REGULATIONS ARE UNPOPULAR

WHAT IMPORTS ARE TO BE ALLOWED

Immediate Frank Announcement Wanted

WELLINGTON DISSATISFIED

By Telegraph-Press Association.

WELLINGTON, Jan. 5.—So far not enough import regulations have been laid down to give an accurate indication of the policy to be followed in the matter of imports.

Probably because the Government has not been able to progress than in the other spheres work to be undertaken.

Many firms, however, are expressing replies to their inquiries.

In the meantime, Importers complain that their business is being held up by what they describe as the secretive attitude of the Government. They urge that an immediate frank announcement should be made of the goods to be allowed into and what are to be kept out of the country. Un-til now they are unable to make plans.

Attempt to Break Stroud of Imports

By Telegraph-Press Association.

CHRISTCHURCH, Jan. 5.—A committee of importers, headed by the Canterbury Chamber of Commerce, has decided to break through the shroud of official secrecy which surrounds the import regulations governing the restriction of imports.

One of the major difficulties confronting importers is the complete shroud that covers that legislation for information from the Department. It is now proposed to set up a bureau to collect information about imports and to make it available to the public.

The committee is also planning to set up a bureau which will be available to the public for information on the import situation.

SID REID'S TEAM DID WELL IN HOLIDAYS

Kathbella Was Impressive

NOTES ON FORM IN HAWKE'S BAY

Interest In Wellington Races

(By MOTOGRAPH)

Sid Reid, the widely known Hastings runner, was well in the limelight over the holidays with his select team of young horses. Of the lot he raced, the best was undoubtedly the one named the other Halley, was twice placed in Auckland.

Kathbella was impressive in Auckland, but she was not so good in Wellington. She started only twice, scoring at Auckland and Hastings and improving fully to both.

The form was good enough to suggest that she also will not remain long in the back ranks and the prospect is bright to develop into a good class sprinter.

She improved with his race the first day at Auckland to run second to Amey in the three-year-old race at that meeting. Her second victory was the one over the other Halley, with considerable ease and his outings should attract him for racing at Trentham next season.

Kohi, a solid-built son of Bulhaider and Lacroix, was well placed in Auckland and Hastings and was in form to reach his best form this season as he is still growing.

Kohi's half-sister, Engora, likes a run of minor races, but she was followed by letters as she gives her first crack at Hastings. It is not yet known whether she will be sent to Trentham next season, to suggest distinct possibilities later on.

Halley's racing at Woodville finished him back a little, but he picked up during the holidays. He was in form to do well enough to leave the impression that his turn is not far off.

Which training activity is confined almost solely to preparing horses for 32 Frank Truett, may have Yogi in the picture (Pawnee), that good girl Nye Congo, and the Oka winner Hankland and several others. The latter class exceptionally well and may repay her top form.

There is no indication that any of the horses from Hastings this season will be sent to Trentham. It is possible that the other Halley, who has been in the best of form, will be sent to Auckland next season.

Many good stayers have come to the fore in the Wellington races, but the impression is that the best of them will be sent to Auckland next season.

There is a small group of horses in the Wellington races, but the impression is that the best of them will be sent to Auckland next season.
