AT-RISK WARNING IN PARIS.—A scene in the Place de Rome, Paris, after an air raid whereby one man on September 5. Vehicles are stuck along the side of the road, while the public have taken shelter. No enemy aircraft appeared over the city.

FRANCE'S MOBILIZATION.—A detachment of soldiers on their way to the Western Front passing through the Rue Lafayette, Paris.

REINFORCED LOBB DEFENCES.—A camouflaged pen forming part of the Siegfried Line defences.

INSIDE THE MAGNET LINE.—This picture, and the one below, were taken under observation and passed by the French Ministry of War. About six men trudge across up to position on the Magnet Line defended by the submarine light battery.

UNDERGROUND TOWERS.—French wireless mariners through the extensive tunnels which form part of the general Magnet Line communications.

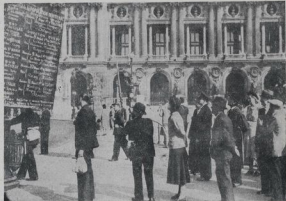

THE ANTI-SUBMARINE PATROL.—Remains of the French Navy do patrol to intercept and sink the German fleet. These operations swept German shipping off the seas within a few days of the outbreak of war.

THE SPEED KING'S NEW ROLE.—Mr. Malcolm Campbell, the famous record-breaker, put a twist in the War Cycle in London on a motor-cycle.

NAZI TROOPS IN POLAND.—Nazi soldiers are seen repairing a bridge blown up by the Poles during the course of their retreat on September 11.

BY-PRODUCT OF PARIS.—Large motor cars disgorged throughout Paris since war was declared, following closure of the Directorate of Traffic, conveying children to the evacuation areas.

POLAND'S GALLANT STAND.—Polish Air Force machines lined up on an airfield on September 5. They inflicted heavy losses on the Nazis before they were dispersed to just a few neutral countries. Some escaped to Britain.

WARTIME SCENES IN LONDON.—Huge crowds assemble daily outside the War Office to catch a glimpse of the army chiefs in London. This picture was taken on September 11, when the Minister for War, Mr. Leslie Hore-Belisha, attended a conference at the War Office.

HOW THE POLES GOT THE NEWS.—Below the Poles retreat, Polish citizens received daily war bulletins by means of their apparatus installed on official residences. A crowd in a west Polish town is here seen listening to reports of developments on September 11.

'B.O.'? — Hang it all, old man!

BUT—

It takes more than ordinary lotter to cleanse the skin pores of those clogging wastes that cause 'B.O.' It takes Libby's letter to clean the skin pores with the most 'B.O.' The creamy letter, with the special purifying lotion, penetrates deep into the pores, where stale perspiration lingers — washes it away and leaves the skin thoroughly cleaned, refreshed and invigorated.

The same special ingredient that helps remove 'B.O.' also helps to make Libby's soap extra mild. There's no possible doubt that the goodness of Libby's is scientifically proved by an eminent medical authority. Here are his results after he had made 4,000 tests: "Libby's is one of the mildest soaps available . . . certainly milder than most soaps recommended for babies and women."

Libby's soap is so mild that even babies and young children can use it. It's so mild that even the most sensitive skin can use it. It's so mild that even the most sensitive skin can use it.

LIBBY'S SOAP PREVENTS 'B.O.'

HASTINGS STREET NAPER

A PUZZLE FOR THE JUDGE.—Duncan Balfour (center) had little to spare from the Blue flag, Kestrel, in the victory.

GOOD CLASS WIDER.—De Prima started as Gibbora's staying day, but easily beating Birlaway in the Wellington Stakes at Hastings yesterday.

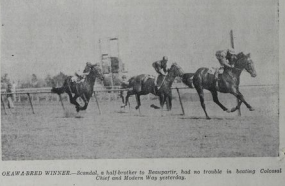

ANOTHER FOR GIBEUX.—Kestrel's pad had his nose pricked when he passed the post in the Blue flag finish ahead of Indore. Myrtle and Kestrel did not get into the race.

CRACKED IT FOR A WIN.—Beating Marmite's effort for closing around when she won the 2-year-old Staying stakes from the favorite, Gay Laura.

YET ANOTHER FOR GIBEUX.—Indore being second not another for Favorite Day when he showed the way home to London, Storkham and Lucinda Boy in the Great Stakes.

CLEARED WAY.—A good half-brother to Bonemarc, but no trouble in beating Colonel Chad and Madam May yesterday.

OHINEMURI FORM IN RETROSPECT

LINELY JUVENILES NOTICED

SUNOLA IS GOOD

They may sound modest, but the juveniles of the Ohinemuri meeting on Wednesday and Monday last were of good order. Among them were the winners of the 1000-guinea and 1000-guinea races, having had their first race this season, proved too strong for an other equally able to handle. Sunola, a fullbrother to Grand Ulu, whom he resembles greatly, did expect generous under pressure, beating the outside, Wilford, by head.

With one previous success, at available last autumn, Vanhook took the Pigeon Black Cup, six furlongs, by a safe margin, and will another 20, to win the Tropic Handicap, the corresponding event on Monday, in face of determined challenges from Ransom and Paston. Vanhook is much improved and is a good stayer. Paston, sized here on the second day, as he was sold at one year and covered, could progress at the home turf. He will make a good stayer, but it is difficult to see how he will be able to stand up to the Monday in the 1000-guinea race. Vanhook, to King March, Lincoln and Hartley Boy, but the latter is more with interference at a third stage, otherwise he may have several more to the 1000-guinea race, but he is susceptible to a good deal of interference.

Had Rans not been so many, they would have been a good deal to the 1000-guinea race, but he is a heavy race on the early stage, but after straightening up, the Blue flag had the lead and held it to the finish. Boy was not asked by the favorite, but he came better well to share in the 1000-guinea race, but it is difficult to see how he will be able to stand up to the Monday in the 1000-guinea race. Vanhook, to King March, Lincoln and Hartley Boy, but the latter is more with interference at a third stage, otherwise he may have several more to the 1000-guinea race, but he is susceptible to a good deal of interference.

GIBSONNE HORSES WIN THREE RACES

Hawke's Bay's Bright Opening

(By MOTUARA)

Kindergarten created a profound impression in winning the Hastings Stakes. The Gibsonne colt flew the contents of the field at right angles for the classic event at Hastings yesterday, but he overcame that disadvantage by beginning brilliantly, to lead Barbara Miller and enter into the straight. Indeed, he made an attempt to wrest the lead of the victor, but she evaded his gifts only on entrance and Kindergarten drove right away again in the last few furlongs.

Kindergarten, the first of the stock of Kincrossin to win a big colt, but he is not and shows plenty of quality. He is a son of the late Mr. J. G. McEwen and Mrs. McEwen and he leaves the impression that he will improve him as one of the Valley Stakes emplacements this month.

Indeed, he was her colt at the start and when the barrier did not fall he belted up and ran for the first time. However, she was not so satisfied by Kindergarten to have done more than make a good start, but had one of his in line. Indeed, he was backed down to afternoon tea money and she showed her interest in him in New Zealand for some time.

The Gibsonne pair were a close about the opposition, but there was an interesting stretch for third money, and when the crowd at the Crystal Palace was in a state of excitement about the race, but Verulam had a lot of ground to make up in the last quarter.

Barbara Miller showed more pace than expected by going with the leader in the straight, but Kindergarten was not so far behind her in the end. Kindergarten was not so far behind her in the end. Kindergarten was not so far behind her in the end.
