WAR-DRUMS THROB IN ETHIOPIA

Haile Sellassie Issues Call To Arms

STRATEGIC PLANS PREPARED

Arms And Supplies Sent From Sudan And Captured From Italians

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received January 16, 10.45 p.m.)

LONDON, Jan. 15.

The "Daily Mail's" correspondent on the Abyssinian frontier says that Haile Sellassie's 44 war drums to-night began a thumping call to arms from the mountains fringing Abyssinia. Italian and Ethiopian legionnaires for several nights have been listening for the mysterious message from the drums floating across the hills and forests of Africa and penetrating to the rocky hideouts of the Abyssinian patriots.

The London "Daily Telegraph's" special correspondent says: "Three Abyssinian leaders are co-ordinating activities for a reasoned plan of warfare fed by supplies from the Sudan and from the Italian Army. Abyssinian warriors recently captured 150 rifles when they stormed an Italian post.

"Even before abandoning Guba the Italians were in a terrible plight. They had no huts and the only shelter from the burning sun obtainable was from huge rocks, under which they lived and took cover. Most of them needed medical attention but the doctor had gone mad.

"The garrison's 25 officers were mainly occupied in shamming sick in order to leave by plane.

"Eighty troops escaped with five light machine-guns. Eventually the Italians decided to retire but they jumped from the frying-pan into the fire as the Abyssinians closed in on the rearguard, killing eight and wounding many.

"The food convoy sent to relieve the Italians was also ambushed.

"The Italians are reported to have abandoned Guba because the commander was convinced that if they remained the entire personnel would desert."

DWINDLING SHIPPING LOSSES

NEW YEAR FIGURES

Optimistic Comparison With Last War

British Official Wireless
(Received January 16, 8.30 p.m.)
RUGBY, Jan. 15.

Gratification is expressed in the Press at the drop in the mercantile shipping losses by enemy action to 14,687 tons in the first week of the new year—a figure which is the lowest for eight months and is about one-fifth of the weekly average for the whole war. At the same time, most commentators warn the public against making too optimistic deductions from results over a short period.

As the "Manchester Guardian" says: "We must show some caution, as the Navy itself, which is careful, has avoided making the latest losses an excuse for optimistic claims. Beating submarines and mines is a long business."

The "Daily Telegraph" says: "In August Hitler announced that he would intensify the destruction of merchant vessels and during September Nazi submarines, mines, aircraft and raiders sank 100,000 tons a week. During October and November the average was 85,000 and 86,000 tons respectively. Then followed the black week at the beginning of December in which 101,970 tons were lost, but the average over the three weeks following came down to 40,000 tons. The startling fall to 14,687 tons just recorded shows that the large reduction has continued throughout a month.

Not Yet Frustrated
"Optimistic conclusions should not be drawn that the German campaign is frustrated. The weather in the period of reduction was bad for bombing and mine-laying planes and the season of long nights is not that in which submarines can most easily find their target.

"On the other hand, throughout December, 1916, and January, 1917, the German submarine onslaught in the last war numbered more and more victims every week and reached the peak in April, 1917.

"Despite the assistance of aircraft and the advantage of occupying all port on the western coast of the Continent, the Nazi campaign has through mid-winter been dwindling. We are therefore entitled to feel confident that our bombing of the German submarine and air bases, together with the arrival of the 50 American destroyers and other escort vessels which we are bringing into service will ultimately defeat the attack as completely as in 1918."

KLISURA BATTLE

Aircraft Take Part With Small Success

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received January 16, 11.30 p.m.)
LONDON, Jan. 15.

Defying snowstorms and intense cold, the Greeks continued to-day to thrust back the Italians in the Klisura area. According to the "Daily Telegraph's" Athens correspondent, the somewhat improvised nature of the Italian counter-attacks indicates the desperate efforts to regain the strategic advantages sacrificed as a result of the loss of Klisura.

Activity has been resumed in the Pogradec sector but weather conditions are largely keeping both armies snowbound. Frost bite is causing a large percentage of the Greek casualties.

"The Times" Athens correspondent says: "There is unlikely to be sensational news from the Albanian front for some days. Snow is again falling, although the weather has greatly improved on the coastal sector, in which artillery actions have continued in the last two days, while the Greeks have scored a certain advance.

Flight Halted
"The Italian retreat north from Klisura is no longer a flight. They are resisting from previously prepared positions fortified with double rows of barbed wire. Here, and also to the east, in the Moskopoli sector, Italian aircraft attempted to attack field troops, but with very small results because it was difficult to distinguish Italians from Greeks owing to the confused terrain."

LONDON, Jan. 15.

The "Daily Express" correspondent on the German frontier reports that the Nazi representative in Austria (Baldur von Schirach) has demanded a full report from the Gestapo on the "disgraceful exhibition" in the Prater (a famous Vienna park) when Austrian conscripts joined a crowd of noisy anti-Axis demonstrators.

One Austrian conscript called out: "We have had enough. We do not want this war. We want our homes. Down with the Prussians."

Many were arrested. The Hitler salute is seldom seen in Vienna these days.

Military Dictatorship Threatened

"NEW ORDER" DISLIKED

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received January 16, 11.5 p.m.)
LONDON, Jan. 15.

Messages from Prague indicate growing resistance to Germany's New Order, despite the reported statement by the Prime Minister (Dr Hacha) that the Czechs are determined to co-operate in the organic reconstruction of the Continent.

The Nazi Protector (Baron Neurath) addressing important German officers and civil servants, is reported to have declared that he is profoundly dissatisfied with the Czechs. He then attacked members of the Government, stating that they were playing Dr. Benes's game.

"Efforts to win the collaboration of the Czechs cannot be continued indefinitely," he said. "There will be repression of all unreliable people, whatever official position they may hold."

"I shall not hesitate to establish a military dictatorship, if necessary. The spirit of resistance must be broken."

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received January 16, 10.35 p.m.)
LONDON, Jan. 16.

The Norwegian Telegraph Agency in London reports serious disturbances after attempts by Major Quisling and his Storm Troopers to terrorise civilians. Fighting has recently occurred at Drammen, in which several were injured.

Storm Troopers forced their way to the cells of a police station and maltreated people arrested in street affrays.

New prisoners are continually arriving at the concentration camps. Appeals to the population to meet Quislingite attempts at terrorism with armed force have been widely circulated in parts of eastern Norway.

The German filching of food supplies has enlivened the unrest. The large stocks of food in Norway are rapidly dwindling.

BASES IN NORWAY BOMBED

No 'Planes Lost

British Official Wireless
(Received January 16, 6 p.m.)
RUGBY, Jan. 15.

An Air Ministry communication states that on Tuesday night a small number of aircraft of the Coastal Command made attacks on enemy air bases at Mandal and Fortus and on other targets in Norway.

Bad weather made observation difficult, but bombs were seen to burst on the aerodrome at Mandal. One aircraft scored two direct hits on a motor-ship in the Stavanger roads, and another bombed an important railway bridge.

All the British aircraft returned safely. Bad weather, including fog and poor visibility over the Continent, prevented the R.A.F. from bombing Germany on Tuesday night.

Desperate Attempt To Sink H.M.S. Illustrious

SEVEN-HOUR BATTLE

Relentless Dive-Bombing Attacks By German 'Planes

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received January 17, 10.50 p.m.)
LONDON, Jan. 16.

H.M.S. Illustrious, one of Britain's newest aircraft carriers, arrived at a Mediterranean port to-day under her own power, following the determined attack made on her yesterday by two Italian destroyers and Italian and German bombers.

She was attacked almost incessantly for seven hours—the heaviest attack yet on a single British warship. Between 40 and 50 German 'planes participated and they flew so low that the Swastika markings were plainly seen.

Scores of bombs fell around the ship, while machine-gun bullets splattered the decks. Some near misses by huge bombs shook the ship so violently it seemed as if at any moment a blast would overturn her. One bomb tore a hole in the ship's side and a blast from another struck a gun crew.

Every gun on the Illustrious roared in a tremendous crescendo of fire, but the Germans kept relentlessly diving in and dropping bombs and aerial torpedoes, apparently determined to sink the Illustrious at all costs.

Fighter 'planes took off from the Illustrious and engaged and temporarily forced off the German bombers, but they returned within an hour, diving in through great barrages of fire.

One explosion shattered the captain's glass-enclosed bridge. Officers assisted in carrying the wounded over the flight deck to the medical stations. Others pulled survivors from the wreckage and then dashed in to get others.

The engine crew kept one turbine then another operating and then resorted to steam pressure, keeping the Illustrious forging ahead.

When nearing port the German bombers again dived in just before dusk and a column of smoke poured from the carrier's flight deck.

Throughout the captain shouted orders to his aides while bomb-splinters and machine-gun bullets peppered about.

The Illustrious came into port with the spirit of the officers and men undaunted.

The ship will soon be cleaned up and ready for sea again.

A small fire in the interior was quickly extinguished while shipwrights plugged the bomb holes.

The dead will be taken out for burial at sea near the spot where they fought so valiantly.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.

Hope of agreement on the report of Dr. Joseph Sirois to increase the efficiency of Canada's war effort, involving provincial mergers, has been abandoned as a result of opposition by three provinces, presumably Ontario, British Columbia and Alberta.

The Prime Minister (the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King) said there was no point in establishing committees in view of the opposition.

BRITAIN'S DOLLAR HOLDINGS

SHORTAGE REPORTED FOR 1941

CONGRESS REPORT

Total Resources Not Disclosed

United Press Association—Copyright.
(Received January 16, 9.5 p.m.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.

The Secretary of the Treasury (Mr Henry Morgenthau) has submitted a statement to Congress showing that Britain during 1941 would be 1,464,000,000 dollars short of the amount required to pay for her war orders in the United States.

The statement dealt entirely with Britain's dollar holdings, not her total financial resources.

It showed that 3,019,000,000 dollars were needed to pay for war orders in the United States in 1941, of which 1,461,000,000 dollars was listed as the total dollar deficit of the British Empire, excluding Canada, during 1941.

Recent Payments
Britain's available dollar assets on January 1, 1941, amounted to 1,775,000,000 dollars, including gold, American securities and direct and other investments.

Mr Morgenthau said that the British had paid for and taken delivery by January 1 of 1,337,000,000 dollars' worth of material.

Wedding Gown Of Pearl Tinted Satin Brocade

Two Bridesmaids At A Havelock North Ceremony

Gowns Of Blue

Miss Faith Gardiner And Mr Peter Cornford Married

Lovely bowls of blue hydrangeas intermingled with those in a deep pink shade were effectively arranged in St. Luke's Church, Havelock North, for the wedding which took place yesterday afternoon, of Faith, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs Reginald Gardiner, Havelock North, and Peter Anstie, elder son of Mr and Mrs A. A. Cornford, Napier.

The Rev. S. F. N. Waymouth officiated at the ceremony and Mr C. B. Spinney presided at the organ and played the wedding marches and the music for the hymn, "Praise My Soul."

The bride, who was escorted by her father, chose a beautiful classical gown of pearl-tinted satin brocade. The neckline was fashioned in V shape and the sleeves were long and fitting. At the waistline the skirt was finely gauged in an inverted V shape and from this the skirt fell in soft folds. At the back the bodice was finished with tiny satin-covered buttons and the skirt flared from the waist to form a full oval train. She wore a tulle veil with a halo of orange blossom which had been worn by her mother on her wedding day and her only ornament was a beautiful pearl pendant, a family heirloom, given to her by her mother. She carried a bouquet of cream carnations and roses.

The two 'maids were Miss Nancy Twistleton, Levin, and Miss Bernice Hogg, Wellington, and their gowns were fashioned alike of delphinium blue georgette with French pin-tucked bodices and long pin-tucked sleeves. Tiny buttons finished the bodices from collar to belt and the skirts were gracefully full. They carried bouquets of delphiniums and gypsophila and wore matching headbands.

Mr Harold Evans, Wellington, was best man and Lieut. Derek Christensen, Wellington, was groomsman. Ushers at the church were Messrs David Riley and A. O. Woodhouse.

Following the ceremony a happy reception was held at the home of Mrs H. M. Felkin, Havelock North, where the bride's parents, assisted by the bridegroom's parents, received the guests.

Mrs Gardiner's model ensemble was of black corded crepe-de-chine with a panel of deep pink carnations and dahlias.

Mrs Cornford chose a navy blue blouse effect in pale pink. She wore a navy hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs Felkin's gown was of silvery grey satin-backed crepe and her hat of lavender straw was trimmed with lavender flowers. Miss Felkin wore a brightly-flowered sheer silk frock and cream straw hat.

The wedding breakfast was arranged in a marquee on the lawn and here hydrangeas in blue, pink and mauve were gay and colourful. The toast to the bride and bridegroom was proposed by Mr Donald Campbell.

For travelling, the bride chose a model frock of deep blue American crepe with an attractive belt hand-embroidered in wine shades and forming unusual pockets. She wore a blue model hat and all accessories were in wine shade.

Mr and Mrs Peter Cornford will live in Wellington.

THE BUSTLE BAG IS A FAVOURITE ACCESSORY

With bustle bows on frocks and on hats as popular fashion points it is a foregone conclusion that the bustle bag will be a favourite in accessories, states the Sydney "Sun".

The bags, which were on view in a collection of fashions shown in Sydney recently, were seen in variety, one of the most attractive being of capeskin, with its circular shape outlined in ruching to give the bustle effect.

Another new type is the lantern bag, one example being made of Robin Hood red sculptured nappa designed to "light up" black frocks.

Handbags will still hang from wrists, and the accent this season will be on the handles, which are in many cases enormously wide.

A HAT OF SUMMER FELT—This Columbia star chooses a most becoming model of soft powder blue summer felt banded in a deeper shade and having a cleverly tucked crown.

Soft materials such as suede, which is combined very effectively with grosgrain, capeskin, and calf, make many of them. And patent leather will be used almost exclusively for trimmings.

Jewellery is chunky and heavy—created from old pieces of antique jewellery—and is mostly silver or gold plated. These metals are combined with coloured stones.

One set, of necklace, bracelet, and chataleine, is made of rows of lockets, and another comprises a charm necklace with bracelet to match. A highlight of the new materials is satin-striped chiffon in glorious shades of blue and pink and also in white.

When door knobs or knockers or bells must be polished, take a large piece of cardboard and cut a hole in the centre just large enough to fit over the knob. Then you can polish away to your heart's content with no fear of smirching the paintwork round the knob or knocker.

Beauty For The Office Girl

GOOD GROOMING AS IMPORTANT AS EFFICIENCY

The most conspicuous features of any office girl are her hands and her hair, and usually she is placed in such a position that the light is always shining full on her head, and sometimes her hair is not as beautiful as it should be.

Busy hands are always on show, either tapping at the typewriter, writing invoices and receipts, or in a host of other ways.

And, although it should be whispered, her hips often become rather broad through continuously sitting down.

Now take a note of this. How is your hair? Is it well groomed, full of life and colour?

There is nothing worse than an office girl with untidy, lank hair, and if you are at all doubtful whether your hair is in this condition you must immediately treat it.

We use the same lovely soap, Baby and I....

Knight's Castile

Its pure, fine oils make Knight's Castile a wonderful complexion care—mild and gentle, even for Baby's satiny skin. Grand for the bath, too. It lathers as generously, so quickly—that's why Knight's is such a favourite. Just the soap for the whole family, Mother. Especially as a big, lasting tablet costs only 6d!

Hair Treatment

At least once every fourteen days your hair should be thoroughly shampooed, and then while you are drying it you should sit in the sun and brush and massage it vigorously so that it will glisten and gleam with some of the captured sunlight.

If your hair is very drab, some of its lost lustre can be restored by applying a rinse after your shampoo.

Blondes will find that the juice of a lemon, or a handful of camomile flowers, to one pint of water will be sufficient. Some girls add a little peroxide to the water. Any of the above rinses will give blond hair a golden glint. The camomile flowers will not have such a brightening effect on the hair as either of the other rinses, but it is much softer and less drastic on the hair shaft.

Advice for Brunettes

Brunettes will require either pretty red glints or more of a pronounced golden glint, depending on their own natural colouring. If they prefer golden glints, specially manufactured packets of rinse can be procured, and they are certainly very efficacious. If reddish glints are desired a tablespoonful of henna placed in a small muslin bag and allowed to steep for five minutes in a pint of hot water will suffice. Henna is quite harmless, and will not have any ill-effect on the hair.

Hair which is excessively oily and lank always has a bedraggled appearance and never appears healthy. If yours is inclined to be this way, procure a bay rum or some other such tonic from your chemist and massage it well into the scalp every night.

If you are a blonde, add a few drops of lemon juice to the contents of an egg and beat them thoroughly together. Then use as an ordinary shampoo. This will help remove the excessive oiliness and will leave the hair delightfully soft and fair.

Hair which is very dry should be given a course of hot oil treatments at home, or if you are feeling in a luxurious mood purchase some vitamin hair creams from your hair-dresser and give yourself a weekly treatment. These vitamin creams will make the hair soft and full of life, and your treatments will restore your hair to a normal condition.

Take a note of these hints, Miss Office Girl, and remember that good grooming, as well as efficiency, will help you on the high road of success.

NATIONAL YEARLING SALE REVIEW FOR 1941

Okawa's High Standard Is Maintained

MR T. H. LOWRY'S FINE LOT

(By THE BARB)

The Okawa Stud for some years has contributed largely to the National Yearling Sales and has supplied many high-class performers, both to Australian and New Zealand buyers.

The most notable have been the Chief Ruler-Oreum horse, Gold Rod, who proved to be up to the champion class.

Buyers have, in the past, told the writer that no other stud in the Dominion turns out its young bloodstock in better style and condition than Okawa.

Small young horses are seldom bred by Mr T. H. Lowry. In fact the writer hardly remembers half a dozen during the last 30 years.

Although Mr T. H. Lowry has been racing horses for over fifty years ago that he established a stud at Okawa.

The first sire to do duty at Okawa was the Hotchkiss—Janet (by Castor) brown horse, Royal Fusilier, a descendant of the Manto branch of the No. 18 family.

His choice fell on the Roi Herode chestnut horse, King John, who on his arrival here was selected by astute judges to be a welcome addition to his sire's list.

Well patronised in the first year, he only sired seven living foals, all good winners, including the New Zealand Derby winner Runnymede, who was sold to an Australian owner for 5000 guineas, and Oreum, dam of Gold Rod.

Writing from memory, I don't think he produced any more foals. It was decided to send him to Australia in the hope that the change of climate would increase his fertility, but King John had a say in this, as when on the Wellington wharf waiting to be swung aboard, he jumped into the sea and was drowned.

To England Again Again Mr Lowry decided on England to secure for him a thoroughbred sire. His agent forwarded the Captivar horse, Grandcrest, and Psychology, by Tracery.

Although they were not outstanding successes they were by no means disappointing, the latter begetting that great mare Cuddle.

Following the above pair of horses two of Mr Lowry's Okawa-bred horses Nigger Minstrel and Gascony, were given stud duty.

Although siring quite a fair percentage of winners, their chances were decidedly limited.

Mr T. H. Lowry is recognised as one of the best judges of thoroughbred horseflesh in New Zealand. Years ago he brought the Goldsboro mare, Cantatrice, from whom he bred Downfall, winner of the New Zealand Cup and one of the most striking horses ever seen on the racecourse.

He was a chocolate chestnut with a silver mane and tail and four white feet.

Another mare that the squire of Okawa bought and which did well as a matron, was Lissadurn by Bill o' Portland, Gossip (by Wallace) dam of Bobrikoff, whose descendants won thousands, was another of Mr Lowry's good buys.

Then came the Malster mare, Aurasius, for whom Mr Lowry sent a mare, like Desert Gold, in the second year of her stud career, her first offspring being the brilliant Croesus, one of the best sprinters in New Zealand in his day, who enjoyed a win over his great half-sister, A Leger, Malster (a great performer and sire), Treadmill (New Zealand Derby) and a dozen other real racehorses.

Thus it can be seen the stud career of the "touched in the wind horses" were as apart as the poles.

Service for Many Years Finland did service for many years and when he was getting too old to be used with any degree of certainty, he was pensioned off, and Mr Lowry began to look for a horse to replace his old favourite.

WAIPUKURAU COURT CASES HEARD DEATH OF YOUNG BOY

CHARGE OF THEFT OF LINGERIE

TRAFFIC OFFENCES

A Longer Sitting Than Usual

(Daily Mail Special Service) WAIPUKURAU

A longer sitting than usual occupied the time of the Magistrate (Mr J. Miller) in the Waipukurau Court yesterday morning, when various cases were held.

Charged with the theft of lingerie from a workmate, a nursing aid at the Pukeora Sanatorium was convicted and placed on probation for a period of six months. The police detailed the arrest of the accused, and stated that there was a considerable amount of petty thieving going on at the institution. The sister in charge was willing to retain the services of the accused.

Mr C. G. E. Harker, for the defence, asked for leniency, as the accused had been the victim of various thefts in the past and on sudden impulse had tried to make up her shortages.

The Magistrate pointed out how serious the offence was and sentenced the accused as stated.

Bookmaking Charge Pleading guilty to a charge of bookmaking, Leonard George Nicol, lorry driver, Waipukurau, was fined £40. Constable D. H. Sutton detailed the arrest of the accused, the various quantities of betting material found, and the value of the bets taken over the Manawatu race meeting. The accused, he said, was the principal with one or two agents in the town.

In pointing out to the accused that the maximum penalty for such an offence was £500, the Magistrate took into consideration the good character previously held by accused and fined him as above.

Licensing Offence John Blair and Reginald Francis Harris were charged with being found on licensed premises after hours, and the licensee, James Valentine Harrison, was charged with exposing liquor for sale.

Constable M. J. Ryan, Porangahau, stated that on December 7 he saw the bar was open and a number of men standing outside. As he went across the road he heard a voice say: "Come on; get out. It's after six o'clock."

In answer to the Magistrate the constable stated that it was nine minutes past six when he heard the voice.

The accused, who were represented by Mr T. H. Gifford, Hastings, stated that the accused Harris was a bona fide boarder until that day, when he decided to go away, and at the time of the alleged offence he was waiting for a car. Blair, the other man in the bar was in conversation with the licensee's wife over a business matter, and as there was no glasses or liquor on the bar the licensee was not trading.

This is not a case of a licensee deliberately opening up the bar, stated the Magistrate. The licensee did not close the bar punctually at six, but he had been clearing the bar when the police called.

Harris and Blair were convicted and ordered to pay Court costs, 10/-, and the licensee, Harrison, was fined £1, costs £1 2/6, on the first charge and the second charge was withdrawn.

Driving a car at such a speed that he could not take a corner and colliding with an oncoming vehicle cost David James Honore, Levin, £5, and his licence was endorsed. Constable D. H. Sutton stated that the accused had had to drive on the wrong side of the road for a considerable distance, and it was while on the wrong side of the road that the collision occurred.

Mr Harker, in defence, said that the accused had been caught napping and had tried to pass the oncoming car on the wrong side.

In fining the accused the Magistrate stated there was no excuse as accused knew he was coming to a corner.

Charged with failing to give way to traffic on his right, with having no warrant of fitness and with failing to report an accident, Horace Hokianga, Porangahau, pleaded guilty.

In outlining the case, Constable M. J. Ryan, Porangahau, stated that the accused approached a corner and in falling to give way collided with another car driven by Lex Logan, Waipukurau, who suffered a broken arm necessitating hospital treatment.

The Magistrate fined the accused £3 and costs 12/- on the first charge, £1 and costs 10/- on the second charge and £3, costs 10/- on the third.

Herbert Joseph Franklin, Herbertville, was charged with delivering a firearm without a permit and Gordon Kitchener Prisk, was charged with procuring a firearm without a permit. Both men were fined £1, costs 10/-.

False Alarm William John Jones, aged 21, a porter at the Waipukurau Hospital, pleaded guilty to wilfully giving a false alarm of fire.

Constable D. H. Sutton stated that when interviewed the accused stated that as it was New Year's Eve he thought he would bring in the New Year by blowing the siren.

The Magistrate fined him £5, costs 11/-.

Case Dismissed John Lawrence Mout, woodcutter, Takapau, charged that on the night of December 24, he was in charge of a motor truck while being intoxicated, pleaded not guilty.

In evidence, Tauranga Karaura, labourer, Takapau, stated that he was in a Chinese shop at Takapau when he saw Constable Mullins going towards the Post Office and heard someone call out to the constable. The Chinese drew his attention to a commotion in the right of way. He went outside and saw Mout, who was leaning against the fence and Constable Mullins. Mout asked him to have a look at his face and witness flashed a torch upon him. Mout had stated that he had been struck, but no marks were visible. Witness assisted Constable Mullins to take the accused to the police station, where he resisted entering the cell. Cross examined by Mr Harker, who appeared for the accused, witness stated that accused could walk straight but would not drive in a car with him.

Mout stated that he saw Constable Mullins and said to him "Good night, constable, how are you getting on with the Murphys?" The constable then came over and arrested him.

The Magistrate stated that there was not sufficient evidence to convict the defendant.

Civil Claims Judgement by default was entered for plaintiffs in the following undefended cases.

L. Hawks and Co., Ltd. v. G. H. Peters, £13/10/-, costs £2/15/-; G. W. May v. Wai Hunter, £10/7/4, costs £3/2/-; J. James v. Wai Hunter, £11/0/-, costs 16/-; H.B. Farmers Co-op. Ass., Ltd. v. M. E. STRUCK BY CAR ON FRASERTOWN ROAD

INQUEST AT WAIROA

Evidence Of Witnesses Heard

"Daily Mail" Special Service. WAIROA.

Evidence concerning the death of a Maori child, Thomas Moraki, aged 7 years, who was killed on the Frasertown road on December 21, was heard before Mr V. E. Winter on Thursday.

Robert Burns Gray, medical practitioner, Wairoa, said that the child had a compound fracture of the skull and a fracture of the femur and was dead at the time of the examination. Death was instantaneous. He could detect no evidence of liquor on the driver.

30 Miles An Hour Robert Leslie Baty, motor driver, said he was passing along the Frasertown road when a car passed him travelling at about 30 miles an hour, and when the car was about a quarter of a mile past him he saw a cycle on the wrong side of the road. Shortly after he saw the passing lorry she saw a small boy and then he saw the body of a small boy roll out from under the back of the car. The car stopped almost immediately. It appeared to him that the child could not ride properly and was not on the seat of the cycle.

Valentine Brown, taxi driver, confirmed the latter statements.

One Foot On Pedal Pearl Funicane, who was in the car with Williams at the time of the accident, said that shortly after passing the lorry she saw a small boy pushing himself along the road with one foot on the pedal of the cycle; he was running all over the road. The next she remembered was when the car struck the boy.

Humphrey Walker, step-brother of the deceased, said that the cycle was bought about seven months ago but his brother was too small to ride it and all he could do was push himself along with one foot and that he could only go a few yards like that.

Joseph Basil Williams, aged 19 years, said he had been driving a car for about four years and when he was near the racecourse he saw a boy riding a cycle with his leg through the bar. The bicycle was on the wrong side of the road. He sounded his horn and just as he was passing the boy turned toward the car and was struck.

Witness said he did not run over the boy and that he pulled up within a few feet.

Tested The Car George Powell, mechanic, told the court that he tested the car and the meter showed that the car, travelling at 30 m.p.h. could be stopped in 31 feet and travelling at 40 miles in 34 feet. The car had been recently overhauled and was in reasonably good order.

Constable S. Tucker told the court that he visited the scene of the accident, and that there was no skid marks on the road on that day, but when plans were made two days later skid marks were visible. He suggested that these were brought out by the hot weather.

The Coroner's verdict was that the boy was killed as the result of being struck by a car driven by Williams, and pointed out the danger of allowing children to ride cycles on the road and stressed the necessity of car drivers keeping a careful lookout.

MEAT EXPORT REDUCTIONS

The restrictions which the Imperial authorities have imposed on the import of meat from New Zealand must necessarily apply also to Australia, but the Commonwealth is less dependent on this trade than New Zealand, and the effect on the national economy will be less noticeable.

It is idle to deny or disguise the fact that the restriction has serious implications for this country. Pastoral production has been expanded at the express desire of the Home Government to provide additional food supplies for the civil population and the armed forces of Great Britain.

Killing and freezing are now in full swing, and even if storage room is available, deferred payment and the subsequent disposition of accumulations will create difficult questions of finance and marketing.

The destruction of refrigerated tonnage by raiders and submarines is not the only cause of the trouble. The principle reason is the enormous amount of tonnage required for the transport of supplies for the military forces in North Africa and for the Greeks.

According to Lord Woolton, Food Controller, the reductions in our meat shipments will continue until the ships are no longer required in the Mediterranean. While many of us are hoping for and predicting an early collapse of the Italians, it may take many months to put them out of the war and to secure the position in the Mediterranean sufficiently to admit of substantial withdrawals from the great concentration of troops in Egypt.

Even then much will depend on Germany. If Hitler decides to make a move into Bulgaria through Rumania, the threat to Turkey will involve reinforcing our ally with a formidable army, and the transport of supplies will be just as vital then as it is now.

Clearly, New Zealand must adapt herself as best she can to the altered conditions. An effort should be made to find an outlet for meat in Eastern Asia, even at reduced prices. Japan, China and the Netherlands East Indies could do with a largely increased meat ration, but unfortunately the standard of living in these countries is so low that only a small proportion of the people could afford the luxury of New Zealand meat at anything approaching the cost of its production. Still, if any openings exist for an increased export of meat to Eastern Asia, every effort should be made to develop the trade.

In the meantime, producers will be wondering how they are going to fare in the matter of payment. Naturally they will look to the New Zealand Government which has made itself responsible for marketing the meat, but the amount of money involved is very large.

Under the existing arrangement, the Imperial authorities have been purchasing on an f.o.b. basis. They can hardly leave New Zealand in the lurch, and it seems only reasonable that they should pay for the meat which has to be stored because it suits them to use the available tonnage between Argentina and England, instead of sending the ships out to Australia and New Zealand.

It would be unfair for the Home Government to expect the New Zealand Government to find the money for the producer, who will have to be paid, or he will soon be in difficulties. No doubt this very important aspect of the matter is already receiving consideration, and it should be possible to arrive at an equitable arrangement.

Any decision reached should be made public as early as possible; otherwise the uncertainty created by the announcement of the reduction in meat exports will soon be reflected in the live stock markets and in business generally.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Wakefield House. The Wellington manager of C. C. Wakefield and Co. has been advised that Wakefield House, Cheapside, London, was recently bombed and very severely damaged.—Press Association.

Girls' Marching. A North Island Girls' Marching Association was formed at a meeting on Wednesday night at New Plymouth, when rules for contests were formulated. The association has the co-operation of the Defence Department, and invites the co-operation of all interested in girls' marching in the Dominion.—Press Association.

Hastings Home Guard. The first parade of the Hastings Home Guard this year was held last night, when about 300 men turned out at Nelson Park. Squad, rifle drill and signalling by Morse and semaphore were included in the training. Although the Home Guard at Hastings has been organized, a comparatively short time, the unit already is showing the effects of hard and conscientious drilling, and the enthusiasm of the men is inspiring a big part in the battalion's rapid progress.

Papers Lost. Advice has been received in Dunedin (says the "Otago Daily Times") that the answer books for the Institute of Mechanical Engineers examinations, held at Dunedin last year, which were sent to London for correction, were lost as a result of enemy action. This will be extremely disappointing to all those students who sat the examinations, and particularly to those who have since joined the fighting forces and will have no immediate opportunity of resuming their professional studies. The papers of about 25 candidates are involved.

Soldiers' Extra Petrol. Satisfaction that soldiers on final leave would now be granted a small allowance of petrol to visit their friends was expressed by the secretary of the Automobile Association (Hawke's Bay), Mr C. V. Freedman, last night. Explaining the position, Mr Freedman said that members of the armed forces going on final leave and members of the naval forces who are granted seasonal leave may obtain licences for a limited amount of petrol in cases where special justification can be advanced. Each case will be considered entirely on its merits and application should be made to any postmaster.

Gift Appreciated. A parcel of woollen goods for distribution among the needy fishermen of Aberdeen was sent some months ago to the Lord Provost of that city by the Hastings Scots' Society. The chief of the society (Mr P. J. Priest) has received a letter acknowledging the gift. "The parcel arrived here this morning, and I take the earliest opportunity of thanking you and all your members for the very handsome contribution of comforts," wrote the Lord Provost (Mr Thomas Mitchell). "A gift of this kind will be greatly appreciated by the recipients. The articles are most useful and very acceptable." His letter concludes by reciprocating the kind greetings, best wishes and hopes for a speedy end to the war.

Lifeboat Funds. When the Summer (Christchurch) lifeboat Rescue II. recently went to the aid of a yacht which was in distress on the Sumner bar the sea-landship and skill displayed by the crew were admired, particularly by an old resident of the borough, who is at present a resident of Nelson. As soon as the boat was housed again he went into the boatshed and wrote out a cheque which he handed to the crew, complimenting the men on the fine way in which the work had been done. He had seen the whole rescue and knowing something of the practical difficulties was perhaps in a position more fully to appreciate what was being done than were many others among the spectators. Although the boat is frequently called on for rescue work this is reported to be the first time any spectator has come forward with a gift towards the running costs.

Attacked by Sheep. An unusual accident befell Mr Russell Jackson, a son of Mr J. A. Jackson, Hillersden, Marlborough, when he was mustering sheep on Mr F. E. Fairweather's Stronvar station in the Waikato Valley. Mr Jackson, who is now a patient in the Lister Hospital, suffered injuries to his back when he was knocked downhill by a wild ram which broke away from the flock and attacked him.

FOUR PRISONERS ARE COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Story Of Sensational Escape And Attack On Gaol Warders

Story Of Sensational Escape

Four prisoners who made a sensational escape from Auckland prison on the evening of October 1 after an alleged attack on three warders, one of whom was seriously injured, were brought before the Police Court to-day. Three of the prisoners were caught hiding in bush at Titirangi on the morning of October 7, and the fourth on the West Coast road the next morning.

The prisoners who escaped were: Randall Reginald David Smith, 27, labourer, serving a life sentence for murder; David Fraser Watson, 21, seaman, serving a term for murder; Bryan James Ohehir, 23, serving a term for burglary; John Henry Silva, 25, labourer and butcher, serving a term for breaking, entering and theft.

Each was charged to-day with the attempted murder of Joseph Graydon Crawford, warder, and with assaulting two other warders. Further charges against the various prisoners were preferred later, including unlawful conversion of motor-cars, theft of one car, general goods, clothing and money.

When the Court opened at 10 o'clock the public section at the rear was packed to the rafters. Mr. R. Orr Walker presided and Detective-Sergeant Walsh prosecuted. Mr. K. Aekins defended all the prisoners, who entered the Court handcuffed and wearing prison trousers, grey shirts and tweed coats. They evinced keen interest in the proceedings, particularly in the exhibits.

His capture of prisoner Duff was described by Warder James Carson, who said he saw the prisoner about to drop off the prison into his garden. The prisoner was seen above the wall. He appeared his baton and whistle and tried to intercept them. He saw Duff with a baton in his hand closing on him from behind and turned and fought him. Duff used his baton on him several times, but witness overpowered him and returned him to the prison.

A hammer, weight, leather and other things found after the assaults were identified by the warders as having come from the prison workshops where the accused were engaged. Detective-Sergeant Kearney put in statements that Detective Gordon Smith had taken from each of the accused.

His statement Silva said he had been in gaol for only about one month. He went there with the engine and keys and a mate whom he did not name, got in touch with those likely to go with them. Five, including himself, talked over the plans and the part each man was to carry out.

Describing his part in the escape, Silva said that before lunch that day he got a hammer from the boot shop which was working. "I had it stuck in front of my belt and I went through the search with it there," his statement continued. "I took it to my cell and put it in my trunk."

It was unlocked for drill at about six o'clock that night by Crawford. I knew my part. I had to get my man. I waited until he turned away and I slipped the keys into his pocket. I struck him with the hammer and he went down. He got up again and I hit him again on the head. Then he stood up again, and I didn't want to kill him, so I used my fists and struck him on the chin and knocked him down again. He got up again, so I again struck him on the chin with my fist, and he went down and stayed down."

UNIVERSITY AND SCHOOLS

ACCREDITING SCHEME CRITICISED COLLEGE ENTRANCE

Deputation States Views

By Telegraph—Press Association AUCKLAND, Jan. 16. The feeling that the accrediting scheme for the University Entrance Examination put forward by the New Zealand University Senate shows a lack of trust in the secondary schools was expressed by Mr E. N. Hogben, President of the New Zealand Secondary Schools' Association.

At the meeting of the University Senate, Mr Hogben headed a deputation from the association which sought to place before the Senate its views on the accrediting system and to outline a plan favoured by the schools. He was accompanied by Miss E. M. North, principal of the Wellington Girls' College, and Mr G. W. Morrice, Wairarapa College.

While stating that the deputation did not question the University's right to decide who should enter its colleges, Mr Hogben said he felt there was not enough co-operation between the University and the secondary schools. He pointed out that only 10 per cent of the pupils of post-primary schools actually enter the University each year, so that while the Senate felt concerned about the standard of those entering the colleges, the schools had the much larger problem of those who were a classical course without any real interest or aptitude for it.

The plan favoured by the secondary schools, he continued, was for an examination on the lines of the School Certificate test, and of a standard at least as high, to be taken at the end of three or four years, followed by another year's or two years' work. The scheme went half way to accrediting, for admission to the University would be granted when the University liaison officer, inspectors and the headmaster considered that a pupil had reached a satisfactory standard in post-certification work.

Under existing circumstances, however, it was considered vital to replace entirely the University Entrance Examination as it stood at present. In spite of all the efforts of headmasters, the School Certificate examination had not succeeded in winning an equal place with the University Entrance as a qualification either with parents or employers. As a whole, and consequently the narrower syllabus of the University Entrance was still favoured in most cases.

One of the main points raised by Mr Morrice in his criticism of the Senate's scheme was an objection to the drawing up of a list of approved schools in which accrediting would be carried out. This, he declared, was undesirable.

AMERICAN PURCHASES British Mission To Be Reorganised A NEW DIRECTION

United Press Association—Copyright.

Sir Clive Baillieu has been appointed to succeed Mr Arthur Purvis as Director-General of the British Purchasing Commission in the United States.

Changes in the British supply organisation in the United States are desirable in view of the great increase in the volume of supplies going to Britain. A new committee—namely, the British Supply Council in North America—has been established with Mr Purvis as chairman and Mr Morris Wilson, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, as deputy-chairman.

There will be no alteration in the relations between the supply departments in Britain and the Department of Munitions Supply in Canada, but in view of the close connection between the Canadian and United States programme, the Canadian Minister of Munitions Supply (the Hon. C. D. Howe) has agreed to join the British Supply Council.

COOL-STORAGE SPACE NOW ADEQUATE TO MEET NEEDS

Prime Minister Asks Farmers To Forward Stock As Usual

United Press Association—Copyright.

An assurance that the Dominion is being equipped with all the cool-storage space necessary to meet adequately any restricted meat export programme is given by the Prime Minister (the Rt. Hon. P. Fraser).

On August 23, 1939, the Government, through the Department of Agriculture, took the necessary action to ensure that storage facilities at all works were built up to the minimum requirement. This necessitated the erection of new storage aggregating 3,420,000 cubic feet in space, and this additional storage was now in use or almost completed.

When it is realised that in addition to purely storage space, the existing freezing works within the Dominion were also equipped with approximately 5,500,000 cubic feet of freezing chambers which could also be used for meat for short periods, it is obvious that the country is being equipped with all the freezing space necessary to meet adequately any restricted shipping programme as envisaged by Lord Woolton.

Increase In Holiday Traffic Compared With The Previous Season

An increase in passengers travelling from the Hastings Railway Station in the holiday period just ended is revealed in figures released yesterday.

From December 15 to January 15 there were 3237 passengers from Hastings compared with 3195 for the previous holiday period. This season's revenue totalled £2787/19/9, as against £2768/16/4 for the previous period.

There were more than 2000 reservations of seats this season, which is regarded as unusually high. While passenger traffic increased over the holiday period, there was a general decline in all revenue for the four weeks ended on January 4.

Christmas and New Year railway passenger traffic returns supplied by the Railways Department showed a particularly busy holiday period, nearly 46,000 people going to Wellington by train and just over that number leaving the capital city for other parts of the North Island.

The total number of passengers who passed through the Wellington Railway Station from December 21 to January 7 was 92,169. The heaviest day was Christmas Eve, when the total inward and outward passenger traffic was 8973.

Details of the inward and outward traffic are:—From Auckland, 12,652; to Auckland, 14,119. From Taranaki, 6432; to Taranaki, 6180. From Hawke's Bay, 6204; to Hawke's Bay, 6316. From Manawatu, 15,322; to Manawatu, 14,302. From Wairarapa, 5340; to Wairarapa, 5286.

Last evening's meeting of the Napier Amateur Athletic and Cycling Club provided splendid entertainment for a good crowd of spectators. The events were well contested and some excellent times resulted, particularly in the women's sprint events, where Miss G. Symes's reappearance has stimulated competition.

A new event was included in the programme for the first time in Hawke's Bay, a women's shot put, and competitors who had never before handled a shot gave a good account of themselves.

Edgar Wallace (bit of a back number now) began as a tobacco lover and lived to be a tobacco lover! Twitted by non-smokers with his change of front, he would say, with a laugh: "As a man grows older he grows wiser—sometimes." Wallace wrote at night—often all night—and when absorbed in spinning his yarns his pipe was seldom out of his mouth. His tobacco (own blend) was quite famous for flavour and purity in which respects it closely resembled our beautiful New Zealand toasted brands, which enjoy the unique distinction of being almost free from nicotine. Old smokers say they "spoil" you for any other. They certainly possess a wonderful flavour and fascinating fragrance. Moreover, they are harmless. The toasting is responsible; it eliminates the nicotine—the source of all the ills known to smokers. There are only five toasted brands: Navy Cut No. 3 (Bull-dog), Cut Plug No. 10 (Bullshead), Cavendish, Riverhead Gold and Desert Gold. The two latter make the finest cigarettes going. Roll your own—and save money!

HAUMOANA'S BIG EVENT

Paddy's Market FINANCE FOR THE SOCIETY Progressive Works

The Haumoana Beach Improvement Society will hold the annual Paddy's market to-morrow. The effort is the main source of income to the society, which, acting as a local body, must have finance to meet rates and other expenses relating to the hall, tennis courts, park and motor camp.

The beach and lagoon have been planted with trees and shrubs, and swings for the children have also been erected. A caretaker keeps the area clear of picnic rubbish and maintains the bathing sheds in good order. The society is planning further facilities for the motor camp, but for this finance in the vicinity of £100 is needed.

Further tree planting and seating along the beach front is to be provided at the first opportunity. The public can help by gifts of money or goods for sale and such items as fruit, vegetables, poultry, meat, cakes, sweets, fancy work or jumble goods for the market to-morrow.

SURFACE IS VERY DIFFICULT POUKAWA LENGTH Condition Criticised By Motorists

The condition of the new stretch of State highway between Paki Paki and Te Hauke, which has now been opened to traffic, has been criticised by motorists who have used it.

The old stretch of sealed road has now been barricaded off, and cars must use the new length, which provides a straight run across the Poukawa swamp and through cuttings at the southern end.

A motorist said yesterday that contrary to expectations the road was not metalled before being opened to traffic, with the result that it provided an extremely rough and bumpy passage.

The dust nuisance is extremely bad, and after passing a car it is almost impossible for a driver to see where he is heading.

Controversial Subject This length of reconstruction has been a target for a good deal of criticism in the past on the ground that it is wasteful and extravagant, but whatever view is taken of this question there is no doubt that it will eventually be a boon to motorists. It provides a broad, straight stretch in place of the narrow winding road skirting the swamp.

Bowling Trophies Given Away PATRIOTIC GESTURE Open Pairs Tourney At Waipawa RESULTS OF GAMES

Concluding the second day's play in the Open Pairs tournament conducted on the Waipawa Bowling Club's green, the members of the five teams which had tied for first place with six games each, decided to dispense with any play-off, and to donate the value of the first and second trophies, amounting to £5, to patriotic purposes. The five teams reaching this stage were: Anderson and Crombie (Havelock), Cummane and Richards (Waipukurau), Heenan and Engsbretsen (Kia Toa), Steele and Lomas (Bluff Hill), and Liley and Pankhurst (Havelock). The appreciation of the committee of the Waipawa Club, and of the controllers of the Appeal Fund in Waipawa, is expressed to these players for their generous donation.

In direct contrast to weather conditions on the first day, yesterday was an ideal summer day, adding a great deal to the enjoyment of the players. The green was again in first-class order and some very keen contests were witnessed before the final stages were reached. The organisation of the tournament was the subject of much favourable comment from many of the visiting players, and the thanks of the club are due to Mr W. Burfield, of Hastings, for his services as tournament umpire.

The following are the results of the final four rounds:— Round 5 Engsbretsen 25, Bainbridge 14; Christie 23, Riley 14; Crombie 19, Wallace 12; Jopson 26, Smith 10; Lomas 14, Bissell 12; Pankhurst 16, Patterson 9; Richards 15, Clarkson 11; Collinge 23, Ireland 10.

Round 6 Engsbretsen 20, Riley 13; Clarkson 15, Smith 13; Lomas 18, Bainbridge 15; Richards 15, Christie 12; Crombie 24, Jopson 9; Pankhurst 19, Bissell 12; Patterson 17, Collinge 10; Ireland 20, Wallace 12.

Round 7 Christie 17, Smith 15; Pankhurst 27, Bainbridge 17; Bissell 21, Collinge 9; Jopson 25, Ireland 15; Patterson 14, Wallace 10; Richards 15; Engsbretsen 9; Lomas 18, Riley 15; Clarkson 16, Crombie 15.

Round 8 Bissell 21, Wallace 14; Collinge 17, Bainbridge 8; Jopson 22, Patterson 14; Crombie 19, Christie 7; Lomas 21, Richards 9; Riley 19, Pankhurst 8; Engsbretsen 25, Smith 17; Clarkson 15, Ireland 10.

Submarine Seen Refuelling SUPPLY FROM TANKER Occurrence In West Indies NEAR FRENCH ISLAND

Charles Mason, who commanded the schooner Icaros on a perilous voyage from Greece, said on his arrival at Miami, U.S.A., that he saw a submarine being refuelled in the Atlantic Ocean in the vicinity of the West Indies. He did not approach near enough to recognise any markings.

Mr Mason would not give the exact position where he sighted the submarine and the tanker which was furnishing fuel, saying he would reserve information for "the proper authorities."

He indicated, however, that it was east of Martinique, French-owned island of the West Indies group. "The sub was refuelling from a tanker," Mr Mason said. "I went up into the rigging to get a clearer view and they must have seen us then, for the submarine submerged and the tanker headed off for the south."

CITY OF DELHI IS SAFE Vessel Previously Reported Sunk

The ship City of Delhi has arrived at an overseas port, according to advice received in Hastings this week. It was previously reported that the City of Delhi, with Mr J. Dunn, formerly of Whakatu, as a member of its crew, had been torpedoed. This was incorrect, and it is believed that the City of Delhi was confused with the City of Benares, a vessel sunk near Ireland by enemy action.

FEW LOSSES OF PLANES American Machines On Way To Britain

Of the "hundreds" of Lockheed bombers which have been shipped to England since the war began, only four have been lost, the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation declares. Throwing some light on the effectiveness of the German counter-blockade, a company statement said one plane was lost when the freighter carrying it struck a mine off the English coast, and three others went down when a submarine torpedoed a vessel in the convoy.

Kindergarten's Decisive Cup Victory

TRENTHAM REVIEW

Hawke's Bay Horses In Limelight

"Daily Mail" Special Service WELLINGTON, Jan. 16.

The three-year-olds played a prominent part at Trentham to-day when they won the rich Wellington Cup and the thousand-pound open sprint. Both wins were achieved in a most decisive and spectacular fashion branding the winners of the double, Kindergarten and Sir Beau, as colts of a very high grade, and giving still further proof of the first-class type of thoroughbred the Dominion continues to produce.

The "Classic" event of the day went to the Hawke's Bay owned, bred and trained Burra Sahib, who first saw the light of day at the Karamu Stud Farm, Hastings, a nursery for many of this country's best racehorses. In this Stakes race, Hawke's Bay can lay a strong claim, as all three place-getters owe their origin to breeders of this district.

Two scratchings in the High-weight, Autosweep and Moderate, saw 18 go to the post. From a fair dispatch the colours of Namesake, Kotia, Great Night and Happy Ending were first discerned while just in behind was Twenty Grand, The Monarch and Arabic. At the half-mile post the stablemates, Namesake and Great Night, held command from Twenty Grand and Kotia. From here to the false rail the former was still in front, but Black Musk, on the rails, was making a bold bid, with Kotia and Happy Ending handy.

In the run to the winning post Namesake was the first to give away. Black Musk continued his strong run to appear a likely winner but Happy Ending finished too strong, and full of running, won by a length. Kotia came again to collect second money from Black Musk. Martene came from well back to gain fourth and may be well be suited to the longer distance on Saturday. De Friend was never dangerous, while Arabic was in the middle of the field all the way.

Sixth Juvenile Winner. The Hastings colt, Burra Sahib, by winning the Wellington Stakes, scored the sixth successive win in this classic for one of his owners, two-year-old, Mr. F. Ormond's Bulandshar colt, ridden by the Hastings apprentice, W. L. Aitken, indented to lead, but unfortunately was not present, owing to illness, was never further back than third. From a splendid start, and hitting the front a little over a furlong from the winning post, he went on to beat the opposition decisively.

The runner-up, Salutation, bred at Flaxmere by Theo from the Chief Ruler mare, Queen's Salute, received a slight check after the dispatch, but soon raced up to fourth. Half way through the journey she was third and although finishing strongly, was no match on the day for the winner. There was a Hawke's Bay flavour in the three place getters, as the third horse, Prince Plato, is by Plato, once raced by Mr. T. H. Lowry, while his dam, Wahine Nui (Chief Ruler's Pooanui) was trained and raced in Hastings.

This colt set a terrific pace early so it was not surprising to see him weakening into third place. Pay Roll must be feeling the effects of a rather strenuous time as she lacked dash and fourth at the finish saw her closer up than that at any part. Golden Moon and Corn Prince showed early pace but made no impression at the business end. The last two to finish were Kentucky and Varuna, never mentioned in the running. Sir Beau and Foreign Coin were the course scratchings.

Win For Greenmeadows. The start of the Apprentices Plate was delayed owing to Cheerful Lady twice breaking in the paddock. However, the field was dispatched in fair order except that Cheerful Lady, King's Toast and Gold Nugget were slightly left. The English bred Parchment, who was troublesome at the barrier, was quickest to gain his feet, and when the field took up their running positions, led from Miss Leigh, Blandisher, Laughing Song, Native Chief, Dainty Dell and Tauru. Half a mile from home there was little alteration in the running, although Rakanui had raced into a handy position where Parchment and Miss Leigh held a short lead over Blandisher, Native Chief, Rakanui, Dainty Dell and Laughing Song. Miss Leigh was first to weaken and bring on the first three. One of six of the horses that eventually filled those places looked possible winners.
