United Press Association-Copyright. (Received July 23, 9.15 p.m.)

WASHINGTON, July 22. The British Ambassador (Lord Lothian) in a radio interview by the well-known political columnists, Drew Pearson, and Robert Allen, predicted that Britain would beat off the anticipated German blitzkrieg. He expressed the opinion that Britain would make some arrangement with the United States regarding her colonies in the event of danger of their falling into enemy hands.

Britain's most urgent need, he said, was destroyers and motor-boats, hundreds of which might make the difference between success and failure, but the ultimate need would be

PRESENT FASHIONS DEMAND SPECIAL FOUNDATIONS

Give Your Consideration To The New Designs

Fashion's change-over from the short-lived hour-glass shape to the long torso and pierette silhouettes presents a new problem. These styles can only be successfully worn over a smooth-fitting one-piece foundation. The slick heltless waist foundation. The slick, beltless waist, the uplifted bosom, the slender young hipline, definitely demand a controlette in one of the new plastic fabrics, specifically designed for that more flowing silhouette.

Fortunately, war and import restrictions do not seem yet to have affected corsetry. In the present showing we find new principles of design, fastidious finish, and an assembly of fresh and interesting matrials which make it the most comerials which make it the most com-prehensive and thoroughly well-designed range we've seen yet.

Because the differences in the de sign of foundations from year to year, according to the fashion trend, are so subtle, such changes are scar-cely ever fully appreciated, if not overlooked altogether. Yet one's overlooked altogether. Let one's mirror confirms in a glance how effective they are in the ultimate purpose—the wearing of the frock. Many a foundation from the sheer Many a foundation from the sheer subtlety of its lines has given a little dressmaker frock a distinguished model air. But perhaps the best way to prove the good work the right foundation does is to slip one of the new styles on over a foundation created for the now rejected doll-waist silhouette. The result will not be the long-torso look you are after. Yet there is only about ten months' difference in the designing of the two silhouettes. It should be sufficient to convince you that to day's fashions need to-day's foundation. Telephone 3076.*

American Doctor Studies 1181 Proposals

The average man in love is a "tongue-tied bungler." He rarely makes a formal proposal of marriage, and when he does it is "inept,

The survey showed also that 25 per cent. of the men "popped the question" in a motor-car, compared with 23 per cent. at the girl's home.

STORY OF ADVENTURE IN THE NAVY

"Sons Of The Sea" Is Thrilling Fare

To-day, when the eyes of the world are on the British Navy and its activities, nothing could be more topical than a film dealing with the Senior Service. To this end, Dart-mouth Naval College and the Cadets, future officers in his Majesty's ships, were placed at the disposal of the producers in this exciting all-colour drama of foreign spies and naval counter-espionage. It is thrilling entertainment, this story of "Sons of the Sea," revealing the manner in which the age-old tradition of the Royal Navy gets into the heart of everyone who has anything to do with the service, and it will open to-day at the Regent Theatre, Hastings.

It tells of a sinister.

It tells of a sinister plot, in which It tells of a sinister plot, in which foreign agents, a young naval cadet and his father, who is in charge of the Naval College, are involved.

Leslie Banks is seen as Captain Hyde, head of the Dartmouth Naval College; Cecil Parker is one of his senior officers; Mackenzie Ward plays the part of a foreign spy; Kay Walsh is there to represent youth, beauty and romance; and Simon Lack is the naval cadet son of Leslie Banks.

Banks.

Lack, who made his screen debut in a small part in "Goodbye, Mr Chips," when he trailed his shy little speech off with the lame but very human words, "It's for keeping biscuits in"—also has a part—a much more important one—in Paul Robeson's latest film, "The Proud Valley." Leslie Banks, who says that he has upheld the Empire in various parts of the world, and in nearly every branch of the service, is seen for the first time as a naval officer. for the first time as a naval officer. He appeared with Paul Robeson in "Sanders of the River."

"HORNLEIGH ON HOLIDAY"

Fine Mystery, With Gay Comedy

Inspector Hornleigh, that likeable and ingenious representative of icotland Yard, makes a happy and velcome reappearance at the State heatre in "Inspector Hornleigh on foliday." Gordon Harker is, of ourse, again the inspector and gain he is accompanied by that ungling, comic aide, Sergeant Bingam, in the person of Alastair Sim. This new film involves the pair in an am, in the person of Alastair Sim. his new film involves the pair in an yen more baffling and exciting mystry than the earlier picture. Hornigh and Bingham are vacationing the seaside when Captain Fraser the Royal Navy plunges off a iff in his car and is burned to

The body, charred beyond recog-on, is identified by a tattoo mark the hand. The verdict is suicide. Inspector Hornleigh has ideas his own. With his aide, dragged But Inspector of his own. With his alde, dragged grudgingly away from vacation joys Hornleigh does a nice piece of leuthing and, after a series of mazing experiences, makes a dis covery (and we're not going to spoil your fun by giving it away!)

Harker gives a grand account of simself again as the inspector and sim contributes plenty of humour

The distaff side is ably and charm-ngly represented by lovely Linden Travers at the top of a fine supportng cast, under the able direction of walter Forde.

On the same programme will be seen "What Would You Do, Chums?" with the inimitable Syd. Walker in fine form. This gay comedy gives him as good an opportunity for the exercise of his humour as did his recent film "I Killed the Count" and promises fine entertain. and promises fine entertain nent.

"Branded" Tells Of Fight Against The Law

A father's harmless deception of 2YA Wellington his daughter as to the true nature of his livelihood is the starting point of a strong domestic story in "Black Eyes" now at the Cosy Theatre, Hastings.

Otto Kruger is the father who, to achieve his dream of placing his only daughter in the world as a perfect lady, finds it necessary to suppress the fact that the considerable sums of money necessary are earned as a head waiter in a are earned as a head waiter in a fashionable restaurant.

fashionable restaurant.

The deception may appear to spring from false shame, but it is more due to a fond father's wish to appear a hero in his daughter's eyes rather than a menial moneygrubber. The sequence which reveals his profession is supremely well handled. Immaculately dressed Kruger enters the restaurant and passes to a private room, respectfully saluted by staff and guests alike. It is not until he takes up a folded napkin and returns to the restaurant that one realises that "Convict 99," starring Will Hay, Britain's No. 1 laughter-maker, one of the greatest comedies in years, is now showing at the Mayfair The-

When Dr. Benjamin Twist (Will Hay) is literally kicked out of St. Michael's famous school he goes to prey on his brother Alfred (Graham Moffatt) and his nagging wife Lottie, played by Googie Withers. Not relishing the prospect of pro-viding an out-of-work with sanctuary beneath her roof, she makes Benjamin answer an advertisement Fate decrees that Dr. Twist shall be interviewed by a board of prison authorities, who are waiting for a Mr Benjamin to arrive from Australia to take up the post of governor of Blackdown Prison. Through mistaken identity Twist gets the job, nis arrival at the prison coinciding with a mutiny among the inmates. School Holidays Train Trips For Children

The calls upon the family purse for assistance in the war effort make it difficult for some people to save for holidays, however much they may feel the need of them. But by limiting their spending on non-essentials, the necessary funds may be built up for refreshing train trips, especially for mothers and children during the school holidays. There is apt to be a nervous and emotional strain on the young folk, who just now are living in an atmosphere of war conditions. A trip by train during the school holidays is therefore a pleasant change as well as a timely tonic for parents and children

ON THE OTHER FOOT

It is possible to goose-step so hard that you kick a boot off, and so are left with less kicking capacity than before. The reception given in Great Britain to Hitler's latest domineering thundering makes it clear that the boot is now on the other foot and that the morale of the British people is now strong enough to have the will to kick the would-be invaders all the way to Berlin. Great Britain, in other words, is now on the defensive-offensive. Our comrades in arms in the Old Country are not merely waiting to "take it." They are poised on their toes and ready to "give it" as and when the opportunity comes, and without stint or hesitation.

Great Britain is not passively waiting to be attacked. By her own methods, tested and tried in the centuries-old fires of adversity, she is ready and willing to attack, in accordance with the old, familiar slogan that attack is the best form of defence. Modern methods of warfare, with their mechanised ruthlessness and Fifth Column tactics, have made certain important differences to the mode of attack, but the root principles remain that a war is won by the side which can endure and fight just a little longer.

Everything that has happened on the Continent has but served to steel the nerves of the British people all over the world. For their part, they have no threats to make that the whole earth will be laid in ruins if the Nazis do not submit. Instead, they have a quiet but dour and strong determination that with the destruction of Nazism the world will be made a safer place and that it is their grim duty to put Nazism once and for all out of existence. The issues have now been made as clear as daylight. There is no room on the same planet for the British Empire and for Nazism at the same time. One or other must go, and we who are British will take serious satisfaction from the fact that it has now been intimated that Great Britain has fitted on the discarded boot.

Side issues like Italy are extraneous to the main issue. Just as the Roman Senator Cato wound up every one of his speeches with the words, "Carthage must be destroyed," so all other questions will be settled when the chief enemy of human peace and well-being receives his final coup de grace.

Along the lines of the British offensive spirit, the British Foreign Minister (Viscount Halifax), referring to Hitler and his ungodly aims, said: "In their hearts, the people he has beaten down curse him and pray that his attacks may be broken by the defences of our island fortress. They long for the time when we shall sally forth and return blow for blow. We will assuredly not disappoint them. Then will come the day of final reckoning, when Hitler and his mad plans for Europe will be shattered by man's unconquerable passion for freedom."

Add this to Mr Churchill's previous speech, and then observe the curious fact that an official message from Berlin stated: "We are awaiting Mr Churchill's reply, after which we can tell how matters stand." This is a new subtlety in German strategy. Never before since the war started have they paused to await replies. They have smashed their way through even while replies were pending and have cared not one jot or tittle for the nature of the replies. Evidently Mr Churchill is being listened to. That is good. When he does reply, it will be in similar terms to those used by Lord Halifax, and although the Germans may not know even then how they stand or where they are, they will most certainly find out later on.

Great Britain and those who are assisting her are inwardly glowing with the sacred determination to turn defence into attack. The lion is on his haunches, ready to spring at the approach of the hunter. It is not impossible that the hunter may never get anywhere near the lair, but find himself hunted in his turn. What is meant is that attack may precede defence. One never knows.

Paper Shortage

As one effect of the acute shortge of wrapping paper, Gisborne outchers have decided to revert to the old method of delivery of meat to suburban customers by tray. In the recent past, all individual orders have been wrapped separately, and this has simplified matters both for he butcher and for the consumer.

Transport Mergers

"Twelve mergers have been form d during recent months and are actually operating," states the annual report of the Transport Department tabled in Parliament. "The number of goods service operators concerned totalled 126 and involved meanly 360 veh." authorities. One nearly 360 veh is authorities. One merger in Marlborough has over the irst period of six months saved 0,000 miles and 200 gallons of petrol compared with the figures of each shareholder when operating individually. A feature of the amalgamations in Canterbury is that all the recent increases in transport costs have been absorbed by the mergers increased efficiency. In no case have any increases been made in the charges to the public."

Dealing with the first class, a vote of £109,000 for the legislative departments, the Hon. A. Hamilton drew attention to the amount of subsides to be voted for agriculture. These, under various headings, totalled over £1,000,000 and he contended that there must be something out of balance when the fair ly high prices being paid for agricultural products were taken into account. Our internal price level totalled over £1,000,000 and he contended that there must be something out of balance when the fairly high prices being paid for agricultural products were taken into account. CROWN EVIDENCE

Counsel's Summary Of Tragedy

By Telegraph—Press Association. AUCKLAND, July 23. The jury having yesterday visited the scene of the tragedy at Waikino, 140 miles from Auckland, the trial was commenced in the Supreme Court to-day before Mr Justice Fair of Douglas Herbert Cartman, aged 22, a mine trucker, of Waihi, on a charge that he murdered Elizabeth Agnes Hamilton.

Mr Meredith, in his opening address for the Crown, said that the case had attracted painful interest throughout the Dominion. Mrs Hamilton was aged 27, of stout build weighing 12 stone, was married in 1935 and for three years before the tragedy was employed as a cook at the Waikino Hotel. Her husband enlisted and went into camp immediately after the outbreak of the war. Until then he and his wife had lived in their own home at Waikino, but when the husband went to camp his wife had resided at the hotel and when on leave the husband stopped

Mr Meredith described the five miles of main road between Waikino and Waihi, also a side road known as the Waitawheta road. Cartman was familiar with the road, having worked for a farmer there. Cartman owned a three-seater car, which was bought from a dealer in December. Both lamps were then intact, and among the tools were two tyre levers. On the evening of the tragedy Mrs Hamilton and Lloyd Moran went for a walk. When they had not returned at 1 a.m., the Moran family, Miss Shaw and a neighbour, Mr Cooper, began a search. At daylight Mr Moran crossed the Awaroa Bridge about 12 chains from the hotel, leading to the Waitawhetu road, and looking down a steep bank he saw the body of his son. He returned to the hotel and summoned the Waihi police. The body was dead and there was a severe wound on the left side of the forehead exposing the brain tissue.

Mr Hamilton pointed out that un-Signs of Struggle. The surface of an old quarry nearby was disturbed as if there had been a struggle. A shoe worn by Mrs Hamilton was found there. Near the disturbed ground were four large patches of heavy bloodstains connected by a light trail of blood. Mr Meredith said that Mrs Ham ilton's body was found four miles further along the Waitawheta road, towards Waihi. It was practically naked and in low scrub and fern. Photographs had been taken showng the state of nudity. There was lying alongside the head. On portion of the road further back, the police found a mark that could have been made by a body held under the Search For Car.

The Rt. Hon. G. W. Forbes (Hurunui) queried the expenditure on the iron and steel industry.

Mr Fraser replied that the industry could not be developed at the present time and that the money to be voted was for officers who were being used in another division of the Industries and Commerce Department. The vote was simply a matter of bookkeeping.

Mr W. S. Goosman (Waikato) contended that occupiers of small farms who were engaged in land development work by the Government were not being given fair treatment in comparison with other workers on the same land. He was discussing the vote of £80,000 for small farms and land development.

Both Mr Goosman and Mr Brad.

Only Alternative

The only alternative to it was to place men on the dole. It was true, said Mr Webb, that waterside commissioners were being paid £1250 each, but other Governments had pead the rofficials greater sums for less important work than was being done by these commissioners.

As a result of the new system of waterfront control, ships were now being dealt with at our ports more quickly than for many years past. Arrangements had been made at the Bluff and Timaru that the next home boats to call at those ports would be worked under the contract system.

The only alternative to it was true, said Mr Webb, that waterside commissioners were being paid £1250 each, but other Governments had pead the right head-lamp missing and the front part was badly buckled. The secretary of the Harbours As sociation of New Zealand (Mr A. G Barnett) forwarded to the board a copy of a letter from the Minister on the subject and asked that an opinion should be given as soon as possible either from the board meeting or by the chairman after ascertaining views of members.

In his letter, Mr Parry stated that local body elections, with few exceptions, were to be held in May, 1941.

Representations had been made to the Government that they should be postponed, during the war. The Statutes Amendment Act, 1939, gave power to postpone them for one year, but it expired on December 31

Dividing the People

The present representations were based on the grounds that it was undesirable to divide the people on political issues by an election of this ype during a period such as the country was passing through.

Cabinet had given preliminary consideration to the representations, but it was of opinion that before a final decision was reached the views of the bodies affected should be obtained. ained.

His own viewpoint was that the elections should be postponed during the war. He knew that they were not postponed during the last war, but they were perhaps not regarded with the same prominence as to-day. They were not all held at the same time, as at present.

Members of local body associations might be reluctant to give their views, as they were personally affected, the Minister added. He would ask them to forget their in dividual positions and to form a co lective viewpoint expressing t general mind of the associations

SEED PRODUCTION ON HERETAUNGA PLAINS

Land More Suited To That Than Stock Grazing

NEW HAWKE'S BAY INDUSTRY

"Our land on the Heretaunga Plains is too good for stock, and should be used exclusively for seed production," said Mr J. W. Palmer, of the Agriculture Department, addressing members of the Hastings Rotary Club yesterday. He spoke of the development of seed production as a new industry in New Zealand, and said that the land about Hastings was equal to any other in the Dominion, if not the best in the world, for this purpose.

The production of seed had been badly neglected in this country, said Mr Palmer, and in consequence farmers had imported the bulk of their needs from overseas. In 1938, 45,353cwt. of seed was exported from New Zealand, and 15,195cwt. was imported. Grass seeds produced in the Dominion were probably second to none in the world, and the success of New Zealand seeds in other countries was admitted by authorities who visited the Dominion, said Mr

Wital Importance

Wr Palmer spoke of the vital importance of seed supplies in a country such as New Zealand and, more particularly, in a district such as Hastings. Fortunately, the Department of Agriculture foresaw the problem which was arising, and

"I do not say that Marlborough is more suitable," said Mr Palmer. "It's just the difference in farming."

Borough Cropping Mr Palmer spoke enthusiastically of the scheme in the Hastings Borough for the utilisation of land for seed production. "Probably some of the best land in New Zealand, if not in the world, is here in our midst," he said. "What have these sections been growing in the past decade? Would that be allowed to happen in Holland and Denmark? No, because they would have no use for narbouring weeds."

harbouring weeds."

The men employed on the scheme at Hastings were doing an excellent job, said Mr Palmer, and he was pleased to say that they were taking a keen interest in the work. Fifty tons of mangold roots were now available for planting, and this work was to begin this week.

Pea Production

scheme was the production of seed, t was hoped to grow other crops n conjunction with the scheme, continued Mr Palmer. Last year 50,000 sacks of peas were exported to Aussacks of peas were callored to rule tralia, and America also wanted supplies, but unfortunately large quantities were not available for sending out of the country this year.

Concerning the mangold seed, Mr

Palmer said that a firm had offered to buy it at the rate of £112 a ton when it was matured. In his opinion, there was no reason why the

STRONG SELLING YESTERDAY

A KEEN DEMAND FOR STORE SHEEP

WAIPUKURAU SALE

Good Market For Cattle

Strong selling for store sheep at the Waipukurau stock sale yesterday resulted in a firm market at rather dearer rates. Ewe hoggets topped the sale at 29/4 to 29/7; forward wether hoggets made 21/-. In-lamb ewes met an erratic demand the quality being below last week's average.

Dearer selling was made by rising three-year-steers in the store cattle pens at to £8 10/-; weaner steers sold particularly well at £3 15/-.

Fat sheep also met a keen demand, with heavy wethers at to 30/1. Prime 2-th ewes made 29/-, with light and plain sorts at from 17/-.

WEEKLY RUGBY

LAST SATURDAY'S

M.A.C. versus Cette

This was a scrappy game with several of the more prominent men of both teams playing out of their usual positions. For a time Everard Jackson was playing at first five-eighths for M.A.C., and was not doing so badly. Hannigan, Celtic's veteran forward was scrum-half, and Phil Reid was not seen to advantage in the full-back position. position.

Tori Reid had a day out when he cored three successive tries. They vere all good ones, strangely enough Il starting and ending in the same They were all typical efforts.

Potts, young Celtic forward, though of light build does not hesitate to get nto the thick of it. On Saturday he lid his full share of the work as well as being one of the prominent Celtic oose forwards.

A. Brown and Barney combined very nicely when the latter scored towards the close of the game. Brown is very consistent and is quite a heady player. Barney is speedy and is still on the improve. Galgey can lay claims to being one of the best tacklers in the Celtic team. He goes low and tips them over very cleanly, as Walford would have noticed on Saturday.

Jackson had a good run at one stage in the game when he broke clear pushing down tacklers with his right hand in great style. This is a typical action of his.

Allsopp played a good game as also did Ross and King. Hannigan behind the scrum was slow, but it was chiefly a forward tussle anyhow.

Hastings versus H. H.S.O.B.

Neither was this a very bright match but the game was characterised by very hard forward play of a loose nature. Hastings were breaking exceptionally fast and were bustling onto the Blues very quickly.

key sub-association held on Monday evening, it was decided to hold a benefit day to assist injured players later in the season.

In future all games must be started punctually, and any team not on the field at the blow of the whiste will forfeit the game.

Callaghan was hooking splendidly and often, but somehow the ball was being delayed in the back ranks of the Old Boys scrum. Cook, half-back, had a very torrid time and was often caught by Kirschberg and Wrightson just as he was gathering up the ball as a result of the Player best the property of the Player best that the player best that the property of the player best that the player best tha the whole action of the Blues back line.

One team was trying desperately hard to open-up the play—Old Boys—Hastings were striving equally desperately—and with some success, too—to keep the ball in the pack. To do this the pack had to keep up with the ball due to Callaghan—and they went at it "like blazes."

Howard, appearing for Old Boys on the left wing, played a good game. His first try was made by himself and was a fine effort. Palmer was perhaps the best of the inside backs and was kept on the move throughout. Particularly was his speed useful in retireving and covering work. trieving and covering work.

Grant was playing well, but Holt did not seem up to form and gave a better display at half-back when Cook left through injury.

When a player has a reputation he suffers for it. Frequently from set scrums almost the whole Hastings pack could be seen clinging to Callaghan trying to put him down.

Morton and Thompson impress as a keen hunting pair of forwards. Thompson has been a goer these last few games while Morton will undoubtedly go a long way in football if he keeps up his present rate of progress.

Dyer's display as full-back was not so finished as usual, but again he contributed to Hastings's full tally of points with three good penalty goals.

Tech-High versus Marist Tech-High versus Marist

Tech-High again demonstrated the strength of their combination when they defeated Marist to the tune of 12 points to 5. The Reds' backline was as formidable as ever, and they were given plenty of opportunities by the hard-working pack. Clothier got the ball out smartly from set scrums, and there was no noticeably weak link in the chain of backs. Venables was a tower of strength in the full-back position.

The Tech-High forwards packed hard and seemed tireless. Dalton, Dallimore and Mason were perhaps the most prominent in an even lot. The Green pack were at their best in the second spell when they repeatedly carried play upfield with loose rushes. Like the forwards, the Marist backs took some time to get going. How-ever, they turned on some clever movements in the second spell and

ANNUAL MEETING

A considerable financial improvement was disclosed at the annual meeting of the Wairere Bowling Club. Mr C. Williams presided over a large attendance of members.

After some discussion it was decided that delegates to the Centre should be instructed to favour the two-life system in the centre championships.

The annual report made reference to the efforts made by the ladies throughout the year and their assistance in attending to afternoon teas, card evenings, etc., which was of great help to the club.

During the year death had claimed three members, Messrs F. Thayer, H. Benton and M. Burt. All had given good service and their demise was much regretted by all. Mr Burt was one of the foundation members and prior to his death made a handsome donation to the club. In order to perpetuate his association with the game, with the co-operation of Mrs Burt and her son, a very handsome silver cup had been purchased. The trophy was inscribed "M. Burt Singles Championship Cup," to be held each year by the club champion, the latter also to receive a miniature cup, also donated from the same fund.

Preparation of Green

Excellent work had been carried.

Preparation of Green Excellent work had been carried out during the year by enthusiastic members in preparing the green, securing soil and sifting seed, while those responsible for the card evenings had considerably augmented the club's funds.

ings had considerably augmented the club's funds.

After the adoption of the report and statement, the presentation of prizes won during the year followed. The successful bowlers were:—
Singles championship (M. Burt Cup and miniature cup): L. Lord.
Champion pairs (W. Forsyth medals): C. Williams and F. Dawe.
Rink (medals): Skip, J. Wray; three, C. Butcher; two, J. Briggs; lead, T. Sharples.

Officers Elected
The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mr A. B. Davies; retiring president, Mr J. Wray; vice-presidents, Messrs C. Williams and T. Sharples; committee, Messrs A. Clark, F. Dawe, A. Mellor, S. White; honorary secretary, Mr J. Andrews; honorary treasurer, Mr H. W. Meek; honorary auditor, Mr D. O'Neill; selector, Mr J. Andrews; coach, H. Elmes; delegates to Centre, Messrs J. Sectionised Dwellings May Offer A Reasonable

The firm steps being taken by the Government to deal with the farm labour problem are reflected in the latest measures to provide accommodation for single and married workers.

Solution

Many applications are being received by local bodies in Hawke's Bay for loans under the Rural Housing Act. The Hawke's Bay County Council has applied for a £5000 loan for this purpose, and has received advice that the application will shortly come before the Local Bodies Loans Board. A scheme put forward by the Public Works Department also offers low-cost housing on a principle of standardisation. Whares for single men and cottages for married workers are to be made available and will be sectionised so that they can be readily transported to farms and re-erected.

The single men's accommodation comprises 10ft. by 8ft. whares, consisting of a single room with open fireplace. The cash price of these buildings is £40, and it is understood that they will be obtainable on payment of £10 deposit, with the balance on easy terms if so required. They can also be leased at a rental of 2/- a week.

Cottages for married men will be available for renting only. They

PADISHAH LEAVES FOR RICCARTON TO-DAY

Steeplechase His Mission

UNLIKELY TO START IN THE HURDLES

Schooled Very Well Yesterday

(By MOTUROA.)

Padishah, the hero of the last three Grand Nationals, leaves this morning en route to Riccarton, where he will do his final schooling and where he may possibly again have his final trial for the Grand National in the Homeby Steeplechase at the Christchurch Hunt meeting.

Yesterday morning this Chief Ruler gelding's ownerbreeder, Mr J. Hennah, informed me that there was little chance that he would ask his fine horse to attempt the difficult Grand National double. Not only will it be much harder to win this year, but there is no doubt that Padishah has deteriorated. He has reached the stage where his brilliance is on the wane, but he is still good enough to credit the Hastings sportsman with another Grand National Steeple-

Success in the coming Grand National Steeplechase would make Padishah the greatest jumper of all time in New Zealand; he will have created a record of two National Steeplechases and two National Hurdles races. Nothing like that record has ever been approached.

After all, the Chief Rulers have not lasted as long as some of the other breeds, but the fact that he is bred from a Martian mare has been Padishah's mainstay. Now almost a 10-year-old, his racing days must be numbered, especially as the has been throughout his correct a hard house to train he has been throughout his career a hard horse to train, requiring twice the preparation of average horses. It is a tribute to Mr Hennah's care that this great horse has stood so long and there will be general rejoicing in the Bay if he succeeds in another National.

Padishah did not please in his schooling last week, but, with Helios to go with him for the first mile, he gave a wonderfully improved display at Hastings yesterday morning. He had his Grand National Steeplechase pilot, Mr George Beatson, in the saddle, and, while he did not finish up with quite the dash that characterised his efforts as he approached peak form 12 months ago, Padishah added to his admirers for Riccarton.

Bon voyage, Padishah!

YESTERDAY'S work on the Hastings track was not particularly interesting save for the schooling bout between Padishah (Mr G. tween Gold Ballad (W. Mudford) G. Beatson) and the Wairoa hunter Helios (C. Bevan), who were seen in action over ten of the steeple-chase fences on the course proper.

chase fences on the course proper.

Helios tried to run off at the first and lost a lot of ground, but he made that up in the straight and came down over the double on terms with the Grand National top-weight. Padishah jumped clar at the straight and straight and came down over the double on the straight and the Beau Pere gelding worked well over a couple of rounds, sprinting home on each occasion. He looks a better horse all weight and straight and straig terms with the Grand National top-weight. Padishah jumped clear at the post and rails and from that juncture was always several

DULIEU'S HARD TASK

A LTHOUGH he will have a nice team racing at Marton on Saturday and may also be represented at Rotorua, the New Plymouth trainer H. Dulieu will not find it easy to pass T. R. George's training record of 52 successes this year. Dulieu will have to lead in three winners next week-end to perform this feat, but it looks as if he will simply have to be content with the premiership for this season.

Dulieu is unlucky that Nereus and Ohanga have been destroyed in the past few weeks, while Hagen broke down at Woodville, and El Meynell, who has an unbeaten record of three wins over hurdles, has gone amiss and has been withdrawn from his engagements at the Grand National meeting. —"Moturoa."

lengths clear of the hunter, finishing solidly to take the next two brushes and the double in a pleasing manner. Helios jumped well throughout save for his early attempt to run off and, as this was his first serious schooling, the effort was really very pleasing. He will probably contest the Rangitikei Hunt Cup on Saturday, but his mission is the Fergus-son Gold Cup Steeplechase at Gisborne, and he should be at his best

Mr Hennah stated that Padishah would have only two races at the Grand National meeting — the Grand National and the Lincoln Steeplechases. He will be accompanied by his stablemate the Bulandshar filly Hugme.

PROMISING NOVICE ONE of the most promising maidens at headquarters is the ng three-year-old Lord Quexrising three-year-old Lord Quex Asturisca filly Astrite, who is a credit to her owner-trainer. With R. Marsh in the saddle yesterday norning she came home strongly from the three furlongs on the

L IBERAL'S MINT had not been over the battens since he made his debut in this department made his debut in this department at New Plymouth in March, so his effort in the Waltuna Hurdles at Awapuni on Saturday was quite a satisfactory one. Liberal's Mint gave a fine exhibition of fast, clean jumping until he got into a fence five furlongs from home. That took all the sting out of the Mintleaf gelding, but it will surprise if he does not benefit from the experience. He is engaged at Marton on Saturday.—"Moturoa."

SCREEN STAR WAS UNLUCKY

SCREEN STAR looked rather unlucky to be relegated to third position at Awapuni on Saturday and it would not surprise to see him give a much better account of himself at Marton on Saturday. Screen Star was carried along to the turn by Fiancee and was left out in front when that mare threw in the towel. That gave Colonel Bogey the drop on him from the home turn and the winner certainly had the run of the race.—"Moturoa." race.-"Moturoa."

RETIRED TO THE STUD

HUNTING MINT again refused to take part in the Te Horo Handicap at Awapuni and, as she had done likewise at Woodville and had been hopelessly left in her other starts this season, her owner trainer Mr Jimmy Paul has decided to retire her to the Stud.

Hunting Mint, who did not begin racing until a four-year-old, started on 45 occasions for seven firsts, two seconds and three thirds, but this was her worst season as she had secured only one third in 13 starts. In all, she won £680 in stakes. By the defunct Hunting Song, Hunting Mint is bred from Mon Mint, and she is therefore a full-sister to Hunting Moments, who has also shown useful form. s not a Stud-book mare, but she is solidly bred being by the Spearmint horse Catmint from Mon Amie, by Larry Wiggins is assured of third position, but the Hastings riders, Jackie Mudford and Percy Atkins, can quite easily change their present positions, Mudford having a lead of one to hold fourth place at present. P. Spratt will be sixth and G. R. Tattersall seventh, well clear of G. Cameron, L. Dulieu, C. T. Wilson and a big bunch.

Mudford, who comes out of his time in October, is by far the most successful apprentice in the Dominion this season. With 44 victories, he is 18 wins ahead of E. V. Dye, with S. Waddell and W. F. Ellis the best of the other apprentices.

Riccarton critics give the Siegfried-Polly Peachum gelding Lockit a reason ably good chance in the Winter Cup.

Improved by his racing at Trentham, Flashilght is likely to be found more forward at Washdyke on Saturday. He should be worth considering in the minor steeplechases at the National Schoolgirl has won two of her last our races and is sure to have a follow-ng at the South Canterbury meeting Schoolgirl has won two of her last four races and is sure to have a following at the South Canterbury meeting this week. She appears to be on the upgrade.

The best was not seen of Wardress at Trentham, but her chance might come in the immediate future.

Tooley Street is reported to be working well and, being such a good horse on winter tracks, should be worth considering at coming meetings.

Related To Champions

Besiege scored his first win over a middle distance when he came home at long odds in the Matamata Centennial Handicap on Saturday. However, he is bred to stay as he is by General Latour from Kilbeggan, by Kilbroney from Rouge, who traced back to the Kingston mare Levity, ancestress of Sasanof, All mare Levity, ancestress of Sasanof, All who will be worth considering at coming meetings.

by MASSINE 12 by Consols 3—Mauri by Ajax 2.

From FOREST TRACK by Tracery 19—Forest Lassie by Isinglass 3—
Baroness la Fleche by Ladas 1—La Fleche by St. Simon 11.

LANG BIAN is a particularly handsome horse and closely resembles his famous sire. He was a good winner in the best class races in France.

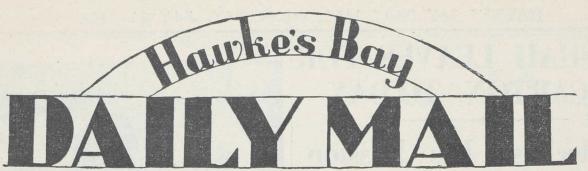

MASSINE, Lang Blan's sire, was a high-class winner in France, and also beat the Derby winner Papyrus in the Ascot Gold Cup. He has twice headed the winning sires' list in France and he introduces a fresh strain of St. Simon blood through that great galloper La Camargo.

FOREST TRACK'S pedigree is well known. Not only is she by that great brood mare sire Tracery, but her third dam is that wonderful mare La Fleche, the third dam of Beau Pere and Gay Shield, two of the most successful sires in New Zealand in modern times.
