German propagandists are spreading reports throughout the occupied countries that the London food situation and machinery have broken down. The purpose of these reports is somewhat obscure, unless it is an endeavour to discount the Nazis' own inability or refusal to carry out an equitable food distribution for the populations for which they are responsible.

In fact, there is no shortage of most food and none of the essentials are absent from London shops. So true is this that those persons whose ordinary shops at which they are registered have been bombed have been given "rover coupons" en-titling them to draw on supplies at any other shop.

Other supplies are fully equal to the demand, and also the meat ration has recently been increased, showing that there is no difficulty about food distribution in London, which is the main target of Nazi terrorism.

REPLACES LORD GALWAY

By Telegraph-Press Association WELLINGTON, Oct. 4.

It is officially announced that his Majesty the King has approved the appointment of Air Chief Marshal Sir Cyril Newall, G.C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., to be Governor-General of New Zealand in succession to Colonel the Rt. Hon. Viscount Galway, P.C., G.C.M.G., D.S.O., O.B.E., whose term of office will expire in February, 1941.

His Majesty has also approved the promotion of Air Chief Marshal Sir Cyril Newall to be Air Marshal of the Royal Air Force.

Sir Cyril Louis Norton Newall is a son of the late Lieut-Colonel William Potter Newall, of the Indian Army. He is aged 53. He was born in India and studied at Sandhurst, later joining the Indian Army. During the Great War he served in France with the Royal Flying Corps and received the Albert Medal.

He has been Director of Personnel, Operations, and Intelligence, and was Deputy-Chief of Air Staff.
Sir Cyril married in 1922 Miss May Dulcie Wendell, who died in 1924. In 1925 he married Olive Tennyson Foster, only daughter of Mrs Francis Storer Eaton, of Boston.

Lyndon Road, Hastings, on Sunday night at 7 o'clock, on the subject: "THE BIBLE: THE WORD OF "patriotic vigilance." GOD, WHOLLY INSPIRED AND INFALLIBLE."

(1) The Bible the only authority and guide in the world to-day as to the truth concerning the creation and ultimate destiny of the earth and mankind. (II Peter 1: 19-21. Isa. 41: 21-23. I Cor. 2: 9-10. Num. 14: 21).

(a) Fulfilled predictions concerning Jesus Christ, his birth, life, death and resurrection. (Matt. 1: 23; 2: 5; 8: 17; 21: 4. Luke 18: 31-33; 24: 25-27. Ps. 22: 16-18. Isa. 53: 7-9. Ps. 16: 10

(b) Fulfilled predictions concerning the nations, e.g. Israel, Babylon and Egypt. (Deut. 28: 64. Lev. 26: 44. Isa. 13: 19-20. Ez. 29: 15; 30: 13.).

(3) The critics of the Bible confounded by the work of the ex-Confidence justified in Bible prophecies concerning the future, with particular reference to the setting up of God's universal kingdom on earth. (Dan. 2.44; 7: 13-14. Ps. 2: 7-11. Isa. 11: 1-4. Micah 4: 3-4. Rev. 11: 15.).

State

FEARLESS NOVEL ON THE SCREEN

Is Human Drama

A deep, stirringly human appeal opening attendance in the entire history of New York's 22-year-old Rivoli Theatre, is now screening at the State Theatre, Hastings.

Under John Ford's honest direction the Joads come to life with all the warmth, vitality and rugged humour that characterised Stein-beck's widely acclaimed novel. Both the spirit and the letter of the book have been followed with extraordinary exactness by Associate Producer Nunnally Johnson, who wrote the screen play. The many thousands who eagerly awaited this picture will find every iota of drive and power of the original story has been retained in the screen version.

Tom Joad, who is played by Henry Fonda, remains the courageous figure Steinbeck created. Jane Darwell's performance, as Ma Joad, makes it impossible to believe that Steinbeck did not have her in mind when he created this indomitable Oklahoma mother. Jane carries her audience in the palm of her hand while she laughs and cries, scolds her brood and defies the forces which would tear her family apart.

What is by all odds one of the most difficult roles in the picture, that of Casy, the garrulous, crusading preacher is carried off with ing preacher, is carried off with great distinction by John Carradine.

As Grampa, Charley Grapewin turns in the best performance of a long and distinguished career, while Dorris Bowden actually appears to relive Rosasharn's struggle to bring row life into the world.

THE SPIRIT OF YOUNG ENGLAND—Happy and unperturbed by the dread implication of the gasmasks she is minding, this bonny girl typifies the spirit of British youth.

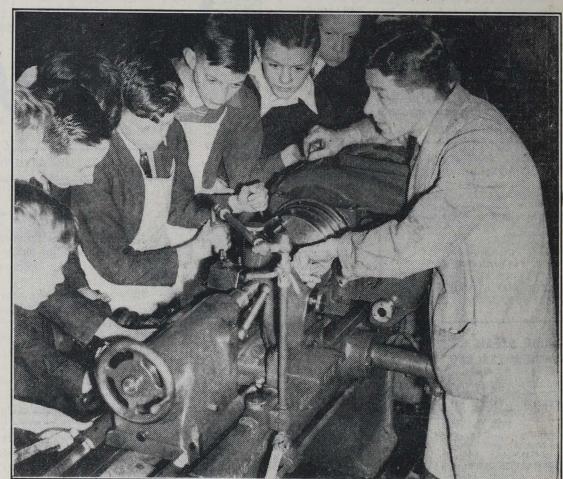

GRIM EDUCATION—It is a tragic commentary on modern civilisation that children must learn about air raids and poison gas before they can read or write. These toddlers have been taught to wear their masks while playing.

AMERICAN CHILDREN TAKEN TO SAFETY—Thousands of citizens of neutral countries resident in Britain made haste to move their families to safety when it became apparent that the German bombers were to make their widespread and indiscriminate raids on the country. These are two little Americans who left with their mother on the liner Washington for the United States. Their father enlisted with the British Army.

THE PARTING—This little boy, one of many sent to the safety of the country, has his soldier father to kiss him good-bye at the station.

LESSONS IN WAR WORK—These boys of a technical college in Lancashire will serve in their country's munitions drive immediately they leave school. Here they are learning the use of a lathe.

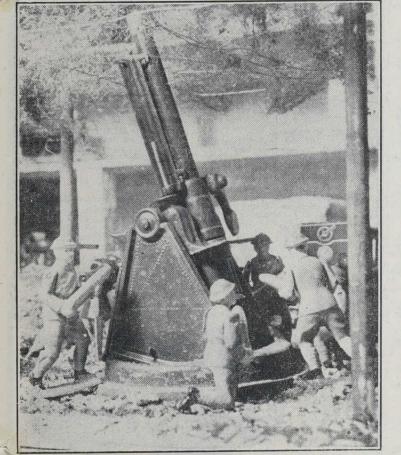

HELPING THE WAR EFFORT—Throughout Great Britain children of all ages are doing their bit to help the war effort. One task they can do thoroughly is the collecting of paper and other waste, as these Girl Guides are doing.

AN OBLIGING PORTER takes a happy band of evacuees to their carriage.

REFUGEES FROM THE LOW COUNTRIES—Children who were hurriedly evacuated in the face of the German invasion of the Low Countries must also be cared for in Britain. Special schools have been started in the country for some of these refugees.

EVEN THE TOYS reflect the current trend in children's thoughts.

This model anti-aircraft gun and crew is typical of what is being displayed in the toyshops at present.

READY FOR THE BIG ADVENTURE—Already several thousand children have been sent overseas from Britain, and, despite the difficulties and the recent despicable sinking of a child refugee ship, the scheme is to be continued. This happy group was photographed shortly before going on to a ship at London.

"HURRY UP. WE'LL MISS IT"—Three children being evacuated from London make a last-minute dash for the train. Formerly children were evacuated in units of schools, but now mothers are going with their families to safety.

FINANCING THE WAR

A debate on a loan proposal always brings forth a great divergence of views on public finance and indebtedness, and the discussion in the House on Thursday night proved no exception to the rule.

The compulsory war loan was under consideration, and, although some of the criticism was adverse, it was hard to find much point in many of the arguments put forward. Mr Bodkin laid it down as a principle that working capital should not make a contribution to the war effort, and alleged that "thousands of companies were being called upon to exchange working capital for a frozen asset." It is a little difficult to be patient with a critic who would exempt the working capital of the country from any obligation to carry its share of the war burden, and the second part of Mr Bodkin's statement has little relation to fact. It is quite possible that trading enterprises which have no reserve invested in securities may have to draw on their bankers in order to take up their quota of the compulsory war loan, but that is merely imposing an additional charge on future earnings, which may have a slightly adverse effect on the profit and loss balance.

It is more difficult to follow the reasoning of those critics who believe that there is some magical method of financing the war by means of "costless credit" which will not involve inflation. It may be perfectly true, as Mr J. A. Lee states, that the compulsory war loan "will drive the country further into the chains of the debt finance system, and that it does not constitute any new departure in financial policy," but there are only two ways of obtaining the means to pay for the war. One is by a levy on the earnings of the people, or an appropriation of capital in the form of taxation; the other is a levy on their savings in the form of a loan, whether of the voluntary or compulsory variety. The suggestion that a bank or anybody else can, by writing entries in a book, create an unlimited spending power for financing a war or any other expensive undertaking is a delusion. A bank can only lend its capital or its clients' money, and the extent to which it can furnish additional credit depends on the excess of deposits over advances after reasonable provision is made against the possibility that a number of their depositors may want their money in a hurry. The argument of one financial innocent that if the Government had taken over the banks and had the spending of customers' deposits the problem of financing the war would be solved, might commend itself to the exponents of costless credit, but not to the depositors who had put their money in the bank so that they could get it when they wanted it.

The history of banking is littered with examples of financial disasters that have followed the extension of credit, unsupported by adequate resources, and bankers have learned their lesson. They can gauge with great accuracy the limits it is safe for them to go, and the theories of credit cranks leave them unmoved.

But whether we pay for the war as we go, or whether the debts we incur in prosecuting it are left to a future generation, the money has to be provided by somebody, and it is easy to convince oneself that "somebody" means somebody else. At the same time we cannot agree with those members who insist that lowered standards of living all round are unavoidable if New Zealand is to do its proper part in helping to win. The production of the country, if properly directed, is capable of great expansion and is rapidly adapting itself to war needs. In normal times there is always a great reserve of labour in the country, and industrial plants seldom work to capacity. At the present time some 20,000 men have been withdrawn from productive work to serve with the armed forces. Ordinarily they would represent a potential capacity to produce from four to five million pounds' worth of goods and services. But, in spite of their withdrawal, the production of the country is expanding and bringing a corresponding increase in the national income. It is always easier to gear up the machinery of production to meet the requirements of war than to change it over to the needs of the civil population when peace is restored. In war, the consumption of wealth appears to be merely incidental to the production of greater wealth; in peace, production too often waits on consumption. If it waits too long there is a fall in prices, a panic amongst those who control capital resources, and a dislocation of the national economy which makes it impossible to maintain living standards. Still, there is no need to anticipate post-war troubles. Our immediate duty is to pay up to the limit of our capacity and look cheerful about it.

The chairman, Mr B. Cause and Effect!

A review of Napier's vital statistics for the first year of the war

A review of Napier's vital statis-tics for the first year of the war produces some novel and interesting sidelights. Marriages for the year ending September 30, 1939, totalled 186, but in the following 12 months the figures had dropped to 173 which shows that contrary to speculation the advent of war did not provide an impetus for young people to enter matrimony. Strange as it seems, the birth rate climbed from 490 in the first period under review to 550 in the second. The latter figure is made up of 273 males

WAR LOAN DEBATED BY HOUSE CRITICISM BY LEADER

Spirited Defence By Minister Of Finance

OF OPPOSITION

"COMPULSORY" ASPECTS

By Telegraph-Press Association PARLT. BLDGS., Oct. 4.

"The War Cabinet has come in for some criticism in the course of the debate," said the Hon. Adam Hamilton, Leader of the Opposition, speaking in the House of Representatives this afternoon, "and some of it has been justified. However, the War Cabinet has justified its existence and the purpose for which it was set up."

for which it was set up."

To say that the terms of the War Loan should have come before the War Cabinet was a criticism that could be levelled, he said, but he doubted if it could be sustained. The War Cabinet could not look after the Government's declared policy. He contended that the War Loan was not conscription of wealth and the terms were unjust and unwise.

Replying to the debate, the Minister of Finance (the Hon. W. Nash) defended the loan, adding that the Government would take all the steps necessary to obtain the money for defence. It would not argue with them, but it would not be unfair. The loan was part of the conscription of wealth and the measure was intended for dealing with those who should, but never would subscribe voluntarily.

Mr Hamilton's Criticism

The interrupted debate on war finance was resumed in the House of Representatives this morning by Mr F. W. Doidge (Tauranga), who said that the Government was issuing the loan in a form to appease the militants of its own party. It talked of the "all-in" policy, but the compulsory loan applied only to a few prosperous taxpayers and companies. Nowhere in the British Empire had there been found necessary a compulsory loan of the type announced in New Zealand, and he laimed that not even Germany and Italy had had recourse to a loan so harsh.

He contended that Mr Nash was out of touch with the sentiment of the people, and their willingness to give freely was to be found in the magnificent response to the fighter aeroplane funds. The terms of the loan were shattering to the prestige of New Zealand, he said.

Mr Doidge also urged that New Zealand should continue to import as much as possible from Britain.

JOURNEY TO DOMINION

Convoy Attacked At Outset By U-Boat

BRAVE BEHAVIOUR

By Telegraph-Press Association WELLINGTON, Oct. 4.

Safe after an exciting and adventurous voyage, the second official party of 113 English children evacuated from their homeland under the Government scheme arrived at Wellington to-day.

At the outset of their journey the convoy in which they were travelling was scattered by a submarine attack, and a torpedo passed within a few yards of their vessel and struck another carrying 300 children bound for a sister Dominion. They saw the stricken liner going down and the passengers and crew abandoning her, but had to hurry on and leave the rescue to the escort vessels.

They did not rejoin the convoy but carried on alone. Afterwards they learned that of the 900 passengers on the torpedoed ship not a single life had been lost. The sole casualty was one of the ship's officers who was killed when he missed his footing climbing into the lifeboat.

This was the liner reported to have been torpedoed on the way to Canada several weeks ago. Cabled

The children behaved extremely well when the alarm took place, most of them believed it to be only another of the frequent lifeboat practices carried out in the early days of the vovage. the voyage.

Awakened by Gunfire

The attack took place late in the evening, stated the escorts travelling with the children. They were awakened by gunfire but at first they stayed in their beds thinking it to be an aeroplane attack. This opinion was strengthened by the rattle of a machine-gun. Then stewards came to send them to their muster stations wearing lifejackets and ready for any eventuality.

From the deck they could see the torpedoed ship, now brilliantly lit up, and with the lifeboats being lowered down the side. She appeared to be settling slowly on an even

"The children were really wonderful," said Miss P. M. Redmayne, who was in charge of the children, in an interview. "They showed not a sign of fear or excitement and behaved just as if it were an ordinary practice.

Slept in Clothes "For three nights, while we were in the danger area, they slept in the lounge in their clothes, Captain Holland was most thoughtful and did everything he could for the children's welfare. Even when it was touch and go, and he must have been distracted with the worry, he saw to it that the children were served with hot milk and biscuits."

An observant young woman who saw an abandoned car about a mile from Silverdale to-day and had read reports of thefts of petrol and clothing from two places at Massey during Thursday night gave the police a fresh trail of the four men who escaped from the Auckland prison on Tuesday night, Motor patrols and search parties have since been ranging far and wide.

The car was one stolen from A. M. Jackson's garage at Orakei Road, Remuera, early on Thursday morning and it had evidently travelled over rough territory.

A seven-year-old schoolboy, John Small, who lives on the Dairy Flat-Silverdale road about two miles south of Silverdale, said that while he was on his way to school at about 8 o'clock on Thursday morning he noticed three men get out of a small motor-car and look underneath a concrete bridge. Two Military Men Make Their Appearance

MR CHAMBERLAIN'S ILLNESS

(United Press Association-Copyright.) (Received Oct. 4, 10.45 a.m.)

LONDON, Oct. 3.

Following the resignation of the Lord President of the Council (the Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain), the following Cabinet changes are announced:-

Sir John Anderson, Minister of Home Security, becomes Lord President of the Council.

Mr Herbert Morrison, Minister of Supply, becomes Minister of Home Security. Captain Oliver Lyttelton, Controller of Non-Ferrous Metal, becomes President of the Board of Trade.

Sir Andrew Duncan, President of the Board of Trade, becomes Minister of Supply.

Lieut-Colonel Moore-Brabazon becomes Minister of Transport. Sir John Reith, Minister of Transport, becomes Minister of Works and Buildings.

Viscount Cranborne, Paymaster-General, becomes Secretary of State for the Dominions.

Lord Caldecote, Secretary of State for the Dominions, becomes Lord Chief Justice

Mr Chamberlain has been in bed in the country for several days, and becomes a viscount. Sir John Reith becomes a baron.

The Prime Minister, Mr Churchill, has invited the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Kingsley Wood, and the Minister of Labour, Mr Ernest Bevin, to join the War Cabinet. Sir John Anderson joins the War Cabinet in Mr Chamberlain's place.

Mr Chamberlain in resigning, sent a letter to Mr Churchill, in the course of which he expressed regret that his health since his recent operation had prevented him from increasing his capacity for work, which, together with the unusual stress of wartime conditions, had combined to cause him to progress backward instead of forward, and he said that a considerable time must elapse before he could hope to be able to perform the duties which were essential for a member of the War Cabinet.

Mr Chamberlain added an expression of his unshaken confidence that, under Mr Churchill's leadership, this country, her allies and associates would succeed in overcoming the forces of barbarism.

Churchill's Regrets

Mr Chamberlain has been in bed in the country for several days, and his doctors advised him that he must diop his job.

The Ministry of Works and Buildings, Sir John Reith's new post, is a new creation.

Captain Lyttelton becomes a Minister though he is not a member of the House of Commons.

War Cabinet

It is learned that Sir John Anderson has deaverbrook, Sir Kingsley Wood, Mr Bevin, and Sir John Anderson.

Lord Halifax will be assisted in his new duties as Leader of the House of Lords by Lord Snell, captain of the Gentlemen-at-Arms, who will continue as deputy-Leader of the House of Lords by Lord Snell, captain of the Gentlemen-at-Arms, who will continue as deputy-Leader of the House of Lords by Lord Snell, captain of the Gentlemen-at-Arms, who will continue as deputy-Leader of the House of Lords by Lord Snell, captain of the G ship, this country, her allies and associates would succeed in overcoming the forces of barbarism.

Churchill's Regrets

Mr Churchill replied: "I have for some time feared that you would be forced to relinquish the struggle. I and all your colleagues have admired your unshaken nerve and persevering will. The help you have given me since you ceased to be my chief has tided us through what may well prove to be the turning point of the war.

"You did all you could for victory. If now you tell me that you must fall out of the line, I cannot resist your claim. The loss of your services makes it necessary to reform our ranks and fill the gap as best we can."

Mr Chamberlain has also resigned the leadership of the Conservative Party, which, it is generally predicted, will elect Mr Churchill.

Cautions, and this job now falls on Mr Morrison.

Sir Andrew Duncan, Minister of Supply, is a big figure in the shipping world and the chambers of commerce.

Captain Lyttelton served in the Great War and has been in business since then. He was managing director of the British Metal Corporation, and did a little known but important job as Controller of non-ferrous metals.

Sir John Reith is a former Director -General of the B.B.C. and of Empire Airways, and before going to the Transport Ministry he had a brief term as Minister of Information.

Lieut. Colonel Moore Brabazon was the first person in England to hold a civilian pilot's licence.

The appointments will lower the average age of the War Cabinet. None of the appointees is yet 60.

Shearing Contracts

Sir,—One of the most important questions of the moment concerning the New Zealand Workers' Union is the New Zealand Workers Union is that of the shearing contractors. With the shearing season now near at hand an early solution of diffi-culties that have cropped up is highly desirable. In this the New Zealand Workers' Union supported the shearing contractors in pressing the shearing contractors in pressing for a fixed rate.

for a fixed rate.

It has been pointed out to the Sheepowners Federation that the individual bargaining system fostered by the Sheepowners' Federation is not in the best interest of the contractors by any means. The question is—Why did the Sheepown ers Federation refuse to discuss the question of fixing a contract rate with the Contractors Association and the New Zealand Workers' Union representatives at a meeting Onion representatives at a meeting held at the Sheepowners Federation room, Hastings, on August 5, 1940?

Secondly, why did the Sheepowners Federation insist on the adoption of the individual bargaining method between the owners and the contractors?

Well, there is only one answer, and that is, solely for exploitation turposes. The Sheepowners Federation, under individual bargaining, reap the benefit to the detriment of the contractors and the workers in particular. That is why the Sheepowners Federation determined to maintain the individual method.

He states that in a certain period he has sent 27 letters to his home address, but his parents are emphatic that they have received only nine in this time, leading to the conclusion that the earlier mails have either been seriously delayed or have been lost. "It is most disappointing to us here in England to wait and wait, expecting to receive news from home, and to find that there is little or nothing for us," he says in the course of a comment on the lack of New Zealand mail. Mr Maddison, who is chairman of the seed cropping committee, said that a splendid response was made to an appeal for land, 69 areas be-ing offered, of a total area of 42 acres. Of this area, 36 acres were accepted and six rejected on ac-count of the soil being unsuited to cultivation. Most of the land con-sisted of quarter-acre and half-acre blocks situated in the borough of Hastings.

Hastings.

Among the seeds urgently required are those of sugar beet, mangolds, parsnips and carrots. These plants are all biennials—that is, they produce a root one year and the seed in the second season of growth. Therefore, to obtain seed as soon as possible it was necessary to purchase what roots there were available on farms and plant them up, so that they could produce seed this summer. Roots were thus obtained and the following areas planted:—

Mangolds, 5½ acres; sugar beet, /3rd acre; parsnips, 1½ acres; Belgian carrots, ¼ acre; red carrots, all acre.

All of these crops have transplanted most successfully and are now making good growth in the town sections. Ten acres have also been sown in peas to be saved for seed. The balance of ground yet to be planted consists of 15 acres for beans which will be sown late. for beans which will be sown late in October, and a nursery area of two acres on which seedling root-crops will be grown for transplanting in the autumn.

MAN'S QUESTIONS—GOD'S ANSWERS

Is He able to save me? "He is able to save to the uttermost them that come unto God by Him" (Heb. 7:25). Am I accountable to God? "Every one of us shall give account of himself to God." (Rom. 14:12). Has God seen all my ways? "All things are naked and opened unto the eyes of Him with whom we have to do" (Heb. 4:13). Is He willing? "Christ Jesus came into this world to save sinners" (Timothy 1:15).

Does He charge me with sin? "The Scripture hath concluded all under sin" (Gal. 3:22). "All have sin-ned" (Romans 3:23). Will He punish sin? "The soul that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezekiel 18:4). "For the wages of sin is death" (Romans 6:23).

Must I perish? "God Is not willing that any perish, but that all should come to repentance" (2 Peter 3:9). How can I escape? "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16: 31).

Am I saved on believing? "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life" (John 5:36). Can I be saved now? "Now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation" (2 Cor. 6:2).

Shall I not fall away? "Him that is able to keep you from falling" (Jude 24).

EVERY BOY AND GIRL NEEDS A HOBBY

These Suggestions Should to READERS OF THE Help You Choose

Every boy and girl should have a hobby. Preferably two hobbies—one for indoors and the winter time especially, and the other for out-of-doors and summer weather.

These hobbies should be subjects in which you are really interested and which will give you education and pleasure in your spare moments, besides encouraging you to use your originality—that is, your own special ideas.

As there are probably quite a number of Playmates who have not yet chosen a special hobby and who would like some ideas, I have decided to make some suggestions this week instead of giving you a story. Here are a number of short pieces in which children all over the world have described their special hobbies, and they are full of interest and bright ideas. Perhaps they will give you some ideas.

STAMP COLLECTING

I have many hobbies, but the one which I find most interesting is stamp-collecting.

Collecting foreign stamps enables

Of all the various hobbies, unusual and popular, collecting railway tickets is the most extraordinary, in my opinion. It is for this reason I one to learn more about other countries, since many countries have pictures of their main industries on their postage stamps. The stamps of the Mozambique Company, in collect them with the aim of collect-Portuguese East Africa, for example depict fields of corn, natives picking cotton, sugar cane, and ivory tusks—some of the main industries of the pose of comparing the different col-

Also many countries have pictures of their scenery printed on stamps—the Pyramids of Egypt, the palm trees of Samoa, the Mitre Peak of New Zealand, the Grand Canyon of the United States, and the picturesque Lake Victoria in Uganda can all be seen on postage stamps.

The governments of many countries have pictured their scenery printed on stamps—the Pyramids of Egypt, the discarded that anyone living in a foreign country could send them to you.

The governments of many countries have discovered that, by depicting the native flora and fauna attractively on their postage stamps, tourists are induced to visit their lands. Ir this way many postage stamps are used as advertisements for the country which issues them.

If we consider that almost every postage stamp issued is expressive of something in its country, it can be realised why Landa grant and postage stamp.

PLEASURE OF WRITING

It gives me the greatest of pleasure to write stories and essays. This is my hobby.

This is my hobby.

The gift for writing is so much more expressive than ordinary speech ever could be. I can put more feeling into writing, as my rrore feeling into writing, as my whole min', soul and thought seems to go into what I really mean to convey.

I have often thought of commencing a 'diary," but never have until it came to be New Year, 1940, and then I did and have kept it faithfully. I rather like the idea.

At the age of 11 I took to making tiny books of my own from scraps of plain paper with a brown covering, plus a paper clip to hold the pages in place. I would then sit quite contentedly, and write short tries, distinguished people, metals, foreign languages, weights and measures, abbreviations and authors of pages in place. I would then sit quite contentedly, and write short stories.

I think this is a rather interesting hobby, don't you? stories.
From that time I have continued s a hobby, and now I have my STUDYING BIRDS

I do not think a more desirable hobby could be found than corres-ponding with girls and boys, as really this hobby includes almost every hobby one may think of in one. I am never more happy than when I receive a letter from a pen-friend, especially if it is from England; then one goes sailing over the waters, touring through England, seeing Buckingham Palace.

In Canada 1 have seen, in my imagination, Montreal and its lovely buildings, and Ottawa and Quebec. I have been over the magnificent Rockies, across the great Canadian-Pacific railway, and seen the beautiful lakes. I am never tired of journeying to other lands, to see the wonderful sights and enjoying the thrills hunting wild animals.

By corresponding with girls and boys in other lands, one learns of other countries and so increases one's knowledge of geography.

Pam's Letter

Dear Girls and Boys,—

This week I want you all to make quite sure that you read the story about different hobbies chosen by girls and boys the world over.

You will see what a wonderful variety of hobbies there are. They range from the collecting of such things as stamps, coins, postcards, shells, feathers, silver papers, photographs, tickets, butterflies, pressed flowers, and miniature houses, to the study of birds, gardening, constructing models and crossword puzzles. Or you may choose to gain pleasure from reading or writing, or corresponding with pen-friends all over the world and keeping scrapbooks to send to them to show them pictures of your own country.

I am hoping that all the Playmates already have a hobby, but that those who haven't will choose one.

Now I want each one of you to write me a short piece about your own special hobby—just a piece as long as any of those in the story I have given you. Tell me why you chose the hobby, how long you have been interested in it, and all about it. The Playmate who writes the best piece will receive five marks, and all those who write me an interesting, neatly written piece will gain marks.

Love from—

SAINT TOR TOOK THE LAURELS

THURSDAY'S RACING IN RETROSPECT

Likely Improvers For To-day

By "Moturoa"

The total eclipse of Tetratina, Varuna and Co. in the Hastings Stakes on Thursday suggests that a Evenly balanced fields feature the concluding day of the Hawke's Bay Jockey Club's spring meeting at Hastings to-day and the fixture Stakes on Thursday suggests that a new star has flashed across the two-year-old firmament and it calls for a complete revision of early opinions. Saint Tor is the colt of the moment and, unless there is another severe jolt for two-year-old backers at Ellerslie or Masterton, it looks as if the Awapuni hope will be at restricted odds for the Wellesley Stakes this month.

It was not until last week that Saint Tor attracted any attention apart from being a good-looking and well-grown colt, but his final trials promises to be entirely successful.

The weather appears likely to remain fine and a splendid day's sport is assured patrons.

Unless further rain falls the track will be slightly faster than on Thursday and that, together with the inclusion of several fresh horses, may complicate matters a little for investors.

WELLINGTON ENTRIES ON MONDAY

HAWKE'S BAY and visiting owners and trainers are reminded that nominations for all events at the Wellington Racing Club's spring meeting at Trentham on October 24, 26 and 28 close with the secretary, Miss M. Buchanan, at 5 p.m. on Monday (Oct. 7). At the same time a forfeit must be declared for the Wellesley Stakes and Wellington Guineas. There is no race on the programme under £300 and the provincial representation should be a strong one. HAWKE'S BAY and visiting were impressive and, the great confidence placed in the favourites, en-abled him to start at a nice price. Saint Tor's finishing run was de-moralising; Tetratina was picked up in a few strides as if she had stopped galloping, and the rest were outclassed.

Bought for 200gns, at the last National Yearling Sales, Saint Tor is an own brother to the brilliant Taranaki-trained sprinter Saxon Tor, being by Leighon from Saxony, an own-sister to Clarion Call and Kaiwaka. Saxony is by Hunting Song from Saxon Saint, by Hallowmas from Formless, a three-quarter sister to that great horse Bon Reve and ancestress of Paper Slipper, winner of two Stewards' Handicaps.

Saint Tor impressed me as likely to go on improving and the early two-year-old classics should be completely at his mercy.

pletely at his mercy. High Peer is a good jumper, especially on top of the ground. However his job on Thursday was made easier by the fact that others fenced

Son and Heir left the impression that he would have been in the pic-ture but for hitting the hurdle at the half-mile. He is due for a win-

George Greene nearly struck a bonanza on Thursday with Battle Gain. The price was false in light of the good work he had been doing and the race will improve him.

Gold Chase jumped sideways in the Imperial Plate and that cost him whatever chance he had. He is H. A. RUSSELL MEMORIAL HANDICAP not a good-mouthed horse and that defect will always be a danger. Kehurangi might improve a ton with her race on Thursday. Looks Mick Lane seems to have a really good colt in Erin's Court. A turn of luck for the Hastings owner-trainer would be widely popular. Flying Spray sticks on well and should be heard of before the spring racing is over. Lady Furst has never looked better than at present and she is one to keep on side with from now on. With anything like a good run from the half-mile on Thursday Aurora's Star would have won by a street. It was remarkable that she should have struck so much trouble in such a small Morning Flight won the Glenaray Handicap last year after failing badly in the amateur riders' event the first day. He'd have to improve a lot to-day, but the drop in the weights will suit him.

Khurja is running solid races and must not be overlooked that he is fairly well seasoned.

Nothing finished better on Thursday than Kintyre. He will be racing over his right distance to-day.

Malacca has not raced since June and Dunmanway should be found more seasoned. Morning Flight should stay better to-day, but Kintyre who had won at his three starts Smiling Personality seems to be better than ever. She has lost her tendency to run out and she will prior to yesterday, is the pick of the handicap. Gold Court has plenty of weight, but Royal Pageant, Khurja, City Song and Dyne are all possible make the grade in open sprints later The actual favourites Laughing Song stopped everything that was going on Thursday and then finished fourth. The smaller field will suit her to-day.

Roeon ran a great race from a bad marble on Thursday. She had not done much fast work before the 7 10 meeting, either, Native Song was beaten on his merits on Thursday, but the race would do the Gisborne horse no harm. Heroic Maid was skittled going on to the turn on Thursday and improved many places in the straight to run fourth. She looks really solid at present.

Kathbella's stylish win at the Matinee meeting. She is the class per-former here. Nigger Boy won at the right end on Thursday and is improving with every race, while Rakahanga will be all the better for her outing. Native Song will again find support and there will be money for Lucullus Boy. However, the pick of the handicap is Heroic Maid, who meets Nigger Boy on 12 lbs. better terms and this may be a hattle between a battle between

Mitchelson Cup Prospects

CLINCH'S GOOD FORM

Different Weights May Help Others

"Daily Mail" Special Service. AUCKLAND, Oct. 2.

AUCKLAND, Oct. 2.
Foliowing upon his success in the Avondale Cup, Clinch was a warm favourite for the Poland Cup at Paeroa and he ran another very good race to win, and his next start will probably be in the Mitchelson Cup on October 12. In that race he has been awarded 8.5. He is fully tried as a stayer but he will now be tested in having to give weight to the dual Auckland Cup winner Cheval de Volee and Flood Tide, a previous winner of the Mitchelson Cup.

Compared with their Avondale Cup weights, Clinch meets the runner-up Beau Repaire, 12lbs, and Our Jean, the third horse, 13lb worse and both the latter are likely to improve just as much as he ust as much as he.

After his success in the Plumpton

Handicap at Avondale, there was little doubt that Royevrus would head the Mitchelson Cup list. He Three Days' Racing

At Gisborne

SECRETARY "Dick" Sceats is attending the Hawke's Bay attending the Hawke's Bay spring meeting in connection with the three days' racing of the Poverty Bay Turf and Hunt Clubs at the Makaraka course on Oct. 26, 28 and Nov. 2. Generous travelling allowances are being made for visiting horses and it is hoped that owners and trainers from this province will trainers from this province will assist the clubs by nominating freely. Entries for all events close on Monday week, Nov. 14.

beat Sly Fox and Our Jean on the last occasion and now he is asked to meet them Slb and 5lb worse res-pectively. Each of these weight to meet them 8lb and 5lb worse respectively. Each of these weight balancings seems to put Our Jean in a favourable light.

Produced only on the second day at Paeroa, Te Kawiti won with as much confidence as his supporters expressed in him. In the Mitchelson Cup he has 8.9, his winning weight in the President's Handicap on Monday last, when the three horses nearest to him, Valamito, Esquire and Pern, all gave promise of early improvement. Valamito has not run such a good race for a has not run such a good race for a long time.

Racing Disappointingly

After his promising race in the Avondale Guineas, just prior to which he had had a number of teeth taken out, Lou Rosa was very disappointing in his Paeroa attempt and he remains a problem.

The reputation of Miss Te Koura among punters might be easily given a false connotation after Paeroa. She paid a good price to run second to Maxam, and more than three times that sum when she won from Llangollen on Monday, when she was aided materially by a very smart heginning. After the Clinch smart beginning. After the Clinch-Maxam success on Saturday, certain elements were a-twitter when Te Kawiti won and no doubt Miss Te Koura among them is a lady.

Llangollen has gained three seconds in her last four starts and she is apparently on the verge of a full success. She appears as top-weight at 9.8 in the Shorts Handicap at Ellerslie but she has won with heavier imposts and she has only to keep her present form to win early Mintlaw is overdue for another win. He scored in the Goldfields Cup in January and subsequently has been placed six times in good races. He is one to keep in mind for a middle-distance handicap of fair class.

Cillas, a Diatomous colt, has made good progress under H. Gray at Takanini and this speedy customer will win his share of races. Another son of Diatomous, the gelding Dinky Di, is also under Gray and he is expected soon to fulfil the great romise he displayed as a two-year Valiant Lady, who is now faced by the Foxton trainer, Jim Manuel, ran a good third on Saturday and a win for her should not be far away.

Cetewayo was again a big disappointment at Foxton. The Paleron Bay colt looks well, but he has yet to fulfil the promise he gave last spring.

Wings of Song has been very disappointing so far this season, but the Hunting Song gelding looks really well and it is reasonable to assume that he will improve with his racing.

Small Boy has done well on his Auckland trip, winning as a hurdler at Avondale and at Paeroa, and running second over country at the latter fixture. He is to remain in Auckland for the spring meetings. Serenata is reported to be well forward and her good second at Foxton suggests that she will not be long winning a race. A good handicap event should not be beyond the Hastngs-owned sister to Russian Bal-
