VOL. 111. No. 79.

Road To Northern French Coast Open To The Nazis

SCATHING CRITICISM BY FRENCH PRIME MINISTER

Country Handed Over To The Invader Without A Word Of Warning

MINISTERS' ADVICE WAS IGNORED

United Press Association-Copyright. (Received May 28, 11.10 p.m.)

LONDON, May 28.

"A VERY GRAVE EVENT HAS HAPPENED DURING THE NIGHT. THE KING OF THE BELGIANS HAS LAID DOWN HIS ARMS. FRANCE CAN NO LONGER RELY ON THE HELP OF BELGIUM," STATED THE FRENCH PRIME MINISTER (M. REYNAUD) IN A BROADCAST TO THE FRENCH PEOPLE.

"THE BELGIAN ARMY LAID DOWN THEIR ARMS BY ORDER OF THEIR KING-THE SAME KING WHO APPEALED TO THE ALLIES TO COME TO HIS HELP—THE SAME KING WHO LAST YEAR REFUSED STAFF TALKS WITH THE ALLIES-THE SAME KING WHO UNTIL THE OUTBREAK OF THE REAL WAR IN THE WEST PRO-FESSED EQUAL FAITH IN THE WORD OF GERMANY AS IN THE WORD OF THE ALLIES.

"This same King, without a word of gratitude or admiration for the Allied soldiers, has now handed over the Belgian Army to the invader.

"Since four o'clock this morning the French and British armies alone have been opposing the enemy. Our armies have been divided into two groups. The French Army is fighting on the Somme. The other group consisted of the Belgian Army, the British Expeditionary Force, and some French divisions under the command of General Blanchard.

"Without consideration, without a word to the French or the British soldiers, Leopold has given up the fight.

BULLETS DODGED IN

"This is an event unprecedented in history. The Belgian Government has informed me that the King took this decision against the unanimous advice of his Ministers. His decision was taken in strict contradiction of the feeling of his country and the soldiers, who have been fighting magnificently.'

M. Reynaud, describing the position in the north before the Belgian capitulation, said that the group of the three Allies' armies was provisioned via Dunkirk, in France, near the Belgian border. The British and French armies defended Dunkirk in the south and west; the Belgian Army defended it in the north.

"Now the Belgian Army, under the order of its King, has suddenly and unconditionally capitulated in the midst of battle, opening the road to Dunkirk to the German divisions.

"Misfortune has ever made France greater," concluded M. Reynaud fervently. "On the new line which our great leader, General Weygand, in accord with Marshal Petain, has established on the Somme and the Aisne, we shall hold out and conquer.'

He added that the French were holding successfully the lines on the Somme and the Aisne and the Maginot Line.

The "Standard," in a leader entitled "King Quisling," says: "A savage and treacherous blow has been struck against the cause of the Allies. It was not thought that an example of capitulation would be set by a king. The bravery of the British and French forces has been reduced to nought by this act of desertion. They were not defeated in the field, but the penalty of defeat has been exacted from them.

New And Sweeping Measures For Defence Of Homeland

ARMAMENTS OUTPUT

United Press Association-Copyright. (Received May 28, 9.10 p.m.) LONDON, May 28.

General Sir Edmund Ironside, Commander-in-Chief of the Home Forces, has warned the motor industry, repair shops and garages that their utmost services will be required to maintain military vehicles in the event of hostilities within Britain.

A series of sweeping new measures to prepare the home front for any emergency ahead range from the conversion of schools into shadow factories for armaments to Lord Woolton's food scheme, which is revolution in the British system of food dispersal.

Foodstuffs will be stored in a very large number of small centres instead of keeping huge stores concentrated in the ports until they are needed. Congestion will thus be avoided and foodstuffs will not be exposed to the risk of enemy action. The scheme will enable the roads to be kept clear for the conveyance of troops and other military operations.

Outlining the plan to convert schools into factories, a Board of Education memorandum urges technical schools and colleges to assist in the war effort by concentrating on the production of machine tools for use in the armaments industry. The board is satisfied that students are capable of making many parts are capable of making many parts are capable of making many parts. Two new classes, representing the

ENGLISH VILLAGE SIGNS

Tradition Is Revived ORIGIN OF THE

TOWNSHIPS

One of the late King George V's many interests was in an attempt to revive the Old English village signs. Early in his reign he presented three signs to villages on his Sandringham estate. To-day similar signs are appearing in many parts of England. These signs perpetuate the particular legend or tradition for which the village is famed. They also provide work for the wood-carvers, who vide work for the wood-carvers, who

Is Rugby football in Hawke's Bay getting too dangerous and careless? There are too many injuries. In the last fortnight in Hastings alone there have been half-a-dozen cases Resources To Help last fortnight in Hastings alone there have been half-a-dozen cases of concussion, one serious, and numerous leg and rib injuries. It is not good enough, and seems to demand some additional rules to give referees more power to deal with play that is too tough. In some of the scrums which have collapsed, fault can nearly always be found with careless and utterly reckless players heads with their boots in an almost criminal endeavour to drive the ball through or hook it out. Scarcely anyone would suggest that the present day footballer is soft, though there are plenty of old players who declare that football is not what it was, nor are footballers as hard as they were in previous days. That may be, but judging by results, a footballer nowadays stands a first-class chance of being injured in his Saturday's sport, and when sport gets to that it ceases to be a game.

Resources To Help

The existence of a German four year plan for the ruthless exploitation of Poland has been revealed by the Polish Government Press Bureau, which has published copies of a circular jointly issued by Goering and Frank to the German authorities responsible for the government of Poland.

The aim of the plan is to place the whole of the Polish resources at the service of the Reich without the slightest regard for the Poles them service of the Reich Himona and Newton were the best of the M.A.C. backs. It is noticeable that Newton does not put the ball in when Crawford plays, as the latter believes in an entirely wing-forward game.

Mayfair "EVERYBODY'S DOING IT"

Comedy-Drama, With "Lily Of Laguna"

Preston Foster and Sally Eilers appear as a team for the first time in "Everybody's Doing It," the romantic comedy-drama which is now showing at the Mayfair Theatre, Napier. Foster is cast as a temperamental commercial artist, and Miss Eilers, as his fiancee, is called upon to see that he does not step too far out of line.

The plot centres on a prize puzzle picture contest and the climax is reached when a gang of racketeers kidnap Foster to gain an inside track on the answers. Richard Lane, Guinn Williams, Lorraine Kruegar, Cecil Kellaway and William Brisbane also have leading parts in the film.

THAT'S RIGHT, YOU'RE WRONG"

Showing With "Married And In Love"

Something delightfully new under the screen sun is the tuneful com-edy, "That's Right—You're Wrong," which is now showing at the State

Theatre, Napier.
Starring Kay Kyser with his orchestra, and Adolphe Menjou, the picture breaks sharply away from the conventional boy-meets-girl such the conventional boy-meets-girl suc-cess story theme on which most band leader films have been based. With engaging candour, the produc-ers admit that such a theme is threadbare—and develop their plot around the ingenious thesis that it is impossible to find any other theme.

Consequently, the story deals with the hilarious but futile efforts of a big Hollywood film company to make a picture with Kyser and his band, and in so doing it offers gay and laughter-packed entertainment. Kyser and his musicians portray themselves throughout and Menjou has the role of the luckless producer assigned to the task of bringing Kyser to the screen.

"MURDER AT THE VILLA ROSE"

Mystery Story By A. E. W. Mason

Forget all your troubles in seeing one of the most absorbing mystery stories ever written by a master of the craft; this is A. E. W. Mason's "Murder at the Villa Rose," now showing at the Regent Theatre, Napier.

The opening of the story is most ingeniously presented. We are introduced to the facts and clues of the case—a wealthy old lady murdered during a spiritualist seance and the persons concerned. Then Inspector Hanaud proceeds to unravel a story that helds interest without a preak that holds interest without a break right up to the final arrest, in itself

THE PREMIER FURRIERS OF HAWKE'S BAY

A Classical Parchment Satin Bridal Gown

Pretty Frocking At A Recent Napier Wedding

Gale-Brown

A Jolly Reception Follows The Ceremony

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Augustine's Church when Edna Phyllis Brown, second daughter of Mr and Mrs F. Brown, Paradise Road, Napier, was married to Cecil Ronald Gale, third son of Mr and Mrs Gale, Westshore.

The ceremony, which took place in the evening, was performed by the Rev. S. R. Gardiner.

Entering the church with her father, the bride was a lovely figure in her beautiful wedding gown of parchment satin, cut on classical lines with the skirt sweeping back into a wide oval train, prettily scalloped and caught here and there with sprigs of orange blossom. Falling in misty folds over her frock, the embroidered tulle veil was held in place with a top-knot of gardenias and she carried a sheaf of cream chrysanthemums and roses.

gardenias and she carried a sheaf of cream chrysanthemums and roses.

The bride had as matron of honour, her sister, Mrs F. Sullivan, who was attractively frocked in clover pink taffetas. The frock featured a square neck outlined with narrow pleating, full puffed sleeves and a very full skirt. On her hair she wore a pink velvet rose and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Dainty Flower Girl

The bride was also attended by a little flower girl, Eunice Harrison. Her dainty frock was of powder blue taffetas and she carried a sweet Victorian posy.

The bridegroom had his brother, Mr Gordon Gale, as best man.
Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Majestic Tea Rooms and in receiving the guests Mr and Mrs Brown were assisted by Mr and Mrs Gale.

Mean Much

When you take exercise you breathe more deeply, and thus an increased quantity of air, with its vital oxygen, is carried into the lungs with each breath. When the blood passes through the arteries and capillaries of the body, it gives bands and sons have already left qualities, and by the time it reaches the heart again it is impoverished to capacity when 17 tables were engaged in progressive "500." Athletic v. Y.M.P. at Nuhaka, at for service over the

New Zealand women whose husbands and sons have already left for service over the heart again it is impoverished and charged with waste matters which it has collected during its journey through the body. The heart then pumps the blood straight to the lungs. Here the blood straight to the lungs. Here the blood gives up its poisonous products and is recharged with the oxygen of the outer air which is being breathed into the lungs.

Now all this means that exercise to capacity when 17 tables were engaged in progressive "500." Prize-winners were Mesdames Kennedy (Port), Moore (United), and Varley (Wairere), each receiving gifts previously donated. Miss E. M. King was present and, in a short talk on what the Red Cross had achieved and still expected to accomplish, stimulated her hearers to fresh interest and endeavour. High School v. Scouts at Wairoa, My spares were less behind with kit which was to follow us at once. It did not. My favourite pipe was smashed in an attack, and for six weeks I was pipeless. Then came a Queen Alexandra gift parcel which contained cheap pipe and tobacco. By that time five other pipe-smokers were making the best of fags in my own platoon. So anticipation of breakage or loss by putting in a pipe now and then would be appreciated by a son or husband pipe smoker.

Now all this means that exercise stimulates respiration, and this in turn leads to an increased supply of oxygen and an increased elimination of waste matter. The heart is a muscle, and like all muscles its efficiency is increased by use; the development of the blood vessels and heart in response to the stress placed upon them ensures efficiency and builds up a reserve power. Again, muscular exercise creates a demand for food, and even if appetite is not essential to digestion it is an important antecedent.

THE DOMINION FRONT

While we await, with alternating feelings of confidence and apprehension, the critical news trickling through under a carefully controlled system from overseas, we may reflect for a moment or two on our own duty in this country. So far as the Government's policy is concerned, we shall also wait patiently until Parliament meets and a definite declaration is made as to the precise nature of the measures to be taken. These measures were somewhat clouded over by a mixture of emotion and careful phraseology last Sunday evening. Just what is going to happen no one knows yet. But again, so far as these things are concerned, the people of the country are on the alert and will brook nothing in the nature of political side-stepping on the grave issues confronting us.

Turning to what we may call the home front, there are certain services that can be rendered to make these difficult days easier for all concerned. When news is scarce, nerves are more than ordinarily strained. Every citizen of the country has a stake in New Zealand, and there are many thousands who go about their work in a preoccupied fashion. their thoughts far away with the sons or brothers or fathers or friends who have gone out to the great adventure. Everything, therefore, that can be done to create a good atmosphere of calmness and courage should be done.

In this regard the younger members of the community who have not yet reached the age of availability for actual service should pay heed to the nervous tension under which their older friends are living. At the Napier Borough Council meeting on Monday it was one of the most regrettable items on the agenda that reference had to be made to the thoughtless larrikinism so prevalent in the town, most of it being due to the reckless and devil-may-care actions of youths.

It is one of the ordinary accompaniments of war time that those who feel themselves to be in the thick of big events without being able to partake in them are apt to kick over the traces and make "whoopee" of a solemn occasion. That is just what is happening. It is a psychological truism that the instinct to escape comes into play in the face of grim and dangerous conditions. Hence all the phrases, songs, and tags about hanging up washings and all the rest of it, which are so much sugar on the bitter pill that must be swallowed; and hence, too, the expressions of exuberant recklessness on the part of those of whom complaint is being made.

It is desperately difficult to know how to combat this latter nuisance, except by continuing attempts to make reasonable appeals to the better feelings of the guilty persons. We are all out to help in preserving our equanimity at this time. Perhaps if these words are brought to the notice of some of our youths, a little might be done to obviate the wear and tear on our nerves. Maybe a good deal of the vandalistic conduct is due to thoughtlessness, but some of it is undoubtedly due to a deliberate defiance of authority. Walking six abreast on a pavement so that others are forced off is just the infancy stage of Prussian bullyism, the kind of thing we are fighting. If it is thoughtless, attention should be drawn to its annoying effects, and if it is deliberate, action should be taken. The same remarks apply to the wanton destruction of public property in reserves and in other places and to foolish conduct on the roads.

As these words are being written, news is flowing in that is of the utmost gravity and which affects us all. We are in this war for life or death, and if those who are beyond the age of military service and who realise the gravity of the situation would make it their business to find spare-time interests for our youth, take an interest in them, help to gather them together in clubs of various kinds and to train them as citizens, they would be doing a good service. This is only a suggestion. Other ideas may occur to others. But something more than the merely punitive should be done.

Bridge at Kopuawhara

Good progress has been made with construction work on the big railway bridge at Kopuawhara. The two piers are already well forward and foundations have been laid for the two ends of the arch. The overall length of the structure will be 530 feet between foundations, and a height of 120 feet above the normal level of the stream. This bridge, the central span of which will be a parabolic arch, will exceed the dimensions of the Grafton Road bridge in Aukland hitherts, excelbridge in Auckland, hitherto noted as the outstanding example of arch-span construction in

"Parliament Has Been Locked Out"

MR LEE AND WAR PLANS

"Cabinet Equipped To Recruit Duck Shooters"

CHARACTERISTIC OUTBURST

By Telegraph—Press Association

WELLINGTON, May 28.

"For nearly eight months Parliament has been locked out—the one sovereign Parliament in the Empire to be treated so contemptuously during the crisis," said Mr J. A.

Lee, M.P., in a statement this evening.

"In consequence of the criticism of New Zealand's war effort and plans, it is difficult for the people, the Parliament, or members of the Government party to know what New Zealand's plans and efforts are. "As a member of its Defence Council, I can only say that no long-distance plan or commitments had matured up to the date of my exclusion. It is for the Government to determine its policy and for the staff to advise and give effect to that policy. "Cabinet appears to demand of the Attorney-General, the Minister of Public Works, and the Minister of Mines practical experience of the activity to be controlled, but where the war effort is concerned Cabinet seems to treat returned soldiers of the last war as if being returned soldiers and having a measure of experience were a major crime. "In a time of war, one of the major qualifications of the Minister of Defence or the Minister in Charge of Manpower is that, in addition to the practical experience of soldiering, there should be the power to lead and inspire confidence.

"No one could say that a single member of the present Cabinet has at any time said or written anything likely to inspire confidence. inspire confidence.

"For myself, I am at a loss to understand the need for dictatorial nowers over people and property," BRITAIN ANXIOUS continued Mr Lee. "Parliament surely not going to be locked out for another eight months. We are 12000 miles from the front line. Britain is to-day in the front line.

"There is surely no good reason why Parliament should not, as in Great Britain, remain in session from day to day or meet once a week from day to day or meet once a week as necessary. Surely Parliament is not going to be asked to give dictatorial power to some extra-parliamentary authority and then adjourn for a long period. Such a procedure is not being applied in France or in Great Britain, where Parliament meets in sound of the guns. The extra powers granted in Great Britain have been granted to a Parliamentary executive which has regular contact with the House of Commons.

He believed that 99 per cent. of New Zealanders only needed to be told what to do.

Mr. J. Cameron, Auckland, secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, said that personally he was prepared to work 20 hours a week for nothing.

Colonel Adams, representing the Sheepowners' Federation, said that farmers could increase production greatly, given a lead.

Co-ordination and outside help in the formation of all interests was urged in a remit which was passed. The remit also expressed the opinion that a War Council without full executive powers would be neither acceptable nor effective.

During the past three days 100 men have been enrolled, which is more than double the average of the past few months. This result is attributed to the suggestion that some form of compulsion may be introduced when Parliament resumes this week. Some 60 men will parade at Napier to-morrow evening for medical inspection and a similar number on the following evening. In view of the increasing number of recruits coming forward, instructions have been issued by the authorities that married men with more than two children, or over the age of 40 years, are definitely not to be accepted.

HIGHER WAGES AND A NEW DOMINION AWARD

N.Z. Taxi Industry Involved In An Important Dispute

By Telegraph-Press Association WELLINGTON, May 28.

Many questions concerning the taxi-cab industry in

New Zealand were argued in the Arbitration Court to-day, when the drivers sought higher wages and a new Dominion

A partial settlement was reached in the Conciliation Council and the only clauses the Court was asked to settle were those relating to hours of wages and holidays.

The hearing was adjourned till to-morrow.

The workers claimed a minimum weekly wage of £5 10/with an additional 5/- a week for drivers on duty between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m. and a 40-hour week. Certain statutory holidays and three weeks' leave on full pay for each nine months' service were also claimed. The employers were agreeable to a minimum weekly wage of £4 10/- and an annual holiday of not less than seven days. The rate offered for casual drivers was 2/- an hour ordinary time and 2/6 an hour for time worked in excess of 10 hours on any one day.

The workers' claims for casual drivers were 3/1 and 3/7 an hour respectively. Evidence was called to show that though higher charges could not be made by the employers, costs had risen considerably, particularly within recent months, when there had been a substantial increase in the prices of petrol and oil.

ADVENTURES OF A BISHOP

EARLY MISSIONARY, MR SELWYN

Pioneer Of Christianity In New Zealand

ROTARY ADDRESS

An account of some of the travels of George Augustus Selwyn, first Anglican Bishop of New Zealand, in the early days of the Dominion's history, was given to Hastings Rotarians at their weekly luncheon yesterday by the Rev. W. T. Drake.

Selwyn had left England in a small ship, accompanied by his wife four clergymen and a crew, said the speaker. On the voyage out he studied navigation and learnt Maori, so that on his arrival at Auckland on May 30, 1842, he was able to speak the language.

The bishop had found that Auckland then had a population of 1900, of whom 1100 were registered Church of England members. Wellington's population at that time was 3000 and Nelson's 2000, the bishop mentioned in his diary.

Bishop Selwyn had learnt enough

A missionary Had-field by name, had, however, con-verted this chief to Christianity and as Te Rauparaha was thus left without assistance a more serious war was averted.

Reading extracts from the bishop's diary of the journey, Mr Drake described Selwyn's voyage up the Manawatu River, across the Takapau Plains and finally across the Heretaunga Plains. An interesting point was that many of the Most point was that many of the Maori names for rivers and localities were the same then as to-day, familiar names such as the Tuki Tuki river and the Ruahine ranges being men-

INTERESTING GALLOPS AT HASTINGS

Preparations For Napier

SEVERAL SMART TRIALS YESTERDAY

Padishah's Brilliant Jumping

(By MOTUROA).

Track-watchers at Hastings have much to interest them these mornings with the possibility of Padishah going to Victoria for the V.R.C. Grand National double; with several of the locals booked for the Wanganui winter meeting; and a host of horses being given their winding-up gallops for the Napier Park Racing Club's winter meeting at Greenmeadows on Saturday and Monday.

Except for a cold south-easterly wind, conditions were ideal yesterday morning for the semi-final gallops at Hastings and spectrudy morning for the senin-initial gallops at riadings and spectators were treated to a feast of schooling and galloping. The smartest trials on the No. 2 grass track were credited to Authoress and Dainty Dell over six furlongs, and to Royal Spades and Shani over half a mile. Endorsement showed a lot of speed over six furlongs on the plough, while the schooling honours were scooped by Padishah.

When Padishah goes out to jump a faultless display can always be expected, and there was much interest taken yesterday morning when Mr George Beatson went out on him to jump a round of the steeplechase fences with the Hawke's Bay Hunt Cup winner Royal Toast (E. Baker). Padishah had the hunter scratching early, and Royal Toast dipped badly on landing over the first of the double, losing his rider.

Padishah went on smoothly, taking the double in his stride. He then quickened the pace and simply flew the remaining fences, which included the post-and-rails, sod wall, double, and two brushes. It would have scarcely been possible for Padishah to have given a better exhibition, though, with the faster pace on, he found the distance between the fences of the double rather short. However, he was clever enough to put in a short one and clear with ease.

ROYAL TOAST was remounted by Baker and gave a very safe display over eight of the steeplechase fences, including the double twice. AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA NAPIER ACCEPTANCES TO-NIGHT

HAWKE'S BAY owners and trainers are given a final reminder that acceptances for all events on the first day of the Napier Park Racing Club's winter meeting on June 1 close at 8 o'clock to-night (Wednesday). A generous response from all owners would assure the success of this meeting, which will be held at Greenmeadows on Saturday and Monday.

 Cullen), but the two-year-old surprised by coming right away from her stable-mate to win by half a dozen lengths. Endorsement's time for the full distance was 1.18. Silver Bat (J. Campbell) was given a couple of short sprints, coming home from the three the second time in 39.

Yogi, who looks rough, but well after his spell since the Avondale meeting, was exercised on this track, while Soho worked over a couple of rounds without being asked to make the pace.

WORK ON THE GRASS

LAUGHING SONG (W. Aitken) and City Song (J. Campbell) were the first to work on the grass track and they pleased by running their six furlongs in 1.18 3-5 for there was not a great deal of pace on in the first furlong. Laughing Song was doing just a little better than her companion over the half furlong.

Refulgent (J. Rae) was beaten by Limbohm (S. Parramore) over a round in 1.54, the last six in 1.24. Limbohm looked as if he could have done a lot better.

Authoress (H. C. Murray) and Dainty Dell (H. J. Callahan) were going well all the way in their galgoing well all the way in their gallop over seven furlongs, which occupied 1.30 3.5, the final six furlongs being cut out in the good time of 1.17 2.5. There was nothing to choose between them at the finish. Proclamation (H. J. Callahan) and Black Majesty (P. Atkins) ran their six furlongs in 1.18 2.5, the first three in 38 2.5.

the recent Manawatu meeting and looked unlucky to lose by a narrow margin the second day. He is a real winter track horse and it will surprise if he is not many pounds better as the result of his racing.

Hunting Mint has been off the scene for some time, but Gold Ballad has been running good races and will have to be considered if he strikes a soft track.

This season Nora Gregor has been rather disappointing, but there is no doubt that she possesses an abundance of speed and it will not be overlooked that she ran a great race at Woodville in the spring on a very
