JAPAN IS EXPECTED TO BLOCKADE SAKHALIN AS SHE DID AT TIENSIN

MUST ACT AGAINST SOVIET TO PROVE HER STRENGTH

REASON FOR HER NEW NAVAL SQUADRON

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received July 27, 11.30 a.m.)
LONDON, July 27.
The London "Daily Telegraph" Tokyo correspondent says that the new naval squadron announced by Japan is to be intended for a blockade of the Russian port of Sakhalin situated in the Bay of Tartary.
This is part of the major developments to be expected as a result of Russia's rejection of Japan's protest over the Soviet's alleged hampering of the working of the oil and coal concessions.
The dominant power in Tokyo felt the necessity for a large-scale demonstration in order to increase the status of its inactivity, which thus far has not been proved by the Japanese negotiations on the subject of Manchuria.
The Navy's announcement said that the new squadron was to consist of four battleships, four cruisers, and four destroyers. It would also include Japan's division of the Navy's fleet, which would be under the command of the New Admiral.
The admiral said that negotiations with the Soviet were in advanced proceedings, but the Japanese Navy was determined to take the necessary measures to defend Japanese interests.

M.A.C. PLAYED DASHING GAME AGAINST CELTIC

Maori Forwards Were Thrusting Ball About Like Backs: The Other Matches

Celtic's defeat by such a convincing margin by M.A.C. was entirely unexpected. That Celtic would be beaten was a decided possibility, but that they should be beaten by such a large score is a tribute to the play of the Maori. Celtic, Old Boys, who were definitely outclassed by the Maori.

The competition has now reached a most interesting stage, and it is still impossible to forecast the eventual winner.

M.A.C. played definitely better than Celtic, but Celtic's play was not as good as M.A.C.'s, and Celtic's play was not as good as M.A.C.'s, and Celtic's play was not as good as M.A.C.'s.

THE HOUSE OF BLACKMORE

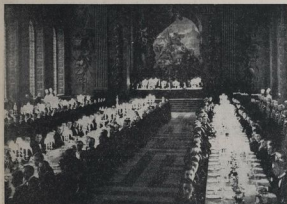

HERETAUNGA STREET - - HASTINGS

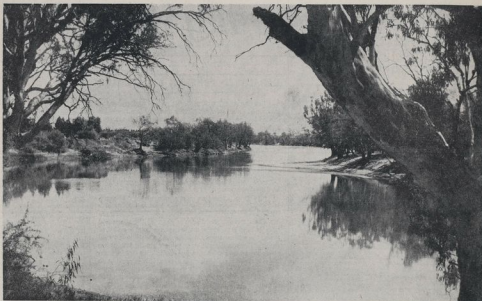

AT THE TE ATEA COLLEGE BALL.—Boys from the Collegiate School, Wanganui, were the guests of a dance held on Wednesday evening after the football match with Te Aute College. A group of the dancers.

FOURTEEN YEARS AGO.—On May 13, 1925, the 'Ceyra' was stranded and wrecked at Wanganui almost on the same spot where disaster has recently overtaken the 'Port Bowen'. The picture was taken at the time by Mr. D. Stone, of Napier.

THE KING DINES AT GREENWICH.—The scene in the grand hall of the Royal Naval College, Greenwich, when H.M. King, with the Duke of Kent, entertained the dinner guests of the royal yacht, 'Hermes'.

BY THE STILL WATERS.—Nature in a calm, pastoral mood on the Murray River, Victoria. There is peace here, and rest for tired eyes.

A NEW INTEREST IN A TEST FLIGHT.—The Australian Minister for Supply and Development (Mr. R. G. Casey), the Minister for Labour (Mr. Street) and Way Commercial (Mr. Walker) of the Commonwealth Aircraft Corporation, watch an important test flight in Victoria.

ENCOURAGED BY A ROBUST AFFECTION.—There is an shadow of doubt about this young man's popularity with his canine friends, but he seems to be slightly weighed down by embarrassment.
