LUFTWAFFE PREPARING

May Be Directed At Ireland Or Scotland

(United Press Association—Copyright.) (Received June 21, 2.5 a.m.) NEW YORK, June 19.

Large concentrations of German troops in Denmark and Norway combined with reports that the bulk of the Luftwaffe has withdrawn far inland for mass training in new tactics are looked upon in Washington as a certain indication that the long-awaited invasion of England is not far

The massing of Nazi troops on the Russian border is regarded more as a political than a military move.

Washington is gloomily predicting that Russia will sign a treaty giving the Nazis enormous economic concessions.

The Washington correspondent of the "New York Post" confidently believes that the next blitz will be directed against Ireland or Scotland. His information is based on private information reaching Washington in the past 24 hours.

With all sources of information on the subject distorted by censorship, the Russian-German crisis is befogged. Travel-lers arriving in Finland say that the railway from Moscow to Leningrad is blocked by troops and munitions.

"The Times" diplomatic correspondent says that there are two German divisions in Finland and probably the major part of a third, but there is a lack of heavy artillery and heavy bombers. The Germans are promising the Finns and Rumanians the return of the territory lost to Russia. The main German striking force is the arc formed by the East Prussian, Polish and Rumanian frontiers. The correspondent draws attention to the fact that the Germans have carefully excluded all anti-Soviet whispers from jubilation about the Turkish-German treaty.

Finland is reported to be mobilised for war. The Government has followed up the calling up of reserves with sharp restrictions on civilian railway traffic to facilitate the military preparations. The Helsingfors paper "Anomat" says: "Causes beyond Finland's control may give events a turn jeopardising our peace and liberty to the extent that we may be forced to defend them with everything in our power. Finland will not attach herself to any league of Powers for dishonourable action."

The "Unsisoumi" says: "A Russian-German clash must concern us. It would concern our eastern neightights with the series of the control of the contr

It would concern our eastern neigh bour, with whom we have a long, common frontier and with whom our relations have become closer and stronger."

Wavell Arrives To Speed Up Operations

(United Press Association-Copyright.) (Received June 20, 10.45 p.m.) LONDON, June 19.

Following General Dentz's rejection of the British ultimatum, Allied troops, heavily supported by bombers, are smashing their way into Damascus.

An official report from Beirut states that Indian and Free French forces to-day advanced six miles and entered the suburbs of the capital. Unconfirmed reports state that General Wavell has arrived in Syria to conduct an intensified offensive and Imperial reinforcements are arriving.

French counter-attacks previously reported as menacing British communications at several places petered out because of lack of troops to 'replace the tired units which had been battling for 12 days.

How the air-gunners made their escape has not been told. Both had on their "Mae Wests," R.A.F. life-saving jackets, but one could not swim.

"Jump in, and I'll tow you to shore," the swimmer told his colleague. The non-swimmer jumped in and lay face down on the surface of the water. His companion raced to his rescue, turned him on his back and dragged him ashore.

Asked why he hadn't lifted his head above water, he replied: "Well, I thought I was on the bottom and I was waiting to come up."

SYDNEY, June 20.

An explosion that was heard a mile away demolished the paint factory of Metters Ltd., in Alexandria suburb, to-day. One employee, Ernest Edwards, aged 58, was killed when hurled into a large paint container. Ten others were injured, two of them critically.

It is believed that the explosion originated in a muffler leading to a drying oven, from which flames were observed. followed by a terrific blast.

Two walls and the roof of the paint shop were blown out and the oven was wrecked. Debris was spread over a radius of 100 yards. Several employees were drenched with paint and are suffering from severe shock.

Lower Dividend Announced

BANK OF N.Z. Heavier Taxation: Budget

PROFITS DECLINE

For The Future

By Telegraph—Press Association. WELLINGTON, June 20. WELLINGTON, June 20.

In moving the adoption of the report and balance-sheet of the Bank of New Zealand at the annual meeting of shareholders (Mr T. A. Donnelly), the chairman, announced that it was proposed to pay a further dividend of 3 per cent., making 8 per cent. for the year.

In explaining the reduction from the former 10 per cent. dividend, he said: "You may recall that at the last annual meeting I made reference to the decline in the bank's trading profits, explaining that they were insufficient to meet outgoings and pay a dividend of 10 per cent. to shareholders, but that a substantial sum set aside for British income tax had been released and taken back into profits, enabling the 10 per cent. dividend to be paid.

"The result of this year's workings, under similar restrictive trading conditions but with even heavier taxation and uncertain outlook for the future. has made it necessary ing conditions but with even heavier taxation and uncertain outlook for the future, has made it necessary for the board, much to its regret to reduce the final dividend from 5 to 3 per cent."

The bonus of 7½ per cent. to the staff was being maintained, said Mr Donnelly, who pointed out that the higher cost of living had been recognised by the Arbitration Court, which had granted a general 5 per cent. increase to award workers. The bank staff did not participate. "I may say," he continued, "that the bank's reduced earning power and uncertain conditions made it necessary to limit the annual salary increments to the staff, to officers on the scale and those who received promotion during the year."

London Debentures

London Debentures The chairman stated that in view of the present uncertainties caused wholly by the vital struggle in which the Empire was engaged, he would confine his observations to the balance sheet items and not deal generally with economic matters. Long-term mortgage debentures stock of £500,000 which fell due in stock of £500,000 which fell due in London in November last had been repaid with the exception of £1700 twhich had not been presented.

Deposits, free and fixed, showed a net increase of £3,168,581, and as fixed deposits had shown a further decline during the year, the increase in free deposits was therefore greater than the net increase shown. It was natural that free deposits should increase considerably during a period of restricted imports and heavy war and civil expenditure.

Increased Deserve

The board considered it advisable, in view of the increasing taxation in New Zealand and elsewhere, to add £150,000 to the reserve for taxes, making a total of £576,000. The total taxation paid by the bank for the year ended March 31 was £514,000.

The chairman explained that the increase of £955,836 in the total of £7,022,099 in money at call and short notice and in Government and other securities in London had no special significance. The bank's holdings of New Zealand Government securities total £3.357,002. The bank had made an application, said Mr Donnelly, for the conversion of its considerable holdings of old loans into the Government's new conversion issue. Increased Deserve o £7,022,099 in money at call and short notice and in Government and other securities in London had no special significance. The bank's holdings of New Zealand Government securities in Zealand Government securities in London had no special significance. The bank's holdings of New Zealand Government securities at an application, said Mr Donnelly, for the conversion of its considerable holdings of old loans into the Government's new conversion issue.

Municipal and other local-body securities at £546,732 had increased by £291,982 due to the bank taking up further loans for investment.

The increase of £1,536,123 in advances and bills discounted was due largely to the financing of the country's produce pending of the country of fat sheep were mixed in quality and sold as follows: Good wethers 12/2, fat ewes 11/- to 12/6, light ewes 8/-, lambs 17/6 to 22/9.

WALLACE BEERY IN SEA DRAMA

Melodrama that has never been surpassed in sea thrills, plus three superb performances from Wallace Beery, Chester Morris and Virginia Grey, make "Thunder Afloat," which opened at the Municipal Theatre, Hastings, last night, one of the ace productions of the season. Story of the improvised sub-chaser fleet and its courageous, untrained men who met the U-boat menace off the Atlantic coast in 1918, "Thunder Afloat" combines sea action even more exciting than that of "Captains Courageous," with a stirring story based on actual naval history. "Maisie," the by now familiar showgirl with the heart of gold, perennially stranded and perennially wise-cracking her way to new adventures, appears in her brightest setting to date in the latest of the wentures, appears in her brightest setting to date in the latest of the series, "Maisie Was a Lady," the associate feature, with Ann Sothern again in the starring role and with Lew Ayres and Maureen O'Sullivan heading the supporting cast. Though a society background may appear at first thought somewhat incongruous for Maisie, it provided Miss Sothern Melodrama that has never been in this instance with her best story in the series, well knit, believable

DRAMA OF SOUTH SEA ISLANDS

A fist fight described as one of the most stirring battles ever filmed provides a stirring climax to Marlene Dietrich's new Universal picture, "Seven Sinners," which is showing at the Cosy Theatre, Hastings, Miss Dietrich, John Wayne, Broderick Crawford, Mischa Auer, and Billy Gilbert take part in the fight, together with some two score players skilled in motion picture fisticuffs.

fisticuffs.

Set against a background of a tropic island, "Seven Sinners" describes the lives and loves of care entertainers, beachcombers, traders, scribes the lives and loves of cafe entertainers, beachcombers, traders, and a naval officer.

The world's wildest horses are featured in "King of The Sierras," a thrilling drama of the plains of Arizona. The story describes the adventures that follow the Government's decision to exterminate the great herd of wild mustangs that are laying waste the fertile farm lands. Rex and Sheik are the names of the rival horses, and Frank Campeau and Wally Albright head the human cast.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE IN 'YOUNG PEOPLE"

With rollicking entertainment its seynote, "Young People" has been called Shirley Temple's most enjoyable picture. Jack Oakie and Char-lotte Greenwood are co-starred with able picture. Jack Oakie and Charlotte Greenwood are co-starred with her in the 20th Century-Fox film which is now showing at the State Theatre, Hastings.

Joyfully musical, the new film also boasts an unusual story. Charlotte and Jack adopt Shirley and though they achieve success with their vaudeville act, they decide to retire on a New England farm. Their life in the small town is depicted as the film moves swiftly to the stirring conclusion.

Paced by five new and catchy tunes by Mack Gordon and Harry Warren, "Young People" has been labelled a show full of gay good time. Others featured in a fine supporting cast include Arleen Whelan, George Montgomery and Kathleen Howard. Included among the new songs, which seem destined for a long stay on the hit parade, are: "Fifth Avenue," "I Wouldn't Take a Million," "Tra-la-la-la," "The Mason-Dixon Line," "Young People."

"STRIKE UP THE BAND"

Streamlined song hits and ancient ditties that evoke hilarious laughter, comedy, romance of youth, and heartthrobs are all combined in "Strike Up the Band," merry musical with Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Paul Whiteman and orchestra and clever youngsters, many of and clever youngsters, many of whom appeared in "Babes in Arms." It is now screening at the Regent Theatre, Hastings.

Mickey and Judy, high school pals, organise a modern swing band in the school. Paul Whiteman announces a national radio contest for nounces a national radio contest for school bands. They proceed to raise money to make the trip to Chicago to compete. Dramatic moments include Mickey's scenes with his mother and the episode in which Mickey and Judy find one of their pals near death and use the band money to save his life. Whiteman and his orchestra in action, the big broadcast and other thrills mark the action. Modern song hits such as "Nobody" and "Our Love Affair" contrast with June Preisser's Anna Held imitation with "I Just Can't Make My Eyes Behave" and "Ta Ra Ra Boom-de-ay."

WILLIAM BOYD, "STAGE BINNING BURNING BURNING BURNING BURNING BOYD, "STAGE COACH WAR"

A race between two stage-coaches, o determine whether the famous Morgan breed of horses or the wild Western mustang is better suited to haul stages, provides the exciting limax of "Stagecoach War," latest "Hopalong Cassidy" action romance now showing at the Mayfair Theatre, Napier. The situation is complicated by the fact that the daughter of the head of the mustang faction is in love with the advocate of the Morgan breed. The role of "Hopalong" is again played by William Boyd, while Russell Haylen plays the role of "Lucky." "Constantinople Express" pro-vides John Loder with one of his best roles as a newspaper reporter who is covering the story behind a European crisis. Valerie Hobson and Rex Harrison are also featured.

GAY COMEDY, "ROAD SHOW"

Hal Roach's new all-laugh comedy "Roadshow" is now at the State Theatre, Napier. Go along and uncork that carnival spirit for it is a circus of fun with not a dull moment and features such comedy stars as Carole Landis, John Hubbard (of "Turnabout"), Adolph Menjou, Charles Butterworth and Patsy Kelly. It is full of spice and snap, gay with girls and is famous for the new hit tunes by Hoagy Carmichael—"Yum Yum," "Calliope Jane," "Slav Annie," "I Should Have Known You." The story is fast and hilarious and is adapted to the screen from the popular novel by Eric Hatch. HAL ROACH PRESENTS THE LAUGH CAROLE LANDIS - JOHN HUBBARD ADOLPHE MENJOU --- PATSY KELLY

Starring Gary Cooper and Made-leine Carroll, and boasting a sup-porting cast headed by Paulette Goddard, Preston Foster, Robert Preston, Akim Tamiroff, Lynne Over-Preston, Akim Tamiroff, Lynne Overman, George Bancroft and Lon Chaney jun., "North West Mounted Police" is now screening at the Regent Theatre, Napier. Set in the period when Canada was threatened by a Civil War the picture relates a magnificent story of the courage which made the North West Mounted one of the most respected forces in the world. It tells the love stories of two Mounted Policemen—one in love with a gallant nurse, and the other fascinated by an Indian girl who is about as tame as a tiger. The startling climax is reached as fifty Mounted Police face thousands of half-breeds and a Gatling gun.

Seeking to invent a new type of filament for the lamp, he squeezed a mixture of wood and cotton pulp through tiny holes, and produced a thread not unlike the silkworm's. The women of his house crocheted these threads into mats, which were placed on view at the Inventions Exhibition in 1883. Thus, over fifty years ago, the British public saw artificial silk for the first time.

SISTER M. SCOTT

Sewing Circle At Women's Club

While members of the Hastings Women's Community Club's weekly sewing circle worked busily at their afternoon yesterday they were most interested to hear a very fine talk given by Sister Molly Scott, Havelock North.

Sister Scott, who was invited to be present by Mrs T. H. Lowry, was one of the three Sisters who went to Egypt with the men of the First Echelon and she has now been invalided home.

l Echelon and she has now been invalided home.

When speaking of her experiences sister Scott mentioned first that she considered that the men of the First Echelon were as fine a body of men as any with whom she had ever come into contact. She told also that the New Zealand and Australian soldiers got on splendidly together.

The speaker went on to tell of her work in the Middle East hospitals. She said that no one really had any work in the Middle East hospitals. She said that no one really had any conception of how poor a supply of necessities was to be found in some of these military hospitals. She appealed to the women to work more busily than ever to continue the supply of towels, face cloths, old linen, pyjamas, jug covers and so on, all things of which the supply was hopelessly inadequate. She said that contributions made by such sewing circles as that at the club were tremendously appreciated.

Sister Scott said that one of the main causes of the illnesses of the authorities and the provision they made was so much less than we would think necessary. For this reason it was of vital importance that the people at home should keep on sending a constant supply of the things needed.

INCREASE IN BRITISH DYE STUFFS

Manufacturers Make

Manufacturers Make
Splendid Effort

A British Official Wireless report states that production of British dyestuffs, which has been increasing every month, is now approaching a rate of 125,000 tons a year, which is about half the world supply. Industrial undertakings hitherto dependent upon Germany, France and Italy for their supplies are progressively increasing their purchases from Britain. In wartime actual figures cannot be given, but the increase is officially stated to be "very substantial."

In 1914 Britain produced only about one-tenth of the dyes she used. Last year she made four fifths of the £6,000,000 worth needed for the home market. Germany, France and Italy have recently produced between them 39.8 per cent. of a world output estimated at 250,000 tons, the United Kingdom's thare being 11 per cent. From these figures it is possible to judge the effort which British dyestuffs manufacturers are making in the export market.

QUIET WEDDING IN WAIPUKURAU

Robottom-Grover

The marriage was solemnised in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Waipukurau, of Margaret Constance, daughter of Mr and Mrs D. E. Grover, Lindsay Road, Waipukurau, and Thomas Arthur, son of Mrs and the late Mr A. Robottom, Otane. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Murray A. Gow, and Mrs A. Collins, aunt of the bridegroom, presided at the organ.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of ultra magnolia satin, the front of which was button smocked from the neck to the waist line. A beautifully embroidered magnolia tulle veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and the bride carried a bouquet of deep cream chrysanthemums and maidenhair fern with gold streamers.

Miss T. Robottom (sister of the bridegroom) and Miss J. Grover (sister of the bride) were pretty bridesmaids in frocks of blue-green chiffon with shirred boleros, finished with long trailing sashes of mayfair pink. They had bouquets of shaded

THIS WEEK'S RECIPES

In Some Of These Ways

AT almost all times of the year there are households where one of the most difficult problems is that of tempting the invalid's appetite, and at this time of the year, when the weather is so particularly cold, there are always some folk recovering from a bout of influenza or some other equally common and unpleasant complaint. Really it should not be a problem to tempt these invalids and bring them back to health and a good appetite. Here are a few suggestions which will rapidly solve any such difficulties.

HINTS FOR AVOIDING FAILURES

There are so many different ways of cooking fish that one would think monotony could be very easily avoided. You can grill, bake, fry, steam, and boil, and, provided each one of these operations is correctly carried out, you will always have produced a nourishing and attractive meal. But there is no doubt that fish is trick to cook—if you don't know the snags of those different processes.

Grilling is really very simple.

Grilling is really very simple. Place the fish flat on the rack in the grilling tray and stand them under the flerce heat of the grill until one side is cooked, and then turn them over and cook the other side.

Watch This Pitfall

The one pitfall in grilling lies in the grill itself. You must have it red hot before you put the food underneath it. Grilling takes any thing up to seven minutes according to the thickness of the fish that you are cooking, and only once during the operation must that fish be ing the operation must that fish be turned.

All fish—except kippers, which contain a high percentage of fat—require to have a few nuts of butter laid upon them to prevent dryness during the grilling.

For successful frying, intense heat is necessary. Fillets of plaice, sole, haddock; cutlets or steaks of cod, hake, and haddock are all suitable for this particular method of cooking.

After you have washed and dried the fish, dip each piece first into flour, then into milk or beaten egg, and finally into sieved white breadcrumbs, and lay as many pieces as can be comfortably accommodated in the frying basket. Meanwhile, the fat should be getting hot in the Tempt The Appetites Of Invalids When it is boiling—that is, when the blue haze rises and there is no movement whatsoever—plunge the basket and its contents into it and keep it submerged until the fish becomes a good golden brown colour.

Failure in fish-frying is usually due to fat that is not sufficiently hot. Baking fish white in the oven is an attractive and easy method. Lay the fish, fillets or otherwise, in a well - buttered, fireproof dish, sprinkle with salt, lemon juice, and a little stock, and cover with a piece of buttered paper. Cook for about fifteen minutes, according to the type and thickness of the fish.

For the Children

One of the simplest ways of steaming fillets or thin cutlets is to Take i pint milk, strip of lemon rind, ioz. gelatine, 1 tablespoonful vater, ioz. sugar, 1 tablespoonful lay the fish on a well-buttered plate, put a few nuts of butter on top, and cover with a second plate. Standall over a saucepan of boiling water Method: Simmer the lemon rind in the milk for 20 minutes and add the sugar, remove rind and leave milk to cool. Dissolve the gelatine in the water and mix the milk and all over a saucepan of boiling water and keep the water boiling rapidly for about 20 minutes. Fish thus treated is light and nourishing, and will be much enjoyed by invalids and small children. The melted butter can be served as sauce.

Boiled fish is too often a sodden, fiannelly mass. To boil fish successfully, put it into a pan containing gelatine when both are cool. Add the cream, stir and turn into a

BATTLESHIP ON CHEST

Tattooed Redskin Gives Trouble

Another example to illustrate why Cecil B, DeMille has the reputation of the most painstaking moviemaker in Hollywood occurred during the "cutting" of "North West Mounted Police."

Editing his galloping Canadian epic, the great DeMille became disturbed by a strange but indistinct marking on the chest of an Indian Curious, he had a frame of the film enlarged—and discovered, to his horror, that the redskin had a battleship tatooed on his chest!

DeMille, who will go to almost any lengths to avoid being guilty of a "movie boner," took no chances. Though in all probability the slip-up would never have been detected by even the best pair of eyes in the audience, he has "killed" the part of the scene!

A number of hit tunes played by Paul Whiteman and his orchestra, plus some gay comedy contributed by Micky Rooney and Judy Garland are the main ingredients of the light-hearted musical "STRIKE UP THE BAND."

Popeye, Hastings: You now have 86 marks without counting this week's, Popeye, so you will very soon reach 100 if you try hard. Your last letter never reached me so someone must have forgotten it and I am very sorry about it. I am glad you did both the limerick and riddle-me-ree and thank you also for the tongue twister which was a good one.

which was a good one.

Rua, Napier: Yes, you will see that you have easily managed the two marks needed for your badge, Rua, and you will receive it any day now. I could quite understand that you wouldn't want to leave your new bicycle at the shop again—I am sure I would have done just what you did. I am glad you were able to see the Governor-General. Your letter reached me in splendid time this week.

Little John, Pakowhal: How wonderful to have a brother who pilots aeroplanes, Little John, and just fancy him being in Singapore. I do hope you will write and tell me much more about him because I am so interested. It is not surprising that you were able to work out the riddle-me-ree

Pipkin, Hastings: I thought your circular envelope this week was just splendid, Pipkin, and I allowed you an extra mark because I admired it so much. Thank you very much for your two little verses and I was so glad you completed the limerick for me and also answered the riddle-me-ree.

Tex, Clive: I am very pleased indeed to welcome you to our Playtime Club, Tex, and I think you have chosen a good short pen-name. I hope you will write to me as often as you can and see if you, too, can gain 25 marks and have one of those lovely badges of ours to wear on your coat.

Plain Jane, Clive: Yes, I was so glad to include some of the things you had sent me in our page last week, Plain Jane, but I never have nearly enough room for all that I would like to include. I am glad that you enjoyed the pictures. Thank you for your tongue twisters and competition answers and I am glad your brother has decided to become a Playmate also.

Diana, Clive: I am delighted to hear that you and Plain Jane are so proud of your badges, Diana. I think myself that they are most attractive. What fun for you to have a dear little baby sister and I do think they are such dears at that age. Do you love her a great deal and what is her name? I hope your tests were not too hard and I shall be interested to hear if you did well.

Snowden, Hastings: I was most in snowdrop, Hastings: I was most interested to read all about your goat, Snowdrop, but I do hope you can harness her and have a dear little cart. Sometimes when they grow up they become such a terrible nuisance and spoil all the garden and everything they can find. However, if I can find a little corner I know all the Playmates would like to read about her but you forgot to tell me her name.

Margaret Ward, Ormondville: I was just beginning to think that perhaps you had forgotten me, Margaret and I was so glad to get your letter this week and to find that it was just mail difficulties. Fancy you having snow! We haven't had it yet but it certainly feels cold enough for it at the moment. You now have 83 marks so do try hard and see how soon you can reach 100 and have your prize.

Pauline Jones Clive: I was most in-

Pauline Jones, Clive: I was most interested in both your Scripture Cake and your animal competition, Pauline, and I hope to test out the Playmates with the competition quite soon. I thought your limerick was quite good and will try to give you a riddle-meree this week so that you will be able to do it.

Busy Bee, D.S.O., Hastings: Yours was the most wonderful budget this time, Busy Bee, and I was delighted. It quite made up for last week though I do always understand that school work is the most important and must come first. I was tremendously interested to hear that your Girl Guide rag collection was so splendid. Your letter was full of interest and I would like to hear how you get on in the exams. Your Imerick was splendid.

Your Imerick was splendid.

Inspector Scott, D.S.O., Hastings:
You and your boy friends seem to have lots of good fun, Inspector Scott, and I do think it was very kind of one of them to give you a yacht. It will be fun making a new friend next door and I hope that he is keen about host all, too. I shall be interested to hear more about him and does he go to your school?

Shiely Inne Prince Value

Shirley-Jane Bateman, Hastings: I Shriey-Jane Bateman, rastings, have been to see that picture in Wellington, too, Shirley-Jane and like you I enjoyed it very much indeed and thought it very pretty. I think that you write very nicely for a little girl of only seven. What class are you in at school and are you fond of lessons? I would like to hear all about the things that you like best.

things that you like best.

Professor, Whakatu: I'm so glad that you liked our competition, Professor, and I thought that you gave me quite a good answer, too. I am glad to hear that you have been painting your bicycle and I expect it looks just like new. Also your book sounds a most thrilling one and I am pleased that you like reading. Tell me more about it in your next letter.

Genevieve DSO Whakatu: Yes

Genevieve, D.S.O., Whakatu: Yes, I quite agree, Genevieve, the wind has been terribly bitter and there's only one place worth while and that's as near to the fire as you can possibly get. Unfortunately I never seem to have time to sit and get really warm. I do hope that your cold won't be a nasty one. I expect you do have a lot of homework and it's hard to have to sit and do it, isn't it?

Chris. Austin. Whakatu: I see you to sit and do it, isn't it?

Chris. Austin, Whakatu: I see you had an envelope all by yourself this week, Chris, and there was lots of news in your letters. I am so glad you like school and I expect there are lots of little boys to play with. I do hope that Daddy had a happy birthday and liked the cardigan that Mummy knitted him. How fine he must look when he is wearing his uniform.

Poos. Hastings: I was pleased that Rops, Hastings: I was pleased that you found time to answer the limerick competition and the riddle-me-ree even though you didn't have time to write me a letter, Pops. However, I shall look forward to hearing an extra lot of news next week. Would you try to send your letters earlier in the week if you can.

Rece Wasie Haytings: Your limerick.

THE KINGFISHER

Flashing up some sunny brook, Fishing in some sunny nook, There's a bird of brightest sheen, All dressed in red and bluey green. He wends his way far up the creek, Flashing his big and strong beak.

Rose Marie, Hastings: Your limerick answer was splendid, Rose Marie, and your letter this week was full of interesting news and I'm only afraid that there won't be enough room for me to answer it all. Yes, I have been to Auckland and I loved it. I am ever so pleased to hear that you are fond of reading and are knitting for our soldiers and for yourself. Are you in one of your school basketball teams?

Felicity, Nanier: I was really very relicity, Napier: I was really very sorry indeed to hear that you have been in bed, Felicity, and yet these horrible cold days I believe it is the best place. It must be very interesting indeed to have a pen friend in Tonga and I should like to hear more about her. If you try hard you will soon win your badge and I am so pleased that you like them so much.

Tinkerbell, Hastings: I am so glad that you have passed your knot exam at Guides, Tinkerbell, and I wondered if you receive a badge for that or not. What do you learn to do next? Your limerick answer was quite good and I am glad that you did the riddle-meree as well.

For someone's washed the floor, I can't run out and chase the cat—They've shut the garden door. I don't feel well; I have a pain; There's nothing I can chew; I'd Letter go to sleep again—What else is there to do?

ABOUT MY PETS

I have three pets, a budgle, a cat and a dog. When we first got the budgle it was only a baby. It was pale green with white and pink under its breast. Peter, for that is the budgle's name, had no tail at first, but later on a fine big tail he grew. I was quite proud of him when he whistled, but now he whistles no more. Once, when I was feeding him, I left the door of his cage open to put his water in and he got out. I left the cage door open thinking he might come back, but he didn't. So that only makes two pets now.

you completed the limerick for me and also answered the riddle-me-ree.

Quick-Silver, Hastings: Your lovely little black and white drawing reached me safely and I was so thrilled, Quick-Silver. I think you are clever to do them so nicely. Your letter, too, was most interesting to read. I was pleased to hear all about your school games, and always like to know how you get on in matches. I am sure that in the summer time you must be very keen about your swimming.

Garthowen, D.S.O., Hastings: By now you will have received a little note from me about your badge, Garthowen, and I hope you were pleased. I was most interested to read about your party and I thought it sounded such splendid fun and quite a novel idea. I am so sorry your mother is not well and hope she is feeling better now. I am pleased that you and your sister can help her.

Tex, Clive: I am very pleased in deed to welcome you to our Playtime

SOMETHING TO TRY-SECRET WRITING

It is great fun to write secret It is great tun to write secret messages, and very easy, too. Get a pen with a new nib and a sheet of clean paper. Now dip the nib into a freshly cut onion and write your message in onion juice. When it has dried your writing will be quite invisible, but if you warm the paper it will appear at once.

Class. My fifth is in hike but not in walk, My sixth is in blackboard, and also in chalk. My seventh's in pan, but not in pot, will be quite invisible, but if you warm the paper it will appear at once.

PAM'S PAGE FOR PLAYMATES

Pam's Letter

Dear Girls and Boys:

I can just imagine that you are as thrilled as I am to that this week you have a most wonderful painting competition with very tempting prizes. Ever since our last painting competition you have all been asking me for another and here it is at last.

I do want every single one of you to enter for this competition and to do your very, very best. Please make quite certain that your entries reach me on or before next Thursday, because I remember that last time some were late and it was such a pity.

I also remember that quite often there is more than one Playmate in a household and so I have lots of spare copies for anyone needing them. Just come to the office counter and ask, and if you really cannot possibly call in you may ring up and I will post you a copy, but please call if you can. I think you will be able to use your imagination guite a lot and send me some beautiful paintings, so the best of luck to everybody. Owing to lack of space I have kept the limerick competition answers for next week.

Lady Visitor: "Dear me, how clear the horizon is to day." Old Sam: "Yes, ma'am, I have just swept it with my telescope.

Flop: "Goodness! Did you hear a 'pop' just then."
Flap: "Yes! It's a puncture. That's the trouble with these bikes when there's a fork in the road?"

—Tuatara, Mohaka. Doctor (inquiring after boy who has swallowed a coin): How is the boy to-day?

Nurse: No change yet.

Doctor: "How is your husband sleeping now Mrs Brown? Did you give him the sleeping draught?"

Mrs Brown: "Yes, sir, you told me to give him the amount I could get on a sixpence, but as I hadn't any silver I used six pennies, and he's been fast asleep for five days."

—Bluebell, Hastings.

Moonbeam, Napier: I am very sorry indeed that I forgot to send you your badge, Moonbeam, and I hope that by now you will have it for I posted it the moment I read your letter. This week your letter was prettily decorated and I read with interest of the scarf you are making—how splendid. I am so glad that you have such fun with the basketball. Your riddle-meree was very good and I hope to use it quite soon.

Happiness, Napier: I missed your Happiness, Napier: I missed your letter last week, Happiness, but I thought that you must be having exams and that you would be extra busy with the Governor's visit. Next time I shall want to hear just how you managed your exams and lots more about your cooking classes. How lovely to be learning music and tell me all about that, too, please.

Rata Napier: You were the only

Rata, Napier: You were the only one to tell me all about the Governor's visit, Rata, and I was so pleased It must have been an interesting day and you are lucky because I have not yet seen him. I think I should be cross with you for being kept in, shouldn't 1? However, I will leave school things for your teachers, I should be cross with you all discuss your letters and that you like your badges. I do look forward to my weekly let-

The Letterbox

Mabel, Hastings: It must be very great fun to have three pen-friends in different parts of Australia, Mabel, and most interesting. I used to have several in all parts of the world but now that I have such a large Playtime Club letterbox I do not write any longer. I shall be interested to hear anything special that they tell you. Thank you for your two limericks but you will notice you did not spell the word quite right.

Daffodil, D.S.O., Hastings: I think that there is nothing better these cold days than skipping, Daffodil, and it is something you can do by yourself whenever you feel like it whereas you need two teams for a game of basketball. Do you do fancy skipping too? I shall be interested to hear the results of your exams. I suppose you will be quite glad when they are over.

you will be quite glad when they are over.

Bluebell, D.S.O., Hastings: I feel it was very naughty of me to forget where you went to school, Bluebell, because I remembered quite well about your ticket collecting hobby. I had intended to tell you as a great secret about my name on the dux board but I see you were too clever for me and discovered it first. I thought that your limerick was good. Yes, I shall try to come to your breakup if it is possible.

Peter Pan, Clive: I was sorry to find that you had not sent me a limerick, Peter Pan, because I thought that it would be a competition that you would enjoy doing. Perhaps you did not see the Page last week and if this is so could you ask your friend to save the competitions for you. Also do try the riddle-me-rees because they are really very good fun.

Clare, Hastings: Yes, I do go to the races, Clare, and I think they are good fun but I'm afraid I found it too cold last Saturday to really enjoy myself. Thank you very much for all the things that you sent me this week and I liked your finishing touches at the top and bottom of each. The horse competition was clever but just a little too difficult because so many Playmates wouldn't know anything about that.

Bub, Hastings: Yes, you are quite right, Bub, and your marks are 48 not many Playmates wouldn't know anything about that.

Bub, Hastings: Yes, you are quite right, Bub, and your marks are 48 not counting this week's. I was most interested in your lodge and think that it sounds splendid. Also I am very pleased to hear that you are the captain of your basketball team and I shall be hoping every match that you will win your match so be sure and tell me in your next letter. Your limerick, too, was very good.

Bab, Hastings: You now have 30 marks, Bab, not counting those earned this week. I expect you have been pretty busy with your exams and I shall be interested to hear your marks. I thought your reading seemed quite good. Try very hard with your basketball and you may later be put into one of the teams that plays matches against other schools. I thought that your limerick answer was very good indeed.

Bib, Hastings: I thought that was a marvellous drawing of Mickey Mouse bringing me my letter this week, Bib. I was very sorry that I couldn't see you when you called on Wednesday night and I will try very hard to save a little while for you next Wednesday. Your letter this week was splendidly interesting and I'm only sorry there is isn't room to answer it all, Your cousin does not write now. I shall look forward to hearing lots about your church parade and social and good luck for your match.

Nancy Paulsen, Takapau: I am glad you did just manage to find time to and good luck for your match.

Nancy Paulsen, Takapau: I am glad you did just manage to find time to send me two limerick answers, Nancy, though I could see by your letter that they were done in a hurry. However, the first I liked best but I was only sorry you had not had time to do the riddle-me-ree also. I expect it is terribly cold up your way at present.

Pollyanna, Te Awanga: I would not mind if you wrote your letters to me in pencil, Pollyanna, because little girls are not expected to be able to write letters with no mistakes but if you write in pencil you could rub out the mistakes, and perhaps it would be easier for you. Thank you for your winter night's game and the limerick and riddle-me-ree answer.

Blackbird, Te Awanga: I thought

Blackbird, Te Awanga: I thought your limerick was very good, Blackbird, and I laughed at it though I suppose I should have felt sorry for the poor man. Next time you write I would like to hear something about your school, what class you are in and if there are many boys and girls in the same class.

in the same class.

Kowhai, Hastings: You have chosen a pretty pen-name, Kowhai, and I am glad. What fun it is to go back to your old school to play matches against the girls still there and they would be so pleased that you didn't manage to beat them. Stamp collecting is certainly a most interesting hobby and so good to help you learn your geography. Thank you for your shorthand. P.S.—Are you doing speed yet? Your wicked witch quite frightened me.

Scribbler, D.S.O., Hastings: I did laugh about your absent minded girl friend though I am afraid that I am just as bad, Scribbler. I had a very lovely present given to me just when I was hurrying to go out and I was thinking about it so much while getting dressed that I suddenly found I had put on my dressing gown instead of my overcoat! I can tell you everybody at home had a very good laugh at my expense!

Cherry Blossom, Hastings: I am at my expense!

Cherry Blossom, Hastings: I am most interested to hear that you are doing papier mache work, Cherry Blossom, because I think it is such fun. You did not tell me quite what kind of dish you are making. I would like to know that and also what kind of coloured paper you use for finishing your work. The limerick was a bit difficult for younger Playmates but you made a very good try.

Wendy, Hastings: Well, you did send me a lot of different things this week, Wendy, and I was so pleased to receive them all. I am glad that you liked your piece of poetry in the paper. How lovely to have a girl friend in Auckland to write and tell you all the news from that city and to see the dear little baby which your cousin has.

see the dear little baby which your cousin has.

Hinemoa, Napier: Sometime quite soon I will give you another special drawing or painting competition, Hinemoa, but meanwhile I always give marks for anything good you send to me. The competition you sent was good and I hope to use it soon. How lovely to go skating and I do hope you will win the Monte Carlo some day. I was most interested in the meaning of your name because I did not know it before.

Joy, Napier: Your letter this week was really lovely, Joy, and I thought that you had done the top heading most beautifully and also there was lots of interesting news. I shall keep that secret that you told me and I think it is a lovely idea. I hope you will win your next basketball match and I shall be longing to hear. Your little illustrated poems were beautiful and thank you also for the story and riddle-me-ree.

Peggy Power, Takapau: I am very leaved inded for you to idea.

Peggy Power, Takapau: I am very pleased indeed for you to join our Playtime Club, Peggy, and I hope that, you will write to me often and telleme all about yourself, your hobbies, I school and everything else. I am glad that you are a friend of Nancy's and I suppose she will tell you all about our club. First of all try hard to earn 25 marks and win your badge,

BOOK CLUB CASE FAILS

"Andrew's Harvest" In Question

By Telegraph—Press Association CHRISTCHURCH, June 20. A prosecution against Louise Hyams, of the Chancery Book Club, for having in her possession for hire an allegedly indecent document was dismissed by Mr E. C. Levvey in the Police Court yesterday. The magis-trate held that he was bound by the lington case which concerned Boc-caccio's "Decameron." The book in this case was the novel "Andrew's Harvest."

After reading the Supreme Cour decision, the magistrate said that it appeared, instead of meeting the question of indecency alone, the Act required proof of indecency having been pushed forward, and on the face of it there could be no guilt in the present case.

As for the actions of Hyams, there was no evidence of her having suggested to anyone that there was a pornographic book for hire, and if the court was satisfied, as it had been, by the evidence in this case, as to the bona fides of the accused, they must be taken largely into they must be taken largely into account and in fact they overrode the other question of indecency in

THE ATLANTIC BATTLE

Whatever happens in Russia or Africa or Syria and whether or not the Germans make an attempt to invade the British Isles, the Battle of the Atlantic goes on, and it is drawing steadily closer to the eastern coasts of the Americas.

If or when the United States becomes an active belligerent one of the earliest moves must be the occupation of the strategic islands and bases which, in enemy hands, would constitute as grave a threat to the British and American trade routes in the north and south Atlantic as the U-boats

There have already been suggestions that the United States should occupy the Portuguese islands, such as the Azores, to forestall a German occupation, but this plan has met with resistance from Portugal, one of the few European States which have escaped the Nazi flood.

The mere calculation of distances shows to what extent the United States is involved in the Atlantic battle. The Azores are almost exactly the same distance from the American eastern seaboard as the Hawaiian Islands are from California. But Hawaii, isolated in the middle of the Pacific, enjoys the advantage of being thousands of miles from any potentially hostile territory, whereas the Azores are less than 1150 miles from south-western Europe.

Again, the Azores lie athwart the convoy routes from South Africa and both the Americas to Great Britain. Should the British Mediterranean route ever be severed, the alternative line round South Africa will be of vital importance, and if Hitler suddenly finds it advisable to include Spain and Portugal in the New Order, possession of the islands by either of the democracies would have a profound effect on the course of the war at sea.

In the last war America showed its consciousness of the importance of the Azores by taking over the islands, with the consent of Portugal (then a declared ally of Great Britain), as a means of preventing their use as a German submarine base. The same considerations apply to-day, but it remains a question whether any action will be taken in

The Portuguese claim that the Azores are capable of resisting any attack, but it must be remembered that Holland and Belgium once thought exactly the same thing, and the truth of the matter is that the Azores will go to the country which makes the first serious attempt to master them. The Germans are only too well aware of the strategic importance of the islands, and it may be accepted as a statement of fact that Hitler is only waiting for a suitable opportunity to place them under his "protection." Heretofore his lack of naval power has been a deterrent, but the Nazis have shown themselves to have a remarkable ability in the seizing of places by hook or by crook, and once established they are hard to dislodge

It is difficult to see how the Azores can be regarded as being in a different category from Greenland and Iceland, which have been occupied respectively by the Americans and the British. The only objection to temporary occupation is contained in the fear that direct action might drive Portugal into the arms of Germany, who is, so to speak, sitting on the back doorstep of both Portugal and Spain.

Nevertheless, it is plain that any German move to "protect" the Iberian Peninsula should be followed by an immediate British or American move into the Portuguese colonies. Too much depends on the Atlantic trade routes to leave room for hesitation. Now that the Balkan campaign has been fought and lost, and while the fate of the Near East is hanging in the balance, the Battle of the Atlantic remains an immediate objective.

Whether Great Britain is to stand or fall depends in the long run not only on the undaunted resistance of its people. No defenders, however intrepid or stubborn they may be, can persevere unless they are supplied with the means with which to continue the struggle, and Britain's primary need to-day, and in the future, is a steady flow of safely-delivered supplies from the United States and the British Empire. The Atlantic is almost the last remaining link between the British Isles and the outside world, and the enemy threat to that link is reflected in the heavy losses of British, Allied and neutral shipping in the last few months. The steady loss of ships has been the most serious feature of the Atlantic battle, and the use of the Atlantic islands offers the most logical means of countering in some measure the German threat and of preserving the vital sea routes

Motor Lighting Restrictions

OPERATE ON MONDAY

Extensive Alterations Involved

RESTRICTED AREAS

Garages in Napier and Hastings have been taxed with a rush of work in the last few days arising from the imposition of restrictions limiting the lighting of cars in blackout areas. The restrictions will come into force on Monday.

There have been complaints from motorists regarding the complexity of the regulations, and the fact that though the areas where the restrictions will apply have been defined, it will be some time before the necessary signposts can be set up.

Considerable difficulty has attended the change-over in some cases. Questioned as to the method of alteration, a Napier garage-owner told the "Daily Mail" that some modern English cars already compiled with the regulations but others plied with the regulations but others would need an extra switch.

"The majority of American cars need an alteration of their lighting circuits which entails a good deal of work" he said.

work," he said. Degrees of Restriction

The degrees of restriction all into three categories: (1) a "headlight" area where a medium restriction will be enforced between 7 p.m. and 6.30 a.m.; (2) "parking light" area where a rigid restriction between 7 p.m. and 6.30 a.m. will apply; (3) an area where special restriction will be enforced in the event of an emergency. In the first instance the left head-

In the first instance the left headlight will be dipped so that the beam will strike the road at approximately 50ft. in front of the vehicle, the right headlight will be extinguished, and a parking light of less power than seven watts used.

In the "parking light" areas, parking lights only will be used, of a power under seven watts, and a 20
m.p.h. speed limit will be enforced.
In these areas no light may show

In the event of an emergency, which will be signalled by sirens, whistles, and bells, motor-vehicle lights must be obscured by placing paper or other materials over the lamp, two dry sheets of newspaper being taken as the standard.

It is now an offence to drive a truck or car without having suitable covering material immediately available. The emergency restrictions are not applicable to ambulances, fire engines, or defence lorries, which will operate under special orders.

Passenger vehicles, too, will come in for their share of restriction. Buses, taxis, and service cars are required to limit their interior illumination, and the brightness of their destination signs if they are to conform to official needs

Local & General Letters To The HAWKE'S BAY

Police Sergeant Honoured

It is officially announced that the King has approved of the award of the King's Police and Fire Service Medal for gallantry to Sergeant Donald Austin for his praiseworthy conduct in rescuing a woman from drowning in the Waikato River on November 15.—Press Association.

The Propaganda Front

The B.B.C. now broadcasts to the world in 34 languages, compared with the 10 in use before the outbreak of war, states the B.B.C. handbook for 1941. At the end of last year 78 news bulletins, totalling over 20 hours, were being transmitted daily in the various services.

Taxi Driver Fined

For failing to enrol in the first division of the General Reserve, Frank Allen Martin, 26, a taxi-driver was sentenced by the Magistrate (Mr J. H. Luxford) to a month in prison in the Wellington Police court. His plea that the form had been filled in and posted was not accepted, the magistrate saying that defendant should have taken speedier steps to obtain a certificate of enrolment.—Press Association. enrolment.-Press Association.

Sergeant's Offence

Henry Louis Miura, a sergeant in the Royal New Zealand Air Force, who was recently fined £10 at Auck-land for a similar offence, was given land for a similar offence, was given a six weeks' prison sentence by the magistrate (Mr J. H. Luxford) who convicted him on two charges of stealing groceries from the air force station at Rongotai, sentencing him on one and discharging him on the other. Accused was the sergeant in charge of the mess.—Press Association

By-election Candidate

Mr P. R. Gardner, a former member of the Whangarei Borough Council, the Whangarei Harbour Board, and the Kamo Town Board, has announced his intention of contesting the Waitemata by-election as an Independent Anti-socialist candidate. The National Party has decided not to contest the by-election, but the Democratic Labour Party has chosen Mr N. V. Douglas, Auckland, as its candidate. The Labour Party's nominee has not yet been Party's nominee has not yet been selected.—Press Association.

No B.M.A. Agreement Yet

A hint during a discussion at a Masterton Hospital Board meeting that the general practitioner service under the Social Security Act might become operative soon was viewed with surprise by Dr. Jamieson, of Nelson, who said over the telephone yesterday that nothing had happened to suggest that as a possibility. He said that there had been no negotiations of late between the B.M.A. and the Government, "The general practitioner contract stands on offer, and the doctors are not taking it up," he said.—Press Association.

Boomerang

A reflection on the discussion which took place at a meeting of the Hawke's Bay Provincial Patriotic Council in Napier on Wednesday, when it was contended that the Sick, Wounded and "Distressed" Fund was not collected for economic relief is provided by the Dominion treasurer of the fund (Major J. J. Abel). "Some people extended the meaning of the word 'distressed' in the name of the fund, to include the wives and children of men in the forces, which was never intended," he said. "Distressed' was put in as part of the appeal slogan, and it has been one of the greatest worries from that day."

Devotional Exercises

"Any school that desires to commence the day with prayer will have my support," said the chairman of the Hawke's Bay Education Board (Mr G. A. Maddison) when the head teacher of the Waipaoa School wrote asking whether the board permitted the opening of school with a daily devotional period of five minutes, in addition to the half-hour of instruction given once a week by visiting ministers of religion. "Prayer and meditation will not do any harm," he added. Mr Maddison said he thought that the introduction of the Lord's Prayer would be of considerable benefit to pupils attending schools in isolated districts not frequently visited by ministers of religion.

Band Classes

Permission for the bandmaster of the Napier Technical Band to conduct a band class during the club period at the Intermediate School on Fridays was granted at yesterday's meting of the Hawke's Bay Education Board. It was stated that the pupils were holding their practices under the supervision of a senior boy and then going to the bandroom in Nelson Park for a lesson after school hours. The pupils concerned belonged to the school band, which was provided with instruments, books and an instructor free of cost, in the hope that the members would become junior members of the Technical Band after leaving school. Another application from the president of the Y.W.C.A. to allow a junior branch to be established during club periods in school time on Fridays under the supervision of Mrs Hyde, was declined. The board expressed the opinion that there would be no limit to similar applications if permission were granted.

It is well worth a special trip to Napier to buy a really good ladies' watch from McClurgs, Napier. McClurgs are showing a truly remarkable range of dainty gold watches, each covered by a five years' guarantee of perfect time, each a dainty ornament in itself. Remember, you cannot give a nicer gift than a watch, and by choosing from McClurgs huge range of designs, you are sure of fine quality watches at moderate prices. Call at McClurgs and see this astonishing range of watches, and all at pre-war prices. McClurgs, the oldest established jewellers in Hawke's Bay.*

Wairoa, June 19.

[Balsa (ochroma lagopus), which is also called corkwood, is a native of tropical South America, but is common in most parts of tropical America. In appearance it is somewhat similar to the cottonwood (a species of popiar) and is thus quite unsuitable for use as a hedge tree. As a tropical tree, it doubtful whether balsa could be grown in any part of New Zealand. The great commercial value of balsa is due to the fact that it is the lightest wood known, and it is widely used in aeroplane construction. The wood resembles clear white pine and has a velvety surface. Its buoyancy is twice that of cork.—Editor, "Daily Mail."]

Power Rationing

Sir,—The powers that be have decided to ration electricity for water heaters, etc., and I must say the Hawke's Bay Electric Power Board have displayed a wonderful lack of foresight inasmuch as it has connected up 29 hot water services for May last, which means that the more they install the greater degree of rationing.

Surely the board can see that the more installations it accepts the more it is handicapping those consumers who put the board on its feet.—I am, etc.,

GRAND OLD MAN' OF CANBERRA

Mr Hughes Defended By Prime Minister

United Press Association—Copyright. (Received June 20, 6.0 p.m.) CANBERRA, June 19.

The Prime Minister (the Rt. Hon. The Prime Minister (the Rt. Hon. R. G. Menzies) to-day warned a Labour member who suggested that the Rt. Hon. W. M. Hughes, Minister of the Navy, should be eliminated from the Ministry in the forthcoming reshuffle for new defence posts that, although Mr Hughes was of a ripe age (he is 77), "the old tiger still has his teeth, the best test of which would be to embark on a public campaign against him."

Mr Menzies said there was no possibility of Mr Hughes leaving the Ministry. There would be no change in his duties.

Mr Hughes was Australia's Prime Minister during the last war.

Incompetence He adds: "Muddle, incompetence.

He adds: "Muddle, incompetence, and delay in high places have increased the length and cost of all our wars, but to-day we cannot afford to indulge these failings, because we have never faced an enemy so ruthless or well organised.

"Britain, after 22 months of military to make the product of the product "Britain, after 22 months of military reverses, is realising the need for more scientific planning," Mr Ward Price adds. "Whereas the despotic authority of a 'great general staff' is behind the enemy's efforts, we carry on the war with a team of practically independent, mutually jealous, and procrastinating Government departments. Overlapping, waste, indecision, and obstruction abound.

Energy Lacking "A more practical programme is needed. The Australian Prime Minister (Mr Menzies) placed before Australians the sort of scheme we need here—namely, nothing less than the mobilisation of all our resources of manpower, capital, equipment, and raw materials for the sole purpose of winning the war. Britain should have begun to follow that should have begun to follow that aim in 1939, but it is unlikely that Ministers without sufficient energy to do it then will have enough energy and enterprise to follow it

"There is no question of trying to swap horses in midstream. All that is needed is to give Mr Churchill better equipment with which to lead us than the loosely-organised Government system of glib speech-making Ministers and irremovable, dilatory bureaucrats."

WARTIME WINTER

ATTACK

Shelters Allegedly Still Lacking

United Press Association-Copyright. (Received June 20, 6 p.m.)

LONDON, June 19.

The aftermath of a slander action in which £1600 damages was awarded against the Rt. Rev. E. Wa Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, on May 9 was witnessed in the House of Lords to-day when the Bishop during an angry speech, sought to justify his attitude in refusing to give evidence in that case, which was brought by a number of cement manufacturers, whom he again attacked. LONDON, June 19.

Some of the passengers say there were four or five battleships.

A Japanese spokesman in Shanghai, when questioned in regard to this, said that he had no statement Regret Expressed Regret Expressed

It will be recalled that 16 cement manufacturing companies were awarded a total of £1600 damages against the bishop in a slander action arising from a speech in which it was alleged that the plaintiffs were curtaining production in order to keep up the price of cement. The bishop gave no evidence but counsel on his behalf expressed unqualified regret for any defamation. to make.

Earlier in the week, a Japanese spokesman in Shanghai said that movements of Japanese warships were probably due to manoeuvres.

To-day the bishop complained that Lord Wolmer, a former chairman of the cement manufacturers, should be Director of Cement, and re-em-be Director of Cement, and re-emphasised the miseries the people would endure in the coming winter unless proper bomb-proof shelters were provided.

Lord Wolmer, in replying, declared that the bishop had made an untrue charge and had paid £1600 rather than avail himself of the opportunity of proving the truth of his statement.

Indignant

The bishop, in a high-pitched, indignant voice retorted: "Surely Lord Wolmer is not ignorant of the use made by big business of action for slander, which has become the accepted technique for the suppression of criticism."

He proceeded to explain his reasons for not defending the action.

CANADA'S PRIME MINISTER, the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, who is taking all steps to ensure Canada's full participa-tion in the war effort.

The chief reason was the cost, which he said, would be a mere nothing to a multi-millionaire ring, and he disclosed that, against his wish, his friends had collected £1100 toward masters what he wishes them to do and what action he proposes to take in the event of the various emergencies which may arise on the gencies which may arise on the voyage.

More questions are asked and answered, then the senior officer of the warships which will escort the convoy tells the men whose ships he is to protect exactly what experience has taught him about the best way to co-operate in beating the U-boat and warplane.

British Official Wireless. (Received June 20, 7.45 p.m.) RUGBY, June 19.

The Archbishops of York and Canterbury spoke at the Church Assembly to-day on the need for Christian education at schools. A resolution was passed "that this House, convinced of the need of true Christian education in all schools of the country and gratefully recognising the work of teachers in all classes of schools, gives general approval the work of teachers in all classes of schools, gives general approval to the statement recently issued by the Archbishops of Canterbury, York and Wales and strongly urges that, with the co-operation of the various Christian communions, of the education authorities, of parents, of teachers and of Christian citizens generally, speedy effect may be given to the fine point therein contained."

The Archbishop of Canterbury, fore Parliament adjourned.

The huge "reserve" stock of cars that caused so much comment in trade circles earlier this year has dwindled so rapidly that the field supply now is below normal measured by current requirements. Virtually all of the manufacturers and merchandisers are agreed that there will be no "reserve" when the model year ends.

Major Oakey said that the head-quarters of the First Hawke's Bay Regiment and other territorial units would remain at the Drill Hall. The importance of the Army Department's decision to move into town may be gauged by the fact that the No. 7 Area is the largest military district outside the four main centres, and that in proportion more troops have been drawn from it than from any other area.

There are four groups, each of five classes, subdivided according to age and number of children. For instance the biggest class, aged 21 to 40 inclusive, is subdivided as follows:—Class F-0, no children; Class F-1, one child; Class F-2, two children; Class F-3, three children; Class F-4, four or more children.

A similar subdivision is made in the case of all the other classes, namely, married men aged 41 to 45, both inclusive, denoted by the letter G; aged 18 and 19, donated by the letter G; aged 18 and 20, denoted by the letter E.

Determined efforts to revive the sport of wrestling are being made by the Napier Athletic Wrestling Club, according to information released by the secretary (Mr A. J. Pettersen) last night. It is proposed to hold at least four bouts this season, and the committee has arranged as its first attraction a match for the vacant New Zealand heavyweight title between Jack Harris, Australia and "Irish Gus" O'Halloran, Wellington.

Subject to confirmation, the second bout will be between Bert Monaftra and Colin Croskery, both of Wellington, and probably the best middleweight wrestlers in New Zealand. Another bout is scheduled between Oscar Brock, Napier and G. McDonald, Wellington, the winner to meet V. Meuli, New Zealand middleweight champion.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME

Big Fields Are Engaged At Te Awamutu

(By THE BARB)

To-day there will be racing at Te Awamutu, where the Waipa Racing Club holds its one-day winter meeting, at Ashburton, and at Awapuni, where the Manawatu Racing Club opens its winter meeting.

At Ashburton and Te Awamutu the betting system will be win and place but at Manawatu it is single pool. The acceptances at all three meetings are good, especially at Waipa, where a division has been necessary in the six

The going at Awapuni and Te Awamutu is soft after rain, especially at the latter. The track down at Ashburton is reported to be in good condition.

WIN AND PLACE

By The Barb

The Ashburton County Racing Club's winter meeting takes place this afternoon when a mixed proparame is to be decided comprising one hurdle race, a steeplechase, two trotting events and four flat handicaps.

In the hurdle race probably Survoy will make his reappearance, but as he is not in racing condition he should be at a disadvantage. Sir Frederick, who has a victory over the hand heads the list in the hurdles with 11.6. Mungatoon is another interesting contestant, but Ponty is now reported as being an unlikely starter. Fundy Bay and Donadea are useful while Night Dress is said to be showing exceptional promise for a novice.

Cross Country Event

The Most important event at this meeting is the Park Steeplechase in the list with 12st. This Little England gelding a few which Tudor heads the list with 12st. Bowden: Cloverlea King. R. B. Ireland: Blue Lagoon.

WOODSTOCK STAKES

The chief flat race is the Woodstock Stakes run over a mile and a quarter with King Rey No. 1 on the 2ard. He failed at Ellerslie over hurdles and is now back on the flat. Te Kawiti is well overdue while the same may be said of Our Jean. Gold Vaals has won little this season but seldom runs a bad race. Royevrus is passed over in favour of Young Paddon, who will have a track to his liking. Wildore is another that can handle soft going, as a laso can British Talent, who won one of the chief flat races at the recent Auckland meeting. Kaspian is not fanciel but Kilcash, a regular mudlark, will be one of the favourites as she was successful last week at Tauranga. There may not be much monetary support for those on the minimum although lightweights have a habit of popping up on tracks that are holding.

THE OPEN HURDLES

Anderson: Lacan, Caution, Brazil, Self Preservation.

E. Temperton: Master Hector.

W. J. Mudford: Manahau.

D. W. Redstone: Colerica, Distress Signal.

P. Brady: Manteau, Great Quex.

J. Chaplin: Limbohm.

J. Fergus: Jeanne.

F. E. Baker: Dozie Boy (doubtful starter), Tidewaiter, Cartoonist.

A. Jenkins: Du Maurier, Etruscan, Gay Fox.

A. E. Lord: Malacca, Cherry Plum, Mataroa.

J. F. Nicholson: Jungle King or Gay Mimic.

L. Dulieu: Young Charles, Kinkajou. Seven have been paid up for in the Dromore Steeplechase with Recollection on top with 11.5, so he is being set a fair question for his first appearance over country. However, Riccarton track watchers speak highly of this Polazel gelding. Guste, 10.13, has not raced this season. The Sandwichman may need a little more jumping experience. Panara, Superex and Golden Glow have all won over country of late, while Luna Lux's half brother, Waka, is said to be a proficient fencer.

Maronan Handicap

The chief flat handicap, the Maronan Handicap, is run over seven furlongs, with Haughty Winner, in need of a race, on top of the handicap. Last Refrain does not appeal as much as the promoted hack Boloyna. Cymric is not reliable, but Lazybones, on recent form, appeals. Gold Flight, Flame Queen, Roy Bun and Kilrobe have all won recently. On the minimum the latter makes a strong appeal and will probably be the public's choice.

The minor events have all filled satisfactorily and include some promising hacks. Following may be entrusted with most monetary support in the galloping events:—

There may not be much support for those on the support for t Black Musk may prefer the Hurdles to the cross country event, and if so will be a consideration. Gold Spot may be the favourite as he is held in high regard up north. Hessketoon won this race last year with 3lb. less on his back than now. Bisquit won at Ellerslie but he is not the type to follow unless he has vastly improved since raced here. Tavern Song and Very Glad showed a little form at Auckland and occupied a minor place each.

FOR SPRINTERS

FOR SPRINTERS

A good strong field looks like contesting the open sorint race with the promoted hack, Monte Cristo at the ton of the list, but 10.1 may prove a little more than he can manage on a holding track. There is plenty of form offering among the 19 acceptors and it is surprising to find the favourite Cheval de Bataille in some quarters. He must have greatly benefited by his racing at Auckland earlier in the month.

MEETING

By The Barb The Manawatu winter meeting opens to-day at Awapuni with good fields engaged in all the eight racing centre competing while many Hawke's Bay sportsmen have ex-pressed their intention of being in the Manawatu district of late. The betting will be single pool.

The chief event of the day, the Manawatu Steeplechase, has drawn a field of 10, but with Dozie Boy a doubtful starter this number will be depleted by the time the field is weighed-out. Birkology holds pride of place in the handicap, a position he may also hold when the winning post is reached. Riotous may not have recovered from his fall in the Wanganui Steeplechase. Cherry Plum left here in the right order, while Lady Callaghan, with a win in the Wanganui Steeplechase at the end of last month, has credentials. Ruling Star is not fancied to any extent but Game Pit is a likely sort with his brilliant fencing. Manteau may do the better of the remaining trio.

Chief Flat Event The chief event among the flat horses will be the Manawatu Winter Cup. Du Maurier and The Monarch, the joint top-weights, may have the betting mostly confined to them and the same pair may fight out the issue. Gladynev might but is not liked. With a track to her liking Aurora's Star enters calculations. Trench Law has the best performance of the remainder.

Foxiana's contract in the Rangitira Hurdles is no easy one but he will no doubt start the favourite. This event should result in a fine race, as Mataroa, Great Quex, Tidewaiter, Travail and Limbohm have form to back up their chances. Among the lighter weighted are Segra, Majority and Hot Shot, who possess credentials that warrant support. Tidewaiter may give the top-weight the hardest tussle. The Hack Hurdles has 16 acceptors with three or four having their first public appearance in a hurdle race. Malacca looks as though he will carry most support.

Young Charles, Regicide.

FIELDS FOR TO-DAY

lin was warned off for six months after having ridden Dark Renown at Durban on December 7, but his appeal to the Supreme Court last month was upheld. Marlin, in his grounds of appeal, took the point that the constitution of the Durban Turf Club committee was irregular; the principles of justice were not observed, and that the inquiry was null and void because one of the stewards at the inquiry, Mr W. Jackson was at the same time witness and judge.

Giving judgment, Mr Justice Carlisle quoted a statement made by Mr Jackson, who was at the start of the race, which was: "I was at the start, and I wish to say that this horse had every chance of getting away, but the jockey never tried at all, and he jockey never tr

IN MEMORIAM

DOWNEY.—In Sad and Loving Memory of Bill, who passed away June 21st, 1939. We think of him in silence
We often speak his name
What would we give to clasp his hand
And see his smile again.

-Ever Remembered by his loving sister, Betty (Te Awamutu).

DOWNEY.—In loving memory of dear Bill who was called home June 21st, 1939.

Away from war, and earthly strife, Away from ills, and cares of life, From pain, and sorrow, tears, and With God above his home is there. -Sadly missed by his mother, brothers and sisters.
