TURN ON A ROUND OF VISITS

Journalists To Visit Defence Dept

United Press Association-Copyright. (Received June 1, 11:30 a.m.) BRISTOL, June 1. An official programme has been arranged for six well-known British journalists who, with their wives, have arrived in Bristol on June 1, to visit the Ministry of Defence.

During the week-long journey they made many appearances on the rear platform of the train, but the Government announced that the heavy programme imposed such a strain that no unscheduled appearances would be made on the return trip before 10 a.m. or after dark.

It is also reported that officials not included in the official itinerary will to organize large-scale demonstrations.

Their Majesties will arrive at Dover tomorrow and will spend 22 hours resting.

DANNEVIKKE RUGBY REVIEW
SOME COMMENT

The Dannevirke team for the selection of the 1939 New Zealand representative team for the 1939 tour of New Zealand in Rugby.

Although the team is composed chiefly of those who represented the province last year, there is every indication that the new blood will be effective, but the Dannevirke team will surely be a full test of their capabilities, as compared with the ability of those players who were not selected this year.
