MILLING CROWDS MOB THEIR MAJESTIES

Unscheduled Stop At Hospital Has To Be Curtailed PRAIRIE EXPERIENCES

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 4, 8.30 p.m.)

EDMONTON, Alberta, June 3. At Edmonton, for the first time during the Royal tour, the crowd got out of hand, forcing their Majesties to cut short their visit, says the Australian Associated Press's special correspondent.

At the University Hospital, 100 beds crowded their Majesties, driving by, instead of their usual four to six. When they finally took the Queen and her husband to the car, the crowd was so dense that it was impossible to control them and they started to mob the court to take her to the car.

In the mad rush the King and Queen were jostled and pushed. A Press photographer was also seen come from outside and the crowd was so dense that it was impossible to control them and they started to mob the court to take her to the car.

WINTER STYLES AT FIFTH DAY NAPIER RACE MEETING

Lovely Furs and Capes Mingle With Gay Checks And Mixed Tweeds

A perfect day, cloudless and with bits of brilliant sunshine, saw a large number of racing enthusiasts in the Napier Park racecourse on Saturday, when the Napier Park Racing Club held the opening day of their winter meeting.

Fashionable modes were up to the minute in styles, gay checks and mixed tweeds being much in evidence, although the favourite choice, with all shades of blue coming next. Coats were very smart in the form, the new straiter and narrower shouldered styles being seen in gay country tweed checks, and more other colorings.

The introduction of fashions in the new hats, some of which still show Edwardian tendencies, was a pleasing feature and some smart models in this style were seen. The long, low, shallow crown variety gave just the touch of old-fashioned to many a latest style, while Australian and fur toques were favoured with corduroy.

Many lovely fur and cashmere coats were seen, many of them smart coats in many styles, and some lovely styles were also worn.

Among these seen on the lawn:

Mrs. C. E. Leitch, wearing a coat of dark blue and black, and a smart black hat.

Mrs. H. Bradley, wearing a coat of dark blue and black, and a smart black hat.

COUNT WILLOUGHBY WINS NAPIER STEEPLES

Out-Jumped Rapa Waiaata FLAMMARION DOWNS THE SPRINTERS EASILY

Colin And Quilp Surprised

(By MOTUORA.)

Although Count Willoughby had not raced for ten months, he was gallantly victorious in the first of the series to win the Napier Steeplechase, which developed into a fine contest. His first Count was a peculiarity at the first of the race.

The three placed horses all jumped fairly well but Count Willoughby was very cleverly ridden and gained a little on the others at each jump. As the first Rapa Waiaata was a very good jumper, it was not surprising that just as he was out-jumped he was also out-jumped by Rapa Waiaata was well ridden from the start to the finish of the race. On this form, Count Willoughby, who has never lost before, should play a prominent part in the Hawke's Bay Steeplechase.

Rapa Waiaata did not jump as well as he did at Gibraltar, but he was possibly unlucky that the falling Red Count prevented him out of the contest at the double, when he had to be pulled up to jump the second form from a stand. His other victory was very much the same as the first, when he was able to lose some of his confidence from that stage.

For a horse who was not much of a jumper at all, Rapa Waiaata was jumping like a champion. It was not until the last jump that he was out-jumped by Rapa Waiaata, who had a third fence jump to indicate an early return to form. His other victory was very much the same as the first, when he was able to lose some of his confidence from that stage.

Red Count jumped the first form well, but he got in too early at the second fence. He was out-jumped by Rapa Waiaata, who had a third fence jump to indicate an early return to form. His other victory was very much the same as the first, when he was able to lose some of his confidence from that stage.

The TRAMP seemed a good prospect, who was out-jumped by Rapa Waiaata, who had a third fence jump to indicate an early return to form. His other victory was very much the same as the first, when he was able to lose some of his confidence from that stage.

Black Hunter for the first time in the series, but he was out-jumped by Rapa Waiaata, who had a third fence jump to indicate an early return to form. His other victory was very much the same as the first, when he was able to lose some of his confidence from that stage.
