GANNET SANCTUARY AS A PUBLIC ATTRACTION

Remarkable Improvements Have Been Effected Within A Few Years

Within the space of a few years, facilities for viewing the gannets at the Cape Kidnappers Sanctuary have been extended to such a degree that even the most critical visitor could be other than agreeably surprised. Mr Alan C. Duff, Assistant Director of the Sanctuary Board, has made a very largely progressive these improvements.

It is but for the convenience of the public that the Sanctuary was erected at the Cape about five years ago. From a former site situated at the mouth of the Waikato in a wild and wooded area, this has now been transferred to a beautiful and open site on the coast with every facility for the comfort of the transporter.

When it is recalled that every time the gannets are seen in the sanctuary they are seen in their natural habitat, it will be seen that the arrangements for the public to view the gannets are in every way superior to those of any other public attraction. The gannets are seen in their natural habitat, and the public is able to view them in a most comfortable and convenient manner.
