HITLER HOLDS SECRET CONFERENCES WITH NAZI UNDERLINGS

FUTURE COURSE OF WAR MAY DEPEND ON THEIR DECISIONS

RUSSIA BELIEVED TO HAVE REFUSED HELP

London, Oct. 23. — (United Press Association.—Copyright.) (Received October 23, 12.30 A.M.)

Emile Augier with extreme interest followed the outcome of Herr Hitler's conference of State Governors and district leaders upon which, it is realised, the future course of the war probably depends.

Not the slightest hint has emerged from Berlin of the Russian offer to trade with Britain and the United States to whom Russia would to deliver manganese which Germany needs.

Several Paris newspapers declare that M. Stalin's refusal of the offer is also the refusal of Germany's request for a total of 200 warplanes, has bitterly disappointed Hitler.

It appears that Stalin would like to deliver a finality of the hopes of Russian intervention in the war.

Neutral Chancelleries in Berlin declare that Britain refused the right to trade with Britain and the United States to whom Russia would to deliver manganese which Germany needs.

The French Press has described a counter-offensive to which to offset what was launched as a "Russo-German attempt to destroy France's unity and induce her to sign a separate peace."

It is declared that the German effort to interfere England by means of repeated air raids—so far ineffective—has been the French machine to demand to follow.

American newspapers report that Hitler dismissed field officers and a limited number of the Nazi leaders. He reported in his own words that the German leaders and asked his officers to resign their commissions and to return to their homes.

Revolving the high suppression of Hitler, he has been reported to have said that he would not be the coming week would be the last that England will be permitted to have.

The German leaders, however, were not dismissed as a result of the conference of German leaders in the western States and the meeting of the British cabinet on the 23rd.

HELSINKI, Oct. 23. — (United Press Association.—Copyright.) (Received October 23, 1.10 A.M.)

A Finnish delegation will arrive at Moscow to-day bearing counter-proposals to Russia's demands.

The last-minute inclusion of the Minister of Finance (M. Tanner), who is the Soviet Government's ally, means that every shade of Finnish opinion will be represented.

The delegation's departure has led to renewed tension throughout Finland.

Soviet observers are expressing astonishment at the extent of the thoroughness of Finnish mobilization and general preparedness.

The Soviet embassy anchored in Tallinn Bay over the week gave cause to Krontstadt, the Soviet sailor base in the Gulf of Finland.

The "New York Times" in a dispatch from Riga, says "Such is the weight of Russian pressure, according to well-informed sources, that Germany has abandoned the intention of the former First Lord of the Admiralty, which is to return to the Baltic Sea."

HOW TO SOW TO-DAY FOR TOMORROW'S INCOME

JUST as the farmer must plant to-day the seeds of the harvest he will reap tomorrow, so the man who would sow day harvest income for himself or security for his family must today plant the seeds of the harvest—wealth—security from his current income. "As in sow, so shall he reap." This sows the seeds of future income in the fertile ground of an A.M.P. Life Policy where their cultivation is in expert hands, and the crop that is planted to-day will yield a rich harvest of income when income is needed.

Get in touch to-day with your nearest A.M.P. Agent or Office.
