BRITAIN AND AMERICA TO SHARE DISPUTED ISLANDS?

Talks are Proceeding with the Utmost Friendliness: No Early Decision

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received April 14, 9 p.m.)
NEW YORK, April 13.
The British-American discussions concerning the sovereignty of Canton and Endeavour Islands are proceeding along the lines of a possible condominium, says the correspondence of the Associated Press.
No decision is expected for some time, but there will be no rupture if this is the final form of settlement.
The talks are most friendly, and it is understood that the United States emphasizes that her interest in the islands is purely for civil aviation. Thus there is no reason why the two countries should not share sovereignty.
It is believed that Australia is agreeable to the condominium also, although there is still a question as to the Hebrides, whose position is complicated by racial and historical considerations. These do not exist at Canton and Endeavour Islands.

H.M.S. Achilles was torn from Wharf by Rangitira

H.M.S. Achilles Torn From Wharf by Rangitira

Sensational Mishap in Storm
CRUISER GROUNDS ON MUDBANK IN WELLINGTON HARBOUR

Minor Damage to Both Vessels

By Telegraph—Press Association.
WELLINGTON, April 15.
H.M.S. Achilles was torn from the Clyde Quay wharf, but her anchor broke the cable of H.M.S. Achilles, the ship's cable, when she was also hit by the wharf, and after being damaged, was being brought back to sea.
The Rangitira was leaving for Lyttelton at the height of the gale, which was blowing in squalls of nearly 70 miles an hour. The vessel had about 1000 passengers on board. She got into difficulties almost as soon as she had left the wharf, and after clearing the Wangamania, which was being almost right abreast of her on the outer side of Queen's Wharf, she let go her anchor to bring her head round and to prevent her from going to sea for ever.
The Rangitira then steamed about to clear the Clyde Quay wharf, but her anchor broke the cable of H.M.S. Achilles, the ship's cable, when she was also hit by the wharf and so remained in that position for four hours, being released on the tide falling early midnight, with the assistance of two tugs.
The cruiser suffered damage to her propellers, and may have been damaged.
The Rangitira, after getting clear, went to sea, clearing Pegasus Head shortly after nine o'clock.

THE ABC OF TOOTH PASTE!

PREPYRANT TOOTH PASTE

These forms each with a different action, giving the most complete system of dental care yet evolved.

A. (Red & White Tube) To tone up sore and bleeding gums.

B. (Blue & White Tube) For after-treatment with "AT" to prevent tissue irritation.

C. (Green & White Tube) Specially prepared for Children's Teeth, removes the green which forms, and accomplishes most in interaction with "AT".

On the left is depicted the progress of caries - "C" to gradual increase of decay round the root of the tooth infarct and pushes back the gum, forming a pocket in which pus forms. Early destroying both gum and bone. The over-riding of this cure which Prepyrant successfully combats.

THE WAY OF APPREHEMENT

Approximately four weeks ago conversations between Lord Curzon, British Ambassador at Rome, and Count Grandi, Italian Ambassador in London, were held with a view to the settlement of the various facts affecting Anglo-Italian relations.

That there was a meeting which between Italy and Great Britain took the form of a map of Europe and the Mediterranean was not denied. The fact that the British representative had been in Rome was also not denied.

Despite the fact that the apparent advantages of a rapprochement seemed to be an obvious and decided one, it was not until the Italian Government had been informed of the results of the London talks that it was clear that the British representative had been in Rome.

It is interesting to see how far an assumption policy will be Britain's stronger position. An assumption policy, that is, a policy of withdrawal from Spain. After that, the problems of foreign relations will be matters of detail, and similar questions will be a matter for course.

Criticism of the agreement must be expected. However, it is not surprising that the agreement has been a blind refusal to face the facts. War has been pertinently called upon for an outlet for the surplus energy of those who feel that Great Britain is prepared to concede the initiative in the world.

Rod and Gun in Land of the Zulus

Poppo Day is Napper this year will be Friday, April 26, and as usual it will be a day of special interest to returned soldiers who are in training for the war.

To those who shoot with a gun the land of the Zulus is especially interesting. In the Zulus it is a source of the interior of the country which has been handed a gun in your hands can view game such as even the most intrepid hunter seldom see.

Every dweller along in your motor-car and all the dangers of the wild will be yours to deal with. The game reserves are no way to be confined with this. The animals will go to their holes in the morning and be out again in the afternoon.

DRAWN BY ED STEVENSON

ARMORIED ON A TRAIL IN THE BORNED JUNGLE, TED AND CHESTER ARE TAKEN BY NANTES BEFORE FERD AND THE CHIEF WHEN FERD'S LAST MARCH ON CHESTER, TED CHOKES HIM TO DEATH!

LET GO OF ME, YOU SCUM, I'LL CHOKE THE LIFE OUT OF THIS RAT!

STEAL THAT MAP IF YOU WANT-IT WOULD BE YOURS IF YOU ANY GOOD!

THE NATIVES TEAR CHESTER AWAY FROM TED AS HE STRAINS AT HIS BONDS!

NO, TED, NO! THEY CAN'T DO THIS TO YOU!

FERD! CHESTER! SAVE THE WHITE MAN AND GIRL! GET THE OTHERS! BUT NO KILL!

With a shout Jerry let go his hold and dropped. The snake began to back fast as Jerry landed. Ted was a moment of wild confusion. Jerry leaped again, but tripped and fell headfirst. Ted took his chance by the main entrance. "There the tiger leaped down. "They heard the rustle of his feet across the open floor."

"EARTH DESERT"

by ERIC NORTH
Author of "The Cruise of the Golden Celestipal"

But, I think you'd be wise to leave this. The man disappeared, you reached my camp. Eric Bill was the man I was looking for. He was a trooper. The disappearance of my men was a mystery. I was looking for a man who had been with me in the desert. I was looking for a man who had been with me in the desert. I was looking for a man who had been with me in the desert.

THE STORY SO FAR:
Jerry sent across a secret message to Frank Buck in the jungle. He has to try to win the mystery of the disappearance of seven men. He has to try to win the mystery of the disappearance of seven men. He has to try to win the mystery of the disappearance of seven men.

With a shout Jerry let go his hold and dropped. The snake began to back fast as Jerry landed. Ted was a moment of wild confusion. Jerry leaped again, but tripped and fell headfirst. Ted took his chance by the main entrance. "There the tiger leaped down. "They heard the rustle of his feet across the open floor."

CHAPTER IV.
TED CRASHED TO THE GROUND. "What was that?" he asked. "I don't know," Jerry said. "I don't know," Jerry said. "I don't know," Jerry said.

TRACKS ARE LIKELY TO BE SOFT FOR EASTER RACING CARNIVAL

SMALLER FIELDS THAN USUAL AT FEILDING

Catalogue and Oratory may Fight Out Cup

(By CHILDERS).
Next in Auckland and Wharfedale, the Feilding Jockey Club's members will this week assemble from the Hawke's Bay public, especially as several horses from this province are expected to start. The fields are expected to be a little disappointing considering the fine weather conditions.

The Hawke's Bay pair, Misa and Charlie, will certainly do a good job in the hands of their best jockey in the Kiwi Koro, who is an expert on the track. The latter horse has been better than ever before. The Kiwi Koro has been better than ever before. The Kiwi Koro has been better than ever before. The Kiwi Koro has been better than ever before.

The maiden field in the present catalogue is a very good one. It includes Golden Palm, who has won the Gold Cup, and the average of the other horses. Golden Palm has some fine supporters and will be a strong contender for the Cup.
