MELBOURNE STATIONS

Drivers Protest Against Cut In
Fares: Wild Confusion As Police
Try To Clear Cars

(United Press Association—Copyright,
Received December 15, 12.15 a.m.)

MELBOURNE, Dec. 14.
About 500 taxicabs caused traffic congestion in the eastern end of the city when they parked their cabs unattended outside Parliament House while the iron assembly on Parliament steps as a demonstration to the Premier. One taxicab driver was arrested for parking on a footpath. The grievance is that certain taxi companies, operating from private and not public bays, are not bound for the city tax regulations which fixed a 5d a mile. The men claim that it is a mile charged by those companies in underwriting ways and conditions.

Wild traffic confusion reigned for two hours as the police endeavored without success to clear the parked cabs. They took recourse with a view to government.

All the registered cabs in the suburban zones were called in to take part in the demonstration.

After lunch, a representative called on the Premier, who proposed an amendment to the city's grievance.

There was more confusion after the demonstration as drivers endeavored to extricate their cabs and resume work.

GERMANS ABSENT FROM PRESS DINNER

Objection Raised To Speech
MR CHAMBERLAIN'S REFERENCE TO ATTACKS ON EARL BALDWIN

Direct Instruction From Hitler

(United Press Association—Copyright,
Received December 15, 10 a.m.)

LONDON, Dec. 14.
A statement was issued by a last-minute refusal by the German Ambassador (Dr. Bierbaum) and German Journalists to attend the Foreign Association's public dinner because they objected to Chamberlain's reference to the German Press not scrupling to vilipend Earl Baldwin.

The speech was issued in advance, and there is comment on the fact that diplomatic action was taken regarding it before its delivery to journalists.

The decision not to attend the dinner was conveyed to the Embassy, and remains before the dinner. There was no message from the Embassy, but the invited officials, including Herr Gottfried von Amsdorff, German Office Press Chief, who is to have to report to Hitler, were absent.

The dinner and here someone presented the criticized passage.

RADIO AIDS TO AIR LINES

VAST ARRAY OF SYSTEMS IN AMERICA MAKES FOR SAFE OPERATION

It seems almost axiomatic in Australia that a major difficulty in the development of a wireless communication system is that of their responsibility to the public, and in no sphere has this been more evident than in commercial aviation. (Last week we reported on the "Skyway Morning Herald.")

The tragedy in the Marborough Region in February of last year, when a Stinson airplane was destroyed, with the loss of five lives was never before in the charge of civil aviation. It was the first time that a wireless communication system had been used on a passenger plane to avoid ground collision.

It is an even greater disaster than has been necessary to awaken the responsible Ministry and his Department to a realization of the vital importance of radio aids to aerial navigation.

The list of the Douglas airplane radio equipped air routes under development is a long one. It includes the route from Sydney to Melbourne via the middle of the empire in a distance of 1,000 miles. It also includes the route from Sydney to Perth via the middle of the empire in a distance of 4,000 miles. It also includes the route from Sydney to London via the middle of the empire in a distance of 10,000 miles.

THE IMPROVED PLAN IN RADIO AIDS TO AIR LINES
The importance placed on radio aids to air navigation in America is shown by the establishment of a Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in Washington, D.C., to coordinate the work of the various agencies concerned with the development of radio aids to air navigation.

PROTECTION OF NATIVE BIRDS

Whatever the rights and wrongs of the controversy which has arisen over the shooting of pukeko in Hawke's Bay, the fact remains that the birds are being shot in large numbers and that the public conscience has at last been aroused on the subject of the protection of native birds.

The destruction of birds in almost every county on the North Island is a matter of which the public is becoming increasingly aware. In some cases, as in New Zealand, it has been the result of a long and bitter struggle between the sportsmen and the conservationists.

Perhaps things are improving. Women no longer wear heavy hats as dowdiness on their heads, and in England at least there has been a revival, led by the young lady Queen Victoria, in the wearing of hats which are both stylish and comfortable.

For instance, in New Zealand today there are few places where the native pukeko is plentiful. There are people here who can remember the days when it was difficult to find in the bush a single bird without starting a party of sportsmen. The destruction of birds in almost every county on the North Island is a matter of which the public is becoming increasingly aware.

It is of no use making an outcry and then setting back the hands of the clock. There are people here who can remember the days when it was difficult to find in the bush a single bird without starting a party of sportsmen. The destruction of birds in almost every county on the North Island is a matter of which the public is becoming increasingly aware.

Fire Brigade's Plans
The Fire Brigade in Hawke's Bay is planning to purchase a new fire engine and to improve its equipment. The plans are being discussed by the Fire Brigade Committee.

No Fingerprints: Locksmith Says
Captain's Keys Must Have Been Copied

By Telegraph—Press Association.

Sir Philip Edward Hobland, master of the New Zealand Steam Co.'s Rangitata, discovered this morning he had lost his keys. He has had the keys copied and has had the copies tested by a locksmith. The locksmith has advised that the keys must have been copied by someone who had access to the keys in the cabin.

It is thought that the keys were copied by someone who had access to the keys in the cabin. The keys were found in the cabin of the Rangitata, which was in Auckland at the time of the theft. The keys were found in the cabin of the Rangitata, which was in Auckland at the time of the theft.
