NAZI BLAMES BRITAIN FOR THE WAR

Claim That Decisive Victory Is Certain

COLONES CROP UP AGAIN

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received October 25, 2:15 p.m.)

"Germany takes up the British challenge. The end can only be a decisive German victory," said the Nazi Foreign Minister (Ribbentrop), speaking at a Reichstag session in Berlin today. He spoke for 75 minutes, declaring that the new war in the East grew out of German colonial aspirations.

He said that, with the exception of the return of the colonies, to which every great Power was entitled, Germany agreed, the position in the East had to be maintained as it was.

He declared the British "perfidious," recalling the 1915 Balfour declaration in favour of the Jews, and the recognition of war debts to America, the provision of the League of Nations to India, and finally, the Hitler-Chamberlain agreement of 1938 in which Chamberlain promised not to make war on Germany.

"There is not yet the slightest shadow of a doubt that the British Government has not only failed to do what it has promised but that it has also failed to do what it has promised to do," he said. "England has failed to do what it has promised to do."

"The British Government is now trying to disguise its position in the future of the Empire, and it is trying to do so by the aid of the League of Nations. It is trying to do so by the aid of the League of Nations."

"The British Government is now trying to disguise its position in the future of the Empire, and it is trying to do so by the aid of the League of Nations. It is trying to do so by the aid of the League of Nations."
