Bee Mortality Reduced RESEARCH WORK

REPORT

Committee's Meeting

A very marked reduction in the mortality amongst bees during the past three seasons, when fruitgrowers had been askd to exercise care in the application of their lead membership for the future." sprays, was reported by Mr A. Lowe, who spoke as a beekeeper, at the monthly meeting of the General Committee of the Hawke's Bay Fruitgrowers' Association.

The report from the Research Orchard indicated a very promising crop in all varieties, with spraying and cultivation well up to date. Codlin moth traps have not been set this season, as it had now been established that the emergence of the moth coincides with the first apple blossom.

Affiliation Question

The club was of the opinion that if the Fruit Board were now required, it should be elected in a democratic way. It was reported in this connection that the Hon. W. Nash was expected to make an important announcement very shortly, and that the future of the board was "in the melting pot." Under these circumstances any action by the association was considered inadvisable at present.

It was decided to unite with the local Advisory Committee in forwarding a further resolution to the

FELL UNDER THE TRAIN.
The train was just moving out.
Suddenly a man shouted . . "They under the train! My Pulmonas," he exclaimed to an anxious-faced official, "Tve a rotten cold . . just time to get another box before shops close." Pulmonas act quickly, by antiseptic vapours. Never fail to relieve coughs, colds, sore throats and 'flu. From all chemists and stores, Pulmonas, 1/1, and 2/7.

The detring was begun early to determine was begun early to trend morning on the Marakeke overhead bridge on the main Marakeke overhead bridge on the main Marakeke-Hatuma highway. Traffic will suffer no delay as the workmen are removing only a few planks at a time, and substituting the new timber immediately.

In conversation, the engineer (Mr R. B. Price) stated that this work was just routine, and the bridge was begun early to door.

Two boxes of insects were included in the freight brought from America by the California Clipper, which arrived at Auckland recently.

Sent from Ontario, the insects are of a type used for combating ragwort. One of the boxes is for the Cawthron Institute, Nelson, and the other will be sent to the Common-wealth Laboratories at Canberra.

Napier Rowing Club

DIFFICULT YEAR

Regatta Receives Less Support

FUTURE DISCUSSED

The membership of the Napier Rowing Club during the past season stood at 29, compared with 35 in ceipts from the regatta were £84

Open regatta expenses amounted o £33 7/-, as compared with £8 18/9 for the previous year. This was mainly accounted for by the fact that in the past members raised the funds for transport of boats privately among themselves. This season the club paid out all ex-ly attended and was not as successful as in previous years. This was expected and it will be for members to decide whether or not the regatta should be held while the present unsettled state of affairs exists. Alterations to Boathouse "The alterations to the boathouse have now been completed. The total cost amounted to £98 1/4, of which the sum of £60 was contributed by the Hawke's Bay Rivers Board to cover the expense of raising the shed to the level of the new stopbank. The alterations and additions has been strengthened and made more permanent.

"The season opened shortly after the outbreak of war and as can only be expected, the club's activities have been seriously affected by the loss of members through enlistment. Already four of our members have enlisted for active service; we wish them God Speed and a safe return. In addition many others are we wish them God speed and a safe return. In addition many others are already serving with the Territorial Units in the Dominion. Although the outlook is uncertain the hope is expressed that the remaining mem-bers will carry the club on in the meantime and endeavour to influence as many young new mem bers as possible so that they can be

BAPTIST UNION

Request Made To The Governor-General

Affiliation Question

The secretary of the Pakowhai Fruit rarmers' Club wrote suggesting that the association should affiliate with the Farmers' Union. While the committee agreed that closer cooperation between all the various branches of primary producers was desirable, it was of the opinion that the time was not opportune for an amalgamation as suggested.

The Pakowhai club also adversely criticised the action of the Government in extending the term of appointment of members of the Fruit Board for the duration of the war. The club was of the opinion that if the Fruit Board were now required, it should be alreaded in a demonstration of the King in faith, it should be alreaded in a demonstration.

On Annual Report
In the presentation of the annual report, attention was drawn to the record self-denial offering of £4,600, an increase of £400 on last year. The opening of the Tripura work in India and the fine promise of the youth organisations are some reasons for encouragement.

Auxiliary reports were received from Auckland, South Auckland, Central Canterbury, and Otago and Southland.

"I WAS A SPY" IS RE-ISSUED

British Triumph, With A Fine Mystery

Conrad Veidt, Madeleine Carroll Herbert Marshall, and a sterling cast in support contribute memorable performances in "I Was A Spy," which is now at the State Theatre,

This great British film on its first issue so thoroughly deserved the packed houses which greeted it packed houses which greeted it everywhere that the present re-issue during the present war against the Hitlerites is more than justified. In its essentials the story has all the simplicity of greatness. It tells the true emotional and factual history of the young Belgian woman, Martha McKenna, who, with her parents, was in the town of Roulers in 1915, after the Commans had occurin 1915 after the Germans had occu-pied it to make a base behind the lines. In a particular scene among German wounded installed in the German wounded installed in the market-place, the woman's slight medical training and her personal instinct show in her demeanour, and she is engaged by the medical authorities to serve in the hospital. Her untiring work there becomes invaluable, and eventually through a meeting with a British Secret Service agent she herself is enabled to become a spy for England.

A "different" mystery hit is promised with Will Fyffe in "They Came By Night," the second feature, which is said deftly to combine mysry, thrills, romance, and chuckles with a surprising climax. The world-famous Scotch star is recorted to give his best performance to date in this release, which casts him as a canny Scot who gets mixed with an amazing crime ring. Fyffe steals from the crooks when they make a haul, joins the gang when they plan their biggest job, and hands them the surprise of their lives in what has been described as the most surprising climax the screen has shown in many a day.

The unusual procedure of giving embers permission to smoke was ken by Bishop Simkin at the session of the Auckland Diocesan Synod on Wednesday. Bishop Sim-sin explained that he made the conkin explained that he made the concession as synod was working morning, afternoon and night. The announcement was greeted with applause and pipes and cigarettes were soon in evidence. Thrilling Tale Of Indian Warfare

Regent

Monte Blue, famous star of silent days and proud of the fact that he is a one-quarter Cherokee, assumes the role of an Apache half-breed in Paramount's "Geronimo!" which is now screening at the Regent Theatre, Napier. Blue, son of William Jackson Blue, who was employed by the government as an Indian interpreter in its campaign against the Apache war chief in New Mexico and Arizona, is importantly involved in the action which made two States a battle-ground.

In the picture Blue is cast as Geronimo's lieutenant. His first scene onmo's lieutenant. His first scene before the camera was to torture William Henry, who plays a young cavalry lieutenant fresh from West Point. Preston Foster, Ellen Drew, Andy Devine, Ralph Morgan, Mar-jorie Gateson and Kitty Kelly are in the impressive cast.

The bellef that the position of tribal chief is handed down from father to son was proved false by Chief Thunder Cloud, full-blooded Chief Thunder Cloud, full-blooded Cherokee Indian who plays the title role in the film. "Heredity," declared the chief, "is never the basis for succession. New chiefs are chosen for performing outstanding acts of bravery or for obtaining exceptional tribal benefits."

Research conducted by Paramount during filming of "Geronimo!", brought forth the official announcement that the term "vanishing American" is a misnomer. The Bureau of Indian Affairs at Washington, D.C., reported that the latest Indian D.C., reported that the latest Indian census discloses an increase in the Redskin population. But this does not hold true in Hollywood, where there are not more than 15 full-blooded Indian residents available for pictures. Five years ago there were more than 250 of Uncle Sam's words years ago the state of the same than 250 of Uncle Sam's wards ready at a moments notice to go to work in feature productions.

EXERCISES KEEP THE FACE FIRM AND YOUNG

Use The Mirror To Watch The Contour Of Your Face

Life is good fun, and there's lots of smiling to be done by lasses in the late teens. Their faces are round, and glowing with health and good spirits. Don't let time rob you of these aids to charm when you can preserve them. Do the simple facial exercises recommended here and you will have every chance to retain the curves natural to your face.

Just as exercises help keep the that the teeth will show. Now show body supple, so facial exercises will the lower teeth, at the same time help keep the face firm and young. In later life whistling and singing are often replaced by the frowns of worry—and the lines of age begin to show.

The brows become furrowed, crowsfeet show below the eyes, and the mouth droops.

With proper exercise, drooping muscles can be strengthened and coaxed back into normal activity. Just as bodily exercise creates a glow of health in the skin, so will facial exercises create a new glow of beauty in the face.

The most difficult part of any exercise is gaining the will-power to carry it out. This applies not only to exercising, but to any beauty treatment.

We are too prone to allow our beauty programme to be carried out in a lazy way.

Be Determined

Therefore, if you wish for results, make up your mind right now that you will rigidly adhere to your beauty treatment and carry it through to its final stage.

With facial exercising this is very important. Immediate results are not noticeable, and it is not until the final stage of the treatment that the muscles become youthful and

Life In Britain Is Still Amusing

Englishwoman's Letter Gives A Vivid Impression Of War Conditions

Few news articles or broadcasts have given such a vivid picture of life in Great Britain at the present time as the following letter, written by an Englishwoman in reply to a letter from a kinswoman in New Zealand. The letter has been forwarded to the "Daily Mail" by a reader.

The story told here is not a string of facts about bombings and battles; it is a record of the thoughts and experiences of a cultured Englishwoman. Her style-although, of course, the original letter was not intended for publicationhas both charm and humour, and her power of observation gives the letter a unique fascination.

In order to preserve the sense of "the present time," and also the writer's delightful personality, the "Daily Mail" reprints the letter without alteration:-

we have larger issues to moan about, but it is very hard to bear, particularly as we are having such Lot night, but only once was anything very near—and boy—oh, boy! did our R.A.F. "learn" Hermann's Luftwaffe. It was just like a Brocks Benefit at the Crystal Palace in the days that one great And when the complish when you are doing a accomplish when you are doing a days that are gone! And when you hear on the wireless that "damage was slight"—don't think the B.B.C. was slight"—don't think the B.B.C. are handing out soothing syrup—they are rather good at soothing syrup when we have made one of our strategical retreats, to "previously prepared positions," of course—but in this case they are being they are at war, and the only way strictly truthful. It is miraculous is through their stomachs, which how they manage to miss things; James says it almost looks as though they aren't trying. If it tioned so that we can have it now weren't for that Censor, I could tell you all kinds of things to bear that well in hand!

When I ventured a little mild criticism regarding the evacuation of Somaliland, he said "we shall start doing things in the East, when we are good and ready; if we choose to make it a long war, that's our business." I can only think that he and Winston are working hand-inhand and that the have a deep-laid scheme. I must say I preferred him doing his strategy with Weygand—he was most amusing, popping a few tanks in here, and taking a few out there; he always did it in handfuls. Unfortunately, the system broke down, and he and Weygand were not en rapport. That, I believe, is the true reason for the French collapse! However, we'll hope the deep-laid schemes will have much better results.

You also mention the way we have muddled and dallied about, wasting time with our Bank Holidays and Sundays off, while Germany has worked day and night for years. Yes, that's all very well, but don't you see that if we had done to same, and for the same, and for the same ends, we should be fighting with the very things we are fighting against? I know that it appears that we are slack—but there's more to life than guns.

If we had worked like that for the production of instruments of destruction we should have lost sentences. The would have gone down on hers in the wood. Of course she the production of instruments of destruction we should have lost sentences. There's a good lass. You see you can't go about eternally saying "There's a good lass. You see you can't go about eternally saying "There's a good lass. You see you to yourself or anyone else then?

Britain Is Not

Hungry

Now, don't think I have been too hard on you. I'm not cross with you, we none of us are, but we do want you to get things trait, and to realise that we are not hungry.

As for us all going down on our knees—don't you think that God would look at some of us with His cheek if we did? I lost my childish saints, and I have not hand the production of instruments of destruction we should have lost series.

If we had worked like that for the production of instruments of destruction. We should have lost something infinitely precious, something that we could never have found again. This is a different war from any that has been fought before. It's a people's war, almost a crusade, and it's not really between nations, but it's between two separate ways of life.

Say Notice wood. Of course she would have, but she had never lost the habit, bless her, although she had no time for Church and "churchy" people. Do you remember how she used to say each spring when the first bulbs came, "In sure and certain hope?"

You say, "James and you are so terribly good." That made me laugh, perhaps rather more as it followed sharp after the kneeling

And we shall win. Make no mis-followed sharp after the kneeling bit. No, we are not; we just happen into words the way the ordinary to treat people, now and again, as people feel—the man-in-the-street, I mean. The spirit is entirely differnent from that of the last war, and there's no hatred and bitterness up to now. I think they realise that the whole thing is different, and while they were tiffer than they were last they were stiffer than they were last they were stiffered. They were last to now. I think they realise that the whole thing is different, and while they are stiffer than they were last time, there's none of that flag wagging and shouting. I think perhaps I should describe it as having none of the "Tipperary Spirit." We are an odd sort of race; we appear so very lackadaisical and slack, and sometimes we are, criminally so, but sometimes we are, criminally so, but sometimes we are, criminally so, but fect a whole roomful of people. It's infectious, in much the same way, are up well and truly. They are up but opposite, as a hearty laugh is now.

If Hitler could have seen a crowd of people we were with last night, it would have broken his heart—if he has one, which I doubt. One man had been to Brighton on business that day, they'd had air battles off the coast and slightly over it, and infectious. And I hadn't quite realised just how much cheerfulness is appreciated—until I left my old Brigade for the Rural, and had a letter from my Chief, and signed by all the lads.

So perhaps "they also serve" who smile now and again.

You say "my mind boggles at all you are going through at home. I wish I were there to share in it all the same, in spite of all the discomforts." I think there are enough of us on this island, my dear, without the folk who can be away. And really, we are not very uncomfortable—I think the "blackout" is still the biggest cross we have to bear, taking it by and large. One gets used to "alarms and excursions" but used to "alarms and excursions" but never in this world will we get used to that — blackout.

It must seem odd that we moan about it so, when you would think and tribulations of his day.

A Representative

particularly as we are having such a marvellous summer, with hot, still nights. And here we sit in our practically hermetically-sealed houses. I am perfectly sure we shall all be pop-eyed with peering after this is over. Quite probably we shall look like fishes that live at the bottom of deep pools. As for other discomforts—well, there aren't many. There is rationing, but it's not severe, in fact I have hardly noticed it at all, and I am not alone in this. It isn't my very superior wangling.

As for air raids— we have been lucky indeed up to now. There have been many alarms in the last fortinight, but only once was anything very near—and boy—oh, boy! did

We think it is just marvellous of them to bear it, for rationing isn't exactly pleasant, however slight it is. And you say you don't know much out there. Well, neither do we. I told James last night that it seems to be such a private war that you feel you should have permission to be in it at all. He's all for it being private, and is quite huffy because I suggested it was high time our censorship was altered for the U.S.A. so that they got true news of our raids before the German propaganda got in with their lies.

"It's our war, and if the U.S.A. don't like the way we're running it, let them — well get a war of their own! We shall fight it how we like, in our own time, and tell them about it when we think fit." Oh, he's very stuffy about "our war"—what a mercy he and Winston have it well in hand!

SPRING SHOW

Before you choose any motor car, be sure to see this brilliant display of the most outstanding cars ever produced by Britain and America. These are the style-leaders . . . the value-leaders . . . the cars which on sheer merit dominate in their respective fields.

MORRIS 'FOURTEEN' and 'TWENTY-FIVE'

Beauties to look at and beauties to drive, the choice of either of these superb English cars speaks volumes for your good taste and good judgment. The MORRIS FOURTEEN is a full five-seater with the widest track and the highest brake-horse-power of any Fourteen on the market. To drive it is to know a revelation in comfort, performance and economy. The MORRIS TWENTY-FIVE is a big luxury car . . . long, wide, roomy; styled and appointed as befits an English thoroughbred. See these two British cars; drive them; your most searching tests and comparisons will prove they represent real motor-car value.

The Brilliant HUDSON 'ONE-TWELVE'

"Grace on Wheels" symbolises this thrilling Hudson Model. Few cars are so smoothly styled, so ruggedly constructed, so rich in new ideas. Patented doublesafe hydraulics give the extra protection of TWO braking systems under the ONE foot pedal. Finger flick gear change; Auto-Poise control; advanced springing and steering give complete control of the magnificent performance beneath the clean lean bonnet. In this car they've thought of everything. Come in and drive it yourself. A few miles will convince you that the Hudson One-Twelve is one car too good to miss.

The Luxurious PACKARD 'SIX'

Here are the graceful lines and exquisite proportions that are the hall marks of a true masterpiece and here too, is performance plus a brand of economy rarely obtained in a car of such size and luxury. For long expense-free mechanical life; for looks that stay in style through the years; for complete satisfaction, a Packard is today's soundest investment. Become the man who owns one!

NAPIER HARBOUR PROGRESS

The future of Napier as a port is a matter of vital interest to the whole of Hawke's Bay. The idea that one of the richest provinces in the Dominion should become dependent on a distant port, such as Wellington, as an outlet for the enormous volume of Hawke's Bay primary production should be foreign to everyone who has any interest in the future prosperity of this area.

For this reason the report presented by the chairman of the Napier Harbour Board (Mr T. M. Geddis) at the annual meeting of the board yesterday, is extremely welcome. It shows not only that the heavy damage caused to the port by the earthquake of 1931 has been more than restored, but also that the subsequent progress, and particularly that of last year has brought the realisation of the policy of establishing a deep-sea port at Napier appreciably nearer. The effect of the completion of new harbour works, such as the No. 3 wharf which, the report states, is already handling the bulk of the overseas trade, has been immediate and eminently satisfactory. The chairman's statement that "direct loadings of frozen meat, wool, butter, fruit and other primary produce, and the direct importation of petrol over the new wharf afford ample evidence of the practical success of the board's efforts to provide this district with the advantages of a modern deep-sea harbour" is a justification of the board's policy and, incidentally, a reply to those who might have been content with a less ambitious harbour scheme.

In the past many parts of the Dominion have suffered from too much centralisation, particularly as regards the diversion of trade from smaller ports to the four main ports. This grievance has gone further in the South Island, where, until fairly recently, even Lyttelton and Dunedin, in addition to such places as Timaru and the Bluff, were "starved" of trade while Auckland and Wellington reaped a rich harvest.

Napier, unlike the southern ports, has had additional difficulties to face, principally because the formation of the Hawke's Bay coastline does not include sheltered, deep inlets like the fiordlike harbours of Lyttelton and Otago.

That these advantages have been faced and—judging by the progress reviewed in the 1940 report—are on the way to being overcome, must be regarded as a matter for congratulation by Hawke's Bay as a whole.

NEWS FROM ENGLAND

In this morning's "Daily Mail" is published a letter from an Englishwoman which will be of interest to every reader who is watching the magnificent stand made by the people of the Homeland against the assault of the German air force.

The writer of the letter may be said to typify the British people, whose refusal to be daunted by seemingly hopeless odds, whose gaiety in the face of danger, and whose unflinching determination to win victory out of what most people would regard as defeat, have never been illustrated more vividly than during the last year. Nevertheless, there is a great deal which the letter might have said but which it avoids for the very good reason that Britons are not accustomed to whine about their difficulties in a time of national

It is a question whether New Zealanders realise, even yet, what the people of Great Britain have gone through in the first year of war. It is one thing to meet with courage a major onslaught such as the blitzkrieg of the last four months, but quite another to go on day after day and week after week suffering the discomforts and disorganisations inseparable from even a "quiet" period such as the eight months from September, 1939, to May, 1940.

As yet the life of the ordinary New Zealand civilian has scarcely been touched by the war. That is a matter for thankfulness, but it is also a reason why New Zealand should consider no sacrifice too great if that sacrifice will help the British people who are shielding the Dominion to-day.

While hunting deer at Tangi-moana Mr Edgar Reeve surprised a stag immediately behind the first line of sandhills on the Forest Reserve Before a shot could be fired the deer ran over the sandhills, down the beach and swam straight out to sea for about a mile, where it could just be seen. It stayed there for almost an hour and then made ashore but, on being chased, it entered the water again and seemed to swim almost as far out as it had cone on the first occasion and stayed there bout 20 minutes. Then it ed there bout 20 minutes. Then it came in again and lay down on the beach. On being approached it attempted out a third time but after struggling out a few yards it was washed back by the waves. Mr Reeve really, felt after three attempts, the beast deserved to get away but he waded out and dispatched it in shallow water.

"He is not the only one," the officer added.

"The March of Astronomy," was the subject of an address given by a past-president (Mr L. S. McClurg) at yesterday's luncheon of the Napier Rotary Club. The speaker dealt with the progress of this oldest of sciences and described some of its modern applications. He showed that it played its part even in the waging of a modern war. On the waging of a modern war was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

Hot or Thirsty?

The ingenuity shown by some youths in circumventing the regulations regarding the consumption of liquor in the vicinity of a dance hall was neutralised by the police prosecutor in the Napier Magistrate's Court yesterday. Two constables who paid a visit to the Richmond Block Hall one night recently found three youths in the act of opening a bottle of beer under a hedge. A search of the hedge disclosed another two bottles, and each of the defendants admitted ownership.

Captain F. M. Jenkins, Sherenden, a member of the Hastings Chamber of Commerce, who is with the forces for overseas, was at last night's meeting and the chamber proferred its good wishes for a successful journey and a safe return. A letter expressing this hope is to be forwarded to Captain Jenkins.

The training scheme for the Home Guard was outlined in a statement by Major-General R. Young, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., Dominion Commander of the Guard, who said that the latest training manuals in fieldcraft and elementary tactics, section leading, concealment and camouflage would be issued at once.

Training to suit different classes of men comprising the Home Guard would be as follows:

Class 1.—Lads aged 16 to 18 and men who are eligible to serve in the forces but have not yet been talled up. Their training syllabus will consist largely of physical and recreational training, drill and elementary weapon training with the nentary weapon training with the believe of fitting them later for absorption into the army. Instructors for the most modern type of physical training are being trained by the Physical Welfare Department and will be available for the Home Suard shortly.

will be available for the Home Guard shortly.

Class II.—Men who are reasonably physically fit and who have already had actual experience of war in the field, have had previous raining in the territorial force, in rifle clubs or in the Legion of Froniersmen, etc. As a preliminary to more advanced work, this class will be given a general refresher in drill more advanced work, this class will be given a general refresher in drill ind weapon training. This will be followed by a series of practical exercises to be held in the vicinity of the homes of the men comprising each separate unit. The general object of these exercises will be to teach the methods for obstructing and delaying the advance of an inemy. Other valuable exercises will include the use of cover, tamouflage, siting of trenches, and donstruction of air-raid shelters and lugouts.

In the case of Class III, consisting of men who, owing to their age, tannot be expected to take part in such strenuous forms of training use will be made of their services in such a manner as not to endanger their physical fitness. The duties they can be used for are guarding bridges, viaducts, etc., helping in the evacuation of women and children, billeting schemes, field ambulance duties, etc. time at week-end to Home Guard duties.

"The training will be on military lines, but care will be taken to see that each individual's physical powers are not overtaxed. There is room for everybody in the Guard. I can visualise a parade when a disabled returned soldier is sitting beating a side drum to give the time to the marching feet of fitter men, while some old diehard with a weak heart keeps the attendance roll.

Charge Against A Maori

SUPREME COURT

Alleged Attempted

KAIKOHE INCIDENT

By Telegraph—Press Association. AUCKLAND, Oct. 21.

Mango Kato Pera, a Maori, aged 55, appeared before Mr Justice Smith in the Supreme Court on charges of attempted murder and attempted suicide.

The crimes were alleged to have been committed on the evening of July 30.

The Crown Prosecutor (Mr V. R. S. Meredith), who prosecuted, said that the evidence would show that in a fit of jealous rage the accused made an unsuccessful attempt to shoot his niece, Repeka Pera, and then made a twofold attempt to commit suicide.

Repeka Pera, aged 18, said she lived in the same house as her uncle, the accused, in the Maori settlement at Kaikohe. He used to ask her to be his wife. When he came home drunk he got very angry if he saw Maori boys talking to her.

Heard Rifle Go Off On July 30 they had words at Kaikohe and he followed her home. He had a wild look on his face. Her sister and aunt held him back while she ran out of the house. As she was running away she saw the accused kneel down and point a rifle at her. She heard it go off twice. Her uncle had had drink.

After three-quarters of an hour the jury found the accused not guilty of attempted murder, or of attempting to do grievous bodily harm, but guilty of assault and attempted suicide.

He was remanded for sentence.

SINKING ARTESIAN WELLS

Considerable interest is being taken in the sinking of an artesian well near Warren Street corner in well near Warren Street corner in Eastbourne Street, Hastings. A motor-lorry with a derrick erected on the tray which carries the machinery working the drill is part of the equipment used by the contractor, Mr J. M. Stewart, Dunedin.

Shortly after the work was begun early last week three submerged trees were encountered within 10 feet of the surface, and it was ne cessary to cut through these with long-handled augers. The trees were manuka and quite as sound as the day they fell to the ground.

In conversation with a "Daily Mail" reporter yesterday Mr Stewart said that he had sunk a number of wells in Hawke's Bay, and this was the worst "hole" that he had encountered. The drill was 35 feet down yesterday and timber was

A warning to the effect that those who broke the law in regard to the consumption of liquor in the vicinity of a dance hall could expect no J. Miller, S.M. in the Napier Magistrate's Court yesterday.

His Worship pointed out that there were seven cases for consideration, and announced that in future he would have to increase the penalty. A small fine had no effect, he added.

Mr A. E. Lawry, who appeared for one of the defendants, said that his client realised what he had done was wrong. The defendant was a constant of the defendant was a constant of the defendant was a constant of the defendant was wrong.

his client realised what he had done was wrong. The defendant was a son of one of Hawke's Bay's most prominent families and he asked for the suppression of his name.

"The newspapers are apt to create a publicity value which exceeds the seriousness of the offence in these cases," said counsel in asking the Magistrate to give an indication to the Press.

Should Set Example "This is not a proper case for suppression," said Mr Miller, in refusing the application. "The defendant may be of good family, but that is not sufficient—a good family should set an example.

"This is the worst case I have ever heard," declared Mr J. Miller, S.M., in the Napier Magistrate's Court yesterday, when Egerton Thomas Brandford Webster, a 54 year-old master mariner now serving with the Admiralty, entered a plea of guilty on a charge of cruelty to a cow.

"If the accused lost his temper he could have picked up something less harmful than an axe. That is not all, he used the business end of the axe," the Magistrate added in sending the accused to prison for a month.

Senior-Sergeant P. C. Felton told the Court that the accused was formerly a farmer milking cows in the district, and although the offence had been committed in November, 1939, the police had been unable to locate the accused.

Constable Kenny interviewed the accused, who said that he had hit the animal with a leg-rope. The constable went into the yard and examined the beast and found that it was bleeding at the ribs. There were four distinct cuts between the heel and hock, and one of the horns was almost knocked out.

A witness had said that the cowtried to get out of the bail but fell, and the accused then belted it with an axe to make it get up, Senior-Sergeant Felton said.

Mr S. H. Morrison, who appeared for the accused, said it must be admitted that the charge was a bad case of cruelty. Webster had been a small dairy farmer until the advent of war. #### Enthusiastic Support For War Appeal At Hastings Meeting

A spirit of enthusiasm prevailed at a meeting held at Hastings last night to organise the zone for the £1,000,000 provincial patriotic appeal to be opened probably on November 1. Hawke's Bay's quota of the total is £50,000, of which the Hastings zone is expected to contribute £12,000. On a population basis this averages about 15/- a head, it was stated

"I have felt in this matter that there is not the same response as in the joint appeal," said Mr E. T. Gifford. "I want to voice the opinion that here in New Zealand where we are sheltered and protected we do not know what the war means. What right have we to be war weary? Let us kick off this feeling of apathy and get into the thing 'boots and all.' '

Big Job In Hand Big Job In Hand

"We have a job to do and a big job at that, and I am quite sure that if we tackle it in the right way we will be successful," said Mr Maddison. "Hawke's Bay has always filled its obligations in this respect and I am not going to appeal

"It has been said that we are in this war 'boots and all', continued Mr Maddison. "But I will go further and say that we are in it pockets and all, and whoever you are, you must give your support." He would not weary his listeners with details of what was required by way of patriotic donations, Mr Maddison said, but when they were all summed up they were very small sacrifices compared with the sacrifices made by the men who had gone overseas. sacrifices made by the men who had gone overseas.

Mr Maddison referred to a recent appeal in Nottingham, England, which had realised no less than £7 a head. If the English people, who were already burdened to the limit with taxes of every kind, could give to that extent, he was sure that the people of the Dominion could make a comparable effort.

this amount not being attained by November 30, the appeal would be W. A. G. Penlington.

People in some English cities had given from £7 to £9 a head, said Mr Gifford. This was equal on a population basis to £13,500,000 being contributed by New Zealand. "And here we are pleading with the people for only 13/4 a head," said Mr Gifford's appeal was echoed by the chairman (Mr G. A. Maddison. "We know what the people of England have gone, through," he said, "and here we are getting fatter every day; we have not deprived ourselves of one thing.

"I think it would be a disgrace if the zone could not raise its quota of 15/- a head," continued Mr Maddison. "Surely we can do that to provide for these men who are fighting our battles."

Big Job In Hand

"Closed and re-opened in February, but in Hawke's Bay it was hoped to energise patriotic spirit so that the quota way and go forward to the goal line of £50,000."

"I suggest that we get busy immediately." said Mr Maddison. "One of £50,000."

The objects of the appeal should steadfastly be kept in mind, continued Mr Maddison. These were the provision of comforts for New Zealand troops overseas and in the Dominion, relief for victims of air raids, and rehabilitation work in New Zealand.

"After-care"

He did not like the application of the word "rehabilitation," said Mr Maddison. What was really meant was "after-care." The Government

"After-care"

He did not like the application of the word "rehabilitation," said Mr Maddison. What was really meant was "after-care." The Government intended attending to repatriation work, but money was needed from the patriotic organisations to maintain the men until they began receiving State assistance.

Replying to a question by Mr W. A. Whitlock concerning the relationship of the Hactings Mayor's fund to the appeal about to be launched, Mr Maddison said that a sum from the fund would be credited to the appeal. There was also about £4000 in the provincial fund and the Hastings share, about 24 per cent, would be added to the appeal fund.

A Year's Donations

Mr W. A. G. Penlington expressed the opinion that it would be a mistake to let the impression circulate that this was to be the only appeal in a year. This would really constitute a year's donations given in advance, which was more than the ordinary man could meet. It would be unwise to lose sight of small donations that might be missed later in the year, said Mr Penlington.

Replying to a question by Mr Penlington, Mr Maddison said that money raised in the £1,000,000 appeal could be used for any call that might be made, provided that the provincial patriotic council were agreeable.

"Although some parts of the full harbour improvement scheme remain to be completed, it is opportune to discuss certain aspects of the present and future development of the trade of Hawke's Bay and East Coast districts through the new facilities.

"Disposal Of Railway

"During the year it was recommended that as soon as the further progress of the harbour scheme warrants, we discontinue the handling of cargo as a Harbour Board service and dispose of the board's railway system to the Government with the object that it shall be incorporated and become part of the national railways.

"When these changes are effected, the trade of Hawke's Bay and East Coast districts through the new facilities.

"In the first place, I desire to comphasise the valuable benefits already accruing to the district by the use now being made of the new No. 3 wharf by overseas vescels.

"Up to September 30, 1940, exports of primary produce over this wharf reached a total of 12,501 tons. By the elimination of lighterage alone, the savings on this cargo amounted to not less than £9,000. But this is not the only benefit. There must also be taken into account savings in the quality of the proluce placed direct into ships holds at the wharf, and the better dispatch and loading facilities as a count savings in the quality of the proluce placed direct into ships holds at the wharf, and the better dispatch and loading facilities as a compared with roadstead operations. It is not possible to assess all these benefits in terms of money, but the substantial value of the improved conditions under which it is now possible to ship our produce will be readily acknowledged by those qualified to express an opinion.

Petrol Imports

"Then we have the great advantage to the district in the direct importation of petrol over the new wharf. Instead of language."

"When these changes are effected, conditions at the Breakwater will be similar amost other up-to-date ports where shipping comparies are sponsible for their own cargo handling operations.

"The engineer (Mr C. R. Davis) was asked to submit revised estimated to submit revised estimates as at June 30, 1940, of the costs of completing the harbour works now in course of construction. This was considered

Instead of long rail haulare from Wellington and small shipments by coastal tanker, the whole of the district's requirements are now brought by large overseas tankers to the No. 3 wharf and pumped by direct line into the storage installations at Port Ahuriri. Future Possibilities

"And what of the future? No great vision is needed to see that the new harbour works are destined to play a highly important role in the future welfare and prosperity of this district.

"A community such as ours, engaged for the most part in primary industry, is hampered in its development by any restrictions which tend to retard the outward flow of its produce. On the other hand, the removal of such restrictions stimulates a healthy growth of industry, encourages increased production, and creates other factors favourable to the expansion and exploitation of our natural resources.

"This is precisely what the new harbour works are doing for "This is precisely what the new harbour works are doing for Hawke's Bay. The burdensome restrictions of the old methods, with their high costs, delays and other disadvantages are being swept away and replaced by direct loading and unloading facilities at modern wharves thus ensuring a free flow of trade in and out of the province. "Let us look, too, at other advantages which will follow the new harbour works and be of benefit to Napier, Hastings and the whole province. I have already referred to direct imports of petrol, but I may point out that only the certainty of a deep sea harbour progressible of the product of the product of the province of No. 3 wharf, with the consequent direct loading of primary produce from the wharf into Napier, Hastings and the whole province. I have already referred to direct imports of petrol, but I may point out that only the certainty of a deep-sea harbour being established induced the oil companies to construct the large tank installations at Port Ahuriri which were necessary before overseas tankers could trade to Napier. This development is therefore an accomplished fact.

Fertiliser Works

"There are also other secondary industries, the promotion of which could not have been considered uncould not have been considered unless modern harbour facilities were first provided. I refer particularly to fertiliser works and cool stores.
The necessity for both these industries is already a matter of lively discussion and the wide local interest now being displayed will, I hope,

The annual report states that another year of high exports and economy in expenditure, has resulted in a further improvement in the board's financial position. Certain items of last year's estimated expenditure have, however, been deferred and will be carried forward to the current year's budget.

"The year commenced with a cash debit of £10,231 11/4 and ended with a cash debit of only £1394 11/4" continues the report. "This is a substantial gain in the cash position, and it is to be hoped that our finances will

"In my last report it was stated that in the near future the major activities of the port would be centred at the Breakwater, and, although further work is still being carried out to finalise the programme, it is satisfactory to record that the new No. 3 wharf, which was opened last December, is already handling the bulk of our export trade and doing it extremely well.

"Assets Written Down
"An important operation carried out in this balance sheet is the writting down of non-existent and heavily depreciated assets. The total amount written off was f134,219 15/1 of which f127,365 17/10 was provided out of Loan Repayments Reserve and f6,853 17/3 out of General Account. The items written down were age to give their support to the new deep-sea port at Napier. doubt to war conditions, is a marked feature. Overseas export increases occurred in all meat items, mutton and lamb being 25 per cent and beef and other meats 60 per cent above last year's figures. On the imports side overseas general cargo declined from 25,484 to 13,089 tons, while overseas benzine and kerosene jumped from 30 to 23,420 tons. Coastal exports of general cargo dropped by 1900 tons, wool by over 4.000 bales and coastal imports fell slightly from 76,096 to 72,608 tons.

Loan Negotiations "Negotiations for the placing of the £128,000 loan were completed during the year and satisfactory arrangements were made for raising the amount in instalments as required. The loan was issued at 4 per cent and is to be repaid by half-yearly instalments.

Development Of Ahuriri Lagoon By Napier Harbour Board

"The block of 7500 acres which, before being raised by the 1931 earthquake, was the sea bed of the Ahuriri Lagoon, is rapidly coming into profitable use," stated the annual report presented by the chairman (Mr T. M. Geddis) at yesterday's meeting of the Napier Harbour Board. "The extensive drainage and pumping and fencing schemes are practically completed and the leaching process to eliminate the high salt content is steadily improving the whole area. The wonderful potentialities of this lagoon are becoming more apparent year by year as development continues, and as an ever-increasing area comes into production. Details given below afford only a glimpse of the work being carried out, but it is now possible to visualise what a rich asset this land is going to be to the district when the whole block is brought under cultivation.

"The wide variety of crops now being grown and the pastoral activities of the past two or three years are an indication of the valuable contribution this area is destined to make to the future of this district.

"During the year good progress has been made in the development of the Ahuriri Lagoon, and the gradual sweetening of the area is evident in the great increase in the amount of natural growths on areas which until recently were practically bare of vegetation. There has been a particularly marked spread of Melilott (Melilotus alba)—which is an exceptionally heavy seeder—over considerable portions of the area.

"The area of approximately 180 acres near Park Island, which was sown in barley and fed off in the winter of 1939, was subsequently harvested for grain, a light crop of good quality seed being obtained. This area was sown down in permanent pasture in the autumn, a good germination resulting over the greater part of the area. There is at present a considerable cover of self sown barley and Melilot, and heavy stocking has been necessary to cope stocking has been necessary to cope with the growth. This area, which is in two paddocks, is being top-dressed, and should fatten a considerable quantity of stock this summer.

Beaulivre Atones For Epsom Collapse

STRUCK HIS BEST FORM

The Ring Attracts Attention To Trentham Prospects

By "MOTUROA"

Beaulivre's success in the Caulfield Cup on Saturday, without detracting from the merit of his performance, emphasises the glorious uncertainty of racing. A fortnight earlier, with the rich Epsom Handicap apparently won a furlong from home, Beaulivre stopped in a stride and finished in the ruck. He had been coupled by his party with Beau Vite and well as with other horses to win thousands of pounds.

Another bad race went down against Beaulivre in the Metropolitan Handicap, but trainer George Price was so pleased with the improvement in his charge after the A.J.C. spring meeting that he gave out a very strong tip for the New Zealander in the Caulfield Cup and his confidence was duly Beaulivre has not been a moody horse in the past; in fact, he has been one of the most generous horses raced in New Zealand and Australia in recent years.

The collapse of the former Hastings horse in the Epsom Handicap may remain forever a mystery. He may have pinched himself or he may have jarred a nerve. The Caulfield Cup is certainly a good consolation prize, but it is unlikely that Beaulivre was backed as confidently for the Flemington

THE RING, in winning the Vallance Memorial at Opaki yester day in a desperate finish, bore out the impression gained at Hastings at the beginning of the month that at the beginning of the month that she was not far from her best. And, as the Hastings mare usually thrives on her racing, she should be found even fitter this week at Trentham. The Ring is a New Zealand Cup candidate and the Wellington Handicap on Thursday is a race which should shed further light on her chances in the two-miler. At Trentham Larry Wiggins will have the mount on the mare and it will be and the state of t remembered that she showed good form on this track last January when she was started twice on the second day, running third at a mile and coming out later to win over and coming out later to win over eleven furlongs, the distance of the Wellington Handicap.

On the score of breeding the Hawke's Bay Cup winner has everything to recommend her on Thursday. She is by Siegfried and is bred from Gay Salute, by Lord Quex from Soot, by All Black from Salute, by Soult from Lady Musket, by Blairgowrie from Muskerina, by Musket. Those great stayers Te Kara, King March and Limarch come from this family and The Ring lacks nothing on the score of gameness.

The stock of Inderace do not Imbrores as likely to be oustanding two-year-olds, for the majority are big-boned and take a little while to find their feet. However, they are good-actioned gallopers and it will surprise if they do not make classic winners.

NOTHING OUTSTANDING
TWO-YEAR-OLD racing so far this season has produced nothing to sweep the board, though it would seem that several really smart youngsters have already got on the winning list. Pay Roll, with a dead-heat and a straight-out win,

HAS THE LAST LAUGH WHEN the leviathan Sydney punter and bloodstock buyer Alan Cooper paid 6000gns. for Gold Salute last October with the idea of winning the A.J.C. Derby he was

LET HIS ADMIRERS DOWN

THE RAKER was profoundly impressive last winter when he won a string of races, but he lost form badly in his next few outings only to come back to his best to win brilliantly at Oamaru and Wingatui. As the result of these efforts he was backed as a certainty for the Teschemaker Handicap at Timaru on Saturday, but he never once flattered his supporters. The successful southern apprentice W. F. Ellis has been engaged to ride The Raker in the N.Z. Cup, but the Croupier gelding will have to improve out of all inowledge on his latest per-formance to stand any chance at obliged and his success has now placed the Sydney sportsman on the right side of the ledger.

Reports from Melbourne indicate that Gold Salute was very unlucky to suffer defeat in the Windsor Handicap on Saturday. He was left a street and then ran that brilliant mare Aurie's Star to a length and

Gold Salute's next race will be in the Cantala Stakes at the Melbourne Cup meeting and, on his most recent form, it looks as if the Lord Warden gelding is going to be the hardest

SPOILS TO THE VICTORS

NEW ZEALAND hopes were dashed when Tidal Wave failed in the A.J.C. Derby, but the spring racing in Australia has served to emphasise the merit of New Zealand-bred stock and the successes achieved by our products is sure to be reflected in the interest taken in the next National Yearling Sales.

Beaulivre set the fashion by following up a narrow defeat in the win. Gold Salute and Pinero also did well at the meeting, but Beau Vite was the star, walking off with the Colin Stephen Stakes, the Metro-politan Handicap and the Craven Plate. His rake-off in stakes at the meeting aggregated nearly £6000. New Zealand successes have con-tinued at Florington and with tinued at Flemington and, with Beau Vite, Beaulivre, High Caste, Gladynev, Gold Salute, Tidal Wave and others in good nick, the Melbourne Cup meeting should see the local products again well in the limelight. AN OVERDUE SUCCESS

TIDAL WAVE, winner of the Rose-hill Guinea and other races in Australia, was the first of the prog-eny of the Okawa Stud sire Tide-race to get on the winning list, but the Fairway horse was credited Talenta, who opened her winning account in the Trial Stakes at Stratford and, while Talenta did not beat a very strong field, it looks as if this three-year-old will be heard from at an early date.

Doreen, who later won the Winter Cup. Talari is a grand-daughter of the All Black Mare D'Oro, and an own sister to Desert Gold and the judge more than once.

Thursday's racing at Opaki produced another two year-old win ner in the Leighon filly Soutane, while El Maadi (by Vermeer) came home at tall odds at Stratford on Saturday. Therefore, the ten two-year-old races so far decided this season have brought to light as many winners.

The Wellington meeting this week, however, may do much to clarify the two-year-old position.
The clash between Saint Tor, Pay The clash between Saint 10r, Pay Roll, Foreign Coin, Cambria, Par Avion, 'Soutane and Tetratina should invest the Wellesley Stakes with wide interest, for all are winners. As well, Erin's Court, Prince Plato, River Plate and Dungloe have been placed.

It is a pity that have been placed.

It is a pity that the southern twoyear-old winners Silver Lily and Salutation will not be on hand to test the northern hopes, but Trentham should sift out something to do battle with them in the C.J.C.
Welcome Stakes next month.

NAPIER PROGRAMME HAWKE'S BAY owners and trainers' attention is now directed to the programme for the Napier due with Miss I. I. Fippard, Napier, on Wednesday week, October 30.

The Napier Park programme caters for all classes of horses, and fancy.

Gold Salute gave his new owner very little in return last season and he dropped right out of the news until he came to light with a brill liant win at Randwick the other day. Mr Cooper had thrown in for a good win at substantial odds and he played up his winnings courageously in the Toorak Handicap at Flemington. Once more Gold Salute jobliged and his success has now placed the Sydney sportsman on caters for all classes of horses, and for the open class gallopers there is a ten furlongs race the first day and one of nine furlongs the second day. There are also two open sprints run over six furlongs. Hack hurdlers are catered for maiden races, the event the second day allowing the first day's maiden winner to start, with a 10lbs pendity. There are two half mile two-year-old races on the programme. year-old races on the programme There are two hack sprints and two hack races over a mile, the second day's event being for apprentice riders had a run of bad luck in recent years, but racing seems to be on the improve at present in the 'Bay and the Napier club should enjoy some of the profits of the turn of the tide. The club certainly deserves the fullest support of owners and trainers in the province.

The Beau Pere mare picked up the pace-makers Vascones and Trebor half way down the running and won in a canter. AUCKLAND, Oct. 21.

If Beau Vite should win the Melbourne Cup bookmakers throughout Australia will be faced with the worst settling in five years on the two cups double. In an Australian-wide plunge which caught the ring napping, Beaulivre and Beau Vite were coupled for nearly £100,000 in the last two days, says the Sydney "Sunday Sun."

The commission was launched late on Thursday afternoon, when Beaulivre, having drawn the rail, became a certain starter in the Caulfield Cup. Wagering was continued on Friday and the weight of money became so great that bookmakers were endeavouring to reduce their liabilities in Melbourne, but the fielders there had been caught napping just as badly.

Beaulivre and Maikai were supported to win £25,000 but the men behind the Beaulivre plunge were so certain that Beau Vite would fulfil his part that they did not look for extensive "insurance" after the last race at Elemington vesterday.

Baroness la Fleche by Ladas 1—La Fleche by St. Simon 11.

LANG BIAN is a particularly handsome horse and closely resembles his famous sire. He was a good winner in the best class races in France.

MASSINE, Lang Blan's sire, was a high-class winner in France, and also beat the Derby winner Papyrus in the Ascot Gold Cup. He has twice headed the winning sires' list in France and he introduces a fresh strain of St. Simon blood through that great galloper La Camargo.

FOREST TRACK'S pedignee is well known. Not only is she by that great brood mare sire Tracery, but her third dam is that wonderful mare La Fleche, the third dam of Beau Pere and Gay Shield, two of the most successful sires in New Zealand in modern times.
