Surrender Of Damascus Demanded

CITY SURROUNDED

British Prefer To Spare It From Attack

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received June 19, 9.35 p.m.)

LONDON, June 19.

The Allied forces have now closely surrounded Damascus and, according to the Free French radio at Jerusalem, General Sir Henry Maitland Wilson has requested General Dentz to withdraw his troops from the capital to save the city from attack. Failing a reply by 5.30 a.m. action will be taken. All the important heights are occupied.

The British loss and recapture of El Quneitra provides a tale of heroism ranking high in this or any other campaign. Between 300 and 400 infantrymen from a famous London regiment and the Free French resisted the attacks of Vichy troops for 48 hours. The Vichy troops, with 15 tanks, six armoured cars, artillery, mortars and machine-guns, launched the closing attack at dawn, encircling the village with two battalions and tanks. Infantrymen attacked at eight a.m. but were repulsed. Tanks attacked at ten a.m. and failed to get through. The Allies maintained their fire and used grenades most effectively, inflicting terrible losses on the enemy.

Heavy Shelling.

The Vichy forces then concentrated shelled the village. The Allies fought on until the last bullet, but at 6.30 p.m. were forced to surrender. The Vichy forces hold on El Quneitra, however, lasted exactly 21 hours, because Allied reinforcements of infantrymen and artillery were rushed up at sunset and captured the town before dark.

A lighter story is now an Australian sergeant-major, a sergeant and a corporal "captured" Sidon. These non-commissioned officers formed an army of occupation four and a-half hours before Sidon officially capitulated, accepting surrender while a tank battle was raging southwards of the town. When the first British armoured units broke through and raced to Vichy Headquarters they found three grinning Australians there with the French staff and officials lined up to welcome them.

Bluff Works.

The sergeant-major said he and his companions were separated from the main body attacking from the east. When the noise of battle died down he thought the attackers from the south must be in the town, so he decided to go in to meet them. However, Lebanese told him that the town had not yet surrendered. "It was useless to try to get back," he said, "so we decided to bluff it out and made the Lebanese take us to Headquarters. I strode up to the Senegalese guarding the door and declared: "The city has surrendered. Give up your arms," and the Senegalese meekly gave up their rifles. I left the corporal to guard them and strode in with the sergeant. My revolver overpowered the Vichy staff and they put up their hands. I left the sergeant over them and went to the town hall and commanded the Mayor to summon the council. He did and led them to Vichy Headquarters, where we lined them up with members of the staff and simply awaited the arrival of our troops."

"Safeguarding United France"

(Received June 20, 0.5 a.m.)
LONDON, June 19.

Admiral Darlan, broadcasting from Vichy, offered Free French soldiers in Syria an amnesty if they joined General Dentz, but declared that officers would be punished if caught.

"I speak in the name of Marshal Petain," he declared. "You are engaged in a battle against your brothers. I know you are courageous, but if you understood the history of France you would know that our main task is to safeguard a united France under Marshal Petain."

(Received June 20, 0.20 a.m.)
BATAVIA, June 19.

To cope with the huge quantities of air mail from New Zealand and Australia for the Anzacs fighting in Palestine, Egypt, and Syria, Royal Dutch Airlines to-day started an extra weekly return service between Malaya and Palestine.

Anniversary Speech By General de Gaulle

British Official Wireless.
(Received June 19, 8.15 p.m.)
RUGBY, June 18.

A message from General Charles de Gaulle dispatched from his headquarters in the Middle East was read at a meeting to celebrate the first anniversary of the foundation of the Free French Forces by General Muselier.

Terror and Lies

"These people, in order to shield the enemy, not only make use of the abominable machinery of terror and lies which they have borrowed from their masters but they even take advantage of military servitude and actually set up against us a living barrier of some professional troops. "A shudder of horror ran through the world at the news that the men of Vichy were making Empire soldiers fight against us and our allies in conjunction with German squadrons for the purpose of maintaining a bridge head in the Levant for the Fuhrer's forces. Such a treacherous scheme bears Hitler's own hallmark. It is typical of his devilish genius to make use, in this war of his, of the degradation of others.

Sworn to Break Hitler

"We need hardly say that nothing could do more to strengthen the Free French in their determination to wrest their country from his grip and to fight with all their might by the side of those who have sworn to break him. "At the present moment our soldiers, sailors and airmen are giving glorious proof of this before Damascus, in Chad, in Libya and in Abyssinia as well as on every sea and in every sky."

GUILTY U-BOAT WAS PHOTOGRAPHED

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received June 19, 11.15 p.m.)
WASHINGTON, June 19.

The Under-Secretary of State (Mr Sumner Welles) announced that the Robin Moor survivors at Cape Town have excellent photographs of the guilty U-boat with which to determine beyond doubt its identity.

MR SEMPLE SPEAKS ON DOMINION'S WAR EFFORTS

Australia And New Zealand Must Put Every Ounce Into The Fight

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received June 20, 0.45 a.m.)
SYDNEY, June 19.

The New Zealand Labour Minister (the Hon. R. Semple) who was to-day the guest of the Millions Club at luncheon, delivered an address on the Dominion's war effort. He declared that democracy was at the crossroads, and civilisation was in the melting pot. Every man must put forward every ounce of strength and every copper he possessed.

Mr Semple emphasised that liberty, the spice of life, was in jeopardy. The Divine Master soon would check the conduct that was going on over England and was resulting in the mass murder of women and children. He thanked God for President Roosevelt.

He appealed to Australians to make a vow that they would die on their sun-kissed hills before surrendering to the German monster of iniquity. There were only two roads

AEGEAN OPERATIONS

British Official Wireless.
(Received June 19, 7.30 p.m.)
RUGBY, June 18.

Successful activity by British submarines is disclosed in a communique stating: "Our submarines operating in the Aegean report having torpedoed and sunk the Italian tanker Guiseppina Charardi (3319 tons). They have also destroyed three caiques being used by the enemy and an Italian schooner. "The caiques were on the way to one of the German-occupied islands with drums of oil. The Italian schooner was carrying troops and ammunition stores to another of the Aegean islands.

"In the central Mediterranean our submarines have also been active. A south-bound enemy supply ship of about 4000 tons has been sunk and another supply ship of about 2500 tons and a 500-ton auxiliary sailing vessel have also been sunk."

NO CHANGE IN COST OF LIVING

Figures For Britain

PRICE OF CLOTHING INCREASES

Food Generally Cheaper

British Official Wireless.
(Received June 19, 7.45 p.m.)
RUGBY, June 18.

The official cost of living figure on May 31 was 100 points above the level of July, 1914, showing no change compared with May 1. For food alone the index figure was 70 points above the level of July, 1914, compared with 71 points on May 1, the decline being due mainly to decreases in the price of fish.

Among items other than food there is a slight increase in the prices of clothing and clothing materials, partly due to the effects of the purchase tax. Since this tax came into operation on October 21 the resulting increases in prices have raised the cost of living index figure by approximately five points.

R.A.F. At Last Able To Lash Out In Full Force At Germany

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received June 19, 9.20 p.m.)
LONDON, June 19.

"The present weight of R.A.F. attacks on Germany and the occupied territories is equal to any made against Britain, because the new British-built bombers carry many times the load of a Luftwaffe bomber," says the "Daily Mail's" aeronautical correspondent.

"The Bomber Command will be in a position before August to send as many planes to Germany on any night as the Luftwaffe sends to Britain and the numbers of our bombers will then steadily continue to increase. The night operational strength of the R.A.F. in numbers and weight of attack will actually be greater than the Luftwaffe before October, when the long nights return.

"The most German bombers that ever raided Britain on one night is believed to be 500. "A gratifying feature of this week's R.A.F. offensive was the relatively small losses in proportion to the many additional bombers used. The German bomber strength has been challenged seriously for the first time."

NEW YORK, June 19.

Joe Louis (143½) defeated Bill Conn (12.6) with a knock-out in the thirteenth round. It was a world heavyweight championship bout. There were 50,000 onlookers.

Conn was leading on points to the tenth round of an electrifying battle and the mighty negro was heading for defeat when the challenger stopped a smashing right hook to the chin early in the thirteenth, which floored him. Conn was trying to rise when the timekeeper completed the count.

The Germans admit the bombing of Dublin on May 31.

The Government Information Bureau states that Germany said that the strong prevailing winds may have driven a plane over the east coast of Ireland without the knowledge of the pilot and the possibility of such a plane dropping bombs was not excluded.

In the circumstances, Germany expressed regret and was prepared to compensate for loss of life and injury to personal property.

CAPE TOWN, June 19.

The Germans used a French submarine to sink the Robin Moor, according to the second-officer, Mr Taylor.

"I plainly saw the words 'La Touche' in raised letters on the conning tower," he said. "The letters were painted over in an attempt to hide them.

"There was also a cartoon, the head of a Guernsey cow, on the conning tower with the inscription 'La Vache Qui Rit.' The commander was certainly a German, although he spoke English."

LONDON, June 19.

"Behind the announcement of the pact lies the story of Franz von Papen's near failure to achieve success," says the "Daily Express" diplomatic correspondent.

"The Germans started the negotiations two months ago with demands sky-high, but Turkey forced Germany to whittle down the terms. "Turkey's steadfast friendship suggests that the outcome will be nothing although any agreement must be regarded as a diplomatic setback."

The "Daily Mail" says: "The news of the pact was received regretfully in London but Turkey's position is understood. She was unable to complete her rearmament, which originally depended on supplies from France. Britain tried to fill the gap after France's collapse but it proved impossible to do so."

TURKEY STILL CONTROLS THE DARDANELLES

Pact With Germany Implies No Disloyalty To Britain

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received June 19, 7.45 p.m.)
LONDON, June 19.

The German Ambassador (Franz von Papen) and the Turkish Prime Minister (Bey Saracoglu) to-day signed at Ankara a treaty of friendship which will remain in force for 10 years.

Turkey is stated to have given no transit to German troops through her territory nor to have ceded the use of her airfields, while Turkey's control of the Dardanelles remains unchanged.

Bey Saracoglu made a statement that the treaty placed Turkish-German friendship on a solid basis. The other actual and existing obligations of the two parties are unaffected and those obligations have not affected the conception of the treaty.

The Wilhelmstrasse spokesman declared that the treaty showed that Britain could not break Turkish-German friendship, which had withstood the test of fire. Turkey was convinced that Germany's interests did not conflict with Turkey's.

The spokesman added that Turkey could depend on Germany not forgetting her friends.

Four points.

Within the limits of the present commitments of both countries Turkey and Germany agree:

(1) To respect the integrity and inviolability of each other's territory and not resort to any measures, direct or indirect, aimed against the other.

(2) To settle questions touching upon common interests by friendly negotiation.

(3) To promote as far as possible Turkish-German economic relations "bearing in mind the opening presented by the economic structure of the two countries and using as a basis each country's experience of the other in the war," further, a treaty of economic collaboration will be negotiated.

(4) The Turkish and German Press and radio are to bear in mind the spirit of friendship and mutual trust animating their nations.

Succumbed To Pressure.

"The Times" diplomatic correspondent says: "Germany exerted great pressure on Turkey to sign the treaty after the German victories in the Near East had resulted in a semi-circle of Axis forces on her borders. Turkey kept Britain informed throughout the negotiations. She put up considerable resistance and Germany did not obtain all she

NEW INSTRUCTION

No Need To Buy From South America

LEASE-AND-LEND

(United Press Association—Copyright.)
(Received June 19, 11.5 p.m.)
WASHINGTON, June 19.

Britain henceforth will obtain oil from the United States under the Lease-and-Lend Act instead of buying from South America, according to an announcement by the "Oil Dictator" (Mr Harold Ickes).

Mr Ickes has arranged with the Navy Department and the Lease-and-Lend Administration to supply to Britain not less than 50 per cent of their total oil purchases.

"Your Own Morning Paper"

FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1941. PERILS IN THE HOME

Few persons would care to be shut up in a room with a wild beast, and yet many unwittingly take greater risks when they expose themselves to the dangers of defective electrical installations. Electricity under proper control has proved the greatest boon to mankind since mechanical inventions were employed to lighten human labour.

It is partly due to the fact that high pressure salesmanship has been directed to persuading people to use electricity in various ways, while leaving them to find out for themselves some of the things that should not be done when electricity is brought into the home.

Recent fatalities from the improper installation of equipment will be fresh in the public mind, and the chief electrical engineer of the Public Works Department has called attention to the fact that all of them might have been avoided if the regulations designed to ensure the safety of users of current had been observed.

There seems to be an urgent need for an educational campaign on the subject. Many persons have some slight knowledge of how equipment can be manipulated to give increased service at small cost, and youths in particular show a dangerous readiness to interfere with existing installations to provide additional lighting and heating.

A periodic inspection by officers of a supply authority would do much to check these practices and reveal defects in equipment due to wear or rough usage. But people require to be warned against the danger of twisted and broken cords, faulty connections, and perished insulation, and the importance of keeping stoves, heaters and other domestic appliances in good order must be stressed.

When fuses "blow" it is not sufficient to replace them; the cause should be ascertained by an electrician and remedied. The proximity of old-fashioned metal switches to water taps or other conductors is a source of danger where such things still exist, and probably there are many who are still ignorant of the shock they would get if they stood in a bath of water and attempted to operate one of the switches of a type which still does service in old houses.

As a beginning much good might be done if the Power Supply authorities issued to consumers some printed information warning them of the type of accident that can happen through ignorance and carelessness in the use of electricity in the home.

RETURNED WITH INTEREST

The very remarkable comment made by the aeronautical correspondent of the London "Daily Mail" on the weight of the present British air attacks on Germany and the German-occupied territories in Europe may reasonably be regarded as evidence in support of the theory that the Germans, even if they are not hopeful of ending the war, will attempt to force some sort of decisive action during 1941.

Until now the enemy has had things pretty much his own way in the air. The damage which Germany has suffered as a result of aerial bombardment is probably only a fraction of that wrought by the Luftwaffe in Great Britain. Nevertheless, the fact that the R.A.F. has been able to bomb the great northern ports, the Ruhr, and Berlin itself must have had a disquieting effect on German civilian morale, and now that the British attacks are comparable with the German onslaughts, it is clear that the prospect of British equality—and ultimately superiority—in the air will speed up whatever plans the German Government may have under way at the moment.

An interesting sequel to the destruction of the heart of industrial Germany will be the heavy burden that must inevitably be thrown on the eastern supply centres. If the west is vulnerable to British attack, the east will be equally vulnerable in the event of a Russo-German conflict.

Local & General

Troops to Parade
Men training at Trentham will march through the city on Saturday morning. The Governor-general (Sir Cyril Newall) is to take the salute.—Press Association.

Association's Gesture
All soldier members of the Automobile Association (Hawke's Bay) are to be made honorary members of the association for the duration of their military service, according to a decision of the executive committee. The concession will be applicable to men engaged in home defence as well as those overseas.

Drilling at Moree
A bulletin issued by the New Zealand Petroleum Company reports that at Moree bore operations were recommenced on June 16. The bore had been drilled to the bottom of the 9-5-in. casing to 506ft. The Midhurst well had reached a depth of 728ft., the progress during the past fortnight being 223ft.—Press Association.

Petrol Prices
As the result of representations made to the Government for a reduction in the price of petrol in Hawke's Bay now that overseas tankers are able to berth at Napier, the Minister of Supply (the Hon. D. G. Sullivan) has advised the Napier Chamber of Commerce that a thorough examination of the situation is being undertaken. The Minister anticipated that a finality would be reached in a few days.

Kerb Painted White
The agitation for the painting of kerbs with a view to avoiding accidents in the blizzard has apparently been taken to heart by the authorities as the kerb immediately in front of the Napier Council Chambers has been painted white. The work is experimental and its value will be considered by the works committee of the Council at a meeting on Monday night. If the move is considered a success it will probably be taken up at a Council meeting.

Charge Pending?
On the application of Senior-detective H. Nuttall, Joseph McCarthy, 48, a labourer of no fixed abode, who was described as a native of Eire, was remanded until Monday when he appeared before Mr F. S. Tarrant in the Napier Police Court. McCarthy was charged with the theft of £1 11/6 from Messrs Styles and Styles. "There is a possibility that the accused will be charged with another offence involving explosives," said Mr Nuttall.

Conserving Newspaper
Regulations designed to conserve the use of newspaper in New Zealand were issued with last night's Gazette. These regulations are a corollary to the new publication regulations provided that no new publication is permitted except with the consent of the Factory Controller, and they also make other stipulations regarding the use of newspaper.

Co-operation
An illustration of one of the wide benefits enjoyed by members of Chambers of Commerce is provided by the action of the Auckland Chamber of Commerce in informing the Napier chamber that among the unclaimed cargo which had been lying in Auckland for some time were the newspapers of the Chambers of Commerce which they belonged to Hawke's Bay Importers. At last night's meeting of the Napier Chamber of Commerce it was decided that the newspapers concerned had been traced and arrangements made to have the goods shipped. The president (Mr A. W. H. King) explained that cargoes often arrived in the Dominion long before the corresponding papers were available, so that the sheds became congested. Much had been done to overcome the difficulty but it was inevitable that inconvenience should arise.

Secretary's Death
Reference to the death of Mr J. M. Runciman was made by the president of the Hawke's Bay Centre of the Red Cross (Mrs S. Spence) in his report which was presented to the annual meeting of the Centre in Napier. "I wish to refer to the great loss which the Hawke's Bay Centre has suffered through the death of their honorary secretary, Mr Runciman," stated Mr Spence. "For about a decade Mr Runciman was secretary of the Napier Sub-centre, and for most of the time also acted as secretary of the Hawke's Bay Centre. He took the keenest possible interest in the advancement and promotion of Red Cross work throughout the province, and much of the success of the Hawke's Bay collection for the Sick, Wounded and Distress Fund was due to his organisation."

Patriotic Fund Disposal
An explanation of the extent of the authority vested in the joint council of the St. John Ambulance Association and the Red Cross Society for the disposal of the £590,000 Sick and Wounded fund raised last year has been given by the chairman of the Hawke's Bay Provincial Patriotic Council (Mr T. W. Hercok). He said that a conference convened by the National Patriotic Fund Board had agreed that the fund should be available only for the provision of comforts for civilians injured in enemy action, prisoners of war, sick and wounded members of the fighting forces until their discharge from hospital, or for any period which they are in hospital after their discharge. On no account would the Sick and Wounded Fund be liable for the account relief of either men or women or their dependants.

It is well worth a special trip to Napier to buy a really good ladies' watch from McClurg's, Napier. McClurg's are showing a truly remarkable range of dainty gold watches, each covered by a five years' guarantee of perfect time, and a dainty ornament in itself. Call at McClurg's to see this range of designs, watch faces, and all at pre-war prices. McClurg's, the oldest established jewellers in Hawke's Bay.

IMPORTING OF MACHINERY

SPECIAL ORDERS NEEDED

ESSENTIAL PLANT
Minister Gives Details Of Procedure

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19.

The Minister of Customs (the Hon. W. Nash) to-day drew attention to the procedure being instituted through the Secretary of Supply for the issue of certificates of essentiality in respect of plant and machinery for which orders might be placed by importers with manufacturers in Britain.

"This procedure is being adopted," said Mr Nash, "at the suggestion of the British Government, with a view to assisting the authorities in the United Kingdom in controlling production to the best advantage, this course having become increasingly necessary for the successful prosecution of the war effort."

"These certificates of essentiality will be made available by the New Zealand Ministry of Supply for issue with import licences, and it will be necessary for importers when logging their applications for import licences with collectors of Customs, to give the following details regarding the plant and machinery which it is desired to import:

Details Required.
(a) Description and nature of plant and machinery.
(b) The purpose for which it is required.
(c) Whether it is an extension or replacement of the existing plant.
(d) The name of the manufacturer/supplier.

"It is recognised," continued Mr Nash, "that when making application for an import licence, it is not possible to quote the order number, nor in some particular cases would it be possible to give the name of the prospective supplier, but as soon as this information is available, it should be sent immediately, together with the import licence number, directly to the Secretary of Supply, so that steps might be taken by him to acquaint the representative in the United Kingdom of the New Zealand Ministry of Supply with full details."

Similar information should be furnished to the Secretary of Supply regarding orders for plant and machinery which it is proposed to place in the United Kingdom under licences already granted."

FOOT TROUBLES NOT A BAR
Advice To Air Force Applicants

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19.

The Minister of Defence (the Hon. F. Jones) in a statement to-day, announced that the R.N.Z.A.F. is prepared to accept for enlistment as pilots, observers or gunners men who have minor afflictions of the feet—flat feet or similar complaints. This refers only to those men who are within the aircrew age and have the requisite educational qualifications.

Many men have offered their services to the army and have been rejected for various types of foot trouble and consider that they are unsuitable for any branch of the services. If these men are otherwise physically fit, they will be considered for selection for aircraft training.

Men under 31 are eligible as pilots while observers and airgunners must be under 33.

N.Z. FACILITIES FOR COOL-STORAGE OFFICIAL REVIEW

Good Progress During The War

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19. The cool-storage facilities available in the Dominion for the storage of primary products were outlined to-night by the Minister of Agriculture and Marketing (the Hon. J. G. Barclay).

Figures were given by the Minister showing the increase in the storage capacity for meat and dairy produce since the outbreak of war. He said the Government was reviewing the situation almost daily and was taking every action necessary to ensure that under any possible emergency condition the country's essential primary products would not waste or deteriorate because of a lack of cool-storage.

"Reasonably Good." "In spite of all the difficulties we are facing as a result of the war situation, the position with regard to cool-storing our primary products is reasonably good," said Mr Barclay.

"Our emergency cool-storage arrangements for extensions are now completed and at the start of next season's operations we will have available a storage capacity of 250,000 tons of meat.

"At the end of this season it is estimated that we will have in store not more than 110,000 tons of meat, and at the peak of next season's killing the total quantity of meat in store should not exceed 210,000 tons.

"Not Over-Optimistic" "I might mention that in assessing our maximum quantity in store next year at 210,000 tons we have by no means been over-optimistic in calculating the amount which will be shipped overseas during the coming season.

"From these figures the country can be assured that the meat storage position is well in hand, and no cause for anxiety can exist."

Reference was also made by Mr Barclay to the position in regard to dairy produce.

Extended Capacity. "We have made considerable extensions to our storage capacity since the outbreak of war," he said, "and now have available space for 50,000 tons of butter and 41,500 tons of cheese.

Further extensions are proceeding. We will start our next dairy produce season with a very satisfactory storage position, with practically no cheese whatever in store, and only from 18,000 to 20,000 tons of butter.

Increased Production. "Taking into account the fact that we have had a remarkable increase in the production of both butter and cheese this season, the position at the commencement of next year will, if anything, be more favourable than at the commencement of this season."

Lord Moyne, replying in the House of Lords to-day to a debate on the war position, referred to the co-operation of R.A.F. squadrons with the Army. Army co-operation squadrons, he said, had for a long time been working in intimate co-operation with ground troops, which involved the working-out of extremely difficult combined training.

The Germans, at the start of the war, were in possession of wireless cooperation of very great efficiency, and he was assured that our armoured formations were now building up the same kind of system of close co-operation and association with the particular aircraft whose function it would be to support them in battle.

STERN ELECTION FIGHT AHEAD IS LABOUR VIEW

Official Journal Says There Will Be No National Government

There will not be a coalition between the Labour and National Parties, according to a statement made editorially by the official Labour newspaper, the "Standard."

"Without further ado we must get on with the job of preparing for an election," the article says. It expresses the view that the coming election will be the hardest fought in the history of New Zealand.

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19. Five 30cwt. chassis have been landed at Wellington from overseas and are to be used to build mobile canteens for the New Zealand forces.

Plans for two have been subscribed by the staff of Woolworths (N.Z.) Ltd., and the others have been given respectively by members of the Masonic Order, by native children for use with the Royal Exhibition, and the New Zealand Shop Assistants' Federation, representing assistants throughout the Dominion.

"PLANES CO-OPERATE WITH TROOPS" New Efficiency CRETE LESSON NOT NEGLECTED Position Improving

British Official Wireless. (Received June 19, 6 p.m.) RUGBY, June 18. Lord Moyne, replying in the House of Lords to-day to a debate on the war position, referred to the co-operation of R.A.F. squadrons with the Army.

Already, in technical skill and ability, the R.A.F. was fully equal to this very important function, Lord Moyne added, and would not be found in any way inferior to the German example when these new arrangements were fully developed.

While the lesson of Crete had not been neglected, much more had been done than was obvious to the public, and the defence of aerodromes was not plain for all to see.

"Troops Being Retired" RETURN FROM CRETE Recovering From Strain Of Action

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19. The spirit and the present activities of the New Zealand troops are referred to in a recent telegram from the acting Prime Minister (the Hon. W. Nash) as received from Major General Freyberg:

"The men who have been evacuated from Crete are in camp having well-earned leave, and they are recovering quickly from the strain under which they were working," said General Freyberg.

"I wish the Government to know also that everything possible was done for the wounded and doctors and R.A.M.C. personnel remained in Crete to care for them. To the people of New Zealand who suffered loss in these campaigns the men of the N.Z.E.F. send their deepest sympathy.

N.Z. War Council Meets

REPORTS HEARD Discussions On Many Subjects DEFENCE AFFAIRS

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19. "A meeting of the War Council was held to-day," said the acting Prime Minister (the Hon. W. Nash) in a statement to-night, "to consider reports made by the Defence and Military Affairs Committee and the Primary and Industrial Production Committee of the War Council."

"The manpower position was discussed, and certain recommendations have been made for the consideration of the War Council."

"The council approved of a proposal to establish testing stations, two fixed and two mobile, at each of the four main centres, for the identification of lachrymator and poison gases. These stations will function as part of the Emergency Precautions Organisation."

"The shipping position in the Pacific and Tasman was also discussed by the council, and reference was made to the proposals of the Government in regard to the erection of storage for foodstuffs awaiting shipment overseas."

"The council was informed of the position in regard to Crete and the part played by the N.Z.E.F. in the valiant defence there," concluded Mr Nash.

"SLIGHT INCREASE IN NET REVENUE" Railway Figures EIGHT-WEEKLY PERIOD Minister's Statement

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19. Preliminary returns of railway revenue and expenditure for the second week-end period indicate an increase in net revenue of approximately £28,485 compared with the figures for the corresponding period of last year, said the acting Minister of Railways (the Hon. W. Nash) to-day.

"The approximate gross revenue from April 27 to May 24 amounted to £914,322 against £879,818 for the second period last year, an increase of £34,504," said the Minister, "and the expenditure (£750,997) this year was only £6019 in excess of last year's second-period disbursements."

"The net revenue for the second period of 1941 and 1940 respectively was £163,325 (tentative) and £34,940, an increase this year of £28,485. This satisfactory result presents a recovery of practically one-half of the decrease (£57,039) which marked the net revenue for the first four-weekly period of this year compared with that of the first period of 1940."

"The returns for the eight weeks from April 1 to May 24 disclose a gross revenue of approximately £1,743,664, compared with £1,781,481 received during the April-May periods of 1940, a decline of £37,817. Against this, however, there has been a reduction of £9263 in expenditure. The approximate net revenue for this year's first and second periods amounted to £298,876, which is £28,554 less than the net revenue for the relative eight weeks of 1940," concluded Mr Nash.

"New Detection Device" DEFENCE SYSTEM "Nothing To Add," Says Mr Nash

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19. "I have nothing to add to the report already published," said the acting Prime Minister (the Hon. W. Nash) when invited in an interview to-night to comment on the statement of Air Marshal Sir Philip King in regard to a secret device for the detection of planes.

Mr Nash mentioned that he had himself, with New Zealand scientific officers, during his last visit to Britain, inspected various equipment and stations along with Mr R. A. Watson-Watt. He mentioned that Mr Watson-Watt was formerly a member of the British Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, and was mentioned by Sir Philip as the man who had first applied the new science to the detection of aeroplanes.

New Zealand, said Mr Nash, was in the closest possible contact with these developments, both in regard to all the theoretical problems involved and to their practical application in the armed services.

NAZI DEFENCES PROBED

BRITISH STRATEGY AT CAPUZZO TANKS CLASH

Engagement Fought In Great Heat

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 19, 6 p.m.) LONDON, June 18. "In the Western Desert yesterday afternoon, the British forces repulsed several attacks," says to-day's communique from British General Headquarters at Cairo, "The enemy brought up fresh forces with which he attempted an encircling movement against our forward troops. As we had accomplished our object of forcing the enemy to disclose his strength and inflicting heavy casualties on him, we withdrew slowly to our forward positions. We brought back several hundred German prisoners and destroyed a large number of enemy tanks and guns."

A Major Battle The position, it is stated, can be regarded as reasonably satisfactory. The action fought around Capuzzo between British and German-Italian forces in some ways resembled a major battle. Tanks predominated in the clash which was the first in this region in which the Italians had been mentioned.

The battle raged in terrific heat in which it was hardly possible for infantry to carry out marches for any great distance. The greater part of the fighting was between tanks. A Rome communique claims that, after three days of violent fighting, the battle of Sollum has ended in complete success for the Axis forces.

"Regulations Are Amended" EMERGENCY MEASURES Wartime Question Of Apprenticeship CHANGES GAZETTED

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 19. Amendments to both the Occupational Re-establishment Emergency Regulations, 1940, and the Suspension of the Apprenticeship Emergency Regulations, 1939, provide that for the purposes of both sets of regulations "his Majesty's Forces" shall apply whether that force is raised in New Zealand or elsewhere.

It is also provided that "military service" shall mean continuous whole-time service not only in the forces, but also as a radio operator where such service is for the duration only and commences after the date of the Shipping Emergency Regulations, 1941, which require the carrying of additional radio operators on ships in the New Zealand Mercantile Marine.

In respect to apprentices undergoing Territorial training, special provisions set out in the regulations shall prevail.

"Suspension of Contracts." A regulation has been drafted to clarify the position in regard to the suspension of contracts of apprenticeship while apprentices are on military service, and to their revival on the return of apprentices to their civil employment.

A further redrafting of the regulations provides that every period of Territorial training shall count for the purposes of calculating increments in wages, but should be made up at the end of the apprenticeship term under such conditions as may be laid down by the Apprenticeship Committee.

"Military Service" Defined. The definition "military service" is also amended in the Occupational Re-establishment Emergency Regulations for the purpose of ensuring that the regulations apply where a worker is serving in any of his Majesty's Forces, whether raised in New Zealand or elsewhere.

"BRITAIN IN NEED OF TECHNICIANS" Volunteers Wanted INVITATION TO MEN OVERSEAS

British Official Wireless. (Received June 19, 7.45 p.m.) RUGBY, June 18. Answering a House of Commons question, the Air Minister (Sir Archibald Sinclair) said that skilled men overseas whose services are available, who possess the requisite qualifications and who are otherwise suitable are free to enlist in the technical branches of the fighting services but, in order to afford a wider opportunity for skilled technicians overseas to respond to the appeal, which was broadcast last night by Lord Beaverbrook, the British Government has decided to establish a civilian technical corps in which will be enrolled men who volunteer to come to this country for the purpose of the repair and maintenance establishments of the Navy, Army and Air Force in a non-combatant capacity.

"DOMINION AIRMAN'S WEDDING" United Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 19, 11.10 p.m.) LONDON, June 19. Squadron-leader P. A. Tipping, New Zealand, will marry Miss Elizabeth Walsh, Oxford, on July 1.

MEN OF TO-DAY REALISE IMPLICATIONS OF WAR

"New Generation Knows What It Is Going Into," Says Speaker

"The men of the Second N.Z.E.F. are similar to those of the first Expeditionary Force in many respects, but in others they are different," said Major W. A. G. Penlington, at a reunion of the Hastings R.S.A. last night. "The men of the new generation know what they are going into; the men of the old did not know."

Proposing the toast "The New Army," Major Penlington said that in the past 20 years there had been a great deal of anti-war propaganda put forward with the best of intentions. The new generation had absorbed it and was reactive to what war implied.

"More young men are coming forward for the Air Force than can be coped with," said Major Penlington. "In the past year 130 have received Air Force preliminary training at Hastings and many more are waiting. They know what it means and they are coming forward just the same. We are sorry many of the airmen overseas are missing, but we feel that whatever their job was, they did it well."

The Main Job "But we have got our job, and that job is not to handle a Bren gun or knit socks," said Major Penlington. "We have jobs suited to men of 40 and 45, jobs that must be done by men with experience and balance. It is our job to watch over this country and help the war effort so that we can hit the enemy hardest. Let us do all in our power to aid that ideal and let us fight anything that is against it."

Toward the end of the last war there was a movement to dissuade men from taking military service, a chance which arose when people became war-weary, said the speaker, and he had given a warning against a repetition in the present war. Major Penlington strongly criticised certain remarks made by the Hon. W. E. Barnard.

Referring to questions recently put forward by Mr Barnard concerning the use of New Zealand troops overseas, Major Penlington said that they had the effect of "putting the brake on the Dominion's war effort."

"Such views and questions tend to produce a feeling of self-satisfaction and complacency," said Major Penlington. "How can New Zealand troops be used on any secret movement if our Government is first consulted?"

Major Penlington's address was supported by members and he was thanked by the president (Mr P. J. Priest).

"R.S.A. REUNION AT HASTINGS" Attendance Of 300 Members

The attendance of nearly 300 at last night's quarterly reunion of the Hastings Returned Soldiers Association was one of the best since the branch was formed. Items were provided by the Hastings Male Choir, the Orphans' Orchestra and a number of individual artists.

Congratulations to the Hastings branch on its strength were extended by the Dominion vice-president (Mr B. J. Jacobs). A number of toasts were honoured.

The president of the branch (Mr P. J. Priest) was in the chair.

"Great Show Of Corriedales" SYDNEY EXHIBITORS Outstanding Quality In Southdowns FEW MERINOS

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 20, 0.45 a.m.) SYDNEY, June 19. The annual sheep show, which opened at Sydney to-day, was less attractive than usual due to wartime conditions. Only a few major Merino studs were represented but Corriedales, of which there were upwards of 100 exhibits, were better than ever, revealing particularly well grown carcasses and extra heavy fleeces.

"Alleged Lack Of Co-operation" RELEASING MEN Complaint By Appeal Board FARMERS' ATTITUDE

By Telegraph—Press Association. AUCKLAND, June 19. The opinion that the farming community was not giving the assistance it should to appeal boards in arranging for the release of men for military service was expressed at a sitting of the No. 1 Appeal Board by the chairman, Mr C. R. Orr Walker, S.M., during the hearing of a farm worker's appeal.

The chairman said that in the last war very assistance was given by farmers to release men. "The main objective now as far as I can see is that the farming community is bent on seeing that nobody is taken off the farms," he added.

A witness stated that the proportion of men taken from the farming industry was higher than from other sections of the community.

Generous Treatment Mr A. M. Samuel, a member of the board, disagreed, stating that a large number of appeals on behalf of farmers had been treated generously.

He said that a bitter attack had been made on a decision by the board in a published letter signed by Mr E. Robinson, secretary of the Auckland executive of the New Zealand Farmers' Union. It was unfortunate that the letter had followed closely on the dismissal of an appeal in which the applicant had been represented by a prominent member of the farming community.

"As an impartial and judicial body we occupy a responsible position," said Mr Samuel. "We will do our job according to our lights."

"LATE SPORTING" Seventh Derby Win TRAINER'S RECORD Fred Darling's List Of Successes 1941 VICTORY

The success of Owen Tudor in the Derby which was won at Newmarket on Wednesday gave his trainer, Fred Darling (known as "the Derby specialist") his seventh win in the classic since the last year. His first win was in 1922.

Hyperion, sire of Owen Tudor, himself won the Derby in 1933, but Mary Tudor, dam of Owen Tudor, raced only once, as a three-year-old, when she ran unplaced in the Cambridgehire Stakes at Newmarket. Darling also trained the runner-up in this year's Derby, Morogoro.

BEAULIVRE IN FINE FORM Will Run At Rosehill To-morrow

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 20, 0.4 a.m.) SYDNEY, June 19. The New Zealander Beaulivre, who will make his reappearance in public in the Dundas Handicap at Rosehill on Saturday, where he will carry the top weight, 9.13, has been doing remarkably well on the tracks since his return from a long spell. He is now quite ready for his forthcoming Doomben mission. Gold Salute is also going to Doomben.

Church's Work In The Field

STONE FOR ALTAR Bishop Of Waiapu In Greece

ARDUOUS WORK

"Secret operations in Greece meant moves and changes at short notice," said the Bishop of Waiapu (the Rt. Rev. G. V. Garard) senior chaplain with the New Zealand Forces overseas in a report to the Church of England Military Affairs Committee received in Napier last night.

"The evacuation meant some losses of material," wrote the Bishop. "Spiritual and social work has had to follow methods adopted in the past, while the conditions of modern war which seldom worked out in accordance with expectation. When devoid of all but a rucsaec I spent several happy and, I hope, profitable days in a truck with a small but homely group of soldiers, travelling by night and usually taking cover by day."

Services in Field. "Many Divine Services were held with small groups where larger numbers could not be assembled. Holy Communion was celebrated in many places for these small numbers, especially at the Easter season, when troops were often busily engaged and services were sanctified in between operations."

"On one occasion my altar cloth was just placed on a stone amongst the scrub while a whole gun crew gathered round amidst their camouflage nets and equipment. It was very important to them and others dependent on them for the concealment of their post.

Archbishop's Greeting. "In Greece I called upon a Greek Archbishop who stated that by virtue of my office no further introduction would be needed in asking leave to use parish churches.

"During the campaign all beneficiaries by the rucsaec, primus stoves and other equipment purchased by the Patriotic Funds in Egypt. In the field it is not uncommon for a chaplain to see a man hit, apply dressings, help carry stretchers, assist in digging graves and conduct immediate burials before a column has to move off rapidly to a spot miles away.

The Lowly Hut. "Mrs A. F. P. Chapman has asked my advice and that of the senior Presbyterian padre about an altar and sanctuary for incorporation in the Lowly Hut, and I think we shall have something very appropriate. This will be the first building of a different locality from our own hut."

"Hive Of Industry Again" DOCKYARD CENTRE Recommissioning Work At Walsh Island AUSTRALIAN EFFORT

Deserted and desolate for eight years, Walsh Island dockyard and shipbuilding centre, near Newcastle, New South Wales, will soon be transformed again into a throbbing hive of industry. The New South Wales Labour Premier, Mr McKell, has already taken steps to place the shipyards in commission again.

The Minister for Works, Mr Cahill, will visit the dockyard and will report to the Cabinet the following week. "We mean to get on with the job at Walsh Island, in accordance with our election promise that shipbuilding will be resumed," said Mr McKell.

Industry at Newcastle claim that the laying of keels could begin three months after work was started on the island. If that is so, and if Mr McKell can prove their words, then an astounding position would be reached. "We mean to get on with the job at Walsh Island, in accordance with our election promise that shipbuilding will be resumed," said Mr McKell.

Self-Contained Plant In the last war, when between 2000 and 3000 men were employed, Walsh Island had self-contained plant, but most of the material had to be obtained from Great Britain. Now, however, plates are being rolled by the Broken Hill Pty., steam and water-piping, small gauge steel and forgings are being turned out by Australian firms. There are two problems for the Government—to replace machinery and to engage the necessary technical staff. It is understood that the necessary machinery can now be made in Australia, and the fact that a company had considered purchasing the necessary technical staff from the labour was obtainable.

The secretary of the Metal Trades Group of Unions in Newcastle, Mr A. R. Buckley, stated that the slip-docking machinery at Walsh Island, and when cantilever cranes are installed the building of hulls could proceed. The work could be carried on while the yard was being built up to its former state of efficiency.

An Unhappy Task Performed

CASUALTY TELEGRAMS

Tactful Delivery Officials SERVICE APPRECIATED

One of the unenviable tasks that fall to the lot of postal officials is the delivery of war casualty telegrams to relatives. The task has been performed with great sympathy and understanding by officers in recent weeks and relatives interviewed were unanimous that the greatest consideration had been shown.

Departmental instructions have been given that the more serious casualty telegrams, such as those announcing deaths of men missing, must be delivered by an adult. Telegrams announcing wounds are usually delivered in the normal way, although at some Hawke's Bay offices senior employees have been delivering them also.

However, officers have been going beyond the mere letter of departmental instructions. "Although word came through at 10 o'clock on a Saturday night, the postmaster himself brought the telegram," it was stated in one case. "He took my husband aside and broke the news to him before giving him the telegram. I can assure you that the way it was done was greatly appreciated."

Breaking the News Cases were quoted where officers had found women alone in the house, and without revealing their identity had found where the man of the house worked and had delivered the telegram to him personally. The father of one soldier was not in his office when a postal officer arrived. Instead of leaving the telegram with a member of the staff he called back until the recipient returned.

Another instance was given where an officer learnt that the wife of a soldier was in delicate health. He went next door, inquired for relatives, found the woman's mother and took her with him to deliver the telegram.

That the courtesy shown by men who have no special interest in the advice is appreciated is shown by the number of people who have later called at post offices to express their thanks. The way the matter has been approached has earned the gratitude of many parents.

OVER 1000 NEW WILLS PREPARED

Public Trust Report For May

Estates of a value of £536,552 were reported and accepted for administration by the Public Trustee during the month of May, 1941. The total value of the estates and funds under administration by the Public Trustee on March 31, 1941, was £93,336,092, and the new business for the two months ended May was £938,677.

Grants of administration made by the Court in favour of the Public Trustee numbered 189 for the month. During the month 1022 new wills appointing the Public Trustee executor were prepared on behalf of testators and lodged for safe custody, and 403 existing wills were revised to provide for changes desired by testators. The total number of wills now held in the Public Trust Office on behalf of living persons is 106,285.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE IN WARTIME

Annual Review of Work At Boston

BOSTON, June 2. Some 6000 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world gathered in annual meeting to-day and were called upon by the Christian Science Board of Directors to consecrate themselves to the defence of the democratic way of government as the best human instrument for preserving the basic rights of mankind to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

The directors announced the election of John Randall Dunn, Boston, as president of the Mother Church for the ensuing year. Mr Dunn has served this movement many years in various positions including that of Christian Science lecturer, when he carried the message of Christian Science into all parts of the world. He visited New Zealand in 1926 lecturing in the principal centres.

Despite the troublous times in Europe, reports presented to the meeting conveyed the interesting fact that church services are being conducted generally including that of German-occupied territories. Evidence of spiritual growth was found in the establishment of 37 new branches of the Mother Church; seven of them in England, one each in Switzerland, Africa, Guiana and the West Indies.

The report of the trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy announced that since the Trust was established in 1913 more than £1,200,000 has been expended by it towards Christian Science church activities throughout the world. Reporting on war relief work, the Clerk of the Mother Church said that the Boston War Relief Committee began its work in September, 1940. To-day more than 1000 Committees serving as a recognised activity of the branch churches are shipping war relief material to official depots.

ELECTRIC POWER SUPPLY REDUCED BY 10 PER CENT.

Hot-Water Systems May Be Affected In Napier And Hastings

A 10 per cent. reduction in load was effected by the Hawke's Bay Electric Power Board on Wednesday afternoon as a result of an urgent request by the Public Works Department.

In Napier, Hastings and the Hawke's Bay County hot-water systems were out of operation from 2.30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Both the local freezing works curtailed their load by putting freezing plants out of action for five hours.

Heavy falls of snow in the eastern and southern parts of the North Island greatly reduced the flow of water available for generating power and an immediate reduction in load was made necessary. The immediate use of economies in the Hawke's Bay Board's area resulted in a slightly more than 10 per cent reduction.

As much inconvenience as possible to consumers was avoided by switching out hot-water circuits in rotation, so that each was out not more than two hours.

Stand-by Plants Working The normal load of the Hawke's Bay Board is in the vicinity of 9000 kilowatts, and this was reduced by 900 kilowatts. Stand-by generating plants at Napier and Hastings have been in operation for the past two days, contributing 1300 kilowatts maximum.

The probability of further similar reductions in power consumption being made this winter was spoken of by the secretary-manager of the Hawke's Bay Board (Mr H. H. Wylie) yesterday. There was every likelihood of a power shortage, and this could be avoided by people exercising reasonable economy, he said.

Street Lighting Minor Item It has been suggested that a reduction in the power supplied to street lights or, alternatively, their complete disconnection, would save a good deal of power and remove the shortage. Figures show that lighting was only a minor item in the 46,605,953 units bought by the Hawke's Bay Board for the year ended on March 31.

Water heating—domestic, commercial and for dairy purposes—accounts for nearly half of the board's total retail load, and it is for this reason that when reductions must be made this item will receive first consideration. The load of the Hawke's Bay Board may be classified under the following divisions, approximate figures being quoted:—

Table with 2 columns: Domestic, Commercial. Rows include Water heating, Electric motors, Dairy water-heating, Street lighting, Freezing works.

Controller's Appeal An urgent appeal to residents in the southern portion of the North Island to conserve electricity as much as possible while the cold weather lasted was made by the Electricity Controller (Mr F. M. Kessel) who said that as a result of war conditions preventing delivery of material, all the generating stations were heavily overloaded. Because of the extremely cold weather in the southern part of the island, the stations were being called on to bear an even heavier burden than usual and considerable difficulty was being experienced in maintaining the supply.

An appeal was therefore made to all persons to save as much electricity as possible. The alternative was rationing. Unless economies in the use of electricity were effected there was grave danger of certain sections of the country having to be cut off in turn.

When the southerly abated, the abnormal load would cease, but there would still be need for economy in the use of electricity throughout the North Island, as a war measure.

DECISION WAS NOT UNEXPECTED

FERTILISER TO BE RATIONED WAR SHORTAGE

Efforts To Produce Substitute Farmers in Hawke's Bay have for some time been aware that drastic rationing of supplies of fertiliser would come into force sooner or later, due to the effect of the war in interrupting supplies of phosphate rock from overseas. The Government's decision to ration as from July 1 chemical fertilisers containing phosphate has therefore not come as a surprise.

To judge by discussions at recent Farmers' Union meetings throughout the province the main anxiety has been that the system of rationing should be equitable for all producers, having regard to the type of country farmed. There has also been a demand for a clear statement as to what can be expected, so that plans for future operations can be made.

At the recent annual meeting of the Hawke's Bay provincial executive of the Farmers' Union in Hastings, the Dominion secretary (Mr A. P. O'Shea) referred to the need for increasing the production of superphosphate from serpentine which is produced in the Dominion, and which has the added advantage that it does not damage the bags in which it is transported.

Prompt Action That the Government and the fertiliser companies are alive to the position is shown by the fact that the Auckland district one of the national plants for this purpose is being installed at three works.

At the Otahuhu works of the Challenge Phosphate Company Ltd. preparations are well advanced and work is proceeding day and night on the installation of additional plant at a cost of £10,000. It is expected to have it operating in a few weeks.

An official of the New Zealand Fertiliser Company recently stated that his firm was practically in a position to go ahead with manufacturing on the new process at Te Papapa works. Plans for installing extra plant at the Westfield works of Kemphorne Prosser and Company's New Zealand Drug Company Ltd. are also in hand.

Still Experimental A technician in the industry stated that the manufacture of serpentine superphosphate was somewhat in an experimental stage. There are millions of tons of serpentine rock in New Zealand. It had been stated that it contained magnesia and silica, and the addition of one part to three parts of superphosphate made in which the acid content was preserved and thus made three parts of superphosphate produce the same result as four.

In this way the supplies of phosphate rock from overseas would be eked out and, it was hoped, give a larger acreage spread with the same efficacious results to pasture lands.

The increasing use of fertilisers for increasing of grass lands over recent years is revealed in the 1940 Year Book, which shows that in 1938-39 over 4,000,000 acres were so treated, compared with about 2,650,000 acres in 1929-30. In 1937-38 the production of superphosphates from the eight works in the Dominion amounted to 402,076 tons.

Wool Production Maintained

ONLY SMALL DECLINE Effect Of Drought In New South Wales MILLS VERY BUSY

The most surprising feature of this season is the maintenance of wool production in New South Wales. The arrivals of wool at the Sydney and Newcastle quays during the year ended approximately 1,286,000 bales, or only about 1 per cent less than the year states a report from Winchcombe, Carson Ltd.

The average weight of a bale is about 91b, less than 12 months previously because of the lighter content of the wool. That reduction is the equivalent weight of about 38,000 bales, but many prospects estimate a decrease of 10 per cent, to 15 per cent, in the clip. It is safe to guess that the wool when the rabbit pest was more plentiful, properties were not so well subdivided, water supplies not as well improved and fodder reserves less generally built up, more stock would have been brought and the reduction in the clip much greater.

Queensland has not shown the increase in her year's clip which was anticipated in the southern part of the State during the latter part of 1940 and extreme drouth conditions in other districts are responsible. Queensland sheep numbers are on record for the total 1940, being 24,190,931, and it is now higher.

THE WAIKATO DIVERTED

Erosion Question Erosion from the new course into which the Waikato River has been diverted at the outlet from Lake Taupo is not expected seriously to affect the spawning trout or the feeding grounds, stated the conservator of fish and game (Mr A. Kean). The possibility of this had been discussed by officers of the Inland Works Department, and it appeared that every effort was being made to reduce erosion to a minimum.

Mr Kean considered that had the river been opened from the end nearest the lake, and the full force of the river diverted through before it was filled with water, the erosion would have been great. He stressed, however, that river discolouration did not have the adverse effects on fish life generally supposed. The chief damage would have been to the feeding grounds between the dam and the outlet rapids, which provide one of the best dry-fly grounds in the district. Any discolouration would not affect the spawning, which had started during the winter.

It had not been necessary to build a fish ladder, as the flow of water would never be completely interrupted, said Mr Kean. He added that the rise in the level of Lake Taupo during the summer was likely to have important and unpredictable results on the fishing close to the shore.

WAIPUKURAU SOLDIERS MISSING

Daily Mail Special Service. WAIPUKURAU. Among the list of soldiers reported missing in yesterday's list are three from Waipukurau, Corporal D. R. Geenty, Private S. A. Bond and Private N. S. MacDonald.

Corporal Geenty and Private Bond were among the first New Zealand troops to go overseas, while Private MacDonald left soon after. The latter was on the staff of the Waipukurau branch of the Hawke's Bay Farmers' Association Ltd., and Private Bond was formerly on the literary staff of the "Waipukurau Press."

Manawatu Racing Club's Winter Meeting

INTERESTING FIELDS

Good Sport Should Be Seen In All Events

By THE BARB.

The Manawatu Racing Club will hold its winter race meeting on the Awapuni racecourse to-morrow and Monday. This meeting affords trainers and owners the opportunity of bringing their horses up to the peak for the more important Trentham meeting early in July.

It is only in the last few years that the Manawatu club has held a steeplechase meeting and it is becoming a popular fixture. Winter meetings are not too many, so owners of jumpers appreciate the extra gathering as the jumping season is of short duration.

Hawke's Bay stables will be fairly well represented at this meeting and if Dozie Boy makes the trip there will be a horse in each race from this quarter.

The main attraction the first day will be the Manawatu Steeplechase, in which ten have accepted. Birkology heads the list with 10.13, a weight he is well able to carry. He left here for fit gelding and his connections feel confident that he will run a capital race.

Riotous, when he fell in the Wanganui Steeplechase, was a beaten horse and suffered injuries that prevented his taking part in the Hawke's Bay Steeplechase, so there is a doubt if the old fellow is back to his best form. Cherry Plum also left for a fit horse should the going be heavy his chances will not be greatly fancied.

There is little likelihood of Dozie Boy taking part in this cross country event as he is still feeling the effects of his Auckland spills.

Lady Callaghan is a splendid fencer and is also at home on a holding track which might be met with to-morrow. She won the Wanganui Steeplechase well so with 10.2 she must be one of the favourite division. Ruling Star has been in the money four times of the half dozen times raced over country. He is a plodder but safe. Game Pit won so easily last month that this Pahiatau-owned gelding must be labeled dangerous with 12.12 above the minimum.

Erigrade has never been sound and has not raced for some time so it is assumed that he will lack condition. Manteau was third at the Wanganui meeting and good judges consider that he will furnish up to a first grade "chaser" Master Hector is nothing out of the ordinary but is a safe jumper.

WINTER CUP

The chief flat race to-morrow at Awapuni is the Manawatu Winter Cup, over a mile and a quarter. Du Maurier heads this list and is reported to be in excellent trim. Also he is at home on a holding track.

That The Monarch is a good sort is not denied but he will have to be fit to say to finish in front of Du Maurier. Gladysne has hardly run a good race since coming back to New Zealand. The Musketeer gelding may win but his form does not suggest it.

Aurora's Star won the big race the second day at the last Egmont meeting. She is a consideration without being a recommendation. Trevelyan showed a glimpse of his right form when winning at Otaki the second day but has not fulfilled expectations.

Gaelic Song has not shown the right form since resuming racing a couple of months back but should now be in better order as well as being going most suitable to her. Filbert is only an average hack at best while the Hastings trained mare, Laming, has been in the money in the past. Song, on form, cannot be recommended with any confidence although her work has been good.

THE BIG HURDLES

The favourite in the big hurdles should be Foxlana. He has already proved himself and will not be at liberal odds but there is many a slip between the cup and the lip.

Mataroa won a double at the last Egmont meeting, but when taken north was hardly equal to the best grade. Great Quex with 10.2 must be one of the hard ones to beat on his Hawke's Bay Hurdles win. Tidewater fell at the first fence in the Great Northern when a popular fancy. He is reported to have suffered no ill effects and to-morrow should run a prominent race. Travall is a promising hurdler and with 10.0 will be expected to make a bold showing. The bohm will need to improve on Hawke's Bay form.

Student Prince was a fair hurdler but lack of racing condition is not in his favour. Segra did not perform so wonderfully at the Wanganui meeting but cannot be ruled out. Majority was a bad last at Hastings so he is another that needs to improve, but his private reputation is high. Hot Shot won in a moderate field at Auckland, but he won, and a horse can do no more than that. Seikirk is no more than a likely lightweight.

THE HACK HURDLES

Sixteen have paid up in the Hack Hurdle event but this number contains few hurdle winners. Pope is a fair sort when right and is at present well commented upon as regards condition. Gay Mimic is the right type but his private schooling has been nothing to entuse over. Malacca, on his unlucky second at Hastings, appears the pick. Olympus was not an honest runner on the flat but "rogues" often do better when put to hurdling. Ruatiti has not come up to expectations since raced over fences. Young Charles jumps well and, being good in winter conditions, is the type to prove a useful hurdler. Cuisinier is without racing condition, while Regicide and Colibri have both shown form to warrant their being considered. Son and Heir might surprise while Cartoonist is said to be a fast jumper. Jungle King, however, reads the best of the nine-stoners.

28 IN MAIDEN

There will be a big field in the Rangitane Maiden at 28 having made the final payment. They are not a strong lot on paper while quite a few who possess little chance may hamper others in this big field. Rings, Salvation, Blue Lagoon and St. Felicien are about the best commented on from their respective training quarters.

SIX-FURLONG HACK

The six furlong sprint is open. Scipito won her last race and on the Awapuni course but 9.7 is bound to extend this mediocre mare. Hasten has improved considerably and although he is also engaged in the hack seven later in the day, he has in keen demand what ever race he contests. Miss Leigh ran poorly at Hastings and is passed over. Sweed Anne won at the Wanganui meeting and being in the right order, must be expected to beat.

Dainty Dell's victory at Hastings was decisive but she has gone up in the handicap and will meet a better field. Ramleh is said to be galloping well while Ringling has raced only moderately the whole of the season. Squaw won the first day at Wanganui. Queen Cardine is average with Omaha little better, though she is said to be in great order. Lucky is a smart galloper and although she is only won one race she must be one of the hardest. A glance down the list does not show anything that might beat the heavier weighted division.

OPEN SPRINT

The open sprint race, over seven furlongs, has attracted a first class field with Noble Fox on top with 9.12. He, like all Foxbridges, is not big but he has developed into stout little fellow. However, with 9.12 on his back he will have to run the best of his career. Augment won the last Thompson Handicap and his form since has been pretty tough but to-morrow he will have a track that he will appreciate.

Royal Star has been started a good time of late without result. Last winter he won three or four on end in good company and, with going now to his liking he may return to the winning list.

Gayest Son on his track work here is not fancied by another from the stable, Diana Tatrix, should not be far away at the finish. Winsome Lu likes the going soft but may not be back to her best.

Night Eruption since winning at Wellington last January has not raced since he was beaten by the first stone. He is a good runner but he has won a couple of races. She is reported to be galloping in her best form.

There is little likelihood of a fit horse and will have solid backing from Hawke's Bay but had the distance been six, instead of the seven, more confidence would have been behind him. Screen Star has very little form to warrant monetary support but he has been in the money in the season. Trig Station has won one open race, six months back. Lutunist has been in the money in the past. Surprise, Star Zone and Colincamps (good in heavy going) read best of the lightweights.

MANGAWHATA HACK

Hasten heads the weight list in the seven furlong event and if he started will have a solid backing. Cananah is an honest galloper without special ability, but fitness is on his side. Etruscan failed at Auckland but he has no Black Majesty's and Last December he won the first stone. Last December he won the first stone, while Kinkajou is given a rough chance. Val Pere won the eight stone last or, again, might win. Moderate won the second day at Wanganui but the class was poor. He is engaged again and it may be in this race that she will start. Stella Lux is one to improve and may pay to follow from now on. The first stone division, Arachne, Colerica and Little Margot are the best of a poor lot.

NO MAIDEN

There was to have been a maiden race at the Hawke's Bay Hunt Point-to-Point Steeplechase at Hastings on Wednesday but it has been decided to delete it and substitute a hack race. The reason is that if a horse won it, three guinea trophy race it would cause it to break its maiden status but so prevent it from contesting a future maiden race.

The half sister, Tiderace, to Gold Red who raced and disappointed this season as Oregon will in the future carry Mr. T. H. Lowry's colours, but those of her son, Tom, of cricket fame. This rising four-year-old mare galloped impressively on the Hastings tracks but for some reason failed to run up to it. She is not promising but with a little age she may prove good enough to pay her way.

With George Green's team that left here for Palmerston North was Dusky Bay, the winner of the yearling race at Hastings last week-end. She is going down to Gairloch on her owner's farm for a couple of months and will return to Greene's charge to the early spring.

A GOOD LOOKER

Mr. Arthur Mable had a fine looking yearling on the Hastings tracks yesterday morning, a brown by Bulandshar from Tea Tattle, this being a brother to the 1940 yearling that topped the price list at 2000 guineas. He races under the name of Mable and in a few weeks has raced disappointingly. A few months ago he was a letter from a well known Australian horseman who described Murrum as not worth two bob.

FORMING CHASER

Recollection has been schooling so well at Riccarton that he has been described as one of the most promising young steeplechasers seen down here for some time. He makes his first appearance over country at the Ashburton meeting to-morrow and, judging on the terms comment, will start favourite.

HASTINGS TRAINING NOTES

Awapuni Finals

SOHO TRIED OVER THE COUNTRY

(By THE BARB)

Hastings-trained horses with engagements at Awapuni on Saturday and Monday were given their final gallops yesterday morning, when conditions were ideal. All the fast work with one exception was done on the plough, while the course proper was thrown open for schooling over the country, but Cherry Plum alone took advantage of this.

Achilles Song (S. Paramore) and Stolen Coat (N. Howard) were sent an easy three furlongs, registering a shade better than 40, with the latter going the better.

Tashi Lama (W. L. Aitken) and Lambourn (B. Stowe) were not hurrying themselves when recording 1.21 over three-quarters of a mile.

Cheddington (J. Forsyth) and Cyprine (A. Weaver), working in company, ran the last three furlongs of their work in 40sec. Cheddington is doing wonderfully well and since coming here to be trained has put on flesh.

Gayest Son (B. H. Morris) and Diana Tatrix (N. Howard) were associated in a six-furlong gallop in 1.18, with Diana Tatrix doing the better passing the post. This Wairoa-owned mare will be ridden by N. Howard at Manawatu on Saturday and Monday.

Bonnie Scot (W. L. Aitken) and Theatre (L. Cullen), working in company were not galloped, being content to run a half mile in even time. Theatre has now settled down. Laughing Song (S. Paramore) was sent three-quarters of a mile in 1.34, equalling the main set by Diana Tatrix and Gayest Son earlier in the morning.

Battle Cain (H. Callahan) was worked alone and made an easy task of running half a mile in 50sec—the best for a short sprint.

Sunny Knight (B. H. Morris) and his younger half-brother, Silver Ball (J. Rae) ran an easy half mile in 54sec. Silver Ball probably will resume racing at the Hawke's Bay Hunt meeting at Hastings on July 5.

Kinkajou (H. Lunn) was sent seven furlongs alone, which she left behind in 1.35, the last three-quarters of a mile taking 1.22. This mare pulled up at the finish. Trainer J. Ryan has her in excellent fettle.

Dainty Dell (H. Callahan), when running five furlongs in 66, was never off the bit. She will be ridden by Callahan in her Awapuni engagements.

Soho (Mr G. G. Beatson) was given a school over the inside steeplechase fences. He was sent over ten fences and, although at one or two he jumped a little big, he gave a pleasing display. He has been nominated for the Danvers Hunt Cup Steeplechase, which already has been annexed by Mr G. D. Beatson.

Master Solway (S. Pell) was given a pop over a few of the schooling hurdles, but his exhibition was only so-so. He will take some making. It is a strange thing that made jumpers are better than the natural fencer. There was an example of this here a few years ago when Mrs Macdonald, then Miss Maher, was training the big All Red gelding Red Fuchsia, who refused to jump a hurdle and at the finish Alen Macdonald gave him up as a bad job. Later he was schooled by an amateur rider, Mr Matson, who persevered with Mr Vallance's gelding and at the finish him over a fence, and gradually instilling confidence into the gelding, he became a moderate fencer and finally was one of the most brilliant in the Dominion, proving it by breaking the then two-mile hurdle record of New Zealand and Australia.

Cherry Plum (Mr G. G. Beatson) was schooled over six of the steeplechase fences to give a good display. He pulled up well.

Charing Cross (F. Dunn) was in from Mangateretere and given a school over a few hurdles. She had no pace on but negotiated the obstacles in a safe manner. There is not much of this mare and will hardly be up to weight over a distance and hurdles.

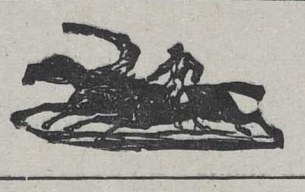

Birkology left for Awapuni on Wednesday afternoon.
