BRITISH FRIENDSHIP WITH RUMANIA

Royal Appreciation of Step RAPID EXPANSION OF ENGLISH SCHOOL IN BUCHAREST

King George Sends His Best Wishes

British Official Wire (Received October 18, 8 p.m.)

BUCHAREST, Oct. 17.—On the occasion of the recent opening of the British Institute in Bucharest, members of the British Legation, the British Consulate-General, and M. T. Ivis, president of the Anglo-Rumanian Society, were sent to King George and King Rumania, patron of the Anglo-Rumanian Society.

Lord Lond, who has just returned from a private visit to Bucharest, was told the opportunity to perform the inaugural ceremony, has now occurred in the following telegram from King George: "I much appreciate the telegram addressed to me on this and I am glad to see the occasion of the inauguration of the British Institute at Bucharest."

"Please convey to M. T. Ivis my sincerest wishes together with my best wishes for the future of the British Institute."

The new British Institute, which was founded in 1937, has an English school founded by the Anglo-Rumanian Society, with 200 pupils, and has conducted in the last year the 2500 pupils now studying there.

THE STANDARDISATION OF FARMING MACHINERY

These Are Difficult Days For The Man On The Land

In these difficult days of the storm on the land the two problems which command the greatest attention are the costs of production and marketing. It has been pointed out on the one hand, that our exports of many primary products are being sold at prices which are not only lower than the world market, but also lower than the prices which we ourselves are paying for the same commodities, but these matters will be dealt with in a separate column. The primary products are vitally concerned with both matters, they are not in a position generally to influence the latter, except in relation to the quality, and in some respects, the extent of the goods which they make available.

Among the speakers at the recent convention of the Chamber of Agriculture at Manawatu was Professor E. M. Wulfeke, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture at the Victoria University, who pointed out the dangers which would befall the industry if it failed to standardise its machinery. He pointed out that the standardisation of machinery is not only a matter of convenience, but also a matter of necessity. He pointed out that the standardisation of machinery is not only a matter of convenience, but also a matter of necessity. Car Painting By Modern Methods

AN EXPERT PROCESS Old Cars Rejuvenated By Sigley

Among other great advances made in the automobile industry in recent years, the art of rejuvenating old cars has become a prominent feature. Modern methods have been developed to give a finish that rivals in brilliancy of finish that of a new car.

The advantages of modern auto body work are many and for this reason a large number of car owners have returned to the services of L. A. Sigley, of Charles Street, Hastings, an expert in this class of work. Since June, 1937, he has been in a position to advise the best auto body work having results, and that must be applied in an expert manner. The results obtained by Sigley's are believed to be equal to those that have stood up to every test that can be put upon them.

In spite of the improved methods, many of our customers have expressed considerable interest in the art of painting old cars. It is a matter of fact that the work of painting old cars is not only a matter of art, but also a matter of science. A large number of car owners have returned to the services of L. A. Sigley, of Charles Street, Hastings, an expert in this class of work. Since June, 1937, he has been in a position to advise the best

ELECTRICITY ON THE FARM

ENGLISH ROYAL SHOW EXHIBIT

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Power Used in Nearly All Sections

One of the outstanding exhibits at the English Royal Show held at Carleton Place, Ontario, was an exhibit in the 'New Zealand Farm Machinery' section, which was more than just an exhibition, was the real thing.

This exhibit consisted of six new pieces of machinery, including a portable engine, a generator, a motor, a pump, a fan, and a blower.

The object of this exhibit was to indicate the extent to which electricity can now be applied to agricultural work and it was shown that practically every item operation, from milking to irrigation, can be done more efficiently and more economically by the use of electric power.

Our Napier Agency has a complete stock of all the latest and varied farm machinery and electric power equipment, and is prepared to supply you with all the latest and varied farm machinery and electric power equipment, and is prepared to supply you with all the latest and varied farm machinery and electric power equipment.

USE OF MACHINERY IN HAYMAKING

The Younger Cut Grass Has Far Better Feeding Value

Experience teaches that hay cut close to a far better feed than left until old and mown. J. E. Newman in the 'Farmers Weekly' (England) writes that it has been demonstrated that the younger cut grass has a more digestible and has more protein. The two main reasons account for this state of affairs. First, the later cuttings give a greater bulk, and second, they are more green, being laid longer and a more deal to matic, and is not helped in the making by the fact that the weather is a more keen weather than that of July.

In the struggle against the weather speed of working is lost obtained by making use of machinery.

Haymaking consists in mowing the grass so that it will be cut before the heat sets in, and the hay is made in the form of a mat, which can be stored in a stack or in a shed. The hay is then cut into small pieces, which can be stored in a stack or in a shed. The hay is then cut into small pieces, which can be stored in a stack or in a shed.

Power Mowing. Some power mowers are of the roller type, which are used to cut the grass into small pieces. They are used to cut the grass into small pieces, which can be stored in a stack or in a shed.

As to carrying, mowers and loaders are used to transport the hay from the field to the stack or to the wagon. They are used to transport the hay from the field to the stack or to the wagon.

On Rough Ground. The mowing of rough ground is a difficult task, and requires the use of special machinery. The mowing of rough ground is a difficult task, and requires the use of special machinery.

Low hopper mowers, now generally used, give a better cut than the standard mowers, with its engine driven from the rear. The mowers are used to cut the grass into small pieces, which can be stored in a stack or in a shed.

The new automatic string mowers are good in this way, being able to cut the grass into small pieces, which can be stored in a stack or in a shed.

FIFTY-FOUR YEARS OF PROGRESS
Hastings' Rapid Growth
TWELFTH LARGEST TOWN IN NEW ZEALAND
Developments in District

The progress from a population figure of 407 in 1884 to nearly 3500 in 1938 shows clearly that had a town of this size it was a small town. It is now a town of considerable size which is attested by the fact that the population of the town is now 3500. The increase in population is in itself a wonderful achievement when one considers that had the town remained at its original conditions that existed where Hastings now stands can be gathered from the fact that the whole area was a swamp. It was covered by the present-day business centre of the town. To look at the thriving business of today, that state of affairs can scarcely be imagined.

There are still quite a number of persons living in Hastings who will recall these scenes. It is a well-known fact that duck-shooting and other forms of water sports used to be carried out where the main street is now.

Hastings people had the original idea of the town in 1843. The permanent settlement was not made until 1874 when Mr. Thomas Turner and Mr. Williams, both of the Hastings family, came to the town. The town was then a swampy area and the Hastings family were the only ones who were living there. The town was then a swampy area and the Hastings family were the only ones who were living there.

FOR SUNSHINE AND SEA BREEZES
The Attractions of Napier
RECORD OF GALLANT FIGHT AGAINST ODDS
A Memorial To Great Courage

Truly a town of sunshine and sea breezes is Napier, the Queen of the Southern Hemisphere, and its many attractions and beautiful scenic spots are sources of constant wonderment and pleasure to both resident and visitor alike.

Blissed with a climate which fills the visitor with an invigorating and refreshing glow of health, Napier is a town worthy of the praise bestowed upon it by hundreds of admirers and a town which has made its name as a record of gallant fight against odds.

The East Coast there was many prominent who testify that the town would never recover from the terrific earthquake, but for all time as a memorial to great courage.

Another beauty of Napier is its position, situated on the coast of the South Island, and its many attractions and beautiful scenic spots are sources of constant wonderment and pleasure to both resident and visitor alike.

SHOW DISPLAY

Hawke's Bay Farmers' Association

This well-known firm of motor importers has another attractive addition to the spring show. The 1938 Buick is the most outstanding on hand and two of the series of touring sedans are equipped with the new 200 cc. This car with its new type of oil sprayer on both front and rear axle, more complete convertible arrangement. The new suspension is known as Torque-Free springing and the advantages listed over the conventional. The long springing is smoother riding, greater safety, longer tire life, almost eliminates the danger of skidding, and better handling of the car. The 200 cc engines are more reliable than those in performance, and despite a greater output of power, petrol consumption remains surprisingly low. With further refinements throughout the car and numerous mechanical improvements, much has been accomplished to increase comfort, ease of handling, and all-round motoring enjoyment.

Cherivick. Chevrolet cars are represented by a full range of all models attractively finished. This lawproof quality product is now more popular than ever before and will command considerable attention on both show days. Powered with the famous "Six" Flyer motor, greater power than ever before in available. Bodies are now of all steel construction and the well-known all steel bumper top is still retained. Independent front wheel suspension on the 200 cc line models is standard on the 200 cc. Tank racks have been redesigned and engine compartments are available for luggage. Leather upholstery, entry glass, interior brakes and gearshifts, gear box are included in all models. Two owners find the Chevrolet makes excellent investment. Priced with the very latest type "all steel coils" built to last. A special degree of control than ever before. The independent springing makes an excellent all round new feature. Shows interest for their long life and low running costs. For those interested in economical transportation.
