'EUROPEAN FRONTIER' FRANCE

ROOSEVELT DECLARES THAT AMERICA WILL SUPPORT DEMOCRACIES

"INEVITABLE SHOWDOWN" IN EUROPE EXPECTED DRAMATIC PLEDGE OF ASSISTANCE WORLD SITUATION CONSIDERED EXTREMELY GRAVE

The "New York Times" Washington correspondent revealed that President Roosevelt told the Senate Military Intervention Committee that the United States would back Europe's democracies against the dictators in every way short of war.

He asked Senators to regard France as the actual frontier of America in the apparently inevitable showdown between the democracies and the dictators, and opined that world conditions were so grave that Senators must keep secret the details of his remarks, for fear of alarming the American people.

The Senators expected only an explanation regarding France, but he went so far as to suggest that the United States should be ready to assist France in a "rush and hurry" basis, hinting that munitions would be a self-interest in such a case.

The Senators were impressed, many even surprised, at the openness with which the United States seemed to be working with Britain and France in efforts to stabilize the situation towards the democracies.

President Roosevelt also requested in his report that influential members of the Senate should be kept in the confidence of his foreign policy, but there is no indication that this will be carried out.

RUSSIAN HOPES FOR TRADE REVIVAL NEWSPAPER HINT

"Will Grasp the Hand of Friendship"

The Soviet newspaper, "Pravda," hinting that a radical change may be forthcoming in Russian foreign policy, declares that if Germany extends the hand of friendship to the Soviet it will be quickly grasped. The journal condemns the policy of European appeasement, and France's failure to aid the Spanish Republicans, but favors an improvement of European relations and hopes for a trade revival between Germany and Russia.

FULL MILITARY SUPPORT FOR ITALY

Germany Would Act Under Any Circumstances

Views of Hitler's Speech

The "New Chronicle's" Berlin correspondent points out that such wide powers of attorney involve corresponding duties, such as consultation, before action is taken. An article from a newspaper stated that Hitler's speech created a most favorable impression on an Government circles and on the Italian people generally. The paper's correspondent in Italy writes, "The German view of the Italian situation is that the Italian people are not yet ready to support Hitler's policy. The French view is that the Italian people are not yet ready to support Hitler's policy. The British view is that the Italian people are not yet ready to support Hitler's policy."

GERMANY HAS NO MORE TO OFFER

Move For Appeasement Must Come From Britain TALKS SEEM IMPOSSIBLE

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received February 1, 11.35 p.m.) BERLIN, Feb. 1. The German morning newspapers give prominence to Mr Chamberlain's reference to Germany in his speech to the House of Commons, but pay little or no attention to the announced invitation proposal as a preliminary to general negotiations. One newspaper declares that the German Government is contemplating a move in Mr Hitler's speech, food for a certain period, and if Mr Chamberlain now demands preliminary conditions for the granting of negotiations, including a new German contribution, it is difficult to see how the talks will begin.

SHORTER YARDINGS OF STOCK

Stortford Lodge Sale GENERAL RISE IN PRICE RESULTS Small Entry of Store Cattle

Prices for stock at Stortford Lodge yesterday showed an improvement on last week's prices as a result of a much lighter supply of material. The market was well covered and buyers were given every likelihood to choose from. In spite of the fact that there were only 130 head for sale in total, the market was slow and unexciting and a hard job in maintaining interest.

The cow sale on Feb. 10 to 15, was held at Stortford Lodge, but light types came on a par with recent rates. The best cattle yarded were those of account of Drumpard Stirling. Heifers and cows from the draft topped the market, with 100 to 120 in preference. There was no one but yarded worth recording.

Cows in medium to prime order ranged from 16 10s to 18s, and light and unmade had from 14 17s to 16 2s. Cows from 16 12s to 18 10s and the top of the lot of dry cow sets made from 14 17s to 17 15s.

A lot of the unmade and young cow sets came forward and little interest was taken in them. The only line which was worth mentioning was from Mangani Station, consisting of cows and steers.

The steers were in good forward order and made to 28 0s. The cows, 41 in number and P.A. bred, were well forward and offered fair conditions, and met the market at 15 0s.

The selling of the store sheep was brighter than the bidding was more brisk. The yarding was about 2000 head on last week, there being only 700 on offer.

Cows shodded an average of 10 to 12 head in medium class lambs, but better sorts were yielding a return to the recent fall of rain. This has brought away the feed on the acre and caused a shortage of available lambs in the medium-grown lambs. The rains have also freshened up the supply of 12s, and straight-grown and light types to 12 0s.

The top in the wether lambs was in 15s, others ranged from 12 0s to 15s, and straight-grown and light types to 12 0s. Wagon eye lambs made from 13 10s to 15s, and others from 12 0s to 15s.

Wethers sold from 15 0s to 16 2s for the tops, and 12 0s to 15 0s for the medium to good. Lambs made to 15 0s, and a line of small Down hogs made to 15 0s.

Several small drafts of five to six head of P.A. bred cows were offered and good prices were obtained. The best of the lot was from 11 0s to 12 0s for the best.

At the end of the sale of store cattle, the market was well covered and buyers were given every likelihood to choose from. In spite of the fact that there were only 130 head for sale in total, the market was slow and unexciting and a hard job in maintaining interest.

DOMINION DEFENCES

On three consecutive days in June last, the "Daily Mail" devoted its columns to an analysis of the national defence and at that time the whole question was comprehensively discussed.

Among other things, it was then said that there was no objection to the volunteer system so long as it can produce an adequate force of well-equipped and efficient men ...

The defence of New Zealand, after all, is related to more than resistance to possible enemies who may invade our shores. Our safety lies in the Old Country and our duty to it is made possible, as Sir Andrew Russell said, for Britain to concentrate her Empire forces where they are most needed.

What Sir Andrew Russell had in mind as our getting back to the thinking of the title is brought in, that the New Zealand is yet young, and such English ideas represent a step in the backward direction ...

The world today must face the facts as they exist and act in accordance with the valid realities of the situation. These realities, as far as threatened countries are concerned, have to do with the necessity for defence.

The common psychological blunder that is being made today is the failure to see that the world is not what it once was, and that the world is not what it once was, and that the world is not what it once was.
