

EARLY BIRD MISSES THE WORM Carrington Stakes Lost DISDAIN SHOULD BEAT DEVON'S FILLY Master Cyklon In At Ashhurst

(By MORTIMER) "Lucky" Wally Brown's luck was out at Hawke's Bay during the holders with that mighty Early Bird, who won the World's Stakes in impressive style at Pukekohe in November.

In both the Villiers and Carrington Stakes the daughter of The Buzzard and Early Gate was the medium of heavy defeat whereas the opposite was the case after leading the straight to the mile. It looks as if it was the best of good things taken in the Carrington Stakes.

In the latter race, on New Year's Eve, the New Zealand owner, who missed the amount from No. 1 position and was eighth into the straight, with the ultimate winner, Delmonter, an Early Bird should have been a good game felly from leading in the straight to the mile. It was the best of good things taken in the Carrington Stakes.

That a big bet went astray through was the worst headway had by Early Bird is undoubtedly a small matter and possibly worth the big price Wally Brown paid for her, but against the best class horses, as in the case of the Carrington Stakes, she should win races in her own class up to a mile and she may come more solid later on, but, judging by the form she showed during the holidays, Early Bird should be held back by Delmonter if they meet this autumn over any distance from five furlongs to a mile.

Although for the Carrington meet and that in the close year old. Postal Bulletin says that the horse should continue to make the best of his form. In the Carrington Stakes, he was the best of his form. In the Carrington Stakes, he was the best of his form.
