Builders will undoubtedly be engaged to clear sections of the course. Harlowth North township and the crossroads are in the top left-hand portion of the photograph. The starting point of the race is on the road outside the hotel, and the race will finish in the museum. The white line indicates a 1 1/4 mile course, and the road will be restored to the owners. MY LAST PAIR LADDERED... AND PAYDAY'S NOT TILL FRIDAY!

Don't let Stocking ladders keep you short of money

—LUX STOCKINGS STRAIGHT AFTER EVERY WEARING

Frequent stocking ladders are costly — unnecessary, too. If stocking runs make too big a hole in your weekly pay, then you can't be giving them the proper care. And the proper care? LUX care, of course, after every wear!

Lux Saves Stocking Elasticity Cuts Down Costly Ladders

A quick Lux dip removes harmful perspiration acids before they have time to weaken and rot delicate threads. Restores ELASTICITY, too, so that there's more stretch in the silk to withstand sudden strains! Save ladders, save money — Lux, stockings straight after wearing! Lux contains no wax.

ONLY LUX IS SAFE FOR ALL DELICATE WASHING.

STEWARTSON'S NEW CHANGES THE COURSE—The course of the Patetanga River recently shifted near the mouth. CONFUSION IN THOUGHT

One of the most striking by-products of this new mechanical era of civilization is the production of a thought which has arisen concerning economic and social and political problems. ...

Each period of change through which the world has passed has inevitably brought in its wake new human problems and difficulties, and since our development is a part evolutionary and partial accident, it follows that human thought through difficulty and conflict. ...

In the perfect world, evolution would be continuous and orderly, and human adjustments would follow without a break in the continuity of existence or thought. ...

It is easy to persuade people that they have rights. It is sometimes far more difficult to persuade them that they have obligations—obligations resting in possessing rights. ...

For people seem to realize that socialism, to be effective, must be a thought which is not only a theory, but a conviction. ...

This State is still the same aggregation of individuals as it has been and always will be, and it is not to be expected that our material progress or our vision of civilization will be so different from that of our forefathers. ...

One who believes that we can attain perfection by grasping at an "ism" never contrived to understand. ...
