Aid For Berlin Means Break With London

(United Press Association-Copyright.) (Received March 8, 1.15 p.m.)

LONDON, March 7.

The "Daily Express" says that the British Government through the Minister at Belgrade (Mr Ronald Campbell) has asked the Yugoslav Government for a statement of her intentions-namely: Are you for or against us? It is made clear that Yugoslavia cannot be on both sides and that aid for Germany will mean a break with Britain.

The Yugoslav Prime Minister (M. Tsvitkovitch) and Foreign Minister (M. Tsintsan-Markovitch) in a communique said: "The present developments are being closely followed. Yugoslavia's independence and entity are ever before us.'

An Ankara message states that German troops are now along the whole of the Bulgarian-Turkish frontier, though not in great strength.

Turkey has not been lulled by Hitler's assurances, but has taken new defence measures. No alteration in Turkish policy is expected.

Diplomatic circles at Istanbul say that Hitler's message to the Turkish President, General Inonu, contained:

1. An expression of the German desire for close relations with Turkey, and of Germany's readiness to send a high-placed statesman to Ankara for discussions or to receive a Turkish representative in Germany.

2. A denial that Germany threatened the Dardanelles.

3. A denial of aggressive inten-

3. A denial of aggressive intentions towards Turkey.

4. A lengthy exposition of events after the Treaty of Versailles, accusing Britain of misusing the smaller nations, and especially Turkey.

No Promise to Greece

The Ankara correspondent of "The Times" points out that Hitler's message does not give assurances that he will respect Greece.

The Turkish Press does not discuss the message.

Germans in Turkey suggest that Germany wants a corridor to the Aegean Sea, not necessarily to Salonika, it is believed with the idea of cutting Turkish-Greek communications before attacking Salonika.

The muddy ground of Thrace will be unfavourable for military operations for two or three weeks.

OTTAWA, March 7.

The Minister of War Services (the Hon. J. G. Gardiner) told the House of Commons that the Canadian Press had done more to delay the Dominion's war effort than any other organised group.

He accused "a certain group of the Press" of spreading false statements.

He said that every time untrue information was given to the public the Government had to take time out from the war effort to restore confidence.

WELLINGTON, March 7.

The effect of several recent changes in departmental procedure and others which it proposed to initiate in the near future, as well as the measures taken by the Department to meet war conditions were considered at a conference of about 60 senior officers of the Post and Telegraph Department held recently at Wellington.

The delegates comprised all the chief postmasters and inspectors, all the more senior engineers in charge of districts, and a number of representatives of the head office.

WARTIME PROBLEM

United Press Association-Copyright. (Received March 7, 10.10 p.m.)

LONDON, March 6. "The Times" gives prominence to a speech by Mr Watson Boyee, Probation Officer at the Southwark Juvenile Court. Conditions arising from the war, he said, had greatly accentuated juvenile delinquency. He attributed the increase among the younger London groups, those aged from 8 to 14, to loss of the aged from 8 to 14, to loss of the sense of security—destruction and sudden death had become almost a commonplace, life was a matter for to-day, for to-morrow might not come. Fathers, uncles and brothers were away and perhaps would not return, mothers were hard worked and depressed return, mothers were hard worked and depressed.

His unofficial view was that if non-evacuation was the cause of the trouble there should be evacuation. Additional other causes of delinquency among older children, ne said, was the wild sex urge and the struggle for expression, particularly in the male. He had known of adolescents in whom urge for some form of expression was so irresisform of expression was so irresistible that it drove them out in the wildest air raids to seek a safey-valve resulting perhaps in supreme acts of bravery or of depravity.

"Burst or Go Mad"

Mr Boyce knew of a boy of 15 who had burgled a number of shops. He said that day after day the boy went to work in the dark and returned home in the dark. He felt he would burst or go mad. He defied his mother and went out in air raids from sheer desire for excitement. He burgled a tailor's shop and felt happy. "I did not want the clothes," he had said.

Such stories could be multiplied manyfold, said Mr Boyce.

There was a new problem as a result of wages for adolescents ranging from £3 to £6 a week, which gave boys too much to spend and the result was drunkenness. The increasing wages of these young "Burst or Go Mad"

CANADA'S PART IN THE

"The solidarity of a family like ours shows itself when one of its members is in danger." The Hon. Vincent Massey, one of its members is in danger." The Hon. Vincent Massey, High Commissioner for Canada, thus epitomised the war effort of the United Empire in a speech at Winchester in London Citys' War Weapons Week.' The British Dominions are able to make a far greater contribution to the common cause in this war than in the last," he said. "The population in 1914 of Canada, Australia and New Zealand and the white population of South Africa was about 15,000,000; it is now about 22,000,000—almost half as much again. In fact the about 22,000,000-almost half as much again. In fact, the four Dominions have now almost one-third of the white population of the entire Empire.

these are not measured by statistics. Our efforts like yours, will be bounded only by the utmost limit of our resources and strength.

limit of our resources and strength."

Speaking of Canada's essential part in the war effort, Mr Massey said: "Agriculture is still our foundation but the produce of our factories now exceeds in value even in peacetime the produce of our farms. It is natural, therefore, that Canada should become a formidable arsenal in war. Up to the end of last year war contracts had been placed in Canada for your Government and ours to the amount of over 1,100,000,000 dollars. To deal with these great orders new plants have been built and old ones enlarged at a cost up to the end of last year of over 300,000,000 dollars. This expenditure was borne equally by Britain and Canada.

"An army of workers is being trained to man these expansions of industry and about two-thirds of the total industrial capacity of Canada in 1938 is now devoted to war purposes.

JAMES CAGNEY IN A FINE ROLE

Cosy

Colourful Story Of "The Roaring Twenties"

"The Roaring Twenties," co-starring James Cagney and Priscilla Lane and now at the Cosy Theatre, Hastings, deals with the turbulent and eventful decade in the history of the U.S.A. following the World War. It is the autobiography of a nation gone crazy. The day of the flapper and the speakeasy, of mobrule, of fantastic prosperity—in rule, of fantastic prosperity—in short, the most glittering, gaudy and fantastic age in America's history, is recreated on the screen as the background for a vivid and com-

DEMOCRACY VERSUS DICTATORS

'The Ramparts We Watch' Timely Production

When a film is acclaimed by critics, government officials, and news commentators alike it rates news commentators alike it rates universal attention. When it is afterwards super charged by the addition of breath taking sequences from the notorious Nazi rropaganda film, "Baptism of Fire," it becomes an event of unique importance to all moviegoers. The film is "The Ramparts We Watch," begun more than a year and a half ago as the first year and a half ago as the first feature-length picture to be produced by the editors of Time and Life and the March of Time, and is now at the State Theatre, Hastings.

An absolutely new kind of picture, "The Ramparts We Waten" was inspired by the disastrous trend of world events. Recreating the story of the great crisis of World War 1, it also was designed to reveal the forces of aggression which were plunging the world once more into war. To do this, the producers decided to make use of the Nazi terror film, "Baptism of Fire," which ection to make use of the Nazi error film, "Baptism of Fire," which showed more vividly than anything else the danger faced by the free peoples of the world. Already it has been used to demoralise Norway. ne Low Countries, Rumania and

But German censorship was a stumbling block, and so "The Ramparts We Watch" was released without the forbidden Nazi sections. It was then learned that the Canadian Government held prints of the Nazi film which had been confiscated from a flying heat by British confrom a flying boat by British con-traband control officers at Bermuda. The prints were secured from the as a new ending for "The Ramparts We Watch" over the vigorous threats and protests of the German

Regent

SPENCER TRACY AND HEDY LAMARR

Co-Stars Of "I Take This Woman"

It was a stroke of genius to costar Spencer Tracy, generally admitted the screen's greatest actor, and Hedy Lamarr, whom the world admits to be the most glamorous newcomer in a decade. Teaming of these two leaves nothing to be de-sired in "I Take This Woman," which is now at the Regent Theatre, Hastings.

Directed ably by W. S. Van Dyke II., the picture tells the story of a woman's great romance and regeneration, and marks the most roman Tracy, as well as the glamour girl's most dramatic role and her first with a modern. American setting. The story deals with a social butter-fly who, when a romance with a magnied man crashes finds sancmarried man crashes, finds sanctuary by the side of an earnest physician working in a tenement clinic. When the physician risks his career to provide her pleasures in night club society, a dramatic denouement solves their problems.

Expertly abetting the two stars by playing one of her typical wise-cracking comedy roles is Verree Teasdale. Kent Taylor is attractive and excellent as "the other man." The whole cast is excellent, with special applause going to Laraine Day, Mona Barrie, Jack Carson, Paul Cavanagh, Louis Calhern, Frances Drake, Marjorie Main, George E. Stone, Willie Best, Don Castle, Dalies Frantz and Reed Hadley. The picture gives Miss Lamarr more opportunity for good dramatic lines than any of her pictures to date. It also surrounds her with a gay, glamorous background with a gay, glamorous background for a major part of the picture. She dresses in modern American costumes for the first time and looks nore beautiful than ever. the entire history of aviation, the film strives to show what induces these women to fly and, in singling out Alice Faye, Constance Bennett and Nancy Kelly for subjects, succeeds in making the finest picture of its kind yet presented.

"RANCHO GRANDE," WITH GENE AUTRY

Aviation Drama, "Flight At Midnight"

Inspired by the song hit of the same name, "Rancho Grande," thrilling action show, starring Gene Autry, singing star of the saddle, is now at the Mayfair Theatre, Napier. Foreman of the Rancho Grande, Gene is distressed when he learns that Kay and Tom Dodge are flying to the Rancho with their younger sister Patsy. The Dodges have a nationwide reputation as madcaps and Gene dreads their arrival as he had been his bands more than full saying has his hands more than full saving the Rancho Grande from fore-

Before his death old John Dodge mortgaged the Rancho in order to secure funds for a vast irrigation system which has to be completed on a certain date. If not completed by this time the Citrus Valley Association, holders of the mortgage, will foreclose and all the Dodge holdings will be lost will be lost.

The Dodge heirs arrive by 'plane during the annual roundup and their wild aerial antics cause the herd to stampede. In other ways, too, the Dodge children cause Gene no end of

In addition to Gene Autry the cast includes June Storey, Dick Hogan and Little Mary Lee (who made a big hit in "South of the Border") as the Dodges, Smiley Burnette as Gene's rotund off-sider.

Phil Regan is cast as "Spinner Magee, devil-may-care mail pilot, who volunteers his courage and skill for the task of raising £25,000 with which to save a small airport from being condemned in the associate eature, "Flight at Midnight."

Roscoe Turner, America's popular hero of the air speedways, is cast as himself, and joins the gallant quest to save the airport. How, with the help of a new 'plane the "Scout," they save the airport is part of the smash climax of the film.

LUCILLE BALL AND MAUREEN O'HARA

Musical Comedy, "Dance Girl, Dance"

"Dance, Girl, Dance," now showing at the State Theatre, Napier, tells the story of a member of an eight-girl dancing troupe, ambitious Judy (Maureen O'Hara), who leads them from the mid-West to New York in search of jobs. Her partner is Bubbles (Lucille Ball), pert and mercenary. A friendly ballet teacher undertakes to bring Judy to the attention of Adams, a famous impresario (Ralph Bellamy), but dies before she can introduce Judy. Adams makes a fleeting contact with Judy and is impressed, but does not know her name nor where she can be again located.

Bubbles gets a job as a solo dancer

Bubbles gets a job as a solo dancer in a cheap vaudeville house and enlists Judy as a stooge to her act, to do an allegedly serious dance which appears a ridiculous piece of business. A chance acquaintance, Jimmy (Louis Hayward) interrupts a performance by championing Judy against the heckling of the crowd. Learning him to be wealthy, Bubbles makes a play for him to Judy's dismay, for the latter realises that Jimmy really loves the wife from whom he has been divorced. She tries to reunite Jimmy and his wife, tries to reunite Jimmy and his wife, Elinor (Virginia Field).

Adams has been endeavouring to locate Judy all this time, and finally recognises her picture in a newspaper. Adams has tried to meet Judy, but she believed him to be a

WEEK'S RECIPES

Try Luscious Grapes In Resourceful Ways

People are not very resourceful when confronted with a case of luscious grapes—as might be anyone's good fortune during the next few weeks. Having eaten straight from the branch as many as is wisely possible, what to do with the remainder is a problem.

Grapes are a health-giving food, either in their fresh or dried state, and here are some suggestions for using them in a variety of ways while they are in season. If you try some of these recipes every member of the family will enjoy tempting grape dishes which are easily prepared by the housewife.

THOMAS—COUPER

Miss M. Chapman, Wellington, is taying in Napier.

Mr and Mrs Forbes McHardy, ramoana, Waipawa, have returned from a visit to Palmerston North.

Miss June Parker, Auckland, has eturned home after visiting Mr and Mrs H. Cave and family, Main Road, btane.

Shaded hydrangeas and bella donna lilies provided a picturesque setting at Holy Trinity Church, Derby Street, Gisborne, for a late afternoon wedding of wide interest, when Kathleen Hilary, daughter of Mr W. A. Couper and the late Mrs Couper, Otane, was married to Private Eric Seymour Thomas, younger son of Mr and Mrs J. C. N. Thomas, Owen Road, Kaiti.

The ceremony was performed by Owen Road, Kaiti.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. C. Aires, Waerenga-ahika, and Mr D. G. Dyer presided at the organ.

The bride, who was escorted by her uncle, Mr J. A. Macleod, wore a smart frock of navy blue wool cloque. The bodice, showing a high neckline and long sleeves, was accented with white medallions, and the skirt was gracefully flared. A narcented with white medallions, and the skirt was gracefully flared. A narrow tailored belt, fastened with a buckle at the back, defined the waist. Her navy felt hat was caught with a matching bow, and a shoulder spray of mixed flowers in delicate shades of pink and blue, the gift of Mrs F. B. Barker, completed the ensemble.

LOOKING BACK: MEMORIES OF NAPIER IN THE GAY EARLY EIGHTIES

Lawyers, Publicans, Clergy, Soldiers And Rugby Players

THE early eighties were rather more than half way to the Lecentennial, and as a member of a well-known club, one met many of the men who did so much for Napier, Hawke's Bay and New Zealand. It is hard to know where to start.

Mr J. H. Coleman, from the earliest years, was one of the prominent citizens and he and Mrs Coleman, with their lovely house and gardens, among many others, made welcome the bachelors from the backblocks. Mrs Frank Logan, Mrs Kinross White, Miss Goudy, Mrs Kettle and Mrs Hindmarsh were others lavish with their hospitality.

£60,000 A Year For Each Ship

THE Royal Navy's "grey-I hound" varies in type and size, the smallest being about 900 tons. But whereas a battleship like H.M.S. Rodney costs £7,600,000 to build, destroyers of the crack Tribal class can be constructed for a like amount. So active is this small type of craft in wartime, however, that an annual expenditure of £60,000 is needed to keep a single destroyer on the job.

Her 150 officers and ratings live a more arduous life than those in a capital ship, which may remain at a safe base for weeks at a time. There is always work to be done, and in the event of a full naval action, the destroyer's duty is to help form a screen for battle squadrons, to scout for hostile craft and attack enemy

A RATING PROBLEM

The Municipal Conference which met in Auckland this year has been reviewing methods of raising revenue from rates, and to help the delegates in their deliberations they were presented with a symposium of opinions on the merits and demerits of the various rating systems allowed by law in New Zealand.

The problem is an old one and the ideal system of financing municipal administration seems to be as far from attainment as ever. About two-thirds of the borough and city authorities strike their general rate on the unimproved value of the land, and once this system is adopted it is very difficult to get rid of it, because it puts the main burden of taxation on the few and relieves the many. Before a poll can be taken on the rating system there must be a demand for it by at least 15 per cent. of the rate-payers, and when the issue is submitted the voter is apt to take a very narrow view of the proposal. If he will pay less under the system he is asked to vote for, he is easily persuaded that its adoption is in the public interest. Rating on the unimproved value relieves the residential freeholder at the expense of property owners in the main business thoroughfares. The system was introduced at a time when it was considered desirable to devise means of hastening the subdivision of large areas of undeveloped or partially-developed land in New Zealand. In the nineties the views of a so-called land reformer named Henry George had a great vogue. His scheme for a new economic order which was to usher in Utopian conditions for all was a simple one, and it went by the name of the Single Tax. He proposed, by taxing land values, to appropriate the rent of land for public purposes. It amounted virtually to land nationalisation without compensation to the owners, regardless of whether the landowner stole the land in the first place, or paid hard-earned cash for it. The principle was applied to a limited extent in the original Land and Income Tax Act which was put on the Statute Book by the Seddon Government, but the amount of the tax was insufficient to please the single taxers and there was a good deal of speculation in land in spite of it.

The application of the principle to municipal rating was an afterthought. It was claimed for rating on the unimproved value that it would keep down the price of land, discourage speculation, and stimulate building in urban areas. In practice, the principal result in metropolitan centres has been to promote congestion. It became necessary to prescribe a minimum size for building sections, and before long this tended to become the maximum. By building flats instead of single dwellings the density of population is increased without much regard for breathing space for the people who live in these areas.

Another objection to rating on the unimproved value is the long period which is usually allowed to elapse between revaluations. This may not matter so much in municipalities where there is no growth of population to speak of, but in a rapidly growing town the borough authorities may have to wait years to get the benefit of a rise in values. As rate payers have a rooted objection to paying higher rates, whatever the services rendered by the municipal authority, a revaluation that brings in more revenue raises less controversy than an addition to the amount of the general

All things considered, it would appear that rating on the annual value is the most satisfactory and equitable method of providing the revenue required for municipal purposes. The annual value is the annual rent, less 20 per cent. in the case of houses, and 10 per cent. in the case of land, but in no case may the annual value be less than five per cent. of the value of the fee simple. The valuation is made yearly by the borough valuer and the ratepayer has the right of appeal to an Assessment Court. Under this system the valuations are kept up to date, and the rate bears a direct relationship to the return obtainable from the property as a whole.

These considerations, however, make no appeal to the majority of ratepayers who would pay a little more if rated on the annual value than they would if rated on the un-improved value, and there is hardly an instance of a reversion from the latter system to any other,

DUNEDIN, March 7.

A resolution expressing the desire of the Dunedin Manufacturers' Association to give its support to any steps the Government may see fit to take in the direction of restricting the use of petrol and urging its members to do everything possible to comply with the appeal for voluntary economy in this respect was adopted unanimously at a fully attended meeting of the association. The text of the resolution is as follows:—

That in view of the serious position of petrol supplies in the Dominion, the association urges its members to support in every possible way the Government's request for economy. At the same time, the association feels that the time has association feels that the time has association feels that the time has arrived for further compulsory restrictions to be imposed, and will support whatever steps are necessary to have these carried out with a minimum of dislocation to indus-

Extra Coupon Unwarranted

A statement issued after the meeting says that although members felt that the granting of an extra coupon for March and April was not warranted under present conditions, it was realised that it had a comparatively small effect on the comparatively small effect on the total shortage and that the position of the resellers, as an economic unit of the Dominion, was of vital importance.

Members were willing to do all Members were willing to do all they could to secure economies, but were of the opinion that the position warranted further compulsory restrictions, and were willing to cooperate in order to reduce as far as possible the effect of such restrictions on industry.

Oscar Natzke's Rise To Fame

SINGER AT NAPIER

Hard Work The Recipe For Success

Two interesting visitors to Hawke's Bay are Mr. Oscar Natzke, the New Zealand bass singer, and Mr. Kenneth Neate, an Australian tenor, who are to give a concert in Napier to-night.

From swinging the 14lb hammer in a blacksmith's shop in Auckland to taking leading roles at Covent Garden in four short years—that is the astonishing record of Oscar Natzke. His rise to fame can have few parallels in the history of music.

Trinity College Days.

At Trinity College, Mr. Natzke studied under Albert Garcia, a grandson of Manuel Garcia who, in 1840, published an essay that marked an epoch in the modern science of voice production. His entry into grand opera was almost as science of voice production. His entry into grand opera was almost as dramatic as the other episodes in his life. Vladimir Rosing was walking along the street when he stopped abruptly, amazed and delighted at the rendition of Verdi's "Requiem" which he could hear from a nearby studio. Dashing into the studio, Rosing introduced himself and invited Natzke to attend an audition at Covent Garden. Here the New Zealander was immediately offered a leading part in a new opera called "The Serf." From that time, Natzke went on from one success to another.

A scheme of reduced lighting for the Auckland metropolitan area, drawn up with the object of making the city invisible at night from the sea, will be brought into operation in two stages within the next ten days.

Under the authority of the recently gazetted Lighting Restrictions Emergency Regulations, the scheme has been drawn up by a technical committee of the Emergency Precautions Scheme organisation in Auckland and has been approved by the Dominion Lighting Controller (Mr F. T. M.

Two purposes are aimed at: to obscure completely all lights visible from the sea, and to eliminate the sky glow caused by various kinds of lighting, some directly visible from the sea and some not.

The scheme will be brought into operation in two stages. The first of these relates to outdoor lighting, such as illuminated signs, floodlights, and lights under shop verandahs. These must be extinguished after Monday morning next.

Interior Lighting Plan

Interior Lighting Plan In the second stage, beginning a week later, interior lighting of all kinds must be so treated as not to be visible from out-of-doors. Such lighting includes that of industrial commercial and domestic buildings, shop windows, doorways and en-trances, with particular reference to Street lighting is the responsibility of a special technical committee. This committee intends to begin next week with the reduction of Street lighting is the responsibility of a special technical committee. This committee intends to begin next week with the reduction of lighting experimentally by eliminating some lamps, lowering the candlepower of some, and shrouding others.

Streets overlooking the sea will be the first dealt with.

Motor-car Lighting

Motor-car headlamps are at present outside the scope of the scheme and will remain so until the Government issues directions regarding them. This is expected to be done when the investigating committee of experts has presented its report.

His War Effort.

When the war broke out, most of the foreign artists went abroad, but Natzke, along with most British artists, stayed in England and devoted most of his time to giving soldiers' concerts. This was a very strenuous business. Soldiers generally ask for what they want, and then see that they get it. Time and the seems because the seems of the ountry.

At the first suitable opportunity, Mr. Natzke intends to go to America, where he will fill a number of engagements.

The other member of the party, Mr. Kenneth Neate, achieved success as a tenor on the other side of the Tasman. Starting life as a school-teacher in Cessnock, he joined the police in order to get to Sydney to further his studies. When he sang as soloist with the Sydney Police Choir, he so impressed his audience that a job was given him at Police Headquarters.

After several years he sang in Puccini's "Madame Butterfly." and only last year took the name part in "Lohengrin," which

One of the most disastrous fires for a number of years occurred in Porangahau about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, when Braeburn, the well-known homestead owned and occupied by Mr. Earnest J. White, was totally destroyed.

The flames had a strong hold when discovered and it was found impossible to quell the outbreak. The owner who, with two others, was living on the premises, escaped with a few personal effects.

Many valuable trophies were lost, including silver cups won by Mr. White in the old days when race meetings were held at Porangahau. Mr. White suffered an injured shoulder and is a patient in Royston Hospital, Hastings.

Many residents of the districts rallied to the scene but the fire had too great a hold. The buildings were very old and in a short time were alight from back to front.

The origin of the fire is not known, but it is surmised that it broke out in the kitchen. The buildings and contents were insured in the Standard Insurance Co. Ltd. for

MARKET STEADY: LEVELS SHOW SLIGHT REDUCTION

Third And Final Ewe Fair At Stortford Lodge Yesterday

That there is still an inquiry for good breeding ewes, although at a reduced scale of values, was evidenced at the third and final ewe fair of the season at Stortford Lodge

About 15,300 head came on to a market steady at lower levels than those obtaining at the first two fairs. Old ewes made the hardest trading.

In assessing the amount of the fall in rates, however, it must be remembered that the final fair is always regarded to some extent as a cleaning-up sale for odds and ends of station drafts, and naturally the quality of the entries suffers accordingly. The tops of yesterday's sale were not as good as the best lines coming forward earlier in the year.

Upon the whole a steady level of competition was maintained throughout the sale, with only an average number of the usual eccentricities of any stock market in evidence. Buyers were perhaps more cautious than hitherto, with the uncertainty of their position an overshadowing influence, but this was not reflected in any pronounced slump in their activities.

LARGE YARDING

Medium Breeding Ewes Wanted

PRICES AT PAR

"Daily Mail" Special Service. WAIROA

Another successful sale was held on Thursday at the Wairoa saleyards, when a large yarding of sheep and a fair number of cattle were offered to an average attendance. Several outside buyers were present, including some from the Waikato. The greatest demand generally was for good medium breeding ewes rather than for the higher classes. Medium lambs also fetched higher prices than the better lines. Composition at first was keen, but eased towards the end of the sale. Prices were generally on a par with average number of the usual ecceptricities of any stock market in evidence. Buyers were perhaps more cautious that their position an overshadowing influence, but this was not reflected in any pronounced slump in their activities.

Some of the realisations made gesterday by the various auction-cering firms were as follows:

Successful Sale REMOVAL OF POST-'QUAKE "TEMPORARY" STRUCTURES

Hastings Council Seeks To Hasten Replacement Of Buildings

The demolition of "temporary" premises erected in King Street, Hastings, nearly 10 years ago is a further step in the removal of the last of the "earthquake buildings" which sprang up like mushrooms after the disaster in 1931.

For the past five or six years the Borough Council has made strenuous efforts to have all of these somewhat unsightly buildings removed, but considerable difficulty has been encountered in several instances. The stage has been reached when the council is contemplating legal action to compel the owners to remove the buildings.

In the unsettled days immediately after the earthquake hundreds of corrugated iron sheds and buildings similarly constructed were erected on temporary permit from the Borough Council, Most of the temporary buildings disappeared before 12

Effects Of Long Dry Spell

YESTERDAY'S RATES

By Telegraph—Press Association FEILDING, March 7. "Sticky" describes the livestock sale to-day, when 12,000 sheep were offered, including many lines of preeding ewes.

The tail end of the season for breeding ewes, coupled with the long dry spell made its effect on buying. Very good lines of young ewes sold well, but older lines were easier in price.

The second day of the Taranaki Centennial Cup meeting will be held on the New Plymouth racecourse today when the chief item of interest is the Taranaki Stakes in which Sir Beau promises to be the favourite selection.

The going will be easier than the first day. There is a possibility of rain continuing which may make the track in such a condition to upset calculations. However, the meeting should conclude with a big increase in receipts.

Noon—OKOKE HURDLES Of £150; one mile and a-half and-ten furlongs.

Kaiwaka 11.12, Disturbed 10.6, Southern Blood 10.3, Rollicker 10.2, Celtic Lad 10.1, General Riske 9.7, Great Night 9.3, Karerenui 9.3, Lady Jim 9.0, Resingold 9.0.

The first day's winner, Foxiana, did not accept, so with him out of the race it looks as though Rollicker has only to show a little improvement in his hurdling to be the hardest, but General Riske finished so well on Thursday that he will have a say in the settlement of this argument. Kaiwaka and Southern Blood did not start the first day but should the track be at all soft it discounts the former's but not the latter's chances. The best backed may be General Riske, Rollicker and Southern Blood.

8.4, Royal Talkie 8.3, Ra Rena 8.3,
Windsor Glow 8.3, Silver Gold 8.3, Teasoff 8.3.

This is practically a maiden event except that the first day's novice winner is eligible so that Valtour with a rise of 91b. will not be paying double figures again. The outsider, Sunfare, finished well for third on Thursday so that the extra furlong may be in his favour. Others to enter calculations are Gainly, En Volee, Minvaal, and Windsor Glow however there may be most inquiries for Valtour, Minvaal, and Sunfare.

1.30—MOKAU HACK Of £140; nine furlongs Hunting Bee 9.6, Sanction 9.6, Val-

Hunting Bee 9.6, Sanction 9.6, Valpere 8.5, Filbert 8.1, Miss Clipper 8.1, Martene 8.0, Wavelength 7.10, Mansura 7.9, Southern Blood 7.9, Mahaina 7.8, Ra Hou Hou 7.7, Bidens 7.7, Little Rose 7.7.

Hunting Bee won solidly the first day over the same distance but if the young Hastings apprentice W. Aitken rides Sanction with a little more judgment than he did the first day then Sanction should reverse places with the first day's winner. Val Pere is sure to improve with the race he had in the Okato Hack, while Filbert, Miss Clipper, Martene and Wavelength will have their "off-siders" too. Mahaina appears to have gone off since his two good races last month at Hawera. Sanction, Val Pere and Hunting Bee may carry most public confidence.

THE TARANAKI STAKES TO-DAY

find it hard to give more than a stone away to the two-year-old Kaimanawa. Of the others Ring Chief reads easily the best. In fact he may be the only one that will keep Sir Beau from dozing off. The money will be there for Sir Beau, and a little, too, for Ring Chief.

2.50—PAUL MEMORIAL
Of £275; one mile and a-quarter.
Friesland 9.0, Gay Fox 7.12, Dark
Eagle 7.12, Piastre 7.9, Cheval de
Volee 7.8, Aussie Ra 7.6, Ascot
Bloom 7.6, Hunting Bee 7.6, Notium

The first two horses home in the Taranaki Centennial Cup, Night Pilot and Sir Crusoe, are not engaged today, leaving the third horse Piastre the pick on form, who now carries 4lb more. Friesland was fourth on Thursday and will need to improve but little to land the first prize. Gay Fox and Hunting Bee, if reserved, look the pick of the others. Three that should appeal, Piastre, Friesland and Gay Fox.

3.35—PARITUTU JUVENILE Of £125; five furlongs. Ring Chief 8.13, Erinscourt 8.9, Panoni 8.8, Prince Plato 8.8, Imperium 8.4, Opuatia 7.10, Come True 7.9, Vermette 7.9, Miss Phaleron 7.7, Hard Frost 7.5, Park Light 7.2, High Tone 7.0, Debanquer 7.0.

Ring Chief will be the prime selection if not started in the Stakes. No mentions of Erinscourt in the running of Thursday's event will not see many inquiries for him now. Panoni, Prince Plato, Imperium, Opuatia and Come True have form to recommend their chances on. In the absence of Ring Chief the betting order might read Opuatia, Miss Phaleron and Panoni.

4.15—URENUI HANDICAP Of £175; six furlongs.

Screen Star 7.5, Trig Station 7.4,
Airflight 7.0, Taitoru 7.0.

Royal Star II was not started on Thursday on account of the contemplated hard track so now that it has rained and the distance an extra furlong to the first day's sprint, this Hastings owned Irish bred gelding will be expected to make a bold showing. Kentucky went down narrowly the first day after having the run of the race while in the same event, Zest, the favourite, was last home. The others are not out of the issue by any means but should the track be in the least holding Screen Star will be very dangerous. Most investments may be placed on Royal Star II, Screen Star, Kentucky.

Ginger, Whakatu: That is the kind of drawing that I think I could do, Ginger, as I am not very bright at drawing! You now have 84 marks not counting this week's so try hard to reach 100 marks and win your prize. I shall be watching especially for this. I am extremely pleased that you are doing some knitting for the soldiers because it is wanted so very badly.

Periwinkle, Mohaka: Yours was a colourful letter this week, Periwinkle, with its blue, red and green ink and I thought it rather fun. I hope you have recovered from your injections by now. I'm glad you did well at your sports. You now have 85 marks not counting this week's so do try hard and see how soon you can get the other 15 marks. I'll have your prize all ready.

Happy, D.S.O., Otane: I had been thinking you were forgetting me this week, Happy, so I was glad when your letter arrived. I do hope your cold is completely gone by now. I shall be looking forward to hearing how you get on in your sports and what an honour it would be if you could represent your scnool. I'm glad your blackberry picking was successful—I'm not much good at it—too prickly, I'm afraid.

Daffodil, Hastings: I think that your competition seems rather good, Daffodil, and I am looking forward to including it in our page for all the Playmates to try. I'm glad you did the competitions but was sorry that you didn't have time to write me a letter with news of what you have been doing lately.

CARTERTON RACES

Enrich Should Return To Form

ANNUAL MEETING

(By THE BARB)

The annual race meeting of the Carterton Racing Club will be held at Clareville to-day but the acceptances are disappointing.
The single pool totalisator will be n operation.

Following is a review of the acceptors in the eight events.
The programme opens with the MAIDEN PLATE, of £70, six furlongs. —Equity, Lotto, Flying Hawk, Black Sovereign, Half Caste, 8.12; Saka Bona, Miner's Hope, Lady Boswal, 8.5.

They certainly are not an impressive lot on performances. Lotto and Black Sovereign have not raced while Equity, Flying Hawk, Half Caste and Lady Boswell have hardly been noticed in their efforts but Half Caste is said to have improved. On his second to Soutane at Pahiatua, when made favourite, Saka Bona should be the prime fancy now. Miner's Hope had four runs in the spring his best effort being second at Greenmeadows to Erinscourt. Saka Bona looks like monopolising the betting with Miner's Hope and Half Caste the next best backed.

CARRINGTON HIGHWEIGHT HAN-DICAP, of £75, one mile and 80 yards.— Sunce 10.9, Titter 10.5, Golden Ridge 9.8, Debham, Namesake 9.1, Royal Vision, Metonymy, Locrian, Blue Heaven, Wine-berry 9.0.

Sunee is moody but Titter in this class should run prominently. Golden Ridge showed a glimpse of his old form at Woodville in his one run where Dedham, the second day, was fourth. Anyone of the others may win but they have not given any public indication of doing so. There is not much form to work on in sifting this lot out but someone may be inclined to support Titter, Golden Bridge and Debham.

WAIRARAPA COUNTY CUP, of £120, one mile and a quarter.—Siglow 9.0, slegmund 8.12, White Rajah 8.2, Galteemore 7.9, Counter 7.0.

Siglow is the form horse and if started the price will be cramped. Siegmund has not run a good race for some time and the short Carterton straight is not in his favour. White Rajah is a possibility although he failed to show up at Woodville. Galteemore won this race last season but his form this term is not very enlightening. Counter is a promising young horse but even at a difference of 28lbs the top weight is preferred. Siglow has every appearance of being the favourite with perhaps White Rajah next in demand.

CARTERTON HACK HANDICAP, of £75, six furlongs.—Blue Border 9.5, Wakarara 8.2, Master Solway 7.7, Haughty Rival, Black Sovereign 7.7, Blue Border has won three races this season so possesses a little form although the last three starts he has failed to weigh in. A solid win was credited recently to Wakarara at Woodville but there is not much to choose between the remainder of this field. Blue Border and Wakarara may dispute favouritism.

GLADSTONE HACK HANDICAP, of £75, one mile and 80 yards.—The Monarch 9.0, Arabic 8.13, Maharajah 8.12, Beau Cell 8.4, Oraiti 8.4, Arctic Queen, Rondalina 8.2.

others but in the meantime, for this event under review, the public may place more reliance in Maharajah, The Monarch and Arabic.

BUNNY MEMORIAL HANDICAP, of £85, seven furlongs.—Enrich 9.0, Siglow 8.9, Alunga 8.5, White Rajah 7.13, Gal-teemore 7.2, Counter 7.0.

Here we find this year's Derby winner, Enrich, on top of the handicaps, a position he should also occupy in the betting. Alunga has it in him to pop up when not expected. Siglow, White Rajah, Galteemore and Counter are also engaged in the Cup. In a small field Enrich should carry most monetary support. nonetary support.

ELECTRIC HACK HANDICAP, of £75, five furlongs.—Autolite 10.5, Wakarara 8.3, Red Dash 7.11, Pillory, Equity, Acce's Beauty, Flying Hawk, Fox Tower, Yurilla, Golden Thoughts, Tristan

Autolite can scamper fast and despite 10.5 will have solid support. Wakarara won this race last year and should she be stepped out again will be considered. Red Dash is the only winner to be found among the other nine runners of whom Acres Beauty has an outside show. Most interest may be afforded Autolite, Wakarara and Red Dash.

675, seven furlongs.—Titter 9.0, Arabic 8.4, Namesake 7.8, Parchment, Royal

Only five have accepted, three of whom have earlier engagements. If ever the English importation, Parchment, is going to make a bid, here is his chance. Royal Vision has yet to break his duck. Parchment and Titter may carry most money on the totalisator.

Last evening owner-trainer Mr W. H. Corlett informed the "Daily Mail" that he had cancelled the Carterton trip with Arabic and Acre's Beauty.

Pollyanna, Te Awanga: I was so pleased to receive your letter and to hear all about the swim which you and your brother had, Pollyanna. The waves must have been extra big that day, I think. I'm glad that you had time to do the competitions and the riddle-me-ree and I though that it was a good joke that you sent to me.

Bo Peep, Pakowhai: I was indeed metals hidden in each and one each in the third and fourth:

Bo Peep, Pakowhai: I was indeed sorry to hear that you have had a whole week in bed with 'flu, Bo Peep, and I do hope that you are now quite better again and back at school. I quite agree that now that you are in standard 3 you won't want to miss your lessons. I am so pleased that you had fun blackberrying—I too, love the jam made from them.

Shirley Foote, Hastings: I'm always very pleased indeed to receive the competition answers, Shirley, even if you do not have the time to write a letter with them. This week your answers were very good. Have you been specially busy this week and what have you been learning lately at school?

Busy Bee, D.S.O., Hastings: I was very pleased that you liked our Playtime Page last week, Busy Bee, and I only wish that we could always have a whole page with lots of stories for you to enjoy. Your day at Westshore must have been very good fun because the weather was so lovely and how exciting to have all those yachts sailing about while you swam. Thank you for your competition.

Inspector Scott, D.S.O., Hastings: Usually I feel quite envious when you tell me of your lovely picnics on Sundays, Inspector Scott, but last week-end I went up to Taupo so I was very lucky. I'm glad you had a good day at the beach and it would certainly be great fun to have a band to listen to. I wonder where the soldiers came from.

diers came from. Pauline Jones, Clive: I should like to have heard quite a lot more about your blackberrying expedition on Sunday, Pauline. You could have told me whether you were successful in picking a lot and whether you used them for jam or not. However, I was pleased that you found time to do the competitions for me this week.

Twickles Test Metrics West.

Twinkle Toes, Hastings: I'm so pleased to hear that you are in Primmer 3 now, Twinkle Toes, and that you have a very nice teacher. I hope you will try very hard and you will soon be able to print your own letters to me, won't you? I was pleased also to hear that you had been to a party and had enjoyed yourself.

Alice in Wonderland, Hastings: I have your prize money sitting here already for you when you reach the 100 marks, Alice, and you have only a very, very little way to go now. I was most interested to hear about your new garden and am so pleased that everything you have planted seems to be doing very well. I'm sorry that you have caught a cold but perhaps it has gone again by now.

Blue Mask DSO Mobaka: Yours

gone again by now.

Blue Mask, D.S.O., Mohaka: Yours was a splendid budget this week, Blue Mask, and I thoroughly enjoyed reading it all. I was so sorry that you had had sore arms after your injections but I suppose we all have these unpleasant things which are wisest in the end. I'm so glad you were able to go to the pictures because it was a good one, wasn't it? I do hope that you will have a very happy birthday. I shall think about you and hope to hear lots more about it later on,

Popeye, Hastings: Of course, I haven't very much to tell you either, Popeye, because we exchanged all our news on Tuesday night, didn't we. I was so pleased that you were interested to see how the newspaper was printed and I do hope you were able to go home and tell your mother and father all about it. Dear Girls and Boys: I'm really very sad indeed to have to tell you that I'm afraid we will not be able to have our full page any more and I'm quite sure that I am just as disappointed as I know that you will be. You see the reason is this: Now that it is wartime we must each one of us economise, that is, not to be wasteful in any single thing. Well, if you think for a few moments you will realise what a tremendous amount of paper we all use every day—newspaper, school books, writing pads, paper for our lunches and our parcels and simply hundreds of other things. We have been asked to take shopping bags for our parcels and so save brown paper and now we have been told we must be very careful of that which we have for our newspapers and must only use a certain amount, and so our papers cannot be so large. Grumbling would not help at all and isn't very cheerful so let us instead see that we make the best possible use of the space we are given by making our stories the very best we can write and our jokes and riddles good new ones we have never heard before. Will you all help me in this

Shirley Hannah, D.S.O., Hastings: I was extremely sorry to find that there was a mistake in the heading of your story, Shirley. I hadn't noticed it till you wrote and I'm afraid it must just have been an accident. I'm glad that you are learning life saving and are playing tennis because both are very good fun. I do hope school will straighten itself out again because I quite agree that changes are a great nuisance. I was sorry your blackberrying was unsuccessful but it gave you an idea for a good story which I hope to use next week. "Oh, about twice a week." THE ADVENTURES OF MIKE AND TOM

An Original Story By A Playmate

They were very naughty boys, these two, and as soon as breakfast was over they rushed off to get their present. Mike said, "I know, Tom, let's go round the edge of the swimning nool because that is nice and ming pool, because that is nice and flat."

ter. One afternoon Tim got a note from the Mayor inviting him to tea, so dressed up in his best suit he knocked on the door. "Good morning," said the maid, "follow me." And she took him to the dining room.

"Good morning Susan. Good morning, sir," said he.

"Good morning," said the Mayor. "Sue says you saved her life."

"Oh, it was nothing," stammered Tim.

"Oh, but it was," contradicted the Mayor, "and in return how would you like this." And he waved £10 under Tim's nose.

"Oh, sir—" began Tim.

"Now young man, take it and don't say any more. Mary, bring in the tea," said the Mayor.

After tea Tim went home with £10 in one pocket and a little golden tie pin, and now, although Tim is 70, he still treasures that pin.

"At the steps they took the car up to the top and climbed in. It was very dangerous really, because besides being deep, the wheels of the car had only a little bit to spare at each side of them. After they had seated the saw working the car, called out angrily, "There is something wrong with the engine gave a roar, and both boys scampered into the car, and away they went.

Now this pool had very sharp corners and when Tom tried to steer to und one the steering-wheel would not work. Both gave a shriek, but in a moment they were passing over the gardener's precious seeds and plants, and then they descended to earth with a bump, but still the annoying car sped on, past the vicar, into the butcher and tipped over his basket of meat, while it was on the job! But suddenly they were grab-had only a little bit to spare at each the dangerous really, because besides the dangerous really, the seach seach the dangerous really, the seach seach the dangerous really, the seach seach the dangerous really, because besides the dangerous really, the seach seach thad only alittle bit to spare at each side of them. After they had seated basket of meat, while it was on the job! But suddenly they were grabbed from behind and the twins looked up to see their dad! How pleased they were! When the boys had explained everything, their father took the car along to the mending shop, and there ended the adventures of Mike and Tom for a long time to come

The Letterbox

Brighteyes, Hastings IItthought that it was so very kind eyom to send me those lovely dahlias when Sailor Boy and Popeye came to see me on Tuesday, Brighteyes. I had them in my vase for several days and they were much admired. I am so glad you are going to write to me more regularly. I was most interested to hear about your blackberry and apple pie.

your blackberry and apple pie.

Margaret Ward, Ormondville: No Margaret, we don't seem to have nearly as many aeroplanes down here as you have in Ormondville. I am glad that you still have your canary and what fun for the sparrows to come round and catch the seeds that he drops. I expect that they will become quite tame. I'm so pleased that both your brother's and your own gardens are doing well.

Pluto, Hastings: I'm sure your day at Westshore must have been very great fun, Pluto, and picnics are always jolly if you have a good beach to go to and a lovely fine day. I like picnics on Saturday because there are never so many people about as on a Sunday. Can you swim yet, Pluto, and have you tried diving? Do write and tell me.

Lillian Stanley, D.S.O., Hastings: I'm very pleased to hear that you now have a lovely watch, Lillian, and I hope it will keep very good time for you. You must look after it carefully and not knock it if you can help it. I'm sorry to say that I did not see the southern lights but I expect I will some other time. They were early in the morning weren't they? Thank you for all your contributions this week. Janet Maxwell, Hastings: I was tremendously pleased to hear of your success at the swimming sports, Janet, and I think it was splendid. Your brother must be a good swimmer, too. Thank you for your story and I hope soon to find space to include it in our page. Thank you for your competition. I will save it for a little while because it just the same kind as the one which we had last week.

Sailor Boy, Hastings: I was terribly sorry to hear that the cow got into your garden and spoilt it all, Sailor Boy. That was very bad luck but perhaps some parts of it may still be alright. It was very nice indeed to see you in here on Tuesday evening and I hope you thoroughly enjoyed your visit.

Chris. Austin, Whakatu: I missed your letter last week, Chris, and I wondered what had happened to you. However, I was pleased to hear from you again. I hope that Tony had a good birthday and that Raymond is liking school. I'm sorry to hear that you have a cold and I hope it is quite better by now.

better by now.

Genevieve, D.S.O., Whakatu: I was very pleased to see that you knew how to spell the word fuchsia, Genevieve, because you would be surprised at the number of times I see it spelt wrongly and it is quite an easy word really. I'm glad you enjoyed the sunshine while writing to me and I hope you had a good swim afterwards. I have never seen pomengrates growing so was interested to hear that you had some.

Robin Hood, D.S.O., Pakowhai: I am

The six little bears they got in a muddle,
And found themselves in a small muddy puddle,
Then up they got,
And home they trot,
And were put to bed straight away.

—Periwinkle, Mohaka.

Hear that you had some.

Robin Hood, D.S.O., Pakowhai: 1 am glad that your swimming sports proved so successful, Robin Hood, and what fun to have five schools taking part. You didn't tell me whether you won any races. I think you were wise to bank some of your money. I always like to know whether it is wisely used and I think you did very well.
