Five o'Clock Gossip

Mrs. D. M. Graham, C/o Street, Hastings, writes with her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Lawson, Hastings. Miss J. McMillan is a New Plymouth girl in Hastings and will soon spend a holiday in London.

MODERN WOMAN IS A FAILURE ACCORDING TO AN ENGLISH WRITER

Modern woman is a failure because, according to the traditional idea of what women are for, she is no longer necessary as there are too many of her and machines have been invented which do women's work much better than most women.

THE VIEW OF OLIVE SCHREIBER

"In 'Woman and Life'... Olive Schreiber, the South African writer, writes in modern conditions that she is not satisfied with the present position of women. She says that women are not being educated properly and are not being treated as equals to men.

HEIGHER EDUCATION Higher education has been of little benefit to women... result is that women, even when they work in the fields, are not being treated as equals to men.
