German Bombers Reach Rumania At A Critical Moment WARNING TO SOVIET TO BEWARE Communists Rounded Up In Bucharest

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received July 3, 0.10 a.m.) LONDON, July 2. The Associated Press Bucharest correspondent reports that a new fleet of German bombers arrived overnight. It is stated that the Government had already ordered the bombers, whose delivery at the present juncture is believed to be a German warning to the Soviet.

It is reported that more Rumanian troops, supported by these bombers, were immediately moved to the Hungarian frontier. Reinforcements are also reported to have been sent to the Bulgarian border.

The police have rounded up 3000 Communists in Bucharest and transported them to Bessarabia. The Minister of Propaganda, in a broadcast, said: "We must confidently await the morning. This land of heroes will rise again after the storm, stronger and more determined than ever. We want nothing from others. We hate no one. We must unite for purely Rumanian interests."

It is officially stated that Rumanian foreign policy will henceforth be aligned "with the new orientation of Europe."

An official announcement at Moscow states that the occupation of Bessarabia and Bukovina have been completed. It is officially stated in Bucharest that Rumania is renouncing the British and French guarantees regarding her territorial integrity.

Hitler is reported to have sent a message to the Rumanian Crown Council before Rumania's acceptance of the Soviet demands, stating: "Accept anything for the time being."

The Bucharest correspondent of the British United Press states that Russian warships are reported off Rumanian ports. King Carol conferred with high officials on Monday. His most recent whereabouts is not disclosed.

It is officially stated in Budapest that all leave for Hungarian army officers and police has been cancelled. Official Hungarian quarters declare that an army corps is mobilising on the Hungarian-Rumanian frontier after incidents between Hungarian and Rumanian troops.

No "Mobilisation" The Budapest correspondent of the Associated Press states that officials admit that no announcement of general mobilisation can be expected, "because that term is out of date in modern tactics, and also because the same result has already been achieved."

Rumanian guards are reported to have fired on Hungarian guards at Vichybad, whereupon the Hungarians retaliated forcing the Rumanians to retreat. The Bucharest correspondent of the Associated Press says that 30 casualties are reported to have resulted from clashes on the Rumanian-Hungarian frontier.

TWELVE DEAD IN RAID SCOTTISH TOWN BOMBED HOMES WRECKED Children Among The Casualties

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received July 2, 10.45 p.m.) LONDON, July 2. It is officially stated that 12 were killed and 18 injured in a raid on a town in north-east Scotland. The casualties include four children who were playing in the streets. The bombs landed on the road fronting a row of houses. Fighters machine-gunned the raider, which turned tail towards the coast with fighters hot in pursuit.

The Air Ministry and the Ministry of Home Security announced: "During the raids yesterday evening an enemy aeroplane dropped a high-explosive bomb on a town on the north-east coast of Scotland, and three houses were demolished and a number of others damaged."

Two German bombers were shot down on the north-east coast during an early evening raid. An unstarred number of raiders crossed the coast at several points and dropped incendiary bombs. Anti-aircraft guns went into action on the north-east coast of England when an enemy plane flew eastward. Two heavy thuds were heard and fighters quickly pursued the raider.

An Air Ministry communique says: "Aircraft of the Fighter Command intercepted an enemy bomber off the north-east coast yesterday and shot it down into the sea. The crew of four were rescued, one being sent to hospital."

It is officially announced that another German bomber is believed to have been brought down in north-east England shortly before noon.

Shanghai Betrays Its Trust WIN FOR NANKING Land Records To Be Handed Over NEEDED FOR TAXATION

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received July 2, 1.45 p.m.) LONDON, July 1. Reuter's correspondent in Bucharest says that the Russian troops who overshot the new Rumanian boundary in some places withdrew within the agreed limits. The occupation was achieved 2 1/2 days ahead of schedule.

"It is now apparent," says the correspondent, "that Rumania's equivocal foreign policy has failed. The recent formation of a totalitarian national party was aimed to unite diverging political elements. Russia interpreted this as a pro-German move, and countered it with a demand for Bessarabia, completely surprising informed Rumanian circles."

All the reliable evidence here," the correspondent declares, "indicates that the parallel policy Germany and Russia have followed up to the present is now ended. Rumanian policy will now quickly and completely enter the German orbit, and the first public hint of this movement was given yesterday, when a stereotyped manifesto secretly distributed in the streets of Bucharest declared that the Russian demands were investigated by British and Jews, and were seeking to provoke a Russo-German war."

NAZIS URGE BRITONS TO TAKE TO FLIGHT WHEN RAIDERS COME Broadcasts From "English" Radio Station In Germany CIVILIANS FOREWARNED

(British Official Wireless) (Received July 2, 7.30 p.m.) RUGBY, July 2. It may have significance in connection with Hitler's alleged intention of invading Britain that the Nazis have begun using against her the tactics they successfully exploited against other countries that Germany invaded—tactics of trying to confuse the civilian population in preparation for military action. Last night the self-styled New British Broadcasting Company, a German short-wave station operating from Germany, which at the end of last week excelled itself in a lurid picture of the German invasion of England—including more secret weapons "personally invented by Hitler"—issued a solemn warning to English men and women that in the event of the town in which they live being bombarded during the invasion their only hope of survival was to flee.

"You, your wife and your children must go anywhere out of danger," they said, and warned people to have ready cash about them. As the British Government has urged upon the public for some time the necessity of precisely the opposite behaviour and has seen that they are well aware of the lessons learned in Belgium and France of the grave embarrassment, too, of roads filled with refugees and the appalling result of attacks which, in order to increase the confusion, the German airmen are instructed to make upon these unhappy people, there is little chance of such propaganda having the desired effect here.

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received July 2, 11.10 p.m.) LONDON, July 2. General de Gaulle has appointed Vice-Admiral Muselier commander of the "Free" French naval and air forces. Clemenceau in 1917-18 and later commanded the second cruiser squadron in the Mediterranean.

"The Times" Tangier correspondent says that General Nogués obeyed General Weygand's orders for demobilisation in Syria as his senior officers regard General de Gaulle as too young.

SUCCESSFUL RETURN TRIP TO CALAIS OFFICER'S HEROISM DURING EVACUATION Fifty-Eight Rescued From Garrison

British Official Wireless. (Received July 2, 9.45 p.m.) RUGBY, July 2. Among the decorations awarded to officers and men of the B.E.F. appears the Military Cross, which is given to Captain Francis Robinson, Royal Artillery. After taking a leading part in the defence of Calais this officer successfully engaged an enemy battery with a 12-pounder gun mounted on a trawler in Calais harbour, firing the gun until all the ammunition was exhausted. Captain Robinson then took the trawler to Dover but returned the next day with two armed yachts. He landed a naval party under enemy fire and saved the evacuation of three officers and 55 men of the Calais garrison. The official account concludes: "As no fire could then be heard from the citadel Captain Robinson returned to England."

Macfarlane, M.P.) for service overseas. This was announced to-day by the chairman of the committee (Mr J. S. Barnard), who is at the moment an inmate of the Christchurch Public Hospital. AUCKLAND PREPARES FOR EMERGENCY Volunteers With Cars To Act As Fire Fighters

By Telegraph—Press Association. AUCKLAND, July 2. The organising within five days of a fleet of 500 private motor-cars rated at over 10 h.p. for use in the event of an emergency has been undertaken by the Automobile Association (Auckland), which has sent enrolment forms to thousands of members reading: "This is the private motorist's opportunity to serve his country and the call is made by the association with full confidence that an immediate and overwhelming response will be forthcoming."

The circular adds that volunteers are being sought among members residing in an area extending from the city to St. Heliers, New Lynn, Mangere and Otahuhu, and also those living in the North Shore districts. It is intended that the cars should be used in Auckland for the fire technical group of the emergency precautions organisation and the fleet will be arranged in groups of 10 to cover the areas in which they are normally garaged. "It will be an obligation on every person who volunteers to hold himself and his car available for immediate duty in the event of an emergency," the circular states.

"The men required are those who are not eligible for active service and who are not likely to be called upon under other sections of the emergency precautions organisation. "The vehicles which will be impressed will carry special fire equipment and all persons engaged after being sworn in will be instructed in fire fighting."

STERN BATTLE FOR WRECKED FORT Italians And British Fight On Libyan Frontier POOR ENEMY GUNNERY

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received July 2, 10.55 p.m.) LONDON, July 2. The British United Press correspondent says that the second battle for Fort Capuzzo, on the Egypt-Libya frontier, began on June 29 after the Italians had occupied the shattered shell of the fort, which the British captured on June 14, blew up and evacuated with valuable plans, lorries, and motor-cycles. The Italians moved in on June 28 with 1000 non-military troops, 16 tanks and field guns. The British again attacked on June 29, field guns shelling the Italian batteries while a ring of tanks closed in on the fort. The Italian guns scored only one hit in 90 minutes. British shells made a huge gap in the fort walls. The tanks awaited darkness to rush the fort, but the resistance stiffened. The battle is continuing.

MASTERY OF THE AIR NAZIS TAKE A BACK SEAT R.A.F. SUPERIORITY Now Able To Take The Initiative

British Official Wireless. (Received July 2, 12.45 p.m.) RUGBY, July 1. At least 12 German wireless stations went off the air after 10 o'clock last night. The fading-out of the wireless is usually an indication of R.A.F. activity over Germany. During the preceding 36 hours R.A.F. raids on military objectives in enemy and enemy-occupied countries by night and day had been exceptionally severe.

THE UPBRINGING OF EVERY CHILD NEEDS SERIOUS CONSIDERATION

Dr. C. Anderson's Talk About The "Nervous Child" Of Vital Interest

"The Nervous Child" was a subject of vital interest which was discussed recently by Dr. C. Anderson, School Medical Officer for the Hawke's Bay Education Board, when she spoke to members of the Plunket Society in Hastings.
The upbringing of the present-day child is indeed difficult and it is realised that many mothers who were unable to hear Dr. Anderson's address would be tremendously interested to benefit by her advice. For this reason it is hoped to publish the address in full, though it will necessitate doing so in three instalments, and it may not be possible to do this on three consecutive days.
Readers, however, having once read the first part of the address, will realise the great importance and value of Dr. Anderson's remarks and will await the remaining instalments with much interest. Here is the address:—

"We are living at a time when it is becoming increasingly evident that the majority of the children of today are much more nervously unstable than was the case, even a decade ago, and with the unhappy times which lie ahead of us, as nervous tension increases among the adults, so will there be a proportionate nervous instability among the children. Because of this, those of us who are especially engaged in work among children realise only too well the difficulties met with in the understanding and interpretation of the effects in health at an age period when one would expect the problem to be in its simplest form.
"The term nervousness as applied to children covers a great variety of types, from the over-acute, bright, sensitive, intelligent children, to those who are dull, negativistic and ill tempered, perhaps bordering on mental defectiveness.
"The nervous class of child includes those who are hysterical, emotional, timid, fidgety, obstinate, or difficult to manage. Their condition is partly due to inherent qualities in the nerve cell, and partly due to environment. In the latter, say, to their upbringing or general treatment. There can be no doubt that a great deal of nervousness met with in young children is artefact and due to mismanagement during the highly impressionable period of growth. Mismanagement can take various forms either physical or psychical; the former including bad feeding, or deficient supplies of vitamins, and the latter over-stimulation, over excitement, want of sleep, and want of rest. The stimulating influences and the interactions are prolific causes of nervousness in children.
"However, I do not wish to deal with the question of bad feeding today.
"Mothers are well aware of the need of a rational hygiene. They are most painstaking in regard to the children's weight and height. Theoretically they are even learned on the question of diet, exercise and fresh air, and yet so many of them fail to appreciate the simultaneous growth of the mind or inquire after its welfare.

Serious Abnormalities
"Many abnormalities which we recognise as evidence of a health defect, possibly of a serious nature are looked upon by parents as part of the natural development of the child. Nervous conditions are due to worms; refusal to gain weight proves that the child is wiry and following in father's footsteps; or the child's C3 condition is accepted as evidence of a delicate constitution inherited from the mother's side.
"They fail to realise that some of these conditions at least are the result of a tired and irritable brain.
"Quoting Cameron he says: "It is the astounding rapidity with which the mental processes develop characteristics of the infancy of man. Were it not for the rapid growth of the cerebral functions the rearing of children would be a matter almost as simple as the rearing of live stock."
"Hence arises the particular need of sleep in children when the growth of mind and body is rapidly taking place and so more than mere repair has to be provided for and there is not a doubt that an active, excitable child required more sleep than one of a quiet disposition and the quality of sleep obtained is more important than the quantity.
"The results of insufficient sleep are indistinguishable from the results of fatigue caused by over work or excessive stimulation.
"We are all familiar with the restless, irritable and sleepless babe, the result of excessive stimulation. Usually the first babe in the family, the primeval child, who is due to natives, who is awakened at frequent intervals for exhibition.
"In later childhood the same result is obtained by forcing a child into a quiet disposition and the quality of the child is still struggling with school lessons.
"Therefore the prevention of over fatigue and the insistence on sufficient quantity and quality of sleep are two of the main essentials in producing a healthy and happy child. Nervous conditions are the result of ceaseless and meaningless activities. Let them learn early that composure and rest are conducive to health and mental stability.

COLOURFUL AND GAY FROCKING
Musical Comedy Opera
"MARAMA" GIVEN IN HASTINGS
A Splendid Performance
Colourful and gay frocking and delightful scenery were among the many attractive features of the musical comedy opera "Marama," presented last evening in the Municipal Theatre, Hastings, by the Hastings Amateur Operatic Society.
From the opening scene to the final curtain the performance was one to give pleasure and though the audience was not large they showed the very keenest appreciation. Those who missed last evening's performance have an opportunity this evening or on the following three evenings to enjoy a presentation with delightful music and singing, wonderful Maori native costumes and other colourful frocking and attractive scenery.
When the curtain rose for the opening scene the stage had been transformed into a sea coast near Auckland with a beautiful grove of pohutukawa trees bright with summer blossoms. Here were a group of picnickers wearing the gayest and smartest beach attire. Some wore divided skirts in plain coloured tines, blue, green, yellow or orange, over matching shorts and worn with blouses and bolero of striped material to match. Others wore frocks of bayadere striped linen in gay colours, while some wore dainty frocks of tropic red and spotted sheer, and still others wore white shorts with pillar box red jumpers. The remaining girls in the chorus wore long floral slacks with gay sun tops and sun hats.
Even the menfolk managed a colourful appearance by wearing bright shirts and shoes with their white flannels. The chorus all together provided a kaleidoscope of lovely colours.
Throughout the performance, Marama from Maori Princess (Mere Amohau) wore the most beautiful native costume with long kiwi cloak of great beauty. The girls and men in the Maori choruses also wore their native costumes throughout and these included some rare and lovely mats.
Lady Betty Cantago (Mollie McKenzie) made her first appearance in a model frock of mellow gold sheer with pleated skirt and matching halo hat with a quill across the front. In the second act she chose a frock and bolero with peasant embroideries in red, blue and green. Her wide embroidered belt in these shades was laced in front and her white bonnet-shaped hat had a crown in red, blue and green.
Nelly Britain (Ivena Pothan), a farmer's daughter, wore long overalls in deepest larkspur blue linen with skirt in fine checks and a blue sun-bonnet. In the second act she chose a white linen frock with blue and red pipings and blue hat with upturned brim and in her final appearance she wore a pleated tartan skirt with a black velvet jacket.

Two Groups of Sleepers
"You have probably noticed that there are two types of sleepers: the evening sleeper who, characteristically goes to bed early, falls asleep rapidly, awakes early and feels completely rested. In marked contrast, many other sleepers are late, remaining efficient until late in the evening, but in the morning requires abundant sleep, rises reluctantly and attains his full capacity comparatively late. In this type, shortening of the morning sleep is most important. These types are not necessarily the result of education or environment, since both are met with in the same family. How far one type can be changed into the other by training is unknown, but if all exciting games and stories are eliminated before bedtime and the wireless serials condemned, the child's mind is in a calm state including sleep and even if the child does not sleep he is in a relaxed state to rest, provided the home is in comparative quiet.

Wairoa Railway Station

HEALTHY FIGURES

Outward And Inward Traffic

"Daily Mail" Special Service. WAIROA.

At a meeting of the Wairoa Hockey Sub-Association on Monday evening it was decided to rescind the motion ruling out the Whakaki ground, but the ground must be put in good order before playing on it.

A letter was received from the Poverty Bay Association asking for July 20 as the day for playing for the Lady Carroll shield and the Single Cup and Badges, but as team will be travelling to Napier on that day for the Manuera Shield game it was decided to suggest August 3.

Strenuous Year

Women.—Taihoa v. Swifts, at 1.30. Referees Mrs Single and Mr Dulo. Old Girls v. Kahungunu, at 2.45. Referees Mrs Christie and Mrs McGregor.

Men.—Waihirere v. Taihoa, at 1.30. Referees Mr Rees and Mr R. Whaitua. Kahungunu v. Tapuae, at 2.45. Referees Mr B. Wairoa and Mr Stewart.

second year of operation" comments the stationmaster. "It is once again pointed out that no account has been taken of the heavy bookings at the Gisborne station and passenger agencies by passengers who purchase their tickets in Gisborne and join the rail-cars at Wairoa, nor is any account taken of the goods and parcels which are through booked to and from Gisborne and district from and to stations in the North and South Island. The returns for these classes of traffic are accounted for in Gisborne.

Saturday's Fixtures

"Looking back over the first year of operation, which has been a strenuous one," states an official of the staff of the Wairoa station, "it is pleasant to recall that the railway department to place the railway facilities at the disposal of the public has fully recompensed the staff for its efforts to popularise the use of the rail."

Sergeant R. Holt, Waipawa, who left yesterday on his return to the presentation, during the week-end of a fountain pen by Mrs E. Furlinger, on behalf of the members of the St. John's Presbyterian choir, in appreciation of his services to the choir over a number of years.

A POPULAR CAST IN "GOLDEN BOY"

Romantic Drama With Good Acting

Unquestionably unique in treatment and in theme, Columbia's "Golden Boy" will begin to-day at the Regent Theatre, Hastings, as it proves that Hollywood, when it wants to, can turn out definitely superior entertainment. The new film, directed by Rouben Mamoulian and starring Barbara Stanwyck, Adolphe Menjou and William Holden, is based upon Clifford Odets's romantic drama.

"Golden Boy" tells of a young violinist, impatient and tired of work in town and the city when he will find a success on the concert stage, who rapidly finds his way to the top in the prize-ring. In his swift climb to pugilistic stardom, he ruthlessly tramples upon the hopes of his music-loving father, ignores the cryings-out of his own conscience. He becomes brutalised by his new environment, until his love for a disillusioned young woman—the only person who really understands the tremendous conflict raging within him—causes him to give up the ring and return to the forgiveness of his family.

Under Rouben Mamoulian's direction, Odets's stage success becomes vibrant film material. "Golden Boy" is proof again that the affairs of everyday people are a fertile source of excitement on the screen.

Of the utmost importance in any consideration of "Golden Boy" is the performance turned in by newcomer William Holden, making his motion picture debut in the all-important title role. The handsome young actor, so convincing in his "Golden Boy" characterisation that we risk little in prophesying stardom and tremendous popularity for him.

Class performance by Barbara Stanwyck and Adolphe Menjou add charm and a certain exuberance to the picture. Miss Stanwyck is so ideally cast that one forgets her identity and remembers only Lorna Moon, the girl who finds romance for the first time when "Golden Boy" tells her his dreams. Mr Menjou is superb as the cynical, harassed fight manager.

State

DRAMA AND COMEDY COMBINED

"Slightly Honourable," An Amusing Production

Rated one of the season's most sophisticated and amusing film stories of the year in high places. Walter Wanger's "Slightly Honourable," with a cast headed by Pat O'Brien, Edward Arnold, Ruth Terry and Broderick Crawford, now showing at the State Theatre, Hastings. It was directed by Tay Garnett.

This is a picture that strikes along two entertainment fronts, coupling a strong dramatic plot with a smart comedy theme, and scoring successfully in both departments. Cast on the Wanger theory of "the best available players for even the smallest roles," the film features a lineup of supporting talent that includes Alan Dinehart, Claire Dodd, Phyllis Brooks, Janet Beecher, Bernard Nedell, Douglas Dumbrille, Eve Arden, Douglas Fowley, John Sheehan and many others.

It introduces a new personality to local audiences, Ruth Terry, the 18-year-old actress Wanger pulled out of nowhere and placed in the leading role opposite Pat O'Brien. Although this is her first major screen role, advance reports claim that the Irish miss handles her assignment like a veteran, and more than holds her own in the face of real acting competition. Ruth is cast as Ann Seymour, a vivacious and lively night club entertainer, who adopts Pat O'Brien as "her man" when he rescues her from a man-handling admirer.

As John Webb, lawyer and suave man-about-town, Pat O'Brien is in a decidedly different type of role. His performance is complemented with that of Broderick Crawford, who plays Rus Sampson, Webb's law partner and pal. "Slightly Honourable" is a picture that John Webb tackles a man-sized job when he attempts to spotlight a society scandal in his State—a scandal that involves thousands of dollars and many glittering personalities in high society.

This is a dangerous assignment because it means that Webb must battle the powerful political machine of Vincent Cushing, played by Edward Arnold. How this crusade involves a group of beautiful women and causes a series of strange crimes carries the story to a smash climax with a surprise finish.

Mayfair

DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

"CALL IT A DAY"

With Drama, "Once A Doctor"

If you like your film dished up in splendidly-acted, deftly-directed fashion, with a generous dash of light comedy, and seasoned with tender romance, you can't afford to miss "Call It A Day," which is now showing at the Mayfair Theatre, Napier.

It is delightful comedy-drama based upon the sentimental experiences of all the members of an English suburban family when the first day of spring sets them wandering along love paths. There is brilliant dialogue, plenty of laughs, and some moments of the deepest and tenderest sentiment. Heading the cast is Olivia de Havilland, Ian Hunter, Roland Young and others include Alice Brady, Anita Louise and Beryl Mercer.

Dealing with the heroic efforts of a young physician to rehabilitate himself after he has been unjustly stripped of his reputation and driven from practice, "Once A Doctor," heralded as one of the most thrilling melodramas of the year, came from Warner Bros. studio to the Mayfair.

Donald Woods, who was so excellent in "Anthony Adverse," plays the doctor. Jean Muir is the feminine influence that helps him in his struggle and crowns his victory. Supporting players include Gordon Oliver, Gordon Hart, Henry Kolker, Louise Stanley, David Carlyle, Harlan Tucker and Joseph King.

"THE FIRST REBEL"

ACTION DRAMA

John Wayne, Claire Trevor Featured

Claire Trevor and John Wayne, who recently won salutes of praise for their most recent performances in "Stagecoach," again combine their talents in an historical epic, "The First Rebel." The film, which is now showing at the State Theatre, Napier, deals with a stirring chapter in American history.

The colourful story laid in the 1760's depicts in dramatic fashion the revolt of Pennsylvania colonists against British soldiery over protection given unscrupulous traders selling guns and ammunition to Indians. These events are said to have forecast the Battle of Lexington more than several years later when Minute Men, called from their ploughs, grabbed up muzzle-loaders and precipitated the Revolution of 1776.

John Wayne is cast in the role of James Smith, a name all but lost to history. As the courageous leader of the frontiersmen who were driven to take up arms against the arrogant British army officials, Wayne has a most virile part.

Claire Trevor portrays Janie McDougall, impetuous daughter of a tavern keeper. Her character is constantly being thwarted by her lover going off to do battle. "Sword of Honour," the second feature, is the most ambitious military picture ever turned out of a British studio. It was produced with the entire co-operation of the War Office and the Military Authorities. Its authentic and thrilling entertainment is ensured by both story and artists. Geoffrey Toone, Sally Gray and Dorothy Dickson are starred and supported by featured players such as Donald Gray and Wally Patch. The location is the Royal Military College at Sandhurst, and every phase of the training and commissioning of the officers is faithfully and accurately shown.

REGENT DAILY at 2.30 and 8 p.m.

Plans at Lockyer's (phone 3029) or Theatre (phone 5018).

Government Policy. Sir,—I was interested to hear that the Government don't wish to take any of the patriotic money collected and yet one fifth of it goes in exchange. Out of nearly £1000 collected by the Girl Guides (£53 given towards exchange) only £800 will leave the country and yet the Government profess to be doing their bit towards the war.

Fire Danger

The ease with which a fire may start was shown in an incident which occurred at a Hastings home on Monday night. After gathering wood from a pile in the washhouse, the housewife threw the apparently extinguished match end into one of the wooden wash tubs and made her way indoors. A member of the household returning late that night was startled by a small fire burning, but did not attach any significance to it.

Advertising Napier

Members of the Napier Retailers' Association who met last night were agreed that in spite of the war the association should continue its efforts to keep the attractions of Napier before the public of New Zealand. "It might be said that we should devote the money to patriotic purposes," said one member, "but if we do not attract visitors and keep up our businesses none of us will be in a position to contribute to patriotic funds."

Excess Profits Tax

It was stated at last night's meeting of the Napier Retailers' Association that the operation of the proposed excess profits tax was being carefully watched by the association and the Chamber of Commerce so that no injustice would be done to retailers. The chairman (Mr J. Fairclough) said that Napier business men were in rather a different position from those in other towns in that many of them were still under liability for the repayment of earthquake loans.

INCREASED PRODUCTION ADVOCATED

Management Committee Established MEETING AT HASTINGS Evidence of the intention of farmers to increase production in every possible way was given at a largely-attended meeting in Hastings last night, presided over by Mr D. G. Begley, chairman of the Heretaunga Dairy Co., and at which there was present Mr R. Marchant, a member of the New Zealand Dairy Board, who addressed the meeting on various phases of production increases.

To reduce the unwieldy nature of the existing large committee for the administration of production schemes, a management committee representing every phase of the industry was set up, consisting of the chairman and twelve members. The committee has the power to co-opt the services of any who may be of assistance.

It was suggested that one man was needed on full-time work to organise and tabulate the committee's activities, and with this in view it was proposed that a suitable man be put on the pay roll of the Department of Agriculture, his time being devoted exclusively to this work.

An offer of the fullest possible co-operation was received from the Farmers' Union in a letter read at the meeting. An alteration in the order of preference for primary products intended for shipment overseas, as outlined by Mr W. J. Polson, M.P., on his recent visit to the district was announced by the chairman, who said that an important modification had since been introduced. The preference was now given as follows: Wool, cheese, bacon, beef, mutton, lamb, eggs and butter. Eggs had previously been placed first, but were actually now needed only if they were available and the shipping space could be obtained.

Drive For Greater Production In his address to the meeting Mr Marchant stated that the Dairy Board had recently been asked by the Government to participate in a drive for increased production of cheese and bacon. Everywhere he had found the utmost enthusiasm, not from any wish for personal gain, but to help the Mother Country. Everybody wanted to do a job of it, and it was therefore of the most vital importance that this effort should be directed down the right avenues. In this connection the Dairy Board had received the greatest co-operation from officers of the Department of Agriculture.

More Cheese Wanted Some ten days ago the British Government had asked for an increase in New Zealand's cheese output of 15,000 tons at least and as much more as was possible. At the moment Mr Marchant pointed out, one-fifth of the butterfat produced went into the making of cheese, the remainder being used for other purposes. A change-over in this respect might mean inconvenience to some, but it would be realised that the interests of Britain were paramount.

It appeal to you, as a farmer myself, to do this job in behalf of the Empire," said Mr Marchant. "There is really no need for me to appeal to your patriotism; everyone here has done his own thinking—this meeting is evidence of that."

An increase of 10,000 tons of bacon was wanted, said Mr Marchant; this, it was anticipated, would mean 100,000 freight carcasses. Some 10,000 extra acres of barley had been asked for from the district, Mr Marchant stated, and he considered that all the grain which could be grown should be grown.

Later, in answer to a question, Mr Marchant said that New Zealand had used 3,000 tons of margarine annually. Of the half million freight carcasses produced some 300,000 were exported, the remainder being consumed. "I would say to you," he added, "produce the foodstuffs Britain wants through local production."

Government Help Mr Marchant dealt further with other aspects of production problems referring briefly to the help to be provided by the Government in respect to labour. Explaining why butter should be last in Britain's needs, Mr Marchant said that high quality margarine was now easily and cheaply available there.

Suggested restriction on the slaughter of porker pigs were discussed by Mr Marchant, who said, referring to the slaughter of porkers, in these districts, that in such cases it was not possible to raise all the pigs to baconer weights on whey. A substantial portion of the increase in baconers could admittedly be obtained from other districts where they were raised to baconer weights, but in the cheese districts this was not always possible.

Guaranteed Price For Barley That there would be a minimum guaranteed price for barley was stated by Mr Begley, who said that he felt there was every justification for a fixed price for this product. "If barley is essential—and it is—there must be some reasonable security for the growers' return," he added. It was hoped that there would be a statement in this connection in the near future.

A question from Mr F. de Staepen, who asked whether the committee's efforts were to be on a voluntary basis was answered by Mr Begley, who said that it had been made clear that the Government did not desire to regiment farmers, but that it was desired to give every facility, and to enlist the co-operation of every farmer.

Many farmers had in the past "bucked" against regimentation of the industry, but power had been given to use compulsion where it was necessary, for instance, to take over land which could be used for crops such as grain, and was not being farmed to its fullest extent. It was hoped to clarify the position as to what land was available for this purpose.

Force Not Wanted The situation in this respect was further explained by Mr Marchant, who said that it was not desired to force anyone to do anything—it was their duty to do it. As far as the transfer of milk from butter to cheese production was concerned, the Dairy Board had consulted with the Department of Agriculture and it had been agreed that if results from their audit were not satisfactory they must have power to ensure success.

Certain butter interests, Mr Marchant continued, did not want interference with their output, however, if Britain wanted cheese she was entitled to get it. The Dairy Board would not sit idly by if results were not obtained. It ready compliance

GREATER PRIMARY PRODUCTION FARMERS ADVISED OF NEEDS

BARLEY AND MAIZE Hawke's Bay Allocation Outlined

Plans for increased production in Hawke's Bay are contained in a statement issued by the Department of Agriculture. The communication outlines how farmers can develop their land, their flocks and their herds for a greatly-increased volume of primary products. The following instructions are given:— Hill country farmers: Better use of land, cleaning up second growth, topdressing. As a way measure a replacement of sheep by cattle is called for wherever possible.

Fat lamb producers: Put more weight immediately into lambs (uniform price for all weights); reduce lamb losses by all means. Committees are to see that light lambs are transferred to farms with feed and not sent to freezing works. Fattening crops are rape and chow mocciler (early crops of chow mocciler can be eaten right down and will give an excellent second crop for winter).

Earlier Grass Spring topdressing is urged on all farmers to give earlier grass and better growth in the summer. Fertiliser works must be relieved of stock to maintain their full production capacity this spring. Spring topdressing will relieve the autumn rush. Labour is available now and topdressers can be arranged on contract.

Beef should be fattened to heavier weights. Rangitikei, Manawatu, Waikarapa, Hawke's Bay and Poverty Bay property owners are to grow 30,000 acres of crops on ploughable land requiring ryegrass. Continued policy for all farmers: Increased carrying capacity in winter by the provision of hay, silage, fodder crops and improved grassland.

Dairy farmers: Butterfat production—milk all cows possible, get more out of herds by better grazing management and use of summer crops (soft turnips and lucerne) in dry districts. The change to cheese production will be arranged by the dairy board. Spring topdressing is important and urgent to relieve fertilizer works' storage and allow full production this spring; it also pays.

Pigs: Butter suppliers should run one sow to each 10 cows or better, they should provide accommodation and shelter and use barley to supplement skim milk, grow root crops or maize for winter feed, feed meal with roots to winter-autumn litters, produce baconers from sows for light pigs in autumn to be transferred to farms where winter feed is available. Cheese suppliers should have one sow to each 12-15 cows; they should use meal to supplement whey and provide for wintering autumn litters.

Poultry farmers: An immediate call will be made to supply cockerets for farm poultry flocks, pullets for increased flocks in town and country, and every egg possible. Cheap feed is assured by maize growers, barley growers, etc. Town and country egg production is a job for women's organisations. Farms should develop as rapidly as possible a young laying flock, should use all broody hens for hatching, use all sources of home-grown feed, skim milk, grass, crop, garden allow full production is the most important and urgent job, and is worthy of every effort by every householder.

Special district efforts have been allocated as follows:— Hawke's Bay: Barley (10,000 acres), grass seed (10,000 acres), maize (1000 acres). Waikato: Maize (500 acres), grass seed (500 acres). Poverty Bay: Maize (4000 acres), barley (2000 acres), grass seed (2000 acres).

Taranaki: Bacon, Wanganui: Bacon, heavier lambs, barley (2000 acres), Rangitikei: Barley (2000 acres), grass seed (1000 acres). Manawatu: Barley (2000 acres), grass seed (3000 acres). Waikarapa: Bacon (3000 acres), grass seed (500 acres).

APPEALS ON BEHALF OF SOLDIERS Strict Regulation Enforced By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, July 2. Only organisations connected with and receiving endorsement from provincial patriotic committees will be allowed in future to make appeals for funds for soldiers' comforts.

Democrat Labour Party NAPIER BRANCH MEETS

New Offices Now Open PROGRESS REPORTED

The usual fortnightly meeting of the Napier branch of the New Zealand Democrat Labour Party was held on Monday night. Mr D. B. McRae presided over an excellent attendance of members. A large amount of correspondence from other branches of the party was dealt with. Nelson is the latest town to set up a branch of the Democrat Party and from reports is flourishing and making great progress.

The setting up of a provisional national executive of the party in Wellington is now an accomplished fact, and this will be of great assistance to branches in formulating future plans by the interchange of ideas through the national office. The first copy of the weekly news bulletin came to hand and from now on will be a regular feature of the Democrat Labour Party's activities. A feature will be the recording of the various activities of sister branches, while special articles will be regularly contributed by Mr J. A. Lee, M.P., and other prominent public figures.

The local branch's new quarters have now been completed and furnished and present a most attractive appearance. Two delegates from the Taradale branch were present and reported that steady progress is being maintained in that district. It was decided that the Taradale branch should be represented on the local executive and thus be enabled to keep in close touch with the activities of the Napier branch.

Members Thanked The chairman on behalf of the executive thanked all retailers of the town for their very helpful co-operation throughout the year. They had responded excellently to every call made on them, he said. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mr J. Fairclough; vice-president, Mr E. E. Mansfield; committee, Messrs A. Beck, T. B. Ferguson, R. M. Lawton, O. C. McNaught, R. N. Niven, L. E. Mills, and C. E. Rogers, with power to add; auditor, Mr I. L. Prime.

The following new members were elected: Shepherd and Co., Prestige Millinery Co., Tip Top Milk Bar, Adams Bruce Ltd., J. Hays and Co., H. Setter and Co., Miss Neilson, Messrs R. Johnston, Collier, A. Cowley and H. Kidston.

Canvasses of Shops The chairman urged members to adhere to the association's rule not to give donations or trophies to any object not approved by the association. He was not referring to patriotic or similar appeals, but rather to such affairs as country sports meetings. There was a tendency to make a "chopping block" of the retailers in such cases, he said.

Many Frosts In Month NAPIER WEATHER Rainfall Lowest For 31 Years MUCH SUNSHINE The exceptional total of 15 frosts was recorded in Napier during June. The most severe were of 9.5 degrees on the 30th, 9.1 degrees on the 22nd, and 8.8 degrees on the 6th.

The highest maximum temperature was 63.5 degrees on June 7, and the lowest minimum 27.8 degrees on June 30. There was a total of 173.2 hours of bright sunshine, only one day falling to contribute to this figure. The average was 5.7 hours per day. Rainfall was the lowest since 1909, only 37 inches being recorded. The figure for June last year was 1.60 inches.

Neither side could get a good back movement, and the majority of the work was done by the forwards. The Pirates pack showed up well in these rushes, led by the scrum and Boardman, but they were held up more than once by infringements.

Dyer at full back was the soundest of the Hastings side. Horton showed up well on occasions and was solid in defensive work, while Miller's try was a very spectacular piece of work.

Directors who are also "workers" MUST BELONG TO UNION Interesting Judgment Judgment for plaintiff was entered by Mr J. Miller, S.M., in a reserved decision given in the Magistrate's Court, Hastings, yesterday, in a case heard last week in which the Inspector of Awards, Mr W. J. Bennett, claimed from Wilson's Bakery Ltd. £10 for a breach of the drivers' award. As H. Wilson, a son of the managing-director, and himself a shareholder, and director of the company, had resigned his union membership in order to test the case, the Magistrate fixed a nominal penalty of 5/.

Notwithstanding that H. Wilson worked as a director in the company and did some canvassing outside his duties as director, he was engaged in the industry, said the Magistrate. He was therefore a worker within the meaning of the Act.

The Magistrate said that it had to be remembered that persons formed themselves into a company rather than a partnership as a company provides certain advantages. They got the advantage of the former, and lost some of the advantages of the latter, but they could not have both.

ACTIVE YEAR IN REVIEW NAPIER RETAILERS MEET

CARNIVAL EVENTS Improved Financial Position

A year of great activity was reviewed at the annual meeting of the Napier Retailers' Association, held last night. Mr J. Fairclough presided over a fair attendance of members. The balance sheet showed a credit of £94 12 11 as compared with 17/11 credit at the beginning of the year. The secretary (Mr J. St. J. Hindmarsh) reported that every member had been financial last year. In his review of the year's activities the executive committee stated that an art union had been held with the permission of the Department of Internal Affairs, the major part of the proceeds (£150) being donated to the Napier Borough Council for the purpose of erecting further cabins at Kennedy Park Motor Camp.

Stalls were run at the Mardi Gras during Christmas week, the outcome being to the whole satisfactory. Spring week, from September 1 to 8, was celebrated by placing tubed trees at intervals in the main streets, adding to the air of novelty and brightness in the shopping area. The Association also took part in the Centennial celebrations from February 17 to March 2. The main streets were decorated with tubed trees and decorated pylons at street intersections. The latter was done in conjunction with the Borough Council and the result was most effective.

Calaghan was sending the ball back very fast and very accurately, and the Old Boys backs were making many dashing attacks into Celtic territory. But also frequent were the penalties against Old Boys in the set scrum, and Calaghan was credited by the referee with these also.

Dave Thompson, an Old Boys front row man, played a particularly dashing game and scarcely ever did he leave the ball. It was a fine exhibition of the forward game. Phil Reid made a number of great breaks, but was outwitted on the day by Palmer, his vis-a-vis, who was up on the play very fast and went through impressively a number of times.

Geddes seems to be more or less a regular player in the Celtic full back position these days and fills the job capably. Huata is still one of the hardest working forwards in the Celtic pack, but King shows promise of being a first class toller, also in the tight.

Hodgkinson, left winger for Old Boys, was not nearly as consistent as Gumbley on the right wing. He dropped several of his passes when he might have secured tries. Gumbley was handling well and was showing real drive in his running. Havelock v. Marist Handraves was in top form with his kicking, scoring half of Marist's 18 points from his boot. Some of the kicks were from difficult angles, one particular being almost from the sideline.

The forwards dominated play, and in this respect Marist was undoubtedly superior. In addition to their extra weight they packed better and secured more ground in the closing stages of the game. "Rourke and Coady were always prominent. The visiting forwards were also a hard working combination."

The match between Pirates and Hastings played at McLean Park, Napier, was an encounter, but the latter team showed more ability to finish off their movements and eventually ran in three tries, by nine points to three. If Hastings had taken more advantage of their opportunities in the first spell the margin might have been considerably more than six points.

Neither side could get a good back movement, and the majority of the work was done by the forwards. The Pirates pack showed up well in these rushes, led by the scrum and Boardman, but they were held up more than once by infringements.

Dyer at full back was the soundest of the Hastings side. Horton showed up well on occasions and was solid in defensive work, while Miller's try was a very spectacular piece of work.

Directors who are also "workers" MUST BELONG TO UNION Interesting Judgment Judgment for plaintiff was entered by Mr J. Miller, S.M., in a reserved decision given in the Magistrate's Court, Hastings, yesterday, in a case heard last week in which the Inspector of Awards, Mr W. J. Bennett, claimed from Wilson's Bakery Ltd. £10 for a breach of the drivers' award. As H. Wilson, a son of the managing-director, and himself a shareholder, and director of the company, had resigned his union membership in order to test the case, the Magistrate fixed a nominal penalty of 5/.

Notwithstanding that H. Wilson worked as a director in the company and did some canvassing outside his duties as director, he was engaged in the industry, said the Magistrate. He was therefore a worker within the meaning of the Act.

The Magistrate said that it had to be remembered that persons formed themselves into a company rather than a partnership as a company provides certain advantages. They got the advantage of the former, and lost some of the advantages of the latter, but they could not have both.

WEEKLY RUGBY REVIEW LAST SATURDAY'S GAMES

Tech-High v. M.A.C. The victory by M.A.C. over Tech-High can be put down chiefly to superior forward work on the part of the Maoris. Although Tech-High had a strong winning line, in the tight they were unable to break through far beyond the M.A.C. twenty-five for a great part of the spell. Following the changeover M.A.C. looked more like a winning team and were clearly superior in the forwards.

In the backs, too, the Maoris were providing the bristling wall. Warentini was frequently outworking Dalton consequently the M.A.C. backs were going well. The Newton-Himons-A. Brown combination was performing well with Newton giving his usual bright game.

A. Brown's second five-eighths for M.A.C. turned on a good game. He has been a consistently reliable link in the Maori's back-line, and on Saturday he showed rather M.A.C. with one particularly fine cut through. There was a very strong wind against Renata when he came forward to play a penalty kick. The M.A.C. left winger also played a "bumper" game.

Clothing was the best back on the Tech-High side. A. Walford, M.A.C. left winger also played a "bumper" game. Celtic v. H.S.O.B. Hastings High School Old Boys played one of their best games for some time and this was chiefly due to two factors: J. W. Calaghan, Old Boys' new hooker, and Dave Thompson, Cook, playing his second game for the fifteen as half-back.

Calaghan was sending the ball back very fast and very accurately, and the Old Boys backs were making many dashing attacks into Celtic territory. But also frequent were the penalties against Old Boys in the set scrum, and Calaghan was credited by the referee with these also.

Dave Thompson, an Old Boys front row man, played a particularly dashing game and scarcely ever did he leave the ball. It was a fine exhibition of the forward game. TRIBUTES PAID TO LATE SIR WALTER CARNCROSS The House Adjourns After Paying Respect To The Memory Of A Faithful Servant

SIR WALTER CARNCROSS

By Telegraph—Press Association. PARLT. BLDGS., July 2. When the House of Representatives met at 7.30 p.m., the Prime Minister (the Hon. P. Fraser), moving "that the House records its high sense of the distinguished service of the late Sir Walter Carncross and expresses its sincere sympathy with his widow and family," said that the late Sir Walter had for many years been a notable figure in the political life of this country.

He had played a prominent part right from the moment of his entry into the political arena until the time of his death. He had been conspicuous in the time of Balance and Seddon, and during the past 20 years had earned the friendship and esteem of all with whom he had come in contact. He had remained a Liberal supporter right throughout his political life and had been a pioneer for the clearer understanding between the Mother Country and New Zealand.

He had been kindly and obliging and had helped to smooth the path for many new members. The House was all the poorer because of his passing. The motion was seconded by the Leader of the Opposition (the Hon. A. Hamilton), who recalled that Sir Walter was one of the three men throughout the Empire who had a record of 50 years of service in the Legislature, the others being the Rt. Hon. D. Lloyd George, and Dr. W. R. Maloney, of Melbourne.

Sir Walter's life and service were an inspiring example to them all. It would be a great source of satisfaction and pride to Lady Carncross and family to know that Sir Walter had such a distinguished career in the service of his country. Other tributes were paid by the Minister of Defence (the Hon. F. Jones), the Minister of Agriculture (the Hon. W. Lee Martin), the Minister of Labour (the Hon. P. C. Webb), the Rev. F. L. Frost, Mr A. E. Jull, and Mr E. T. Tirikatene.

As a mark of respect to the late Sir Walter, the House adjourned at 8.20 until 7.30 to-morrow evening.

REPORTABLE ESCAPE OF NAPIER MAN LORRY WRECKED Driver Thrown From Cab A miraculous escape from serious injury was experienced by a young Napier man, Mr Leslie Grant, when the lorry he was driving left the road and crashed into a gully near Waikare at about 5.50 yesterday morning. He jumped or was thrown out just as the load of steel on the tray of the lorry crashed through into the cab.

The wreckage then burst into flames, burning fiercely until nothing was left but a twisted chassis. Mr Grant was driving a lorry owned by W. M. Angus, Ltd., of Napier, and towing a trailer which was also loaded with steel. Proceeding in a southerly direction he was approaching Fookes's bridge at Waikare, near the site of the former No. 3 Public Works camp, when the vehicle left the road, missing the bridge altogether and plunging into the gully.

The crash was heard by Mrs J. Blair, of Waikare, who notified the postmaster, Mr D. O'Rourke, that an ambulance might be needed. In the meantime, Mr Blair had gone to the bridge and had assisted the injured driver back to the main road, from where he was taken to the Waikare Hotel and was made comfortable pending the arrival of the ambulance from Napier.

On admission to hospital he was found to be suffering from chest injuries and superficial cuts and abrasions, but his condition was not serious. He was reported last night to be quite comfortable and progressing favourably. Mr Grant is a single man residing in Vigor Brown Street.

HE HAD LOST HIS WAY Man Arrested Outside Nurses' Home A sequel to an incident which occurred at the Nurses' Home at the Napier Hospital last on Monday night was heard in the Napier Police Court yesterday, when Robert Inglis, a seaman, appeared before Messrs F. S. Tarrant and C. F. H. Pollock, J.P.s, on a charge of being found without lawful excuse on enclosed premises and also with being found drunk in Park Road on July 2.

Inglis pleaded guilty to both charges. Sergeant W. O'Donnell, who conducted the proceedings for the police, said that at about 11.45 p.m. on Monday the accused was seen outside one of the windows at the Nurses' Home. He was making a certain amount of noise and Nurse Cameron, who was retiring, told him to go away. The accused wandered around the side of the building, where he was arrested by Constable Williamson.

When questioned by the constable Inglis said that he was a seaman from the Pukeko, which was berthed at the Breakwater, and went on to explain that he had been drinking with some friends further down Park Road. He said that he had lost his way, but that was no excuse. By his presence on the premises Inglis was guilty of an offence, and he did annoy the nurses, said Sergeant O'Donnell. Mr Pollock: Was he really intoxicated?

The Sergeant: Yes. There can be no doubt that he was under the influence of liquor, but apart from that he seems quite a decent sort of chap. Mr Pollock (addressing the accused): What were you really looking for? Inglis: I had lost my way. The accused was convicted and fined £1 15/- on the first charge and was convicted and discharged on the second.

LABOUR PARTY MEETS AFFAIRS OF NAPIER BRANCH THE SALES TAX

Increase Charged To Public The Napier branch of the New Zealand Labour Party held its meeting on Monday night when there was a very good attendance. In the evening Mr J. M. H. Meek, the organiser, Mr J. M. H. Meek reported that the sum of £20 had been subscribed.

Mr A. E. Armstrong, liaison officer to the Minister of Labour, gave an interesting address on the 4B Scheme to assist farmers in maintaining and increasing production. Mr Armstrong stated that he had received very encouraging support from the farmers of the district. He stressed the point that there was great scope in bringing unused land in close proximity to the towns of Hawke's Bay into production, which would give employment to a considerable number of men, without necessitating their leaving their homes. Mr Armstrong received a hearty vote of thanks for his address.

Camping Ground During the meeting the question was raised of the unused land adjacent to the Kennedy Park Camp, which was proposed to be used to increase the camp. It was pointed out that with the restricted petrol, the number taking advantage of the camp would substantially decrease, and that this land could be brought into immediate cultivation. This would not only aid the Government's urgent request for more production, but would partially solve the present unemployment question in Napier.

It was resolved that Messrs Armstrong and Pullen approach the Borough Council on the matter. Exception was taken to the increased sales tax being immediately passed on to the public notwithstanding that the Government had stated that such increase should only be passed on in connection with goods which had been affected by where the morning following the anti-tax. Instances were quoted nomenclature by the Minister, the public were charged the increase.

PIGEON AND CAGE BIRD CLUB The Napier Pigeon and Cage Bird Club held its final meeting of the current year at the week-end when the leading topic of discussion was the second annual show to be held in the Foresters' Hall on July 12 and 13. It was agreed that all profits should be donated to the Red Cross Appeal Fund.

Intention is suggested that the show should be a successful success, and entries to date have easily surpassed those of last year, especially from outside the district. The show section of cage birds was judged by Mr J. Josephs. The positions obtained in the table show were as follows:—

"MARAMA" OPENS ITS SEASON AT HASTINGS

Maori And Pakeha Mingle In This Delightful Comedy Opera

Skilfully produced and running surprisingly smoothly for its first performance, the comedy opera "Marama," presented by the Hastings Amateur Operatic Society, opened its season at the Municipal Theatre, Hastings, last night. Even the most critical in the audience must have been delighted by the splendid blend of song numbers exceptionally well presented by the chorus, the pleasing stage settings, and the hakas, poi dances, and action songs by Maori members of the cast.

"Marama" has an especial significance to Hastings. With words and music by Hastings writers, the opera was first produced in 1920, and its success was acclaimed throughout the tour undertaken at that time.

When "Marama" was presented in Hastings last night its cast consisted of several players filling their roles of 1920. Notable among these were Mere Amohau as Marama, Frank Byrne as the Governor-General, Leon Fall as Lord Auckland, Harry Poppelwell as Auckland's son, and W. H. Nikera as the Tohunga.

Strong Chorus
There is no doubt that the chorus was one of the strongest features of the production. Well balanced throughout, they carried through with a delightful and enthusiastic that bespoke enjoyment in their work.

It can safely be said that the Maori numbers were the highlight of the show. The most delightful of these was the "Haka" when the Maori braves staged a stirring haka at the close of the first act, imparting a spirit of excitement that gave promise of things to come in the latter half of the programme.

Enchanting pois, startling hakas and sweetly-blended canoe song enchanted the audience in the second act. It can be said that the presentation of all the Maori numbers, in word, action and dress, was almost flawless, and the promoters have reason to feel well satisfied with the work of the native members of the company.

Individual Members
Eric Poynter as Alan Dale, a sheepfarmer, creditably filled what can be considered the leading male role of the cast. The freshness of his acting, coupled with a splendid voice, made his work most pleasing throughout.

Warming to her work as the play progressed, Mere Omohau as Marama no doubt was quite at home in the title lead, her role of 20 years ago. Her acting was superb and her voice had lost little of its delightfulness.

Leon Fall's performance was entirely satisfactory. His studied manner was quite suited to the role of a slightly pompous lord, and the way in which he carried off the comic situations reflected many years' stage training and an intimate knowledge of the script.

As Auckland's son, Harry Poppelwell was excellent. Filling his original role, he acted his part with spontaneity and vim, providing many of the laughs of the play.

Miss Potnan Excellent
Honours for a splendid performance must go to Ivenda Potnan, as Nellie Britain, a farmer's daughter.

ATHLETIC GIVEN THE MATCH

Y.M.P.'S BEHAVIOUR AT FAULT
WAIROA RUGBY
No Senior Game On Saturday

"Daily Mail" Special Service.
WAIROA.

In view of four Wairoa players being required for the Hawke's Bay representative fixture on Saturday, it was decided at a meeting of the management committee of the Wairoa Rugby Sub-Union on Monday evening to postpone the final of the senior championship until Saturday, July 13. There were therefore to be no senior football at Wairoa this Saturday.

Mr R. M. McDonald, who refereed the game last Saturday between Athletic and Y.M.P., which he stopped early in the first half, advised the committee that he had terminated the game prior to half-time because the Y.M.P. team was not taking the game seriously.

The referee stated that he had warned the players on two occasions previously, but no notice was taken of the warnings so he decided to call the game off. The game was awarded to Athletic.

A letter is to be sent to the Y.M.P. club pointing out to them that such conduct is not in the best interests of the game.

Rep. Fixture
A letter was received from the Hastings Sub-Union suggesting dates for the annual representative fixture to be received and it was decided to advise them that the usual representative matches had been cancelled for this season.

The following are the fixtures for next Saturday:-
Junior
Athletic v Nuhaka, Wairoa No. 1 ground, at 2.45.
Y.M.P., a bye.

Third Grade
High School v Athletic, Wairoa No. 1 ground, at 1.30.

FAITH, NOT ARMS, WILL DEFEND THE CHURCH

Rev. D. M. Cattanaeh Reviews Effects Of Nazim On Religion

"The only way to defend the Church is to get inside it and live according to the Gospel it teaches," said the Rev. D. M. Cattanaeh, addressing members of the Hastings Rotary Club yesterday on "The Church and the State in Germany." "We may save the Church in Germany if we win the war, and we are going to save it. We cannot save the Church by arms," he said.

Dealing with the manner in which the relations of the Church and State differed, Mr Cattanaeh said that the Church was the trustee of the redeeming gospel, while the State was the guarantor of justice, order and civil liberty. In its aim to encourage man to acknowledge Divine life the Church could not use coercion, while the State had to have recourse to that means in a world that was not perfect.

There were activities which belonged to the State, and others which were definitely of the Church, said Mr Cattanaeh. It was where they overlapped that tension occurred. The Church could never renounce its work of teaching and preaching.

Nazis Deny Freedom
The Nazi State had denied all freedom which the world confers, said Mr Cattanaeh. He pointed out that the Church had to restrict its activities for the sake of the State. In the English black-outs the church agreed to discontinue its services in the evenings, and comply with the regulations.

Exchange control was affecting the Churches in this country, said Mr Cattanaeh, restricting their forwarding funds for missionary work. There had been no real protest, however, for the Government had been very reasonable.

Conflict arose when the Church was denied the right to be as the Church and carry on its work accordingly, said Mr Cattanaeh. In Germany any group of people such as the Church, which was going to give superior loyalty to a power above Hitler, was suppressed by the authorities.

Hitler had no other choice than to view the Christian Church as his enemy, and the Church therefore did not give unqualified obedience to the will of the State. The Nazi conception of religion could not be reconciled with Christianity.

National Socialism was founded on the worship of the race, believing that the Aryan race was supreme, and that it was the destiny of the German people to dominate the world. To this end the race must be kept pure, with everything alien removed.

The German people believed that there was one Lord God, and that he had sent Hitler to lead them. That was to be overcome by the Christian Church, said Mr Cattanaeh, and it would not be accomplished by material things between Marxism, Judaism and Christianity. The three enemies of Hitlerism, said Mr Cattanaeh, were the only Church that the Nazis would accept.

All Churches in Germany had felt the weight of oppression, some together, some singly. One means was to restrict the work of the Church, another was a restriction upon the property and material resources. Another restriction was aimed at its members, particularly the clergy, while the fourth and most serious was the attack upon the teachings of the Church.

Altered Faith
The Churches of Germany had been asked to alter their faith to terms of blood and race and soil, and to respect the walls between Jews and Gentiles which had been broken down. The issue was one faith against another faith, one spirit against another spirit, and one God against another God.

BORSTAL TERM FOR MAORI
THEFTS FROM CARS AT HASTINGS
NINE CHARGES
Cases Dealt With Yesterday

A 20-year-old Maori, Boy Simon, was committed to the Borstal Institution for two years by Mr J. Miller, S.M., in the Hastings Magistrate's Court yesterday on nine charges of theft from motor-cars at Hastings. Mr W. E. O'Connor, P.M., who appeared for the defendant, described him as "one of the world's unfortunates."

The charges involved the theft of:
(1) Travelling rug and canvas cover valued at £2/12/6, the property of M. M. Milne on June 13.
(2) Man's tweed overcoat, valued at £5/10/-, owner unidentified, on June 25.

(3) Pair of trousers, valued at £1 10/-, the property of Rowland Cashmore, on June 13.
(4) Travelling rug, valued at £2, property of Eric Boyle, on June 20.

(5) Overcoat valued at £2, owner unidentified, on June 21.
(6) Man's dressing gown, valued at £1, owner unidentified, on June 23.

(7) Shirt, tie and socks, valued at 14/-, the property of W. M. Doward, on June 21.
(8) Woman's handbag, valued at 8/6, property of Fanny Balharry, on June 21.

(9) Travelling rug valued at 10/-, the property of W. H. Garland, on June 21.

Complaints Received
Detective H. E. Campin, prosecuting, said that the police had received a number of complaints of thefts from cars in Hastings. Constables Craigie and Foote made inquiries and a subsequent interview with the defendant, who admitted the offences. Practically all the stolen property had been recovered.

The defendant had recently been discharged from Borstal and had been sleeping out and generally leading a vagrant life, said Detective Campin.

Simon had come to Hastings looking for work, and when he was unsuccessful he had applied for social security benefits, said Mr Bate. When he failed to receive any, he began stealing articles; from cars, mostly to keep himself warm. Mr Bate pointed out that it was undesirable that youths should be released from Borstal with no provision for their employment.

HAWKE'S BAY HUNT CUP ESTABLISHED IN 1920

Many Great Races Staged

KOVNO HAD A WIN AND FOUR SECONDS

Now Russell Memorial Hunt Cup

(By MOTUROA.)

Twenty years have passed by since the Hawke's Bay Hunt Club was granted its first totalisator licence, so Saturday's meeting at Hastings will see the "coming of age" of the club as a racing body.

Last year the Hawke's Bay Hunt Cup was renamed the William Russell Memorial Cup Steeplechase as a fitting tribute to a man who did much for racing and hunting in Hawke's Bay.

The late Captain Sir William Russell was one of the most honoured of all Hawke's Bay's fine line of sportsmen.

Keenly interested in hunting, the late Captain Russell was for many years a stalwart of the Hawke's Bay Hunt Club and, as a breeder of thoroughbred jumpers, he also furthered the interests of the club.

In over half a century of close association with racing he bred many fine horses, but his love was always for a good jumper, and one he bred, Coeur de Leon, was unlucky in meeting one of our greatest hurdlers of all time in Record Reign.

When Hunt Clubs throughout New Zealand made their first applications for totalisator permits they met with strong opposition from Racing Clubs, and from many sections of the Press.

While a natural jumper is foaled occasionally, the majority of successful jumpers have graduated from the hunting field where up and down going, and a variety of obstacles teach a horse to be sure-footed and clever at fencing.

There is no better place to educate a young horse and the spirit of the chase brings out other traits; restraint, obedience to the commands of rider, and courage of the highest order.

Several Hunt Clubs had staged totalisator meetings before the Hawke's Bay Hunt Club joined in to make a great jumping fortnight in the 'Bay, the winter session being opened by Napier Park with two class steeplechaser, was the next Hunt Cup winner. He was then practically unknown, and Ted Deslandes won very easily on the King Soul gelding from Commentator, Harrogate, Freehold, a former National Hurdles winner in Wharfedale and four others.

Luna Lux went on to win the Ferguson Cup and Taranaki Hunt Cup Steeplechases in the next couple of months, while the following winter he won the Park Steeplechase and was runner-up in the Wellington and Grand National Steeplechases to Ormeo and Thuring respectively. With an ounce of luck Luna Lux might have won both races.

POSTPONED MEETING. OWING to bad weather the 1933 meeting had to be postponed from July to August and for the second year in succession Mr Beaton led in the winner, Conoor (E. Deslandes) easily beating Toomal, while the only other starter, the favourite, Chronic, fell.

There was a chapter of accidents in the 1934 Hunt Cup, in which Cotswold (E. Deslandes) beat old Doze (who was at tall odds) and Maussim, the other five starters failing to complete the course.

The late C. E. Twist scored his second Hawke's Bay Hunt Cup success in the following year when that good Lucullus gelding Prosy Boy decisively beat Deslandes' mount Panpadair, with the Manawatu hunter The Ranger next. Prosy Boy went on to win the rich Akuranga Hunt Cup and run the Tour to half a neck in the Waikato Hunt Cup.

Cotswold returned to the fold to run third the following year to Royal Songster, ridden by Ashley Jenkins. Given was second and there were seven starters.

A STRONG FIELD. WHEN Miss Pango won in 1937 with 10.6 she met a good field. However, this good Awapuni mare had won the Hunters' Steeplechase at Ellerslie in the spring and the previous winter she had scored in the Rangitikei and Manawatu Hunt Cups.

Miss Pango figured in one of the best Hunt Cup finishes on record, for she beat Wykemist by less than a length, with Cotswold only a neck further back. Wykemist was a fine horse, but he had just won the Napier Steeplechase and last winter he collected the Park and Hawke's Bay Steeplechases.

Kikiroki was a long price when he won by a furlong in 1938 from Skerryvore, whose amateur rider had a spill five furlongs from home. Sabatini was the only other to finish and the big field included the hot favourite, Power Chief, who was badly off colour and fell with a mile to go.

Kikiroki was a good jumper, but unsound and Skerryvore was in the same box. He had won the Hawke's Bay Steeplechase the previous month. Power Chief was an outstanding performer, but he was unlucky in being runner-up in both the Great Northern and Wellington Steeplechases.

RUSSELL MEMORIAL. LAST year the Russell Memorial Cup Steeplechase was run for the first time and it was fitting that the initial contest for the coveted trophy should go to a member of our old Hawke's Bay racing families; "Boy" Symes was the proud owner of the Crown Imperial gelding Royal Toast, who showed the field of eight a clean pair of heels, his jumping throughout the event being a treat to watch.

Through this win Ted Deslandes became the most successful rider in the Cup steeplechases conducted by the Hawke's Bay Hunt Club. It was his third win, his earlier successes having been achieved on Luna Lux and Conoor.

In last year's contest the favourite Blue Tiger, who had won the Dannevirke Hunt Cup with a brilliant finishing, should go to a member of the Royal Toast at the last fence, but his rider took the corner too sharply and he fell. Still, it is problematical whether he would have beaten Royal Toast had he stood up. Little Aston joined on for second from Count Wiltonyx.

R. Marsh; Goldcourt. At Trentham next week the following engagements have been made: C. P. Shield; Blue Tiger, Gold Ballad, Arabic. G. R. Tattersall; Endorsement. R. Marsh; Vascones.

Cottingham has been a great disappointment as a steeplechaser. In nine starts over fences he has fallen six times, his best effort in this department was his second with 10.6 to Padishah in the Homeby Steeplechase at Riccarton.
