BRITISH SUBMARINE IS FOUND AFTER NIGHT OF ANXIOUS SEARCHING

CREW OF SUNKEN VESSEL ALIVE BUT IMPRISONED

FOUR RESCUED BY DAVIS APPARATUS

STRONG HOPE THAT OTHERS MAY SIMILARLY ESCAPE

British Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 2, 11.30 p.m.) The new submarine H.M.S. Thetis, after diving trials of Birkenhead, failed to rise, and an all-night search was conducted for her. She was finally located with her stern 185 feet out of the water 14 miles from Great Orms Head.

According to a later report, Captain Green and Lieutenant Woods escaped from the Thetis and were picked up by the crew of the Davis apparatus. The other crew members were rescued by the Davis apparatus and discovered the Thetis.

It is a well known fact that the Thetis was the commander of the L-12, which collided with the H.M.S. Pembroke on the coast of the Orkney Islands on the 11th of October, 1938.

ARMS DOUBT BRITAIN'S WORD "RIGHTS DENIED" Period of Transition Is Not Fixed

British Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 2, 7.30 p.m.) The Anglo British Committee, in examining the question of the White Paper on Palestine, doubt whether Britain would keep her promise and consider that independence cannot be reached if a transitional period is insisted upon.

The committee further claims the right to control the transition period for a number of years.

A BIG DITCH—Work is proceeding steadily with the construction of the new reservoir at Napier. The scaffolding and planting in the background have been erected as a starting point for erecting concrete.

BUILT FOR EFFICIENCY—This typically modern building in which Social Security and Public Works business will be transacted is awaiting completion of works.

AN ALL-PURPOSE TRIPOD—Mounted in this way the Brown gun can deal efficiently with any menace from the air. A demonstration by Sergeant Gurney.

TURBULENCE AND PEACE—At this lovely corner of Lake Waikaremoa, a rushing mountain torrent disturbs the calm of quiet waters.
