BRITISH EFFORT AT SEA

(Received January 5, 7.45 p.m.)

Referring in his weekly broadcast to the position in the Allies' theatre of the war, Major-General Sir Ernest Swinton stated that the British anti-submarine forces had been trebled since the outbreak of the war and the U-boats were now being driven further and further afield. The measures against enemy mine-laying operations also were proving successful and fewer vessels had been sunk last week than in any week since the beginning of the war-4699 tons of British and neutral merchant shipping was sunk.

Moses: Then listen to this story. Ngatoro-i-rangi was a priest. He was the priest aboard the canoe Te Arawa when the ancestors of the Maori migrated from Hawaiki. Kuiwai was his sister. She remained in Hawaiki with her husband Manaia.

John: Then Manaia was Nga taro-i-rangi's brother-in-law? Moses: Yes. Long after Ngatoro-i-rangi had migrated Kuiwai and her husband quarrelled.

their quarrel?
Moses: One day Manaia and his friends set out to their praying place to pray. When they returned Kuiwai set food before them. The food had not been cooked properly but lay before them uncooked. Manawai their quarrel? before them uncooked. Manawai was angry and he uttered an oath
—"The woods of the beach have been made sacred by the bones of your brothers. Soon their skins will sizzle on the red hot stones of Waikorora."

John: What was the reason of Walkorora."

John: Then what did Kuiwai do?
Moses: Kuiwai began to weep. In the evening she took her daughter and they went to a place aside. There they prayed and when they had finished, Kuiwai said to her daughter, "You had better go to your uncle, Ngatoro-i-rangi and you say to him that Manaia has placed a curse upon him. SPARKLING MUSICAL ROMANCE

Jeanette MacDonald In "Broadway Serenade"

Unlike most films in the musical category, this one contains a story which holds interest from the first scene to the last. In brief, it is the tale of a young married couple, she a singer, he a composer-pianist. As a team they play most of New York's cheap night clubs until a lucky break starts the girl climbing high on the ladder of musical-comedy success. The boy is left behind to battle for recognition as a composer and to master the jealousy which eventually breaks up the marwhich eventually breaks up the mar

The story moves in two extremes f locale, the glittering show-world f which the girl becomes a part, nd the garret-room, where her hus-and is struggling to bring himself success of which she may be proud.

Seldom has Jeanette MacDonald had a better opportunity for both her dramatic and vocal abilities. For the first time since "San Francisco" she carries the vocal honours singly. Her congs have been wisely selected to please diversified audiences. There are favourites of the Gay Nineties, grand opera selections, and a dash of the day's hit tunes. In each case the songs are set against colourful backgrounds.

Into this school comes Frankie, who inherited a talent for the violin from his dead father and has run away from home to escape the run away from home to escape the hate of his stepfather. The boy is taken in tow by the professor, and blossoms into a fine musician. How he tries to repay his debt and how he lures the great Heifetz to the aid of the financially bankrupt school provides the climax to the story.

To portray the pupils in the school, Mr Goldwyn hired the California Junior Symphony Orchestra, composed of 45 youngsters, whose ages range from eight to 14 years. They represent a cross-section of American life with few if any of their parents in the brackets of more than moderate means. Music as produced by the symphony orchestra of prodigies has been classed by such an authority as Stokowski as suppassing many or classed by such an authority as stokowski as surpassing many or chestras of adults. Mr Goldwyn also introduces to the screen for the first time a nine-year-old operasinger, Jacqueline Nash, whose voice is said to be reminiscent of Galli Curci

"THE BEACHCOMBER" IS GREAT

Charles Laughton

"The Beachcomber," which opened at the Regent Theatre, Napier, yesterday, marks the highest point in the distinguished career of the great screen actor, Charles Laughton.

Based on a W. Somerset Maugham story, the picture casts Laughton in the role of "Ginger Ted," a unique and interesting characterisa-of a tropical Dutch Indies Island. of a tropical Dutch Indies Island. English remittance man and beach-comber, he is at odds with the scheme of things on the island. The island's Dutch Controleur, a missionary named Miss Jones, and her brother, Dr. Jones, have a hard time trying to control him. Yet the Controleur prefers his company to that of the strict, humourless Miss Jones and her fussy brother. At the same time Miss Jones is having a difficult time keeping "Ginger" away from her native girl students. iway from her native girl students

In the course of the story "Ginger" and Miss Jones are marooned on a reef for a night, along with two native boys. She is frantic with fear. But Laughton ignores her—a fact which brings mingled ernotions in her reaction. She decides that it is her duty to bring out the good in his nature. Her method of doing this, and his battle for his freedom, provide interesting and stimulating motivation for the remainder of the drama.

Charles Laughton's wife, Elsa.

Charles Laughton's wife, Elsa Lanchester, delivers a fine performance as Miss Jones. Tyrone Guthrie, in a role of Dr Jones, and Robert Newton as the Controleur, are outstanding members of the supporting cast. Erich Pommer produced and diverted the pigture for Mayflower.

must first secure your position, and your beauty specialist will not only help you to do this, but will help you to keep it and advance in it.

Here is some helpful advice:

secure the position, but afterwards you will advance far in your chosen field.

You do not want to be content to be one of those girls who answer the buzzer all their lives, but you want to rise quickly so that you will be the person who pushes the buzzer. And so that you can rise to this position as quickly as possible let us briefly discuss what you must do at each stage of your business career.

You are seeking a position and have secured an interview with the person whom you hope will be your future employer. Your make-up will be light. Lipstick will not be used obviously, and unless you can apply your rouge very lightly it is better not to use any at all. Your hair should be well groomed and kept in place with setting lotion, and the nail-polish should be unobtrusive. Remember that your employer is seeking an efficient helper, not a glamorous mannequin.

LOVELY LACQUERS IN ALMOST ANY SHADE

The history of polish for finger-nails shows that it has taken many forms—from the dyes used to colour the nails in ancient days through the various methods of buffing the shine in nails with powder polishes, to the new lacquer that der polishes, to the new lacquer that forms a protective coating on the nails in pale or glowing shades. Liquid polishes have been marketed for over 25 years. The first one was a crude colouring matter that washed off with soap and water; the newest ones defy improvement. In spite of this last statement, however, modern chemists are constantly working to improve the wear, the texture, the colour, and the ease of application of the liquid polishes.

Jade-green gloves are taking the place of a long white one for evening wear. Green has the reputation of liquid polish, the heavier lacquer sometimes known as salon type polishes. These new models are clustered with flower bracelets at the top and round the wrists. Incidentally, this green goes well with almost any roloured ensemble.

REMOVING SEA WATER STAINS FROM SHOES

Immersion in sea water causes unsightly stains on brown shoes. These can, however, be effectively removed in the following manner: Make a solution by dissolving a small lump of washing soda in two tablespoons of hot milk. Apply the solution to the stains by means of a rag, and after it has dried the shoes should be cleaned with ordinary brown shoe polish.

COLOURED MOTIFS AND TRIMMINGS

Multi-coloured effects are this year being used extensively in many trimmings. Some very smart col-lars of multi-coloured tubular braid which follows the line of the neck, are among the latest samples.

Handsome embroidered motifs and bands in gorgeous colourings are intended for trimming smart frocks in black or navy, while an almost unlimited variety of sequins, floral and ribbon trimmings, many in very intricate designs, provide the decorative note for evening

Comment On The Films

The dramatic story of the struggle for existence made by a small music school is told in "THEY SHALL HAVE MUSIC," which features, in addition to Joel McCrea, the famous violinist Jascha Heifetz.

Bing Crosby and Joan Blondell together with a new discovery, Baby Sandy, are starred in "EAST SIDE OF HEAVEN," sparkling production which admirably blends music, comedy and gay romance.

Charles Laughton has never of-fered a better performance than that he gives in "THE BEACH-COMBER," an hilarious comedy for which there is no other word than brilliant".

A striking Russian production is "PROFESSOR MAMLOCK," which, with gripping realism, depicts the terrorism rampant in Germany under the rule of the Nazi Government

A topical story laid against a background of naval aviation, "WINGS OF THE NAVY," featuring George Brent and Olivia de Havilland, has captured in convincing manner the thrilling life of the Air Force.

The story of Abraham Lincoln's younger days is dramatically recounted in "YOUNG MR. LINCOLN," which, directed by John Ford, features Henry Fonda in the title role

A novel and humorous adventure film dealing with the efforts of a spy ring to reclaim stolen A.R.P. plans is Gordon Harker's latest production, "LIGHTNING CONDUCTOR"

The Ritz Brothers, as an inimit able trio of detectives, have to track down a weird beast in "THE GOR-ILLA," hilarious mystery-adventure

Murder by a master of the occult provides "Charlie Chan," again played by Sidney Toler, with his most exciting adventure in "CHAR-LIE CHAN ON TREASURE IS-LAND."

The efforts of three college chums to show the residents of their home town "how things should be done" provide the hilarity in "THEY ASKED FOR IT."

William Gargan in the fine mystery, "HOUSE OF FEAR."

PAM'S LETTER

Hullo, Playmates.

Here I am again after a lovely three days spent gathering sunshine in Taupo; and what a busy time I had, catching an elusive gleam here or a ray or two there-sometimes a specially big, dazzling piece would almost pass me by, but I would snatch at it and mercifully store it away for our Summer Page, which is to appear on January 20.

places, as some of you know, tucked away behind the curve of a country road or down the bend of a river. I went by that imposing trio, Ruapehu, Tongariro and Ngaruhoe, in the late afternoon and watched the sun play on the rocky crags

But you will wonder where I went gathering? Many thrilling and snowcapped spurs. I gathered those little sunbeams and whisked along to Taupo amidst clouds of summer dust. Here the lake was silvered over with sunlight as far as the eye could see, so that I was laden with sunshine before I actually arrived at my destination. I gathered gold, too, from the glorious broom flowering by the lakeside. Three heavenly days passed so very, very quickly, and then a helter-skelter rush for home over high hills, past countryside silted over from floods and scarred by hundreds of slips—(It was amazing the number of summer rays I gathered there)—and back to Napier just as the soft, summer darkness was upon us. Till Summer Page all my sunbeams are locked away, so you have fourteen days in which to go collecting sunshine, too (because old Bill Weather tells me there'll be loads of it from now on) and add it to my store. Surely it will be the happiest Summer Page if you all do this. Write and tell me where you went searching—and read the Competitions on the Page to-day.

RELIGION AND WAR

Religion does not mean Christianity. There are hundreds of other religions scattered all up and down the world, many of them having adherents who outnumber Christians by tens of thousands and even by millions. Some of them, such as Mohammedanism, regard death in battle as the "summum bonum" of the faith. Shintoism and Taoism in Japan, the fatalistic Buddhism in India, Confucianism in China, and a host of other religions have very little scruples about going to war in defence of their tenets. Allah defends the Arabs just as surely as ever Jehovah defended the Israelites.

This rambling introductory paragraph has to do with the fact that certain members of a certain branch of the Christian religion have ideas that run counter to other valid ideas expressed by those who profess other religious beliefs. If the word "branch" is objected to here, the reader may ask any native race—say the Maoris—whether there is just one brand of Christianity or more than one.

There is nothing derogatory about that fact. It is because religious beliefs matter so much to the individual that sects and factions exist. According to Gibbon, in the early days Christianity was split into the Eastern and Western Churches on the then all-important question of a diphthong in an old Attic Greek script—the question being whether the Deity was of the same substance as or merely of similar substance to the Deity's manifestation in the Messiah. When things matter very much, cleavages of opinion and schools of thought may occur on what may be regarded by the layman as flimsy

The other day in New Zealand we had an outstanding example of the differences of opinion as they exist in the ranks of professed Christians here. The annual convention of the Methodist Young Men's Bible Class Movement held in Wellington passed a resolution to the effect that they would in no wise go to war, or even serve other fellows with different opinions, in a humanitarian way, if the latter should go to war.

After that, a dignitary of their own persuasion issued a mild rebuke to the young men of the Bible Class movement and said that they were going a bit too far, and the Hon. W. Perry, M.L.C., addressing the men of the First Echelon in his capacity as president of the New Zealand Returned Soldiers' Association, pointed out that Nazi Germany had torn down the Cross of Christ and erected in its place the pagan symbol which is a caricature of that sacred emblem. Whether Mr Perry is a Baptist, a Methodist, an Episcopalian, a Presbyterian, a Roman Catholic, an agnostic, or anything else, is beside the point. He is most evidently a man of common sense, and as such he should be listened to by all those who profess any religion or any brand of religion or none at all.

The argument in the case of the young men of the Methodist Bible Class movement might even be pressed a little further. Their airy and authoritative "interpretation of the mind of Christ" leaves entirely cold those who recall the magnificently Divine rages into which Christ could fly at times, as when he whipped the cheats like so many curs out of the temple, or when he referred to Herod as "that fox." If the young men of the Bible Class movement will follow their Master faithfully, they will lose their tempers occasionally when injustice is being done to their own faith, and when the temple of their beliefs is being sullied by the intrusion of godless men who glory in the persecution of the race from which Christ was born.

Are the young men's convictions based on true religion

DOMINION'S BASIC NEEDS FOR IRON AND STEEL ARE AFFECTED BY WAR CONDITIONS

OTHER ESSENTIAL REQUIREMENTS ARE DEALT WITH BY THE MINISTER OF INDUSTRIES AND COMMERCE

By Telegraph—Press Association NELSON, Jan. 5.

The Minister of Industries and Commerce (the Hon. D. G. Sullivan) in a statement to-day said that included in the commercial difficulties associated with the outbreak of war for New Zealand had been the inevitable postponement of commencing work on the establishment of the proposed iron and steel works at Onekaka.

"Just how long the delay will extend it is not yet possible to determine. The United Kingdom is unable to give any undertaking as to the building of the plant until war supplies are assured.

Mr Sullivan said that the war emphasised as never before the great need for a basic iron and steel industry.

"Although we have the necessary raw materials in the country for the manufacture of steel," he said, "the building industry and local manufacturing industries at the present time are handicapped because of the inability to secure nails and other steel products, and it must be emphasised that this shortage is due to the inability of steel manufacturers to supply and not because of import control. The advantages to be gained by the eslishment of our own steel works will be more readily appreciated if I point out that not only would steel supplies, which are so vital to steel supplies, which are so vital to the general economy of New Zea-land, be assured, but a large sterl-ing saving would be made.

"The release of sterling
"The release of sterling from necessary expenditure would, in 1940, go some distance towards restoring the sterling balance, assuring other manufacturers of adequate raw materials. Present experience will surely supply the added encouragement to expedite this essential development as soon as circumstances permit."

Concluding Mr Sullivan said "The coal requirements of the steel works when operating will amount to some 185,000 tons per annum. This will mean a greater development for the Westland province, more particularly Greymouth and Westport. We must then hope that it will be possible to make a commencement of operations on this great project during this New Year."

Apples and Pears Mr Sullivan said that the Govern-Mr Sullivan said that the Government's decision to purchase the coming apple and pear crop and attend to its marketing locally and overseas gave added importance to the experiments being carried out by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research on various aspects of the storage and utilisation of fruit.

The uncertainty with regard to available export space for fruit made it most probable that there would be a considerable increase in the amount of fruit available for local consumption. The question of the storage of this fruit under the best possible conditions was therefore one of very considerable importance.

Good progress had been made with these experiments and it was expected that a satisfactory process would be evolved.

The urgency of dealing with the trees was emphasised, particularly in view of the fact that brown rot was prevalent in the district at present. Damaged fruit provided a fertile field for the development of the disease, and urgent measures were required for the stripping of all fruit from the trees.

Four orchards in the area were severely affected, and it was noted that other orchards a few miles away escaped with little damage, only a small proportion of the fruit showing damage by bruising.

In addition to the games, fruit, and various other comforts, the National Patriotic Fund Board has provided for the First Echelon of the Second New Zealand Expeditions of the Parameters of the tionary Force, the men will also be able to have their picture entertainments on the troopships.

When the Minister of Defence (the Hon. F. Jones) found that there were motion picture projectors available on the ships, he took steps to see whether films could be provided. The matter was taken up at once by the Patriotic Fund Board and as a result of its efforts and co-operation it received a fine selection of films.

Mr R. L. Grant, manager of British Empire Films (N.Z.) Ltd., at once arranged to supply 20 programmes comprising feature films, subject to their return afterwards and on condition also that they recognized.

The films are valued at £3000 and the cost of insurance is being borne by the Army Department.

The board was also able to arrange with the Film Exchanges Association of New Zealand to provide some additional films for the troops.

To ensure that the troops receive the comforts provided for them and also that these gifts are under proper control, the Army authorities, at the request of the National Patriotic Fund Board, have appointed six "gifts officers" who are to undertake these duties on the transports. They will have full charge of the board's comforts aboard the ship. aboard the ship.

There was the Man from the Bank, an important personage who was always in a hurry, and took his tea alone and with a certain air of solemnity that made his custom almost a ritual. He never had company; in fact he resented others sitting at his table, even on a busy day, so the girl did not know what he thought.

PARKING SIGNS Prices Realised DAMAGED Yesterday

HASTINGS

Cost Council £30

Parking signs in the Hastings Borough, since they were erected several weeks ago, have suffered considerable damage at the hands of vandals. Seeking to remedy the trouble, the council recently offered £5 reward for information leading to the prosecution of any person re sponsible for the damage.

A police constable on his beat recently apprehended a young man whom he found damaging a sign, and the offender, aged 25, appeared before Messrs F. C. Wilkinson and One hundred and nineteen woolly wether lambs 15/1, 32 S.D. cross lambs 18/-, 70 woolly wether lambs 16/9, 226 rape wether lambs 16/6, 143 woolly wether lambs 13/7, 32 woolly lambs 8/-, 188 f. and f. rape lambs 18/9, 76 f. and f. About 3.30 a.m. they saw three young men walking along Eastbourne Street. The defendant, who was a member of the trio, stopped at the Russell Street intersection, grasped one of the signs and twisted it over. Constable Walsh immediately gave chase, following the defendant along Russell Street, Heretaunga Street, and Karamu Road, and into a lane at the rear of an hotel. There he was caught.

Senior-Sergeant Quayle stated

There is no doubt that the great-est handicap of every would-be licence holder is acute nervousness. No matter how carefully he may have practised backing, gear-chang-the completed, of the candidate's inability to drive, and he has been only too pleased to return to his

Only last week he had many anxious moments when testing a youth of 18, who cut corners, exceeded the speed limit over intersections and relimit over intersections, and ne-glected other traffic rules. Needless to say, continued the inspector, this driver did not qualify.

In recent years a higher percen-tage of candidates for drivers' licences is successful than previ-ously, said Mr Green. At one time 25 per cent. failure of the total number of drivers tested would not be uncommon, but now only a few candidates leave the council office without their licence.

JOCKEYS' KEEN RIVALRY

"LARRY" WIGGINS, at the "LARRY" WIGGINS, at the completion of the holiday racing, is still in front in the struggle for the winning jockeys' premiership. He has scored 34 successes to date this season and it looks like being his best year. Billy Broughton, who was dead stiff in being handed a month's holiday at Hastings in October, is making Hastings in October, is making the pace a cracker for the lead-er and the Awapuni horseman, er and the Awapuni horseman, who, in "Moturoa's" opinion, is the outstanding horseman today, is only three behind. Billy crept up to within one of his Auckland rival after the first day at Tauherenikau, but Wiggins came away slightly at Ellerslie this week. This looks lerslie this week. This looks like being the most keenly con-tested race of the season.

Auckland's Best Juvenile.

Auckland's Best Juvenile.

Though he may lack quality in appearance Lou Rosa is a particularly well-grown, hardy type of gelding possessing a good temperament, says the Auckland correspondent of "The Dominion." He does not show any great brilliance in the early stages of his races, but is a very courageous finisher under pressure and is definitely not wanting in stamina. Lou Rosa has had four starts, his first appearance being in the Musket Stakes on the second day of the Auckland Racing Club's spring meeting, when he failed to show up. He was not produced again till the Waikato Racing Club's spring meeting, when he produced again till the Waikato Racing Club's spring meeting, when ne spreadeagled the field in the Tamahere Stakes and recorded the fast time of 47 3-5 for half a mile, this form being fully borne out by his following two successes at Ellerslie. Lou Rosa was bred by his owner, Mr A. E. Lennard, and is by the Foxlaw horse Foxbridge, whose stock are racing very prominently, from Lucy Rose, by Lucullus from Autumn Rose, by Soult. It is interesting to note that two Auckland Cup winners come from this family. Waimangu in 1910 and Santa Rosa in 1911. Their dam was Vieux Rose, who was bred by Mr W. Walters and was purchased ov the late Mr John Lennard for the foundation of what has been a great winning family.

Proud Fox has been a most consistent performer this season, having had three wins in his last four starts. He is another of the stock of the Wailkato sire Foxbridge, who has had a successful season to date. Proud Fox is a half-brother to the Grand National Hurdles winner Huntique, and his dam is Gazelia, a full-sister to Gazique, who was a brilliant sprinter, being the winner of the A.R.C. Easter Handicap and C.J.C. Winter Cup.

Last week a sale of thoroughbreds was held at Auckland on account of the estate of the late M. Steinberg, but bidding in most cases failed to reach the reserves. First to be submitted was the three-year-old filly Konneta, who was passed in at 435gns, Fidelis, a full-brother to Catalogue, was passed in at 210gns., and the two-year-old Mimax, by Musketoon—Elope, at 200gns. Wapaugh, a three-year-old gelding by Siegfried from Polonaise, was purchased by Mrs Morris, Auckland, for 125gns.

Best Sprinter

The decisive win of Footloose in the Douglas Handicap at Stratford stamped him as the best sprinter of the circuit, writes "Hurry On." He was narrowly beaten by Gay Seton on the opening day at New Plymouth but that race worked an improvement in him because at Stratford he did not give his opponents a chance over the final furlong. His spell during the winter improved him considerably and he is looking and racing like an improved horse. The manner in which he scored at Stratford suggests that he may be able to hold his own in the best company.

CLOSING TO-DAY

EFFECT OF RACING AT Kilrobe In Form LONG DISTANCES

Not Generally Detrimental GREAT STAYERS WERE STUD SUCCESSES

Constitution And Breeding Vital

(By MOTUROA).

An English writer recently discussing the bloodstock industry advanced a theory that the preparing and racing of stallions for such an event as the Ascot Cup (a weight-for-age race of two and a half miles) is likely to prove detrimental to their prospects at the Stud. But, if this were so, surely so many of the great staying lines would not have earned the

One of the noted early sires of stayers in Australia and New Zealand was Fisherman, and the Heron horse won the Ascot Gold Cup in 1858 and again in 1859. As well, Fisherman started over 100 times in his five seasons on the Turf, and sired in Australia those good horses Angler (V.R.C. Derby and St. Leger), Fishhook (A.J.C. St. Leger, Sydney Cup, V.R.C. St. Leger, and Champion Stakes), Gasworks (V.R.C. St. Leger and Australian Cup), Lady Heron (V.R.C. Oaks), Maribyrnong (wonderful Stud success), My Dream (V.R.C. Derby and Oaks), Seagull (V.R.C. Derby and Oaks), and that fine daughter of Juliet's, Sylvia.

A grandson of Fisherman was Richmond, a fine stayer himself and sire of the famous brood mare Auraria and her brother, the phenomenal two and three-year-old Aurum, who finished third in the Melbourne Cup as a three-year-old carrying 15lb. over weight-for-age.

Fisherman was also the ancestor of the dam of Peter Pan and he is well known in New Zealand, not only through Sylvia's descendants, but also through that wonderful Okawa mare Desert Gold, and her good brothers Nigger Minstrel Great modern sires of stayers such as Spearmint, Son-in-Law, Radium, Gainsborough, Cyllene, Gay Crusader, William the Third, Polymelus, Lemberg, Fairway, Solario, Foxlaw, and Bosworth were all successful stayers. The last three were Ascot Gold Cup winners, yet they have proved themselves capable of transmitting their stamina to their progeny.

It is true that many stayers, who controlled Carbine would prob horses that have raced over long ably have taken on the race and, distances, have failed at the Stud. We hear all about these, but little enough about the greater number of successful sprinters and middle distance horses who also failed at the stud, or did little for the betterment ond in the study of the study of

A WELL-NAMED FAILURE

WHEN Mr. Tom Newman, of sunny Nelson, decided on the name of The Bigot for the one-eyed son of Baralong and Bonnie Lady, it seemed a happy appellation. The Bigot won a few races—they were far between—and, generally, he seemed to have one idea, which was not to go the right way. The not to go the right way. The Bigot was tried in all ways, under different riders and over different distances, but it seems as if his last failures were over the holidays. It is now reported that he is to be retired from the Turf, which he has disgraced for several seasons.

weights, yet he became one of the greatest sires in the world. His sons, Wallace and Spearmint, both great sires, were grand stayers.

Indeed, I would go as far as to say that the "stayers" that have failed at the Stud, have failed not because they were stayers but because cause they were stayers, but because they lacked something as individuals. VALUE OF STAYING BLOOD. FISHERMAN, Carbine and others had not stout staying others had not stout staying blood in their veins the probability is that racing over two miles or more would have seriously prejudiced their Stud prospects, just as it would have prejudiced their racing prospects. But racing over two or three miles does not sap or affect the vitality of a horse who has inherited stamina and has the conformation for long-distance racing.

Hampton, who established one of the greatest staying lines ever known, was hard-raced both on the flat and over jumps. His descendant, Son-in-Law, won the Goodwood Cup (at three years), the two-and a-quarter miles Cesarewitch and the Jockey Club Cup (twice), as well as other distance races. In the Cesarewitch he beat the biggest field in 40 years and did it in record time. And this horse's long distance racing had such a "detrimental" effect on his vitality as a potential sire that in recent years his sons and grandsons have dominated the Ascot Gold Cup winners. There are many Stud-masters who would give a good deal to have their stallions prejudiced by long-distance racing in the same way.

NOT ISOLATED CASES.

NOT ISOLATED CASES. SON-IN-LAW, of course, is by no means an isolated case. A large number of distance winners have been wonderfully successful at the THE horses most likely to succeed tud apart from those mentioned earlier. Among them can be included Hurry On, Bayardo, Santoi, Bachelor's Double, Kilbroney, Isonomy,

The gallant son of Musket and Mersey did not need nursing—he took on anything that was coming. He won the Sydney Cup at three and four years, carrying 9.0 and 9.9. He was second in the Melbourne Cup at four years with 10.0 and won the following year with 10.5.

Is there any record comparable with that of Carbine in winning nine races and being second in the tenth in five days' actual racing? This was against the best horses of the time and over long and short distances.

Chester won the Melbourne Cup at hree years and was a great Stud success. The unbeaten Grand Flansuccess. The unbeaten Grand Flaneur won at the same age and sired some good horses, though, on the whole, it must be admitted that many of the winners of the great race at Flemington have not been successful at the Stud. However, it will be interesting to see how Peter Pan and Hall Mark fare at the Stud.

CUP-WINNING SIRES.

ONE of the greatest modern sires of stayers in Australia was Comedy King, but he won the Melbourne Cup at four years. Windbag, sire of Liberal and Chatham, also won at four years, while that good Queenslander Spearfelt ran third at three years and won two years later.

Heroic, the leading sire in Austraia for the past seven seasons—beating his sire's record—did not contest the Melbourne Cup, but, as a four-year-old and with 9.7, he went to within half a length of capturing the Sydney Cup. He was successful up to two and a-quarter miles.

Trenton was placed in two Mel-bourne Cups. He became a sire of priceless value and his blood,

HOLIDAY racing for the punters was, in the main, a series of reverses. Form was not worth a pinch of salt and favourites bit the dust with monotonous regularity. It does not follow that, because a horse is well bred and has been a good performer on the Turf, that he will be a Stud success. How uncer-tain the whole business of bloodstock preeding is may be seen by examples of full brothers; one may be a valuable sire and the other an abject

SHE DISCOVERED HEALTH.

Mrs. L. Lincoln, Picton Street, Ponsonby, Auckland, says that R.U.R. is the 100 per cent. health remedy for constipation, rheumatic pains, kidney and liver ailments and general body pains. That's real proof of R.U.R. effectiveness—from an actual living person in New Zealand. Perhaps you, too, need R.U.R. Agents: Webber's Pharmacy, Hastings, and Hobson's, Chemists, Napier.

MARRIED PEOPLE, write tor Free Catalogue of Hygienic Appliances and Intimate necessities, or send 1/- in stamps for sample goods suitable for men; everything mailed in plain wrapper. Write at once to Security Chemists' Supplies, Box 1543T, Wellington.

Printed and Published by HORACL VICTOR FURNER, of 117 Charlotte Crescent, Hastings, for the thawke's Bay Daily Mail Company, Limited, at the registered office of the Company, corner of Karamu Road and Avenue Road. Hastings, Hawke's Bay, New Zealand.
