PROPOSED CONVERSATIONS WITH WARRING NATIONS

ITALY DOUBTS VALUE OF THE TOUR

British Official Wireless. (Received February 11, 9.55 p.m.) RUGBY, Feb. 11.

The cordial welcome awaiting the American Under-Secretary of State (Mr Sumner Welles) when he visits Britain and France as a special envoy of the United States President is emphasised in the newspapers of both countries.

The London "Daily Telegraph" says: "The effects of five months of war on the determination of the British and French people must be well known to President Roosevelt. He is not less able to judge what change of heart has occurred in Hitler since August, when the President's appeal to him to keep the peace had not the slightest effect, and since November, when Queen Wilhelmina asked Hitler to take the first step towards peace and he would not move one inch from the plunder he had seized.

"President Roosevelt will also be well informed of the feeling aroused in the neutral States of Europe by the brutality of the German warfare and will have perceived their movement towards consolidation in defence.

Although President Roosevelt's decision to send Mr Welles to Europe is described in some quarters as opening a new peace offensive, the latest information in London suggests that it is more concerned with neutrals than belligerents

It is stated semi-officially in Paris that the mission will be highly welcome, but there is no question that Mr Welles is acting as a mediafor.

The neutral Press generally welcomes the mission and commends its numbers

Roosevelt To Seek Firsthand Knowledge From Belligerents

(Received Feb. 11, 10.45 p.m.) United Press Association—Copyright. NEW YORK, Feb. 9.

The "New York Times," in an editorial, approved President Roosevelt's decision to send the Assistant Under Secretary of State (Mr. Sumner Welles) to Europe to make a personal survey of conditions in Italy, Germany, France and Britain, and adds: "The fact that President Roosevelt undoubtedly knows the slightness of the prospect of imslightness of the prospect of immediate peace does not prevent him from thinking about the world that must emerge from the present tragedy. . . . We have no right to tell those bearing the strain and grief of the struggle what they must do to end it, but we know that there cannot be a durable peace unless there is an eventual peace unless there is an eventual reduction of armaments and trade

'If the neutrals can face thei ommon troubles with a common outlook the next peace may be more than an armed truce. These talks with neutrals are proof of long-range thinking of the right sort."

In making the announcement, President Roosevelt said that Mr. Welles had been instructed to make the propagals or commitments in the common propagals or commitments in the common troubles with a definition of thousands of men. The Finnish losses are also considerable under closely co-ordinated attacks from artillery, tanks, and 'planes, and the Russians are preventing the reinforcement of critical sectors by inno proposals or commitments in the name of the United States. Tatters Of Communist Banner Worn As Trophies

By Telegraph—Press Association. AUCKLAND, Feb. 11. AUCKLAND, Feb. 11.

In the face of organised though obviously unofficial opposition from about 100 soldiers and sailors, an attempt by Communists and others to repeat their weekly anti-war meeting in Quay Street this afternoon was frustrated. The only speaker who attempted to address the crowd of about 300 was overwhelmed in a rush in which the banner was torn to shreds. The calico strips from the banner were used by the soldiers to decorate their hats.

Both the police and the soldiers suffered contusions in the rushes and melees that prevented the speeches. Most of the crowd was speeches. Most of the crowd was present to witness the trouble rather than to cause it, and as the Communist front was overborne very early in the proceeding, excitement rather than bad feeling distinguished the rushes that were almost intensibly simpless ending as sudden.

The State Department emphasises hat Mr. Welles's trip is not connected with Mr. Hull's statement, he text of which reads:

"In view of the effect of the hostilities on the neutrals, and the postback of the hostilities on the neutrals, and the statement, and the statement, and the statement of the hostilities on the neutrals, and the statement, and sailors jested together as they struggled. of the northern tribes assembled in conference at Waitangi and was in the nature of a gesture of loyalty to the British Crown and Empire with continued gratitude for Lord Bledisloe's gift and in appreciation of the interest shown in the Maori people by Lord and Lady Galway. Following a secret session, the Chamber of Deputies publicly voted its unanimous support of the Government. An all-party resolution authorised M. Daladier to "conduct the war to victory."

The Chamber, on the motion of the Socialist leader, M. Blum, had decided by 232 votes to 227 to hold a secret session.

Strangers and the Press there upon quitted the galleries. Before the decision was taken, M. Daladier, saying that there were still many spies, disclosed that during searches the police had found a Gestapo (German Secret Police) questionnaire to German agents in France, asking the strength of the police force, and who were M. Labour Looks Ahead APPEAL TO GERMANS TO ASSIST PEACE AIMS

No Compromise Possible

British Official Wireless. (Received February 11, 9.5 p.m.)

RUGBY, Feb. 9.

After declaring that in his opinion the Labour Party's manifesto on war and peace would live in history as an objective statement of the causes of the war, the principles involved in it, and the purpose which should animate the peace, Mr Herbert Morrison, speaking at Sheffield, said: "With the herbert Morrison, speaking at Sheffield, said: "With the people of France, we entered the war to smash the Nazi regime, which had become a nuisance to Europe generally as well as a curse to Germany. We cannot compromise with that regime. We cannot make peace with it. And let it be understood that any mere reshuffling of Nazi personalities, as, for example, the substitution of Goering for Hitler, will make no difference. Nazi rule and Nazi blackmail must go.

'Let the German people recog nise that fact, let them recognise also that, insofar as they are parties to continuing the Nazis in power, they will be sharing responsibility with the Nazis for the continuous of the war. M. Daladier, and so forth.

The Chamber adjourned after the secret session, which was occasioned when M. Daladier declared that an immediate debate was necessary on espionage matters in order to strengthen his authority or to put somebody in his place.

Eleven ex-Communist Deputies did not participate, declaring that they did not share in the responsi-wious to co-operate with other nations in the building of a free and tidy Europe, then the purpose of the war will have been served and there will be no need for its continuous.

Just as we must continue this struggle for the destruction of a tyrannical and abominable regime until that end is attained, so we must be ready and, indeed, anxious for peace with the German nation when that nation has achieved the prerequisite of a fundamental change in German policy and has withdrawn its forces from territories which Germany has no right

"Finally, British Labour appeals for an order in which justice and economic fairplay will obtain, from which war will have been banished, and which will provide the necessary means for the preservation of peace between the nations."

A Finnish war communique states that the Soviet maintained the offensive for the ninth successive day without success. The Finns captured 32 tanks and shot down four enemy 'planes. The Karelian Isthmus is the scene of violent fighting. Heavy artillery and tanks supported massed Red infantry attacks against the Mannerheim Line, but they were thrown back with heavy losses. Oklahoma Kid"

An action-packed drama of America's greatest Westward surge, "The Oklahoma Kid," with James Cagney as the title character, ope is to-morrow at the Cosy Theatre, Hastings. A stirring cavalcade of the opening of a great territory, it is one of the year's largest productions, and numbers over 3000 people in its huge outdoor scenes, besides in its huge outdoor scenes, besides the featured cast, which includes Humphrey Bogart, Rosemary Lane, and many other noted players. At the outset of the story he is

At the outset of the story he is a bandit, but not just a conscience-less robber and killer. He is an adventurous youth who has become a sort of Robin Hood of the south-west. Eventually he is, in effect, enlisted on the side of the law and order, although he has really taken the law into his own hands. However, he performs a necessary service of public vengence so bravely and so completely that he is forgiven all his past misdeeds.

Rosemary Lane, lovely and viva ous brunette, plays the romanticad opposite Cagney as a real gir lead opposite Cagney as a real girl of the pioneering days in America. Humphrey Bogart, ace bad man, furthers his screen reputation, playing the leader of a band of "Sooners" who are really a gang of treacherous gunmen. In the story he is a deadly foe of "The Oklahoma Kid." Among the many stirring scenes in "The Oklahoma Kid" is the land rush with which the picture opens. Land-hungry pioneers are lined up for miles waiting for the Federal troops to give the significant significant strength of the state of the significant signifi he Federal troops to give the sig al that the new territory in Okla homa is opened for settlement. WALLACE BEERY IN A GRIPPING ROLE

Action Drama, "Thunder Afloat"

Adding another prize portrait to nis gallery of memorable character sations, Wallace Beery climbs stil another rung in stellar rating as the tugboat captain who joins the navy and tries to fight the war single-handed in "Thunder Afloat," which is now showing at the Regent heatre, Hastings. Breathtaking as the action thrills of the picture are, Beery still domi-nates the story in two-fisted fashion, with Chester Morris lending notable pport as his tugboat rival and Vir lia Grey, as Beery's daughter, the ly woman in the cast, holding the st and appeal.

The action shots at sea are the most realistic ever brought to the screen as sub-chasers and U-boats engage in warfare, a lightship is torpedoed, a Gloucester schooner attempts to ram a submarine and s sunk by gunfire, and the under-sea boat finally is crippled with depth bombs. Spectacular underwater camera work, a chaser fleet speeding through stormy seas, and scenes within the interior of the submerged U-boal, keep audiences on the edge of their seats throughout. In the uniformly excellent supporting cast are Douglas Dumbrille as the District Commander, Carl Esmond as the U-boat captain, Clem Bevans, John Qualen, Regis Toomey, Charles Lane, Phillip Terry, Henry Victor, Addison Richards, Hans Joby, Henry Hunter and Jonathan Hale.

George B. Seitz, directing, has kept the balance between action, human emotions and story progression perfectly adjusted, while J. If you've ever been in love—and tried to dodge "the folks"—you'll appreciate the problems of the heroine of "Stop, Look and Love," which opens to-morrow at the State Theatre, Napier. It's the human and hilarious ro-

A Mama isn't all the poor girl has to contend with. There's kid-brother-and-sister trouble aplenty, too. But dear old Dad understands, and when Jean finally meets her dream man and Ma throws a monkey wrench into the romance with her vedding bell spiel, Dad jumps and saves the day and True Lo riumphs.

Minna Gombell is Jean's exasperating Ma; William Frawley her sympathetic Dad; Robert Kellard, the sweetheart who almost—but not quite—gets away; Cora Sue Collins is the kid sister with a movie star complex; and Jay Ward is the pesky brother, who'd rather sleep than eat

ROOF FOR OXFORD STREET?

BUSINESS AS USUAL IN BLACKOUTS

ARCHITECT'S PLAN

Scheme For Important London Area

An architect has prepared a scheme for building a roof over the pavements of Oxford Street so that trade there may continue uninterrupted by the black-out. He is Mr. Donald Hamilton, F.S.I., L.R.I.B.A, and to a representative of "The Times" he explained that his idea was that a covered areade made from economical and available materials, should be constructed on the north side of Oxford Street from Marble Arch to Tottenham Court Road.

"For The Duration"

The Scheme will result in fixed points for road crossings, and the screens will prevent pedestrians stepping off the pavement in front of traffic during the hours of darkness."

Mr. Hamilton has submitted his scheme to the Home Office and the Marylebone Borough Council, as well as to the traders of Oxford Street from Marble Arch to Tottenham Court Road.

Help To Sales

"This section of Oxford Street has been selected first as being the most important shopping centre in the country, and the need for such a scheme is indicated by the fact that the rental value of the shops alone along this stretch must amount to nearly £1,000,000 a year. Apart from the loss to shopkeepers caused by the black-out, their reduced sales adversely affect an enormous number of manufacturers. The scheme will help to protect rates; it will result in fixed points for road crossings, and the screens will prevent pedestrians stepping off the pavement in front of traffic during the hours of darkness."

Sir,—At the same time as our worthy Premier is appealing for men to enlist, and recruiting rallies are held throughout New Zealand, "CR" takes to task others for the latter of the same time as our worthy Premier is appealing for morning a letter on the above subject, and signed by "Civil Reserve."

British Tommy of to-day and of the last war.

men to enlist, and recruiting rallies are held throughout New Zealand, we find in our midst Dr. Reifer, a Pole on the staff of one of our Government colleges, telling us we were wrong in sympathising with Poland, just because Germany and Russia have taken her (by force) under their protective wings.

He is evidently quite satisfied that his native homeland is now enjoying freedom under Hitler and Stalin, and all this talk about persecution and execution of his kith and kin is just propaganda.

This same man excused Russia for attacking Finland, because poor little Finland had imaginary aerodromes, etc., built by the Western Powers secretly, which were a menace to Russia.

The Communists in Napier were thrilled and gained by "Civil Reserve."

"C.R." takes to task others for expressing their views on the same subject, but opposed to his own. Well, while I have to, on principle, line myself up with "C.R.'s" views re conscription, I cannot see that we will be contributing anything towards thwarting Hitler's and Stalin's march unless we get down to business, by attempting to do something that will be assisting the Minister of Defence and the Government of the day.

For all our opinions and writings about what the other fellow is not doing, and should do, will not get us anywhere; because even members of commence to my knowledge, yes, and borough councils and county councils too, I know to be exservicement.

The Communists in Napier were thrilled and gained fresh impetus in their attacks against the Empire. Even our old friend "Summon Bonum" comes to the surface and takes courage to have another shot at democracy, but those of us who know him do not take him seriously, although he has only just discovered what the Allies are fighting for.

Am I allowed to guess that he is the old "Fiat Lux," still worrying, frowning, reading, and studying to make sure that nothing is right and everybody is wrong except Stalin and himself.

It is tragic to know all this goes on, when millions of soldiers, sailors and airmen are at their war stations holding their lives in their hands, especially the Navy on the seven scas, so that we, including Dr. Reifer, can sleep in peace.

Our own boys, too, have just isomething to the last war, so we must be reasonable and give these men credit of knowing something of the conditions that existed during their period of service; and what they may think the best system of finally and forever eradicating the bullying and the tramping down of small nations that has been going on in Europe for some time now.

As long as the Government is not being interrupted or menaced in any way, but rather assisted in the efforts they are making there cannot be any objection to worthwhile suggestions of assistance.

In the last paragraph of "C.R.'s" letter, where he says: "It amuses and airmen are at their war stations holding their lives in their hands, especially the Navy on the seven scas, so that we, including Dr. Reifer, can sleep in peace.

Our own boys, too, have just in the pour period of service; and what they say think the best system of finally and forever eradicating the bullying and the tramping down of small nations that has been going on in service; and what they say think the best system of finally and forever eradicating the bullying and the tramping down of small nations that has been going on in the efforts they are making there cannot being interrupted or menaced in any way, but rather assisted training to join them in the struggle against Hitlerism.

I feel that the Hon. Mr Savage will act along the right lines and tell all those who shelter behind the right of free speech (I call it free secition) to at least hold their tongues, even if they don't intend to act like New Zealanders.—I am, etc.,

Conscription of Wealth

Sir.—We are hearing a lot about

I feel that the Hon. Mr Savage him on the volunteer system versus of some would like to jump back 40 years or so, which, of course is impossible, and yet in my opinion I do believe that every man, ists server will be needed before we finally overthrow for all time this terrorism which has the brought Austria, Czechslovakia, and Poland crumbling to dust. There is no hiding what is in store for us, if we do not individually do something that will assist to sprag the wheels of progress against these terrorists. When one reflects just for one moment on General Freyberg's statement in the Town Hall, Wellington, just over a month ago, when has aid that he had 1100 women at

Sir,—We are hearing a lot about the conscription of flesh and blood, but not a word in regard to the conscription of wealth. Maybe it is an oversight which slipped our memory in the hurly burly of controversy about whether men should troversy about whether men should and Scotland were being worked by young women, there is no pleasure for anyone to have to recall these for anyone to have to recall these facts, because it shows only too plainly what the position will be here in New Zealand when the for-

This, I hope, will convince "C.R." that I am not wishing to push any man out of his job. Far from it, but I have simply endeavoured to show the position which will, I believe, be very much in evidence before this war is over.—I am, etc., J. MILBURN.

Lamb Quality

Sir,—Let me congratulate "Reject" on his letter re Chairman of the Meat Board. Either Mr. Duncan was having a slap at the breeders of Southdown rams—for which of Southdown rams—for which there was no cause—or he has little knowledge of breeding.

Surely he knows the ram (sire) has to mate with an average of 60 ewes. These ewes are of all classes bred to suit the country they are bred on. Then, let me ask this expert: Is it not possible that the ewe gives something to her progeny—in the way of shape, carcase, etc. in the way of shape, carcase, etc etc.;

etc.;
What does he propose to do about this? Are his remarks on this subject as feeble as they were on chilled beef matters?
May I ask the chairman of the Meat Board what he is going to do with the £60,000 per annum which he collects from the farmer? The Home staff has been absorbed by the British authorities. There is not now required £30,000 for advertising at Home. The Marketing Board in New Zealand has taken over all the work of the Meat Board. What, then, are we going to get for the above £60,000? For £6375 office expenses, of which I understand the manager gets £2500—$43069 for directors' honoraria and expenses.

Farmers, wake up! What are you getting for Meat Board, Wool Board, Dairy Board, etc., etc.?

Conscription

Sir,—I have read with interest the many letters written on the subject of conscription, and the point that impresses me most about them, is the lack of convincing evidence produced. The statement that "One volunteer is worth two conscripts," is worn threadbare, and not only is it a fallacy but, to

"Civil Reserve," also, seems to be somewhat unconversant with his facts in his letter of January 8, when he states that the letters in favour of conscription emanate from "Chambers of Commerce," "Women's Organisations," and those too old to fight.

The letters may have emanated from those, but the opinions are equally those of a large number of young men of military age. I have spoken to many of such, and the majority favour conscription, giving this reason: "Why should I go and do the dirty work, while others stay at home in comfort and fill fat jobs? I will go willingly when everyone else does the same." That is only fair and reasonable. Again, "Civil Reserve" accuses us "old men (which includes old soldiers, I presume) of urging young men to join up, so that we can hop into their empty billets. What a high opinion "Civil Reserve" has of his fellow men! Perhaps "Civil Reserve" is practising what he preaches.

Now, sir, I am an old soldier who tried to do his bit in the last war, and I have tried (although I have touched the half-century mark) to do my bit in the present trouble. There are young men engaged on guarding vital points in this country, who are fit to go overseas—which I am not. In spite of my fifty years and an old war wound, I was the state of the state o It can say without boasting, that I can still keep my end up with youngsters half my age. Why cannot we old chaps do this work in home defence and release the younger men for overseas work?

Most of these anti-conscription-ists seem to overlook the fact that the Empire is at war, and to win that war every man is needed. In the case of a widespread grass fire, no one waits until it reaches to buildings of a town, but goes out and fights it where it started. No one kicks when the police round up every fit person and orders them to help fight fire!

Then, why in the name of commonsense, do they object to men being compelled to fight for their lives and liberty, and those of their

I think I am right in saying that New Zealand had conscription—for a time—during the last war, and no one can say that every New Zealander did not create a glorious name for himself and his fellow

Exhibition Trips For All Reduced Fares By Rail

New Zealanders, if any of you miss seeing the great Centennial Exhibition, you will not be able to blame the Railways Department. During the whole of February fares for trips to Wellington are reduced by an average of 20 per cent., according to length of journey. These concession tickets are available for a fortnight from date of issue by any train except the North Island Main Trunk "Limited."

A separate concession is for parties of not fewer than six persons travelling together. They can buy second class tickets at three-quarters of the ordinary second class return fare.

To obtain suitable private accommodation in Wellington, the best course is to communicate with the Exhibition Company's Official Accommodation Bureau, 157 Featherston Street, Wellington, which will promptly make satisfactory arrangements for board.

AN APPEAL FOR CO-OPERATION

It is rapidly becoming intolerable that no heed whatever should be taken of the Leader of the Opposition's constant appeals for a greater degree of co-operation in the essential war efforts. There ought to be no political issue made of such efforts. At such a time the Government should recognise its duty to the Dominion by enlisting the services of the men and women who are ready, fitted and willing to help, but who are forced to stand by because they are of the wrong political colour.

The evidences are already here in abundance that the Government as it is at present constituted stands sadly in need of assistance in the work of ensuring that the Dominion will pull its full weight in the present struggle; but so far all offers of assistance from the National Party have been given the cold shoulder. There is a pettifogging small-mindedness about the whole business, and much too much preoccupation with the purely party political aspect of every question that arises.

Against the lurid background of the lightning flashes and thunderings of the war clouds over Europe, where men, women, and children are losing their lives, what a small and mean affair is the party political spirit. Yet for some reason or other in this country the Government seems to have some of the people "doped" into an unthinking mood of unquestioning acquiescence, and in many quarters it is a case of "my Government right or wrong." Mr Savage and his friends are the patron saints of the purblind worshippers who can see no wrong in anything they do. If the National Party or any other party had done or even threatened to do some of the things which the present Government has taken in its stride in the most casual way, there would have been many loud and bitter complaints from the very people who are licking the hand that is smiting them to-day.

Here and there, of course, you will find the housewife who raises her voice about the actual cost of living, and many interesting domestic arguments must have already taken place as between the merits of the Labour Government and the importance of balancing the weekly household budget. But some vague thing called "the Cause," or "the rights of the worker," or something equally illuminating, seems to be working like a cancer in the body politic and working in such a manner that anything goes so far as Labour policy is

We believe that party politics as such should have no place in the nation's thought in a time of national emergency. The men and women of the country should be big enough to set aside all such minor differences of opinion when the whole fate of civilisation is at stake. No apology will be made for saying that the time is now here when the back-yard policy of self-interest should be scrapped and thrown into the gutter where it belongs. The times are too serious for such nonsense.

There is just a suggestion of fear on the part of Labour that the Nationalists might do things in the general cause of the Dominion which would create embarrassments to the other side. There can be no doubt, for instance, as to what they would do on the question of conscription, for they do not share the same nervousness as their opponents in dealing with the unions.

Very soon now, it is likely that the world will ring with the dire news of great events, followed necessarily by great sufferings in Europe. When that time comes, the policy of our Government will be seen in its true proportions, and many will demand to know why greater efforts were not made to see to it that the sacrifices were not lessened by the obvious means. It is worse than useless to play the party political fiddle while Europe is in flames. It is time that the squawking instrument should be smashed.

Sir,—Mabel Curham seems to think that because Dr Reifer is a native of Poland, whatever he says about Poland must be true.

If a staunch member of our National Party and an equally staunch follower of our Labour Party were to go to Rumania, for instance, and each gave a lecture on New Zealand there, I venture to say it would take a pretty wise Rumanian to sort out the truth about New Zealand from these two lectures.

Before the last war, when Poland was part of Russia, the Catholics and Jews got on very well together. At that time there were thousands of refugee Jews driven out of Russia into Poland (there were 100.000 in of refugee Jews driven out of Russia into Poland (there were 100,000 in Warsaw alone) and they had a much better time with Polish Catholics than they had had with the Russians; though nobody in Poland had what you would call a perfectly happy time then. You were fined or put in jail if you spoke Polish, if you played Polish music or danced Polish national dances.

I can make a shrewd guess that

Taking one consideration with another, it is not very difficult to place Dr Reifer.

Dr Reifer.

Also, it is a warning to us.

There is not much cable news coming through as to how the Russians are treating the Poles in their occupied area; but there is news coming through, and it is not very joyful news. You can hardly expect the Russian Communits to treat the Russian Communists to treat the Poles any better than they have reated their own people during the

They have had a lot of practice at killing priests, brothers, nuns and lay people or dumping them into concentration camps. They have got that sort of thing down to a fine art; and in these matters even the Nazis can't show them any points.

Of course, you know that the Catholic Church ranks in the Soviet as their No. 1 enemy, and one of the first things they did was to prohibit all celebrations of the festival of Christmas in their part of Poland. In these things the Nazi and the mmunist run very well in double harness.

There is a group of people in England who are flirting with Russia at the present time, not because they are Communists or friends of Stalin or sympathetic with the Soviet form of government, but because they think they can make money out of them; and with these people to make money is the main thing and the only thing. It is to that kind of people we owe all the troubles of the world.

For centuries Poland has been under the heel of one nation or another and we must remember that with a history like that, no nation can master all the ins and outs of democracy in 20 years. We British

I can make a shrewd guess that Dr Reifer is a descendant of one of those refugee families. He is now a refugee in our country; and not a very polite one, either. NO EXTRA TAXES EXPECTED BY THE GOVERNMENT FOR PRESENT FINANCIAL YEAR

MR NASH ANSWERS MANY QUESTIONS AS TO THE EFFECT OF THE WAR EFFORT ON LEGISLATION

v Telegraph—Press Association AUCKLAND, Feb. 11.

A statement that no extra taxes are contemplated by the Government for the present financial year was made by the Minister of Finance (the Hon. W. Nash) when asked what reduction of revenue would be caused by the petrol rationing. Mr Nash added that the next financial year's budget is not yet completed. Mr Nash, who arrived last night from a brief tour of the north following the Waitangi celebrations, answered a number of questions about the effect of the Government actions taken as a result of New Zealand's participation in the Empire war effort.

Asked to what extent the petrol rationing would offset the revenue expected from the extra 4d tax imposed by the last Budget as a defence tax, he said that 30 per cent. was the estimated percentage of the curtailment in the use of petrol, but the sum of this percentage at 4d a gallon was not

He was also asked whether the prohibition of the importation of American motor-cars and the limitation of English models to a small percentage of last year's figures would cause unemployment in the Hutt motor assembly plants, Mr Nash said that if the Dominion imported worth for only 30 per cent

Nash said that if the Dominion imported parts for only 30 per cent. of the cars previously imported it was unlikely that the same number of men would be employed, but there should be alternative employment available.

In reply to a question as to whether the Social Security Act's provision for beginning universal superannuation on April 1 would be effective in view of the extra expenditure entailed by the war measures, Mr Nash said that any interference with the Social Security Act had not been considered. The estimated cost of universal superannuation during the next year was not ation during the next year was not yet available.

Sale of Produce

Speaking of the Government's negotiations with Britain for the sale of primary produce, Mr Nash said that they were practically completed but that they could be extended at any time desired by the United Kingdom Government. A summary of the whole position would be announced this week, but since the new purchase procedure was started, until January 22, the sum debited to the United Kingdom Government on account of purchases from the Dominion Government was £12,459,000.

Mr Nash was also asked if he had any reply to make to the statement by Mr Mulholland, president of the Farmers' Union, that the Minister had broken a definite promise by introducing the State purchase of hides. Mr Mulholland had stated that Mr Nash had promised that anything not requisitioned by Great Britain would be left a free market. He said that the United States desired to aid Finland and ridiculed

He described his own early interest in the Russian experiments in the hopes that they would lead to the betterment of the nation, adding: "That hope today is either ing: "That hope to-day is either shattered or put into storage against a better day. Russia is allied with another dictatorship and has invaded a neighbour so infinitesimally small that it could not injure the Soviet."

The President's remarks were particularly pointed, since the organisation is filled with controversy concerning its refusal to denounce the Russian invasion of Finland and charges that the Councils are Communistically influenced.

Miss M. Beverley, of Waikato, would have done better against Miss Wynne if she had finished as she started. She led 2-0 in the first set, but seemed unable to keep up the pace, and once Miss Wynne settled down, she had things mostly her own way. Time after time Miss Beverley lost points through the Australian's better play on the backhand, which is one of the features of her game, besides her vigorous hitting and shrewd placements. Another match that promised thrilling entertainment for the large gallery was that between Miss Coyne and Miss Hardcastle, both of Australia, but it was postponed at set-all.

UNKNOWN FACTOR IN THE WAR

HUGE RESOURCES OF INDIA

AID FROM RULERS Troops At Britain's

Disposal

India is the unknown factor in the Empire's war potential (writes A. E. Simpson in the "Sydney Mornng Herald"). No one knows how many sepoys she could supply, but at a pinch the Indian Army, which is now being modernised, would make an impressive show. Most of the population, it is true, lack martial spirit, but at least 40,000,000 are four-star fighters by birth, breeding and inclination. Like the German Junkers, they are brought up to feel that any war s better than none. But for British gunpowder the terrible Mahratta cavalry might still be holding Bengal to ransom and harrying Moslems round Delhi.

Princes Aid Britain

In the Great War India trained half a million men, that number being all that Britain could equip and transport. The present Indian Army consists of 150,000 plus reserves and the forces maintained by the Princes. The Princes control a third of India, and their troops have again peen placed at Britain's disposal. The most important Prince is the W. Harrison c Stanford b Toot-Maharajah of Nepal, who is not only independent, but is ruler of the Gurkhas. These are not British subjects, although they provide us with 20 battalions even in peace time. Like the Foreign Legion, they are mercenaries whose loyalty and courage are beyond question. They are probably the best Hindu troops, vying with Sikhs and Moslems. Those three races provide practically the whole of the present Indian Army, and come from the north.

Other Races Recruited

The Mahrattas and Jats of Central India are the only other races seriously recruited in peace time. Only the fact that they live mostly in native States like Gwalior prevents them taking a larger share. Both did well in the Great War.

All those races are quite distinct in language and outlook. They are taught a common language, Urdu, taught a common language, Urdu, called "Hindustani" by the British soldier. Urdu means "language of the camp," and is a tongue which developed in the time of the Mogul conquerors whose army contained Turks and Persians as well as every

WAIROA DEFEATED HAWKE'S BAY

Cricket Elevens Meet In The Week-End

VISITORS' EASY WIN

In perfect weather a first eleven representing the Hawke's Bay Cricket Association travelled to Wairoa yesterday to meet a Wairoa Association team. The match resulted in a win for the Hawke's Bay team.

Winning the toss, Hislop, the Wairoa captain, put Hawke's Bay in to bat. Mahoney and Fair opened, facing the bowling of Irwin and McKenzie. The earlier Hawke's Bay batsmen were not at home on the matting, and it was not until Bickerstaff joined his captain that a fruitful partnership eventuated.

Bickerstaff was dismissed for 94 after an excellent innings, but Stanford soon left as the result of a great throw-in by Martin from the

After luncheon Mahoney was soon dismissed after a very stubborn innings, with the total at 144 for five wickets. Then Askew and Deans came together in the most fruitful partnership of the innings, which took the score to 218.

Askew was particularly forceful, and the three sixes included in his score of 63 were nice shots. Deans was playing excellent all-round cricket, but with the exception of Hutchison no one stayed long with him, and he eventually fell to McKenzie for an even 50 in trying to force the pace.

force the pace. McKenzie and Irwin worked tire-lessly for Wairoa, and deserved their success with the ball. Harri-son, who hit forcefully throughout his knock of 40 and Irwin 39, made in correct style, were the only two Wairoa batsmen to offer any oppo sition to the varied attack of the Hawke's Bay eleven.

The Wairoa innings closed at 136, and this left Hawke's Bay victors by 133 runs in a one-innings fix-

Hosts Thanked

During the afternoon tea ad-ournment, the Hawke's Bay manager (Mr H. Forster) thanked the Wairoa Association for their invitation to Wairoa, and expressed the wish that this first visit of this Hawke's Bay team would be the forerunner of annual home and away matches.

The Hawke's Bay captain (Mr A. D. Mahoney) also spoke, and the Wairoa president (Mr M. Crocker), in returning thanks, expressed his appreciation of the visit, and assured the players that in their endeavour to improve the standard of cricket in Wairoa it would be their pleasure to secure further visits from Hawke's Bay and other outside teams.

On reaching the burial ground the procession was met by a large contingent of Pakowhai Maoris who, stripped to the waist, performed a pohiri at the graveside. Then followed further chants and laments by the visiting Maoris.

Reference to the history of the burial ground and of the outstanding qualities of the Tipoki family was made by Mr. H. Huata.

Impressive Pohiri Fully impressed with the facilities provided at the first picnic at Wairoa last year, the committee again decided to hold the event on the Wairoa A. and P. Society's Showgrounds, and, favoured by bright sunshine, it was an outstanding success.

CROQUET TITLES MANY APPLICATIONS FOR LARGER PETROL RATIONS

Most Commercial Users Have Made Little Attempt To Economise

Well over 500 objections to the allowance of petrol granted to them under their licences have been lodged by owners of commercial vehicles in Hawke's Bay with the oil fuel control offices. The task confronting the advisory committees in dealing with these is a heavy one, and it is anticipated that it will take some time to accomplish. Officials are at present engaged in classifying the objections according to the particular calling or trade of the objector.

Officials point out that a survey of the objections suggests that many concerned have not grasped the fundamental idea that all are expected in the national interests to do what is possible to reduce the consumption of motor spirit.

The Postmaster-General (the Hon. F. Jones) has stated that the Post Office is anxious that letters for soldiers should reach the addresses with as little delay as possible.

Not only was it important, he said, that letters for soldiers who had proceeded abroad should be fully and correctly addressed, but it was equally important that the words "N.Z.E.F. Overseas" should be included in the address. A complete address should include the solbe included in the address. A complete address should include the soldier's number, his rank and his unit, followed by "N.Z.E.F. Overseas."

This is an example of a correctly addressed letter for a soldier who has left the Dominion:—

Funny thing, human nature! As a rule the chap that doesn't drink insists that nobody else should drink; the non-theatre goer disapproves of anyone else going to the theatre; the party that doesn't read novels or play early objects to anyone else. The historical and pageantry procession which promises to be the outstanding event of Napier's Centennial celebrations, is scheduled to commence on the Marine Parade at 2 p.m. on Saturday, February 24. At present, the arrangements provide for the leading section mounted by a party comprising heralds and troopers, to be followed by the float conveying Napier's Centennial Queen and her suite.

M, Feb. 8, 10—Egmont R.C.

The following by running home and smartly from the three furlongs in 8.8.

City Song (R. Colello) and My-blogy (Hannrahan) were sent over an easy five furlongs, their last three being run in 40.

Yogi (W. Aitken) and Brunhild (Phelps) went off in straggling fashion from the six furlongs and took 13.2-5 for their first furlong. However, they went fast in the next quarter to cut out the first three in 39 and the full distance in 1.18 4-5.

Kathbella (J. Olsen) showed all her old brilliance by slipping over her five furlongs in 1.31-5, the last half-mile in 51. Like Yogi, this mare is very well just now.

Sternchase, after running his first two furlongs in 24 4-5, was going nicely at the end of five furlongs to record 1.4.2-5 for the full distance.

Kinkajou (Parramore) ran her half-mile in 51. Like Yogi, this mare is very well just now.

Sternchase, after running his first two furlongs in 24 4-5, was going nicely at the end of five furlongs to record 1.4.2-5 for the full distance.
