LONDON, July 25. Germany's conferences at the week-end with the leaders of the Balkan States have been expanded to include Slovakia and possibly Hungary. The official German news agency says that the impending visit of Balkan statesmen is intended to regulate and stabilise conditions in south-eastern Europe in a peaceful manner. Economic questions will figure largely in the discussions

Neutral correspondents in the Balkan capitals express the opinion that the conferences represent an initial move on the part of the Axis Powers to formulate Hitler's boasted "new order in Europe." The immediate cause is Hitler's urgent desire for peace in the Balkans in order to obtain constant supplies of war materials, particularly oil. The seizure by Rumania of the Anglo-Dutch oil firm Astra Roumana coincided with the publication in the Rumanian Press of a German White Book alleging a British and French plot to wreck the wells and refineries and prevent oil reaching Germany.

For the first time since the outbreak of the air war against Britain no raids were reported throughout the night, but seafront residents were awakened by guns and watched a convoy in the North Sea twice drive off bombers, which apparently did not hit the ships.

"Though I am not going to say that there has been a ramp going on, I may say that both the execu-tive and the stipendiary stewards have felt that there has been some particularly clever riding.

BIG ECONOMIC LOSS

By Telegraph—Press Association

WELLINGTON, July 25. "Road accidents have cost the country over £750,000 since the outbreak of the war," said the Minister of Transport (the Hon. R. Semple) to-day. "There have been more than 2500 casualties, including 183 deaths on the roads, since the war began. Most of those killed and injured were adults.

'The resultant economic loss from permanent and temporary incapacity is especially serious in this time of emergency. Despite the petrol rationing, 24 persons have been killed and almost 500 injured on the roads during the past six weeks. Nearly half of those who lost their lives were pedestrians.

"This indicates that pedestrians do not sufficiently appreciate the increased danger in winter time. Longer hours of darkness and poor conditions of visibility make them specially liable to injury.
"In rural areas, pedestrians should walk on the right-hand side of the road and either wear light-coloured clothing or carry a torch. In town areas they should keep to the footpath and use the pedestrian crossings. 'At least two of the accidents last month were due to motorists travelling too fast," said the Minister. "Such excessive speed is doubly wasteful. It destroys lives and it squanders petrol. "Accident prevention is now more than ever essential," said Mr Semple. "Taking safety precautions is not merely a personal insurance against suffering. It is a patriotic duty and a contribution to the nation's war effort.

Application for bail was granted, the amounts fixed being £200 on defendant's own recognisance and on defendant's own recognisance and one surety of £200.

Schoolgirl's Story Briefly, the story told was that Heather Munro Scott, an 11-year-old pupil of the Waipukurau School, who lives in Hatuma Road, was going home on her bicycle at about 5.25 p.m. on June 11, and was struck from behind by what she believed to be a motor-car, near Mr O. C. Dobson's place in Takapau Road. She remembered nothing after that, and Dr C. Raymond, who attended her said in his evidence that he care Dr C. Haymond, who attended her said in his evidence that he considered she was suffering from slight concussion, as well as abrasions and contusions on the right hip and thigh. He agreed those injuries were consistent with her having been knocked down by a car. She was in hospital until June 19.

Car Going Fast

Verna Merle Peters, who lives about 150 yards from Mr Dobson's place, said she saw a car coming from Waipukurau at a pace she considered to be unusually fast. As it got near Dobson's she heard a crash and saw the car's left headlamp go out. The car went on its way, she said, with its pace undiminished. If was just after that incident ed. It was just after that incident that Mrs Dobson came in to ring the doctor and told of the finding of the njured girl.

Mr Dobson also heard the crash.

When he got out to the road he found the girl, lying in the water channel to the left of the road looking towards Takapau. He took her

Mr C. V. Chamberlain appeared for the informant the Borough Council ranger (Mr A. Scragg) and Mr C. R. Sainsbury appeared for the defendant (Seymour Lambert). The magistrate gave his decision on Wednesday when he dismissed the case on the grounds that the by-law was unreasonable.

Three Charges

Three charges arising out of the ame set of circumstances were also heard, when the Wairoa County Council (Mr Chamberlain) was charged with (1) failing to notify the Inspector of Scaffolding of in-tention to erect scaffolding; (2) failing to erect a guard rail on platform where a man was working higher than 10 feet above ground; (3 failing to report an accident to a workman within 48 hours.

The Inspector of Scaffolding (George McKessa) stated than no permit had been obtained for the work which was being done on a work which was being done on a bridge at Ruakituri, nor had a permit been obtained at any other time. Mr C. V. Chamberlain, who appeared for the Wairoa County Council, stated that the council was not aware that a permit had to be obtained as none had been obtained in

Facilities Well Used

An idea of the great use made of the facilities and services provided is given in the report for June of Captain F. C. Pearce, Church Army officer in charge at Trentham hut. One thousand men use the hut during the course of each day and Church Army officers are on duty for approximately 75 hours weekly. About a thousand letters are written by the men each week on the cano over St. Pierre, the chief commercial centre. Ships in the harbour were destroyed. Forty thousand people were killed. Most of them were burnt to death in the first flow of lava. Others were poisoned by gases from the volcano.

an end, and not an end in themselves." Nightly prayers are taken the men joining in very devoutly. In addition to the weekly compulsory church parade, Holy Communion is administered every Sunday, and there is also a voluntary evening service.

By contributing liberally to the National Patriotic Fund, church people will be making their contribution towards carrying out the Church's obligations to men in his Majesty's Forces.

In 1693 the British attacked it again, British forces occupied the island in 1672, but the next year it was restored to the French.

In 1793 the British took it again, and held it for eight years before handing it back to the French. They seized it in 1809. It was surrendered to the French in 1814. France has held it since. Napoleon's wife, the dusky Empress Josephine, was born in Martinique.

"JUAREZ" A GRIPPING DRAMA

Paul Muni, Bette Davis Co-Starred

The long-awaited "Juarez" (pronounced "War-ezz"), starring Paul Muni and Bette Davis, will open tomorrow at the Regent Theatre, Hastings. The spectacular production has already been hailed by the critics as one of the greatest pictures of all time. In addition to being headed by the actor and actress who are generally acknowledged to be the foremost screen artists of their time, the cast includes a host of other film notables, such as Brian Aherne, Claude Rains, John Garfield, Donald Crisp, Joseph Calleia, Gale Sondergaard, Gilbert Roland, Henry O'Neill, Harry Davenport, Montagu Love and Monte Blue.

Montagu Love and Monte Blue.
Conceived and executed on a scope never before attempted by Warner Bros., the picture tells a story that is at once powerful drama and authentic history, played against a rich panorama of backgrounds, ranging from imperial palaces to poor peon huts. It relates the attempt of Napoleon III of France to end the life of the Mexican republic by placing a puppet emperor on its throne, it tells of the tragic fate of Napoleon's hapless tool, Maximilian von Habsburg, and his beautiful consort, Carlota, who has passed into history as "the mad empress," and it tells, inspiringly, of the brave and successful fight of the Mexican president, Benito Pablo Juarez, born a humble Zapotecan Indian, to rescue his country from the hands of the impresidint described.

Britain's Naval Might Depicted

"For Freedom" (G.B.D.)—devised nd directed by Maurice Elvey and astleton Knight—is now showing Castleton Knight—is now showing at the State Theatre, Napier.

The film magnificently commemorates on the screen the greatest British naval drama in history—the Battle of the River Plate. It does more than this—it shows British merchantmen going through hell in the fight with the "Graf Spee," British prisoners rescued from the "Altmark," and introduces to film audimark," and introduces to film audi mark," and introduces to film audi-ences the officers and men re-living the parts they so nobly played that grey morning when three British cruisers first sighted the German pocket-battleship. It is a living monument to the Navy—the men who fight and give their lives for freedom

This film commences in a news-This film commences in a news-reel office in London just before Munich. Will Fyffe, as the editor, has the idea of a film re-telling events between the end of the last war and the beginning of this. The picture portrays these actual events, and then the news is received of the River Plate Battle. Here is the very theme this news real genius has theme this news-reel genius has been waiting for, and so woven into the fabric of this film are Capt. Dove, of the S.S. 'MILLION DOLLAR LEGS' GAY COMEDY

Clive Brook In "Return To Yesterday"

"Million Dollar Legs," the most million Dollar Legs, the most hilarious campus comedy in many a season, featuring such bright new talented youngsters as Betty Grable, Jackie Coogan, Joyce Mathews, Donald O'Connor, Larry Crabbe, and John Hartley, is now showing at the Mayfair Theatre.

Differing radically from any other college comedy ever filmed, "Million Dollar Legs" unfolds the students' revolt against a benevolent but stubborn philanthropist who does no permit the college to have a crew Determined to have a new shell for their newly-formed crew, the stu-dents swap their belongings, enough to bring 100 dollars, and bet the bankroll on a long shot. The hilar-ity of the situation hardly subsides efore another funny occurrence takes place.

"Return to Yesterday" is the second feature. A talented cast of British actors and actresses is headed by Clive Brook, Anna Lee, and Dame May Whitty. Clive Brook needs no advocate; his work in previous expenses for itself. needs no advocate; his work in previous successes speaks for itself. Anna Lee is a charming heroine, and Dame May Whitty has a fine character role. The rest of the cast is more than adequate in contributing to the success of a fine film.

School Holidays Train Trips For Children

The calls upon the family purse for assistance in the war effort make it difficult for some people to save for holidays, however much they may feel the need of them. But by limiting their spending on non-essentials, the necessary funds may be built up for refreshing train trips, especially for mothers and children during the school holidays. There is apt to be a nervous and emotional strain on the young folk, who just now are living in an atmosphere of war conditions. A trip by train during the school holidays is therefore a pleasant change as well as a timely tonic for parents and children

SEVENTH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Arts And Crafts Circle

THE TOWNSWOMEN'S GUILD

The seventh birthday of the arts and crafts circle of the Hastings Townswomen's Guild was very happily celebrated yesterday afternoon with a jolly party at which quite a number of guests, members of the Parkvale Guild arts and crafts circle were present.

Lovely flowers had been arranged in the guild room by Mrs J. C. Tayor—bowls of winter roses, purple rises and gypsophila.

The circle leader, Miss M.
Sowersby, welcomed all those who were present and apologised for the absence of the Mayoress, Mrs G. A. Maddison and Mrs R. Campbell. With Miss Sowersby on the stage was the circle secretary, Mrs T.

The treasurer's statement was read and it was shown that here were 36 financial members. Each circle member brought a present for a soldier and as a re-ult of this delightful thought a plendid collection of gifts was made.

Miss Sowersby announced the August competitions, the best article August competitions, the best article made from 1 yard of material and a knitted babies' vest, these vests to be afterwards given to the Plunket Society. At this meeting the demonstrations would be the making of felt knitting bags and floor mops made from wool.

Miss Sowersby told members that they had been invited to visit Mrs.

Miss Sowersby told members that they had been invited to visit Mrs Hewetson's home at Maraekakaho on August 13 to see a pewter demonstration and she asked all those who wished to go to let her know.

During the afternoon several musical items gave much pleasure.

Miss Hawkins sang two songs and Miss Hawkins sang two songs and with Miss E. Compton she sang two duets. Miss B. McHutchon played the ccompaniments.

An amusing competition, tearing a sweet paper into the longest strip, caused much merriment and was won by Mrs Lee. A jig-saw competition was won by Mrs Curry, with Mrs Bone second. Mrs Beaton won the mystery parcel and Mrs Cousins the musical parcel game. At tea time there was the ceremony of cutting the beautiful birth-day cake which had been made by Mrs Halstead. A former circle leader, Mrs L. W. Goldfinch, lit the seven candles and the guild president, Mrs A. C. A. Hyde, cut the cake. Both wished the circle con-day.

The competitions for the day resulted as follows: Felt posy: Mrs Lockyer 1, Mrs Lee 2; knitting bag, Mrs Lukey 1, Mrs Esler 2.

In normal times the principal consuming countries of the British Em-

Continental Purchases
A fair proportion of the woollen fabrics imported by South Africa was purchased in Italy, Germany and other Continental countries. They will probably now be bought from Great Britain, though Japan also sells woollen goods to Africa.
Australia, unless the cost of her textiles is too great, may also be able to send supplies to African merchants.

South America has also to be supplied with fabrics by Great Britain, the United States or Japan. The importing of wool from the United Kingdom, the Dominions and, perhaps, South America by the Continent has now ceased; but the use of goods has not stopped in other countries which the Continental mills previously supplied.

It will be difficult to put the whole of the coming Australian, South African, New Zealand and South American clips into quick use and avoid erican clips into quick use and avoid some accumulation of stocks, but at least a good proportion of them will probably pass readily into con Sumption.

Less Available

Australia is likely to have less wool for appraisement in 1940-41 than during the past season. Production may be slightly less for the whole of the Commonwealth. In addition, the fact must be borne in mind that carry-over stocks at June 30, 1939, of 115,245 bales were appraised during the year. Except for the small quantities which arrived too late for inclusion in June catalogues, no wool was carried over at logues, no wool was carried over at June 30, 1940.

As a result of requirements for As a result of requirements for military equipment, crossbred wools should continue to be most urgently wanted. The United States, with her large re-armament programme ahead, will probably seek them with special keenness in South America and the United Kingdom will find use for all the New Zealand and Australian crossbreds.

No further appraisements will be No further appraisements will be held in Australia until the opening

THE WORLD'S DUALISM

Some very interesting, if not very enlightening philosophical arguments have taken place between rival pundits in the piping days of peace as to the distinction between mind and matter. Some neat epigrams were made on the subject. For instance: "What the one is, the other is not." Or for instance again: "What is mind? No matter. What is matter?

These apparently irrelevant remarks have to do with a real and vital issue affecting our prospects and peradventure our very lives. Some three months ago, Mr Anthony Eden, addressing the Constitutional Club in London, spoke for a brief period on the subject of "The Two Imperialisms." He drew the contrast between the German "Weltanshauung" (or world view) and the recognised British viewpoint in regard to the development of the races of mankind. The old philosophical doctrine of the difference between mind and matter came back to mind at once, for Mr Eden practically said that what Nazism is, British Imperialism is not, and that never the twain shall meet. He said precisely: "The German conception of dominion and the modern British conception of Imperialism present as sharp an antithesis as mankind has ever known.'

That antithesis can be brought out clearly by saying that Germany is now seeking to dominate the world by imposing her own rule on conquered peoples, addressing those peoples, as Hitler said the other day, not as anything but a victor demanding obedience; whereas Great Britain, down through the whole story of her history, has sought to develop and encourage the free institutions of the nations under her flag.

Two sentences, far apart in Mr Eden's speech, may well be brought together to make the point clear. "The aim is to make Germany infinitely the most powerful nation in the world, and by the ruthless use of that power to compel Europe to submit to German rule and the world to German authority." That is one sentence. The other is this, referring to the British system of Imperial government: "Britain no more rules over Canada than Canada rules over Britain, and Australia no more rules over New Zealand than New Zealand over Australia; the equality of each and all of the self-governing Dominions is complete and absolute."

There, set side by side, are the two mutually incompatible views of human relationships.

Take just one instance as a further guide to the essential truth of this matter. Over against the centuries-old British tradition of allowing free peoples to develop in their own way and of helping backward races to step up into line with modern developments, let us put these conditions set out in an official pronouncement after a Polish city had been captured and occupied by the Germans:

"(1) The Polish inhabitants of both sexes are obliged to make way before the representatives of German authority insofar as the latter can be recognised through their uniforms or through armlets on their sleeves. The streets belong to the conquerors and not to the conquered.

"(2) The Polish inhabitants of the male sex are obliged to show their respect to all leading personalities of the State, the Party, and the military forces, by uncovering their heads.

"(3) In the shops and at the market stands, all representatives of German authority, members of their families, and all German nationals must be served first, before the conquered. . . . Poles who have not yet grasped the fact that they are the conquered while we are the conquerors and who will not comply with the above decree, will be punished with all the severity of the law."

No one with a week-old memory can fail to recognise the echo of what Hitler said to Churchill in a preliminary way. There it is. The fangs are bared. To-day, in the whole of Bohemia and Moravia, the Czech language is barred and the only university is the German university at Prague. The Nazi mentality is all out for domination from abovethe utter and ruthless suppression of everything that would possibly run counter to the ideas of the "conquerors," even the thieving of the very language out of the mouths of the

No possible shadow of compromise is possible in such a case as this. "Drunk with sight of power" is the phrase that keeps on recurring to the mind as often as the arrogant German claims to domination are revealed.

A final quotation from Mr Eden: "Ours is not a static principle. It is dynamic. We are not fighting to preserve the status quo. We are fighting to preserve the possibility of progress." Thus we have on the one side the immovable mass of British determination and on the other the self-styled irresistible force of Nazi domination, which will assuredly break on the rock of humanity's will to progress in peace

'Always a German"

Under German law, "once a German always a German." There are numerous cases of dual nationality, where the sons of Germans have, where the sons of Germans have, although born in Australia, claimed German citizenship; some of such sons fought in the German army against Britain in 1914-18, were decorated by the Kaiser, and actually later returned to Australia, claiming rights of British citizenship by virtue of their place of birth. And the Commonwealth Government at the time permitted it! Such men are known to-day to be the backbone of known to-day to be the backbone of the "Fifth Column" in Australia.

Minister's Reply

The Minister of Industries and Commerce (the Hon. D. G. Sullivan) in reply, said that with regard to Mr Holland's question of advertising New Zealand-made goods, there was no need for an advertising campaign at present because of the war and the import control restrictions. Dealing with the cost of the Exhibition, he said that the direct grant by the Government to the Exhibition company amounted to £50,000. The share capital amounted to £36,000.

The Minister of Mines (the Hon. P. C. Webb) indicated that the reason for the subsidy to the coal industry was to keep the price of the product down to the public. Despite the recent increases in wages being paid to miners, these men were not receiving high rates of wages, he said. Many of them would be able to retire as a result of their recent increases.

The case, which opened on Monday, is being tried by Mr Justice Fair. Mr V. R. Meredith and Mr N. I. Smith are appearing for the Crown.

Mr V. R. Meredith and Mr N. I. Smith are appearing for the Crown and accused is being defended by Mr Henry and Mr McCarthy.

Dr Edgar Fowler agreed with an earlier witness that, apart from the head wounds, Mrs Hamilton's injuries would not have caused death before 24 hours after she was injured. That was subject to the exception that there was a possibility of immediate death from shock,

Fishing Industry

Mr H. S. S. Kyle (Riccarton) referred to the item of £650 for administrative costs for the fishing industry. What was the state of the industry at present, he asked, because he could assure the House that the public could not get fish at a reasonable price.

Mr Fraser: The reason for that is that trawlers are being taken off for other purposes.

What was the state of the industry at present, he asked, because of smaller companies and individuals who are not making very substantial profits. Many of these small companies were finding difficulty to-day because of the high cost of mining this year.

Mr H. S. S. Kyle (Riccarton) drew attention to the subsidy of £170,000 for the coal industry. This money was coming from the taxpayers' pockets, he said, and it seemed most unfair in view of the feat and not stopped beating when she received the head injuries, and she did not die of shock. Mr Kyle: Yes, I know. They are required by the navy, but the price of fish has gone higher than for years.

Mr P. K. Paikea (Northern Maori) suggested that inspectors of the Price Investigation Tribunal should make periodic unexpected visits to outlying districts to check up the prices which were being charged for commodities in those districts.

Mrs Hamilton's heart had not stopped beating when she received the head injuries, and she did not die of shock. The character of the head wounds showed that the taxpayers that the taxpayers should have to pay to subsidise the industry.

He also asked the Minister to state how much progress had been made in the Dominion in the direction of the commercial production of oil.

Detective-Sergt. Thompson testified to the second statement made by Cartman on May 1, which accused said was the truth. He admitted that on the night of April 2, when he was driving his car under the influence of drink, he knocked down Mrs Hamilton and the boy Moran when they were walking along the road. He did not see them before he hit them. The woman went under the car The woman went under the car when she was hit. He found them both dead. He put them in the car and drove along the road.

The only reasonable inference from the known facts was that the ture this year was on account of the increased cost of stores. It appeared, said the Minister, that on present indications, the railways would have an even better year this year than last.

In response to another query by Mr Hamilton, Mr Sullivan stated. injuries were inflicted by the accused with his own tyre lever. If absolutely uncontradicted evidence of the three medical men was that it had been established beyond any doubt that she was living when she was struck. The facts also compelled the conclusion that she had been outraged.

For the Defence Mr Henry said that the statement Cartman gave was true and remained unchallenged in any vital respect. It was challenged only by respect. Lord Beaverbrook paid a very high tribute to the spirit of the men and women working in the aircraft industry and mentioned that workers in one aircraft factory had offered to give the nation a fighter of the latest type.

Comparing the new Messerschmitt 110 with the Hurricane and Spitfire fighters, he said: "It is not so handy as the Hurricane and not so fast as the Spitfire."

General William Shedd, assistant Chief-of-Staff, told Congress to-day that no married men would be included in the proposed October draft of 400,000 men. He said the army would never draft men with dependants in peacetime.

It is understood that the army authorities told the Senate Military Committee that the army's total defence programme, including compu sory registration, starting within five weeks, would cost 6,000,000,000 dollars next year. Producers' Board Reviews Current Situation

AGREEMENT WITH BRITAIN

The heavier burden thrown on New Zealand farmers as a result of the war is reflected throughout the annual report of the New Zealand Meat Producers' Board. Normal arrangements of the board for buying and shipment of export stock were superseded by the purchase agreement with the United Kingdom Ministry of Food.

The 1938 prices (which were slightly better than 1939 realisations) were suggested by the United Kingdom Government, and after acceptance by the New Zealand Government in principle, became the basis of subsequent discussions and final agreement, states the report.

On the question of precise point of purchase, it was suggested by the Imperial Government, and accepted by the New Zealand Government, that purchase in the main should be on f.o.b. terms. The prices at f.o.b. were arrived at by taking London prices and deducting the latest peace-time costs between f.o.b. New Zealand and delivery "ex store," London. In other words, the United Kingdom Government at once accepted responsibilities for war-time increases in costs of freight and landing charges.

Although the shipment of beef in Secondly, to fill the deficiency be-chilled form was discontinued upon the outbreak of war, it was arranged meat available for the domestic marin the purchase conditions that meat normally shipped as chilled should be paid for at chilled rates even though it were now sent frozen.

ALLOCATION OF LAND

"I feel that more could be done, and I think that the big farmers themselves are not taking a full part in growing barley," said Mr C. J. Hamblyn, Fields Superintendent of the Department of Agriculture, addressing Hawke's Bay farmers at a meeting at Hastings last night.

Misconceptions concerning details of the barley-growing scheme were cleared up by Mr Hamblyn. He stressed that it may have been due to this that a delay had occurred in the progress of the scheme in Hawke's Bay. "I know you have the climate and also the ability to carry out this growing of barley," he said.

Regarding the classification of farmers who should take up barley, Mr Hamblyn said: "If the cap fits, wear it. If not, hold your head up and get on with your present job."

The allocations in acres are barley stacles would be removed, and all lands were quoted as follows: Ind would be used to the best advantage.

In the drive for barley the farmer committee men had put in a good deal of time and had got nowhere, said the chairman (Mr D. G. Begley). By this he meant that they had not achieved what they had hoped for.

The South Island farmer was doing his part to provide wheat to offset the necessity for imports, said Mr Hamblyn. Under conditions which were not good they had planted large areas, and it was hoped that they would be able to provide 300,000 acres. The North Island would be able to provide a proportionate small amount, he said.

Five weeks ago the proposition of barley-growing was put forward in Hawke's Bay, said Mr Hamblyn, and he was afraid that one of the most backward districts was Hawke's Bay. Some of the big farmers had not played their part in the barley-growing scheme, and lack of real interest on their part was the cause of this, said Mr Hamblyn.

Farmers' War Effort

rause of this, said Mr Hamblyn.

Farmers' War Effort.

"I have no hesitation in suggesting that it is time they got some interest, for barley-growing is part of the New Zealand farmers' war effort," he continued. "That is the only way that I can put it to the farmers of Hawke's Bay—the province with the best climate which is best equipped to do this job among the southern districts."

Some farmers thought that it was necessary only to offer land to the committee or the Department of Agriculture. "It is five weeks since Hawke's Bay undertook the growing of 10,000 acres of barley, and I don't think that a great area of land has been put under the plough yet," said Mr Hamblyn, referring to criticism of the lateness of the scheme. It was not until early in June that the people and the Government realised the implications of May 10.

He did not want to tread on anyone's corns, but if the farmers took a stand there was a possibility of having the contractors' schedule reviewed, and the large number of anomalies it contained removed.

"Fifteen shillings an acre for cutting grass seed—I can only say that it is ridiculous," he said. "It's your job, farmers, and we do have to have cheaper grass seed." Barley growing could be undertaken on a satisfactory basis, so that farmer and contractor both were given a satisfactory return.

It was of no use for farmers to approach the Government concernities, while others expressed their in-

MANY MOURNERS

Upwards of 100 motor-cars were in the cortege of the funeral at Hastings yesterday afternoon of Pilot-Officer William Oscar George Krogh, who was killed in an air accident at Ataahua, Canterbury on Monday morning. Crowds lin-ing the footpaths of Heretaunga Street saw the cortege, which extended from the railway line to the borough boundary, pass in heavy rain on its way to the Havelock North Cemetery.

Representatives of all sections of the community were included among the hundreds of mourners. The Borough Council was represented by the Mayor (Mr G. A. Maddison) and the Town Clerk (Mr Noel C. Harding), while many members Harding), while many members the motor industry, in which Mr Krogh was formerly employed, also attended. It was impossible for the hundreds of floral tributes from all parts of the Dominion to be conveyed on the hearse, and dozens of these made a brilliant display, even in the rain on the lorry which folin the rain, on the lorry which fol-lowed the hearse.

Insofar as some outlying areas were concerned, he agreed that many of these would not be profitable for barley growing, but he was sure that this could be successfully carried out in most of the ridings.

Stalemate Reached

"It would appear that we have reached a stalemate," said Mr Begley. "I can't see that the farmers' committee can advance any fur-like service at St. Matthew's Church, simple and most impressive was carried out by the Rev. W. T. Drake, while Dr. R. I. reached a stalemate," said Mr Begley. "I can't see that the farmers' committee can advance any further." He suggested that Mr Hamblyn or a man like him should spend a week in Hawke's Bay on the work, for he thought that more could be accomplished in persuading farmers by this means. In his opinion, Mr Palmer's time was fully occupied at present, and it was not for him to undertake this work. "If compulsion is not to be used, let's have cold reasoning by the right men," concluded Mr Begley. In the ensuing discussion Mr E. Wall contended that it was the lack Wall contended that it was the lack with the scheme."

Funeral Of Air RUSSIA SUSPICIOUS OF NAZI AMBITIONS

Soviet Will Become A Much Less Effective Ally Of Germany

Soviet Russia is becoming increasingly suspicious of Germany and is likely to become decreasingly effective as its ally. This is the essence of reports reaching America recently from sources abroad.

It is the conviction of persons in responsible positions that, on the basis of these reports, Germany will not be successful in any attempt to step up Russia's industrial machine on any vast scale.

At present the display of military power by the German Army is causing the Soviets considerable uneasiness. The reaction of the Kremlin is to remain more aloof from the Nazis than it has in the immediate past and to disassociate itself as much as possible from affairs in western Europe.

The Russians, these reports emhasise, are traditionally suspicious f the Nazis and the trend of events making them more so.

The Russians, these reports emhasise, are traditionally suspicious products for which to spend the money.

Consequently a substantial part of

Consequently any attempt by the Nazis to effect a speed-up on a broad scale of Soviet industry would have to be carried out with the "co-operation" of unwilling Soviet leaders who always have been more oriental than occidental in outlook.

Consequently a substantial part of this surplus cash is being collected by the Government in taxes. It is a situation, the reports point out, favourable to the Russian budget, but unfavourable to the wants of the proletariat.

In the matter of the Russo-Finnish war, the reports indicate this is now.

Go Own Way.

The Soviets, according to those who know them well, prefer to go their own way and make their own industrial and economic mistakes rather than to be shown. This is another reason why any outside attempt to reorganise Soviet economy would be futile.

Industry in Russia at present is reported not to be producing even essential necessities on a scale anywhere near meeting the consumer demand. In addition what goods and stores can be purchased are expensive. And these prices are ng in Russia, therefore, is said to been more oriental than occidental in outlook.

The experiences of independent experts who have gone to Russia in the past to introduce new methods and techniques in Soviet industry is being recalled. The Soviets, it is pointed out, usually attempt to "improve" western innovations. And very often the result, according to one who has witnessed some of these attempts, is "disastrous."

Go Own Way.

The Soviets, according to those who know them well, prefer to go their own way and make their own.

In the matter of the Russo-Finnish war, the reports indicate this is now more or less forgotten by the Russia masses and that since the Red Army was victorious the adventure has received general approval.

Because of losses in military equipment, the Red Army is regarded as somewhat weakened. The loss in fighting strength, it is believed, was between 250,000 and 300,000 killed, plus another 50,000 soldiers seriously injured. These figures are believed by Washington to be correct within 10 per cent.

Lost Equipment.

Much of the equipment which the Red Army lost in Finland has not been replaced. Gradually new guns and munitions are being added, but it is expected that the Russian will not completely make up these losses for some time. These losses are sufficient, it is believed, to prevent the Red Army from waging war on a scale comparable to Germany, but not enough to prevent the Russians not enough to prevent the Russians from putting up a strong defence in the Ukraine or conducting a campaign in the Balkans.

Soviet air strength is held to be

Soviet air strength is held to be less impressive now than two or three years ago. In terms of quantity the Red Army is believed to have a substantial air fleet. But this fleet has not been replaced on a scale comparative to Germany's, are reported only "three hours ahead of starvation"—there is, ironically, a good deal of surplus money in circulation. RECOVERY OF METAL FROM RIFLE RANGES

Many Tons Of Lead And Nickel Could Be Retrieved In The Dominion

A proposal has been made by the Deputy-Mayor of Hastings (Mr A. I. Rainbow) for the recovery of lead and nickel valued at some hundreds of pounds from rifle ranges throughout the Dominion as part of the national campaign for the utilisation of waste. It is contended that this spent ammunition could be easily retrieved, and if the work was undertaken on a nation-wide scale a considerable tonnage of valuable metal would be returned.

It has been calculated that 1000 rounds of ammunition would represent 50lb. of nickel or lead, worth about 15/- on present market rates. Premoters of the scheme have active to the scheme present market rates. Promoters of the scheme have estimated that in the past three years 500,000 rounds have been fired on the Okawa range, representing 25,000lb. of metal. From this it can be seen that the total yield from rifle ranges throughout the Dominion would amount to many tons.

The president of the Okawa Club (Mr R. Brathwaite) when approached said that the metal could easily be recovered from the range, and gave full support for the scheme. This range alone has been in use for over 30 years, and it is not difficult to foresee the quantities of lead and nickel the earth behind the butts contains.

Permission Wanted

Before any steps can be taken concerning Roy's Hill range, permission must be obtained from the defence authorities. To this end the Mayor of Hastings (Mr G. A. Maddison) has written the following letter to the Minister for Defence (the Hon. F. Jones):—

"In connection with the recovery of waste materials which is being undertaken in this country for war purposes, it has been suggested to me that we could recover from the rifle range at Roy's Hill, Hastings, a vast quantity of spent bullets.

"It is considered that this lead and nickel is easily recoverable; it is in vast quantities and should be of great value of manufacture. I have discussed the matter with the president of the Okawa Rifle Club, and they are agreeable to this work being undertaken. I therefore desire the authority of your department to proceed with this work.

"The work would be undertaken by the Hastings Borough Council and under the supervision of our engineer. You can rest assured that no damage at all would occur to the rifle range."

Patriotic funds should benefit very considerably from the effort to be made by the Hastings sports bodies' committee to-day when some 4000 "mystery parcels" are to be offered for sale. Every precaution has been taken in order that no one may miss the opportunity of purchasing a parcel and thereby assisting the drive.

The fact that all parcels have been inspected and wrapped by a special wrapping committee give a guarantee to prospective purchasers that the quality is there. This committee has spent a busy couple of nights on this job, and as last-minute contributions may be taken, more work yet for them may be anticipated.

The articles are undoubtedly of a varied nature. Included among them are an order for a ham, an order for a pair of shoes, articles ranging in value from 6d to a pound and numerous orders for theatre

SOUTH SEA ISLAND CRUISE IN A KETCH

The Crew Of Amateur Sailors Found Adventure In Plenty

An adventurous voyage such as many dream of but few have an opportunity to enjoy was described to members of the Napier Round Table at their fortnightly gathering by Mr Parsons.

About seven years ago the speaker, together with six other young men, left New Zealand for a Pacific cruise aboard the ketch Water Lily, hoping to find excitement, and they were not disappointed in their search.

Mr Parsons had a witty and direct manner of imparting his information and anecdote, and in the words of the chairman (Mr J. M. Runciman) it was quite one of the best talks on travel the members had had the pleasure of hearing.

The speaker also made available for inspection a collection of native tools and fishing gear to illustrate some of the points of his address.

Permanent Adoption Of Evacuee Children is dealt with in a communication received by the Mayor of Napier (Mr. T. W. Hercock) from the Hon. W. E. Parry, Minister of Internal Affairs. Mr. Hercock asked for information on the matter because several people withdrew their offers on learning that there was no provision for permanent adoption.

"While the matter is of some. while the matter is of somewhat academic interest at the moment in view of the postponement of the scheme, I can assure you that I fully appreciate your motives in raising the point," stated the Minister.

"I do agree that in any of the "I do agree that in any of the circumstances mentioned by you such an arrangement would be desirable. If and when the British authorities find it convenient to proceed further with the scheme for evacuating these children, there is no doubt that we in New Zealand would give every attention to the possibility of developing the scheme along the lines you suggest."

The Mayor had pointed out the necessity for ensuring that orphan children who were sent out would have their future safeguarded.

Accident With Car Last Night

A Hastings man, Mr Cyril Jay, received injuries to the head when the bicycle he was riding came into collision with a car driven by Mr F. Hildreth last night at 7 o'clock. The accident occurred at the corner of Railway Road and Heretaunga Street, Hastings.

After treatment by a doctor Mr Jay was able to proceed to his home.

Rangitikei's Splendid Record

GOOD HORSES AND FINE SPORTSMEN

Glance At To-morrow's Fields

(By MOTUROA).

To-morrow the Rangitikei Hunt Club will be holding its annual race meeting at Marton, and it is of more than passing interest to note that the club is one of the oldest in New Zealand. The first "meet" was held in 1880 and the stalwarts in those days were those now deceased sportsmen, Richard Hammond, Sir James Wilson, Master Dan Riddiford, and veterinary surgeon "Doctor" A. H. Bill. However, there are several of the old school surviving, and Messrs H. J. Cameron, W. J. Simpson, Jim Brice, and F. McLean still take a keen interest in the progress of the club, which is as strong to-day

In 1882 Sir James Wilson purchased a pack of hounds in Christchurch and presented them to the club. They were in John Hammond's care, being kennelled at "York Farm," the scene of many a Marton race meeting and to-day one of the most popular meets of the season. In 1885 the late Dan Riddiford was elected Master of the Hunt, and this fine old gentleman held the reins of office for half a century, taking an active part in the meets until his death in 1935.

The Rangitikei Hunt Club has been in the fortunate position of possessing a succession of hunting enthusiasts and a sufficiency of horses to make the annual Point-to-Point meetings and race meetings most attractive. However, the district is one which has been a stronghold of the breeding industry for upwards of a century and many of the great jumpers produced in Rangitikei have made their way through the exacting requirements of the hunting fields there.

However, noteworthy on to-morrow's programme at Marton is the Riddiford Handicap, and this event brings to mind the man the race commemorates—the late Dan Riddiford. Born in Wellington and educated in England, he typified the old English hunting gentleman and he was never so happy as when at a meet. A great rider in his day, he captained the Rangitikei team which won the Saville Cup in the polo field, and he was for many years a steward of the Marton Jockey Club. At all times at home in the saddle,

AFTER THE BIG DOUBLE

STREAMLINE appears to have done everything right since he landed a great coup for his party in the Great Northern Hurdles and it looks as if he will be found in great order for the Grand National Hurdles. Streamline is rather well treated for he has gone up only 2lbs. for his Ellerslie success, whereas Jewelled Girdle, who fell in the Northern but won the Campbell hurdles and the Winter Hurdles at Trentham, now meets him on at Trentham, now meets him on 8lbs. worse terms.—"Moturoa."

Cairngorn won for Dan Riddiford in 1887 and that fine hunter Asper, with 12.13 in the saddle won for Mr C. Daniells in 1890.

In the next decade the names of fine sportsmen like Messrs T. Simpson, F. H. Gibbons, J. Woon, D. G. Riddiford and H. H. Jackson appear on the records and great weights were carried successfully by good hunters such as Seddon, Hop Bitters and St. Lemon, who will possibly be remembered by the old school of hunting folk in Hawke's Bay.

Two years later Risk won the Hunt Cup, but in Duncan's colours and he prevailed by a head from Gatrell's mare Senora after a great race over the last half mile add to "Curly's" discor discomfiture Trouble was again listed as a winner in 1933, when he beat Winnagan, Hunting Boy and Acervate.

Nino Martini seems to be improving all the time and he should be ready to show his best form tomorrow. At all events, a great race can be expected from the Hastings representative.

Padnos showed fair form as a jumper a year or two back, but fell too early on Saturday for any line to be gained about his condition and he should be held safe by Moonlight Bay. This mare will be making her debut as a jumper, but she has been showing excellent form on the flat and her second to Cherry Plum showed her to be very well.
Moonlight Bay should be a good jumper for she is by Humbug, who left several smart jumpers. Her

JIMMY ELLIS RIDES AGAIN

EYE-TROUBLE has kept the popular little southern rider Jimmy Ellis out of the saddle for some months, but it is pleasing to report that he has been better of late and is again riding work at Riccarton. EARLY ARRIVAL AT RICCARTON

AUSSIE RA went on from Trentham to Riccarton and southern critics hold the opinion that Percy Johnson's charge is improved by his racing. Aussie Ra came from the clouds at Trentham to run second in the Winter Hurdles and the firmer going will assist him in the Grand National Hurdles. He was second in this race last year to Padishah and, with 9.9 next month, has only 4lbs. more to carry.—"Moturoa."

has a solid impost in such a smart field, but he represents good class that he seems certain to play an im-portant part in the decision of this  Blue Steel makes the bracket a strong one. He was an impressive winner over steeplechase fences at Marton last spring and he resumed racing last week at Awapuni after a long spell. He looked a greatly long spell. He looked a greatly Lap for most of the pace in a fast-run race. He jumped well throughout chase in the spring, but Chere Amie, Refulgent and Shining Hours have much to learn about the game. The pick of the lightweights should be Patahi, though Haile Selassie is caprace. He jumped well throughout and weakened only in the conclud-To-morrow Blue Steel should be found a many pounds better horse and the Hunt Cup should be the able of a surprise. However, the form horses are GOLD BALLAD,

High Peer and Midland. WINTER CUP TRIAL

He poisoned his less than the moreover and their contracts of the contract of the contrac ton to morrow and their running will be invested with much interest. list. He poisoned his leg after win-ning the Akitio Steeples and it may be found that this brilliant lepper will be in need of a race.

Lady Callaghar was third in the Lady Callaghan ran third in this race last year and, while she disappointed last week at Awapuni, the easier track conditions likely to obtain to-morrow will be more in her favour. She is a good jumper and is no stranger to the track.

Classform finished second over this distance last week, but Meamea appears to be rather backward and should be held safe by Screen Royal King, who has won no fewer than four hurdles races at Marton, was second to Glenvane in the Hunt Cup last year. He appears to be rather backward and should be held safe by Screen Star, who looked anything but lucky last week. Screen Star will be all the better on the easier track and should make amends.

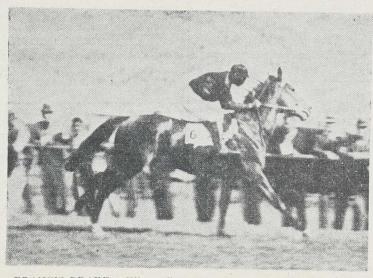

Francis Drake seems to be coming back to form and he appeals more than Lady Montana, but Hunting Royal would need only to repeat his Whyte Handicap form to hold them safe. Dainty Sheila would better over a longer distance and tage of his career and he is liable lino Martini in the Manawatu Hunt better over a longer distance and Vascones will have a bigger followng. Fiancee is a possibility and so Gold Ballad, but this is a race in which smart beginners should shine For that reason most faith is likely to be placed in SCREEN STAR, Vascones and Majority.

THE MINOR EVENTS rush for his scrip if Lord is in the saddle.

An improver is Sir Musket, but Gold Court has been suffering from a bad cold and the break in his pre-HERE'S AN paration will be against him, and it may be left to the two-year-olds to carry the day.

Uvedale raced well in the spring and was beaten a head on this track, while the improving Lady Ex lost a lot of ground through being carried out at Awapuni. Merrymeer is speedy and All Quiet showed pronise in the autumn. It is probable that the favourites will be UVEDALE, Sweet Anne and Cups among other races. Adrienne was a gallant little jumper and a great mud-lark.

Lady Briar and Gaswyn do not appeal, but this looks a very open race and the hardest to beat may be Nino Martini, the Knapp bracket, and Tigreterre.

SMART HURDLES FIELD

HIGH PEER won the Waituna Hurdles so well with 10.1 at Awapuni last week that he must again be accounted hard to beat tomorrow in the Rosebank Hurdles with 10lbs, more. The Thomord

Colibri is useful and Viracious is possibility, while Eupatrid, Te Dre, Kinkajou, Great Fair, Etla, and Regicide will have friends. However, the bulk of the money should be for HASTEN, Kinkajou and Etla.

Deflation will be all the rage for the Springrove Handicap after his decisive win at Awapuni, for he is on the upgrade. Still, he has an extra 7lbs. to carry to-morrow. Kriemhild is from the Dulieu stable, but she needs a firm track and should be held safe by Lucullus Ray, who was an unlikely runner.

Willan ran second in a steeplesusceptible to a big improvement. Baron Bold appears to have come more solid and his hurdling form has been very good. Karere-nui and Moonlight Bay should be the pick of the remainder.

However, there should be good support for KOHIKA, Lacan and

CURRENT COMMENT

(By Moturoa)

There will be racing at Marton Rotorua and Timaru to-morrow.

Dividend is again jumping well at Riccarton and is one to keep in mind for an early win.

Valroy is now in Jim Waller's stable. He schooled well over hurdles at Awapuni on Monday.

Renascor's recent form has been disappointing and the little Musketoon gelding has been turned out for a brief spell.

Reg Mackie is booked to ride the onsistent Lockit in the Winter Cup.

The Grand National candidate
Waka will be ridden by F. E. Baker at Washdyke to-morrow.

Neptune broke a long run of outs when he won at Waimate last week and the Hawke's Bay-bred gelding may go on with the good work. He is engaged at Washdyke to-morrow.

Sheeny was one of the most consistent hacks at Trentham and her form there will make her favourite at the South Canterbury meeting to-morrow.

The poor showing made by Rhodes at Awapuni on Saturday is attributed to a cold breaking on him. Wagner raced well at the National meeting last year and his Wellington form suggests that he will be in the picture again next month.

Padishah has been entered for the Brabazon Handicap at the Christ-church Hunt meeting, but the Homeby Steeplechase is more likely to be his mission. This was his National trial last year nission.
