Strong Protests Made to Britain

NEUTRAL TRADE RIGHTS

Opposition to Extension of Economic Warfare

JAPAN MUCH CONCERNED

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received November 26, 9:45 p.m.)

A Stockholm message says that Sweden has made a serious demarche to London regarding the British intention of the economic warfare. The Norwegian Minister (Dr. Kohn) said that the Foreign Office had not seemed to make a just protest to the belligerents, but each would act as it thought fit. Belgium and Denmark also sent notes to Britain concerning the intensification of contraband control.

The Japanese Foreign Office, in a statement at Tokyo, says that the British blockade of German exports violates the principle that Britain gave Japan, and suggested that if vital interests were affected Japan would be compelled to retaliate.

The Italian Foreign Minister (Count Ciano) has drawn the attention of the British and French Governments to possible consequences that the British anti-German reprisals might have on Italian commerce.

The Dutch, Danish and Belgian Governments have also protested to the Foreign Office regarding the extension in London of the economic warfare. The Netherlands Government has also been advised, in view of its geographical position, to be particularly vigilant in its control of shipping traffic passing through its waters.
