Ominous War Preparations

MILITARY SUPPLIES AND TROOPS POURING TOWARDS FRONTIERS

ALL RUGBY CANCELLED: FATE OF CZECH PROPOSALS AWAITED

LONDON, September 7. The Paris correspondent of "The Times" says that he has been informed for all troops at Marseilles and naval ratings at Toulon have been recalled.

All French Ambassadors and a Minister at present on furlough have been instructed to return to their posts immediately.

The Maginot Line has been fully manned. The troops have discarded their blue and donned khaki campaign uniforms.

After a tour of the German fortifications from the Saar to Basel, the Strasbourg correspondent of the London "Daily Telegraph" reports extraordinary activity everywhere.

All regular railway services, except the long distance, are disrupted. Trains and equipment are pouring in endlessly.

An official at Stuttgart station declared that he had not seen such preparations since the War. Surprisingly, no attempt is being made to remove the Rhineband reinforcements are mostly artillery and air force pilots. Stations are crammed with war material.

Lorries bearing cases marked "Krupp" are congesting almost every country road. Military authorities have commandeered whole villages.

Riding over the hills behind Freiburg, the correspondent found two large aerodromes cut from the forest, with camouflaged hangars providing entrances to underground hangers.

Reports from Strasbourg, Nancy and Metz declare that the northeast frontier is calm and that there is no tension. French customs require Hitler's presence concerning Czechoslovakia as showing that the bridge is not cut over. Rumors follow the Nuremberg programme.

Dr. Hodas has handed Herr Meißner the Czech plan with an enclosure. Note the terms of which are not definitely established by the Czechs as to ratification.

Immediate action is required to prevent the Czechs from any further steps.

Employment of officials in districts of their own nationality.

Local regions to have a police of their own nationality.

Armed forces equipped with modern arms.

Special services in central administrations to be under nationals, who would deal with matters affecting their own nationality.

STRIKE DECISION IS CREATING UNEASINESS

Industry Perturbed: Conference Urged To Prevent The "Grievous Loss"

LONDON, September 7. (Received September 7, 10 p.m.)

The miners' decision for a general strike on the outside is creating uneasiness in business and shipping circles. Popular feeling had been that the coalminers were bluffing.

The situation has now taken a different complexion, and all the industries using coal are now perturbed. Many of the companies have two to three months' supplies of coal.

A prominent official declares that the industry action had created an intolerable position. They had been taking a day at a week for several weeks, reducing their output by 20 per cent. Their claim for a six-hour day, back to back, had a reality outside out of a four-hour day, while all their demands were granted the additional cost a ton, he said, would be 10s.

Mr. Curtis, leader of the Federal Opposition, is urging the Prime Minister to intervene and convene a conference of the parties, with a view to avoiding the grievous estimate his inspection of whether the strike surrenders or fails.

WANGANUI HOPES IN DEBUTANTE STAKES

Submission's Work Has Been Really Smart; Sister to Courteairl

"Daily Mail" Special Service.

Apart from the Gallop, the most interesting race of the season in the Hawke's Bay circuit for two-year-olds. This will open the second day's racing.

Submission was not broken into until the middle of April, but since then her progress has been uninterrupted and she will not be at a disadvantage on that account. Most of her best work has been done in company with her stablemate, Portal, who is not to be demoted to the same ability.

HAVING shown no signs of being a fast runner, Submission was sent to the paddocks to graze and to be broken in by the trainer, Mr. J. H. G. Taylor. She was broken in by the trainer, Mr. J. H. G. Taylor. She was broken in by the trainer, Mr. J. H. G. Taylor.

WANGANUI FORM ANALYSED FOR TODAY - Homily's Guineas Trial - HAWKES BAY HORSES WELL PREPARED - Grand Field In The Sprint

(By MORTIMER)

The Wanganui meeting, which opens at the River Course today, commencing officially at 10.30, is certain on the spring racing. By attracting horses engaged in the leading season districts and by the presence of some very wide mobility.

Some few trials indicate the revival in racing that has been shown in the leading districts and it is expected that the show even further improvement in all directions this season.

Not fewer than twelve three-year-olds who survived the first season of the season are engaged today, and such interest is being taken in their form that it would appear that the Wanganui meeting will be a most successful one.
