Heavy Artillery Clear The Way

The "Petit Parisien" says that for more than 24 hours the Germans have exerted energetically on the whole of the north-east front...

"Le Matin" says: "All the attacks have been brought about slowly, with prudence and method."

The "New York Times" Paris correspondent says that the importance of the French gains can be gauged by the fact that the first line troops at several points are being ordered to withdraw...

The attackers' aim is to secure vital points, escape flanking fire, and organize the occupied positions to facilitate the advance.

The French command portions of the Lure River and Saar River, the importance of which has been said that crossroads and rail junctions cross the Saar River...

It is alleged that any German counter-offensive against the French will come in the west, where it is believed the Siegfried Line may be weakest and forced back...

The Germans were reported on Sunday night to be striking into the Meuse valley in the direction of the French positions...

A German offensive against Metz, according to the "New York Times," has been reported to have been repulsed...

The "New York Times" Berlin correspondent says that the German attack on Metz has been repulsed...

INCREASED RATING IN HAWKE'S BAY

Chairman Makes Detailed Reply To Recent Criticism

"Since the issue of the current year's rate demand of the ratepayers has been approved by the Council, their indignation at it has increased to such an extent that they have expressed their indignation at it in a public meeting...

It is difficult to believe that anyone could be so blind to facts when it is remembered that for the last 10 years this Council has been consistently warning the ratepayers of the inevitable results that must occur through rising rates and restricting legislation...

The chairman pointed out that the ratepayers had made suggestions very difficult from a percentage basis, but that the Council had not accepted them...
