Was London Opposed To Intervention?

A CLASH OF OPINION

French Were Ready To Send Volunteers

BRITAIN DEMURRED

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received March 15, 9.30 p.m.)

LONDON, March 15.

In connection with reports that the British and French leaders differed over the Franco-British aid to Finland and that the plan discussed was abandoned on February 6, the Washington correspondent of the "New York Times" states that the French, according to reports, had one Polish and one French division ready to depart to Finland at a moment's notice.

It was proposed at a Paris conference that Mr Chamberlain attended that Britain supply a Canadian division. The French urged that these troops, with full equipment, be sent to Finland through Sweden, if possible, otherwise the British should convoy the expedition to Northern Finland and Russia in order to create a diversion.

Mr Chamberlain asked for several days to ponder the matter. After consultations in London, he informed the French that he was opposed to such direct intervention and thereupon agreed to encourage British and French volunteers to aid Finland and to send additional planes and military supplies to Finland as rapidly as possible.

Meanwhile, the French continued to hold a division in readiness. Professor Koht, Norwegian Foreign Minister, in a broadcast yesterday, said that Britain and France had asked Norway to allow the passage of troops to Finland on Tuesday last.

"The matter had then ceased to be topical," he said, "because peace talks were already in progress. Norway refused because the passage of Allied troops across Norway would produce German intervention."

Official circles in London, according to a British Official Wireless message, view with certain surprise the passage in Professor Koht's speech in which he declared that the Allies had only asked Norway whether she was prepared to allow their troops through when the Soviet-Finnish peace talks were already under way. At that time, therefore, the matter had ceased to be topical.

Purchasing Mission Gets Busy

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received March 15, 9.5 p.m.) WASHINGTON, March 15.

It is authoritatively stated that the Allied Purchasing Mission intends spending over one hundred million dollars in the United States for munitions and expanding munitions plants.

In addition to a loan of 1,427,000 dollars to the Atlas Powder Company to enable the construction of a T.N.T. plant, the French are negotiating the construction of a 25,000,000 dollar powder factory in the United States.

Officials welcome the expansion because the United States munitions-producing capacity has declined since the war.

A son of Mr and Mrs W. H. Educated at Belfast School and at Christchurch Technical College, Skidmore, who was 27, had some flying experience in Canterbury before he left New Zealand. It is understood that he had been engaged in night flying.

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received March 15, 7.10 p.m.) BERLIN, March 15.

The German official news agency says that Dr. Hacha, Czech Premier, has sent a telegram to Hitler on the occasion of the anniversary of the formation of the Protectorate, saying: "This day brings back to me the memory of my visit to your Excellency, when you showed such a full understanding of the needs of the Czech people."

"By taking us under the might and protection of the German Reich you have given us valuable advantages."

"To-day we are spared the terrors of war, although we are participating in it with the great German people. The Czech people hail the glorious German arms, which protect and defend them."

Hitler, replying, said: "I am glad that you remember our first meeting and also glad that we spared the Czech people the horrors of war. It is not the German Government's intention to impose on the Czechs any duties or burdens endangering their national existence. 'The victory which will follow our common struggle will bring peace and happiness not only to Germans but also to the Czech people.'"

Pilot Rescued When Machine Plummets Into Sea

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received March 15, 9.45 p.m.) NEW YORK, March 14.

A fight above the harbour between the pilot of a training plane and a passenger ended in the latter's death when the plane plummeted into the bay.

The pilot said that when over Brooklyn a passenger seized the dual control and threw the plane into a loop. He struck him on the head with a pair of pliers. The passenger apparently fell from the plane.

The pilot was rescued by a tug. The police believe that the passenger, who has been tentatively identified as a former theatrical press agent, was deliberating attempting to commit suicide, and instead was overcome with terror.

They expressed the opinion that the passenger hired the plane for that purpose.

Seaman's Bravery After Bombing

Young Cadet Who Attempted To Rescue Second Officer

Nine On Raft

Men Dropped Off Gradually Into Bitterly Cold Sea

British Official Wireless. (Received March 15, 9.10 p.m.) RUGBY, March 15.

Further information has become available of the courageous action of a young cadet of the Domola, the ship which was bombed and set on fire by Nazi aircraft in the English Channel on March 2.

A seventeen-year cadet named Duval, after it had been decided to abandon the ship, lowered a raft into the sea with nine other survivors, including the second officer. It was bitterly cold, with the sea breaking over the raft.

The men dropped off one by one until only Duval and the second officer were left. Duval clambered on to the raft and tried to drag the second officer with him, but the officer's weight was beyond Duval's strength and he took off the belt of his mackintosh, passed it round the officer and held him up until he himself lost consciousness.

Duval remained insensible until he found himself on board a warship over an hour later. The second officer was drowned.

Duval, who is still bandaged and limping from his injuries, expressed his intention to go to sea again as soon as he has recovered.

ELECTIONS IN VICTORIA

APATHY SHOWN BY PUBLIC

NO WAR ISSUE

Present Government In Strong Position

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received March 16, 0.10 a.m.) MELBOURNE, March 15.

After a vigorous State election campaign in which candidates were unable to whip up much public interest in State politics, the election takes place to-morrow for 65 seats in the Legislative Assembly.

As the State Parliaments exert little influence on the conduct of the war the issues involved are regarded publicly as of minor interest.

The indications are that the present regime, the Country Party Government, will be kept in office, with Labour support likely to continue.

This alliance can lose nine seats and still have a working majority. The voting for many seats will be close and in some the results will not be known for some days, depending on the allotment of preferences.

ISOLATION IS NO SURE PROTECTION TO NEW ZEALAND

Hon. F. Jones Points Out Dangers That Might Arise

GREAT WAR EPISODES

By Telegraph—Press Association. CHRISTCHURCH, March 15.

A warning that New Zealand was in a position of danger was given this evening by the Minister of Defence (the Hon. F. Jones) at a recruiting rally.

"Some say that our isolation gives us protection," said the Minister. "Are we safe? We know that in the last war mines were laid round this coast by a raider. What happened in the last war can happen in this war. We are in a position of danger, especially to our shipping and our own people."

Some also said: "Why can't New Zealand keep out of the war?" Britain was the best customer for the Dominion's products. What would happen to our products if New Zealand took up the stand not to assist Britain?

"Britain," he added, "has promised to do all she possibly can if we are attacked from the east to see that we are adequately protected. The people of this country have to realize that we are being helped and all that that means."

PLEDGES WILL BE REVEALED

Important Speech By Mr Chamberlain Awaited

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received March 16, 0.10 a.m.) LONDON, March 15.

Unusual interest is being taken in the Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain's war review in the House of Commons on March 19.

The "Daily Mail" says that Mr Chamberlain will reveal the secret pledges given to Sweden and Norway two months ago. Both were told that they could depend upon Allied support if, as a consequence of helping Finland, they became involved in war with Germany or Russia. Britain and France made it clear that they regarded the integrity of Finland as an issue of European importance, but the Scandinavian countries did nothing.

President Kallio of Finland declared to-day that a defensive alliance with Norway and Sweden was inescapably necessary. An Oslo message says that Professor Koht, Norwegian Foreign Minister, stated that his Government had replied in the affirmative to Finland's question whether it would consider the possibility of a defensive alliance between Norway, Finland and Sweden.

At Stockholm, the Foreign Office stated that Sweden had agreed to join the triple alliance. It is reported that a military and diplomatic conference of the three Powers will be summoned as soon as Finland has settled her new frontiers and signed the final peace documents.

Scandinavia is by no means unanimous regarding the proposed ready given £30,000,000 in addition to £12,000,000 worth of arms. She has now granted a credit for £18,000,000.

The seriousness of the military situation of the Finns is gradually becoming known. It is increasingly apparent that Finland had no alternative but to make peace. It is understood that 15,000 soldiers were seriously injured in February alone, in addition to the 15,000 dead mentioned by Field-Marshal von Mannerheim in his last order of the day.

The Russians made such progress across the ice that the coastal batteries east of Helsingfors actually went into action. Snow, for which everybody in Finland had been praying, began to fall to-day, too late to save the country.

The economic consequences of the peace terms are serious. Twenty per cent. of Finland's exports went from Wipuri, and 10 per cent. from Hanko. Both of these ports now go to the Russians. The Russians will also take over a large number of important wood-pulp factories and sawmills.

EXODUS BEGINS

A hundred thousand men, women and children have started by foot, cart, lorry and train to cross new boundaries to strange homes in what remains of the fatherland. Their homes are now in Russia, but none wished to live under Bolshevik rule. They took cattle, pigs, horses and such belongings as they could gather.

The Government faces the tremendous task of attempting to move as much property as possible and find new permanent homes and livelihoods for 470,000 evacuees from the ceded areas. Most are already evacuated owing to the war. A further 140,000 evacuees must return to homes which are bomb damaged and must be repaired. Sixty thousand cattle must also be moved from Ladoga and the Isthmus.

M. Koiwisto, the Minister in charge of organising the evacuation, said that the Government will try to keep neighbours and communities together, but grave social problems are ahead. All available rolling stock is going to south-east Finland. All cars have been requisitioned and all drivers have been called up. The army moves back 43 miles daily.

President Kallio, in a five-minute broadcast, said that Finland had had to fight her battle alone. He paid a tribute to the army's great fight against overwhelming odds, and said that Finland must now devote herself to reconstruction, "in which we hope for the support of civilised nations, but, above all, we must rely on ourselves."

He concluded by expressing the hope that Finland would achieve final peace and prosperity.

NAZIS SEE DIFFICULTY IN RUMANIA

The Negotiations With Soviet

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received March 15, 2.20 p.m.) LONDON, March 14.

Encouraged by their own estimates of the Allies' diplomatic setback resulting from Finland's defeat, Nazi spokesmen, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Associated Press of Great Britain, are hinting at another disappointment for Britain and France due to a reported impending Russian-Rumanian accord, to which secret negotiations in Berlin are leading.

Both Nazi officials and Rumanian Legation officials in Berlin suggest that the whole complexion of the international situation may change before next week.

In the meantime Italian participation in economic diplomacy has intensified. German sources report that negotiations for a trade agreement between Russia and Italy are nearing conclusion, while, according to the Rome radio, a treaty dealing with Rumanian oil exports to Italy is being signed shortly, whereupon a second Italian delegation is going to Bucharest to negotiate a trade agreement replacing the present pact.

CONSERVATION OF EXCHANGE

NEW RESTRICTION IN BRITAIN

BOTTLED FRUIT

Licence Necessary For Importation

British Official Wireless. (Received March 15, 7.30 p.m.) RUGBY, March 15.

Owing to the very large stocks now held in Britain of canned and bottled fruits, an order has been made adding them to the list of goods the importation of which requires a licence.

There had been a very substantial increase in the imports of such fruits in the first eight months of 1939, largely from the United States, since when importations have increased on a considerable scale.

The purpose of the order, as it has been with other similar orders, is partly to conserve foreign exchange and tonnage and to enable the Government to make the best use of those two important factors in the interests of war requirements.

IMPLICIT FAITH IN R.A.F.

LONDONERS FEEL SECURE

FINE TRIBUTE

By Telegraph—Press Association. AUCKLAND, March 15.

"In a war of nerves, Britain is bound to win," said Mr Clifford Hay, the retiring Agent-General for New South Wales in London, in an interview to-day. He is returning to Australia to become president of the Superannuation Boards of New South Wales.

He paid a fine tribute to the spirit of Londoners under the stress of war. "They displayed no fear of the vast invasion that threatened in March or April," he said. "This attitude was engendered by implicit confidence in the Air Force and its ability to deal with any contingency that may arise."

"Although it would be revealing secrets to state the dispositions of the vast air defences and fighter units, it is sufficient to say that England is ready and has no fear of a surprise attack by the enemy."

CANADA'S SUPPORT IS WHOLEHEARTED

Conscription Unnecessary And Unlikely

REVIEW OF WAR EFFORT

By Telegraph—Press Association. AUCKLAND, March 15.

"As in England, there is little band-playing or flag-waving in Canada, but there have been far more voluntary enlistments than can be handled," said Mr C. F. Crandall, president of the British United Press, of Montreal, who is a through passenger by the Monterey for Sydney.

Several regiments had been mobilised, but were disbanded for the time being because Britain did not need them and Canada was hard-pressed to train troops in the winter.

A dominant factor in Canadian politics was that the Government had been called upon to defend itself from attacks by Conservatives, who had received some support in their criticism from members of the Liberal Party in Ontario and Quebec, where the population was predominantly French.

The people were wholeheartedly interested in this war because the liberties, both civil and religious, were threatened by Germany and Russia. Canadians would not favour conscription and probably it would not be introduced.

"YES, MY DARLING DAUGHTER"

Fine Comedy Cast In A Gay Story

Boasting one of the greatest comedy casts ever assembled, "Yes, My Darling Daughter," the Warner Bros. screen adaptation of the successful New York stage comedy of the same title will open today at the Regent Theatre, Hastings.

In the romantic leads are those two charming youngsters, Priscilla Lane and Jeffrey Lynn who were such a heart warming pair of young lovers in the memorable "Four Daughters." Their romance again travels a rocky road, but this time there is no tragedy about it. In fact, it's the nucleus out of which all the amusing complications of the hilarious story evolve.

The more mature members of the cast have the delightful task of furnishing most of the laughs, and a mere recital of their names is sufficient guarantee that this task is well performed, for they include such past masters of the art of comedy as Roland Young, May Robson, Fay Bainter, Genevieve Tobin and Ian Hunter.

The screen play written by Casey Robinson and directed by William Keighley, is faithful in spirit to the stage original by Mark Reed. As a matter of fact, it is actually a satire on people who have "advanced" views on marriage.

Such such are Priscilla and Jeffrey, who plan to run away to be alone together. Everyone in Priscilla's household except her father, who isn't at home, finds out about the young couple's intentions. Meanwhile, the youngsters, alone at last and very embarrassed, decided it would really be much more sophisticated if they returned as though nothing extraordinary had happened. They return to Priscilla's home where Jeffrey learns that the whole family knew of his and Priscilla's plan. He is so shocked and indignant that he tells them he wants to have nothing more to do with such a family. He walks out; he's on his way to Belgium.

Priscilla, however, decides that a hasty marriage is better than no Jeffrey and she's waiting in his cabin with a marriage licence when he reaches the boat.

A ROMANTIC COMEDY "ETERNALLY YOURS"

With David Niven And Loretta Young

Loretta Young and David Niven, co-starring in "Eternally Yours," have the most unique screen roles either has ever played. Miss Young in the realm of legend, accomplishes the bizarre task of appearing and disappearing at the merest behest of "The Great Arturo," played by David Niven. Under his hypnotic spell she kisses him, despite the fact that in reality she is despising mad at him.

After a protracted period of intensive instruction under one of the country's leading magicians, Paul de Paul, Niven became surprisingly adroit in performing the many tricks and illusions called for in this Walter Wanger romantic comedy, which is now showing at the State Theatre, Hastings.

Niven's feats vary from "creating" Miss Young out of bottled chemicals to freeing himself from handcuffs during a 15,000 foot parachute jump and landing successfully. Not the least among his tricks is that of hypnotising "Herman" the pet rabbit in the picture.

However, despite "The Great Arturo's" hypnotic power, his sleight-of-hand and his ability to foretell the future, he is unable to make mysterious women's lipstick disappear from his collars and when Miss Young, as his wife, finally reaches the limit of her tolerance and leaves him, he is unable to find her.

All-star support is brought to the production by Hugh Herbert, valet and confidant of Arturo; C. Aubrey Smith, a tolerant heman bishop; Virginia Field, a magician's assistant who has been round and around; Broderick Crawford, a too-perfect suitor of Miss Young's; Raymond Walburn, a financier whose bridal party almost starts a riot; Zasu Pitts, who flutters in and out creating impossible situations that only Arturo can remedy; and Billie Burke, as delightfully scatter-brained as ever.

Many of the most ingenious devices known to theatrical magic were used during the filming of "Eternally Yours." The most eerie of the magic aids were built for the production by Lloyd Thayer, Los Angeles scientist, and known throughout the realm of legend as the premier designer of games played in the Waipawa Tennis Club competitions, the finals of which will be disposed of during the week-end.

"DEAD MAN'S SHOES" FINE DRAMA

Gay Musical Comedy "She Married A Cop"

An entirely novel twist to the theme of mistaken identity raises "Dead Man's Shoes," which is now showing at the Cosy Theatre, Hastings, into a class of its own. The chief protagonists are Leslie Banks and Wilfrid Lawson, both of them players from the top flight. Those who imagine the theme outworn should see this as a reminder that it is still possible to dramatise new situations in a blyssed 20th century.

Banks, amnesia victim of the war, has been "reconstructed" by friends who recognise him from news photos. He is a successful, respected, happily married citizen when members of the Paris underworld claim him as an old confederate. The blacked-out memory of his former life begins to stir and he is assailed by the most horrible doubts as to his real identity. Wilfrid Lawson, latest British pilgrim to Hollywood, is the smooth black-mailer who brings Banks's doubts to the all-important crisis.

There is a real treat in store for admirers—and their number is legion—of that popular couple Jean Parker and Phil Regan, in the second feature, "She Married a Cop." Jean has never been more charming, nor Phil in better voice, than in this film, which begins with

Regan is seen as a light-hearted cop, who is unsuspectingly lured into service in an animated cartoon studio as the sound track voice of "Paddy, the Pig." "ST. LOUIS BLUES" A GAY MUSICAL

With George O'Brien In Fine Western

A Mississippi River showboat forms the romantic setting for Paramount's new drama with music, "St. Louis Blues," a story based on one of the world's best-loved songs, is now showing at the Mayfair Theatre, Napier.

With Dorothy Lamour, Lloyd Nolan, Tito Guizar, Mary "Punkins" Parker, and Maxine Sullivan playing the top roles, "St. Louis Blues" recounts the tale of a gorgeous entertainer who rebels against her manager's insistence that she always pose as a South Seas native and finds sanctuary — and love — on a picturesque showboat.

The new hit songs featured in the picture include: "I Go For That," "Kind a Lonesome," "Blue Nightfall" and "Let's Dream in the Moonlight."

Abounding in thrills, excitement and adventure, and with a story that arrests attention until the final fade-out, "The Fighting Gringo," commences today at the Mayfair with George O'Brien starring. This is a tale of a young Westerner at the head of a band of vagabonds, who make their living by hiring out their guns, but who always manage to be on the right side of the law.

O'Brien's portrayal is excellent, and Lupita Tovar, as the senorita, is clever and pleasing to the eye. Lucio Villegas, LeRoy Mason, Mary Field, Slim Whitaker, William Royle, Glen Strange and other members of the cast give notable performances. Completing the programme is Chapter 13 of the serial, "The Lone Ranger Rides Again."

HILARIOUS COMEDY SUCCESS

"The Housekeeper's Daughter"

Joan Bennett, who has become even more alluring as a dark-tressed glamour girl, is cast in a light comedy role as the heroine of Hal Roach's new screen romance, "The Housekeeper's Daughter," which commences a short season to-day at the State Theatre, Napier, through United Artists release.

Miss Bennett is co-starred with Adolphe Menjou in the new production and their supporting cast reads like a galaxy of Hollywood's best-known celebrities. Heading this group are handsome John Hubbard, one of the screen's newest discoveries, who gets his first big chance in "The Housekeeper's Daughter," as Miss Bennett's heart interest; Peggy Moran, playing the role of Miss Bennett's mother, the comely housekeeper in the wealthy Randall family; Victor Mature, in the role of Joan's ex-boy friend; George E. Stone, portraying a pathetically incurable homicidal Donald Meek, cast as the managing editor of a metropolitan daily; Lillian Bond, who appears briefly as a famed Broadway butterfly; and William Gargan in the role of a screwy news photographer. Other well-knowns in the cast include John Hyams, Leila McIntyre, Luis Alberni, Rosina Galli, Tom Dugan, Marc Lawrence, and Gene Morgan.

The story of "The Housekeeper's Daughter" concerns the mad happenings which take place in the swanky home of the socially prominent Randalls when the son of the family falls in love with alluring Hilda, the housekeeper's daughter, and becomes involved in the mysterious murder of Gladys Fontaine, the Broadway actress. Robert Randall, played by John Hubbard, remains in town for the summer, while his family is sojourning at a glittering sea resort, and almost single-handed breaks open the crime. But not before his fashionable house is overtaken by a mob of gangsters and newspaper men.

With romance and crime marching side by side, a hilarious climax is provided in a big fireworks scene when a gang of underworld hoodlums, who invade the house where Joan Bennett is staying, is put to flight by Adolphe Menjou with the aid of a barrage of fireworks.

Bluff Hill teams to play the Napier Bowling Club this afternoon are as follows: Bluff Hill Green Henderson, Walter, McGlashan, La Roche. W. L. Dunn, Fleming, Cunningham, Holt. Greig, Bedford, Surgenor, Dunsford. Gifford, Cox, Burnley, H. P. Newton. McKenzie, Horte, Letham, Somerset Smith.

COMPPELLING DRAMA SCREENING

Western Adventure On Same Programme

With Tommy Ryan playing the title role and starring Bruce Cabot and Ralph Byrd, "Mickey the Kid," now at the Municipal Theatre, Hastings, deals dramatically with the efforts of a wife to overcome the stigma of his father's reputation.

Jim Larch holds up a bank and kills the teller in his escape. He sends his son Mickey off to the country to live with his grandmother until the trouble blows over.

When Larch comes to take Mickey away with him Mickey is reluctant to leave his grandmother, but he is forced to obey his father. In an attempt to escape, Larch holds up a bus full of school children and evicts the driver; from here an unusual ending makes for dramatic entertainment.

On the same programme is a thrilling western adventure, featuring Charles Starrett.

Unable to pay her dues, Ann Bradford (Iris Meredith), owner of the Circle C, decides to auction off a half interest in her ranch. Matt Stark (Dick Curtis), a crooked land dealer, holds Ann's notes. His efforts to buy the ranch have been refused and he instructs his lieutenant, Barlow (Eddie Gicis), and other henchmen to make sure nobody bids on the property.

Clint Buckley (Charles Starrett), a bullet whistles past their heads, and Ann take refuge behind the rocks. While he holds off the attackers, the girl rises to help. The remainder of the story climaxes in a thrilling action climax.

When, on the road to Circle C, a bullet whistles past their heads, Clint and Ann take refuge behind the rocks. While he holds off the attackers, the girl rises to help. The remainder of the story climaxes in a thrilling action climax.

25 YEARS IN ST. MARY'S HOME

INTERESTING TALK IN HASTINGS MONTHLY MEETING

Nurses' Christian Union

Sister M. Carter, matron of St. Mary's Home, Napier, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Hastings branch of the Nurses' Christian Union yesterday afternoon.

In a very interesting talk she traced the growth of St. Mary's Home from the time when she was asked by Bishop Sedgewick to open a church home for mothers and convalescent home for babes up to the age of three years.

The home was started in a portion of a training school for deaconesses, and after five years the home had so increased that it was necessary to find another place. She then removed to a fair-sized dwelling on the present site of the home in Burlington Road, Napier.

At the end of another five years it was necessary to find further accommodation, and so for the next year they moved elsewhere, while the home in Burlington Road was being completely renovated and added to, comfortably housing the ever-increasing number.

The additions to the home were partly in brick, these having been planned by Sister Carter and her assistant, Miss Willis, who has now been with her for 18 years.

So things continued until 1931, with the new home in perfectly-running condition, with 23 babes and 14 mothers.

When the great earthquake came to shake the old wooden part of the building and test the strength of the new brick wings, they came to no harm.

'Quake Time.
 After three days on verandahs it was decided that the whole personnel of the home would have to leave Napier, so they removed to a Church home in Palmerston North. Here they stayed three months until the Napier home was ready once more. The wooden part was replaced with brick wings to correspond with the former renovations, and so St. Mary's stands to-day, a lovely modern brick building on the hill—an ideal home for mothers and children, the realisation of an ideal envisaged by a churchwoman, who, 25 years ago, felt the urge to help humanity in a large way. The result of her offer, her great-heartedness to which many Hawke's Bay mothers will testify, have based this Church home for mothers on a footing which promised well for the future.

Modern Chapel
 In the early days, said Sister Carter, the home had room set apart entirely for church services, but with the renovations after the 'quake a modern chapel was built, so that now they had a beautiful chapel in which a service was held each morning for patients and staff, and a 10-minute evening service after the babes were settled. Canon Hodge is the chaplain and conducts a weekly Communion service. The chapel has seen several confirmation services, a wedding, and many christenings.

Threatened by the Social Security Scheme, St. Mary's Home will still continue, but will take only convalescent children up to the age of five years, and no mothers. Mothers will enter the maternity homes operating in conjunction with the scheme.

After many years of great service to women, Sister Carter intends in the near future to resign her position in the home. Until the end of April Sister Carter, Miss Willis and Miss Olive Williams will continue to run the home until the new staff takes over under the new conditions.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker at the close of her talk, and she was presented with a dainty shoulder spray by the president, Mrs. C. M. Haggitt.

A presentation of a large Centennial flower jug was made to Mrs. R. Halstead, the outgoing secretary, for her work during the past year. Afternoon tea brought an enjoyable afternoon to a close.

THE BONELESS WONDER OF 1940

It's not a matter of bones when figures sag, but of muscles weakening. And to make the torso taut and supple again demands not boning, but something that will stretch and flex like muscles.

... Which is just what Skintex Fabric Boning does! It is muscular control—without bones. Paris discovered it. Soon London had it. Then New York. It rocked the whole fashion world! Control without bones!

Into a powerful stretch-fabric, bands of delayed-stretch are woven. Firm as bones. Supple as muscles. It is actually as though you were given a new set of muscles... of extraordinary resilience.

You can have your Skintex dull, gleaming or twinkling with stars; but don't be misled by those lovely looks. That silk yarn is 300% stronger than in regular corset fabric. So powerful, large figures have Skintex with practically no boning; for mediums, there are no bones about Skintex at all.

Whatever your size, see about your Berlei Skintex today and discover good figures are made, not born!

An Event In The Film World

In these America, where even the corner newsboys can't be fooled on the merits of a motion picture, "big shot" executives of the industry, movie stars of the first magnitude and sophisticated film fans are considerably excited over "THE HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME."

A Swift Rise To Stardom

Rex Harrison, who was the newspaper reporter in "Storm in a Teacup," co-starring with Vivian Leigh, will shortly be seen opposite Merle Oberon in Alexander Korda's "OVER THE MOON."

GLORIA JEAN MAKES HER DEBUT

She came, she sang and she conquered! Trying to sing soprano after Deanna Durbin and right on Deanna's home grounds at that, would seem to be a pretty big job for a little girl eleven years old.

C. Aubrey Smith and Loretta Young, who, with David Niven, appear in the modern comedy-romance "Eternally Yours," to commence its Napier season at the State Theatre next Friday.

Fay Bainter and Priscilla Lane in a scene from the gay comedy, "Yes My Darling Daughter," which will open to-day at the Regent Theatre, Hastings; with Jeffrey Lynn and Roland Young also featured.

COMMENT ON THE FILMS

A sparkling modern, fast paced story of a young couple who agree to run away together, is told in "YES, MY DARLING DAUGHTER," featuring Priscilla Lane and Jeffrey Lynn of "Four Daughters" fame.

David Niven and Loretta Young co-star in "ETERNALLY YOURS," the bright comedy relating the misunderstandings between a world-famous magician and his beautiful wife.

In gripping fashion a talented cast of English players depict the roles in "DEAD MAN'S SHOES," the story of an amnesia victim of the war whose past is recreated for him by blackmailers.

A singing policeman who is unwittingly induced to vocalise for a cartoon is the central figure in "THE WITNESS VANISHES," Jean Parker and Phil Regan head the cast.

Combining the spirit of youth, romance and comedy, "BROTHER RAT" relates an hilarious story of life at an American military school. Priscilla Lane and Wayne Morris head the cast.

The amusing and dramatic happenings in a millionaire's mansion when the son of the family becomes involved in a murder are related in the gay comedy "THE HOUSE-KEEPER'S DAUGHTER," featuring Joan Bennett.

Selected by the "Crime Club" as one of the four most outstanding mystery stories, "THE WITNESS VANISHES" justifies its choice by its baffling situations and fast pace.

"My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Black Joe" and other immortal Stephen Foster melodies, sung by the famous Hall Johnson choir, provide the highlights of "MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME."

The six year old skating sensation Irene Dare is featured in "EVERYTHING'S ON ICE," which deals in entertaining fashion with the favourite winter sport.

The power of anonymous letters is demonstrated in "POISON PEN," a story of a quaint English village in which the least breath of scandal finds a ready ear. The drama is lightened with touches of bright comedy.

Eleanor Holm, Olympic swimming champion, and Glenn Morris, an athlete who holds several world's records, have the starring roles in the latest Tarzan thriller, "TARZAN'S REVENGE."

Leading Western star of the present day, George O'Brien has one of the finest roles of his career in the thrill packed adventure drama "MARSHAL OF MESA CITY."

George Formby, a comedian who has leapt to the forefront of popularity in a short time, provides a particularly hilarious performance in "I SEE ICE."

The goggle-eyed comedian Eddie Cantor sets out to reform the luxurious splendour of Baghdad in the musical extravaganza "ALI BABA GOES TO TOWN." However, such schemes as a harem-reduction programme lead him into more trouble than he had bargained for.

HILARIOUS FORMBY COMEDY

In his latest epic, "COME ON, GEORGE," lovable George Formby is a goofy lad with an ambition to become a great jockey. The story, packed with hilarious incidental comedy, shows how he achieved this by being blissfully unaware that the horse he is friendly with has killed more jockeys than old age.

When he finds out the truth and becomes terror-stricken, the trainer has him "psycho-analysed" so that he will not know the meaning of fear. Unfortunately the effect of the psycho-analysis wears off just before the race and George has to go through with it.

Charles Starrett, popular Western player, meets with plenty of action and adventure in "CALL OF THE ROCKIES," a grand story of the outdoors.

Gloria Jean is the sensational new little singing star who makes her debut in "The Underpup," which is the Easter attraction at the Regent Theatre, Napier. Nan Grey is featured in the supporting cast.

CLASS A CREDIT TO PROVINCE

LIGHTWEIGHT BEEF CHAMPIONSHIPS

SHOW JUDGING

Judge's Comments On The Entries

"The whole class is a credit to the province," commented the judge (Mr M. A. MacLeod, Feilding), referring to the light-weight entries in the Hawke's Bay Chilled Beef Championship yesterday.

The first place in this class went to Mr D. G. Grant, and the second to Mr B. E. O. Nilsson.

Of these two entries Mr MacLeod remarked: "The first is a good specimen of the Polled Angus breed. It is very suitable for the chilled beef trade; it could, perhaps, be a little lower to the ground. The second ran the first very close. All the rest of the placed animals were very even, with not a great deal between them."

Of the heavy-weight section Mr MacLeod remarked that it was, on the whole, a very good class. First place went to Mr D. G. Grant, and second to Mr B. E. O. Nilsson.

"Both first and second entries are very nicely meated, light boned, and low set," Mr MacLeod said. "The second might be a shade heavy in the front, but rest were very suitable for chilling, though one or two were rather heavy in the shoulder."

Results were:— LIGHTWEIGHT CLASS For steers up to and including 1200 lbs live weight. D. G. Grant, Aberdeen Angus .. 1 C. E. O. Nilsson, Aberdeen Angus .. 2 Tautane Stud, Ltd., Aberdeen Angus .. 3

HEAVY-WEIGHT CLASS For steers 1201lb live weight and over. D. G. Grant, Aberdeen Angus .. 1 T. White .. 2 W. Sisson, Polled Hereford .. 3 H. Simmonds, Polled Angus .. 4 Estate Mrs L. S. Holden, Hereford .. 5 W. Sisson, Polled Hereford .. 5 W. R. Maxwell, Hereford-Aberdeen Angus cross .. 7 O. C. B. Clarkson, Aberdeen Angus .. 8 E. G. Nilsson, Aberdeen Angus .. 9 D. J. Holden, Shorthorn-Aberdeen Angus cross .. 10

The demand for ewes was somewhat erratic but the quality was not outstanding and they sold accordingly. Wethers are still in keen demand, and only small lots are coming forward, these being quickly snapped up. Lambs big and small are in demand and these are being bought by small local farmers. The following is a summary of prices.

Medium 2th ewes 24/6 to 25/7, small 20/3, 5yr ewes 16/3 to 19/3, good mouths; fattening ewes 8/6 to 12/9, shorn wether lambs, good 14/6 to 17/4, medium lots 11/12 to 13/4, small wether lambs 7/6 to 9/4, medium quality ewe lambs 14/4 to 16/7, small 11/6 to 13/4, 2th wethers 17/4 to 18/6, fat ewes 15/4 to 16/6. Report On Market At Hastings

Messrs. Gordon Walker Ltd. report holding their weekly market sale of live and dead stock at their Russell Street salesyards yesterday. The sale was in the nature of an off day and the attendance still proves that Saturday is the farmers' day for selling their live stock and produce.

The porker and baconer market was exceptionally brisk and all lines sold readily at rates above schedule. A good entry of fruit and produce sold at prices satisfactory to vendors.

Urgent Need Introducing Mr Hamilton, the Mayor (Mr C. G. E. Harker) said that the object of his visit was to point out the urgent necessity of mobilising the whole of the country's resources to assure the utmost contribution to the Empire's war effort. He assured the visitor that the young men of the district had responded loyally and that the people of Waipukurau as a whole were contributing willingly to the demands of the situation.

Prisoner Still at Large The police in Hastings and Napier are still keeping a close watch on all roads in the district in the endeavour to catch the escaped prisoner, Raymond Stanley Hill, who was suspected to have been seen near Eskdale at an early hour on Tuesday morning. As a result of investigations and information received from people who knew Hill, the police are satisfied that the prisoner is still in the vicinity of Napier and Hastings. The search is being continued vigilantly.

"BIG TASK LIES AHEAD"

RECRUITING RALLY AT WAIPUKURAU

"GET IN AND WIN"

Hon. Adam Hamilton's Advice WAIPUKURAU. It was not for us to ask why there was a war; it was for us to get in and win it, said the Leader of the Opposition (the Hon. Adam Hamilton), in the course of a recruiting rally at Waipukurau on Thursday night. The audience was rather small, most being elderly, and many returned soldiers.

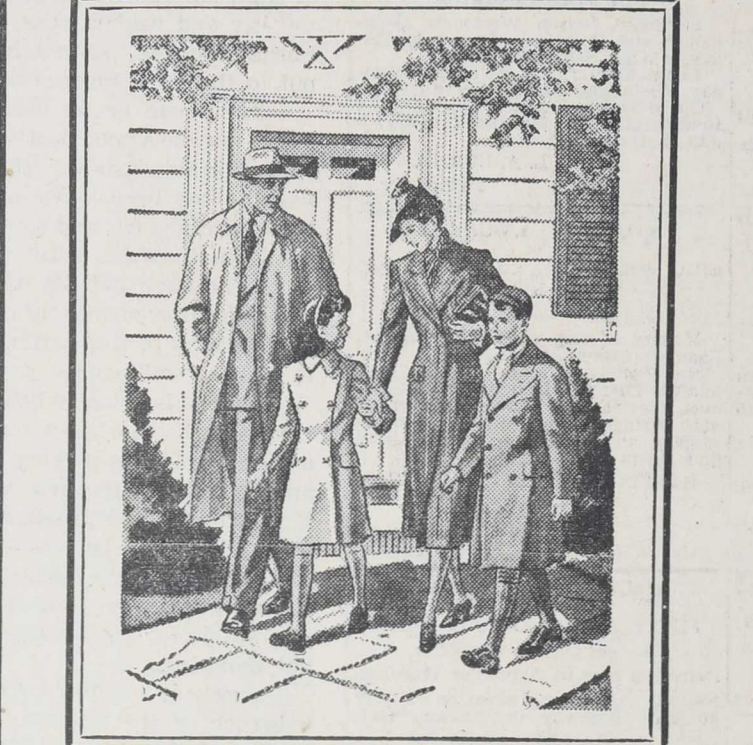

Mr Hamilton gave the New Zealand Government credit for being one of the first, if not the first, of the Dominion Governments to align itself with the Mother Country. Now it was not a question of "fight or farm." We had to do both, and an important part of the task was the keeping up of reinforcements for the New Zealand Division overseas. That would require about 2000 men a month.

That was a big order, but it would never do to let the men who were going away feel there was not that support behind them. Young men need have no doubts; it was a noble thing to fight for one's country.

Production Another important factor was the keeping up of production. The speaker believed that that could be done if we put our backs into it. New Zealanders had a reputation to uphold—a reputation that had been the pride of our people and the envy of most others in the last war. Here he quoted a glowing testimony from Major-General Templer, a British officer who had fought with the New Zealanders in the last war.

"Unless we maintain our heritage, it is likely to be lost," Mr Hamilton pursued. "It is to be maintained by those same virtues of determination, courage and self-sacrifice by which it was built up." He was later often asked, "Why not conscription?" "The answer," he said, "is the fairest way, but he asked young men not to wait. He asked each to recognise his own duty and do it now. That may be a hard spirit, but it was one he believed would win through. When one gave, another would give.

Endurance Endurance was needed, but to endure a war was not enough to win it. What was needed above all else was the ardour of the fighting man. Had we anything worth fighting for? Mr Hill asked. Did not every one realise that to maintain our standard of life we had to fight for it? No man in his senses could believe that the fall of Britain would not entail the fall of this country.

Our Greatest Enemy

Sir,—Who is our greatest enemy—the Germans or ourselves? Ourselves, of course. Are we not decimating our population to an alarming degree?

Dr. Eric Stubbs in an address delivered at the Rotary conference held at Palmerston North recently, on the dangers of our decreasing birth rate said: "A modern cynic has remarked that there is no such animal as the 'in-lining man' but Dr. Stubbs' references to the decreasing birth rate is disturbing enough to awaken the thinking people. The arrogance of birth control agencies does not reflect very admirably in the light of the statement that New Zealand is facing a major crisis within its shores."

Whether as arising from invincible optimism or from a sheer disinclination to consider the facts, it is striking that in this country and far to the east of our shores, the vitally patriotic question of an adequate population is one that is most consistently sidetracked. Other nations, however, can see the importance of the matter. To many of these outsiders the term "fool's paradise" is not wholly inappropriate to the complacent optimism with which New Zealanders view their national position.

While populous and powerful nations are clamouring for wider breathing spaces and for lands capable of supplying raw materials, New Zealand is one among those Empire countries in which there are vast resources untapped for lack of population.

According to Dr. Halliday Sutherland the white population of the British Empire is only 70 millions. In the light of birth statistics relating to the Empire as a whole it is clear that we are a dying race. Why not stand the abolitionist and the enemies within, against the tide of the declining of our race and avoid untold harm to the Empire?—I am, etc., JIM THE PENMAN.

A Shorter War?
Referring to the Russo-Finnish peace in the course of a recruiting address at Waipukurau, the Leader of the Opposition (the Hon. A. Hamilton) said that he did not agree that what had occurred was to the detriment of the Allied cause. He inclined to the opinion that it might have the effect of taking Russia out of the war picture, thus allowing Germany to be encircled and forced to fight alone. If that occurred, it might shorten the war.

Wonderful Response
"From what I can gather from statistics, the figures for recruiting are satisfactory up to date," the Hon. Adam Hamilton said at a recruiting rally in Waipukurau on Thursday night. "There has been a wonderful response under the volunteer system, and the Government is not at all worried about the position at present. However, it is necessary, if the volunteer system is to succeed—and being the Government policy it must succeed—to keep up the interest in it."

RUSH FOR SERVICE IN THE AIR FORCE

Eight Hundred Applicants From South Island

EVIDENCE OF KEENNESS

By Telegraph—Press Association
CHRISTCHURCH, March 15.

A total of 800 South Island men who have applied for selection as airman pilots, air observers, and air gunners in the Royal New Zealand Air Force, were interviewed by the selection committee which recently made a tour.

Commenting on the selection, the Minister of Defence (the Hon. F. Jones) said to-day that the type of men applying for entry to the air crew section of the Air Force continued to be high and that the selection committee was very well satisfied with those seen.

The probable extension of educational classes in mathematics was mentioned by the Minister. He was so well satisfied with the success of the present arrangements that he had felt for some time the advisability of drafting to preliminary classes in mathematics and science all the men who were to enter the ground training school at Levin as airman pilots, air observers, or air gunners.

In that way the earlier mathematical work would be consolidated and extended.

Gaps in knowledge would be filled up and the organisation at the ground training school would be simplified.

This extension was under consideration and an early decision would be made.

He had found, said Mr Jones, that many men were spending large sums of money to obtain private coaching and instruction in Air Force subjects so that they might reach pilot standard. They were being invited to do so by correspondence.

"I wish to emphasize that this is quite unnecessary, and that the Air Force classes or the correspondence school will provide all the instruction necessary at no cost to the man himself, if he has been selected for the Air Force and found to be physically fit."

The selection committee, consisting of Flight-Lieutenant A. C. McInnes (chairman), Mr E. Caradus (senior inspector of schools and director of educational services in the R.N.Z.A.F.) and Mr C. C. N. Johnston (of the personnel branch of the Air Department) had now completed its second round of visits to South Island towns.

Visits Paid

Visits were paid to Blenheim, Nelson, Dunedin, Invercargill and Christchurch, the men from other centres being notified to attend at one of these towns.

Interviews at Napier and Gisborne would be carried out just before Easter, and those at Auckland and Wellington in the month after Easter.

Mr Caradus had inspected the work being done in the various Air Force classes in the South Island and had reported his very favourable impression not only of the type of men, but of their keenness and enthusiasm, only equalled by that of their instructors, who were devoting themselves unsparringly to the work of fitting the men for the tasks which they would shortly have to do.

Regularly of attendance was remarkable, approximating to 100 per cent.

"NEW ZEALAND SCOTTISH"

Recruiting To Begin In Dominion

By Telegraph—Press Association.
WELLINGTON, March 15.

The offer of Scottish organisations to furnish a battalion for overseas service has not been accepted by the Government, but the Government has agreed to preserve the entity of the existing Scottish Company in the 27th Machine-Gun Battalion. The Government has also agreed that all those of Scottish birth or descent will be posted to the Otago and Southland Companies of the 26th Canterbury-Otago Battalion in the Third Echelon.

The combined Scottish associations, at a meeting last night, agreed to accept the offer of the Government, and invite all Scottish organisations throughout the Dominion to assist in recruiting for these companies.

It was also decided to request that the Glengarry be substituted for the slouch hat in these companies, and that they be recognised as the New Zealand Scottish. Furthermore, that New Zealand Scots who enlisted recently for the Third Echelon be drafted to the two companies specified as predominantly Scottish.

An Old Piece Of Machinery

WOODEN MILL GEARS

May Be Clue To Lost Colony

RECENT DISCOVERY

A set of wooden mill gears dug up in South Carolina may be "one of the oldest pieces of machinery in America," and possibly a clue to the lost colony of Roanoke Island, Professor B. W. Dedrick, authority on old American mills, said recently.

The gears, fashioned from Southern oak, were found by Mr W. L. Glover, an Orangeburg, S.C. banker, while digging on the site of an old mill pond about 30 miles from Orangeburg.

Mr Glover sent a four-foot segment to Professor Dedrick, retired mill expert of the Pennsylvania State College, and another section to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. Professor Dedrick said the institution reported the gears were different from any exhibit it had.

Nineteen Feet in Circumference

Professor Dedrick decided the gears, apparently parts of three separate mills, with the largest 19 feet in circumference, had been buried at least 200 years, and perhaps were made 300 years ago.

"They might even be a clue to the lost colony of Roanoke Island, whose people disappeared and might possibly have fled or migrated into South Carolina," he added.

Professor Dedrick, who a year ago directed the restoration of the old Lee Mill at Stratford, Virginia, found that the gears were unlike any he had known.

No Records

"One of the most convincing facts of the gear's antiquity," he reported, "is that no records or anecdotes referring to the mill have been found in that neighbourhood. Such mills were important landmarks and were known for miles around in colonial days.

"It might be that the operation of the mill was interrupted shortly after it was built, possibly by some sort of battle. A bullet is embedded in one of the gear segments, and also the cogs are missing from the mill's rim along the rim of the gears. It is even possible that the cogs had not yet been fitted into the gears when the settlers were driven away by some enemy."

A TECHNIQUE OF BOMBING

RUSSIAN ATTACKS ON FINNS

FEW CASUALTIES

Letters from overseas suggest that some people are mystified that heavy bombings in Finland have resulted in relatively trifling casualties, although villages have been demolished and towns rendered almost uninhabitable.

Authentic information supplied by observers who recently reported on this question, reveals that the intensity of the bombing, as cabled, was in no way over-stated, and that casualties were minimised by evacuation and other air raid precaution measures.

It is shown also that Russia is seeking to demoralise civilians, not necessarily inflicting casualties, but by destruction and disorganisation of cities, industries, and homes with incendiary bombs.

Hundreds of Fires.

The extent to which casualties have been reduced by the evacuation to the country of children, aged persons, and others, and the simultaneous provision for the remaining population of shelters, fire-fighting apparatus, and medical services.

The success of these precautions is illustrated by the classic example of the bombing of Viipuri on February 4, when 47 bombers dropped several hundred bombs, many of which were incendiary, caused hundreds of disastrous fires, and demolished workers' flats, houses, and public buildings, yet only 10 persons were killed and 30 injured.

This was because citizens not on essential tasks had been evacuated,

TROOPS INVITED TO THE SHOW

In an announcement in yesterday's issue of the cordial invitation of the Hawke's Bay A. and P. Society to troops on leave to attend the Autumn Show at Tomoana, it was suggested unintentionally that the invitation extended only to troops in the Hastings district.

This was, of course, not the committee's intention. Their invitation was made to all troops from any district.

AIR SERVICE TO NEW ZEALAND

TO BEGIN ON MAY 15

Pan-American Airways' Announcement

NO OFFICIAL REPORT

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received March 15, 12.45 p.m.)
CHICAGO, March 14.

The President of Pan-American Airways (Mr. Trippe) announced to-day that the service to New Zealand would begin on May 15.

Arguing that so few passengers and so little mail is expected for the New Zealand air service that the Government scarcely knew if it was worth a subsidy on the proposed basis of operation without the extra cost of routing through Los Angeles, the Civil Aeronautics Authority attorney at a public hearing opposed Los Angeles city's request.

The attorney declared that there was grave doubt that Pan-American Airways had established proof of public convenience and the necessity for the required service, which proof was necessary for a subsidy.

Pan-American Airways officials in Auckland have received no details of the first regular mail flight on May 15.

The result of the public hearing of the claims of Los Angeles for inclusion as an airport have also not yet been received, but the Boeing Clipper on the first regular mail flight will follow the same route as in November last.

CRAGGY RANGE RIFLE CLUB

Handicaps For Week-end Shooting

A cup shoot over ranges of 300, 400 and 500 yards is to be held by the Craggy Range Defence Rifle Club this week-end. The Haggis Cup match will also be decided. Shooting is to begin at one o'clock. Handicaps are as follows (standard 100): R. K. Campbell 3, A. Oliver, S. Small 5, B. Douglas 6, D. S. McLeod 7, C. Cook, A. Rich, R. M. Field, M. S. Gordon, W. Olsen, G. van Asch 9, M. Small 10, T. Gordon, R. Field 12, B. Shaw 14, A. Laing, B. Chambers 16.

and the remainder crowded into the shelters in factories, parks, and streets.

Nevertheless, casualties undoubtedly would have been higher had the Russians used mainly high explosive bombs, but the Russian High Command apparently subscribes to the belief that the success of air raids cannot be measured in casualties, but in lowered morale, to which fires contribute.

Strain on Heroism.

The extent to which casualties grow where elderly, disabled persons and others have not been evacuated is illustrated by the raid on a hospital at Rovaniemi. There one high explosive bomb killed 23 of 30 patients who were unable to move to shelters in the parks.

All these lives would have been saved had normal evacuation or precautions been possible.

There is no doubting the serious blow to morale, even among the heroic Finns, because nothing has caused a greater strain on heroism than the ceaseless shattering of habitations, leaving thousands of civilians to exist in the Arctic winter without a single window or wall to protect them against the cold.

STERN RETALIATION

It has come to the "Daily Mail's" notice that it was not in every instance that the victims did not have some opportunity of retaliating. A gang of youths were causing considerable discomfort to people in floats near the railway line on Thursday night by throwing small, hard crab-apples. Setting on a concert party, they caused a good deal of annoyance, and succeeded in breaking a guitar string and striking a girl on the face, in addition to hurting other men and women.

The attack had a sudden climax. A youth deliberately aimed an apple at a man attired as a woman, apparently not realising the sex of the victim. The apple struck the man in the face, and to the surprise of the youth, "she" tucked up her skirts, leapt off the float, and gave chase. The apple-thrower was caught after a brief chase, and a few well-placed kicks reminded him that his conduct was not appreciated. No more apples came the way of that float.

WHARF LABOUR

A somewhat busier time than usual has been experienced at the Napier Port, and a good deal of non-union labour has been engaged to cope with the work. Indications at present are that this condition will prevail for some days. This morning three ships will be working—smaller overseas freighter—an breakwater wharf and the coastal trade Kopara at the Glasgow Wharf.

Seventh prize (£100) 125724, "Warzone," Wellington.

Wellington compiled 202 under perfect conditions in the veterans' cricket game against Auckland for the Centennial Cup.

Both sides included several international players and the game created keen interest.

A feature of the play was the chanceless 101 by F. W. Gilligan, of Wellington, whose splendid stroke play provided an object lesson. His century occupied 148 minutes and included six boundaries.

The fielding of the Auckland side was very sound and the batsmen could take few risks. W. Rowntree, the veteran international wicket-keeper, gave a sterling display, allowing only two deliveries to pass him, while his stumping had lost none of its speed.

Coates and C. A. Snedden were the most successful Auckland bowlers.

The game will be concluded to-morrow.

The scores were as follows:—

SHOULD NOT BE EXAGGERATED

VALUE OF PHYSICAL TRAINING

BOARD'S ATTITUDE

Suggestion Of New Policy

Some difference of opinion was apparent at yesterday's meeting of the Hawke's Bay Education Board when information was received from the Department of Education stating that educational administrators and teachers have for some time felt the need of a new policy of physical education in the primary schools.

The department stated that since the arrival of Mr P. A. Smithells, superintendent of physical education, in September last, a considerable amount of thought had been given to this subject. Following the preliminary investigations which had been made by Mr Smithells, the Minister had approved of the physical education scheme of the Board of Education's 1933 syllabus, which had proved so successful in Great Britain.

The chairman stated that he thought the school sports periods should be taken into consideration when the physical education time was being assessed.

Benefits

"Although we fully realise the benefits of physical education in the primary schools, we don't want to be obsessed with it," he added.

It was decided to defer the matter in the meantime, and that Mr Smithells should be asked to address the board.

Dust Nuisance

The destruction of a portion of the school hedge at Muriwai during the school vacation by the roadman, under orders from the Main Highways Board, was the subject of a protest received from the Muriwai School Committee. The committee claimed that it was not consulted in the matter and the removal of the hedge had resulted in the speeding-up of traffic around the corner and both the liability of injury to the children and the dust nuisance had been increased. The Main Highways Board's objection to tar-sealing the road was that it would increase the speed around the corner.

The meeting decided to write to the Main Highways Board urging it to have the road in that area sealed. The approval of the Education Department of the arrangements made by the Hawke's Bay Education Board for the conveyance of children from Takapau, Onga Onga, and Thikoina, in order to enable them to attend the annual training centres at Waipukurau and Wai-pawa, was received.

AUCKLAND, March 15.

After completing the first week in his newly created post of controller of the Auckland waterfront, Mr R. E. During his visit he was satisfied with the way in which the men were working and everything possible was being done to expedite the handling of the cargoes which had accumulated during the cessation of work in the recent dispute.

During the absence in Wellington of Mr Price the external organisation of waterfront control will be supervised by Captain Stanich, of the Marine Department.

RECORDS SMASHED AT SCHOOL SPORTS

P. F. Sharpley Gives Exhibition In Hurdles Race

HAWKE'S BAY MEETING

Some 20 records were broken yesterday when the Hawke's Bay Secondary Schools held their third annual athletics meeting at the Hastings High School.

A highlight of the sports was the appearance in the afternoon of the New Zealand hurdles champion, P. F. Sharpley, who competed in an exhibition race.

Other outstanding performances were given during the day. A remarkable effort by Campbell (Hastings), who had shown his mettle at the school sports earlier in the week, improved the standing half-mile record by as much as 20sec.

In hurdles, long jump, and the 100 yards sprint, records were shattered with apparent ease, the splendid results bearing striking testimony to the day's success.

At the secondary schools' sports excitement runs high and competition is unusually keen. It has, however, been the object of the organizers to ensure that the attainment of a maximum aggregate of points by the competing teams shall not be the end-all of the meeting.

The success of such a policy is reflected in the results of the races yesterday in which competitors from Hastings, Napier, Te Aute College, Waipukurau, Waipawa, and Dannevirke competed with unwavering enthusiasm and indefatigable energy and spirit.

The following records were broken at yesterday's sports:— Girls' Long jump, senior: J. Taafe (Hastings), by 1in.

AN OLD BOY OF ST. HILDA'S

Tare Ata Visits The Home When On Leave

The many older friends of St. Hilda's Home, Otane, will remember a bonny brown Maori lad, Tare Ata, who was such a favourite with everyone, some years ago, as he was the first brown baby of the St. Hilda family.

Tare is now a member of the Second Echelon, being in the 19th Rifle Brigade at Trentham Camp. Tare spent the first day of his leave on a visit to St. Hilda's and Miss Walter, the matron, before proceeding to Hilda's Bay.

PROTEST MADE AGAINST WIRELESS PROPAGANDA

Congregational Assembly's Views On Commercial Broadcasting

"This assembly strongly protests against the use of the commercial radio stations on Sunday evenings for the circulation of political propaganda, as this practice is likely to create feelings and diversions quite contrary to the spirit of the day, which should be free from such influence."

The Assembly expressed the desire that none of its members, ministers, or laymen should take part in broadcasts from these stations.

The following remits were passed by the Assembly:— Vital Statistics "That this Assembly reminds all good citizens of this Dominion of the urgent necessity of putting our house in order at such a time as this. We believe that personal purity and social service go hand in hand. We therefore commend the steps taken for the abolition of abortion and the limitation of the use of contraceptives, so that the population of New Zealand may achieve natural progress, both in numbers and in standard of living. We also support the efforts of the Government and of local committees to extend hospitality to refugees so sadly driven from hearth and home. We pledge ourselves to befriend such strangers within our gates, and in so far as we are able, to help them to become self-supporting and useful citizens of our community."

War and Peace "That this Assembly deprecates the outbreak of war and the arbitration of arms as a means of settling international disputes. In so far as our national selfishness has contributed to the present distress, we seek the forgiveness of our Heavenly Father, and pray for grace to follow His guiding Spirit in all our ways. At the same time, we sincerely believe that as a people we desired not this war, and that our leaders did their utmost to prevent it. Yet, here we stand, we could do no other. We therefore now pledge ourselves to support every legitimate effort to win a just and lasting peace, for, according to His promise we look for a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness."

Amelioration "That this Assembly commends to its members the many opportunities for services of amelioration during the present crisis. We offer constant prayer for all who have espoused the cause of righteousness, especially mindful of our chaplains, and those to whom they minister. And we commend to the care of our Heavenly Father all those who have enlisted for service overseas. "We, as citizens of New Zealand, promise to support the National Patriotic Fund in providing comforts for the troops, and recommend to all the Churches of our order that a retiring collection be taken up for this purpose, preferably in the month of May."

Election of Officers The election of the chairman for the year 1941 was decided, and the honour of serving the denomination in this capacity fell to the Rev. C. Hoskin, of the Newtown Church, Wellington. The union preacher is to be the Rev. A. C. Nelson, B.A., of Beresford Street, Auckland, and, in the absence of the Rev. Harry Johnson in England, the Rev. Frank de Lisle is to act as secretary.

Hastings Cricket Cancelled

SENIOR AND JUNIOR

In an article published in yesterday's "Daily Mail" it was stated that in order that as many as possible might see or take part in the day-light Centennial procession in Hastings this afternoon, all senior and junior inter-town, and Hastings junior cricket matches would be cancelled. This was correct.

Since then, however, some misapprehension has arisen as to the instructions issued by the Hawke's Bay Association and Hastings Sub-Association. The Hastings Sub-Association has therefore asked that yesterday's advice be repeated.

The only competition cricket unaffected by the Centennial festivities will be the Napier junior competition.

EASTER RAILWAY ARRANGEMENTS

According to official advice received from the Railways Department, it is anticipated that the Manawatu Gorge will be open for passenger traffic throughout the Easter holidays.

Should it be necessary, however, to divert traffic, certain trains will be run by the Wairarapa line. These would be the special trains scheduled to leave Wellington for Napier at 10.32 p.m. and 11.48 p.m., and the trains leaving Napier for Wellington at 9.50 p.m. and 11.45 p.m. on Thursday, Mar 21; also the 5.23 p.m. Wellington-Napier and the 5.40 p.m. Napier-Wellington special trains on Easter Monday, and the week-end excursion train to Wellington which will leave Napier at 10.35 p.m. on Good Friday, returning at 10.0 p.m. on Sunday, 24th.

In the event of these trains having to be diverted they will necessarily take longer on the journey and will arrive approximately an hour later than scheduled at their destinations. In the circumstances early booking is advised by the Railway Department.

STORING AWAY AFTER THE SUMMER SEASON

An Efficient Housekeeper's Method Can Save Many Pounds

The end of summer is too often a time of hasty tidying away of crumpled dresses and other things for hot weather. Tidying up and storing have to be done whether we like it or not, and it is therefore far better to make plans and do the job efficiently.

People who have a working plan for their end-of-summer clearance certainly benefit by saving time and money. Worthwhile clothes and equipment are bound to be expensive and can only repay us if we take care of them and get several seasons' service from them.

Careless storing, with the danger of moth and damage by damp, can destroy pounds' worth of goods and will often deprive us of some favourite possession, such as a tennis racket, which cannot easily be replaced.

Make up your mind to give a certain amount of energy to putting summer things away and you will not only have everything ready for next season but you will not be caught out by those glorious early hot days (for ever unexpected and for ever turning up), when people have, perennially, "nothing to wear."

It is a good plan to divide your work up into sections—first, clothes; second, garden equipment; third, sports gear; fourth, house. Of course, the list will vary in families, but this is a fairly safe model. Don't be tempted to bundle your warm weather clothes away hastily, perhaps soiled or only washed and rough dried, just because you are heartily tired of them. That will only mean an unappetising bundle to be discovered next spring, apparently so unwearable that you will be tempted to rush off and buy everything new.

Careful Packing Give yourself a chance to be economical by having everything either washed and properly ironed or sent to the cleaners. This will obviate danger from moths, for moths thrive on dirt, and will also help the clothes to retain their proper shape. Packed away in their large boxes with plenty of tissue paper, or stored in a spare wardrobe, they will be fresh and hung looking at next year. Then, hung for an hour in the sunshine, all creases and scuff of their companionable moth preventive gone, they are ready to wear. Even then, if you dislike them, they are worth giving.

Swim Clothes Bathing clothes, including swimming suits, bath wraps, caps, beach shoes, and other such impedimenta, have the same sort of care. A good swimming suit is a friend, and if you like to buy the latest each summer, you still need your others for changing, sun-bathing, and play-time. Even though you have faithfully rinsed your suits after each swim, they will probably retain a good deal of salt and sand, so wash them carefully in a good lather of fine soap flakes. Dried thoroughly, sprayed with moth powder (for moths love a good woolen swimming suit), and wrapped in an outer covering of newspapers they should be safe. Bathing caps, well scrubbed, and looking obligingly like new, should be stuffed with tissue paper to prevent the rubber sticking to itself and should be put away safely. The same applies to any rubber beach shoes, while all canvas slippers well with a good scrub and final clean. Remember that however clean your beach wear may look it must be washed in fresh water or it will act as a weather prophet all the winter for the salt absorbed will stick up moist air and the poor things will be bound to rot under their own power.

When dealing with sports equipment remember sports clothes, all of which need either cleaning or particularly careful washing. Shorts clean very well, and most heavy jerseys retain their shape better if cleaned instead of washed. Thin summer riding breeches or jodhpurs must be packed away clean and correctly folded, and thin riding coats are best hung up, covered, on padded hangers. Boots may be polished and then given another thin coating of nourishing polish which should not be rubbed off before storing. This advice applies to any leather footwear that is put away. Any summer shoes that need repairs should be done at once, for the long rest they will have hardens the soles and their life will be prolonged.

GIFT EVENING AT HAVELOCK NORTH

Miss Joyce Grant The Guest Of Honour

Miss Joyce Grant, whose marriage to Mr. Ivan Bowen, of Te Puke, takes place this month, was the guest of honour at a very enjoyable linen evening given for her on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Eves, Havelock North.

The hostesses were two of her bridesmaids, the Misses Mary Quinney and Trixie Eves.

The guest of honour wore a frock of pink patterned organdie, and her mother, Mrs. W. J. Grant, wore an ensemble of black and white.

The evening was spent in games and competitions, the winners being Miss M. Quinney, Mr. H. Borrie and Mr. C. Adamson.

After a delicious supper the guest of honour was called upon to open her parcels, which disclosed many useful and beautiful gifts. She was assisted by her chief bridesmaid, Miss Mavis Telford, of Palmerston North.

In the absence of her fiancé, Mr. Colin Adamson suitably replied on her behalf.

DEATH OF A MUCH LOVED RESIDENT OF CLIVE

Miss H. M. Brady

The death occurred at the Napier Hospital on Monday, March 11, of Henrietta Margaret Brady, only daughter of Mrs. and the late P. Brady of Clive, in her 53rd year.

The interment took place on Tuesday at the Havelock North Cemetery the funeral service being conducted by the Rev. Nairn.

The pall-bearers were W. G. and S. McAulay, H. Greene, H. McDonald and P. Brady, all cousins of the deceased.

Born at Clive, Miss Brady lived there all her life, and was educated at the Clive School under the late Mr. E. Bissell. Of a quiet disposition, she was always willing to help in any good cause for the district.

The esteem in which the deceased was held was apparent by the large number of sympathisers who attended her funeral and the number of beautiful floral emblems and tokens of sympathy received by her mother and brothers, to whom the whole district extends its heartfelt sympathy.

Don't Be A Victim Of Habit In Your Purchase

Are you one of those women who go periodically to your favourite corset department and ask for another number, saying, "I've got a corset you've stuck to for years? And if, by any chance, the salesgirl says "Sorry, madam, that number is not made now. This is the one that replaces it," do you feel annoyed, ill-used? We hope not. We hope you say, "Ah, good. Let me try it on."

So many women refuse to regard a new corset number as a blessing. They ignore the fact that before a manufacturer replaces any number in his range he has to have very good reasons, because every change costs money. His reasons generally are that improvements have been taken place in design or fabric, or that fashion changes have made the number out-of-date, or perhaps better value is possible. Whatever the reason you can be sure it is a good one, from your point of view as well as from his own.

Quite apart from these considerations it is advisable to have a new foundation fitted every time you buy one. Changes in your own figure as well as changes in the fashionable silhouette can then be dealt with. Every good store has a corsetier in attendance who carries out these fittings expertly and entirely free. You are quite entitled to be fitted, however inexpensive the garment, in just the same way as you have shoes fitted. You wouldn't dream of going to a shoe shop and saying "A pair of size 4, please," would you? It is every bit as important that foundations be fitted, also.

CARE OF YOUR BATHING SUIT

It is well worth while to take special care of a knitted bathing suit, for it should last for several seasons if it is properly treated after use. When it has been worn in salt water it should be well rinsed in fresh water, if possible, before it is dried. Wool soon rots if it is left damp and soggy. Careful drying is important. The suit should be hung up in an airy place as soon as it has been put through the wringer. When it seems almost dry it should be turned inside out, so that no dampness is left undried inside.

Before a suit is put away for any length of time it should be thoroughly soaked in fresh water, then rinsed several times to clear out all traces of salt and sand. It should be allowed to dry slowly and, when well aired, put away in a moth-proof envelope of cellulose wrapping.

Bathing caps should be washed occasionally in warm, soapy water to keep the rubber from becoming dry and brittle. French chalk sprinkled freely inside them will help to keep them in good order while they are stored away.

QUICK REMEDIES FOR SMALL PROBLEMS

A cut potato rubbed over the skin acts as a mild bleach and astringent.

A teaspoonful of salt in a glass of hot water makes an excellent gargle for a sore throat.

When the collar of a coat becomes shiny, try spicing it with a cloth moistened with ammonia or vinegar.

To prevent kitchen windows becoming blurred with steam on washing day, wipe them over with glycerine after you have cleaned them.

Results of Judging at Hawke's Bay Autumn Show

NOVEL FEATURE TO-DAY AT TOMOANA

Procession To The Grounds CENTENNIAL LINKED WITH FARMERS' OUTING

Exhibits Well Maintained

Despite many factors which must have had a detrimental effect, entries for the Hawke's Bay Agricultural and Pastoral Society's Autumn Show, to be held to-day at Tomoana Showgrounds, have declined only slightly on last year's figures. Nearly 2000 entries have come forward, and the society has reason to be gratified that it has received such strong support in the face of existing conditions.

Seventy-four exhibits were entered in the chilled beef championship, only 10 less than last year's record total. The beasts were judged on the hoof at Tomoana Works yesterday, D. G. Grant's entries securing the first awards in both light and heavyweight classes.

If fine weather prevails, it is certain that all roads will lead to Tomoana to-day. The Hastings Centennial procession is to parade from the town, and will encircle the oval at 2.30 p.m. Many, no doubt, will take the opportunity of visiting the show as a highlight to the week's celebrations at Hastings.

The dog trials this year have attracted a record entry of 42. With a team of five dogs, Mr. R. Fortune is to give a display this afternoon that should interest all farmers. Fruitgrowers have given splendid support, despite their many difficulties this year. Quality in this section is of a very high standard, and entries are only slightly fewer than last year.

Judging was begun shortly after noon yesterday, and continued until late in the afternoon. The following are the results:—

IT'S BIG!! IT'S ECONOMICAL!!
The internal dimensions of this Austin '10' are considerably increased—the rear seat, for instance, is actually 4" wider than its predecessor, making it more than 2" wider than any other 10 h.p. car on the market.

THE NEW AUSTIN '10'
Size is the main attribute one notices when viewing the new Austin '10' for the first time, for it is undoubtedly an "outsizer in Tens." Then, when you step inside through the high, wide doorways and sit back in the deep, luxuriously upholstered seats, you realize that, at last, here is a 10 h.p. car that does give you real spaciousness—big enough to seat five. But don't have misgivings—Austin haven't sacrificed performance and economy of running to get this BIGNESS. In fact they have enhanced these qualities in direct proportion to the increased size. A new principle of unified all-metal body and chassis construction has reduced the total weight of the car by one hundredweight, thus increasing its petrol economy while giving it livelier acceleration and greater reserves of power. There is not a 10 h.p. car sold in New Zealand to-day that can better this big-scale Austin '10' for economy of running. Add to these attributes traditional Austin Quality and Dependability, and you will agree that Austin is the car that ideally suits to-day's particular motoring conditions. Come in for a demonstration—it places you under no obligation.
