Mr Churchill's View On Grave Crisis

BURMA ROAD OPEN

Secret Clauses In Pact With Axis Powers?

THREAT TO AMERICA

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received October 10, 1.15 a.m.)

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Mr Churchill has announced in the House of Commons that the Burma Road will be reopened when the agreement expires. He said: "We acceded to the Japanese demand for the closing of the road because we wished to give the Sino-Japanese Governments the chance to settle a long and deadly quarrel."

"Unhappily, a settlement was not reached, and the Government under the circumstances cannot see its way to renew the agreement after October 17."

"Japan, instead of reaching an agreement with China, has entered a pact with Italy and Germany, which binds Japan to attack the United States if the United States enters the war against the dictators."

"The bargain seems so far unfavourable to Japan that we wonder whether there are not secret clauses in the Three-Power Pact aimed primarily against the United States."

"Secondly, it is pointed against Russia. Certainly the reception of this strange, unbalanced declaration in the United States is not encouraging to the authors. We hope that all the dangers will be averted by the prudence and patience of Japan, often shown in a very grave situation."

A Shanghai message states that the British Embassy has confirmed that the Japanese Navy has landed forces at Luikung Island which the British used only as a recuperating site for sick sailors since the outbreak of the European war. The Embassy does not regard the Japanese landing as of the slightest importance, particularly since the Japanese are not interfering with British property.

The Embassy stated that Luikung Island is not used as a base since the outbreak of the European war and that the only important British properties were the naval hospital and the consulate. The Japanese landed only a small force to which it was indicated that the British did not object as long as the Japanese did not interfere with British property.

The last British lease of Luikung expired at the end of September, whereupon the Nanking regime announced a refusal to renew. However, the Chungking Government previously had granted the British an indefinite extension.

The principal developments in the crisis are:—

1. Britain is to reopen the Burma road after October 17 to the passage of arms and supplies to General Chiang Kai-shek. The road has been closed for nearly three months under an agreement between Britain and Japan which was conditional upon some move being made by Tokyo towards a general settlement in the Far East. Far from doing this, Japan has entered a defensive alliance with Britain's enemies, and has sent her forces into French Indo-China.

2. United States consulates in the Japanese Empire and China have been instructed to advise 11,000 American citizens living there to return to the United States as soon as possible while travel facilities permit.

3. Japan has made a move to oust the British from the leased territory of Weihaiwei, which is used as a summer station by ships of the China Naval Squadron. General Chiang Kai-shek's Government recently renewed Britain's lease of the territory for ten years from the beginning of this month, but the Nanking puppet Government, dominated by Japan, declared the lease ended. British cruisers recently left Weihaiwei, Britain, in renewing the lease, having undertaken not to use the territory for naval purposes during the Sino-Japanese war.

4. Tokyo, the British Ambassador (Sir Robert Craigie) informed the Japanese Foreign Minister (Mr Matsuoka) to-day of the non-renewal of the Burma road agreement.

CASUALTIES ON THE DECLINE

MR CHURCHILL'S REVIEW

WEEKLY FIGURES

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received October 9, 6 p.m.)

LONDON, Oct. 9.

"The figures of killed and seriously injured since September 7 have declined steadily weekly from over 6000 in the first week, 5000 in the second week, and 4000 in the third week to 3000 last week," said the Prime Minister. "We must not exaggerate the damage to property. No one standing on the eminences of London would know any harm had been done to the city."

"At the present rate the demolition of half of London's houses would take 10 years, and progress would be much slower after that, but a lot of things are going to happen to Hitler and the Nazi regime before even 10 years have passed. Mussolini also has experiences ahead which he did not foresee when he thought it safe and profitable to stab stricken and prostrate France in the back."

"It is satisfactory to be able to announce that we are at present substantially stronger actually and relatively in fighters and bombers than in the month of May, when heavy fighting began. The pilot situation also is rapidly improving."

Referring to reprisals, Mr Churchill said: "Our object must be to inflict the maximum harm upon the war-making capacity of Germany. That is the only object we shall pursue. We are continually battering with steadily increasing forces those points in Germany which we believe will do the Germans most injury and most speedily lessen their power to strike against us."

SITUATION MORE SERIOUS

INDO-CHINA IGNORES SIAM'S DEMANDS

SECRET AGREEMENT

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received October 9, 11.0 p.m.)

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Authoritative circles have indicated that the Indo-China-Thailand situation is becoming worse, following Hanoi reports that the Vichy Government has instructed the Governor (M. Detroyat) to ignore the Thailand demands. It is authoritatively stated that the Japanese in Hanoi obviously are bringing pressure to bear on the French to accept the Thailand demands apparently under terms of a secret agreement between Japan and Thailand believed to have been arranged during the current visit of the Thailand mission to Japan.

AMERICANS READY TO LEAVE JAPAN

Washington Warning

DRASTIC MOVES EXPECTED

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received October 9, 10 p.m.)

TOKYO, Oct. 8.

American residents in Japan, many of whom already are preparing to depart, have accepted the Washington evacuation recommendation as a forerunner of more drastic economic moves against Japan. The Embassy has not decided the exact method of conveying information to the 6265 Americans residing in Japan. However, it is expected to circulate them promptly. It is attempting to avoid alarmist connotations over half-resident Americans, who are second-generation American-born Japanese generally called "Nisei." However, treatment in any Japanese-American problems always is troublesome.

"Yomiuri Nichi" and "Nichi Chugai," apparently reflecting unofficial Foreign Office comment, say that it is not unusual and in keeping with American policy, since Americans traditionally hold the Government responsible for any losses and the Government wishes to avoid such complications. In view of this the Japanese Government does not consider it a serious problem.

The inability to obtain necessities which previously was an annoyance is now a downright hardship. The general anti-foreign feeling nourished by the anti-espionage campaigns has promoted an uncomfortable feeling, even among old residents. Officials, while publicly expressing immediate concern over America's attitude, privately are astonished at such a speedy reaction. It is also held significant that whereas in the past the withdrawal of Americans from the Far East, especially China, was to Manila, this time they are advised to go to America.

PHILIPPINES STAND WITH AMERICA

Defence Programme Discussions

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received October 9, 10.0 p.m.)

MANILA, Oct. 9.

Commenting on the forthcoming conferece between the Secretary for War (Mr C. L. Stimson) and Mr Elizalde, the Philippine resident at Washington, regarding Philippine participation in the United States defence programme, the "Philippine Herald" says: "Filipinos are unshakably determined to stand by the side of Americans in any struggle in which common ideals are put to the test. Mr Elizalde has unlimited authority to commit the Philippines to any United States decision."

ECONOMIC EXPERTS IN BERLIN PLAN CHANGES

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received October 9, 9.30 p.m.)

ROME, Oct. 9.

The newspaper "Popolo di Roma" says that Italian and German economic experts are meeting at Berlin to rearrange the whole economic system of Europe. The Minister of Trade (Signor Raffaello Riccardi) is going to Berlin to-day.

It will be suggested that gold standard countries shall henceforth use reichsmarks and lira to settle their trade balances.

HELSINKI, Oct. 9.

It is reported from Berlin that Reichsmarshal Goerring is appointing an economic general staff to work under the direction of the Minister of Economic Affairs (Dr. Funk) in order to draft an Italian-German plan for Europe.

Furious Raids On London Described

As New Reprisals

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received October 10, 2 a.m.)

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Beginning by spraying incendiary bombs as they raced up the Thames Estuary after dark, the Germans for hours maintained a particularly vicious attack on London. The barrage which nightly gives the raiders an increasingly hot reception shook many districts immediately the Huns arrived for what the newspaper "Nachtausgabe" to-day described as "reprisals which are entering their severest stage."

As night wore on it became obvious that the Germans were indulging in new fury. Whereas hitherto handfuls of raiders came over at intervals, night-long full-scale formations to-night were flung against the capital.

Shortly before midnight reports of bombing were received from eight districts outside London, mostly in south-east England, where 'planes cut off their engines, glided to 50 feet, and raked the streets with machine-guns.

While the raid was at its height, an E.N.S.A. party gave London's strangest concert to hundreds of tightly-packed men, women and children on the platform of the Aldwych Tube Station.

Rooftop observers estimated that the waves consisted of 20 to 30 'planes breaking up in smaller groups upon reaching the outskirts. Some concentrated upon dropping high explosives and others showered incendiaries. The bombing was obviously at random.

VITAL LINE CUT

Italians Suffer Heavily

RECENT BOMBING

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received October 10, 1.45 a.m.)

ADEN, Oct. 9.

One of the most vital Italian supply lines in East Africa has been cut as a result of the R.A.F.'s bombing of the Aisha railway station between Jibuti and Addis Ababa.

The station is about 100 miles from the coast and is the site of an important military encampment and supply depot.

The R.A.F. dropped bombs on the railway line, military buildings, and a train. Several other important sections of the line were damaged recently.

Aerial photographs reveal that the R.A.F. has created widespread havoc in aerodromes, camps, supply depots, ports and petrol depots. French airmen attached to the R.A.F. have done much valuable reconnoitring.

WORKERS DEFEATING HITLER

People's Morale Unshaken

SPIRIT REMAINS UNDAUNTED

(British Official Wireless.)
(Received October 9, 6 p.m.)

RUGBY, Oct. 8.

The Lord Privy Seal (Major C. T. Attlee) brought fraternal greetings as the leader of the Parliamentary Labour Party to the Trades Union Congress at Southport. Major Attlee said: "All of us to-day in Britain are in the fighting line. The airman who shoots down an enemy raider wins a victory; the workman who carries on when danger threatens in the factory wins a victory; the woman who remains unconquered amid the wreckage of her home wins a victory."

"It is the essence of the Hitler method to attack the individual as well as the State. He defeated other countries by first conquering their soul, but he is not going to defeat the soul of Britain. Hitler had his victories and also his defeats. He is defeated in an effort to break the spirit of the British people by indiscriminate bombing. He hoped to arrest both British production and the arming of Britain. The workers have defeated him there. He promised his people a short victory, but the timetable has gone all wrong. I am confident that we are going to carry on with our victories and win."

OCCUPIED TERRITORY

No Additional Supplies From America

ARTIFICIAL SHORTAGE

(British Official Wireless.)
(Received October 9, 6 p.m.)

RUGBY, Oct. 8.

Preoccupation with the immediate developments of the "battle for Britain" has diverted attention from the subject of a possible food shortage during the coming winter in German-occupied territories in Europe which was commanding increasing interest until the fierce air attacks on Britain began. A timely reminder is given by the conclusions of an official inquiry by the United States Department of Commerce. No grounds exist for the anticipation of such a shortage unless it is artificially created by the Germans themselves.

The "Daily Telegraph" says: "If some territories are reduced to a point of semi-starvation that will be a result not of an insufficiency of stocks but a deliberate maldistribution of them by the Germans with whom accordingly the sole responsibility must be deemed to lie. This official statement of the United States Government view should put an end to proposals mooted in some American quarters for the distribution of additional supplies. Indeed, Mr Hoover himself, who has been the chief sponsor of such proposals now agrees that in any case no steps should be taken in this direction which might injure the British cause."

"Sinsunpao" says: "The United States' high-sounding policy of maintaining the status quo in the Far East is an open lie. For 60 years the United States has been instigating wars for the purpose of selling war materials, at the same time adopting the high-sounding policy of righteousness to humanity and peace to cover her malicious aims."

"The signatories of the tripartite agreement will not tolerate any arrow the United States may shoot from ambush into the New Order. The United States should appreciate the commanding position of the tripartite signatories and sympathise with them if she wants to retain her riches."

The Minister for the Interior (Senator Foll) stated that work on the new graving dock in Sydney Harbour is being pushed ahead with all possible speed. Expenditure this year on it will be £500,000, but in 1941-42 it will increase to £1,000,000.

UNITED STATES IS NOW AWAKE TO WAR DANGER

Attitude Of Apathy Has Been Abandoned, Says New Zealander

(By Telegraph—Press Association)
WELLINGTON, Oct. 9.

From an attitude of apathy towards "just another European war" the people of the United States have been awakened by the over-running of Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, and finally France, to a realisation that Great Britain is fighting America's war as well as her own.

This is the view of Mr Andrew Todd, a director of Todd Motors Ltd., who has returned to Wellington after a visit of several months to the United States.

Mr Todd said he believed that when "cash and carry" becomes too difficult America will extend all the credit facilities needed. Public sentiment is changing further to an attitude of "we'll be in with you later on."

Although vast expansions are being made in existing and new plants, it will still be a year or more before America—who, three months ago, was in a worse position to go to war than Britain was in September, 1939—will be geared up to war production.

Japan's Association With The Axis

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Lord Halifax in the House of Lords said: "We have gone to considerable lengths to meet Japan, but our efforts were not rewarded. However much we desire good relations with Japan, we also desire the maintenance of a free China."

"It is not clear how Japan's closer association with the Powers specialising in domination, aggression and exploitation can help peace or eventually further the interests of Japan herself. We do not know if there is a secret commitment in the triple alliance, but I know that statements were made at Tokyo accompanied by the publication of a summary of the pact to the effect that the alliance did not mean that Japan at the present was entering the European war or intended a challenge to any Power without provocation."

MUSICAL EVENING IN HASTINGS

Women's Community Club

FINE PROGRAMME ENJOYED

Movie Films Also Shown

Members of the Hastings Women's Community Club thoroughly enjoyed a very delightful evening at the club last night, when an excellent programme of musical items followed by movie films had been arranged by Mrs W. A. Greer.

The flowers in the lounge and the bridge room, where a delicious supper was served at the end of the evening, were most attractive—large bowls of cherry blossom and lilac and others of smaller mixed flowers.

Every item on the programme was thoroughly enjoyed and the audience showed approval with much applause. The five artists who contributed gave a great deal of pleasure.

Mrs W. A. Greer, who wore a gown of black satin patterned in Killarney green and cherry with sash and corsage flowers in these shades, introduced the performers. These were Mrs Pat Quinn, of Napier, who wore a gown of cupid blue flowered taffeta with puffed sleeves and square neckline, and Messrs Ernest Hounsell, Victor Mummery, and Perrin Cutcliffe.

The programme was as follows: Pianoforte solos, "The Brook" and "Apparition," Mr Ernest Hounsell. Soprano solos, "Song of Songs" and "Neapolitan Love Song," Mrs Pat Quinn. Baritone solos, "Potter's Song" and "Sleepy Hollow Tune," Mr Perrin Cutcliffe. "Bird Songs at Eventide" and "Still Is the Night," Mrs W. A. Greer and Mrs Pat Quinn. Violin solos, "Der Sohn Der Halde," "Serenade Neapolitaine" and "Czardas," Mr Victor Mummery. Contralto solos, "Without You," "And If Thou Wilt Remember," "Lullaby" (the latter two being composed by Mr Ernest Hounsell, who was a most able accompanist throughout the evening), sung by Mrs W. A. Greer.

At the conclusion of the musical programme the club president, Mrs T. H. Lowry, thanked Mrs Greer for arranging such a delightful programme and the artists who had given much pleasure. She then said that Mr W. A. Greer had very kindly offered to show some movie films. These films included an overseas news film and several excellent ones taken by Mr Greer, among them some beautiful coloured ones. Pictures were seen of Rotorua, the South Sea Islands and Hastings celebrations for Centennial week and to conclude, a film of the coronation.

Before departing, club members were reminded of the flower show to be held at the club next Wednesday afternoon.

Among those present were: Messdames T. H. Lowry, W. A. Greer, T. W. Lewis, D. J. Holden, Hedley Harvey, W. A. C. Mackenzie, Vaughan, E. Shadbolt, J. Craig, E. W. Simpson, C. Duff, J. W. Satchell, R. Cashmore, Brian Boys, Guy Baillie, H. M. Bishop, R. Paynter, N. Beames, Gordon Roach, H. M. Sanders, A. Oliver, George Davies, E. Hounsell, V. Mummery, Misses A. F. Lewis, A. Evans, M. Turner, Welch, I. Smithson, Constance Morice (Wellington), Hay, T. Watts, S. Lincoln and Duff.

A TRIM WAISTLINE FOR THE SWIMMING SEASON

Exercises Must Be Started Now For This Purpose

Swim suits are vanishing—they manage to be briefer with each successive season, and if you are one of those who wear the brassiere style, your problem becomes more difficult. And, oh, your waistline!

Every girl who wears a swim suit finds this waistline business quite a problem, but to the girl who wears a brassiere costume, it is a veritable nightmare. It is your waist which keeps your figure youthful; improve your waistline and you will take years from your age.

An abdomen which is too fat can be considerably reduced by rolling. Stand erect with the heels two inches apart and the hands clasped as high as possible over the head. Then bend forward, alternating first slightly to the right and then slightly to the left, trying to pivot the whole of your body, taking care not to touch the head. Repeat this exercise twenty times each night and morning.

Smooth the Hips

Where it is necessary to smooth away flesh which has accumulated over the hips, you can try this exercise: Lie flat on the floor and roll the lower part of your body to the right as far as possible, and then to the left. Twenty times each way.

Once your waistline is smooth and taut, you must then try and give it a good curve, and this can be done by trying to stretch away the flesh and so lengthen the line from the under arm to the waist. And it is now that the following exercise will help—

Stand erect with your feet about two inches apart, and then turn your body slightly towards the right without moving your feet. Then bend forward at the right side until the fingers of the right hand touch, or almost touch, the right heel.

Then still without moving the feet in any way, raise your arms so that they pass directly over your head, and swing them down in the same manner to the left side. This movement is not at all easy, but perfection comes with practice, and after a few attempts you will find that you will be able to carry it out quite easily.

Attend to the removal of under-arm hair and deal with perspiration. If you suffer from excessive perspiration you should then use a liquid deodorant once a week.

To make your ankles shapely and neat, try sitting in a straight-backed chair with your right leg over your left knee, allowing your foot to dangle loosely. Then rotate your foot twenty times to the right and twenty times to the left. Then repeat with the opposite legs. Night and morning, please.

Legs Which Are Fat

Legs which are too fat, or calves which are too thin, can be effectively converted into things of beauty very simply. Again sit in a chair as described above, with your right leg crossed over your left knee, and keeping your foot straight out in front of you, with the toes pointing upwards, rotate your foot twenty times to the right and twenty times to the left. Then reverse and repeat with the other foot.

Bleach superfluous hair on the legs with peroxide, or rub them away with pumice stone or one of those mits which are specially made for the purpose.

AMERICAN SOCIETY LEADERS

Vanderbilt-Whitney Families

The visit to New Zealand recently of Mr Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, American millionaire, made discussion on the family of interest and one called to mind the book, "Farewell to Fifth Avenue," written by his cousin, Cornelius Vanderbilt jun., who turned his back on family and fortune to become a journalist.

In this book the author discussed his family and American society with ruthless candour and also made reference to "the backbone of American society." His "backbone" list contained 75 names. He added another 150 names entitled "The Outer Fringe of Society"—recognized solely because of their immense wealth or political power. As a rule they are always asked to come "after dinner, not before."

The Backbone List

The lists were given as before 1929 and the backbone list contained the names of Mr and Mrs Harry Payne Whitney, parents of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney.

Harry Payne Whitney, since deceased, left 350 million dollars, and according to the same chronicler "it took three columns of 'The New York Times' to enumerate his stocks and bonds.

He was said, furthermore, to have been one of the few men in the United States who could put his hands on five million dollars cash at a few hours' notice.

His only heir was Cornelius, chairman of Pan-American Airways, who came to New Zealand by Clipper on a brief visit with a party of American businessmen.

Beautiful Wife

This tall, young, curly-haired, blue-eyed multi-millionaire is described succinctly in Who's Who as "capitalist."

"I am sorry my wife could not accompany me," he said, admitting further that she was the former Gladys Hopkins.

He did not add that she is an internationally famous beauty, slim and soignée, her pictures feature frequently on the pages of smart American magazines.

Mrs Harry Payne Whitney, his mother, formerly Gertrude Vanderbilt, a socialite, is the daughter of Cornelius Vanderbilt the second.

She was headlined throughout the world in 1935 when, after a long and sensational lawsuit, she obtained the custody of her niece, Gloria Vanderbilt, from the child's mother, widow of Reginald Vanderbilt.

Ferry Built Fortune

Gloria Vanderbilt sen., in her book, "Without Prejudice," sets out to present her side of the lost lawsuit.

She tells also the history of the famous Vanderbilt fortune, of how the Dutch lad Cornelius Van Derbilt (as it was then spelt) founded his career in 1817 by ferrying passengers in a leaky rowboat from Staten Island to New York at one shilling the round trip.

From there he built ferry services, became a railroad magnate, lived to become the wealthiest man in America, and to be known as the "Czar of Roads."

The author tells also of how in the early twenties Mrs Cornelius Vanderbilt, grandmother of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, ruled the Newport set, "an established order of society with ironclad traditions as inexorable as the law of the Medes and Persians."

Mrs Vanderbilt, then 80 years of age, was famous for her pearls. She always wore ropes of them. One day, lunching with her son, Reginald, and his wife, Gloria, she discovered that Gloria had no pearls.

"Bring me a pair of scissors," she said to the head-waiter.

"Then, with great calmness," writes Gloria, "she took off her rope of pearls, and cutting one-third of it, handed me sixty or seventy thousand dollars worth, with the words, 'They are mine, Gloria. All Vanderbilt women have pearls.'

Bride Chooses Gown Of French Lace

The wedding was recently solemnized at St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church, McQuarrie Street, Sydney, of Lorna, the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs H. J. Grieve, Nelson Street, Hastings, and Alan Richard, youngest son of Mrs A. W. Pain and the late Mr O. H. M. Pain, McLeay Street, Potts Point, Sydney. The Rev. J. Troy officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, who was escorted by Mr B. E. Brown, chose a lovely model trained gown of French lace worn with a matching long-sleeved coat. She wore a tulle veil and carried a sheaf of white hyacinths, cyclamen, sweet peas and fern.

The matron-of-honour, Mrs S. R. Dickenson, chose a very attractive ensemble with a powder blue angora evening jumper worn with a skirt of striped taffeta in toning shades. The jumper was fashioned with a matching hood lined with taffeta and trimmed with silver sequins. Her sheaf was composed of lovely pink and blue hyacinths.

Mr S. R. Dickenson was the best man.

The bride has many friends in Hastings, where she was a most popular nurse for some time. She left for Sydney two years ago and, while there, has been a member of the staff of the Jenner and Mater Hospital.

Thanks to the generosity of the Iona Old Girls' Association in giving up the Assembly Hall on the first night of the Hawke's Bay Spring Show on Wednesday, October 23, the Hastings Sub-Centre of the New Zealand Red Cross Society will be holding its annual ball on that night.

The public is asked to keep this date in mind, and the committee feels confident that the same whole-hearted support will be given to this effort as on previous occasions. The proceeds will be devoted entirely to Hastings Red Cross activities, which, of course, have to be carried on as usual.

ARE MODERN CHAMPIONS LESS HARDY?

CARBINE WAS SET MORE DIFFICULT TASKS

(By MOTUROA).

The total eclipse of Beaulivre in the A.J.C. Epsom and Metropolitan Handicaps would seem to suggest that the New Zealand horse is feeling the effects of his hard racing at Doomben in August and his terrific struggles with Reading and others at the meetings leading up to the A.J.C. spring carnival.

These two are really great horses; that must be freely admitted. Beau Vite will gain further mana if he succeeds in the Melbourne Cup next month, but he is almost purely a stayer, and Ajax is at his best under distances of less than a mile and a half, and, while big prizes are theirs, it is improbable that either would have stood up to the testing programme allotted Carbine towards the end of the last century.

Carbine was one of the hardest and most generous horses ever set to race. On the Turf there have been few horses more strenuously tried and few have been called upon to meet so many champions in a vintage period for great stayers.

Carbine was a champion of "staying heart" so discussed by breeding experts. Like the real champion he was Carbine could usually call up a little extra on his reserve of nervous vitality to meet exceptional requirements.

Carbine must have had a constitution and a nervous system framed of flexible steel. He most certainly possessed to the highest degree the "staying heart" so discussed by breeding experts.

were the great horses of their year or two, but none deserved nor received the genuine admiration lavished on Carbine in success or in defeat.

Carbine's performances in the Melbourne and Sydney Cups were remarkable and they can be set out separately as convincing arguments on the point of his powers as a racehorse:—
At three years—Won Sydney Cup, 9.0.

At four years—Second Melbourne Cup, 10.0.
At four years—Won Sydney Cup, 9.9.
At five years—Won Melbourne Cup, 10.5.

WONDERFUL RECORD
BREED in New Zealand, Carbine did his two-year-old racing in his home country for three more years. He started 43 times for 33 wins, six seconds, three thirds and one unplaced performance, this last being in the Canterbury Plate in which he was started with a badly split hoof, finishing last of four runners.

In stakes Carbine won £29,626, but only the stake of the Melbourne Cup compares with the prizes offered in the years that Gloaming, Amounis and Phar Lap built up their great totals.

THREE DAYS' RACING AT GISBORNE
CONSIDERABLE interest is being taken in the three days' racing at Gisborne on October 26 and 28 and November 2, for the East Coast circuit leads the way to the two days' at Napier Park in November, and it is anticipated that generous nominations will be made for the Poverty Bay Turf Club and Poverty Bay Hunt meetings.

his price for the Flemington blue-ribbon race lengthened. His defeat in that race was a "fluke"—or, perhaps it would be better to say, due to the better horsemanship of Tom Hales on that good gelding Ensign, who unfortunately broke his leg two days later.

OUT OF LUCK AGAIN
ANOTHER race Carbine should not have lost was the Newmarket Handicap, in which he ran third to Scimitar and Luchiel. O'Brien, who rode the champion, admitted that he threw the race away by waiting too long watching the well-backed Tradition.

On the following Saturday Lochiel beat Carbine by neck in the Australian Cup, but that great staying son of Prince Charlie and Nellie Moore had a pull of 17lbs. on the w.f.a. scale. In the Champion Race at the same meeting Carbine beat Abercorn, Melos, Volley, Lonsdale, and Cyclops.

On the fourth day of the meeting Carbine in front of Corzeze (who had been third to him in the Melbourne Cup) and Greywon in the A.J.C. Plate and this was the last time the racing public saw him with the colours up.

Most experienced racing men judge a horse not so much on the time or weight-carrying basis as by the class of horses he meets and defeats. Judged by this supreme test Carbine takes a high rank among the greatest of racehorses in any country and in any time. And, in the Colonies, he has the right to be regarded as the "noblest Roman."

FOLLOWING her fine race for Handicap at Avondale last month, the Racerful-Diamond Maid filly Gaymiss was in the boom for the sprint on the first day of the Ohineuni meeting.

On the third day of the meeting Carbine downed Rudolph, Melos, Rassel and Lochiel in the mile All-Aged Stakes and he came out later in the day to record a marvellous performance in beating Lochiel by half a head in the two miles Cumberland Plate, Abercorn being only a head away. In this race he nearly came down five furlongs from home when going like a winner and that gave his opponent a wonderful break. However, he is reported to have staged one of the most paralyzing runs ever seen at Randwick from the half mile.

CARBINE did not strike top form in the following spring. Dreadnought beat him in the Caulfield Stakes (nine furlongs) and in the Melbourne Stakes there were only heads between Abercorn, Melos and Carbine (third) in one of the greatest races ever seen on that course.

TRIAL FOR THE N.Z. CUP
SEVERAL N.Z. Cup candidates will be seen in action in the Mitchell Cup on Saturday at Ellerslie and it will surprise if this race does not shed some light on the prospects for the big event. Favourite next month, Beau Repaire, Sly Fox, The Cardinal, Coronation and Auto Sweep are engaged in both races, but it is probable that Beau Repaire and The Cardinal will be the brightest hopes for the two-mile. Beau Repaire is a screaming hot favourite for Saturday's race on the strength of his unlucky defeat in the Avondale Cup.—"Moturoa."

and he was a six-year-old by the unbeaten Grand Fleuret. The consistent Melos ran third in the Cup. This was Carbine's worst meeting for one of his fore-feet split and he finished behind Abercorn, Sincere and Melos in that order in the Canterbury Plate.

The following autumn, however, Carbine was back in all his greatness. He started with a brilliant success in the Essendon Stakes from Singapore, Melos, Bravo and others and, while he was beaten by the slow tactics adopted in the Champion Race and finished third to Melos and Dreadnought, he fully compensated for things on the final day. As in the previous autumn he led the way home in the All-Aged Stakes and came out later in the day to prevail in the Loch Plate.

ONCE more at Randwick Carbine proved beyond dispute that he was the super-horse of his period. Opening the programme with the Autumn Stakes, the Musket horse took the Sydney Cup under his lead with consummate ease. On the third day of the meeting he again won the All-Aged Stakes and the Cumberland Plate, and he wound up the meeting in a blaze of glory by beating Melos and Dreadnought in the three miles A.J.C. Plate.

BACKERS will not have a very wide scope for betting in the A.R.C. Welcome Stakes on Saturday. For the vanguard, the winner Miss Baffles again seems to hold brighter prospects than River Plate and Kawariki. However, a good impression was created by the Wellington filly The Bell, who was badly served at the start of the Wanganui Debutante Stakes last month. This Croupier filly may make things very interesting for the Aucklanders.—"Moturoa."

right away at the finish and won by two lengths from Highborn (6.8), who later put up 9.3 and won the Sydney Cup. Carbine gave 53lbs. to this horse, who was later the champion of India.

WINNING the Essendon Stakes and the Champion Race the following autumn, Carbine entered upon his final session on the Turf and he was unlucky in suffering one defeat.

On the fourth day of the meeting Carbine in front of Corzeze (who had been third to him in the Melbourne Cup) and Greywon in the A.J.C. Plate and this was the last time the racing public saw him with the colours up.

Most experienced racing men judge a horse not so much on the time or weight-carrying basis as by the class of horses he meets and defeats.
