first rate as is indicated by the fact that Wairarapa failed to cross their line on a single occasion. Individually, the Wairarapa backs played their part fairly well but they were opposed to a superior combination.

Although, generally speaking, the Wairarapa defence stood the test remarkably well, the tackling of the markably well, the tackling of the backs left much to be desired. Although there were a number of stoppages for injuries, particularly in the second spell, the game was played ir a fine spirit.

Dyer played a remarkably safe game at full back; his fielding and touch finding were first-rate and two of his saves were really brilliant.

Fine Work By Devine And Murray

By Telegraph-Press Association. GISBORNE, July 16.

A keen forward tussle developed in the annual Rugby match between Hawke's Bay and Poverty Bay at Gisborne to-day, the visitors winning by 11 to 6. The winners' backs were better and the understanding between Devine and Murray was the deciding factor in a match otherwise evenly contested. This pair paved the way for all three tries scored by Hawke's Bay, Murray finishing off two himself and giving Palmer a clear run for the other. Fast And Spectacular Game

Napier High School first fifteen defeated the Gisborne High School at McLean Park, Napier, on Saturday, by 12 points to 6, after a fast and spectacular Rugby game, in which the Napier team dominated play theursh their forwards were play, though their forwards were not as fast as the opposing pack.

The teams were:-Napier.—Hobson, Kelly, Burgess, Cummins, Brown Josephs, Dean, Bennett, Sandtmann, B. Ormond, Nicholas, J. Ormond, Ferguson, Thompson, Pope.

Gisborne.—Sceats, Evans, Campbell, Fleming, Moore, Rane, Toroa, Pettit, Sharpe, Shaw, Torrie, Brook, McCluskie, Edmondson, Cleary.

Swinging into action at the first whistle, Napier soon had Gisborne in difficulties and made repeated thrusts at their line, only to be checked by strong defensive play.

Getting possession from a scrum, the Napier backs sent the ball out to Cummins, who sprinted over to secure the first score. Burgess's kick failed.

Napier again attacked strongly, the touch-line being used quite suc-cessfully. From a set scrum on Gisborne's line, Napier worked the blind side to send Josephs over near the flag. Burgess again failed to A hard tussle then ensued, play remaining in Gisborne's territory for some time, and whenever they attacked, the Napier combinations proved too strong. The most successful of these attacks reached Napier's 25-yard mark, where a penalty was awarded Gisborne for infringement in the scrum. Toroa goaled from in front of the posts goaled from in front of the posts. Play then swung again into Gisborne territory, where Cummins failed with a penalty for Napier. The outstanding forward of a very even pack was R. King. Aotea strength lay in their backs, Hope, Himona, Pene and Cushing being always dangerous.

For Wainui J. Herbert, D. Gollan and Franklin played well in the forwards and J. Bassett was the outstanding back with P. Gollan playing an excellent defensive game.

The first points came within a few minutes of the kick-off, Jamieson landing a penalty goal from about 30 yards out to put the home side in the lead. The same player failed with another kick from the 25-yard line, and near the sideline. A forward rush carried play into

LEADERS' FIRST ENGLAND WINS SECOND WOMEN'S HOCKEY TEST

Game Played Before Large Crowd Of Spectators At Wanganui

By Telegraph—Press Association.

WANGANUI, July 16. England won the second women's hockey Test this afternoon by four goals to three in beautiful weather and before a large crowd.

It was a good game and from the spectators' point of view this game was even better than that against the Prince of Manavardar's Indian team.

The ground broke up half-way through the match and conditions were similar to the Indian game, causing misjudgment in hitting. Consequently passing and combination suffered in the second spell.

The teams were evenly matched on the day and all players played well. Perhaps two to shine were Miss Dowling for England and Miss McKenzie for New Zealand, although every player did all that was asked of her.

The combination of both teams was good, although the positional play of the English eleven was slightly better. Occasionally clever tactics by the English team were seen. The English full-backs were stronger than those of New Zealand and Miss Huggins was hard to beat in the English goal.

New Zealand attacked strongly throughout and the halves fed the forwards well, not allowing the English defence a chance to let up. Miss Mackie was always prominent in the New Zealand half line.

The half-time score was 3-1 in favour of England.

Scorers for England were Misses O'Donoghue (2) and West (2). The
New Zealand scorers were Miss Aldridge, Sherriff, and McKenzie.

Fall of Suchow Predicted to Hasten Currency Collapse

The Japanese newspaper "Yomiuri" thinks that the fall of Suchow will deal a severe blow to the finance of the Chiang Kai-Shek Administration. It is obvious that the Chinese Government will experience greater difficulty in raising loans thereafter. The future of the Chinese legal tender is certainly gloomy, the Tokyo journal declares.

The new Chinese currency system, which was put into force from November 4th, 1935, had become considerably consolidated, due to the efforts of the Chinese Government, the large funds held abroad and the friendly help extended by foreign banks, especially British banks, until July last year when the Marco Polo Bridge incident occurred. The spread of the hostilities to Shanghai in August caused the Chinese financial world much unexcipes and a flight of much uneasiness and a flight of Chinese capital ensued, with the re-sult that the value of the Chinese legal tender became unsteady.

It remains to be seen whether the Chinese currency system will collapse, but when it is remembered that China will find it increasingly difficult to replenish the depleted funds held abroad and that the British banks are not likely to extend as much support as in the past to prop up the system, it is more than likely that the value of the Chinese legal tender will witness a disastrous fall. It is at least certain that the credit abroad of the Chinese Keisbek Covern more than likely that the value of the Chinese legal tender will witness a disastrous fall. It is at least certain that the credit abroad of the Chiang Kai-Shek Government will suffer more and more and that the future of the Chinese legal tender is anything but bright, the Yomiuri concludes.

SUCCESSFUL HAWKE'S BAY HUNT MEETING

Mishaps In Steeplechase

KIKIROKI WINS SENSATIONAL RACE AT LONG ODDS

Totalisator Returns Improve

(By MOTUROA).

The most successful meeting it has held for years was staged by the Hawke's Bay Hunt on the Hastings racecourse on Saturday in glorious weather. There was a huge attendance for a hunt meeting and, as a natural corollary, a very substantial increase was shown in the totalisator turnover. In every way the meeting was a pronounced success, and the Hawke's Bay Hunt should show a nice profit over the meeting.

The Hawke's Bay Hunt Cup Steeplechase was a sensational race, and victory came to the little-known and obscurely bred local hunter Kikiroki. Save for one slight mistake three furlongs from home, he jumped well throughout the race, and it is problematical whether Skerryvore would have worried him had he survived the fence at the three furlongs. Kikiroki, who returned a dividend approaching a score, has not done much racing, and when he was named his sire and dam had to be named at the same time. The contest was a remarkable one, for a succession of mishaps began at the very first fence.

Hastings horses had a great day out and, as well as Kikiroki, the local stables turned out Lovelilt, Tres Sec, Proclamation and First Chapter as winners, all of whom were good favourites on their recent solid form. First Chapter's win was the easiest of the day, but Lovelilt and Proclamation both impressed as great all, participated to the second selection beth impressed as great all the participated as great all the second selections. Proclamation both impressed as good class performers, more of whom should be heard in the new season.

The "gates" were nearly double on last year's figures and the totalisator staff had a busy day, handling £8553/10/-, compared with £5696 last year, an increase of £2857/10/-, or compared with £5696 last year, an increase of £2857/10/-, or 50 per cent. on last year.

DESPITE the bad weather of the past few weeks the course was a tribute to the caretaker and his staff and the only bad going was on the back stretch which is always difficult to keep in order. In the straight the track cut up very little and the going certainly helped to provide good racing.

While finishes were generally very keen, the judge, Mr W. P. Russell, did not find it difficult to make his and at the six furlongs Power Chief was, at the fence than the fence hast from a bad position on the turn, but was boxed in on the rails over through the second time was boxed in on the turn, but was box

The Woodville rider, I. Rohloff, appeared to have a nasty fall off Interlocutor in the Hunt Cup Steeplechase, but he was immediately attended by a doctor and the St. John Ambulance staff, and it was ascertained that he had escaped with a bad bruising. Other riders who experienced falls in the steeplechase, were unharmed.

The smooth running of the meeting was attributable to the splendid organisation of the secretary, Mr A. organisation of the secretary, Mr A. E. Wishart, who was supported by the chairman of the committee, Mr G. D. Beatson, who was in charge of the meeting owing to the sudden denise of the president, the Hon. H. A. Russell. Respect for the memory of that good sportsman was shown by the jockeys, who wore black arm-bands in the second race.

Improving Jumper.

Lovelilt, who made a good impression last month at Napier and Hastings, was backed down to a very short price for the Otane Hurdles, but, over the last five furlongs, she had the race in safe keeping and, jumping better than Red Rufus she won on the bit by a handy margin. Lovelilt is not a big mare, but she will thicken out with a course of hurdling and, as she jumps well, it looks as if more will be heard of her.

tion of the trophies.

I. Rohloff had a very lucky escape from serious injury when Interlocutor rolled right over him and he suffered no more than a bad bruising.

Favourite's Easy Win.

Boatsong tried to make all the running in the Riverslea Handicap, but Trailer, who was equal first favourite with Gironde, never let him get too far away. Rangi Marsh did not call upon him for an effort until well into the straight, but will be heard of her.

Red Rufus has done little recent racing, his only previous race of the season being at Dannevirke where he lost his rider. He made a poor fist of the second fence and rapped the next hard, but was kept up to his task all the way, and was jumping better in the concluding stages.

Agog was in trouble early and had to make up a lot of ground in the last half mile, but he was passing tired horses and got up to take third money off Huntsman's Chorus, who had made the early running when Boatsong dropped back two Ika stopped to a walk after leading for half of the journey and Rapa Waiata was never going right. The winner, however, outclassed her opponents.

Gironde's run was very short and he was a beaten horse at the distance, and Hamarin, who had been last most of the way, came through to cut him out of third money.

Boatsong was next and the components.

Patches At a Good Price.

Patches and Imogen drew the outside positions in the big field that lined up for the Okawa Maiden, but they were ridden through to the front early and Patches, who has not raced since the early summer meetings finished just too well for not raced since the early summer meetings finished just too well for the filly, paying a nice double-figure dividend. Patches is a big three-year-old who appears to have good prospects for the spring meetings. Imogen ran as well as her good track form suggested and hung on better than she has done in her carliar races. She has a nice turn better than she has done in her earlier races. She has a nice turn of early speed and a win for her should not be far distant.

Laughing Song came home very strongly after being awkwardly placed in the first couple of furlongs. He has been racing very solidly, but without much luck and his turn is overdue. Hastings West confirmed the impression that she is not much good. She had every chance and followed Patches and Imogen to the straight. Her conditions the straight of the straight that the distance. Colleen Gain showed a lot of early pace and led Proclamation to the straight with Brilliant Acre, Red Witch, Haile Selassie and Wilful Witch, Haile Selassie and Wilful Lady heading the remainder. She weakened as usual and left Haile Selassie to go after the favourite, Red Witch appearing to be beaten two furlongs from home.

Haile Selassie looked certain to take second money, but Wilful Lady, doing well under pressure, did better in the run home. Gaiwind, who made a smart run from the three While finishes were generally very keen, the judge, Mr W. P. Russell, Royal Toast fell at the next fence foot of the straight. The issue was and at the six furlongs Power Chief further they went the further he interest of the straight.

With half a mile to go Kikiroki was four lengths clear of Skerryvore, while Sabatini was just climbing over a fence a furlong behind. Skerryvore was being hunted along at this stage, but it looked as if he might have won the day when Kikiroki got in too close to this fence, however, as Carroll was making a good recovery, Skerryvore took a toss. This left Kikiroki with only two fences to jump for an easy that the further he increased his winning margin.

Nelumbo was strongly fancied and she ran a good second after having occupied that position from the barrier rise. Pladie took her on two furlongs from home, but she had enough in reserve to shake him off at the distance.
