RUGBY, Nov. 4.

According to the Switzerland correspondent of the "New York Times," diplomatic observers see a connection between the return of the German ambassador (Franz von Papen) from Turkey for a talk with Hitler and a possible agreement between Moscow, Berlin and Rome on various questions appertaining to the Balkans and the Near East, particularly Turkey.

The questions to be discussed will perhaps go beyond the mere division of spoils and include spheres of influence.

The correspondent adds: "Probably one question will be active Russian collaboration in attaining the 'peaceful conquest' of the Near East by confronting any real resistance in that area with a solid military bloc. Turkey's firm attitude towards Bulgaria is expected to cause the Axis Powers considerable embarrassment unless Russia is prevailed upon to withdraw the tacit support she is understood to have given Ankara. Turkey Alone

"Such a withdrawal by the Soviet would leave Turkey virtually alone in the Near East and would also leave the Dardanelles open to relatively easy conquest, after which it would be but a step to continue the drive towards Syria, Iraq and the fuel supplies in that area. "Some quarters assert that the Foreign Commissar (M. Molotov) is ready to sign on the dotted line, making Russian adherence to a tripartite pact against aggression a

The mercy of healing goes on through the raids, writes Hilde Marchant in the "Daily Express." Many major London hospitals have been hit, yet every one of them is keeping a casualty station open in tunnels and cellars to take patients from the shattered homes around.

St. Thomas's has cleaned out its coal cellars and created operating theatres and X-ray treatment deep down under the building.

which unexpectedly good results were obtained. There is one story that stands out. One central London hospital had moved its valuable X-ray apparatus from a top floor to one three stories below. A bomb hit the top floor and shattered the wing the same night. Surgeons shinned up ladders to rescue radium and the apparatus that hung in the ruins. The building was dangerous, but they climbed around to rescue the precious specks that will save so many lives. D. Ormond).

departments.

Surgeons of great talent wait at the entrance to the hospital, standing in their tin hats and white coats, knowing that every hospital is a natural target. Several surgeons have been killed in the raids.

There are many who will still wait through the raids to try to rescue a limb or a breath of life from the disaster that falls around them. Their service was always high and beyond distinction.

Mr Patrick learned his wife was dead.

Exploded in Pocket

Warfe, who was also nearby, was shot on the hand. He was allowed to go home after receiving medical attention. At the Royal Melbourne Hospital, a bullet was extracted from his hand.

After the shooting the attendant handed the revolver to another at-trying to stem the moments of agony of the shattered people who are brought to them for the salvalare brought to the office. As he was placing the revolver in his pocket it exploded, and he was shot in the leg.

BRAWL SHOT FIRED AT LUNA PARK

VICTORIA TRAGEDY Quarrel When Collecting Money

Mrs Elizabeth Patrick, 59, of High Street, Prahran, Victoria, was killed, and Leslie Warfe, 19, of Hardwick were bombed again in their wards. They came out in stretches to be taken by ambulance to country hospitals. Yet the rest of the hospital was reorganising.

Wards were being barricaded, operating theatres, with their merciful anaesthetics and instruments, went downstairs to a cellar that had once stored splints.

There were still raid casualties who could not be moved. They slept through a daylight raid in the ground floor wards that had resisted the first bomb and were now reinforced.

Mand Leslie Warfe, 19, of Hardwick Street, Coburg, was wounded when shots were fired in a brawl at Luna Park, St. Kilda.

The brawl began when three attendants were collecting money from the stalls. They cautioned three men for their behaviour to women. A struggle followed, during which bottles were thrown. One of the attendants then produced a revolver and fired. revolver and fired.

Mrs Patrick and her husband, one underground.

As casualties come in they are just leaving when the shooting occarried straight down the deep steps to the theatre. Sterilizing pans have stoves under them, great bins hold pure water and hurricane lamps cover the electric plant.

Wartime Shortage In Australia

MEN PREFERRED

No one wants barmaids back in Melbourne despite the war shortage of barmen, the secretary of the Liquor Trades Union (Mr H. McKay) said at Melbourne recently. Hotelkeepers wanted men, and men who could take it, he said. Girls, these days had to be molly-coddled, and they would be offended if anyone swore in the bar.

Good barmen had almost to be artists, with personality, tact, and judgment. They must know that the customer was always right, even to Judgment. They must know that the customer was always right, even to the point of taking a punch on the nose without hitting back.

Such men were so rare that licensees stole them from each other, Mr McKay added, and enlistments had made them scarcer than ever.

There was a time when the public made them scarcer than ever.

There was a time when the public appreciated a good barman. The old-time Australian, who spent an hour or two in a bar, would slip him two shillings from the change. The young Australian nowadays was more likely to tip him a punch on the nose.

the nose. Carnival Demand Mr McKay said he was giving free tuition in the finer points of the trade to some of the more experienced members of his union, to enable them to fill some of the many jobs offering for the racing season.
Hotels had reported difficulty in getting barmen, waiters, drink-waiters, and cooks for the carnival rush.

Cosy "NAUGHTY BUT NICE," GAY COMEDY

Unusual Mystery, "Double Alibi"

"Naughty But Nice," the comedy which is now at the Cosy Theatre, Hastings, is a hilariously satirical disclosure of some of the skeletons in the closets of the denizens of Tin Pan Alley (a name given to New York's song writing community) ooth the composers and the publish-

Since it is about the industry, art or profession of supplying most of the world with popular music, it has a good deal of music as well as comedy in it. In fact, even in the face of the suspicions it may engende about the efforts of some writers of popular songs, two of the best of them, Harry Warren and Johnny Mercer, have supplied it with five

Sharing almost equally in the actng and singing burden are Ann heridan, Dick Powell and Gale Page. As to Ann, she is not only given the honour of introducing three of the new songs, but she is given the best role of her career to date, a part with plenty of opporunity to display her very individ-al type of charm.

"THE OLD MAID" IS FINE DRAMA

Bette Davis And Miriam Hopkins Together

Presenting as co-stars two of the screen's greatest actresses—Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins—the long-heralded motion picture version of Edith Wharton's famous story, "The Old Maid," is now showing at the Regent Theatre, Hastings.

It is the tale of two girls, cousins of a proud old Philadelphia family, and its period ranges from the beginning of the American Civil War in 1861 up into the 1880's. Across that stretch of years the two live under the same roof—hating each other, never achieving reciprocal sympathy or understanding until both are well into middle age, and the young daughter of one is leaving the ancient homestead for matrimony. Miriam Hopkins is a widow, with two children of her own. The old maid is Bette Davis and the sweet young girl of the house is her daughter and that of the main. both she and her cousin loved, who was killed in the war. "BULLDOG DRUMMOND REVENGE"

With Jane Withers In "Rascals"

In a thrilling story of murder in the skies, international plotters and military secrets, John Howard once again plays the role of the clever young amateur detective in "Bulldog Drummond's Revenge," now show-ing at the Mayfair Theatre.

When Howard finds the body of England's most famous scientist, a man who has just invented an ex-plosive that can destroy the capitals of Europe, it does not take him long to surmise that the murderer is the scientist's secretary, actually a spy in the employ of a hostile Govern-ment. Although he has promised his fiancee, Louise Campbell, that he will quit such adventures once they are married, he finds himself well mixed up in the affair when the murderer appears, dressed as a woman, during a nerve-wracking trainferry trip from London to Paris,

There's no telling where Jane Withers will pop up next. America's effervescent Number One mischiefmaker is now at the Mayfair The-atre with a gypsy carayan in an appropriately named 20th Century-Fox production, "Rascals."

JUNE LANG IN "ISLE OF DESTINY"

> Gun-Running In The South Seas

Send a beautiful and daring girl on a round-the-world flight in a 'plane that is testing new flying instruments, land her on a small island in the South Pacific where Uncle Sam has just established an emergency air base and where there isn't another white woman in sight, and where a ruthless adventure is and where a ruthless adventurer is engaged in piracy and gun running, and plenty of excitement is bound

Such is the dramatic material Elmer Clifton had to work with in directing "Isle of Destiny," which is now showing at the State Theatre, Napier, with an all-star cast including William Gargan, Wallace Ford, June Lang, Gilbert Roland, Katherine DeMille.

William Gargan and Wallace Ford are cast as two Marines who find life in the South Seas just a dull routine until June Lang drops down out of the sky in her 'plane, the Lady Bird, after the whole world believed she was lost in a typhoon believed she was lost in a typhoon. The troubles that follow her arrival on the island prove far more dangerous to the life of the daring aviatrix than tropical storms, for she becomes involved in the double-dealing of the gun runner. Thrilling new colour reproduction Thrilling new colour reproduction in photography is revealed through the Cosmocolour process.

Cosmocolour, the production reveals, does not make the demands of other colour processes. For in stance, the same amount of light is not necessary, nor do the actors need to apply so much makeup. In fact, the women players do not need as much makeup for Cosmocolour as they normally use for the street.

A QUIET MARKET AT WAIPUKURAU

Competition Lacking

SMALL YARDINGS OF STOCK

Prices Yesterday

"Daily Mail" Special Service.
WAIPUKURAU.

A small yarding met with a dull market at the weekly stock sale held in Waipukurau yesterday, tradheld in Waipukurau yesterday, trading being very slow.

Except for a pen of forward three year steers the store cattle entry was made up of A.A. yearlings, which lacked size and condition. Two-tooth wethers met with good inquiry, being on a par, or slightly better than last week. In the fat sheep section competition was practically on a par with last week with if anything an easing tendency. Fat ewes were fully 3/- a head cheaper. Little enthusiasm was shown and the pens were slow to trade at the reduced rates. Very little was offered in this section, while spring lambs were not on offer. lambs were not on offer.

Realisations are:-

Store Cattle Twelve fairly framed 3-year A.A. steers, very forward, passed at £9. 20 two and three A.A. steers, very hard condition, low order, passed at hard condition, low order, passed at £6. 33 clean bred small grown yearling A.A. steers, light condition, brought £3 17.6. A number of yearling heifers as above, being well coated, realised £3. An offering of medium grown yearling A.A. steers, including a few small sorts, fair condition, made £4 2.6. Springing Jersey heifers in medium order brought from £5 2.6 to £6 2.6. Out of season empty Jersey heifers, good order brought £5 10.1. Two empty two-year Jersey heifers, light condition, brought £5 7.6.

Fat Sheep Four and 6-tooth fat ewes brought 17/-. Heavy ewes averaging 65lb brought 16/5. Others ranging from 15/6 to 16/-. Prime wethers averaging 56lb to 58lb sold at 24/-. Two-tooth wethers, a little small in size and condition, 19/2 in a good sale.

Fat Lamb Weights

One effect of the war has been an increased demand for fat lamb carcases of a heavier weight than breeders of recent years have been encouraged to produce. It must not be forgoften, however," says a bulletin issued by the New South Wales branch of the Society of Breeders of British Sheep, "that when the war is over oversea markets will demand the type of lamb carcase which fat lamb-raisers were asked to supply during the past few years. When that time comes, competition will probably be keener than ever before, and countries in the best position to mc modern requirements will, at the offset, stand to secure a more certain hold on the trade. It is important, therefore, that stud breeders should, on no account allow type standards of flock rams and ewes to deteriorate, and so place the fe't lamb industry at a grave disadvantage with other producing countries once conditions return to normal."

Famous pure-bred British breed flocks have recently been evacuated from the south-east counties of England which are vulnerable to air bombardment. Selected breeding stock of one breed alone thus transferred to more secure localities numbered 150,000. Every effort, it seems, is being made to protect the purity of parent flocks. Britain's position should make breeders in Australia more determined than ever to safeguard standards bereand at least to hold the ground they have already won.

THE OLIVE BRANCH GESTURE

"Flowery words about universal peace . . . like cherry blossoms adorning a machine-gun" was the comment of the "Christian Science Monitor" when the Axis pact with Japan was announced at the end of September, and the same thing might be said of the peace offer to be made by Hitler in a speech to the Reichstag. It is possible, of course, that the speech will never be made, but it will be very bitter for Herr Hitler if circumstances compel him to forgo the chance of playing the part of the generous victor. Nevertheless, the proposals may be said to be dead before they have ever been made in the Reichstag: the world conflict has gone too far for any suggestion of a half-and-half peace to be feasible. If the peace offer is made, Herr Hitler will enjoy himself but there will be no marked effect in either Great Britain, the British Dominions, or the United States.

The whole peace campaign is admittedly engineered to coincide with the presidential election in the United States. The idea seems to be that the present time, when the Americans are preoccupied with internal politics, and when the Anglo-American mutual defence agreement is still in the preliminary stages of operation, is the time to hold out a will-o'the-wisp hope of peace.

The idea is sound enough, but it is worked out with characteristic German naivete. It is plain that even yet Herr Hitler and his friends have no conception of the change in the temper of the British people since the days of Munich. The British Empire that is facing the onslaught of Greater Germany to-day is a concentrated force backed by the determination of a free people. It may be true that in September, 1939, the British Empire was essentially a community of peace-loving nations and that Britons entered the war with little enthusiasm, but if there was little enthusiasm of the flag-waving variety, there was a great deal of quiet resolution that has since been fanned to a rising anger against Nazism, Fascism, and all their attendant barbarities.

The peace plan, taken at its face value, offers nothing. For years it has been plain that Reichsfuhrer Hitler regards treaties as mere formalities, and it is unlikely that he has changed his views since the days of the Munich Agreement. In effect, his present scheme is to consolidate all his gains in Europe by offering the British Empire the chance of survival, on the condition that Great Britain disarms "to the standard of Germany." Ballast is thrown in in the form of a non-aggression pact between Germany and the United States, and there is a good deal of high-minded talk about disposing of capitalism and Bolshevism, with an afterthought about "fresh fields for conversion to the Christian belief.'

So much for Nazi idealism. In plain words, the German idea of the European golden age is a Nazi empire extending over the length and breadth of the Continent, a disarmed Britain entirely under the command of Berlin, and a hesitant United States existing tentatively just as long as Herr Hitler sees fit to leave the Western Hemisphere alone.

It is interesting to speculate whether Herr Hitler is working on the assumption that he may not again have the opportunity of offering a patched-up peace on terms favourable to himself. The second winter of the war is almost on him, and already Germany's subject nations are growing restive. Both his blitzkrieg and his war of terrorism at sea have failed as far as Great Britain is concerned, while the plans for the invasion of the British Isles must by now have been pigeonholed for an indefinite period. Italy's attempt to reach the Suez Canal is hanging fire, and the Italian Army is making very heavy weather of the attack on Greece. And finally, the Asiatic end of the Axis, finding itself caught between two possible fires, is showing signs of weakening in the face of the Anglo-American front. It is not a happy position for any dictator.

If ever a responsible ruler laid himself open to ridicule it is the present dictator of Germany. His Imperial predecessor never went to the same lengths of absurdity, but he paid the penalty for attempting to do much the same thing under similar circumstances, and there have been a surprising number of repetitions of history in the last few years. In the meantime, however, Herr Hitler would be much better advised to postpone his gestures with the olive branch until he can parade through London as a conqueror or until the Italian fleet commands its own seas. If it is any comfort to him, there is always the thought that one is just as likely as the other.

PETROL RATION QUESTION

CHALLENGE TO THE GOVERNMENT

FEDERATION VIEW

Questions Put To Mr Nash

By Telegraph-Press Association. WELLINGTON, Nov. 5. The following statement was issued by the New Zealand Motor Trade Federation to-day:
"On October 24, when the Prime

Trade Federation to-day:

"On October 24, when the Prime Minister was speaking at the annual dinner of the Canterbury Chamber of Commerce, he dealt with the question of petrol rationing and stated his agreement that there is room for a difference of opinion about this very vital issue. He went on to say that when he was in England, the then Chancellor of the Exchequer (Sir John Simon) indicated that the United Kingdom Government was not favourably impressed by the action of this Dominion in completely relaxing the petrol restrictions in December and January last.

"The Prime Minister stated that the British Government would not dream of laying down details of the rationing scheme to be adopted in New Zealand. He then went on to make the most important statement that the last and most drastic cut in the ration had been made after full consideration of New Zealand's own defence position. For this reason the Government had to establish a certain reserve for the use of the armed forces.

"One gets used to these things, "One gets used to these things, and, needless to say, our chins are still up, and we keep on smiling," writes an Englishwomen to Mr and Mrs H. C. McKain, Hastings. She gives a vivid impression of how people in her North County city are adapting themselves to life under air-raid threats and actualities by day and night discontinuance of the rationing scheme but the easing of it, and has consistently favoured the establishment of adequate reserves.

"Representatives of the trade agreed to the cut on July 1. A case was made for the establishment of reserves, but now that the stock position is satisfactory and the re serves adequate the motor trade and motorists are entitled to expect that the July cut will be restored. "Now we find that yesterday in Auckland the Hon. W. Nash stated

Auckland the Hon. W. Nash stated that he has no knowledge of an early restoration and he thinks it very unlikely that the Government is contemplating an early restoration of the petrol ration to the figure prevailing before the July cut. He goes on to say that there would have to be a change in the dollar situation before that could happen.

"Then Mr Nash makes one of his typically confusing statements: "it was still a fact, however, that every dollar used to buy petrol for civil consumption is a dollar less for the number of munitions by the Unit.

consumption is a dollar less for the purchase of munitions by the United Kingdom."

"It is time Mr Nash came out into the open and told the people of the Dominion exactly what proportion of money spent by New Zealand in purchasing petrol is ultimately converted into dollar exchange. "Last night he didn't drop bombs in our vicinity, but the guns all round us opened fire. The most hectic night of all so far was a week ago, when the Germans dropped bombs which rattled our windows and doors. The guns gave him a hot reception, and it really was a 'do'. Damage was done to some works and houses, and some shop windows were blown out.

"The Department of Economics of Canterbury University College, in consultation with the Canterbury Chamber of Commerce, in their October bulletin deals concisely with this question. The conclusion arrived at in that survey is that each £1 spent on petrol in New Zealand involves a reduction in Empire dollar or foreign exchange holdings amounting to less than two

A BLOW TO ALL CONCERNED

BEAU VITE'S defeat in the Melbourne Cup yesterday deprives the Australian and New Zealand governments of a New Zealand governments of a bone of contention as to the distribution of the prize-money, but it would be zeroe blow to the backers of the Trentham horse. Despite the rain since Saturday there would be no slackening in the support for the brilliant Beau Pere four-year-old and it is probable that he started one of the shortest favourites in recent years. The radio description of the races leaves the impression that an error might have been made in giving Beau Vite a breather when he was so well placed a mile from home. That enabled him to be cut off in the scurry for positions for the run home and he appears to have done well to have come through to finish right up with the placed horses.—"Moturoa."

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received November 5, 10.15 p.m.)

MELBOURNE, Nov. 5.

Early morning rain affected the Cup attendance, which was excellent in the circumstances. Conditions improved as the day advanced and the going was satisfactory.

The Sydney jumper Valhalla outclassed his rivals in the Cup Hurdle race. Mamillius ran a game race but was no match for the winner. North Cape finished fairly third. Bailey Payten, trainer of Valhalla, and his owner. Mr P. H. Osborne, were associated with Ecarte's win in this event in 1923.

Aurie's Star had a comfortable win in the Railway Highweight Handicap and led always. All Veil finished well after a tardy beginning. David Innis was third. The winner's weight, 11.4 was not a record as Fujisan won twice with 11.9 and 12.1 respectively.

Cradle Song went at a great pace early in the Mimosa Stakes but weakened. Cooch Behar had an impressive victory. Primavera ran a good race. Her Highness finished well.

MR J. A. LEE SPEAKS AT NAPIER

NO INTERJECTORS An attentive hearing was accorded Mr J. A. Lee, M.P., when he addressed a gathering of about 800 persons in the Napier Municipal Theatre last night. There was complete freedom from interjections, and both the principal speaker and Mrs Lee were frequently applianced.

Mrs Lee were frequently applauded.
The Hon, W. E. Barnard presided and introduced Mr Lee. He said that Mr. Lee had the distinction of a Hawke's Bay unit in the Great War.

The main points of policy introduced in Mr Lee's address were on the lines of his speech in Hastings the previous night, but there was oticeably less dissent among the audience. Party's Growth Party's Growth

The speaker recalled the Hon. W.
E. Barnard's meeting at Napier in April, and said that he was a member of the large audience on that occasion. It was then thought that a very difficult period lay ahead, but service but also when they returned. It stood for carrying on the war with the greatest vigour.

A new financial order must await the soldiers when they returned, so that they could live in peace and security and enjoy the fruit of their labours, Mr Lee said.

"I was tried by a jury comprising the National Executive of the Labour Party," said Mr Lee, dealing with his expulsion from the party. "Since then one of those men has gone into the War Cabinet, one to the Uupper House, one to the Cabinet, and another to a job worth

"Big Jim," suggested a voice.

"Yes, big money for Big Jim," the speaker agreed.

"We will split the Labour Party all right," he continued. "We will get the log and Mr Fraser will get the chip. But we will also split the National Party, whose supporters are joining us in large numbers. ### Home Guard:-Home Guard's Purpose

"Men are asking themselves: 'If I join the Home Guard, what is expected of me, and what will I have to do?'

"The Home Guard is the military side of the Emergency Reserve Corps. Our aim is to have a reasonably trained and fully organised body of men immediately available and ready to support the Armed Forces. Its main role will be observation, communicating and obstruction of any invading forces, and its training will be based with this object in view.

"New Zealand has a long and intricate coastline, and the local knowledge of men on the spot will be of the greatest value. If Army Headquarters know that we have an organised body of men under responsible and experienced officers, watching oll possible landing places, that immediate and reliable reports will be sent in of any unforseen happenings, that organised bodies of men will be on the spot to resist and obstruct any enemy at-tempts at possible landings, the Home Guard will be carrying out a most valuable 'job of work.'

When he announced the holding of the ballot the Minister of National Service (the Hon. R. Semple) explained that those drawn in the Territorial ballots were still members of the general Reserve and the cards (temporarily withdrawn) of those aged from 21 to 40 inclusive will be returned to the register before holding the overseas ballot.

The men drawn in this second Territorial ballot and subsequently drawn again in the overseas ballot will not be required to begin training with the Territorials. They will be held back to begin training with the Sixth Reinforcements for overseas.

The first parade in New Zealand of a battalion of the Home Guard took place last evening at McLean Park, Napier, when the First Battalion of the Napier Home Guard assembled. There were 438 men present, and in accordance with instructions river the received say tions given in notices received several days ago the men fell in in latoons at numbers shown on the arade ground.

Captain Menzies's Address

The prisoner had been very frank about the whole matter and had saved the country the expense of a trial. "I submit that the offence was not a serious one of its kind. The prisoner did not attempt to administer the drugs, nor did he make any inquiries as to whether they were taken," said Mr Langley.

In answer to his Honour, counsel said that the girl concerned was a patient, but was not confined to her bed.

Chief Justice Takes Serious View: Comment In Case At Napier

The reaction of counsel in calling as witnesses Government employees in their official capacity was severely criticised by the Chief Justice (Sir Michael Myers) in the course of his summing up in a civil action heard in the Napier Supreme

"One or two things that have happened in this case have disturbed me, because the administration of justice must always have the confidence and respect of the public," Sir Michael said. "To have that respect it must fulfil two requirements-it must be fair and must also seem fair, for unless it has that appearance people will not believe in the reality of

"In this case we have had the spectacle of counsel going to a person in a Government department and obtaining certain information—though not confidential information—and then calling that person as stated that the examinations and transfers to overseas forces, this ballot should make available 10,000 men for training in January to March, 1941. They are to bring the Territorial forces up to strength in that period.

The man was not even in actuary.

Detective's Evidence "Secondly, a police detective was called in circumstances in which he should not have been called. The police are not there to take sides, any more than are Government departments. This principle is an oldestablished one, so much so that for a long time the police refused to produce in civil actions statements taken at the time of an accident.

TECHNICAL BREACH OF CONDITIONS

"Daily Mail" Special Service. WANGANUI, Nov. 5.

The only Wanganui team which competed in the annual Napier interhouse carnival girls' marching competition on Saturday missed the championship because of a technical breach of the conditions governing the competition, says the "Wanga-nui Herald." The team, Grenadiers, did not have its costumes judged because it arrived after the results

As the three Wanganui teams which went to Napier, McKenzies, D.I.C. and Grenadiers arrived late the last team, which was the only Wanganui one to enter for the championship, the others only giving exhibitions, did not reach the grounds until after the result of the costume judging had been made known. Therefore, although the costume was agreed by the large attendance of the public to be the best, said the trainer, Mr. D. Wilson, it was awarded no points at all.

Points Lost

All Wanganui marching teams-train by the whistle, and at the contest the Grenadiers team retained this practice, not being aware that the rules provided that in-structions had been issued to other teams that orders would have to be oral. ## Patriotic Stock PROGRAMME FOR MAJOR APPEAL AT HASTINGS

All Sections Of Community Working To Raise Quota Of £15,000

The final programme for the "heart-to-heart" campaign at Hastings was adopted at a general meeting of the executive last night. This covers a period from Wednesday, November 13, to December 7, and comprises the major part of the drive at Hastings for its quota of £15,000.

All committees have been working hard in the past fortnight organising their particular sections of the campaign, and last night they reported on their progress. The committee is certain that when the campaign begins all sections of the community will lend their greatest support to the effort.

It is proposed to ask the Mayor of Hastings (Mr G. A. Maddison) formally to open the blockhouse in Heretaunga Street to-morrow afternoon at 2.30. Members of the "heart-to-heart" appeal committee will be present at the ceremony. Mr A. I. Given fine weather, the grand carnival arranged for Monday, November 25, as part of the £1,000,000 appeal will rank as one of the memorable "shows" of Hastings.

A strong committee has already launched the plans incorporating a programme of events which will be both novel and extremely entertaining. The carnival will be held at the way in which their men have responded to the country's call.

Appeal to Employees.

The committee set up to solicit donations direct from employees reported that they had made excellent progress. As a guide to employees, it was suggested that five per cent. of one week's salary should be the minimum donation. A member of the committee yesterday afternoon canvassed the employees of a large number of business houses, and in every case he met with a response far greater than the minimum set by the committee.

The entertainment committee is proposing to arrange a dance at the Assembly Hall on Thursday, November 14. This will include novelty features and fox-trot and waltz accompatitions.

The carnival will be held at the Hastings racecourse—the course having sene most generously lent for the occasion by the Hawke's Bay. Jockey Club.

The full programme will be anounced at an early date, but meantime the public is assured that the events will be of such a standard and variety to provide entertainment worthy of making the King's Birthday a "date" with the carnival.

Raffle tickets will be available at the blockhouse, Fail's, Denton. Wyatt's, Foster Brooke's and Hall's and will admit the holder to the carnival. The tickets will have to be shown at the gate, and the raffle public is assured that the events will be drawn at the racecourse at 4 p.m. Otherwise the charge for advanced the committee will be a transfer and the racecourse at 4 p.m. Otherwise the charge for advanced the stream of the committee will be a transfer and the racecourse at 4 p.m. Otherwise the charge for advanced the stream of the committee of t

ROYAL CHIEF'S CHANCE Sir Crusoe Missing From The Stewards'

(By MOTUROA).

The final acceptances for the New Zealand Cup double brought few surprises for early speculators as far as the big two-miler was concerned. Siegmund, Sparkle and Doubleack had shown no worthwhile form at the preliminary meetings, and The Cardinal's defection was announced last week. Trench Law's fourth to Royal Chief at Trentham was not impressive enough to warrant continuing his engagement, and Don Quex's form did not come up to Cup requirements.

In the Stewards' Handicap, however, there were several unexpected withdrawals. The biggest body-blow was the non-acceptance of Sir Crusoe, who showed brilliant form at Trentham. However, the handicapper was rather severe on the Otaki horse and it is obvious that his party were dissatisfied with his 7lbs. rise in weights.

The bracketed pair, Sleeveless and Nigger Boy, disappointed at Thentham, since when there has been a doubt whether they would fulfil their engagements, and Duncannon has shown no form since he won at Awapuni. Rakahanga. Hearth and Retrogression were the other defections from the Stewards' Handicap, but there was not much demand for their

It is most gratifying to find all the good class horses left in the New Zealand Cup, pride of place once more being given to that great horse, Royal Chief. And, despite the opposition, a gallant race can be safely anticipated from a galloper of his standing horses of modern times. He is set to carry the same weight as Nightmarch, who indisputably proved his stamina by winning the Melbourne Cup as a four-year-old with

SOUND STAYING BLOOD

TIDAL WAVE, as predicted in these columns, has proved these columns, has proved himself the best staying three-year-old in Australia this season. Despite his disappointing form in the two Derbies, the Okawa-bred colt came from the clouds yesterday to run third in the Melbourne Cup, thus finish. the Melbourne Cup thus finishing ahead of the Derby winners Lucrative and Pandect. Tidal Wave, who was the top-priced colt at the 1939 National Yearling Sales, is by Mr T. H. Lowry's Fairway horse Tiderace and is a half-brother to the N.Z. Cup winner Yours Truly, being bred from the late Mr J. S. McLeod's Oaks winner, the Lord Quex mare My Own. Tidal Wave won one race at two years, and the Rosehill Guineas this season, so his purchase price of 1450 guineas is barely covered. However, it would seem that the St. Legers are at his mercy and the autumn meet-ings should provide something good for the New Zealand-bred colt.—"Moturoa."

four of an easy six in 551-5.

Crucible (Atkins) and Burra Sahib (S. Parramore) worked freely in covering their three in 402-5, and they looked as if they could have improved on this time.

Waicony (Parramore), after running her first two in 25, took 1.72-5 to cover her five. She was stopping at the finish, but she looks well.

ago was a stayer's effort and it cannot be denied that Royal Chief seems to be a better horse all round

Since he finished brilliantly to run third at Wingatui last month Royal Chief has made steady progress and it was impossible to be other than it was impossible to be other than impressed by the way in which he picked up the opposition in the Wellington Handicap. The Harcourt Stakes was an easy race, but it served to show that the Riccarton horse was doing well on his racing.

Royal Chief should be at his best on Saturday and what beats him

should win.

TAURANGI is a fine mare and she won convincingly at Bulls on Saturday, but a New Zealand Cup is an entirely different proposition. As well, it must also be remembered that she has been suffering from the kidney trouble that put her aside after her brilliant Waikato Cup win last year.

Taurangi has won brilliantly up to a mile and three furlongs, but she does not impress as being a genuine stayer. Her top distance may be a mile and a half and up to that she should hold her own with the best in the land in the land. There is no doubt about The Buzzer's stamina, however, and additional interest will be added to his appearance for he is by the same sire as yesterday's Melbourne Cup

The Buzzer has been given an Ideal New Zealand Cup preparation. In his last two starts he has won the Ling Memorial Stakes with 9.0 up and the Waverley Cup with man up, both in the easiest possible man-

SLY FOX, favourite for the N.Z. Cup two years ago, spoiled whatever chance he had by pulling too hard. This year, however, he has settled down better in his races, but he still has to prove himself a

None of the stock of Hunting Song succeeded over two miles, but they were great horses up to a mile they were great horses up to a mile and a half, over which distance Sly Fox won the Mitchelson Cup rather easily last month. Still, Royal Chief ran away from him too easily over eleven furlongs at Trentham for even the difference of 7lb. in the weights to make any difference.

Aucklanders have a high opinion of the Night Raid—Queen March gelding Te Kawiti, but, although his dam was a half-sister to that great stayer Te Kara, Te Kawiti has yet to prove himself a genuine stayer. He did not impress at Trentham, but he comes in at 18lb. under w.f.a.

Te Kawiti has yet to win past ten Te Kawiti has yet to win past ten Capricious is still a hack, but her placings in the N.Z. Cup and Dunedin Cup last year have elevated her in the weights. She is undoubtedly a great stayer, but she has shown o form at all this season.

STOUTLY BRED

SOUTHERNERS have a good opinion of the Balboa horse Passaform, who races consistently away from the best classes. It is in his favour that he is stoutly bred, but to win a N.Z. Cup he would need to show better form than he has dis-

BY A STAYING SIRE

OLD ROWLEY, winner of the 1940 Melbourne Cup, is of general interest to New Zea-landers for he is by the Queens-land sire The Buzzard, one of the most successful progenitors of stayers in Australia for some of stayers in Australia for some years. The Buzzard is the sire of the Awapuni gelding The Buzzer, who has already won an Auckland Cup and has been narrowly beaten in a New Zealand Cup, and who is selected to be the greatest danger in the N.Z. ## TO-NIGHT

Track In Great Order For Saturday

Hawke's Bay owners and trainers are given a final reminder that acceptances for all events on the acceptances for all events on the first day of the Napier Park Racing Club's spring meeting at Green-meadows on Saturday next close with the secretary, Miss I. I. Fippard, Napier, at 8 o'clock tonight (Wednesday).

The rain last week-end and yes-terday has had a beneficial effect on the tracks and the going on Satur-day should be well nigh perfect. Splendid fields are weighted for all events and, with form fairly well exposed by recent race meetings, sport of a very high standard should be provided. No stone has been unturned to assure the success of the meeting and the fixture should be the best held by the Napier Park Racing Club for many years.

LANG BIAN is a particularly handsome horse and closely resembles his famous sire. He was a good winner in the best class races in France.

MASSINE, Lang Bian's sire, was a nigh-class winner in France, and also beat the Derby winner Papyrus in the Ascot Gold Cup. He has twice headed the winning sires' list in France and he introduces a fresh strain of St. Simon blood through that great galloper La Camargo.

FOREST TRACK'S pedigree is well known. Not only is she by that great brood mare sire Tracery, but her third dam is that wonderful mare La Fleche, the third dam of Beau Pere and Gay Shield, two of the most successful sires in New Zealand in modern times.
