"Doing a Gaynor"

There was a period, some years ago, when the name of the actress played on the screen was almost synonymous with the word "glamour."

Now that period is definitely over. The glamour of the screen has been replaced by a more realistic and more varied type of entertainment.

"I Love Acting"

There is one thing which I would like to make quite clear. I am not a professional actor, but I do love acting for the sake of it.

"Lady Luck"

Everything on the black and white screen is done with a certain amount of luck. It is not always the actor's fault if a picture fails.

A comedy scene from the forthcoming film, "My Love Is Alive," as presented in preview at the Regent Theatre, Hastings, to-day.

Nelson Eddy Is Always Busy

VARIETY IS KEYNOTE OF HIS SUCCESS

"If I had my days in advance and that nothing came of it, I would not mind without any plan, his work would be more exciting and I'd be better next year," but that doesn't seem to worry him.

So Nelson Eddy explains his philosophy, and also his attitude towards his career in films, on the radio and in the concert stage. That he has successfully combined all three is a tribute to the fact that his system works.

White-angled in his eye of the dramatic film, comedy, and variety. Eddy does not seem to be at all overworked.

DOWN TO SEA IN A TRAWLER

GLEAMING HARVEST OF THE SEA

Fishermen Of Napier

A MEMORABLE DAY IN THE HARBOUR

How Breakfast Is Served

The soft splashes of morning ropes striking the surface of the water and the glimmering throb of a newly-awakened sun over the bay, the fishing vessel Otina edges away from the wharf at Fort Albert. A white cloud and light haze upon the water give greeting but the crew are not toasting. They are busy getting ready for their day's work. A few minutes later the crew will be on their feet, the engine will be started, and the marking buoy thrown overhead. The day's work has begun.

Until late afternoon the crew will be busily engaged in other than fish catching. In Napier, Tolerton North, Wellington, and New Plymouth will have fresh fish for breakfast.

It is possible that the average citizen does not have a proper appreciation of the industry and organization required to supply his needs in this direction, an industry which caused a major disaster to the country on the 21st of January, 1938, on a stormy evening and clamour about this sturdy vessel.

How breakfast is served, by nightfall and by dawn, is a heavy respect for fishermen, fish, and even the sea itself.

The Otina is a four-cylinder motor launch, 40 ft long, 12 ft wide, and 4 ft deep. She is a motor launch, and is used for fishing and for other purposes. She is a motor launch, and is used for fishing and for other purposes. She is a motor launch, and is used for fishing and for other purposes.

EXPERIMENTAL ORCHARD WORK REVIEWED

Growers Hear An Address By Mr. J. D. Atkinson

COMBATING FRUIT DISEASES

Experimental work carried out during the season at the Hawke's Bay Fruit Growers' Association's research orchard at Havildon North was explained to orchardists by Mr. J. D. Atkinson, plant physiologist attached to the Plant Diseases Office of the Department of Agriculture, at a field day yesterday. Mr. Atkinson was accompanied by a number of growers from the district.

Mr. Atkinson said that the purpose of the work was to determine the best methods of combating fruit diseases. He said that the work had shown that certain diseases, such as scab and blight, were caused by fungi which could be destroyed by spraying with certain chemicals.

DECLINE FOR EWES AT THE FIRST FAIR
Yesterday's Sale At Waipukurau
Two-Tooth Ewes Realise To 25/3

MARKET MET BY VENDORS

The opening of the first ewe sale of the 1939 season at Waipukurau yesterday was devoid of any surprises. As was pointed out, prices were well above the level of 1937. The top prices on the day were 25/3 for two-tooth and 18/6 for four-tooth ewes. A total of over 11,000 ewes were marketed, and in most cases vendors were prepared to meet the market, there being few buyers. The quality, as was to be expected, was mixed, with good tops and four and six-tooth ewes.

The weather was ideal and the attendance of buyers extremely good. Buyers had every opportunity of making selections at and seeing the bidding was quite brisk. The tops in the two-tooth range from 22/6 to 25/3, and in the four-tooth range from 17/6 to 21/6. Four-tooths made from 15/6 to 17/6. The top prices on the day were 25/3 for two-tooth and 18/6 for four-tooth ewes. A total of over 11,000 ewes were marketed, and in most cases vendors were prepared to meet the market, there being few buyers. The quality, as was to be expected, was mixed, with good tops and four and six-tooth ewes.

Racing Club Handicap

DEFAULTER OUT OF THE WAY

WELLINGTON, Jan. 20. With Defaulters out of the way the Racing Club Handicap assumes an open appearance, and both Wild Chase and Arctic King, who were kept out of the picture in the Cup, are likely to play a prominent part tomorrow.

As the handicapper's effort was good enough to bring him into the limelight here, but Assaua Fei will also have to be considered, with Corrobbare appearing to be the pick of the lightweight.

Though rather overvalued the Metropolitan Handicap has been the best race since the first day of the season. The winner, Assaua Fei, was a very good horse, but it is not likely to be a factor in the future.

There is a safe crack off the Derby Cup, and of Sturminster and both of these are very good horses. The former is a very good horse, but it is not likely to be a factor in the future.

Patience—who was named in Defaulters in the Metropolitan Handicap on Thursday, and who should be a factor in the future.

Patience and Golden Plover seem to be the best horses in the Metropolitan Handicap.

Heavy support for him in the Trial Heat, and a very good horse. The former is a very good horse, but it is not likely to be a factor in the future.

Golden Plover is the pick of the race, but Assaua Fei will also have to be considered.
