THIRD PARTS of the world's ENTERTAINMENT lies beyond the equator

Why limit your entertainment to local stations when there's so much to be heard? Here it is—all and here it stays! In the MANCHESTER THE STORE FOR BETTER VALUE you have built-in a set that opens the doors for a low priced all-world radio. Five valves provide all the power that's needed to pull in the world's remotest stations; a sound case, electro-magnet speaker assures an even volume of tones; the chassis and circuit are of a new design that results in a high performance over all three wave bands. Check it on all counts—in its price—in its performance—in its beauty. No other low value set ever gave so much satisfaction.

"Two Days Months Year"

AN ANGLO-AMERICAN GESTURE

The signing of the trade agreement in London, marks in some respects the end of American isolation.
The new job was conceived as a gesture of the greatest diplomatic and commercial campaign of modern times...

But now the treaty is actually. The two greatest commercial nations of the world have announced that they are prepared to co-operate for their mutual benefit, and it is left to the others to decide whether they will join their league or will prefer to remain in the orbit of so-called economic internationalism.

This treaty is a tangible demonstration that the will-of-things of Anglo-American unity may yet become a reality here in world politics.
The two great English-speaking nations have announced that they are prepared to co-operate for their mutual benefit, and it is left to the others to decide whether they will join their league or will prefer to remain in the orbit of so-called economic internationalism.

There are, of course, other aspects of the question. It is obvious that the American attitude towards the British Empire and the United States are more independent of the usual economic and political entanglements than that of the United States in the conflict as an ally of Germany towards the nations which have been her traditional enemies...

The two major factors have been instrumental in bringing America out of her isolation. The first was the collapse of American post-war prosperity, which was built upon a false and unworkable political position.
The second was the impact of totalitarian ideologies, which would have given rise to a new internationalism which would have a new era in international relations...

GREAT BRITAIN'S POLICY
Regarding Great Britain's policy the world is divided into two camps. The basic reasons for this are, first, that the British Empire is a vast collection of territories in a better position to fight than any other power.

Another great problem in the world is the question of the "New World". The "New World" is a term which is used to describe the vast territories which have been discovered since the time of Columbus. These territories are now being fought over by the great powers of the world.

NORSEWOOD PASTURE COMPETITION RESULTS
Great Interest Has Been Taken By Many Farmers

Again the pasture competition has been carried out in the Norsewood, Otahou and Norsewood districts, and very good entries have been received. The interest taken in this competition is very gratifying and good work has been done by Mr. A. W. Montgomery, of Norsewood, and Mr. W. G. Hunt, of Otahou.

Five particularly was included to ear and did not possess that body which would possibly have resulted had more time been experienced during October. In some instances the pastures were lacking and the grass sward somewhat open with a good deal of sward stem visible.

It is interesting to note the various compositions of grass associations and clover present in the various pastures that were judged. These varied to such an extent one might say from white clover and cross-fertilized.

Others consisted of perennial ryegrass, white clover, Montmorency red clover, cross-fertilized and a trace of Italian ryegrass and in some instances mixtures consisting of perennial ryegrass and white clover.

Each of these various mixtures alone present their own merits on the particular type of country and the farming practices adopted to suit them.

It is also interesting to note that our top marks gained in the various competitions actually represented one of these various pastures on one may judge by noting the management and conditions of the vigor, density and associations of good grasses present.

During the autumn judging, it will be interesting to see where these same pastures will be clearly allied to each other.

One of the features in the award associations is the inclusion of certified Montgomery red clover. This clover, together with our certified Mother White clover, has produced wonderful results with those dairy farmers who have included them in their grass associations. It is thought that certified Montgomery red has a definite place in our grasses.

The following sets out in detail the results obtained for the spring judging:

GOOD QUALITY YARDINGS OF STOCK
All Round Improvement Shown
NEW SEASONS WEANED LAMBS AND TWO-TOOTH WETHERS

Expecting for the fat cattle section, the livestock market this week showed a decided improvement on recent sales. Both at Waipukurangi and Shortland local good sales were recorded. Quality of sheep improved in both directions and buyers showed their appreciation by bidding liberally. There was also an increase in the number of sheep, which is extremely encouraging after the weeks of depressed prices.

Fat sheep are also on the upward move and showed an increase of from 1-2 to 2-3 a head. Quite a number of young lambs were on offer this week and prices have been maintained on recent sales.

A particularly good line of lambs in upward condition was made by a local grower, at Shortland, on Tuesday, October last Wednesday, and he paid the excellent price of 22.0. They were all of a very good quality.

All other sections of livestock, including fat pigs, poultry, and it has been so for considerable time.

The quality of the fat cattle this week was not quite up to the standard required, but nevertheless a good number of well bred animals were on offer. The quality of the fat sheep was also not up to the standard required, but nevertheless a good number of well bred animals were on offer.

Some of the best of the fat sheep were on offer this week and they were all of a very good quality. The quality of the fat pigs was also not up to the standard required, but nevertheless a good number of well bred animals were on offer.
