WHEN THE AUTUMN WIND BLOWS AT DAWN.—Clouds "kangaroo" line with their weight of snow" in the Te Pahi valley.

A PEACEFUL PANORAMA.—It was not without some quality systems that the sheep were induced to pose for a "Daily Mail" picture at Manakopore the other day.

NEARLY THE CAUSE OF AN ALARM.—What was thought to be a big blow to Hastings recently was nothing more than a school rambler burning enterprise on the part of the boys of the West End School.

CARPETED IN ANKER.—The oak canopy of the Otago Road is a glory of colour at the moment and it will worth going a long way to see.

International Code Flag from a separate system for use at sea by vessels of all flags under the same or different flags. The flag is printed in black, white, or blue, for easy recognition. Strips of plain cotton, with the distinctive signal design, are also available in large supplies of Grey's.

Say it with flags... and the call is for

GREYS

because Greys is great
FINE CUT or COARSE CUT 1-oz. PACKETS 10½d. 2-oz. TINS 1/9

WHERE THE LOGS COME DOWN.—A typical scene at the lumber mills at Te Pahi, on the Waipapa road.

SOME CAREFUL ANIMALS.—There may not be much to look at, and they have more respectable qualities, but they certainly do some good work, especially in the case of the Blackberry pest. A lot of Farnhill.

GREAT NORTHERN STEEPLECHASE MEMORIES

El Gallo's Double Double
WHEN LEVANTER AND LIBERATOR MET
Dispersed Fell Twice And Won

(By MOTORAU.)
Over half a century of thrills and spills, and a host of stirring performances have been associated with the Great Northern Steeplechase...
There and three-quarters miles have to be traversed in the Great Northern Steeplechase, and stanzas is completed in five, or even six, a place. While the fences are by no means as formidable as on the General National course at Riccarton...
